A Season of PROGRESS

Clemson 39, Georgia Tech 3

Sept. 20 at Atlanta, GA

Clemson's 36-point margin of victory over Georgia Tech was its greatest in the series since John Heisman coached the Tigers in 1903. Tony Elliott (#83) caught one of Charlie Whitehurst's three touchdown passes and John Leake's 14 tackles, including a career high three for minus yardage led a Clemson defense that held Tech to 45 yards rushing.

Clemson 63, South Carolina 17

Nov. 22 at Columbia, SC

Clemson scored its high point total in the 101-game history of the South Carolina series in its victory in Columbia. It marked the most points scored by Clemson in any game since 1981 and the 46-point victory margin was Clemson's largest against South Carolina since 1900. Whitehurst was 7-7 for 149 yards and three touchdowns in the first quarter.

Clemson 30, Virginia 27

Oct. 11 at Clemson, SC

Clemson enhanced its all-time overtime record to 3-0 with a 30-27 victory over a top 25 Virginia team in Death Valley. Kevin Youngblood (#17) scored the "walk-off" touchdown when he caught a four-yard pass from Charlie Whitehurst in the extra period.

Clemson 27, Tennessee 14

Jan. 2 at Atlanta, GA

Clemson defeated sixth ranked Tennessee in the Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl to end the season on a high note. It was the highest ranked win in a bowl game for Clemson since it defeated 4 ranked Nebraska to win the 1981 National Championship. Chad Jasmin (#10) was Clemson's offensive MVP in his final game after gaining a career high 130 yards rushing.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden

ACC Coach of the Year,
1999 & 2003

Clemson 26, Florida State 10

Nov. 8 at Clemson, SC

Clemson gained its highest ranked victory in history with its 26-10 win over third-ranked Florida State. It was Clemson's first win over the Seminoles in 14 years. Travis Pugh and Leroy Hill led a Clemson defense that held Florida State to 11 yards rushing, the low total in Bobby Bowden's career as Florida State head coach.

A National Championship Tradition

1 - Clemson was the only college football team with a perfect record in 1981 (12-0) and was declared the unanimous national champion.

2 - Clemson ranked second in the nation among public Division I football institutions in terms of graduation rate according to the 2003 NCAA report. Clemson had a 100-percent graduation rate for African-Americans (9-9) in the study.

3 - Former Clemson Head Coaches John Heisman, Frank Howard, and Jess Neely have been inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. Former Tiger players Terry Kinard and Banks McFadden have also been inducted.

9 - Nine former Tigers were named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002, more than any other school.

11 - Eleven active Clemson student-athletes had their degrees when the Tigers played Tennessee in the Peach Bowl in 2004.

13 - Clemson has won 13 ACC titles, more than any other school. Clemson also has more overall wins (334) and conference wins (206) than any other school.

18 - At least 18 former Tigers have been on NFL rosters in each of the last 18 years.

19 - Nineteen former Clemson players have earned 27 total Super Bowl Championship rings since the Super Bowl began in 1966.

20 - Clemson has had 20 first-round draft selections in its history.

21 - Including the 2003 season, Clemson has had 21 years in which it has been ranked in the final Associated Press top 25.

27 - Clemson has made 27 postseason bowl appearances, including one in each of the last five years and 16 of the last 19 seasons. Clemson has 14 wins in those 27 bowl games, and ranks among the top-25 schools in NCAA history in bowl games and wins.

44 - Former Tigers have been chosen to the Pro Bowl 44 times, including a combined seven appearances for active players Trevor Pryce (Broncos) and Brian Dawkins (Eagles).

53 - Clemson has earned 53 wins over AP top-25 teams over the years, including three wins (#3 Florida State, #6 Tennessee, #24 Virginia) in 2003. Clemson has defeated at least one ranked opponent in 16 of the last 19 years.

54 - A total of 54 Tigers have earned All-America honors over the years. The program has had at least one All-American in 27 of the last 29 years.

Mission Statement

The Department of Athletics offers nationally prominent athletic programs. Through a dedicated commitment to educational interests, a competitive athletic program, and integrity in all areas, the student-athletes, coaches, and staff strive to bring credit and recognition to Clemson University.

The mission of the Athletic Department is to sponsor a broad-based athletic program that provides educational and athletic opportunities for young men and women to grow, develop, and serve the interests of Clemson University by complementing and enhancing its diversity and quality of life.

Furthermore, the Athletic Department seeks to be a source of pride for the citizens of the State of South Carolina and to be recognized as a nationally prominent program, through consistently high levels of performance and accomplishment in athletic competitions.

The Athletic Department strives to develop student-athletes academically and athletically with the total commitment of aiding their efforts to graduate from Clemson University and advance to careers that will enable them to be productive members of society.

The Athletic Department will act in an ethical and honest manner, dedicated to compliance with all Federal, State, NCAA, Conference, and University rules and regulations.

Credits

The 2004 Clemson Football Guide was written and edited by Sports Information Director Tim Bourret. Layout, design, and editorial assistance was executed by Assistant Sports Information Director Brian Hennessy. Insert pages designed by Sports Information Student Assistant Liz Noll.

The following contributed editorial assistance in the production of this media guide: Sam Blackman, Erin Brackett, Katlin Bradley, Brent Breedin, Shipp Daniel, Louis Garmendia, Christine Long, Anne Miller, Philip Sikes, Nick Skinner, Kyle Tucker, Dr. Harold Vigodsky.

Special thanks to the late Bob Bradley, whose 40 years of research made production of this guide easier for future generations.

On the Cover

This year's cover features six of Clemson's top returning players, all of whom had a major impact on Clemson's strong 4-0 finish in 2003. The offensive players featured are quarterback Charlie Whitehurst, who established 33 Clemson records in 2003, offensive guard Cedric Johnson, who will be in his third year as a starter, and wide receiver Airese Currie, the fastest player in college football. The defensive leaders pictured are Leroy Hill, the nation's #2-ranked defender in terms of tackles for loss in 2003, Travis Pugh one of the top tacklers in the ACC, and Maurice Fountain, one of the quickest defensive ends in the nation.

The back cover of this year's media guide features former Clemson players who are prominent in the NFL. The players pictured are either past Super Bowl Champions, Pro Bowl players, first-round draft selections, or 10-year veterans.

Cover Design

Clemson's Football Heritage

Academic Excellence

- Eleven Clemson players who dressed for the Tennessee game in the 2004 Peach Bowl already had their degrees. Yusef Kelly, a current Tiger running back, earned his degree in May. That gives Tommy Bowden 31 players in his five years that have played for the Tigers after they earned their undergraduate degree. Since Bowden has been at Clemson, nearly 80 percent of the scholarship players who have stayed until their senior year have earned their degrees.
- Chad Carson and Kyle Young were first-team Academic All-Americans in 2000 and 2001. Clemson was the only Division I school in the nation with two first-team selections in each year. Young was named a first-team Academic All-American from 1999-01 and became just the second ACC player in history to be a three-time, first-team selection.
- Carson joined Young in graduating from Clemson Summa Cum Laude. In 2002, Carson reached the final stage of the Rhodes Scholarship selection process, the only Division I football player in the nation who could make that claim. Carson, who is the sideline announcer on Clemson's radio network, also won Clemson University's Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award for service to others.
- Clemson's football team posted a 2.52 team GPA for the spring semester of 2004, the second-highest team GPA on record. Even though he has served as head coach just 10 semesters, the top five team GPA semesters have taken place under Tommy Bowden's watch.
- Clemson's signees for 1996 had an 82-percent graduate rate, including a perfect 9-9 by African-Americans.

All-Americans

- Clemson has had a history of decorated football players. The program boasts 54 different All-Americans in its history. The program has had at least one All-American in 27 of the last 29 years.
- Clemson had nine players named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team, more than any other school. The list of Clemson honorees shows the balance of the program over the years, as every area of a football team (by position) was represented. The nine players are Joe Bostic, Jerry Butler, Bennie Cunningham, Jeff Davis, Steve Fuller, Terry Kinard, Michael Dean Perry, William Perry, and Anthony Simmons. All nine were All-Americans at least once and played in the NFL.
- Cunningham was a two-time, first-team All-American as a tight end in 1974 and 1975 before he won two Super Bowl rings with the Pittsburgh Steelers. He was the only tight end named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.
- Clemson's most celebrated All-American might be Banks McFadden, Clemson's first Associated Press All-American. An All-American in football and basketball in 1939, McFadden was named the nation's most versatile athlete that year. He was also named Clemson's top all-around athlete of the 20th century by The State in 1999.
- Clemson could have some strong contenders for All-America mention this year, as Leroy Hill, Justin Miller, and Charlie Whitehurst are all on preseason position award candidate lists.

William Henry was one of 11 Tigers on the 2003 team that played with their undergraduate degrees already in hand.

Bowl History

- Clemson has been to 27 bowl games in its history, among the top-25 totals in college football history. Clemson's 14 wins are also among the top 25 in bowl victories in college football history.
- Clemson's first bowl game was a 6-3 victory over Boston College and Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. Leahy is still ranked second in college football history in winning percentage.
- Clemson won five straight bowl games between 1986-90, one of the top bowl winning streaks in college football history. Clemson defeated Stanford, Penn State, Oklahoma, West Virginia, and Illinois during the stretch.
- Clemson has beaten some of the top coaches in college football history in bowl competition. Among the list of celebrated coaches who have lost to Clemson in bowl competition since the ACC was founded are Joe Paterno (#2 winningest coach in Division I on a total victories basis), Barry Switzer (fourth-winningest Division I coach on a winning-percentage basis), and Tom Osborne (fifth-winningest Division I coach on a winning-percentage basis). Hall of Fame Coach Woody Hayes suffered his final loss against Clemson in 1978 at the Gator Bowl.
- You can add Phillip Fulmer to that list mentioned above. The third-winningest active Division I coach took Tennessee to the national title in 1998, but the Tigers defeated his Volunteer team in the 2004 Peach Bowl. It marked the sixth time Clemson has defeated a coach in a bowl game who had won or would eventually win a national championship at some point in his career.
- Clemson has made 16 bowl appearances since 1985, a tangible representation of the program's consistency. Clemson ranks sixth in the nation among Division I teams in bowl appearances over the last 19 years. Only Florida State (19), Michigan (19), Nebraska (19), Tennessee (18), and Miami (FL) (17) have more appearances. Since 1985, Clemson has made more bowl appearances than Georgia (15), Alabama (14), Southern California (14), Notre Dame (13), Oklahoma (12), Texas (12).

Championship Tradition

- The Tigers were national champions by every service in 1981, as they were the only school in the nation with a perfect record (12-0) that season. The year included three wins over top-10 teams (Georgia, Nebraska, North Carolina), the only team in college football to beat three top-10 teams in 1981. It was just the second national championship for an ACC school.
- The 1981 team had five All-Americans on its roster, including first-team selections Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard, and Perry Tuttle. Thirty-one players on the 1981 team were eventually drafted by the NFL, and 22 players on the squad eventually played in the NFL. Twenty-three different players on the 1981 roster were First-Team All-ACC selections at one time or another in their career.
- Since the ACC was formed in 1953, Clemson has more overall wins (334) and wins in ACC games (206) than any other school. North Carolina is second in both with 304 and 181, respectively.
- Clemson has a winning record against each of the other charter members of the ACC since the league was founded in 1953. Clemson is 30-12-1 against Duke, 26-21-2 against Maryland, 29-15-1 against North Carolina, 22-21 against N.C. State, 35-7-1 against Virginia, and 42-6-1 against Wake Forest since 1953. Clemson also has a winning record against Georgia Tech (12-9) since the Yellow Jackets joined the league in 1983.
- Clemson has won 13 ACC titles (12 outright and one tied), more than any other school. Florida State is second with 11. In two different eras, Clemson won three conference titles in succession. Those took place from 1965-67 and 1986-88.

Frank Howard is one of three former Clemson coaches in the College Football Hall of Fame. He coached the Tigers to eight conference championships

Clemson's Football Heritage

- Clemson posted 15 consecutive non-losing seasons between 1977-91, a conference record for that category.
- Clemson won the Southern Conference title in 1940 and 1948, giving the program 15 conference crowns over the years.

Coaching Success

- Clemson has a legendary history when it comes to coaching. Three former Tiger mentors (John Heisman, Frank Howard, Jess Neely) are already in the College Football Hall of Fame. Howard was Clemson's coach when the ACC was founded and promptly took the Tigers to six ACC championships. No coach had more league titles than Howard during his 30-year tenure at Clemson. He concluded his career with 165 victories, and his 30-year tenure still ranks second in NCAA history for a coach serving at the same school.
- Danny Ford coached Clemson to the national championship in 1981 and won six bowl games in his Clemson career, second on the all-time ACC coaching list. His 76-percent winning percentage is also second-best in ACC history. He was the consensus national coach-of-the-year in 1981 and remains the youngest coach (33) to win a national title.
- Current Clemson Head Coach Tommy Bowden has continued the tradition of outstanding Tiger coaches by leading the team to bowl games each of his first five years, the only coach in Clemson history to do that. He has been named ACC Coach-of-the-Year twice in his first five years at Clemson. In 2003, he became the second Clemson coach to defeat three top-25 teams in the same year, and the second to record at least two top-10 wins in the same year.

Death Valley

- Clemson Memorial Stadium, known as Death Valley, has been the Tigers' home since the ACC was founded. In 2001, it was listed as the top stadium in the ACC by Sporting News. Many times in the last decade it has ranked among the top-10 football stadiums in the nation. Clemson ranked seventh in the nation in total attendance in 2000 and has been ranked among the top 20 in the nation in average attendance 21 years in a row.
- Clemson sold out of season tickets for the 2004 season by July 15, 2004, an indication of interest in Tiger football for the coming season.
- Memorial Stadium has been the site of many memorable games, including the first meeting of father-and-son coaches in Division I history. That contest took place in 1999 when the Bowdens met in a memorable game in Death Valley.
- Death Valley has claimed 222 victims in its 62 seasons entering 2003. Clemson has a 71-percent winning percentage in the facility.

First-Round Draft Selections

- Rod Gardner became the 20th first-round draft pick in Clemson history when he was selected as the #15 pick in the first round by the Washington Redskins in 2001. Gardner finished his career as the school's all-time leading receiver and was third in total reception yardage.

- Gardner set an example for all future Clemson football players to follow. He was a first-team All-American, a first-round draft choice, and graduated in May of 2001. Few college football players could boast of that triple that year.
- Clemson had 10 players drafted in 1983, an ACC record for players drafted from the same school in one year.
- Clemson has had a first-round draft choice four of the last eight years. The list includes Trevor Pryce, already a four-time Pro Bowl selection with the Denver Broncos, and Anthony Simmons, the top tackler for the Seattle Seahawks in 2000 and 2001.
- Clemson has had 181 players drafted over the years, including Derrick Hamilton (San Francisco 49ers) and Donnell Washington (Green Bay Packers), who were both third-round selections in 2004.

Hall of Fame

- Former Clemson All-American Terry Kinard was enshrined in 2001 in New York City. He was also inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 2001.
- Kinard was the first Clemson football player to win a national individual award. He was named the 1982 National Defensive Player-of-the-Year by CBS Sports. That year (his senior season), he was a first-team, unanimous All-American, the only unanimous All-American in Clemson history. He was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002, and was also listed among the top-50 athletes in the history of the ACC, regardless of sport.
- Clemson had a special night in New York City on December 11, 2001. That evening, Terry Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame and Kyle Young was named a recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award. Clemson was the only school in the nation with one of each in 2001.
- Three former Clemson coaches are in the College Football Hall of Fame. The list includes John Heisman (1900-03), Jess Neely (1931-39), and Frank Howard (1940-69).

Jim Riggs was a seven-year NFL veteran with the Cincinnati Bengals who played in the 1989 Super Bowl.

Rod Gardner is one of 20 Clemson first-round draft picks.

NFL Influence

- Clemson had 19 former players in the NFL during the 2003 season, the 18th-consecutive year Clemson has had at least 18 former players on NFL rosters. The 2003 list included nine different former Tigers who were either first-round draft choices, Super Bowl champions, or Pro Bowl selections.
- Over the years, 19 former Clemson players have won 27 Super Bowl Championship rings. The leader is Jeff Bostic, who was a starter on three Super Bowl championship teams with the Washington Redskins. Clemson has had an alum on the Super Bowl Championship team five of the last seven years.
- Trevor Pryce, an All-ACC player at Clemson in 1996, has already won two Super Bowl Championships and been a four-time Pro Bowl selection. He became the highest-paid defensive lineman in NFL history in 2001.
- Clemson has had a strong influence on the linebacker position in the NFL in recent years. Recent former Tigers who have been either Pro Bowl performers, first-round draft picks, or Super Bowl champions include John Johnson, Levon Kirkland, Ed McDaniel, Anthony Simmons, and Wayne Simmons.
- One of the rising stars of the NFL is Philadelphia Eagles' strong safety Brian Dawkins. A 1996 Clemson graduate, Dawkins was an All-American on Clemson's 1995 team when he finished the season 10th in the nation in interceptions. He became the first player in NFL history in 2002 to have a sack, an interception, a fumble recovery, and a touchdown reception in the same game. He has been named to the Pro Bowl three times in the last five seasons.

Clemson's Football Heritage

Rodney Williams quarterbacked Clemson to 32 victories and three ACC titles.

Poll Presence

- The 2003 season marked the 21st time Clemson has been ranked in the final top 25 of the Associated Press poll. Clemson's highest ranking is #1 in 1981, a ranking that was achieved on November 30, 1981 and in the final poll of that season (January 4, 1982).
- The Tigers were ranked #22 in the final AP poll of 2003, the second time under Tommy Bowden Clemson has finished with a top-25 ranking.
- Clemson once had a streak of 46 consecutive weeks ranked in the AP poll during the 1980s.
- Clemson finished in the top 20 of all final polls from 1986-91, a six-year streak. Clemson had exactly two losses in each of those six seasons.
- Clemson was ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll six times in the 1980s. The Clemson program was fifth in the nation in winning percentage in that decade.
- Beating ranked opponents has also been a hallmark of Clemson's success. Clemson has beaten an AP ranked opponent 15 of last 18 years, including three ranked wins in 2003. Clemson defeated a #25 Virginia team in overtime, a #3-ranked Florida State team, and a #6-ranked Tennessee team in the Peach Bowl. It was the most ranked wins in one season for Clemson since 1981. Clemson has 53 wins over ranked teams in its history, including 24 over fellow ACC schools.

Prominent Former Tigers

- Dwight Clark was the MVP of the NFL in 1982. He was the recipient of "The Catch" for the San Francisco 49ers against the Dallas Cowboys in the 1981 NFC Championship game. It is still replayed on ESPN Classic every night when they introduce their "Sports Century" feature.

- Charlie Waters was a three-time Pro Bowl selection with the Dallas Cowboys. He played on two Super Bowl Championship teams before going on to a college coaching career at Oregon.
- The Perry Brothers, Michael Dean and William, were starters on Clemson's 1984 defense. Both were named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002. William played on Clemson's national championship team as a freshman, then on the Super Bowl Champion Chicago Bears of 1985. Michael Dean played in six Pro Bowls with Cleveland and Denver, more than any other former Tiger. Both were named ACC Player-of-the-Year during their Clemson careers, including William in 1984 and Michael Dean in 1987. They are the only brother combination in ACC history that can make that claim.
- Chester McGlockton was a four-time Pro Bowl selection during his NFL career that ran from 1992-03. He joins Trevor Pryce (4) and Michael Dean Perry (6) as former Tigers with at least four Pro Bowl appearances.

Record-Breaking Players

- Former Clemson quarterback Woodrow Dantzler became the first player in Division I college football history to pass for at least 2,000 yards and rush for 1,000 yards in the same season when he collected 2,360 yards passing and 1,004 yards rushing in 2001. He finished his career as the ACC's all-time leader in quarterback rushing and ranks in the top 10 in league history in total offense. He is now with Atlanta Falcons.
- A Clemson player has led the ACC in scoring 12 times, more than any other school. The list includes two-time champion Nelson Welch, who still holds the league mark for career field goals (70).
- Clemson is known for its leaders on defense. In 1984, William Perry set the ACC career record for quarterback sacks (27). Three years later, his brother, Michael Dean Perry, broke the record with his 28th. Jeff Davis was named the ACC MVP in

Clemson Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

1981, giving Clemson three of the four times in league history a defensive player has been named the conference's best player.

Traditions

- Memorial Stadium is the center of many Clemson traditions. According to many, the Tigers have the top stadium entrance in all of sports. The team enters the stadium from the top of a hill at the East end of the stadium. Prior to running down the 100-foot hill, the team rubs Howard's Rock for inspiration. It is electrifying for the 85,000 Clemson fans who have come to root on the Tigers.
- Clemson was a military institution until 1955, and thus has many traditions with a military theme. In the early days of Death Valley, the day's color and pageantry began with formations on the field. Today, those traditions are revisited during Military Appreciation Day, which will be held on October 23 when Clemson meets Maryland. The Senior Platoon was an elite unit that still performs at Clemson home games. They traveled with the team during the 1940s and 1950s, performing at, among other famous arenas, Fenway Park.
- Tigerama is held the Friday evening prior to Homecoming that features a pep rally, fireworks, skits, and Homecoming Pageant, all wrapped into a three-hour program in Littlejohn Coliseum. It will be held October 15 this year.

Woodrow Dantzler became the first 2,000/1,000 quarterback in NCAA history in 2001.

ClemsonTigers.com, Clemson's official athletic web site, supplies Tiger fans with the most extensive coverage of Clemson football on the worldwide web. Rosters, player, coaches' bios, player features, interviews, stats, opponent information, schedules, and results are all available. In addition, the site will again be producing live stats for all the games played at home. But the coverage does not stop there.

Thanks to the partnership between ClemsonTigers.com and the Clemson Tiger Sports Network, the Tigers' radio-rights holder, the site will provide more audio and video coverage than ever before. Radio broadcasts of all the Clemson football games can be heard on ClemsonTigers.com. Catch all the action with the new "Voice of the Tigers," Pete Yanity, along with color commentator Will Merritt and sideline reporter Chad Carson. Following the games, fans can also listen to the postgame show with player and coach interviews. The relationship with the Clemson Tiger Sports Network is helping ClemsonTigers.com stay on the cutting edge of collegiate official athletic web sites.

During the 2004 football season, Tiger fans can gear up for the big game by checking out the Game Day Page. The Game Day Page has all the latest news leading up to kickoff as well as directions to the game flashbacks to great moments in the series and more. Also available on game days are photo galleries of the action that are updated at the conclusion of each quarter that give users a feel for the game.

A new multimedia experience has also been added to ClemsonTigers.com that is sure to enhance every visit. Tiger Tracks offers fans video highlights of football games and press conferences as well as great moments in Clemson football history. Last year, visitors to ClemsonTigers.com voted on the top plays of the year and viewed video clips of each of the top vote-getters.

Football is not the only sport covered by ClemsonTigers.com; you can get rosters, coach and player bios, stats, and schedules on all of Clemson's 19 varsity sports at ClemsonTigers.com. Fans can also read features on student-athletes, athletic trends, and Clemson's championship tradition. News about former Tigers in the spotlight, as well as a complete listing of former student-athletes in the nation's professional sports leagues, keep fans in the know.

ClemsonTigers.com not only brings you the most exciting and comprehensive coverage of Clemson athletics, but also exists to make your life easier. Clemson fans can purchase tickets, contribute to the IPTAY scholarship fund, or shop for the latest Tiger gear all with a click of a button.

ClemsonTigers.com is a member of the CollegeSports.com network of official athletic sites. CollegeSports.com provides internet support to over 150 schools nationwide, including the Atlantic Coast Conference.

As the official athletic web site for Clemson University athletics, ClemsonTigers.com is the only place to go for all of your Clemson sports information. From live audio broadcasts, to video highlight clips, to late breaking news, ClemsonTigers.com has you covered.

Credentials

We appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from sports editors of daily newspapers along with radio and television sports directors only. Make request directly to Sam Blackman, Clemson Associate Sports Information Director. There is not room for all individual radio stations in the press box, but rather only enough room for the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger are not permitted in the press box.

Entrance to Memorial Stadium

Enter through Gate 11, which is located on the press box side of the field at the top of the South Side of the stadium. If you need to pick up tickets or press passes at our press will-call, they are at the ticket office at Memorial Stadium.

Important Dates

Aug. 5	Clemson team reports
Aug. 6	First practice (conditioning)
Aug. 8	Media Day/Fan/Picture Day, 3:00 PM at South Side Concourse of Memorial Stadium
Aug. 12	First practice in pads
Aug. 19	First day of classes
Sep. 4	Wake Forest at Clemson, 3:30 PM

Postgame Interviews

The team dressing rooms are located beneath the west endzone stands, to your left from the press

box. The two SIDs will escort writers wishing for postgame interviews to this area with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The Clemson dressing room is closed to all media, but Head Coach Tommy Bowden will be in his interview room (Tiger Lettermen's room), and players chosen by media members will be in their interview area (underneath west stands) for postgame comments following a short team meeting. Both coaches will hold their interviews in the Tiger Lettermen's room under the west endzone stands at Memorial Stadium. The opposing coach will go first followed by Coach Bowden.

Press Box

There are two levels to Clemson's press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a photographer work room, the outside PA, stadium operations, and security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks, and Clemson athletic officials. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 124 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet and the work room.

Telephone Installation

Our press box is equipped with 12 outside phone lines in a centrally-located area in the press box. It is the responsibility of each paper or radio network to make arrangements for telephone lines if you desire a line at your seat. Call Zelda Kleister at (864) 656-2601 to order phone lines. There are three phones available at the back of the press box for sending voice reports. The old "dark room" on the first level of the press box has two high-speed internet lines for photographers. There are also eight high-speed internet lines in a central location in the press box for use by photographers and writers during post game. Wireless access is also available.

Weekly Press Conference

Tommy Bowden's weekly press conference will be held on Tuesdays during the season. The first session will be Tuesday, August 31 in the Auditorium in Clemson's McFadden Building, the facility that is adjacent to the Jervey Athletic Center.

The media will interview Coach Bowden between 11:00 AM and 11:45 AM. Players will be available before and after Bowden's press conference. The conference can be accessed by phone. Just call Tim Bourret to access the teleconference.

Player interviews will be held in Vickery Hall on the Clemson campus on Mondays between 10:00 AM and 1:00 PM, and at the McFadden Building on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. No player interviews are allowed after Wednesdays.

The 2003 Fall Finish

The 2003 Fall Finish

Clemson finished the 2003 season with four consecutive victories, the first time the Tigers accomplished that feat since the 1990 season when they won their last five games. What made it a landmark set of games was the margin of victory and the level of competition during the season-ending run.

"If we had an NCAA football tournament now, Clemson probably would have been the #3 seed in the West Regional," noted Charlotte Observer writer Ron Green, Jr. after Clemson's victory over #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl.

As the chart below shows, Clemson defeated #3 Florida State and Bobby Bowden, the winningest coach in Division I coaching history, and #6 Tennessee, and former national championship coach Phillip Fulmer, during the four victories. Those represent two of the top-four, highest-ranked victories in Clemson football history.

In addition to those victories, Clemson downed arch-rival South Carolina 63-17 in Columbia, the most points Clemson has ever scored against the Gamecocks and the largest margin of victory for the Tigers against South Carolina since 1900. South Carolina is coached by Lou Holtz, another mentor who has won the national championship. Clemson also defeated Duke 40-7.

The 2003 Clemson team became just the second in school history to defeat two top-10 opponents in the same season. The only other Clemson team to accomplish that feat was the 1981 National Championship Tiger team, which had three top-10 victories.

Tigers Enter 2004 on Four-Game Win Streak

Clemson is one of nine schools that will enter the 2004 season on a four-game winning streak. Over the last four games of the 2003 season, Clemson outscored its opposition by 108 points, or 27 points per game. Only Southern California equaled Clemson's victory margin over the last four games of the season among the nine schools who won their final four games.

Derrick Hamilton's 58-yard touchdown reception late in the third quarter against the Seminoles propelled the Tigers to a 26-10 upset victory in Death Valley.

Clemson's stingy defense held #3 Florida State to just 11 yards rushing.

Whitehurst presented Bowden with a game ball after Tommy's win on his dad's birthday.

Justin Miller's 63-yard punt return for a touchdown put the cap on a great all-around performance by the sophomore cornerback, as Clemson defeated Duke 40-7.

The 2003 Fall Finish

Ben Hall caught a 39-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter at South Carolina.

Jamaal Fudge had two interceptions that led to scores in the 63-17 win at South Carolina.

Chad Jasmin scored four touchdowns against South Carolina in Columbia, the first Tiger to score four touchdowns in a game against the Gamecocks since 1918.

Duane Coleman's touchdown gave Clemson early momentum in the Peach Bowl.

Justin Miller and the defense kept Tennessee off the scoreboard in the second half.

Tigers #8 in New York Times Computer

Clemson's 4-0 finish brought it to a #8 final national ranking according New York Times's computer. The ranking was one of the computer rankings used in the BCS formula in 2003. Clemson made an 11-place jump in the rankings by virtue of its win over Tennessee in the Peach Bowl. The formula for the computer ranking puts a high priority on schedule ranking and how a team is playing at season's end. Clemson was the highest-ranked team in the nation by the New York Times computer poll with four losses. The Tigers were ranked #22 in the final rankings according to AP and USA Today.

Other Notes of Interest on Clemson's Finish

- Clemson scored 19 touchdowns over the last four games and allowed just six. That included a 10-1 margin in rushing touchdowns.
- Linebacker Leroy Hill was the top tackler for Clemson over the last four games with 43 tackles, which matches his uniform number.
- Head Coach Tommy Bowden and the Tigers defeated three of the top-12 winningest active coaches in Division I football (Phillip Fulmer (3rd), Bobby Bowden (4th), Lou Holtz (12th)).
- Bowden became the first coach in history to defeat two coaches in the same month who had already reached at least 200 wins (Bowden, Holtz).
- Quarterback Charlie Whitehurst joined former Tiger Homer Jordan as the only Clemson quarterbacks to start two victories over top-10 teams in the same season. During the last four games, Whitehurst completed 84 of 133 passes for 1,151 yards and eight touchdowns. That is a 63.2 completion percentage and 288 passing yards per game. He also gained 306 yards per game in total offense during the four-game run.
- Running back Chad Jasmin was also important in the streak, as he gained 307 yards rushing in 58 attempts, a 5.3 average. He scored four touchdowns in the victory at South Carolina and was named the Offensive MVP of the Peach Bowl.

Clemson's 2003 football season could not have ended on a more positive note. The Tigers won each of their last four games, one of just nine teams entering 2004 on a four-game winning streak. And, the Tigers did not just sneak by, as the four victories were recorded by a combined 108 points. Only Associated Press National Champion Southern California had an equal victory margin over the last four games of the season.

Those victories were not against lower echelon teams. The Tigers defeated #3 Florida State by a score of 26-10 to start the streak, the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated in its history. The regular season concluded with a 63-17 victory over rival South Carolina, Clemson's highest point total in the history of the series and greatest victory margin since 1900.

In the final game, Clemson earned a 27-14 victory over #6 Tennessee in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl, the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated in a bowl game since the Tigers won the 1981 National Championship with a victory over #4 Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Combined with a midseason victory over #24 Virginia, the 2003 Tigers recorded three top-25 wins, the most in one season since the 1981 National Championship team. It was just the second Clemson season in which the Tigers recorded a pair of top-10 wins.

The run of success to conclude the season brought the Tigers to a #22 final national ranking in the two major polls and a #8 final ranking in the New York Times Computer. Head Coach Tommy Bowden was pleased with his team's progress over the course of the season, but aspires to reach higher goals.

"We were satisfied with the way we played over the last part of the season, but we strive for more," said Bowden, who was named ACC Coach-of-the-

Year in 2003, the second time he has won the award in his five years at Clemson. "We certainly have higher goals for this program. We want to reach BCS bowls, have a higher final national ranking, and win the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship."

Bowden is not saying those are specific goals for this season, but making consistent progress towards those eventual achievements through consistency is a goal for 2004. "We have to be more consistent from one season to the next. The way we finished last year, some people were putting the 'Clemson's Back' headline on our season. We won't be back until we show more consistency. We need to have consistency in terms of nine and 10-win seasons, and contend for BCS bowls. That is what we strive for at Clemson."

Early indications show that Clemson will be ranked among the preseason top-25 teams in the nation according to many services, rankings Clemson has not seen in the preseason since 2001, when Clemson was coming off a top-15 final ranking in 2000. Clemson does return seven starters on each side of the ball for just the second time in the last nine years, and 56 total lettermen, tying for its high total in history.

But, Bowden must replace some talented players who were outstanding leaders. The senior class of 2003 will be remembered for its character and ability to overcome adversity. A late-season loss to Wake Forest could have been devastating; but instead, it became a rallying point.

"We lost some talented players on both sides of the ball, especially at wide receiver and the defensive line," said Bowden. "You can evaluate the losses by looking at the statistics. But, it is hard to measure the impact from a leadership standpoint. We lost some seniors from last year who might not have had a lot of sacks or scored a lot of touchdowns, but they had a huge impact on our season."

Three of the those players were Tony Elliott, DeJuan Polk, and Gregory Walker, the three permanent captains for the 2003 season. "Our captains did a great job last year," stated Bowden. "They had the respect of their teammates and set a great example for the rest of the team. Now we need some seniors on the 2004 team to step up from a leadership standpoint just as the seniors of 2003 did. That is always an unknown heading into a season."

Two players who could have provided leadership and production on the field in 2004 were wide receiver Derrick Hamilton and defensive tackle Donnell Washington; but both opted to enter the NFL Draft after their red-shirt junior seasons and were both third-round selections. Hamilton was Second-Team All-ACC as a receiver and specialist. He left Clemson as the school's all-time leader in all-purpose yardage, kickoff return yards, and total receptions. Washington was the 2003 defensive-line leader in terms of tackles, and he ranked third on the entire team in tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Other significant offensive losses from 2003 include wide receiver Kevin Youngblood, the team's top receiver in 2003 with 70 catches and the #5 receiver in Clemson history, and multiple-year offensive-line starters William Henry and Walker, Tommy Bowden's 2003 team finished with four straight wins and a top-25 ranking, but he has higher goals for the Tiger program.

Clemson's starting tackles. Walker was a Second-Team All-ACC selection last year and signed a free agent contract with the New York Giants.

Other significant losses on defense include John Leake, who had 131 tackles last year and 448 for his career, fifth-most in Clemson history, and defensive linemen Khaleed Vaughn and Polk. Vaughn was a three-year starter at defensive end, while Polk started every game a year ago.

Based on the losses listed above, Bowden must have players step up at wide receiver and the defensive line immediately. Hamilton and Youngblood combined for 132 receptions, 1,923 yards, and 12 touchdowns last year alone, while the three defensive linemen combined for 142 tackles, including 23 behind the line of scrimmage.

"We must replace some outstanding players from last year," said Bowden. "You can see by the depth chart that inexperienced wide receivers and defensive linemen will have to step up this year. In our system, those are very important areas of the team. The four starters we lost on offense were a big reason we set the school record for total offense last year, and those four starters we lost on defense were a big reason we ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense."

While Bowden will miss players of high ability and character off his 2003 team, he is pleased with the return of many talented athletes. His offense will feature quarterback Charlie Whitehurst, just the second ACC signal-caller in history to reach 5,000 passing yards by the end of his sophomore season. The defense will be led by All-America candidate Leroy Hill, who came from obscurity to rank second in the nation in tackles for loss (27) and fifth in solo tackles in 2003.

Both 2004 leaders performed at a high level during Clemson's four-game winning streak to end

Leroy Hill, whose 27 tackles for loss in 2003 were second-most in the nation, will stalk opposing quarterbacks in 2004.

the season. Whitehurst threw for 288 yards per game and eight touchdowns in the four-game winning streak to close the campaign, while Hill recorded 43 total tackles, including seven tackles for loss over the same period.

"Charlie and Leroy are certainly legitimate candidates for postseason honors this coming year," remarked Bowden. "They finished strong and had outstanding years for us last season. But, we will look for them to continue their improvement in 2004. Both of them have great ability and have shown outstanding team leadership as underclassmen."

Whitehurst was listed on many preseason Heisman Trophy candidate lists, while Hill is listed among the top linebackers in the nation as a Butkus Award candidate.

Bowden has other all-star candidates on both sides of the football. Cedric Johnson will be in his third season as a starter on the offensive line. A starter in all 13 games who played 850 total snaps, Johnson will be an anchor of the line from the left-guard position. Airese Currie, who had 43 catches in an injury-plagued junior season, will be the leader of the receiving corp. With a 10.22 time in the 100m for the Clemson track team during the spring of 2004, he is regarded as one of the fastest athletes in college football.

Bowden has the luxury of his top returning rusher from each of the last two seasons. Duane Coleman led the way last year with 615 yards, and he also added 309 yards as a receiver out of the backfield. He joined Travis Zachery as the only players in Clemson history to rush for at least 600 yards and reach at least 300 receiving yards in the same season. Yusef Kelly, who has already earned his undergraduate degree, was healthy for just one complete game last year, an 88-yard performance in the overtime victory against Virginia. He led the team in rushing in 2002 and could have a renaissance season similar to the one graduate student Chad Jasmin had in 2003.

Bowden has six of his top seven linebackers and defensive backs returning in 2004. Justin Miller will join Hill as a postseason honors candidate as a cornerback and a kick returner. Clemson returns all four starters in the secondary for the first time in six years, giving the Tigers one of the top pass-defending units in the nation. The unit is ranked second-best in the nation by Sporting News. Safeties Jamaal Fudge and Travis Pugh both were over 100 tackles last year. Cornerback Tye Hill, the ACC 60m indoor and 100m outdoor track champion, returns after starting 11 games opposite Miller at cornerback.

Bowden must replace Clemson career scoring leader and placekicker Aaron Hunt. The 2003 senior booted four field goals in Clemson's landmark victory over Florida State and finished his career with a school-record 329 points. Cole Chason, who outpunted Tennessee All-American Dustin Colquitt in the Peach Bowl, returns as the starting punter as a sophomore.

Offense

(7 returning starters, 28 returning lettermen)

Clemson established a school record for total offense in a season with 5,467 yards in 2003, an average of 420.5 yards per game. Last year's squad set a school record for passing yards in a season in the process, recording 3,687 yards through the air (283.6 per game). Clemson ranked 16th in the nation in passing yards, its highest national ranking in that category in history.

Despite the impressive numbers, especially through the air, Bowden is not sitting pat; he strives for more. "We still would like to be more balanced and get to that 2,000-yard rushing figure for a season. We improved from a rushing standpoint last year because we got tougher in short yardage after we ran more I-formation. We developed some competition through depth in the offensive line. But, there is still a lot of work to be done in our running game. That is an area we continued to work on in the spring.

Charlie Whitehurst led Clemson to victories over top-10 teams (#3 Florida State, #6 Tennessee) in 2003 and owns 33 Tiger records in just two seasons.

"We will also work quite a bit on our red-zone offense. We didn't score enough touchdowns once we got in the red zone last year. I've got to do a better job of calling plays that will give us touchdowns once we get to the red zone."

Clemson's offense is led by Whitehurst, who has already established 33 Clemson records for passing and total offense. The junior has thrown for 5,115 yards in just two seasons (22 games, including 18 as a starter). For the 2003 season, Whitehurst completed 288 of 465 passes for 3,561 yards and 21 touchdowns. The completions, attempts, and yards were all Clemson single-season records, and the touchdown pass total tied the school record.

The native of Duluth, GA was a model of consistency as a sophomore, as he threw for at least 240 yards in 11 of 13 games, including each of the last six contests to close the season. Effective as a runner when needed, Whitehurst ranked second, only to ACC Player-of-the-Year Philip Rivers, in total offense, and ranked 14th in the nation (277.7).

"Charlie had an outstanding sophomore year," said Bowden. "He played consistently and showed improvement over the course of the season. But, he has another level which he will achieve with more and more experience. He was not a highly-recruited player out of high school due to an injury in his senior year. But, he has worked hard and is very coachable."

The Tiger record for touchdown passes in one game is four, which Whitehurst has already done four times. He is Clemson's career leader in passing efficiency and completion percentage, and is already third in school history in passing yardage. He quarterbacked Clemson to two wins over top-10 teams within the last four games of 2003, the first Tiger to do that since Homer Jordan in 1981.

Whitehurst will be backed up by red-shirt sophomore Will Proctor, a native of Orlando, FL who played in five games as a reserve wideout last year.

Clemson had three of the top-100 receivers in the nation on a receptions-per-game basis last year; but only one returns. Currie, a swift and athletic receiver from Columbia, SC, had 43 catches for 560 yards in 10 games a year ago. He missed three games due to injury, but still had a positive impact on the team. He established the Clemson single-game reception record when he had 12 catches in a win over Middle Tennessee in the third game of the season. He enters his senior year with 77 receptions, 1,162 yards, and eight touchdowns. He needs just 11 catches to enter the top 10 in Tiger history.

Clemson's secondary returns all four starters and is ranked second in the nation by Sporting News. Whip linebacker Eric Sampson (#38) also gives the Tigers great pass coverage in 2004.

Curtis Baham will be looked upon as a strong candidate to move into the starting lineup. Like Whitehurst, he is the son of a former NFL player who had 22 receptions for 241 yards and one touchdown in 2003. He might have been the most improved offensive player last year. He played just six snaps in two games in 2002, then had at least one catch in each of Clemson's final eight games in 2003.

Kelvin Grant and Michael Collins are two more returning receivers with considerable game experience. Grant had 12 catches for 79 yards and a touchdown in his red-shirt freshman season, while Collins had four receptions for 49 yards. Both are strong, rangy pass catchers looking to take over for the 6'5" Kevin Youngblood, Clemson's top receiver on a receptions basis last year. Collins was a star in the Spring Game with two touchdown receptions.

One of the most intriguing stories of the Clemson team this year will be Chansi Stuckey. Clemson's backup quarterback last year as a red-shirt freshman, Stuckey completed 11-21 passes for 97 yards and two touchdowns. He was even more impressive as a runner, as he had 136 yards on just 17 carries, a team-best 8.0 yards-per-carry figure. Stuckey played some wide receiver at the end of the season and had two receptions. A challenge for opposing defenses in the open field, Stuckey moved to a slot receiver spot in the spring, as he hopes to contribute some of the big plays Hamilton made in the previous three years.

Bowden returns his leading rusher from each of the last two seasons in Coleman and Kelly. Coleman led the team in 2003 with 615 yards and two scores. He had 924 yards from scrimmage when including his receiving yards. The Floridian had 34 catches out of the backfield, just the second Tiger running back to exceed 30 catches in a season. Coleman had 22 of Clemson's 58 runs of 10 yards or more last season.

Kelly had just 125 yards rushing in 2003, but had 520 in 2002 when he led the team. The duo could give Clemson a strong one-two punch at running back, as Coleman is more of a breakaway and all-purpose back, while Kelly is a power back who is capable of wearing down the opposing defense. Kyle Browning started two games at running back in 2003, and the Tigers won both games by large margins. He averaged 5.2 yards per rush and had one of the highlights of the season when he scored on an eight yard run on a "Panther Play" against Tennessee. Browning played in the secondary in the spring, but will return to the offensive backfield in the fall.

Reggie Merriweather is a third returning letterman at running back who is capable of seeing plenty of playing time in 2004. Red-shirt freshman Brandon Nolen also will see action at running back.

Clemson opens the season September 4 with a home game against Wake Forest. It will be the latest season opener on the calendar for the Tigers since 1999. The Demon Deacons are the last team to defeat Clemson, as the Tigers won their last four games of the 2003 season by a combined 108 points, leading to a #22 final national ranking. Wake Forest defeated Clemson 45-17 in Winston-Salem on November 1, 2003.

Clemson will then face Georgia Tech in week two (September 11), also at Death Valley. This is the first time since the 1965 season that Clemson has played two ACC games to open the schedule. That year, Clemson played N.C. State at home and at Virginia to open the season. The 2004 schedule will mark the first time Clemson has played two home games against league opponents to open the season since 1958, when Frank Howard's team opened the season with home victories at Death Valley over Virginia and North Carolina.

The Tigers will travel to College Station, TX to face Texas A&M on September 18. It will be Clemson's first game with the Aggies since 1974, when Clemson lost to #20 Texas A&M on the road by a score of 24-0 in the season opener. It is the first of a two-game series between Texas A&M and Clemson. The Aggies are scheduled to play at Clemson on September 3, 2005.

Clemson's fourth game of the year will be at Florida State. The Tigers defeated a third-ranked Seminole team at Clemson last season by a 26-10 score. Clemson has not won in Tallahassee since 1989.

The Tigers will have October 2 off, then will face Virginia in Charlottesville for a Thursday night game. It will be Clemson's third-straight road game, the first time

Clemson has played three straight road games since 1994. The contest will be televised nationally by ESPN. Clemson defeated #24 Virginia 30-27 in overtime last year, and each of the last three meetings between the two schools has been decided by five points or less, including two on plays within the last five seconds.

Clemson will return home on October 16 to face Utah State (Homecoming) for the first time in history. It will be Clemson's first home game in 35 days. This is the longest stretch without a home game during the regular season since 1984. Utah State is a member of the Sun Belt Conference, the same league as 2003 opponent Middle Tennessee.

Clemson concludes a three-game homestand with conference games against Maryland (October 23) and N.C. State (October 30), two teams that defeated the Tigers in 2003. Clemson will then go back on the road to face first-year ACC school Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl. Clemson has not played Miami since 1956, but the Tigers have played in their stadium. Clemson won the 1982 Orange Bowl by a 22-15 score over Nebraska to win the 1981 National Championship. It will be Clemson's first game in that facility since that triumph.

Clemson finishes its road schedule at Duke. The Tigers have defeated the Blue Devils all five years Tommy Bowden has been the head coach at Clemson, but the last meeting in Durham was a narrow 34-31 Tiger victory.

Clemson concludes the season against arch-rival South Carolina at Memorial Stadium on November 20. The Tigers have won six of the last seven meetings between the two teams overall and each of the last three played at Death Valley.

* - ACC game; Note: Home games in bold; all times are Eastern and PM.

Clemson returns its top two fullbacks from last year in Cliff Harrell and Steven Jackson. Harrell is a 245-pounder who carried the ball just three times last year, but started six games and played in 13. Jackson did not carry the ball all season, but combined with Harrell to be major reasons the Tigers improved in short yardage last season. Jackson is also one of the top Tiger defenders on kickoff coverage.

And speaking of blocking, the Tigers return both starting offensive guards, the starting center, and two tight ends with starting experience. Bowden was successful in spreading out the playing time along the offensive line last year. For the first time since he came to Clemson in 1999, the Tigers were truly two-deep across the front.

Leading the line in 2004 will be Johnson, a red-shirt senior offensive guard. The all-star candidate was Clemson's highest-graded offensive lineman over the course of the season with an 85.8 percent grade in starting all 13 games. He has started 25 of the 26 games over the last two years and appeared in over 1,600 plays. He graded in the 80s in 12 of the 13 games last year and was also Clemson's highest-rated lineman in six games. Freshman Brandon Pilgrim, who played 145 snaps in 11 games as a first-year freshman, most by any Clemson first year freshman offensive lineman since 1975, will back up Johnson.

Also returning as starters for 2004 are Tommy Sharpe at center and Nathan Bennett at right guard. Sharpe is an original walk-on from Albany, GA who has been a starter in 16 of the 18 starts for Whitehurst. He will again be the front-runner at center this year. He ranked second on the team in knockdown blocks (56), a category he led in four different games. He will be challenged for the first-team position by Dustin Fry, a 315-pound sophomore who made strong improvement over the course of his freshman season.

Bennett started seven of the 13 games last year and was statistically considered the starter for the course of the season; but Chip Myrick started six of the last seven. Myrick was listed as the starter at the end of spring practice, but both will be in another battle for that starting position in 2004. Bennett had a season-high 12 knockdowns in the win over Florida State, while Myrick had a grade of at least 80 percent in seven of his 13 games, including a 91 percent grade in the overtime victory over Virginia.

Bowden must replace both his starting tackles, a worrisome proposition for any head coach. Roman Fry and Marion Dukes are the leading candidates to serve as left and right tackles, respectively, as a result of their contributions in a reserve role last year. Roman Fry (no relation to Dustin) is a 295-pound red-shirt sophomore from Ohio who averaged 23 snaps per game in 2003. He played a significant role in Clemson's wins over Florida State, Duke, South Carolina, and Tennessee, as he played 83 snaps in those victories combined. Dukes played 97 plays in 10 games as a first-year freshman. Brad Lee and Tim DeBeer look to serve as backup tackles in 2004.

The tight end position is in great hands with the return of senior Ben Hall and junior Bobby Williamson, both of whom have served as starters over the course of their respective careers. Williamson led the Tiger tight ends in receptions last year with 12 for 105 yards, while Hall led the team in that category in 2001 as a freshman. Hall, who is listed as the starter entering the fall, had three catches last year, but had a 39-yard touchdown reception at South Carolina to key Clemson's first quarter offensive explosion. Kevin Burnette and Thomas Hunter are two more returning lettermen at tight end.

Defense

(7 returning starters, 24 returning lettermen)

Clemson made great strides defensively in comparison to 2002 and over the course of the 2003 season. Clemson finished the season 20th in the nation in scoring defense, its highest ranking in that important category in six years. The Tigers yielded just 336 yards per game, including just 204.5 yards per game passing, second-best in the ACC.

Clemson was especially stingy over the last four games of the season when it gave up just 12 points per game and 321 yards per game, including just 80 yards per game on the ground. The Tigers gave up just six touchdowns over the last four contests.

Again, while the numbers were impressive, especially at the conclusion of the season, Bowden strives for more. "We have to get to the point where we are creating more turnovers. To play at a high level and win championships, you have to be outstanding on defense and create easy opportunities for your offense. Most of the time you do that by creating turnovers and giving your offense a short field."

The leader of Clemson's defense is senior linebacker Leroy Hill. An unknown who had never started a game entering the 2003 season, Hill ranked in the top 10 in the nation in both tackles for loss and first hits. In addition to his mention among Butkus candidates, Hill is on the preseason list for the Lombardi Award and the Nagurski Award.

"Leroy reminds me of Keith Adams in that his motor never stops," said Bowden. "He has the quickness and toughness to be one of the best in the nation. He comes to play every day and will be one of our team leaders this season."

Tommy Sharpe is an underrated center who had 56 knockdown blocks in 2003, second-most on the team.

Hill, Clemson's only First-Team All-ACC selection who was third in the voting for league defensive player-of-the-year honors, had 145 tackles last year to lead the team after he had recorded just 60 combined tackles in his first two years. His 27 tackles for loss in 2003 tied for second-most in Clemson history, trailing only the 35 recorded by the aforementioned Adams, who also wore #43 at Clemson. Adams is now in the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Hill will be the first to say that 2003 senior John Leake had a big impact on his improvement. The native of Texas, who finished his career in the top five in Clemson history in tackles, will be missed. Many young but talented players will be vying for Leake's vacant starting position.

Sophomore Anthony Waters is certainly a strong candidate. The 6'3", 235-pounder had 35 tackles as Leake's backup last year and has shown the athleticism to be a factor on Clemson's defense this season. Roosevelt Nelson and David Dunham are two other inside linebackers in the mix for 2004. Nelson has earned two letters as a reserve, mostly on special teams, while Dunham made an in-season move from fullback to linebacker a success story. He recovered a fumble in the Clemson endzone on the Tar Heels' last possession to preserve a Tiger victory last year. Red-shirt freshman Nick Watkins, a standout in practice last year as a first-year freshman, will also challenge for playing time in 2004 at linebacker or the whip position.

The strongest aspect of Clemson's defense should be the secondary. Third-year defensive coordinator John Lovett, who also tutors the defensive backs, has brought Clemson's pass defense to another level since he took over in 2002. The Tigers were second in the ACC in passing yards allowed and second in interceptions last season. All four starters return to the secondary, including three who started all 13 games.

Miller should be considered among the top cornerbacks in the nation in 2004. He had 15 passes defended to lead the Tigers and now has 32 for his first two years, more than halfway to Donnell Woolford's career record (54). Also an excellent return man, Miller had 54 tackles, 45 of which were first hits. He had a strong performance in the Peach Bowl when he had two pass breakups, seven tackles, and his first career sack.

Also returning as a starting cornerback is Tye Hill (no relation to Leroy Hill). The junior moved from running back to cornerback last year and it paid off for the defense. He had 37 tackles and two interceptions. His theft on the second defensive series of the Florida State game set the tone for the contest in the Clemson victory over the #3 Seminoles. He is also one of the top performers on the Clemson men's track team, as he was the 60m indoor and 100m outdoor ACC champion in 2004.

Robert Reese and Sergio Gilliam, a pair of young and athletic players, will provide backup strength at corner. C.J. Gaddis is one of the top athletes on the team, as he played half of the spring at quarterback and half in the secondary. Also a member of the Clemson baseball team, Gaddis will get playing time at cornerback in the fall.

Clemson is also very experienced at the safety positions. Fudge started all 13 games at rover and finished the season with 116 tackles, third-most on the team and second-most in the ACC among sophomores. Just 5'10" and 190 pounds, Fudge is one of the hardest hitters on the team, as he demonstrated in the win over Virginia when he jarred the ball loose in the endzone from All-ACC tight end Heath Miller, a key to Clemson's overtime triumph.

Pugh is the returning starter at free safety. He was fourth on the team and third among returnees in tackles (102). He had 77 first hits and 10 passes defended as a starter in all 13 games last year. He played 821 snaps, second-most on the team. He had a three-game streak of double-figure tackle games late in the season, including the victory over Florida State.

The backups at safety include Roy Walker, a 6'3" rover who red-shirted the 2003 season, and Tavaghn Monts, a 6'2" athlete who made 15 tackles and played 90 snaps on defense. Monts was the leading tackler in the Spring Game.

Clemson's defensive line must replace three starters from a group that improved from a rushing defense stance over the course of the season. Florida State gained just 11 net yards rushing against the Tigers last year, the low figure by a Bobby Bowden coached Seminole team.

Maurice Fountain is the only returning starter on the defensive line. The athletic 6'4", 260-pounder started eight games last season after J.J. Howard suffered a torn ACL. Fountain had 39 tackles, including six tackles for loss and two sacks in 2003. He ranked second on the team in quarterback pressures (17).

Seniors Vontrell Jamison and Eric Coleman have never started a game, but they played a combined 604 snaps on defense last year, and are primed and ready for a frontline role. Coleman, a native of Charlottesville, VA, had 34 tackles, including seven tackles for loss, last year. He finished the year strong, as he had a caused fumble, a pass deflection, and a pair of tackles against Tennessee. He was Clemson's most productive interior defensive lineman in that game.

Jamison is a 6'7", 280-pounder who played 298 snaps at defensive end last year and finished with 27 tackles, including a pair of sacks. He also benefited from a playing-time standpoint by Howard's misfortune. Jamison had at least one tackle in 11 of the 13 games as a reserve last year.

Joining Coleman in the middle could be red-shirt junior Trey Tate. The 265-pounder from Gaffney, SC had 25 tackles a year ago, including a sack of N.C. State quarterback Philip Rivers. Competing for playing time in the defensive line will also be junior-college transfer Cory Groover and sophomore Donnell Clark.

Pressuring Jamison for playing time will be 6'5" Gaines Adams and 6'4" Charles Bennett. Adams, a red-shirt sophomore, had moments of brilliance last year and had 15 total tackles, including four tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Bennett made excellent use of the bowl practices and had a breakout game against Tennessee. He added two sacks in the Spring Game and is listed as starting defensive end. Brandon Cannon is another young defensive end who could see playing time in 2004.

Special Teams

Clemson must replace its all-time leading scorer leader in 2003 senior placekicker Aaron Hunt, but the Tigers return starting punter Cole Chason and one of the top return men in the ACC in Miller.

Chason had a modest 38.6 punting average a year ago, but he posted a 36.5 net figure. He had 19 punts inside the 20 and just nine touchbacks. The native of Roswell, GA showed improvement over the course of the season, culminating in a 42-yard average on five punts against Tennessee in the Peach Bowl. He was named Clemson's Special Teams Player-of-the-Game for that performance.

Jad Dean is a candidate to replace Hunt, Clemson's starting placekicker the last four years. Dean did not attempt a field goal or PAT last season, but showed his leg strength while handling kickoffs. Clemson led the ACC in kickoff return coverage, as 27 of Dean's 74 kickoffs were touchbacks, the most by a Tiger kicker since 1998. Opponents started at their own 20 or worse 42 of 74 kickoffs (57 percent), an improvement from 31 percent in 2002. Dean made 42-43 extra points and 9-12 field goals his senior year at Greenwood (SC) High School.

Clemson led the ACC and ranked second in the nation in kickoff returns last year with a 27.7 figure. Derrick Hamilton, Clemson's career leader in yardage in that category, has left for the NFL, but Miller does return. The junior has a 29.1 yard average for his career, first in Clemson history on a per-return basis. In 2003, he had a punt return for a score, and is one of just two players in Clemson history to have a punt return and a kickoff return for a touchdown over their careers.

Punter Cole Chason had a net punting average of 36.5 yards as a freshman in 2003.

Alumni, Coaching

Clemson has a history of players who have been strong students of the game. That is documented by the number of former Clemson players who are in college coaching. The list includes two former Tigers who are on the current Clemson staff, Mike O'Cain and Ron West.

Two former Clemson players are in their third years as Division I head coaches. Former Clemson receiver Ricky Bustle was offensive coordinator at Virginia Tech and is now in his third year as head coach at Louisiana-Lafayette. Former Clemson defensive back Bobby Johnson is now the head coach at Vanderbilt. He took Furman to the Division I-AA national championship game in 2001.

Antonio, John

This man holds a special place in the hearts of Tiger fans and in the pocketbooks of sports marketing entrepreneurs. Antonio invented the Tiger Paw, the distinctive logo of the Clemson athletic teams that has become synonymous with this University's athletic success.

Antonio was an innovative account executive with Henderson Advertising in Greenville, and prior to the 1970 season, unveiled the Paw as Clemson's new logo. It has shown up all over the country on items owned by Clemson fans. Many institutions with a feline as mascot have used the logo, or an impression of it.

Antonio also came up with the phrase, "Fly the friendly skies of United," when he worked for the Leo Burnette Agency in Chicago.

"I've never had a logo or an emblem copied as much as the Tiger Paw," said Antonio, now 72 and living in Greenville.

Antonio still remembers the day he made the presentation of the Tiger Paw to the legendary Frank Howard, then the Clemson Athletic Director. "He wasn't saying much at all," recalled Antonio in an article in the Greenville News dated February 16, 1997. "I kind of thought I was losing this fight."

At this point Antonio pulled out an orange football helmet with a tiger paw painted on the side.

"Coach Howard's eyes got as big as saucers and he smiled. From there it was downhill. Coach Howard wanted that helmet." Those Tiger Paws are still on the Clemson helmets today.

Bennett, George

Congratulations to George Bennett on a truly meaningful career as Clemson's executive director of IPTAY. The 1955 Clemson graduate, who was the school's head cheerleader as a senior, served in that capacity in two different eras. He succeeded Gene Willimon in 1971 and served as executive director until 1979.

IPTAY broke all kinds of fundraising records during that time and was regarded as the leader in the industry. When current Clemson Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips became a fundraiser at Missouri during that era, Bennett was the person he sought out to learn his new trade.

Bennett left Clemson in 1979 to supervise the athletic fundraising efforts at Vanderbilt, then became the athletic director at Furman, a position he held during that program's national championship football season of 1988. After a return to Nashville as a successful fundraiser for a hospital, Bennett returned to Clemson for his second term of service in 1993.

Bennett was inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 1989. He is the only person we know of who left Clemson, was inducted into the Hall of Fame, then returned to Clemson. This past summer he was recognized by NACDA for his years of service to college athletics and the fundraising industry.

We have not thrown Bennett out of the building. He is still involved in Clemson athletics, especially when it comes to the Hall of Fame induction ceremonies.

Board of Trustees

Clemson athletes have a long history of success stories after their playing days are concluded. These stories are present on the current roster of the Clemson Board of Trustees. Two current members of the Board played a prominent part in Clemson's athletic tradition.

Lawrence M. Gressette, Jr. lettered under legendary Head Coach Frank Howard between 1951-53. He served as a co-captain of the 1953 team, the first year Clemson was in the ACC. A strong running back, he once gained 177 yards on 26 carries against Auburn in a 34-0 Tiger victory. That is still the most yards rushing by a Tiger against an SEC team. That rushing yardage total was the third-highest single game performance in the decade of the 1950s by a Tiger.

Bill Smith is the youngest member of the Clemson Board of Trustees. Smith, a native of Columbia, was a starting defensive end on Clemson's 1981 National championship team and is now CEO of Holmes Smith Developments, Inc. He had a career-high 10 tackles in the 22-15 victory over Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl. Smith, who red-shirted during the 1980 season due to injury, was a member of four bowl teams during his career.

Clemson has had a long history of former athletes who have served the school and the board with distinction. Phil Prince, who went on to serve Clemson as university president, is an emeritus member of the board. He was one of the leaders of Clemson's 1948 undefeated (11-0) and Southern Conference championship team. Louis P. Batson is another former Tiger football player who is an emeritus member of the board. Former Tiger baseball star Doug Kingsmore is also a former trustee.

George Bennett was honored by the NACDA in 2004 for his many years of service as one of the country's top fundraisers.

Calhoun, John

This senator from the state of South Carolina proposed a bill in the house in 1953 making it a state law that Clemson and South Carolina had to meet in football once a year.

Calhoun, John C.

Thomas Green Clemson, the founder of Clemson University, was the son in law of John C. Calhoun. Calhoun still holds the distinction of being the only U.S. Vice President who served under two different U.S. Presidents.

Clemson, SC

The city of Clemson has a population of about 13,500 full-time residents. But on Saturday afternoons in the fall, when over 80,000 fans are in the stands, that population increases significantly. In fact, Clemson moves all the way to the third-largest city in the state on home football Saturdays when up to 84,000 fans are in the stands. On those days, only Charleston and Columbia are larger.

Colors

Clemson's official colors are burnt orange (PMS 165) and Northwestern purple (PMS 268), but many of its athletic uniforms are predominantly orange and white. Clemson has worn all orange for special games, and in 1991 wore purple jerseys with white pants and orange helmets against N.C. State and California. Clemson wore purple pants on the road for selected games the past three years and wore purple jerseys in wins over Georgia Tech and Duke in 2003.

According to legend, Clemson used to have a pale purple and gold as the official colors. But Jess Neely changed that because he wanted uniforms that were more colorfast. It seems that the weather and constant washings were causing the uniforms to fade. So Neely worked with the Clemson school of textiles and developed deeper colors for uniforms, colors that held up under the rays of the sun and the workings of the washing machines.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any school, as it won the title in 1956,58,59,65,66,67,78,81,82,86,87,88,91. The Tigers won the Southern Conference in 1940,48. Clemson tied for the ACC title in 1965, therefore it has 12 titles outright and one shared, more than any other school.

2004 TIGERS

Country Gentleman

Clemson is famous for its Tiger mascot and pushups after each score. But the school used to have two mascots. In addition to the Tiger, the school used to have the Country Gentleman, a student dressed in purple tails and top hat, carrying a cane. The Country Gentleman concept came about as a result of references to Clemson made by Greenville News sportswriter Carter Scoop Latimer as the Country Gentlemen. Clemson had the two-mascot system between 1954 and 1972.

Daddy Potts

Clemson has had 19 different players earn a total of 27 Super Bowl championship rings since the NFL's first Super Bowl at the end of the 1966 season. One player who is not on the list, but was a member of an NFL Championship team, was Clemson's first football player to make an NFL roster, Robert C. "Daddy" Potts. Potts played at Clemson from 1917-19 and was a starter on teams that were a combined 17-6-2. He was a two-time All-South selection who was listed at 6'1" and 235 pounds, a very large man for that time period.

After earning his degree from Clemson he went to law school at Washington & Lee, where he played football and was captain of the wrestling team. Obviously, NCAA eligibility rules were different in that era.

In 1926, he tried out for the Frankfort Yellow Jackets of the NFL, a franchise that later became the Philadelphia Eagles. Potts was a lineman on that team that finished with a 14-1-2 record, defeating the Chicago Bears and George Halas for the title. During that season, Potts played against legends Jim Thorpe and Curley Lambeau.

Potts and Gary Barnes (1962 Green Bay Packers) are two former Tigers who played on NFL championship teams in the pre-Super Bowl era.

Death Valley

The name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on.

McMillian actually played against Clemson for Presbyterian in 1916. He even coached Presbyterian to victory over Clemson in 1925 and 1926, both times at Riggs Field. Presbyterian had a 1-15 record in Death Valley, with the only victory coming in 1943 when the entire Clemson senior and junior classes were drafted into the armed services.

Death Valley is in its 63rd year. Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetery outside the fence on the press box side of the stadium. Although it would make sense, the name was first coined by McMillian.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Memorial Stadium, call (864) 656-2999. The Clemson University police number is (864) 656-2222. For health care at the stadium, first-aid is available at Gates 9, 13, 16, and 20 in the upperdecks.

Esso Club

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings, you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. They do not sell gas there anymore, but Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole.

It is a favorite establishment for Brent Musburger, regardless of the network he represents. He made two visits there in 1997, once during the football season when he broadcast the Clemson-North Carolina football game and once during basketball season when he brought the one and only Dick Vitale with him in conjunction with ABC's coverage of the Clemson-Georgia Tech basketball game.

Expansion

The Atlantic Coast Conference has grown significantly in the last year. On July 1, 2004, Miami (FL) and Virginia Tech were added to the conference landscape. On July 1, 2005, Boston College will be a third former Big East school to join the league, bringing the membership to 12.

For the 2004 season, there will be just one, big 11-team league competing for the football championship; but in 2005, the conference will break into two six-team divisions, and a conference championship game will be held at a site to be determined.

Below is the division alignment for the ACC starting in 2005. Each team will play the other five teams in their division every season, plus the team opposite it in the division chart below. The other two yearly conference opponents will rotate every two years.

Division A

Boston College Virginia Tech
Clemson Georgia Tech
Florida State Miami (FL)
Maryland Virginia
N.C. State North Carolina
Wake Forest Duke

Division B

The strength of the ACC will be enhanced by the addition of Boston College, Miami, and Virginia Tech over the next two years. Only 20 schools have been to a bowl game in each of the last five years, and six of those schools will now be from the new ACC. The list of schools who have been to five straight bowls includes Boston College (the only school in the nation to win a bowl game each of the last four years), Clemson, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Miami (FL), and Virginia Tech.

The other schools with a five-year streak are Arkansas, Colorado State, Florida, Fresno State, Georgia, Louisville, Michigan, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oregon, Purdue, Tennessee, Texas, and Texas Christian.

Family Feud

Bowden Bowl I was one of the most exciting evenings in the history of Death Valley. October 23, 1999 will be an evening everyone remembers for years, as Florida State's Bobby Bowden faced Clemson's Tommy Bowden in the first Father vs. Son coaching matchup in Division I history.

The event received unprecedented national publicity for both schools, and certainly made Clemson, SC the center of the college football universe that weekend. Florida State came away with a 17-14 victory, its closest game in its National Championship season. Clemson held the Seminole offense to 23 points under their average.

The final press attendance number for that game was 755, by far a record for a game in Tigertown. Florida State won each of the first four Bowden Bowls, but Clemson finally won in 2003 when it defeated the #3 Seminoles 26-10. That game was played on Bobby Bowden's birthday (November 8), the only time he has lost a game on that day since he became Florida State's head coach.

Fastest Football Players

Who is the fastest football player in the country? That is hard to say, but one means of evaluation is to look at the 100m track times of college football athletes who are also members of their track team. Based on that theory, Clemson has the two fastest football players in the nation.

During the 2004 track season, wideout Airese Currie ran a 10.22 in the 100m at the Clemson Orange & Purple Track Classic, the fastest time recorded in that event by a track athlete who also plays on his school's football team. Hill ran a 10.27 at the NCAA national meet for the second-fastest time. Hill was the ACC 60m indoor champion and the 100m outdoor champion, the seventh sprinter since 1965 to win both in the same season. One of the other former Tigers to do it is Shawn Crawford, a sprinter on the United States Olympic track team in 2004.

It is interesting to note that four of the top-12 players listed will be on the same field when Clemson plays Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl on November 6, 2004. Below is a list of the fastest college football players for 2004 based on 100m track times recorded in the spring of 2004.

Great Scott!

When Head Coach Tommy Bowden started working on his staff for his first year as Clemson head coach, one of the first candidates he thought of was Brad Scott. One of the top offensive coordinators in the nation in the 1980s and early 1990s at Florida State, Scott had recently completed five years as head coach at South Carolina. He became the first coach in South Carolina history to win a bowl game.

Scott serves as assistant head coach and offensive line coach. In his first year, Clemson tight ends were more prolific than in the last 15 years. The trend continued in 2001, as Ben Hall set a Clemson freshman touchdown record for tight ends. The offense he coordinated in 2003 set a school record for total offense in a season and the 5.7 yards per play figure was second-best in school history.

Scott is one of eight coaches in the last 15 years to coach both at Clemson and South Carolina. Rarely do you see this happen in such an intense rivalry. Here is a list of the coaches who have served at both schools in recent years:

Coach	at Clemson	at South Carolina
Miles Aldridge	1994-95 (LB)	1991-93 (LB)
Rich Bisaccia	1994-98 (RB)	1986-93 (RB)
David Bibee	1997-98 (OLB/DB)	1989-93 (DB)
Woody McCorvey	1983-89 (WR)	1998 (WR)

Brad Scott	1999-present (OL)	1994-98 (HC)
Rick Stockstill	1989-02 (WR)	2004-present (WR)
Tommy West	1994-98 (HC)	1991-92 (DC)

Graveyard

Clemson has garnered 53 wins over AP-ranked teams over the years, but some wins stand out. Winning over a ranked team in Death Valley is one thing, but gaining victory over a ranked team on an opponent's home field is an extraordinary accomplishment. To document these victories, Clemson has constructed a "Graveyard" at the entrance to the Clemson practice fields behind the Jervy Athletic Center. Clemson added to the area in 2001 when it defeated #9 Georgia Tech in Atlanta, 47-44 in overtime.

Hall of Fame, 2004

Clemson will induct seven new members to its athletic Hall of Fame on September 3, 2004. That is the weekend of the first football game against Wake Forest, as the seven will be introduced at halftime of that contest. The list of inductees this year includes two former Tiger football players, the first women's soccer selection in history, the ACC's career strikeout and victories leader, Clemson's first ever All-America golfer, an All-America swimmer, and a two-time All-America women's tennis player.

Inductee	Sport	Years
Brian Barnes	Baseball	1986-89
Sara Burkett	Women's Soccer	1995-98
Coy Cobb	Men's Swimming	1981-85
Stacy Long	Football	1986-90
Clarence Rose	Golf	1978-80
Randy Scott	Football	1975-78
Nicole Stafford	Women's Tennis	1985-88

Hash Marks

The old hashmarks were 53' 4" from each sideline. In 1993, they were moved to an even 60 feet from each sideline, meaning there is 6' 8" more area for the running backs to turn the corner and put that much more pressure on the outside linebackers to cover them than there was prior to 1993.

In 1938, the hash marks were moved from 30 feet away from the sidelines to 45 feet. Then in 1947, they were moved to one-third of the field, or 53' 4". And that was the distance until the 1993 season.

Heisman, John

Yes, the same guy they named the trophy after used to coach at Clemson. You have to go back to the 1900-03 era to find him, but he brought Clemson its first unbeaten season in 1900, a 6-0 ledger. Heisman coached at Clemson for four seasons, making an astronomical $1,800 a year.

In 1904, Georgia Tech offered him $2,250 plus a percentage of the gate, and he was gone to Atlanta. Clemson should have scraped up the extra money to keep him. With John Heisman as head coach, Clemson beat Georgia Tech 73-0 in 1903, but two years later, with Heisman at Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets downed the Tigers, 17-10. Coaching does make a difference.

Heisman Opponents

Clemson has played 19 games against teams that have had an eventual Heisman Trophy winner. That includes former New York Knick point guard Charlie Ward, who won the award in 1993 and defeated the Tigers twice, including 24-20 at Death Valley in 1992. It also includes three games that 2000 Heisman Award winner Chris Weinke played against Clemson.

Clemson has played eight different Heisman Trophy winners for a total of 19 games. Clemson has never beaten a Heisman Trophy winning quarterback (0-9-1), but the Tigers are 5-4 against eventual Heisman Trophy winning running backs. The Tigers were 3-1 against South Carolina when George Rogers was playing for the Gamecocks, and 1-2 against Herschel Walker led Georgia teams. Clemson also defeated Mike Rozier and Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl. Billy Cannon and Louisiana State defeated Clemson 7-0 in the 1959 Sugar Bowl.

It is interesting to note that a Heisman Trophy running back has never scored a touchdown against the Tigers. Cannon, Rogers, Walker, and Rozier had a combined 171 carries against the Tigers in nine games, but never crossed the Clemson goal-line.

Heisman Trophy Candidates

We have not started a campaign yet, but it is interesting to note that most of the 2004 preseason publications and internet sites that rate prospects for the Heisman Trophy include Tiger quarterback Charlie Whitehurst on the list. Clemson has never had a Heisman Trophy winner, as the only Tiger to finish in the top 10 was Steve Fuller, who was tied for sixth in 1978.

Stacy Long (left) and Randy Scott (right) are two of the seven inductees in the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame class of 2004.

NationalChamps.net ranked the top-10 Heisman prospects for 2004 during the summer and listed Whitehurst as #8. Dennis Dodd of CBS.SportsLine.com listed his top-20 candidates for the award in alphabetical order, and Whitehurst was one of the players listed.

NationalChamps.net Heisman Candidates

Rk	Player, Pos.	Team	Rating

Homecoming

Clemson will face Utah State on Homecoming on October 16 this year. The Tigers are 28-3-2 since 1971 on Homecoming with the only losses coming to Georgia Tech in 1989, to Virginia in 1997, and to North Carolina in 2001. The first Homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922, when Centre defeated the Tigers at Riggs Field, 21-0.

Clemson has celebrated Homecoming every year since 1922 with the exception of the 1930 and 1938 seasons. Clemson has a 58-19-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a 74.4 winning percentage, and has outscored the opposition 1,708-1,098 in those previous 80 games. The average margin of victory is 21-14. The Tigers defeated Virginia 30-27 in overtime on Homecoming in 2003.

Hoover, Doc

Fred Hoover concluded his 40-year career as Clemson's Head Athletic Trainer during the 1998 football season. He was as much a part of the Clemson athletic scene as anyone in the ACC era of Clemson athletics. The 1953 Florida State graduate worked 445 consecutive football games on the Clemson sideline. Ironically, his 400th game worked in the streak was against his alma mater. During his final season, he was honored by Clemson University, the ACC, the football officials, and the national trainer's organization at their national meeting in Kansas City, MO.

In his 40 seasons, "Doc" put up some outstanding numbers. He...

- worked with 39 of Clemson's 34 All-Americans.
- worked with 17 of Clemson's 20 first-round NFL Draft selections.
- worked with 17 future All-Pro selections.
- coordinated the training-room needs for 17 of Clemson's Super Bowl Championship players.
- worked with 114 future NFL players.
- worked 16 bowl games and with 11 ACC Championship teams.
- served over 950 football lettermen.
- ran down the Hill 208 times and fell just once.

Hunter, Bill

Dr. Bill Hunter is the man to call if you are doing a story on "Running Down the Hill," the most celebrated entrance in all of sport. Hunter is still a Clemson resident and was a starter on Clemson's 1942 team. He was one of the first Tiger players to run down the Hill. He still follows the Tigers avidly and rarely misses a home sporting event.

Inflation I

A ticket to the Clemson-South Carolina game in 1896 cost 25 cents. Two-thousand people attended the game. This year's ticket for the game in Clemson is $49.

Inflation II

When Clemson first built Memorial Stadium in 1942, the construction cost of the 20,000 seat stadium computed to $7.20 a seat. When Clemson added 15,000 seats with an upper deck over the north stands in 1983, the average cost was $866 a seat.

Inflation III

Coaching salaries for assistants and head coaches have certainly improved over the years. An example can be seen in a letter uncovered from the late Bob Bradley's archives dated February 11, 1931. The letter is written from Jess Neely, then Clemson head football coach, to Frank Howard. Both are now in the College Football Hall of Fame. The letter is Neely's formal offer to Howard to come to Clemson as an assistant coach for the 1931 season. The letter reflects the much simpler times of college athletics, but in many ways, things have changed a bit.

Mr. Frank Howard, University of Alabama

Dear Frank:

"I had a talk with the chairman of the athletic committee this morning and he agreed to let me have $2,200 and board for you. If you would like to come here at that figure, you can rest assured that I will do all in my power to help you get a raise as soon as possible. As I said in my other letter, they are in debt a little at present and have insisted that we cut down on salaries. None of the assistant coaches that have been staying here after school is out in the spring, so you will only be working about nine months."

"Hoping to have you with me and with kindest personal regards, I am..."

Sincerely Yours, Jess Neely

We aren't sure if Coach Howard negotiated a better entry-level salary or not. But, that letter was the beginning of a 43-year career as an assistant coach and athletic director at Clemson. He is the all-time legend of Tiger football.

Kinard, Terry

The 2001-02 academic year was quite a year for former Clemson All-American Terry Kinard. In those 18 months, he was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor, inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, inducted into the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame, and was named one of the top 50 athletes in ACC history. His induction into the College Football Hall of Fame was particularly noteworthy, as he was the first Clemson player chosen since 1959 when Banks McFadden was named.

Legend I

Frank Howard was known as Legend I around Clemson, and he will always be known as the legend. Clemson lost one of the rocks of its tradition when he passed away at the age of 85 on January 28, 1996. Incredibly, he died 13 years to the day after the passing of his former teammate Bear Bryant.

Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame on December 5, 1989. He was a member of nine Halls of Fame, posted 165 wins in his 30 years as Clemson's head coach, and had 96 ACC wins, tied for third-most in ACC history. He captured eight conference titles, and took the Tigers to six bowl games and six top-20 seasons.

Even with these accomplishments, we will remember his wit to his final days and his positive influence on young people, many of whom went on to be successful in fields outside of athletics.

Legend II

Former Clemson Sports Information Director Bob Bradley was known as Legend II. For many years, he and Howard were quite a pair, telling stories and contributing to the tradition and legend of Tiger athletics. Bradley passed away on October 30, 2000 after a long battle with cancer.

He certainly left his mark at Clemson, even in his final days. Ravaged by cancer but still as sharp as a tack mentally, Bradley worked 502 consecutive Clemson football games from 1955 to the October 14, 2000 game against Maryland. The 500th in the streak took place at Duke, and it was quite a celebration. After the game, he was presented the game ball by Tommy Bowden. It is the only time Bowden has given a game ball since he has been at Clemson.

On October 28, 2000, while in the Oconee Memorial Hospital in nearby Seneca, he was presented the Order of the Palmetto by the Governor's office. After his death, he was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame and into the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame.

Bradley was a giant in his profession. He served as President of CoSIDA and was the recipient of the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year. In 1988, the Memorial Stadium press box was named "The Bob Bradley Press Box."

What was his level of respect? When he first became ill and was hospitalized in 1998, he received 550 get-well cards. Over 600 people came to his funeral in Clemson. He is buried on Cemetery Hill just a few 100 yards from the press box that bares his name.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it, go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side, and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

Memorial Stadium

Here are some height measurements in Memorial Stadium that were determined by Mark Kistler in a survey he performed for a class in 1991 (all heights are measured from the middle of the 50-yard line):

Top of the South Upper Deck:	159 feet
Camera Deck on South Side:	92 feet
Top of the Hill:	27 feet
Mounted Rock on the Hill:	26 feet
Top of West End Zone:	47 feet
Top of Upper Deck, North Side:	177 feet

Milestone Victories

Clemson has an all-time record of 594-408-45 in its 108 years. Thus, the 600th win is coming upon us. The Tigers' first victory took place on October 31, 1896 at Greenville, SC against Furman, a 14-6 victory. Win #500 took place in 1990 at Wake Forest. In fact, each of the last three landmark wins (every 50) have taken place on the road.

Win	Date	Site	Opponent	Score
1	10-31-1896	A	Furman	14-6
50	11-5-1909	N1	Georgia	5-0

National Champions

Clemson has had four programs win NCAA championships in its history. The first to capture its sports top prize was the 1981 football team. Danny Ford's squad was a perfect 12-0 that season, the only Division I team to complete the season with a perfect record. That team defeated three top-10 teams (Georgia, Nebraska, North Carolina). Clemson was #1 for the poll entering the bowl games and the final poll, but was never #1 in any other poll during the season.

Clemson has two national championships in men's soccer (1984,87). The 1984 team won its title in the now imploded Kingdome in Seattle, WA by defeating #2 Indiana by a score of 2-1. Dr. I.M. Ibrahim's team defeated five top-15 teams on the way to the title, including top-ranked Alabama A&M. The 1987 team was the #23 seed in a 24-team field, but also upset five top-20 teams to win the title. That was a special championship for Clemson fans, as it was held at Riggs Field, Clemson's home facility.

The most recent national championship for the Clemson program took place in 2003 when Larry Penley's golf team won the title by two shots over host school Oklahoma State. Clemson was ranked #1 in the nation the entire season, and also won the conference and East Regional titles that year. It marked the first time the same school had won its conference, NCAA regional, and national golf championships in the same year.

Nickname

Clemson's nickname derivation goes back to the turn of the century. In those days, many players had long hair due to lack of helmet strength for more head protection. The long manes might have gained Clemson the name "Lions" had it not been for orange and purple-striped jerseys and stockings players wore. The stripes resembled Tigers.

John Heisman's 1900 team was called the Tigers, and Clemson used an insignia of a Tiger's head with bared-fangs with the motto "Eat Em Up Clemson." Another theory on the nickname concerns Clemson's first coach. Walter Riggs came to Clemson to coach the team in 1896. His previous school was Auburn, which is also known as the Tigers.

Orange & White

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its 27th season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. To contact the publisher, Phil Batson, call (864) 260-1230. It is now the official publication of IPTAY and replaced the IPTAY Report, which dated back to 1952.

Overtime

Clemson and Duke played the first conference overtime game in history in 1997. The Tigers won the thriller 29-20, thanks to a David Richardson field goal and a 63-yard, game-ending interception return for a touchdown by Rahim Abdullah. It is one of the few games in the seven-year history of the rule that has been decided by over seven points.

Clemson improved its overtime record to 2-0 in 2001 with a 47-44 victory over #9 Georgia Tech in Atlanta. It was a three-point victory, but the game was not decided on a field goal. Clemson gave up a field goal on the Yellow Jackets' possession, then Woodrow Dantzler won the game with an 11-yard touchdown run, a rare walkoff touchdown.

The Tigers made it a perfect 3-0 in overtime games in 2003 when they defeated a top-25 Virginia team by a score of 30-27. Charlie Whitehurst's four-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Youngblood was the game-winning, walkoff score. Thus, Clemson has won all three of its overtime games with a walkoff touchdown.

Panthers, Carolina

Clemson was the home of the Carolina Panthers in their inaugural season, 1995. The University realized about two-million dollars to be used toward scholarships and other fiscal benefits that will help students for many years to come.

Clemson Memorial Stadium was busy that fall. The field took a beating, as 16 games were played on Frank Howard Field between August 3 and December 17. A total of 975,534 fans attended the 16 games in Death Valley. That breaks down to 427,776 for six Clemson home games, 441,625 for eight Panther regular-season games, and 106,131 for two Panther exhibition games. Clemson averaged 71,296 for its six home games, and Carolina averaged 54,776 for its 10 games in the facility.

PawVision

In 1997, Clemson added PawVision, a one-million dollar instant-replay video board atop the west end-zone scoreboard of Memorial Stadium. The board provides fans with up-to-the-minute game statistics and scores from around the country. The video board uses four cameras located in various spots throughout Memorial Stadium, and has a workforce of 20 university students and staff.

Penn's Thin Natural Leaf

Type of chewing tobacco Frank Howard chewed in the 1940s. When they were pouring the concrete for the stadium in 1942, Howard put a plug in each corner of the stadium, giving it his form of an artistic signature.

Phillips, Jim

Clemson lost a true legend when Jim Phillips passed away on September 9, 2003. The "Voice of the Tigers" provided commentary on Clemson sporting events for 36 years. He died suddenly (he had planned a golf outing with former Tiger football and baseball player Ray Williams just 14 hours prior to his passing) of an aneurysm of the aorta two days after he had provided the play-by-play of the Clemson-Furman game the previous Saturday afternoon. It was an ironic final game for Phillips, who lived in Greenville, the home of the Paladins.

Clemson lost a true legend when Jim Phillips passed away during the 2003 season.

The dean of all broadcasters in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Phillips came to Clemson in 1968 when he was hired by Coach Frank Howard and broadcast his first Tiger football game on September 21, 1968, a 20-20 tie between Clemson and Wake Forest. The Clemson-Georgia game on August 30, 2003 was his 400th Clemson football broadcast.

At 69-years-old, he was the only ACC play-by-play announcer to broadcast his school's football, basketball, baseball, and women's basketball games. Over his career, he broadcast over 2,000 Clemson sporting events.

Phillips broadcast his 1000th Clemson men's basketball game at the 2002 ACC Tournament in Charlotte, and he missed just one broadcast of a Clemson men's basketball game in Littlejohn Coliseum, a time period that dated to November, 1968.

Phillips was one of the most honored broadcasters in his field. He was a five-time recipient of the South Carolina Broadcaster-of-the-Year award. In 1992, he was presented the Master Broadcaster Award by the South Carolina Association of Broadcasters, the highest honor presented by that organization.

The native of Ohio was inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame during the 1992 season. In 1998, he received the Skeeter Francis Award from the ACC Sports Media Association for his contributions to the conference's athletics, the first radio personality to receive the award. Francis, who was one of Phillips' close friends, passed away in July, 2004.

In addition to his duties at Clemson, Phillips was the sports director at WYFF-TV from 1968-80 and the sports director at WFBC Radio in Greenville, SC for 25 years. He was also the "Voice of the Greenville Braves" between 1984-90.

The Clemson-Middle Tennessee game on September 13, 2003 was a testimony to the affection Tiger fans had for Phillips. He was the only voice associated with a Clemson broadcast for an entire generation. The halftime ceremonies included a video tribute to Phillips with some of his greatest calls. Tiger Band concluded its performance by walking off the field in the formation "JIM."

Over his last three years, Phillips had been in collaboration with Ken Tysiac (formerly of The State and now with the Charlotte Observer) on a book of his favorite stories of Clemson athletics. The book will be available sometime in 2005.

Politically Correct

Clemson has some ties to both political parties in this year's United States Presidential race. John Edwards, the runningmate of democratic candidate John Kerry, came to Clemson in the fall of 1971 as a walk-on defensive back. Freshmen were not eligible then; in fact the rule changed the following year. Edwards was listed as a 6'0", 156-pound defensive back from Robbins, NC on the 53-man freshman roster that fall. He wore #24.

After the first semester of that year, Edwards hoped to be granted a scholarship by Head Coach Hootie Ingram. When he was told he would remain a walk-on, Edwards transferred to N.C. State, where he continued his education, but not his football career.

The Bush family also has some ties to Clemson. President George W. Bush made a campaign trip to Clemson in 2000, and had a run with Bob Pollock and the Clemson cross country team. He also worked out in the Clemson strength training room. Former President George H.W. Bush played against Clemson's first NCAA Tournament baseball team in 1947 as Yale's starting first baseman. He was 1-for-3 in a Yale victory that sent the Bulldogs to the College World Series.

Senator John Edwards began his college career at Clemson. President George W. Bush ran with the Tiger cross country team 53 years after his father helped beat Clemson in the NCAA Baseball Tournament as a member of the Yale Bulldogs.

Reagan, President

The nation mourned the loss of former President Ronald Reagan in June. The former actor, who played George Gipp in the movie "Knute Rockne, All-American," held our highest office in 1981, the year Clemson won the national championship in football.

In January, 1982, through the efforts of South Carolina Senator and Clemson graduate Strom Thurmond, some selected players, along with Head Coach Danny Ford, went to the White House to accept Reagan's congratulations. Homer Jordan and Jerry Gaillard represented the team and presented Reagan with a Clemson shirt, autographed football, and other items.

Riggs Field

Currently the home of Clemson's national championship soccer program (1984 and 1987), but it was the home of Clemson football prior to Memorial Stadium. The field is named after Walter Riggs, Clemson's first football coach. He coached Clemson in 1896 and 1899. He had an 8-5 record for those two seasons, but ironically he never coached a game at Clemson. All of his 13 contests as head coach were played on the road.

Clemson returned to Riggs Field for the Spring Game of 2002 and 2003. The games have been a huge success, as a sellout crowd of 8,000 attended. The players and coaches certainly enjoyed the experience and the "turn back the clock" atmosphere.

Ring of Honor

The Ring of Honor is the highest honor accorded a Clemson athlete or coach. Terry Kinard was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 2001, and former track All-American Tina Krebs became the 11th member when she was inducted in 2003. Ironically, Banks McFadden is the last person listed when all 11 are put in order alphabetically. Therefore, there are no members in the Ring of Honor with a last name that starts with a letter in the second half of the alphabet.

The Ring of Honor committee meets every two years to consider candidates. Players' jerseys are retired (not the number), and a replica is placed in the trophy case in the Jervey Athletic Center.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to run down the Hill (see "Running Down the Hill"), the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the Hill above the east endzone and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19), who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The rock was first placed on the pedestal on September 24, 1966, a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 115 players for Homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup, the team retreats to the home dressing room, located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 PM game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field.

After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played, and Clemson charges down the Hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season.

In all, the Tigers have run down the Hill 301 times heading into 2004. How in the world did the tradition of running down the Hill start? There is no long involved explanation. It used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942, the football locker rooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed, they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill." Coach Frank Howard continued the tradition when locker rooms were finally built inside the stadium, because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the Hill. That is when the buses came into use, to shorten the trip from the locker room to the other side of the stadium. Clemson has a record of 216-78-7, a 72.9 winning percentage, when the team runs down the Hill. Clemson is 6-9 (40.0) when it has not used the Hill as its entrance.

Sagarin Ratings

Since Tommy Bowden has been the head coach at Clemson, he has had two teams that have finished the season ranked in the top 25 of the AP and USA Today polls. His 2000 and 2003 teams were ranked in the top 25 at seasons end. But, according to the Sagarin computer ratings published by USA Today, Bowden has had three top-25 teams, including three teams that were ranked in the top 25 according to his schedule rating.

Bowden's 1999 team finished with a 6-6 record, but was among the most underrated teams in the nation because of its strength of schedule. Five of Clemson's six losses that year were to teams ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll, including three top-10 teams. Clemson played all three teams who were undefeated at the conclusion of the regular season that year (Florida State, Marshall, Virginia Tech). Four of the six losses were to teams that finished in the top 12 of the USA Today poll.

Clemson was ranked seventh in schedule strength in 1999, Clemson's highest strength-of-schedule ranking in any poll in history. Clemson's strength of schedule was 13th in 2002 and 24th last season.

Sports Illustrated Covers

Only one athlete has been on the cover of Sports Illustrated while still at Clemson. Perry Tuttle holds that honor, as he was the single Clemson player on the cover of the January 11, 1982 issue after the Tigers defeated Nebraska 22-15 to win the national championship.

Ironically, another receiver with Clemson ties (a former teammate of Tuttle) was on the cover of the world's top sports publication the next week. Dwight Clark, and "The Catch," adorned the cover on January 18, 1982 after the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Dallas Cowboys in the NFL playoffs. So, no one with ties to Clemson was on the cover of Sports Illustrated for the first 27 years of the magazine, then there were people with ties to Clemson on consecutive weeks.

Since those back-to-back covers in 1982, there have been four covers with former Clemson athletes on the magazine cover. Former Clemson All-American Willie Perry was on the cover in 1986 when he was coming off the Super Bowl championship season with the Chicago Bears. Former Tiger basketball player Horace Grant was on the cover during his career with the Chicago Bulls on two occasions in 1992. Former Clemson baseball player Mark Davidson was an unidentified member of the 1987 Minnesota Twins and was on the cover in photo of a post-World Series celebration.

Tie Breaker

Teams that have played 60 minutes without determining a winner will flip a coin after regulation and alternate possessions from the 25-yard-line at the same end of the field. The team that is ahead after an equal number of possessions from 25 yards out wins. If a team does not score in four downs, it can retain possession by getting a first down.

A defensive player can win the game by returning a fumble, interception, or blocked kick the length of the field to the other end zone. But if the player is tackled inside the 25-yard-line, the ball reverts to the 25, where his team's offense starts its possession. Clemson had 45 ties in its history, with the last in 1991, a 20-20 tie with Virginia.

Tiger Mascot

Since the 1954 season, a Clemson student has adorned the mascot suit to entertain the Clemson faithful. Joined in 1993 by the Tiger Cub, these furry creatures can be seen imitating game officials (now against the rules), signing autographs, getting their pictures taken with dignitaries (like Presidents Ronald Reagan and George W. Bush), shooting the cannon, or doing pushups each time Clemson scores.

Twenty-seven

Twenty-seven is a magic number for great Clemson defensive players. It is the number of tackles for loss in one season by William Perry (1984), Rob Bodine (1991), and Leroy Hill (2003). Hill hopes to improve on that number in 2004, but that will be difficult considering he will not sneak up on anyone as a senior.

Heading in to the 2003 season, Hill had never started a game and had recorded 60 tackles over two years, and most of those were on special teams. But in 2003, he started all 13 games and recorded 145 tackles, including those 27 behind the line of scrimmage.

By the way, Perry and Bodine led the nation in tackles for loss during their respective 27s, while Hill was second in the country. The Clemson record for tackles for loss in a season is 35 set by Keith Adams (now with Philadelphia Eagles), who had that number in 1999. Like Hill, Adams wore #43.

Weather I

Every one of our major audiences for this press guide (fans, the media, recruits, coaches, and administrators) has interest in the weather. We get a lot of calls from people making their first trip to Clemson for a football game, and they want to be prepared. Well, if you are playing the percentages, prepare for a sunny day with a temperature around 70 degrees.

Over the last 25 years, the average temperature for a Clemson home game has been 69 degrees. Of the 151 home games played during this time, the weather has been predominantly sunny 105 times. It has rained just 13 of the last 151 games at Death Valley over the last 25 years.

Clemson did play in the snow in 2001 at the Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, ID. It was the first time since 1936 that Clemson played a game in the snow. Furman defeated Clemson in Greenville that day.

The most unusual weather for a Clemson game took place against Georgia during the 1963 season. The temperature dropped 30 degrees during the game. At halftime, a hailstorm sent fans to cover. The second half was delayed 30 minutes to get the ice off the field. The game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden

When Clemson was selected for the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl on November 25, 2003, it meant that the Tigers would be making their fifth-straight bowl appearance - the fifth under Head Coach Tommy Bowden. With that selection, Bowden became the first head coach in Clemson and ACC history to take a team to a bowl game in each of his first five seasons. In fact, no coach had ever done so more than twice to open his career at Clemson. That is also something that prominent predecessors Jess Neely, Frank Howard, Charley Pell, Danny Ford, and Ken Hatfield failed to do. Under Bowden's direction, Clemson has also appeared in the Peach Bowl in 1999, the Gator Bowl in 2000, the 2001 Humanitarian Bowl, and the 2002 Tangerine Bowl prior to its 2004 Peach Bowl invitation.

And in 2003, Bowden was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year, the second time he has been so honored in his five seasons in Tigertown.

Clemson's appearance in the Peach Bowl means that it is the first time since the senior class of 1991 that the Tigers have gone to a bowl game five consecutive years. The red-shirt seniors of 2003 were the first group Bowden recruited to Clemson, so it is an indication of the firm foundation his first group set for the program. In December, 2003, Bowden cemented his place at Clemson by signing a seven-year contract, which will go through the 2010 season.

The 2003 season was a breakthrough year in many ways for the Tigers. Clemson earned its highest-ever win over a ranked team with a 26-10 victory over #3 Florida State. The Tigers also defeated #24 Virginia in a thrilling overtime game. The 39-3 win over a bowl-bound Georgia Tech team was Clemson's largest victory margin in the series since 1900 as well.

The victory over Florida State, Clemson's first in 12 tries since the Seminoles joined the ACC, was the beginning of a four-game winning streak to close the season. In those four games, Clemson outscored its opponents 156-48, an average score of 39-12. Clemson defeated arch-rival South Carolina in Columbia by a score of 63-17. It was the most points ever scored by a team in the 101-game series and the Tigers' largest victory margin in the series since 1900. It was also Bowden's fourth win in five tries against the Gamecocks.

The season concluded with a 27-14 win over #6 Tennessee, the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated in a bowl game since 1981, when the Tigers defeated #4 Nebraska in the Orange Bowl to claim the national championship. As a result, Clemson finished the season with nine wins and a #22 final national ranking.

Over the final four games of the season, Bowden defeated two coaches (Bobby Bowden, Lou Holtz) who had already earned 200 victories to become the first coach in NCAA history to beat a pair of 200-game winners in a month's time. Bowden also registered wins over three coaches (Bowden, Holtz, Phillip Fulmer) who had previously won a national title.

Records continued to fall in 2003 under Bowden. Charlie Whitehurst set the single-season mark for passing yards (3,561), completions (288), and tied the record for touchdown passes (21). Derrick Hamilton's 10 touchdown catches also set a single-season mark at Clemson, while placekicker Aaron Hunt became the school's all-time leading scorer in the game against the Seminoles.

The 2003 team showed improvement both from 2002 and over the course of the 2003 season. The Tigers averaged over 420 yards per game of total offense and ranked in the top 25 in the nation in passing yards per game, a first in school history. The Tiger defense was also outstanding, allowing under 20 points per game and under 330 yards per game, both ranking in the top 30 in the country. Perhaps Clemson's strongest facet of the defense was the secondary. The Tigers were second in the ACC in pass defense, a top-25 mark in the country. Clemson also was second in the nation in kickoff returns, averaging 27.7 yards per return, a school-record figure.

Off the field, Clemson has graduated nearly 80 percent of its scholarship seniors in Bowden's five years. In 2003, Clemson ranked #11 in the nation, including second among public institutions, in the NCAA graduation-rate study for scholarship football signees who entered Clemson in 1996. Clemson was first in the nation in graduation rate among African-Americans (100 percent).

The 2002 season included victories over bowl teams Georgia Tech and Wake Forest, and a third victory in four years over arch-rival South Carolina. Clemson gained 434 yards of total offense in the 27-20 win over the Gamecocks, the most yards against Lou Holtz's defense all season.

The 2002 Tigers featured balance on both offense and defense. Clemson's receiving trio of Hamilton, J.J. McKelvey, and Kevin Youngblood combined for 163 receptions for nearly 2,000 yards and eight scores. Running backs Yusef Kelly and Bernard Rambert collectively gained over 1,000 yards rushing, while quarterbacks Willie Simmons and Whitehurst threw for over 3,100 yards and 16 scores.

The Clemson defense featured two of the top 21 players in the nation in terms of interceptions per game. Justin Miller had eight interceptions, best among all freshmen nationally, and Brian Mance had six in an All-America season. The defense was one of the most improved units in the ACC and ranked in the top 10 in the nation in interceptions (21).

Clemson had another record-setting season in 2001, a season that culminated with a Humanitarian Bowl victory over Louisiana Tech. Clemson set school records for points scored, touchdowns, and total offense in a bowl game in the victory. The Tigers threw five touchdown passes, a record for any Clemson game.

Winningest Active Coaches

Tommy Bowden is ninth among the winningest active Division I head coaches with a 66.7 figure for his seven years, including five at Clemson and two at Tulane. According to NCAA policy, coaches must be a head coach for five years to appear on the list.

Bowden defeated Phillip Fulmer (#3 on the list) in the 2004 Peach Bowl, giving him three wins over the top-12 winningest active coaches over the last four games of the 2003 season. Bowden also defeated his father Bobby of Florida State, who is fourth, and Lou Holtz, the head coach at South Carolina, who is ranked 12th on the list. When Tommy Bowden defeated his father and Holtz in the month of November, he became the first coach in history to beat two coaches with at least 200 victories in the same month.

It was a record-breaking performance for the Tigers in Boise, ID, something that surprised no one who has followed the Tigers in the last five seasons. In that short period of time, Clemson has set over 125 school records on an individual and team basis under Bowden. Four of the top six total-offense seasons in school history have been recorded under Bowden, including the 2001 season when Clemson averaged over 30 points and a school-record 432 yards of total offense per game.

The 2001 season demonstrated Bowden's ability to win in the long run, as he had the second-youngest "two-deep" in the ACC. Thirty-four of his top 44 players were underclassmen. Only Duke had a younger group of top 44 players. Fourteen different freshmen saw action in 2001, including 10 who played in at least 10 games.

Bowden has a record of 38-24 (.613) as Clemson's head coach and is 56-28 (.667) overall. He ranks ninth among active Division I coaches on a winning-percentage basis. He has recorded that ledger against a difficult schedule. His first year, Clemson's schedule was ranked in the top 10 in the nation. In 2001, his team defeated five teams that finished the season with a winning record, tied for the third-highest single-season figure in school history. One of the victories was a 47-44 overtime triumph at #9 Georgia Tech. It was the highest-ranked road win in 20 years for the Clemson program. In 2003, Clemson's schedule strength once again ranked in the top 25 by the Sagarin rating.

When Bowden came to Clemson in 1998, he inherited a team with a 3-8 record. By late October of 2000, just 14 months after his first game, Clemson was ranked third in the nation in the USA Today poll after an 8-0 start. That ranking was the highest for the program in 16 years. The final #14 ranking in that same poll was the highest final listing for the program since the 1990 season.

Making a swift improvement is nothing new for Bowden. In 1997, he took over a 4-7 Tulane program and brought the Green Wave to a 7-4 mark in his first year. In 1998, the improvement continued with an 11-0 regular season and #7 national ranking. In 1999, Bowden elevated the Tigers from 3-8 to a bowl game and a 6-6 final record. The 2000 Tigers concluded the season with a 9-3 record, its highest win total since 1993.

As one can see, considerable improvement is a common phrase for Bowden-coached teams. In each of his first four years he coached at the Division I level, his team showed at least a three-win improvement over the previous year, believed to be a first in Division I college football history. Bowden is just the third coach in Clemson history to bring the Tigers to a three-win improvement in consecutive years and was one of just two Division I coaches (John Robinson of UNLV) to do it over the 1999 and 2000 seasons.

In 2000 and 2001, his dynamic offense produced a Heisman Trophy contender in quarterback Woodrow Dantzler, who placed his name next to 52 school records as the Tigers' signal-caller. The hefty total included eight single-game marks, 23 season records, and 22 career records. He is the school's career leader in total offense, passing yards, and touchdown responsibility, records that could soon be eclipsed by current quarterback Charlie Whitehurst. In 2001, Dantzler became the first quarterback in Division I history to accumulate 2,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in a single season. Dantzler was named a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award in 2000 and 2001.

Center Kyle Young was a finalist for the Rimington Award in 2000 and 2001, and won the ACC's Jim Tatum Award, presented to the league's top student-athlete. He was one of eight players nationally to receive a National Football Foundation

Bowden is the ninth-winningest active Division I coach. He defeated three current top-12 members of the list in 2003.

Scholarship and became just the second offensive lineman in college football history to become a three-time first-team Academic All-American. Linebacker Chad Carson also performed well in the classroom and on the gridiron. He and Young were first-team Academic All-American selections in 2000 and 2001.

Bowden's second Clemson team was one of the most decorated in history. Six different Clemson players were finalists or semifinalist for national position awards, including linebacker Keith Adams, who was one of the final three finalists for the Butkus Award.

Young and Carson were both named first-team Academic All-Americans, making Clemson the only Division I-A school in the nation to have a pair of first-team selections. For the second straight year, the football team had its highest team GPA on record in 2001 and a record number of ACC Academic honor-roll recipients. Nineteen of the 22 seniors on the 2001 team earned their degrees. The top-five semester GPAs on record have taken place under his 10-semester watch. Carson brought pride to the entire University in 2002 when he reached the final stage of the Rhodes Scholarship selection process, the only Division I college football player to hold that distinction.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden

When Bowden came to Clemson, he had one simple goal - improvement. Bowden warned Clemson supporters that the Tigers were unlikely to be bowl participants in 1999, but his main focus was to improve. Bowden's goal of improvement was reached and he was happy to be wrong about his preseason prediction, as the Tigers were invited to the 1999 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

In 1999, Bowden accomplished a personal milestone that no Clemson coach had attained since 1981, the year the Tigers won the National Championship. He became the first Clemson coach since Danny Ford to be named ACC Coach-of-the-Year.

Bowden led the Tigers to a 6-6 record and 5-3 mark in the ACC against the nation's seventh-toughest schedule according to the Sagarin rating. The Tigers finished tied for second with Georgia Tech and Virginia in the final conference standings, a six-place improvement over the previous season, the greatest one-season jump in ACC history in league play.

The Tigers also made a four-game ACC-win improvement in 1999. It was just the fifth time in ACC history that a team made that big of a league victory jump. Bowden had taken over a team with a losing record and brought it to a bowl game in his first season, just the sixth coach in ACC history to accomplish that feat.

The Clemson program set or tied 41 school records in Bowden's first year, including 26 on offense. Ironically, Bowden's first Tulane team set or tied 26 offensive school records.

The improvements in the ACC standings were thanks in large part to an innovative offensive attack. The Clemson offense ended the season averaging 402.6 yards per game, nearly a 100-yard per game improvement over 1998. The Tigers scored 26.8 points per game in 1999 compared to 19.8 in 1998. Clemson's 42 touchdowns in 1999 ranked fifth best in school history.

Under Bowden, Clemson continued its strong defensive tradition. With 47 sacks, Clemson was first in the ACC in that category for the second-straight season, and the final total established a school record. Three players (Adams - 15.5, Carson - 12.0, Robert Carswell - 10.8) all had nearly 11 tackles per game in 1999 to rank among the top-four tacklers in the league.

Adams, a sophomore that season, finished with 186 tackles, highest in the nation, and broke the Clemson single-season tackle record held by Anthony Simmons. They all contributed to the 17th-best pass efficiency defense in the nation, a unit that had 19 interceptions, ninth highest in the country.

Thanks to the wide-open offensive attack, several Clemson players made their presence felt in the national rankings and the Clemson record book. Junior wide receiver Rod Gardner became the school's first 1,000-yard receiver. Gardner had 80 receptions for 1,084 yards, Tiger single-season records in both areas. He was 17th in the nation in receptions per game, with a 6.6 mark. He had another 1,000-yard season in 2000 when he was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins.

Hamilton also made a name for himself in the Tiger recordbook. In just three seasons, he set the all-purpose yardage, kickoff return yardage, and total receptions record for a career.

For the first time in Clemson history, two Tiger quarterbacks threw for more than 1,000 yards in a season. Dantzler passed for 1,506 yards, while Brandon Streeter passed for 1,466 yards during the season. The two diametrically opposite quarterbacks had total-offense games more than 350 yards, a testimony to Bowden's offensive system.

Four of Clemson's losses in 1999 came against teams ranked in the top 15 of the final AP poll. Bowden Bowl I, the first ever meeting between father and son head coaches in college football history, took place on October 23, 1999. Bowden faced his father Bobby's top-ranked Florida State team in Death Valley in front of a national television audience. The Tigers lost a tough battle to the eventual National Champions, 17-14, the closest margin of victory for the Seminoles and the fewest points they recorded all season by two touchdowns.

Making strong improvement in his first year with a program was nothing new for Bowden. In the two seasons he was the head coach at Tulane, Bowden took a team that had been 4-18 in the two years previous to his arrival, and emotionally and numerically reversed the team's fortunes with an 18-4 record, posted an 11-1 conference mark, and finished the 1998 season ranked seventh in the nation by both polls. Tulane and Tennessee were the only undefeated teams in college football in 1998.

His Tulane team had a 22-game average of 39.7 points, 5.1 touchdowns, 463 yards of total offense, 270.5 yards passing, and 192.6 yards rushing. The Green Wave averaged 6.34 yards per play, and converted on third down 47 percent of the time. Some say the most telling statistic in terms of wins and losses, and the most telling statistic when it comes to coaching ability is turnover margin. The Green Wave ranked fifth in the nation in turnover margin each of his seasons at Tulane.

It did not take Bowden long to put Tulane back on the college football landscape. In his first year, Tulane was picked last in the preseason polls of Conference USA. But he led the New Orleans-based school to a 7-4 record, a second-place conference standing with just one league loss, and set 33 school records in the process, including 26 on offense.

Tulane's accomplishments on offense were noteworthy in 1997, but its offensive charts reached uncharted areas in 1998. Tulane stood as the only school in the nation that averaged over 300 yards per game passing and 200 yards per game rushing. The team ranked fourth in the nation in total offense (507.1 per game) and second in scoring (45.4 points per game).

The Green Wave scored 40 or more points in eight contests in 1998, including each of the last seven games. In one game, the Green Wave scored 72 points and rolled up 704 yards of total offense. They converted 52 percent of their third-down opportunities for the season and had just 11 turnovers in over 800 plays. The 1998 season saw the program post a perfect 11-0 regular season under Bowden, its first perfect regular season since 1931. The Green Wave won Conference USA, its first league title since Tulane won the SEC in 1949. Bowden was named Conference USA Coach-of-the-Year.

Bowden's team ranked seventh in the final AP poll and was a mainstay in the polls from the third week of the season on. Tulane had not been ranked at any time since 1979, and had not been ranked in a final poll since 1973. After Bowden accepted the job at Clemson, Tulane defeated Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl, 41-27.

A look to the list of coaches who had undefeated seasons in the 1990s shows two other men named Bowden. His father, Florida State Head Coach Bobby Bowden, had a perfect regular season in 1996 and 1999, while his brother, Terry, posted a perfect regular season in 1993. Obviously, the Bowdens are the first family of college coaching and this "Wonder Years" environment had a lot to do with Tommy Bowden's decision to enter coaching.

The fatherly influence of a college coach who reached 300 career wins against his son in 1999, also had an influence on other members of the family. Bobby Bowden is the winningest coach in Division I history. Terry has been a head coach at Samford and Auburn, posting a 47-17-1 record at the latter. Terry serves as an in-studio commentator for ABC's college football package. Jeff Bowden is in his ninth year as wide receivers coach at Florida State, his third as offensive coordinator.

Tommy Bowden began his college football experience as a walk-on wide receiver at West Virginia. He played for his father between 1973-75 and then for Frank Signetti during the 1976 season.

As a junior, he caught 15 passes for 189 yards and one score. Bowden remained at West Virginia for the 1977 season and began his coaching career, serving as a graduate assistant on Signetti's staff. His interest in coaching only became more intense after that first year as a graduate assistant. His father then hired him as a secondary coach at Florida State for the 1978 season.

That experience confirmed to Bowden that he was in a profession that would be his life's work. The Seminoles posted a 19-4 mark in his two seasons at Florida State.

In 1980, Bowden joined the staff at East Carolina, where he coached for the spring-practice session of 1980. That spring, he moved to Auburn and served as the Tigers running backs coach for the 1980 season. Among the players he coached was James Brooks, who went on to a 13-year NFL career and is still second in Auburn history in rushing.

In 1981, Bowden returned to Tallahassee as the tight ends coach. In two more years at Florida State, the Seminoles posted a 15-8 mark. The 1982 team ranked #13 in the final poll, claimed a 9-3 record, and won a Gator Bowl championship.

From 1983-86, Bowden served under Steve Sloan at Duke as the Blue Devils' quarterbacks coach. He was named coordinator in 1985. It was as a Duke assistant that Bowden made his first trip to Death Valley as a coach. Among the players Bowden tutored was Anthony Dilweg, who went on to the NFL.

After four years at Duke, Bowden became the wide receivers coach at Alabama under Bill Curry. It was there that Bowden refined his offensive coaching prowess under noted offensive mind Homer Smith, then the Tide offensive coordinator.

In 1990, Bowden returned to a coordinator role, serving Kentucky as its offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. That season, he helped the Wildcats to their first upper division SEC finish since 1984.

In 1991, Bowden joined Pat Dye at Auburn. He would remain with Auburn for six seasons, his longest stint as a college assistant coach. During his tenure, Auburn had a combined record of 46-20-2, including a perfect 11-0 season in 1993. Auburn had four Associated Press top-25 seasons, including a #4 final ranking in 1993 and a #9 final ranking in 1994. The SEC Tigers were 20-1-1 in 1993-94 combined. Bowden worked under his brother, Terry, for his last four years at Auburn and the Tigers had a 36-9-1 record with both Bowdens on the coaching staff.

Born on July 10, 1954 in Birmingham, AL, Bowden is married to the former Linda Joan White, who he first met when the two were in school together at Morgantown (WV) High. The couple has two children, Ryan (22), a 2004 Clemson graduate, and Lauren (19), a sophomore at Clemson.

* - now known as Samford; ^ - served as assistant coach

Tommy handed Bobby his first ever loss on his birthday (November 8) as a head coach last year when the Tigers upset the #3 Seminoles 26-10 in Death Valley.

Like Father, Like Son

- Florida State's record the two years prior to Bobby Bowden's arrival was 4-18. Tulane's record the two years prior to Tommy Bowden's arrival was 4-18.
- Bobby Bowden had Florida State in a bowl game, accumulated a double digit victory total, and a top-15 national ranking in his second year with the Seminoles. Tommy Bowden had Tulane in a bowl game, accumulated a double-digit victory total and a top-10 national ranking by his second season with the program.
- Father and son both had perfect regular-season records in the 1990s. Bobby Bowden's Florida State Seminoles were 11-0 in the 1996 regular season and in the 1999 regular season, while Tommy Bowden's Tulane team was 11-0 in 1998. Brother Terry Bowden was 11-0 as head coach at Auburn in 1993.
- Both coaches won at least two-thirds of their games after their first two years as a Division I Head Coach. Bobby Bowden was 15-7 after two years at West Virginia, and Tommy Bowden was 18-4 after two years as a Division I head coach.

- Both Bowdens experienced just one conference loss in 1997 and 1998 combined.
- Tommy Bowden received his start in coaching under his father at Florida State in 1978. Bowden also played for his father at West Virginia between 1973-75.
- In recording an 11-win regular season in 1998, Bobby Bowden's Florida State team outscored the opposition by 20.6 points per game. In recording an 11-win regular season in 1998, Tommy Bowden's Tulane team outscored the opposition by 21.0 points per game.
- When father and son met at Clemson on October 23, 1999, Florida State was victorious 17-14. It was the closest margin of victory and the fewest points scored by the National Champion Seminoles in 1999.
- Bobby Bowden has lost a game on his birthday as a head coach just once; in 2003 to Tommy and Clemson.

Assistant Head Coach Brad Scott

- Offensive Line
- 6th Season at Clemson
- South Florida '79

Brad Scott is in his sixth season with the Tiger program after serving at the helm at South Carolina from 1994-98.

The 50-year old (on September 30) holds the title of assistant head coach and offensive line coach.

Scott served as offensive coordinator from 2000-03 and Clemson produced three of the top six seasons in school history in terms of total offense. The 2003 team gained 5,467 yards, most in school history. Records were also established for passing yards, completions, and touchdown passes. His offense was a big reason Clemson won its final four games of 2003 by 27 points per game. That included a 63-17 win at South Carolina, the most points Clemson has ever scored against the Gamecocks.

Scott is Clemson's offensive line coach in 2004 after serving his first five years coaching the tight ends. It will be the first time he has coached the offensive line since 1993, when he served in that capacity on Bobby Bowden's national championship staff at Florida State.

Scott has been a part of an offensive renaissance at Clemson. In his five years on the offensive staff, Clemson has established over 125 school game, season and career team and individual records on his side of the football.

Scott's 2001 offense gained more than 5,000 yards for only the third time in school history. The 5,184 yards rank as the third-highest total in Tiger history.

Scott's kickoff-return team led the ACC in 2001 and 2003, and has finished in the top 10 in the nation each of the last three years. Derrick Hamilton and Justin Miller have both averaged over 30 yards a return over the last two seasons, and rank one-two in Clemson history in terms of yards per return.

Scott has been especially helpful on the recruiting front. Many of Clemson's top ranked recruits in a national top-10 class in February 2001 were players he recruited.

Scott's triumphs in recruiting, especially in the state of South Carolina, date to his days as an assistant coach at Florida State and the head coach at South Carolina. South Carolina had a record five players drafted in 2002, players recruited under Scott's tenure in Columbia.

In his first season at South Carolina in 1994, he led the Gamecocks to their first postseason bowl win in school history with a 24-21 win over West Virginia at the Carquest Bowl. The win climaxed a 7-5 year for the Gamecocks. The win that clinched the bowl bid was ironically a victory at Clemson.

Scott posted a 2-1 record against the Tigers in Death Valley and is one of just seven opposing coaches in history with a winning record in Death Valley (minimum of three games).

Before coming to South Carolina, Scott was a member of Bobby Bowden's staff at Florida State for 11 years. While there, the Seminoles went 10-0-1 in bowls. Scott is 13-3-1 in his career in bowls as an assistant or head coach.

He joined the Seminole staff in 1983, and spent his last four years there as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Those four years included Florida State's 1993 national championship season.

Florida State posted a 44-6 (.880) record with Scott as offensive coordinator, which ranked as the most wins by a Division 1-A program during those four years. The Seminoles won four consecutive bowl games and finished ranked no lower than fourth in the nation during that span.

Scott served as the Seminole recruiting coordinator for five years (1985-90), where he built a reputation as a top-notch recruiter. Two of his classes (1985,89) were ranked #1 in the nation, and he was responsible for building the core of the 1993 national champions.

Prior to joining the Seminole program, he was the head football coach and athletic director at DeSoto County High School in Arcadia, FL (1982-83). He was tabbed the conference coach-of-the-year in 1982. It marked the second time he was a part of the DeSoto program, as he began his coaching career there in 1979 as an assistant coach.

Scott spent the 1981-82 years as a graduate assistant on Art Baker's staff at The Citadel. Before arriving there, he was an assistant at Hardee County High in Wauchula, FL for two years (1980,81).

The players he has recruited and coached read like a "Who's Who" of NFL mainstays. While at Florida State, Scott recruited Deion Sanders, Edgar Bennett, LeRoy Butler, Dexter Carter, Carl Simpson, Clay Shiver, and Chris Weinke, who in 1997 passed up on a pro baseball career to play college football and won the Heisman Trophy in 2000.

He is a 1979 graduate of South Florida, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in science education. He received a master of science degree in athletic administration from Florida State in 1984.

Scott and his wife, Daryle, have two sons, Jeff (23) and John (20). Jeff graduated from Clemson in 2003, and is a football and baseball coach at Ridgeview High School. He was a Tiger letterman and played in three bowl games (2000-02). Jeff married his wife, the former Sara McDaniel, shortly after his graduation from Clemson. John is a junior at Harvard, where he is a member of the football team.

- Defensive Coordinator
- Defensive Backs
- 3rd Season at Clemson
- C.W. Post '73

John Lovett is in his third year as the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach with the Tiger program.

He came to Clemson after serving as defensive coordinator with the Auburn program for three seasons (1999-01).

Lovett has been an assistant coach at the college level for 25 years, including 15 seasons as a defensive coordinator. He has experience working with all levels of the defense, but has spent most of his seasons in the game coaching the secondary and outside linebacker position.

In 2003, his defense was a major reason Clemson finished the year with nine wins and a top-25 ranking. The defense allowed just 19.2 points per game, one of the top-25 figures in the nation. The pass defense ranked second in the ACC, while the rush defense allowed just 78 yards per game over the last four games of the season, all Tiger victories. Top-six ranked teams Florida State and Tennessee gained just 49 combined rushing yards against Clemson in Tiger wins.

Lovett accomplished those figures with an all underclass secondary. All four return in 2004, and it is a reason the unit is ranked among the best in the nation entering this season.

In his first year at Clemson, the program made a strong improvement in terms of pass defense. The Tigers picked off 21 passes overall, the 15th-best total in the nation. Two of Lovett's players, Justin Miller (5th) and Brian Mance (15th), ranked in the top 15 in the nation and held the top-two spots in the ACC in interceptions.

Mance was named an All-American by The Sporting News, while Miller was a consensus freshman All-American. Clemson's defense showed improvement of over 40 yards per game in total defense and forced 66.7 percent more turnovers than the previous season.

Lovett helped Auburn to bowl games each of his last two years. His 2000 defense ranked 14th in the nation in total defense and 15th in rushing defense, helping the Tigers to a 9-4 record and a berth in the Citrus Bowl against Michigan. Auburn won the Western Division of the Southeastern Conference that season.

In 2001, his defense had a lot to do with Auburn's berth in the Peach Bowl. One of Auburn's victories was a 23-20 triumph over then #1 ranked Florida. Lovett's defense held the Gators to 20 points, -36 yards rushing, and 328 yards of total offense, season lows in all three categories for Steve Spurrier's team that finished the season ranked third in the nation. The Tigers also forced five turnovers in the game, including four interceptions of passes thrown by Heisman Trophy finalist Rex Grossman. Lovett's defense also held Georgia's high-powered attack to but 17 points in a 24-17 Auburn triumph. His unit held Georgia to 203 yards in 2002, the fewest yards gained by the Bulldogs that season.

The 53-year-old coach, who was born in Nyack, NY, worked under Tommy Tuberville for seven years, four at Mississippi (1995-98) and three at Auburn (1999-01). He coached the secondary all four years he was at Mississippi, including the 1997 season when the Rebels had an 8-4 overall record, including a victory in the Ford Motor City Bowl.

Prior to coming to Mississippi in 1995, Lovett worked as defensive coordinator at the University of Maine for two stints. He first went to Orono in 1985 and served as defensive coordinator and secondary coach from 1985-88. He also served as defensive Lovett began his career in coaching at Saint Joseph's Regional High School in Montvale, NJ in 1976. He worked at that school for two years, also serving as a track coach. He started his college career in 1978 at Union College in New York. He served as a part-time coach from 1978-80, then was elevated to full-time status in 1980. He worked with the inside linebackers in the 1980 and 1981 seasons, then was elevated to defensive coordinator status in 1982.

Lovett spent the 1983 season in the Ivy League at Brown, then moved back to New York to work under Joe Walton as the New York Jets' defensive quality control coach in 1984. The 1985 season brought him to Maine as defensive coordinator. In 1989, he joined Head Coach Tim Murphy in his move to the University of Cincinnati. He remained at Cincinnati with Murphy, now the head coach at Harvard, through the 1992 season. In 1993, he coached at Nevada-Las Vegas as the secondary coach.

Lovett graduated from C.W. Post College in December of 1973. He came to the school as a walk-on, but quickly earned a scholarship and served as the team's co-captain as a senior in 1973. He played for Dom Anile, who is now the Director of Football Operations for the Indianapolis Colts. At the completion of his career, he enrolled in graduate school at the University of Denver and he earned his Master's Degree in 1975. The next year he entered the coaching profession.

Lovett is married to the former Carol O'Connor.

Assistant Coach Mike O'Cain

- Offensive Coordinator
- Quarterbacks
- 4th Season at Clemson
- Clemson '77

Mike O'Cain is entering his fourth year as a full-time Clemson football coach. He has already been a part of three bowl teams, including the 2003 squad that finished with a 9-4 record and a top-25 final ranking. A 1977 Clemson graduate (one of two Clemson alumni on Tommy Bowden's staff), he has a number of family and personal ties to the area that date back many years. He brings 26 years of coaching experience to the Clemson offense in general and the quarterback position in particular.

In 2004, he will serve as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. In 2003, he was a big reason Charlie Whitehurst established 33 school records, including the passing yardage and completion records for a season. Whitehurst is just the second quarterback in ACC history to surpass 5,000 yards passing by the end of his sophomore year.

As a team, Clemson had more passing yards (3,687), completions (300), and 300-yard passing games (6) than any other in school history in 2003.

O'Cain's tenure as the quarterbacks coach got off to an impressive start, as he coached quarterback Woodrow Dantzler into the Clemson, ACC, and NCAA record books. In 2001, Dantzler became the first player in NCAA history to gain at least 2,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in the same year. He set school records for touchdown passes, passing yardage, total offense, and pass efficiency.

O'Cain hails from Orangeburg, South Carolina, where he attended Orangeburg-Wilkinson High, the same school that produced Dantzler. O'Cain quarterbacked Orangeburg-Wilkinson to a 13-0 record, a state 4A title, and a #12-national ranking his senior season. His high school coach was Dick Sheridan, who was inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2004.

Upon graduation from high school, O'Cain decided to further his academic and athletic career at Clemson. A four-year letterwinner, he was the most valuable player of Clemson's 1976 team, working as both the punter and quarterback. He completed 91-182 passes for 1,291 yards and six touchdowns during his career. He still ranks 16th in Clemson history in passing efficiency. Also a gifted runner, he held the single-game quarterback rushing record until 1994 with 140 yards against N.C. State in 1976.

He received his bachelor's degree in recreation parks administration in 1977 from Clemson. Three years later, he married his high-school sweetheart (Nancy Farnum).

O'Cain began his coaching career at Clemson in 1977 as a graduate assistant. He was on the practice field and on the sidelines learning the game from some veteran coaches at the time and realized the thrill of victory, as the Tigers had an 8-3-1 season that culminated with a trip to the Gator Bowl, Clemson's first bowl appearance in 18 years.

O'Cain then coached the offensive backfield at The Citadel for the 1978-80 seasons. In 1981, he moved to Murray State, where he was an assistant under current Virginia Tech head coach Frank Beamer. He remained at Murray State through the 1984 season. After one year as the assistant head coach at East Carolina, he joined Sheridan as quarterbacks coach at N.C. State. O'Cain served as a top assistant under Sheridan from 1986-92 and was a part of a staff that coached the Wolfpack in six bowl games.

In 1993, Sheridan decided to retire just five weeks prior to the start of August practice and O'Cain was promoted to head coach. This short period of time for preparation did not inhibit O'Cain and the Wolfpack. He took N.C. State to a 7-4 regular-season record and an invitation to the Hall of Fame Bowl. He was the only rookie coach in the nation that year to lead a team to a bowl game.

The next year, O'Cain guided the Wolfpack to a second-place ACC finish with an 8-3 record. One of the victories was over Clemson in Death Valley, as O'Cain became the first Clemson graduate to gain victory against his alma mater in Death Valley. Overall, he had a 2-2 record in Death Valley. He completed his season with a victory over Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl. O'Cain became the second coach in N.C. State history to take a team to a bowl in his first two seasons with the program.

In 1998, he opened the season with a win at Texas, then won over #1 Florida State. It was one of just two losses in ACC play for the Seminoles in the team's first nine years in the ACC. He coached the Wolfpack to their third bowl trip in his tenure, against Miami (FL) in the Micron PC bowl. One of the stars on that team was Tory Holt, a first-round draft pick who has gone on to fame with the Rams.

After the 1999 season, O'Cain joined the North Carolina football staff as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He helped the Tar Heels to a winning season in 2000, then moved to Clemson in December to replace Rich Rodriguez as quarterbacks coach. He served in an advisory capacity for the Gator Bowl, then took over the quarterback coaching reins in the spring.

O'Cain and his wife, Nancy, have two daughters, Jenny (19) and Lizzi (17). O'Cain is an active member of the Tiger Brotherhood Organization, FCA, and the Clemson Community.

Assistant Coach David Blackwell

- Recruiting Coordinator
- Linebackers
- 2nd Season at Clemson
- East Carolina '97

David Blackwell is in his second season as an assistant coach with the Clemson football program.

Blackwell serves as recruiting coordinator and coaches the inside linebackers.

Blackwell's linebackers were a big reason Clemson finished with a top-25 final ranking and nine wins in 2003. Clemson ranked in the top 25 in the nation in scoring defense in his first year in Tigertown. Leroy Hill had a lot to do with that, as the junior had 145 tackles, including 27 behind the line of scrimmage (second-most in the nation). His runningmate at the insider linebacker position, John Leake, added 131 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss. They were the leaders of a defensive unit that allowed #3 Florida State and #6 Tennessee just 49 combined rushing yards in Clemson victories at the end of the 2003 season.

Blackwell has significant experience at the Division I level as both a defensive coach and as a recruiter. He was the linebackers coach at Pittsburgh from 2000-02. He was a big reason the Panthers went to three straight bowl games during that period.

The Panthers finished with a 9-4 record and #18 ranking in ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll at the conclusion of the 2002 season. Their season included a 38-13 win over Oregon State in the Insight.com Bowl. Thus, Blackwell has been an assistant on top-25 teams each of the last two years.

In 2002, the Panthers' point prevention unit ranked 14th in the nation in scoring defense, 12th in total defense, 15th in pass efficiency defense, and 24th in rushing defense. Pittsburgh was one of the few programs in the nation to rank in the top 25 in all four major categories.

Blackwell's linebacker corps at Pittsburgh was led by Gerald Hayes, an All-American and three-time all-conference selection, who had at least 100 tackles in each of his last three seasons. Hayes was just one of many standouts coached by Blackwell, as seven of his former players have signed NFL contracts.

Prior to his stop at Pittsburgh, Blackwell was an assistant at Illinois State from 1996-99. He had a big part in one of the top turnarounds in NCAA I-AA football during that time period. In 1999, Illinois State compiled a school-best 11-3 record and advanced to the semifinals of the I-AA playoffs before losing to eventual national champion Georgia Southern.

Blackwell joined the Redbirds' staff as a defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator. He served as recruiting coordinator for four seasons. One of his primary recruiting areas was the state of Florida.

In his first season, Blackwell's defensive line accounted for 38 of the team's 47 quarterback sacks, the second-highest total in school history. He coached three All-Americans and 11 all-conference performers at Illinois State. In 1999, All-American Galen Scott, one of Blackwell's linebackers, had 173 tackles, including 27 in one game, both school records.

Blackwell began his coaching career at his alma mater, East Carolina, as rush linebackers coach between 1993-95. The Pirates earned trips to the Liberty Bowl in two of those seasons.

On the gridiron, Blackwell went to East Carolina in 1990 as a freshman offensive lineman. His top game came against national power Florida State when he graded out at 85 percent. In 1991, a year in which East Carolina posted an 11-1 record and a #9 ranking in the final Associated Press poll, Blackwell's playing ca-

David Blackwell coached linebacker Leroy Hill in his first season with the Tiger program in 2003. Under Blackwell's tutelage, Hill was second in the nation in tackles for loss (27).

Assistant Coach Burton Burns

- Running Backs
- 6th Season at Clemson
- Nebraska '76

Burton Burns joined the Tiger coaching staff prior to the 1999 season, and now is in his sixth year as the Tigers running backs coach. He came to Tigertown after four seasons with Tulane, including two under Head Coach Tommy Bowden.

Clemson's ground game has prospered since Burns came to Clemson before the 1999 season. The Tigers ranked 10th in the country and first in the ACC in rushing in 2000 thanks in large part to the 1,027-yard season turned in by Travis Zachery. Zachery earned All-ACC accolades in the 2000 season and finished his career ranked fifth in Clemson history in rushing.

Clemson has established nearly 125 records on offense since Burns came to Clemson, including Travis Zachery's career touchdown mark. His total of 50 touchdowns is second in ACC history.

Burns has shown an ability to teach his running backs all phases of the game. In his first five years, Clemson running backs have made over 150 receptions, more than any five-year period in Tiger history. Travis Zachery owns the Clemson season and career marks for receptions by a running back.

In 2003, Duane Coleman joined Zachery as the only running backs in school history with over 600 yards rushing and 300 yards receiving in the same year. He also helped the Tigers establish school records for total offense, passing yards, and first downs in a single season. The 5.7 yards per play average was the second-best figure in school history.

Ball protection is an important area Burns stresses daily in practice. That practice was the reason Clemson running backs did not lose a fumble the entire 2003 season. In fact, a Tiger running back has not lost a fumble since 2002, an active streak of 16 consecutive games.

The play of the Clemson running backs was a major reason Clemson made a six-place jump in the ACC standings in 1999, the best improvement in ACC history. Clemson made a four-win improvement in the Division-I win total and played Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl.

Burns has been a common denominator on the five bowl staffs the Tiger program has had under Head Coach Tommy Bowden. He is one reason Bowden is the first coach in Clemson history and just the third in ACC history to take the Tigers to a bowl game in each of his first five seasons as head coach.

Players he has coached have made significant improvement over their careers. Chad Jasmin, a graduate student in 2003, was an example. The running back finished his career with a four-touchdown game at South Carolina and a 130-yard rushing performance in the Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee, where he earned offensive MVP honors.

Burns spent the 1997 and 1998 seasons directing a much improved Green Wave running attack. In 1997, Tulane averaged 182.9 yards per game rushing. During the 1998 regular season, the Green Wave's ground attack improved to 202.4 rushing yards per game, which ranked 23rd in the country.

Burns was one of the coaches responsible for Tulane's incredible turnaround during the 1997 and 1998 seasons. The Green Wave was 19-4 in those two seasons, including a perfect 12-0 record and a #7 final ranking in the 1998 season. The balanced offense and rushing game had a lot to do with the Green Waves' scoring average of over 45 points per game, second-best in the nation. Three of Burns' backs gained over 500

Burns joined the Tulane staff on December 9, 1994 after nine seasons as assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at Saint Augustine High School in New Orleans, LA. He helped his high school alma mater to district titles in 1987, 1992, and 1993. Burns also coached at the school from 1977-79, and during that time the Purple Knights won three district titles and back-to-back Class AAAA state championships in 1978 and 1979 under head coach Otis Washington.

In 1980, Burns was an assistant coach on a district championship team at Booker T. Washington High School. Following that year, he would again work under Otis Washington at Southern University. During his five-year stint at Southern, the Jaguars finished in the top two of the Southwestern Athletic Conference on three occasions.

Burns played fullback for four seasons at Nebraska and graduated from the university with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1976. He was a member of three Cornhusker teams that won at least nine games each season. Burns was also a member of the Nebraska teams that participated in the Orange Bowl, Cotton Bowl, and Sugar Bowl, all under legendary Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne.

At Tulane, Burns coached Jerald Sowell, who played for the New York Jets. He also coached Sean Jackson, Tyrone Hughes, David White, and Louis Age at Saint Augustine High School. All four of those players went on to the NFL.

Burns is married to the former Connie Winder, and they have four children, Amber (30), Christy (27), Damon (22) and Erin (20). Damon was a starting outfielder for Texas Southern in 2004 and had three hits in the team's upset of defending National Champion Rice in an NCAA Tournament game played at Houston, TX.

Assistant Coach Jack Hines

- Tight Ends
- 6th Season at Clemson
- West Virginia '72

Jack Hines is in his sixth year with the Clemson football program after serving on the staff at Auburn from 1993-98.

The 54-year old is responsible for the tight ends in 2004.

He coached on the defensive side of the ball at Clemson from 1999-03. In 2003, he was in charge of the Whip linebackers and rovers, as both positions were a big reason Clemson finished the season ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense and second in the ACC in pass defense. Jamaal Fudge had over 100 tackles on Clemson's hard-hitting defense.

Clemson's first year (1999) with Jack Hines guiding the secondary was very successful. The pass defense ranked 17th in the country and second best in the ACC. The Tigers accumulated 19 interceptions, the highest total by a Clemson team since 1995 and 10th best in Clemson history. The Tigers finished the 1999 season ranked ninth in the country in total interceptions.

These statistics were not recorded against second rate competition. Hines had to prepare to play five of the top eight quarterbacks in the nation in terms of passing efficiency. The list of opposing quarterbacks on the 1999 agenda included Chris Weinke of Florida State, Michael Vick of Virginia Tech, Chad Pennington of Marshall, and Joe Hamilton of Georgia Tech.

Under Hines' coaching, Robert Carswell and Alex Ardley both ranked in the top 20 in the nation in interceptions per game. It marked the first time Clemson had two of the top-20 pass interceptors in the country in the same year.

In 2000, Hines' defensive backs helped Clemson rank 18th in the nation in rushing defense and 23rd in scoring defense. Ardley and Carswell were both first team All-ACC selections and Ardley ranked eighth in the nation in interceptions per game. Clemson opponents threw just nine touchdown passes all year, the second-best mark in the ACC. Clemson's pass efficiency defense was also second in the ACC. In 2001, Hines coached second-team All-ACC defensive back Charles Hafley. He was ninth overall in the ACC in tackles per game with 11.0.

In 2002, Hines coached two of the top-10 tacklers in the nation in John Leake and Rodney Thomas. Their season totals are among the top-10 single-season figures in Clemson history. The play of the linebackers had a lot to do with Clemson's 40-yard-per-game improvement in total defense in 2002.

Hines' tenure at Auburn began in 1993 when he coached the defensive backs. His coaching contributed to Auburn's perfect 11-0 season and #4 final ranking in the Associated Press poll. In 1994, the Auburn secondary intercepted 22 passes, the fourth-highest total in school history. Auburn returned eight interceptions for touchdowns during his first two years as secondary coach.

In an exciting 30-26 victory over Louisiana State in 1994, Auburn picked off four second-half passes and returned all for touchdowns. The last three seasons, Hines was responsible for Auburn's inside linebackers. The 1997 Tiger team won the Western Division of the SEC. Hines coached for six years at Auburn under Terry Bowden and is in his sixth year with Tommy Bowden at Clemson.

Before coming to Auburn, Hines spent six seasons at Samford in Birmingham, AL, where he had various titles. In his first season in 1987, he served as the school's recruiting coordinator.

During the 1987-92 seasons, Hines was Samford's defensive coordinator as well as defensive backs coach.

Hines began his college coaching career in 1980 as a volunteer assistant at West Virginia. Before joining the Mountaineer staff, Hines had been an assistant coach at Morgantown High School for six seasons. After a year at West Virginia, Hines was a graduate assistant at Florida State for two years (1985,86).

As a player, Hines was a defensive back at West Virginia. He played for three seasons and was a member of the Mountaineers' 1969 Peach Bowl team. He actually first attended West Virginia as a walk-on on the basketball team and played only basketball during his freshman season.

As a graduate assistant coach at Florida State in 1986, Hines worked with future NFL star cornerback Deion Sanders. While at Auburn, Hines coached future Arizona Cardinal Dell McGee, consensus first-team All-American Brian Robinson, and 1995 Co-SEC Freshman Defensive Player-of-the-Year Martavious Houston. Hines also coached Cincinnati Bengal and former Auburn All-America linebacker Takeo Spikes.

Hines is married to the former Robyn Bowden, and the couple has two children, Robert (23) and Jacquelyn (18). Both are students at Clemson. Jacquelyn will be a member of the Clemson women's soccer team in 2004.

Assistant Coach Thielen Smith

- Whip Linebackers, Rovers
- 6th Season at Clemson
- Louisiana State '77

Thielen Smith is in his sixth year on the Clemson coaching staff, but his eighth under Head Coach Tommy Bowden.

He was the coach of Tulane's interior defensive line from 1995-98, the last two years of that period under Bowden. He was responsible for the defensive interior linemen at Clemson between 1999-03. In 2004, he will supervise the Whip linebackers and rovers.

Smith and the performance of his defensive line were major reasons Clemson closed the 2003 season with a four-game winning streak and a final top-25 ranking. The Tigers held #3 Florida State to just 11 yards rushing, the low total in Bobby Bowden's career at Florida State. Tennessee's running game totaled just 38 yards against the Tiger defense in the Peach Bowl. The last four opponents combined for just 319 yards rushing against Smith's defensive line.

In 2002, Smith coached defensive tackle Nick Eason, who was a First-Team All-ACC selection. Eason was drafted in the fourth round by the Denver Broncos. It marked the second time in the last three years he had coached a protégé to First-Team

All-ACC honors.

In 2001, Smith coached second-team freshman All-American Donnell Washington, who was the first Clemson freshman All-American defensive lineman since Chester McGlockton earned the honor in 1989. Washington earned Second-Team All-ACC honors in 2003 and was a third-round selection in the NFL draft.

Smith's defensive linemen had a lot to do with Clemson's 85 sacks during the 1999 and 2000 seasons, the highest two-year total in Clemson history. Clemson set a record in that category in 1999, with an ACC best 47.

Smith coached defensive tackle Terry Jolly to a First-Team All-ACC season in 2000, his second-straight year on an All-ACC team. Jolly's play was a big reason Clemson ranked 18th in the country in rushing defense. In 1999, Smith's first year in Tigertown, the Tigers ranked 17th in the nation in pass defense.

Between his time at Tulane and Clemson, Smith has coached in a bowl game in six consecutive seasons and been a part of two top-15 teams. In each of the 1997-00 seasons he was part of a staff that realized at least a three victory improvement.

Thielen (pronounced "THI-lihn") Smith worked 10 years at Tulane during two different stints. In fact, his first 16 years in coaching were all in the state of Louisiana. This position at Clemson is his first away from his home state.

Smith's first stint at Tulane came during the 1985-90 seasons. He coached linebackers and the defensive line and helped the Green Wave reach the 1987 Independence Bowl. His second stay at the New Orleans school lasted four seasons (1995-98).

Smith saw the resurgence of the Tulane program from close range. In his final two seasons, the Green Wave posted an 18-4 overall record, including a perfect 12-0 mark in the 1998 campaign. Tulane finished fifth in the nation in turnover margin in both 1997 and 1998, and Smith's defensive line had a lot to do with that. In 1997, the Tulane defense forced 34 turnovers, the third-highest figure in the nation. Of course the 1998 team finished with an undefeated record, a top-10 national ranking and a Conference-USA championship.

The 50-year old came to Tulane in 1985 after six seasons at Louisiana-Lafayette. There, Smith began his college coaching career in 1979. During his six years at the school, Smith was responsible for the defensive line.

Between his two stints with the Green Wave program, Smith had stops at his alma mater of Louisiana State and Louisiana-Monroe for two seasons each. At Louisiana State, he coached inside linebackers in both 1991 and 92. He was the defensive line coach at Louisiana-Monroe during the 1993,94 seasons.

Smith began coaching high school in 1977 at Warren Easton High School, where he served for two years.

At Tulane, Smith coached NFL player Joe Caravello, who earned a Super Bowl Ring with the Washington Redskins. He also recruited NFL gridders Richard Harvey and Lonnie Marts while at the Tulane program. In his second stint with the Green Wave, Smith recruited Atlanta Falcon Ruffin Hamilton and coached San Francisco 49er Dennis O'Sullivan. While at Louisiana-Monroe, Smith coached Oakland Raider James Folston, Atlanta Falcon Tommy Fagan, and Indianapolis Colt Shawn King. He has already coached three Tigers who are in the NFL, including Nick Eason (Denver), Bryant McNeal (Denver), and Donnell Washington (Green Bay).

Smith played linebacker at Louisiana State and graduated with a bachelor's degree in education from the school in 1977. During his senior season, he had a career-best 62 tackles, including four for losses. He played on two bowl teams at Louisiana State, including the 1973 team that played in the Orange Bowl.

Smith is married to the former Gail Scott and the couple has six children, Toyah (26), Keisha (22), Terrance (21), Temetria (16), Vincent (15), and Shaun (15).

Assistant Coach Dabo Swinney

- Wide Receivers
- 2nd Season at Clemson
- Alabama '93

Dabo Swinney is in his second year as the Tigers' wide receivers coach, but he has known Head Coach Tommy Bowden for many years. As a player at Alabama in the early 1990s, Bowden was Swinney's position coach.

Swinney came to Alabama as a walk-on, but quickly earned a scholarship. Bowden was familiar with his work-ethic and thus did not hesitate to hire the Alabama native when he had an opening on his staff in 2003.

The hire proved to be a good one, as Clemson set numerous receiving records in Swinney's first season. His receivers were a big reason Clemson set school records for receptions, reception yards, and touchdown receptions in 2003. Airese Currie, Derrick Hamilton, and Kevin Youngblood combined for 175 catches and 2,483 yards along with 16 touchdowns, prime reasons the Tigers finished the season in the top 25 of both polls.

Hamilton was a third-round draft pick and became just the second receiver in Tiger history to go over 1,000 yards receiving in a season. Youngblood finished with 70 receptions in 2003, tied for second-most in Clemson history. Currie established the school single-game reception mark as well.

Swinney, 34, received a bachelor of science degree in commerce and business administration at Alabama in 1993 after lettering three times for the Crimson Tide (1990-92). A walk-on who went on to earn a scholarship, Swinney played wide receiver and was a member of Alabama's 1992 National Championship team under Gene Stallings. His position coach was Bowden in 1989 and former Tiger Assistant Coach Woody McCorvey from 1990-92. Swinney was also an Academic All-SEC member and SEC Scholar Athlete Honor Roll member in both 1990 and 1992.

Along with his appearance in the 1993 Sugar Bowl, his team played in the 1991 Fiesta Bowl, 1991 Blockbuster Bowl, and 1990 Sugar Bowl. Both Sugar Bowl appearances came after winning the SEC Championship game.

After his playing career, he served as a graduate assistant during the 1993-95 seasons at Alabama, where he coached in the 1994 Gator Bowl and 1995 Citrus Bowl. In both the 1994 and 1995 seasons, he coached Alabama in the SEC Championship game after winning the SEC Western Division title. In December of 1995, he received a master's degree in business administration at Tuscaloosa.

Swinney became a full-time assistant at Alabama in February of 1996 and coached a total of five seasons on a full-time basis. He was assigned to coach the Crimson Tide's wide receivers and tight ends in 1996, a season that saw Alabama win the SEC Western Division championship and make an Outback Bowl appearance. The following season, when Alabama played in the Music City Bowl, he solely coached the tight ends under new Head Coach Mike DuBose. Then in January of 1998, he coached Alabama's wide receivers, a position he held for three seasons. At the end of the 1999 campaign, Swinney coached the Crimson Tide in the 2000 Orange Bowl after winning the SEC championship game.

Since 1997, Swinney has had 14 former players either drafted or sign free agent contracts. The list includes Hamilton, Youngblood, and former All-American Freddie Milons, Alabama's all-time leading receiver in terms of receptions and second in yardage.

In all, Swinney was a part of six seasons of at least 10 victories

Assistant Coach Ron West

- Defensive Line
- 6th Season at Clemson
- Clemson '79

Ron West has helped bring Clemson to new heights in his five years as an assistant coach. The Tigers have been to a bowl game every year he has been Clemson's offensive line coach, including 2003 when the Tigers defeated #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl. It has been a resurgence similar to the one he helped generate as a player in 1977 and 1978 at Clemson under the late Charley Pell.

In 1999, West returned to Clemson with Tommy Bowden to coach the Tiger offensive line. He inherited the smallest offensive line in the nation and the youngest Clemson starting five interior linemen since 1943. All the Clemson offense did was average over 400 yards per game of total offense, the third-highest figure in Tiger history, and score 42 touchdowns, fifth highest in Tiger history. His group helped pave the way for an offense that set 26 school records.

The records continued to fall in 2000, as 47 more offensive marks were established. Included in the marks was the single-season total offense record. Balance was the watchword of the Clemson attack in 2000, and the play of the offensive line was a key. Clemson was just one of six schools to average at least 200 yards passing and 200 yards rushing. The Tigers finished the season 10th in the nation in rushing and 14th in scoring. The scoring average was the highest by a Tiger team in 100 years.

The 2003 season saw Clemson average 420 yards per game, the fourth-highest total in school history. The team's 5.7 yards per play average was second-best. The play of Clemson's offensive line had much to do with the Tigers setting the school mark for passing yardage, completions, and touchdown passes.

His players have made great improvement over their careers under his direction. In both 2000 and 2001, center Kyle Young was a second-team All-American on the field and a first-team Academic All-American. Young was just the second offensive lineman in NCAA history to be named a three-time, first-team Academic All-American.

Clemson has set over 125 school records over the five years West has been on the offensive coaching staff. In 2004, West moved to the other side of the ball as defensive line coach. He has significant experience as a defensive coach, as he served on that side of the ball for eight years, including seven as defensive coordinator at Louisiana-Lafayette.

West was a member of two Gator Bowl teams for the Tigers as a reserve offensive lineman in 1977 and 1978. As a Clemson player, West saw action in over 200 plays as a reserve for both the right guard and right tackle spots in 1978. He transferred to Clemson from Marion Institute, where he was a junior college All-American.

Clemson finished 1978 with an 11-1 record and ranked #6 in the final AP Poll. A versatile player, West started two games that year, at right guard against Virginia Tech and right tackle against Virginia. He spent most of his time as a backup to Joe Bostic, who later went on to a 10-year NFL career. Clemson was 19-4-1 in the two years he played with the Tigers. He was a member of the team that played in the 1978 Gator Bowl and gained victory over Ohio State. Thus he has been affiliated with Clemson as a player or coach for seven years, and the program has gone to a bowl game all seven seasons.

When West first left Clemson, he became a graduate assistant coach at Livingston. He first met current Clemson coach Tommy Bowden shortly thereafter during a four-month stint at East Carolina between the 1979 and 1980 seasons. West went on to coach the offensive line at North Texas State during the 1980 season.

In 1981, he joined the Texas Tech staff as an offensive line and special teams coach. He served in that capacity for four years before switching to defense in 1985 as the assistant linebacker coach.

West's next stop was Louisiana-Lafayette. He spent seven seasons with the Ragin' Cajuns as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach. In his final season, he was the assistant head coach.

West's Ragin' Cajun defenses ranked among the nation's top 20 in total defense three times. Under West, the defense was ranked nationally in at least one defensive category for six straight years.

After leaving Louisiana-Lafayette, West joined the staff at Baylor as offensive line coach. There, he was a part of the Baylor team that was a co-winner of the 1994 Southwest Conference title. That season, the Bear offensive line helped set the school record for points and touchdowns in a season. During the 1994 and 1995 seasons, the Bears averaged more than 210 rushing yards per game. In his final year, he served as running game coordinator.

West joined the Tulane staff in 1997. His influence on the offensive line was felt immediately. Under the guidance of West, the offensive line helped the offensive unit produce almost 4,700 yards of total offense and a school-record 375 points. The offensive line gave up just 11 sacks for the year.

In 1998, on the way to a 12-0 record, the offensive line helped Tulane become the only school in the nation to average over 300 yards passing and 200 yards rushing during the regular season. The team was ranked among the nation's top 25 in both categories throughout the season.

West is married to the former Becky Horne. The couple has two children, Brad (21) and Lori (18). Brad is a junior linebacker at Appalachian State, where he started eight games the last two seasons.

Football Administration

Donald Hymel

Assistant AD • Football Operations

Donald Hymel is in his sixth season as the Assistant Athletic Director for Football Relations. Hymel's main responsibility as assistant athletic director for football relations is working with the day-to-day operations of the football program. Some main emphasis areas include working with Pro Scouts, overseeing the walk-on program, handling coaches clinics and summer camps, team travel, insuring the proper exchange of videos between teams, and handling official and unofficial campus visits by recruits.

Hymel came to Clemson after a three-year stint as the assistant equipment manager at Tulane. In 1998, he served as an administrative assistant with the Green Wave program in addition to his duties of assistant equipment manager.

While at Tulane, Hymel also assisted the football program in conducting such activities as the annual coaches' clinic, alumni golf tournament, summer camp, and kickoff cruise.

Hymel, 41, was the head football equipment manager at Nicholls State before accepting his position at Tulane. He is familiar with the ACC, as he worked as a student assistant in North Carolina's recruiting office.

Hymel is a 1988 graduate of Louisiana State, where he served as a student equipment manager. He also has done postgraduate studies at the United States Sports Academy in Mobile, AL.

Andy Johnston

Assistant AD • Football Management

Andy Johnston is in his eighth year as the assistant athletic director for football management. His responsibilities with the football team include managing the program's day-to-day operations. Although this is Johnston's eighth year with the football program, he has been involved with the Clemson athletic department for 23 years. From 1983-97, he was the most successful women's tennis coach in Clemson history.

In those 15 years, Johnston guided his squads to five consecutive ACC titles (1983-87), 12 top-25 finishes, and six NCAA Tournaments. Johnston was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year for the fourth time and Southeast Region Coach-of-the-Year for the second time in 1993. Seven players he coached at Clemson were named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

Johnston had a record of 254-160 at Clemson and had a career mark of 263-167. He was the coach at Furman in 1982 before coming to Clemson. His best season at Clemson was his rookie year when the Lady Tigers had a 30-5 record and finished seventh in the final rankings. That team won all nine flights of the ACC Tourney, the only tennis team in Tiger history to do that. He coached tennis pro and Lady Tiger Gigi Fernandez.

Johnston played for Clemson on the hardcourt and earned his degree in administrative management in 1979. He then served as the assistant men's tennis coach for the 1980 season before moving on to Furman.

Johnston, 47, is a native of Summerville, SC. He has two daughters, Caylynn (17) and Kiera (14).

This brief NCAA rules education is aimed at outlining basic recruiting rules to help potential students-athletes and parents better understand the process. Clemson University is committed to recruiting and conducting our athletic program with the highest level of integrity. If you have questions about NCAA rules, please contact compliance services at (864) 656-1580 or through our website at ClemsonTigers.com and click on compliance. You can also visit the NCAA's website at NCAA.org.

Important NCAA Terms

Academic Credentials - A prospect should check with his guidance office to see if he is taking classes that will meet NCAA eligibility standards. A prospect should do this early - at the end of his sophomore year - and keep track of core courses. A prospect will need to take either the ACT or SAT for NCAA certification.

Contact - NCAA rules define a contact as a face-to-face interaction with a prospect and/or his parents off Clemson's campus by a coach. The NCAA sets a contact period for football prospects from late November through the end of January. That is the only time coaches can meet with a prospect away from the Clemson campus.

Core Courses - Courses at a prospect's high school that are considered college preparatory. For the class entering Clemson in 2005, 14 core courses are required, including four in English, two in math, two in science, one additional from English, math, or science, two social sciences, and three additional courses. For the class entering Clemson in 2008, 16 core courses are required, including four in English, three in math, two in science, one additional from English, math, or science, two social sciences, and four additional courses. A high school prospect's guidance counselor will have a list of the school's core courses, or you can visit NCAAClearinghouse.net for more information.

Evaluation - In April of a prospect's junior year, coaches will come to a prospect's high school, and review his athletic and academic credentials with his coach. In the fall, they may watch a prospect compete one time, but they will not have any contact.

Home Visit - During the contact period, a prospect may invite college coaches to his home to meet his parents, and to talk in detail about the football program and academic offerings at any college the prospect is considering.

Receiving Mail - When a prospect is in the ninth and 10th grades, NCAA rules allow Clemson to mail just a questionnaire and summer-camp brochure to a prospect. After September 1 of the prospect's junior year, coaches can provide a prospect with the following: write personalized letters, send a media guide and copies of newspaper articles, and a schedule card. A prospect can receive a football game program when he visits the Clemson University campus.

Recruiting - A term used to describe the process of acquainting a prospect with a college and the coaches of that college, who are striving to learn more about a prospect. Only coaches can recruit - no one else can try and persuade a prospect to play sports at a particular college.

Prospect - Any student who has entered the ninth grade. Once a person becomes a prospect, NCAA rules define how college coaches can interact with that prospect.

Telephone - Clemson football coaches can call a prospect once in May of the prospect's junior year. After September 1 of a prospect's senior year, a coach can call a prospect once a week. A prospect can expect unlimited calls during the contact period, before his official visit and once the prospect has signed a National Letter of Intent.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Are a prospect's parents invited for an official visit? Yes. NCAA rules allow a school to provide lodging and meals for parents or legal guardians who accompany their child on an official visit. However, NCAA rules do not allow schools to provide transportation for parents unless they drive with their son.
- Can a prospect visit Clemson anytime during his high school career? Yes. A prospect can have his high school coach call Tiger coaches to set up an unofficial visit. He can attend a football game and talk with Tiger coaches, and it does not count as a contact when it is on Clemson's campus. There are times a prospect cannot visit - NCAA rules refer to them as "dead periods," and coaches will not schedule to meet with a prospect during that time period.
- Can IPTAY members help recruit me? No. NCAA rules are clear; only Clemson coaches can telephone, contact, and evaluate a prospect. Only college coaches can offer unofficial and official visits.

- Is the prospect's high school coach invited for an official visit? NCAA rules are such that high school coaches may not be provided any expenses for official visits.
- What is a National Letter of Intent (NLI)? It is like a contract; a prospect and his parents sign a promise that the prospect will attend a particular college. In return, that college promises a prospect financial aid. A prospect signs it during his senior year (in February for football). Once the prospect signs it, he cannot be recruited by any other school, and it is binding for the prospect's first year in college. It is a binding commitment for the prospect and the school that offers it.
- What is IPTAY? IPTAY is an organization of Clemson fans. It generates financial support for the athletic department, and it is the best in the country! It has over 23,000 members.
- What is an official visit? After September 1 of a prospect's senior year, he can take five official visits, which are expense-paid. Before the visit, the prospect must present a high school transcript and proof of an SAT, ACT, PACT, or PSAT test. Official visit invitations are extended by Tiger coaches only.
- What is the NCAA Clearinghouse? It is the agency that certifies a prospect's eligibility for NCAA Division I and Division II. A prospect should register with the NCAA Clearinghouse at the beginning of his senior year in high school. Applications are available in the prospect's guidance office. Cost is $30.

The date July 1, 2003 will go down as a significant day in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference. On that day, it was announced by league commissioner John Swofford that two universities would be joining the ACC. Miami (FL) and Virginia Tech, both of the Big East Conference, decided to accept the ACC's invitation to expand. In October of 2003, the conference added Boston College. Miami and Virginia Tech begin competition in 2004-05, while Boston College will join in 2005-06.

The ACC's desire to expand its rapidly-growing football prowess led to the courting of the three schools, who in recent years have boasted successful football programs. Miami and Virginia Tech have appeared in three of the last five national championship games, with the Hurricanes taking the title in 2001. Miami has a total of five national championships, all within the last 20 years. Virginia Tech played for the title in 1999 when it had star quarterback Michael Vick. Boston College is the only Division I team in college football to win a bowl game each of the last four seasons.

Despite the fact that Boston College, Miami, and Virginia Tech have never been in the same conference as Clemson, the history between the schools is not bare. In football, the Tigers have faced the Hurricanes five different times and the Hokies a total of 28 times, and the Eagles on 14 occasions. Clemson has faced all three in bowl games.

The Virginia Tech series dates to 1900, the fifth year of Clemson football. The Tigers won that inaugural meeting by a score of 12-5. That Clemson squad was coached by college football legend John Heisman. The series was played off and on over the next several years. In 1945, Clemson gained its largest margin of victory over Virginia Tech after it defeated the Hokies 35-0 at home. Frank Howard coached Clemson during that time, and actually had a 5-1 record against Virginia Tech during his 29-year tenure as the Tigers' head coach.

The most significant era between Clemson and Virginia Tech was the period from 1977-89, as the two schools squared off 10 times. Clemson was victorious in nine of the 10 contests. Former Tiger Head Coach Danny Ford guided Clemson to a 7-1 record against the Hokies during his tenure.

The most publicized game of that era took place in 1984 at Clemson. The top two defensive linemen in college football that year were Virginia Tech's Bruce Smith and Clemson's William Perry. Both were finalists for the Lombardi Award and they faced off at Clemson in November. Clemson came away with a 17-10 victory, but it was another Perry who proved to be the key for Clemson. Freshman Michael Dean Perry, who would go on to a six-time NFL Pro Bowl career, had three tackles for loss and 10 total tackles to lead the Tiger defense. Smith had a terrific game for the Hokies, but the Tigers came away with the victory.

The only loss to Virginia Tech during that period came in the opener of the 1986 season, a 20-14 Hokie victory. Clemson went on to an 8-2-2 season and won the ACC championship, while Virginia Tech finished with a 9-2-1 record and captured a victory in the Peach Bowl under Head Coach Bill Dooley.

Clemson and Virginia Tech met again at the end of 2000, this time in the Toyota Gator Bowl. Clemson entered the game with a 9-2 record and top-15 ranking, while Virginia Tech was 10-1 and was a top-five ranked team. The game featured opposing multi-talented quarterbacks in Michael Vick (Virginia Tech) and Woodrow Dantzler (Clemson).

Overall, Clemson holds a 17-10-1 lead over Virginia Tech. Frank Beamer, who has turned the Hokie program into a perennial top-20 team, is 3-3 against Clemson as Virginia Tech's head coach. He lost three in a row from 1987-89, but has since guided the Hokies to three straight wins over Clemson.

The history between Clemson and Miami is less significant in that there have been just five contests, none since 1956. However, two of the games have been New Year's Day bowl contests.

The first meeting between Clemson and Miami came in 1945, when the Hurricanes narrowly protected their home field with a 7-6 edge over the Tigers. The next meeting between the two came at the end of the 1950 season in the Orange Bowl, Miami's home stadium.

Clemson entered the game ranked #10 in the nation, while Miami was #15 according to the Associated Press. Clemson held a 7-0 lead at halftime, thanks to Billy Hair's long pass to Bob Hudson that set up the touchdown. Fred Cone, who carried the ball a still Clemson bowl record 31 times, plunged in from one yard out.

Miami put 14 points on the board in the third quarter and blocked an extra point, giving the Hurricanes a 14-13 lead heading into the final quarter. With four minutes left, Miami found itself in deep trouble after three penalties pushed the Hurricanes back toward their own endzone. Miami pitched the ball to Frank Smith, who was tripped in the endzone by Sterling Smith, giving Clemson a safety and a 15-14 Orange Bowl victory. It remains the latest game-winning safety in Clemson history.

The two squads met again the following year in the 1952 Gator Bowl. This time, Miami emerged victorious. The Hurricanes defeated Clemson 14-0 despite being outgained in yardage. Clemson turned the ball over five times in the contest.

Clemson and Miami met again in 1953 and 1956, with the Hurricanes gaining victory both times. In 1956, Miami defeated the ACC Champion Tigers 21-0. Miami leads the series 4-1 over Clemson, with all five games coming during the Frank Howard era.

The Clemson and Boston College rivalry dates to the 1940 Cotton Bowl, one of the most important games in Clemson football history. Clemson faced the Eagles in its first ever bowl appearance, and behind the offensive, defensive, and punting display of Banks McFadden, the Tigers came away with a 6-3 victory. Jess Neely defeated Frank Leahy in a battle of future Hall of Fame coaches that proved to be Clemson's first ever win over a top-20 team.

The two schools met 11 times between 1941 and 1960, and the Tigers had a 5-4-1 advantage in those games. The 35-14 victory in Boston in 1950 proved to be an important victory on the way to an unbeaten and top-10 season for the Tigers.

The series was renewed in 1982 and 1983. The 1982 contest was the first nationally-televised game by CBS at Clemson, and the viewers got their money's worth in a 17-17 tie. The following year in Boston, Clemson had a 16-3 lead before Doug Flutie and the Eagles went on a 28-0 run to gain a 31-16 victory. It was Clemson's only loss in a 9-1-1 season.

Although the two teams have never been in the same conference until 2004, Virginia Tech and Clemson have faced each other 28 times on the gridiron.

President James F. Barker

Clemson University President, James F. Barker, came to the office in 1999 with a clear vision of Clemson's future. A 1970 Clemson graduate, Barker has established a goal of making the university one of the nation's top 20 public universities - an institution that draws outstanding faculty and students, provides an unmatched academic experience, and helps drive the state's economic development.

"South Carolina needs a top-tier research university, and our students deserve to have access to a top-tier education without leaving their home state," Barker said. "Building Clemson's academic, research, and service programs to the level where we can compete with anyone will benefit our state, our students, and our alumni."

Clemson, already South Carolina's top-ranked public university, is making strides toward that goal. During Barker's presidency, the university has:

- been recognized as Time Magazine's "Public College-of-the-Year"
- developed an academic strategic plan with eight emphasis areas aligned with the state's economic needs
- implemented an enrollment management plan to protect the quality of classroom teaching and allow for more student/faculty interaction
- redesigned the general education curriculum to focus on learning outcomes, and give undergraduates more opportunities for study abroad, service-learning, and research activities
- nearly doubled external research funding
- completed Clemson's largest capital campaign

Working with private industry and state leaders, Barker also has steered Clemson into a greater economic development role. In a span of six months, Clemson broke ground for a 400-acre automotive research campus in nearby Greenville, dedicated a state-of-the-art biosystems research complex, and announced plans to invest $70 million over five years to support the advanced materials industry. All three projects represent substantial investment in areas related to South Carolina's most promising economic clusters.

Barker also is becoming a leading voice in higher education in South Carolina and beyond. He served as chair of the ACC Council of Presidents for three straight years, including 2003-04 when he was significantly involved in the expansion of the league, with the addition of Boston College, Miami (FL), and Virginia Tech. Barker is also chair of the Commission of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the regional accrediting agency.

Over the past two years, he has earned recognition as a community leader, including South Carolina's Order of the Palmetto, the Boys and Girls Club Hall of Fame, the Greater Greenville Chamber of Commerce's Buck Mickel Award for Business and Community Leadership, and the Anderson Independent-Mail's "Pointing the Way" Leadership Award for Community Service.

Barker earned his bachelor of architecture degree from Clemson and his master of architecture and urban design degree from Washington University in Saint Louis, MO. Before returning to Clemson in 1986 to serve as dean of the College of Architecture, he was dean of the School of Architecture at Mississippi State. In 1995, he became dean of the new College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities, which was created after a comprehensive reorganization and has received national attention as a new model in education.

He is a recipient of the National Distinguished Professor Award of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and served as president of that association. Barker was named Fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He also has been a partner in an architectural practice.

Barker became Clemson's 14th president in 1999. He is a 1970 Clemson graduate.

While at Clemson, Barker co-founded the South Carolina Design Arts Partnership to support community design outreach projects, initiated the Charleston Architecture Center, established the University's "Arts in April" program, and developed a Mayors' Institute to help city leaders learn how to manage issues related to growth and development.

Despite his responsibilities as president, he remains committed to the classroom, continuing to teach an

Barker's Goals By 2010

Academics, Research, & Service

1. Excel in teaching, at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.
2. Increase research and sponsored programs to exceed $100 million a year in research support.
3. Set the standard in public service for land-grant universities by engaging the whole campus in service and outreach, including a focus on strategic emphasis areas.
4. Foster Clemson's academic reputation through strong academic programs, mission-oriented research and academic centers of excellence, relevant public service, and highly-regarded faculty and staff.
5. Seek and cultivate areas where teaching, research, and service overlap.

Campus Life

1. Strengthen our sense of community and increase our diversity.
2. Recognize & appreciate Clemson's distinctiveness.
3. Create greater awareness of international programs and increase activity in this area.
4. Increase our focus on collaboration.
5. Maintain an environment that is healthy, safe, and attractive.

Clemson's National Reputation

1. Promote high integrity and professional demeanor among all members of the University community.
2. Establish a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.
3. Have at least two Clemson students win Rhodes Scholarships.
4. Send student ensembles to perform at Carnegie Hall.
5. Have at least two Clemson faculty members win recognition by national academies.
6. Publicize both national and international accomplishments of faculty, staff, and students.
7. While maintaining full compliance, achieve notable recognition with another national football championship, two championships in Olympic sports, and two Final Four appearances in basketball.

Educational Resources

1. Campaign goal surpassed by 40 percent.
2. Rededicate our energy and resources to improving the library.
3. Increase faculty compensation to a level competitive with top-20 public universities.
4. Increase academic expenditures per student to a level competitive with top-20 public universities.
5. Manage enrollment to ensure the highest quality classroom experiences.

Student Performance

1. Attract more students who are ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school classes and who perform exceptionally well on the SAT/ACT.
2. Promote high graduation rates by increasing freshman retention, meeting expectations of high achievers, and providing support systems for all students.
3. Promote excellence in advising.
4. Increase the annual number of doctoral graduates to the level of a top-20 public research university.
5. Improve the national competitiveness of graduate student admissions and financial aid.

undergraduate course each spring and serve as a facilitator for the freshman summer reading program.

The Barkers, Jim and Marcia, have two sons - Britt, a rising sophomore at Clemson, and Jacob, who graduated from North Carolina and attended on a baseball scholarship, and earned a master's from Clemson.

Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips

After only his second year at Clemson University, Dr. Terry Don Phillips' quest for athletic and academic excellence is quickly becoming a reality. His first year as athletic director featured the establishment of a long-term strategic plan for Clemson athletics intended to provide an opportunity for the department to work toward becoming a model program that can compete at the highest levels in all sports.

To become a model program, Clemson must be able to not only compete at the highest levels, but do so with academic integrity, concern for the student-athlete, financial responsibility, and in full compliance.

In his second year, the benefits of Phillips' plan for the athletic programs became visibly evident, as the Tiger athletic teams set new records on the playing fields and in the classroom in 2004.

In the classroom, Clemson student-athletes earned an all-time best 2.90 GPA in the spring of 2004, with 116 student-athletes named to the Dean's List, another Clemson record. Seven different programs recorded a 3.0 GPA or better and 195 student-athletes were named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll.

The Tigers also broke new ground in athletic competition. The fall featured a much improved football team that won each of its last four games, including a pair of victories over top-six teams. The season concluded with a victory over #6 Tennessee in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl and a #22 final national ranking. In one weekend in April, Clemson won three ACC Championships, the first time that was accomplished in seven years.

The Clemson women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Final Four, the first women's athletics program in school history to advance to the semifinals of any NCAA Tournament. That squad also captured the ACC regular-season and ACC tournament titles en route to a #5 final ranking. The men's tennis team advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1986 and had its highest victory total since that season. The golf team captured the ACC and East Region Tournament championships for the second consecutive year.

"There is nothing worse than trying to maintain status quo," said Phillips, who became Clemson's 10th athletic director on July 1, 2002.

That motto has been a basic tenet that has characterized his career as an administrator and his pursuit to develop Clemson into a model athletic program in the 21st century. His beliefs are in line with the University's overall goal of making Clemson one of the top-20 public universities in the nation.

Strides were made toward these goals in his first two years through facility improvements and the development of concepts that will serve the entire program. Littlejohn Coliseum and Doug Kingsmore Stadium completed renovations in 2003 that now make them very competitive nationally. A new indoor track & field complex, widely acclaimed as one of the finest in the nation, was completed in the fall of 2004. It was the site of the ACC Indoor Track & Field Championships in 2004.

Phillips also introduced the West Endzone plan for Clemson Memorial Stadium in 2003. Clemson will begin its construction at Death Valley after the 2004 football season and the state-of-the-art facility can eventually add up to 2,000 premium club seats in the west endzone.

After the completion of the club seats and other new gameday operation facilities, future plans call for a new comprehensive football building at Memorial Stadium. The building will benefit the entire department, as it will create additional updated facilities for Clemson's Olympic sports program in the McFadden Building. A "One Clemson Center" to include the history of Clemson University and athletics is also a planned part of the project.

Phillips had an active first academic year (2002-03) at Clemson. On the field of competition, Clemson won its first ever national title in golf with a landmark victory at Oklahoma State's Karsten Creek. Larry Penley's team was the #1-ranked team in the nation for the entire season and became the first golf program in history to win its conference, NCAA regional, and NCAA national tournaments. It was an ironic first national title at Clemson for Phillips in that he had been at Oklahoma State for eight years prior to his arrival at Clemson.

In terms of personnel, Phillips made national news when he hired Oliver Purnell as Clemson's head basketball coach. Purnell had led Dayton to 20-win seasons each of the last four years, including a 24-6 campaign in 2002-03 that included a top-four national seed for the NCAA Tournament and the championship of the Atlantic 10 Conference. In his first year, Purnell led the Tigers to major upsets of nationally-ranked teams from North Carolina and N.C. State, plus a victory over NCAA Tournament team Boston College.

Phillips is also known around the Clemson athletic department for his love of Clemson traditions and spirit. He instituted a "Solid Orange" day in the department that encourages athletic department employees to wear Clemson school colors every Friday. The plan has spread across the state, as Clemson fans, where possible, wear orange to work on Fridays. School children have also adopted the plan across the state. He has instituted the playing of the alma mater at all athletic events as well.

"While we're working on infrastructure and strategy, we're working just as hard on school spirit and re-energizing the great pride we all have in Clemson," said Phillips in Clemson World, Clemson's Alumni magazine summer of 2003 issue. "When it (our spirit and pride) really flows - as it can at Clemson - it's an amazing testament from every alumnus, student, and supporter, and a tremendous boost to every Clemson effort. That is the case in recruiting; not only athletic recruiting, but academic as well."

Phillips has an undergraduate degree from Arkansas (1970), a master's degree from Virginia Tech (1974), a doctorate from Virginia Tech (1978), and a law degree from the Arkansas School of Law (1996). He is a member of the Arkansas Bar, American Bar Association, and the Sports Lawyers Association.

From an experience standpoint, Phillips has worked in nearly all phases of college athletics. He served as an assistant football coach at Virginia Tech, supervised spring sports and student-athlete enrichment at Florida, handled athletic fundraising and facility enhancement at Missouri and Arkansas, and had 15 years experience as an athletic director, including 13 at the Division I level prior to his appointment at Clemson.

When it came to success on the field and in the classroom at Oklahoma State, Phillips' programs were among the best in the Big 12 Conference. The achievements of the Oklahoma State program during his tenure (1994-02) included a pair of national championships in men's golf, a men's basketball Final Four, two trips to the College World Series, a women's softball World Series, 13 Big 12 Championships, and 11 individual national champions. Academically, it had 53 academic All-Americans.

Dr. Terry Don Phillips is pictured with his wife Tricia and Clemson University President Jim Barker and his wife Marcia prior to the 2004 Peach Bowl in Atlanta, GA. Both administrators, along with everyone associated with the university, are working hard to make Clemson one of the top-20 public institutions in the country.

Very importantly, Oklahoma State notched four football victories over arch-rival Oklahoma during his tenure, including an upset of a fourth-ranked Sooner team in 2001 that knocked Oklahoma from the national championship race. Before his arrival in 1995, the Cowboys had just three wins over Oklahoma in the previous 48 years and had won only a total of 14 games in the previous five years. The year in which he left, Oklahoma State won three more Big 12 championships, a national championship in wrestling, and put nine teams in NCAA postseason play. The Oklahoma State football team again defeated the Rose Bowl Champion Sooners, making OSU's wins over OU five out of the last eight years - something no other team in the Big 12 has done. The football program also produced a 100-percent graduation rate based for the 1997 recruiting class, as well as winning the Houston Bowl.

From a facilities enhancement standpoint, the Oklahoma State program compiled a long list of successful facilities projects, including the completion of approximately $65 million in new construction. The projects included a new athletics center complete with a strength/conditioning complex, locker facilities, player lounges, offices, meeting rooms, sports medicine area, an academic center, and the Heritage Hall, among others. Gallagher-Iba Arena, the Cowboys' basketball facility, was expanded from 6,000 to 13,611 seats, and 14 suites were added. CBS Sportsline named it the best college basketball venue in the nation.

Phillips also supervised the planning of a $50-million renovation to the Oklahoma State football stadium that will add 2,300 club seats, 14 suites, rebuilt concession, new restrooms, press box, and concourse areas. All facilities were supported through new revenue streams and capital fundraising, as construction began in the spring of 2003.

Before leading the Oklahoma State program, Phillips served as senior associate athletic director at Arkansas from 1988-94. He ran the daily operations and had oversight of facility projects for the men's programs, and was president of the Razorback Foundation.

Phillips was also athletic director at Southwestern Louisiana from 1983-88 and Liberty from 1980-81. He was an assistant athletic director at Missouri from 1981-83, where he supervised athletic fundraising. Phillips began his administrative career in 1978 as an assistant athletic director at Florida, where he worked with spring sports and student-athlete enrichment.

Phillips began his career in college athletics coaching football. He started as a graduate assistant at Arkansas in 1970,71. He then moved on to Virginia Tech as an assistant coach from 1971-78 before joining the ranks of athletic administration.

During his coaching career in Blacksburg, he served with former Clemson Head Coaches Charley Pell and Danny Ford.

Winning has been in Phillips's resumé since his playing days. At Arkansas, Phillips lettered on Frank Broyles teams of 1966, 1968, and 1969. The Razorbacks were a combined 27-5 in those three seasons and played in two Sugar Bowl games. Phillips played for the Razorbacks in the famous 1969 Arkansas-Texas game that decided the national championship. During the spring of 2003, the book Horns, Hogs, and Nixon's Coming chronicled that historic game. Former United States President Bill Clinton, in his book, My Life, spoke how that game epitomized the changing of the social structure in the South.

Phillips is the chair of the NCAA Division I Infractions Appeals Committee, which serves the appellate role for all university and individual appeals arising from the Committee on Infractions. He also works with the NCAA Certification Program. Phillips currently serves on the following ACC Committees Finance Committee, Committee on Infractions and Penalties, Television Committee, the Men's Basketball Committee, and the Football Committee.

Phillips has two children - John Dennis and Sarah Jane. He has three step-children - Meagan, Marshall, and Madison. He is married to Tricia Phillips, who earlier had an athletic administration career in marketing at Southwestern Louisiana and is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Along with his full-time staff, Bagby also oversees a staff of eight student assistants who are mainly responsible for video taping daily events for a variety of sports. While daily football practice becomes the most time-consuming aspect of video taping, each of Clemson's 19 sports are covered by Bagby and his staff throughout the year.

In addition to his department's video taping responsibilities, Bagby also coordinates the creation of many highlight videotapes. Almost every banquet at Clemson calls for some type of video to be produced and shown. In addition, the video services department works closely with IPTAY, ClemsonTigers.com, the ACC office, ESPN, Fox Sports Net, other regional sports networks, and every major television network to promote Tiger athletics by ensuring that current Clemson footage is available for their use no matter the sport.

As if his duties at Clemson were not enough, Bagby takes an active role in the field of sports video. He is a past vice-president and president of the Collegiate Sports Video Association (CSVA) and has twice served as co-host for the organization's annual national convention, including the 2004 event.

Bagby is also an active member of the Information, Display, & Entertainment Association (IDEA). He has been awarded ACC Video Coordinator-of-the-Year honors three out of the past six years, including the most recent award for the 2003 season.

In his spare time, Bagby is an avid golfer and enjoys working on his family's website. He is married to the former Jennifer Robinson of Mooresville, NC. The couple has a one-year-old daughter (Payton).

Joey Batson

Strength Training Director

Entering his eighth year as strength training director at Clemson, Joey Batson brings much experience to the position. Batson is familiar with the Tiger program, having served as a graduate assistant in the strength and conditioning area from 1985-88.

In the course of his professional career, Batson has pioneered many training techniques in the strength, speed and conditioning fields. Referred to by Batson as "Not So Basic Strength Training," the collection of innovative techniques has led to impressive results by many Tiger players over his career.

Prior to his return to Clemson, Batson served as the first full-time director of Strength Training at Furman University in Greenville. In 1996, he was named Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year in the Southern Conference by the National Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. In addition to his four years at Furman, he also worked as the Director of Strength/Conditioning at Bowling Green and served a year at the University of South Carolina as assistant director of strength and conditioning.

Not only does Batson bring professional experience to the position, but he also brings experience as a player at the collegiate level. The Greenville native was a tight end at The Citadel in 1979 before transferring to Newberry College, where he was a two-year letterman and team co-captain as a senior. Batson earned his B.A. degree in Physical Education from Newberry and his masters in Education at Clemson in 1988.

Batson is a Specialist in Sports Conditioning (SSC) and Masters of Sports Science (MSS) through the International Sports Sciences Association, and is a member of several other professional groups, which include the National Strength and Conditioning Association, United States Weight Lifting Federation, and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. He has completed the Club Coach Certification program by the United States Weight Lifting Federation. He is a regular speaker and instructor on the strength training circuit.

In his first seven years at Clemson, 10 Tiger football players have been named strength All-Americans, including John Leake and Gregory Walker in 2003. Seven of his former assistants are now head strength coaches with either NFL or NCAA teams.

Batson, who started his employment as director on June 2, 1997, is married to the former Susan Malone of Greenville. They have two children, Michael (8) and Benjamin (5).

Tim Bourret

Assistant AD • Sports Information

Tim Bourret is in his 15th year supervising the sports information office, his 12th as an assistant athletic director, and his 27th with the Clemson Athletic Department. He first came to Clemson as assistant SID under Bob Bradley in September of 1978 and was elevated to an associate SID position in July of 1980.

The 48-year old Bourret has edited over 100 award-winning brochures in his career at Clemson, including 32 that have dealt with Tiger football. The 2002 Clemson football guide and program series were both award winners. Combined with the efforts of Assistant SID Brian Hennessy, the football gameday program has ranked in the top five in that country each of the last two seasons.

Bourret was a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference 50-Year Anniversary Committee and is presently chairman of the ACC Committee on Media and Public Relations. He is also the regional chairman of the College Football Hall of Fame voting process.

Bourret also has considerable radio experience, play-by-play and color. He has been the color voice of Clemson basketball since the 1980-81 season and served in the same capacity for Clemson football between 1982 and 1988. He gave up his football radio work to supervise the Clemson press box when Bob Bradley retired in 1989. He was also the play-by-play voice of Tiger postseason baseball (1980-89).

He was honored in 2003 when he was asked by the Phillips' family to provide the play-by-play duties of the Clemson-Middle Tennessee game, the first game after Jim Phillips' death.

Bourret is a native of West Hartford, CT and 1973 graduate of Northwest Catholic High School. Following in his father's footsteps, Bourret earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame in business administration in 1977. He also earned his master's degree in communication arts from Notre Dame in August of 1978.

Bourret worked as an undergraduate and graduate assistant under Roger Valdiserri in Notre Dame's office for three years. He also served as commissioner of the school's famed "Bookstore Basketball Tournament" for three years, including the year it was featured in Sports Illustrated.

He joined former Notre Dame basketball Coach Digger Phelps and Sport's Illustrated's John Walters as co-authors of the book "Basketball for Dummies." It was originally released by IDG Books in 1997. A second version of the book was released in 2000. He is also the author of Digger Phelps' Tales from the Notre Dame Hardwood, a book that was released in September, 2004.

Rebecca Bowman

Associate AD • Compliance Services

Becky Bowman is in her seventh year as the associate athletic director for compliance services. The native of Irmo, SC is a 1976 graduate of Winthrop. She also earned a master's degree from Virginia Tech. Bowman came to Clemson from the NCAA, where she served seven years in the membership services area. While at the NCAA, she was named senior staff member, and coordinated the NCAA Division I Athletics Certification program and peer-review training in addition to conducting institutional compliance reviews.

Prior to working at the NCAA, Bowman was the head volleyball coach at Charlotte from 1983-91. She served on the faculty while at Charlotte and served as its head softball coach in 1984 and 1985. From 1976 until 1983, Bowman was the head volleyball and basketball coach at Harding High in Charlotte, NC.

During her career at Winthrop, Bowman played on the basketball and volleyball teams, captaining the volleyball team her senior season. She was a member of Senior Order at Winthrop and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1976.

At Clemson, she coordinates the institutional rules compliance program. At the ACC level, she is a member of the league's Constitution and By-Laws Committee, chairs the ACC Rowing Committee, and serves as vice chair of the ACC Volleyball Committee from 2000-04. She served on the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Committee. She has served on an accreditation team for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and as a peer reviewer for the NCAA Division I athletics certification program.

Bill D'Andrea

Senior Associate AD • External Affairs

Bill D'Andrea is in his 19th year at Clemson, but he has been a significant member of the Clemson University family for much longer. His association with Clemson dates to 1983 when he served as a graduate assistant football coach.

Named a senior associate athletic director in 2002, D'Andrea supervises the external affairs of the athletic department. He oversees the operation of the IPTAY office, promotions, marketing, Vickery Hall, and sports information. He reports directly to Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips. Much of his daily responsibilities are consumed by fundraising activities for the West Endzone project at Memorial Stadium and the capital campaign.

Clemson's well-earned national reputation in student-athlete enrichment can be traced back to D'Andrea, who served as the director of Vickery Hall from 1991 (the year the facility was opened) until 2002. This program was named one of the top programs of its kind in the nation by NACDA in September, 1999.

Clemson student-athletes made significant improvement academically in terms of overall GPA, academic honors, and graduation rates during his 11 years in Vickery Hall. The overall grade point average of the student-athletes rose from 2.35 in 1991 to 2.85 in 2002. During one stretch, the student-athletes collective grade point average improved 14 consecutive semesters. The improvement has continued, as Clemson student-athletes posted a record 2.90 GPA in the spring of 2004.

D'Andrea, a Morgan, PA native, received his undergraduate degree in criminal justice from Indiana State in 1973. He was a member of the Sycamore football team as an offensive lineman for four years and played under former Clemson assistant coach Larry Van Der Heyden. He earned a master's degree from East Carolina in 1975.

D'Andrea came to Clemson in a full-time capacity in 1986 and served as an offensive line coach until the 1989 season. Clemson won three ACC titles and had four bowl victories and four top 20 Associated Press poll final rankings during that time. He coached Stacy Long, a first-team All-America tackle who was a finalist for the Outland Trophy in 1990. Long will be inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 2004.

D'Andrea and his wife Lee reside in Clemson.

Jeff Davis

Assistant AD • Major Gifts

Jeff Davis is in his second year as an assistant athletic director. He currently is significantly involved in fundraising efforts for Clemson's WestZone Club seating area at Death Valley in addition to involvement in other athletic department and university fundraising efforts. He also serves as the primary spokesman for Clemson's Call Me Mister Program.

Davis was an All-America linebacker from 1978-81 who captained the Tigers during their 1981 National Championship run and became a permanent fixture in Clemson football lore.

"The Judge" registered a then-Clemson record 175 tackles on the 1981 defense. That same season, he became just the third defensive player in ACC history to be named MVP of the league. And in the most important game in school history, Davis made 14 tackles as Clemson defeated Nebraska 22-15 in the 1982 Orange Bowl to claim its first national championship. He was named the Defensive Player-of-the-Game.

His collegiate accomplishments earned him numerous accolades. Davis was named to Clemson's Centennial Team in 1996 and was named one of the top-five Tigers of the 20th century. In 1995, Davis received one of the school's highest distinctions when he became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team. In 2004, he was on the national ballot for induction into the College Football Hall of Fame.

Davis has made a name for himself outside of the Clemson community. A fifth-round draft choice by Tampa Bay in 1982, he played six productive seasons in the NFL. During his time as a professional, Davis also completed his remaining coursework and graduated from Clemson in 1984.

In 1999, he returned to the University as field director of the Call Me Mister program within the Department of Education, Health, and Human Development. Call Me Mister seeks to recruit, train, certify, and secure employment for African American males as elementary teachers in South Carolina's public schools. In 2001, Davis received a $100,000 award for the program from Oprah Winfrey's "Angel Network."

Davis is also president of Goal Line Stand, an organization that supports young people as adults as they seek to remain committed to values that shape and govern their lives. An ordained pastor, Davis lives in Clemson with his wife Joni and their six children.

Bobby Douglas

Director of Academic Services

Bobby Douglas, a native of South Toms River, NJ, has worked in the Clemson University athletic department for the past 25 years, including the last 13 with the Student Athlete Enrichment Programs in Vickery Hall. During the past 13 years, Douglas has served in many capacities with regards to his primary role as an academic counselor for the Student Athlete Enrichment Programs. Douglas, who served as the interim director for the SAEP during the 2002-2003 school year, was recently named Director of Academic Services for Student-Athletes. He is responsible for coordinating academic support for all student-athletes.

Douglas also oversees additional academic affairs, including study hall, registration, freshman orientation, and book issue for scholarship student-athletes. Douglas also has the responsibility of academic counselor for the men's and women's soccer teams, a position he has held for 13 years.

He received both his bachelor of science and master's degrees from Clemson. Douglas is married to the former Ann Skelton of Clemson, and they have two children (Mary and John).

Stephanie Ellison

Assistant AD • Compliance Services

Stephanie Ellison is in her first full year as an assistant athletic director for compliance services. The native of Pendleton, SC came to Clemson in October, 2003 after serving as the director of legislative services and assistant to the commissioner at the Southern Conference.

While at the Southern Conference office, Ellison was responsible for tracking NCAA legislative proposals, and served as the staff liaison to various conference associations and sports committees, including the conference Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), the Executive Committee, the Finance & Audit Committee, and to the volleyball and men's and women's track & field committees.

Prior to her time with the Southern Conference, Ellison served as the director of compliance and the assistant compliance officer at George Mason. Ellison was named assistant compliance officer in June, 2001, and served in that capacity until she was promoted to director of compliance in August, 2002.

While serving as the compliance director at George Mason, Ellison's responsibilities ranged from overseeing the NCAA Special Assistance Fund to providing interpretations of NCAA legislation. She conducted monthly rules education meetings with the coaching staff and processed NCAA waivers and appeals, and assisted in investigating rules violations. Ellison also served as a volunteer mentor in the Fairfax County Public Schools for the Dream Catchers Program.

Ellison began her career in compliance services at Clemson, where she was a graduate assistant from August, 1999 to May, 2001. Her responsibilities included collecting and reporting student-athlete data, as well as administering NCAA and ACC forms to enrolled student-athletes. Ellison also provided interpretations of NCAA legislation and served as a liaison to the NCAA Clearinghouse. She also served on the SACS/COC Assessment Committee. Ellison developed forms used in monitoring activities and assisted in coordinating NCAA's athletics certification orientation visit.

At Clemson, she also assists with the institutional compliance program and is the co-program coordinator (with Jeff Davis) of the student-athlete agent program.

A May, 1998 graduate of Clemson with a degree in PRTM, Ellison also completed a master's degree in human resource development at Clemson in May, 2001. The 1994 Pendleton High School graduate is also a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. As an undergraduate, she worked as a student assistant with the football office.

Phil Grayson

Associate AD • Student-Athlete Development

Phil Grayson is in his second year as associate athletic director for student development. Grayson brings with him an extensive background in NCAA waiver processes and issues related to academic eligibility. He served as Associate Director of Membership Services for the NCAA from 1999-03. He also held the position of Membership Services Representative at the NCAA from 1995-99.

Prior to his positions with the NCAA, the South Bend, IN native worked as a school liaison for Charter Behavioral Health System in Mishawaka, IN. He holds a M.S. in education (Counseling & Human Services) and a B.S. in business administration (marketing) from Indiana University at South Bend. He transferred from Marquette University, where he played tennis for three years.

As associate athletic director for student development at Clemson, Grayson provides leadership and coordinates with all staff members who provide student-athlete welfare services, including the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. He also serves as liaison to other campus offices, such as the Provost, University Counsel, Admissions, and the Registrar's office.

His other duties include developing and facilitating programs that address diversity issues with the athletic department (including minority and international student populations), directing and monitoring assessment of athletic goals and objectives, and supervising the study of factors that impact graduation rates. Grayson is a member of the ACC's committee on student-athlete welfare.

Van Hilderbrand

Associate AD • Event Manager

Van Hilderbrand has served the Clemson athletic department for 28 years and is in his 19th as an assistant/associate athletic director. Hilderbrand is in charge of event management and gameday operations for all sports at Clemson. He coordinates the event functions of various groups, including security and insuring safety of patrons before, during, and after events.

He is certainly familiar with the athletic department. He started his association there as a student employee in the office during his college career, 1970-74. In 1976, he filled the newly created position of assistant ticket manager, and in 1980 he was named ticket manager. He oversaw the operations of the ticket office for 24 years, including the growth of Clemson ticket demands when the stadium grew to over 80,000 in seating capacity. In 1985, he was made an assistant athletic director.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson.

Hilderbrand graduated from Clover (SC) High School in 1970. He was the school's all-time leading scorer in basketball until 1993, when former Tiger gridder Lamont Hall broke his mark. Hilderbrand earned his degree in parks and recreation administration from Clemson in 1974. The 51-year old is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover and they have two children, Van Jr., a 2002 Clemson graduate, and Lee Elizabeth, who is a freshman at Clemson.

Katie Hill

Senior Associate AD • Internal Affairs

Katie Hill was named a senior associate athletic director in July, 2002. She held the same position at the University of Arkansas for the nine years prior to her appointment at Clemson. Hill oversees all financial aspects of the athletic department as chief financial officer and reports directly to Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips. She is also charged with directing the ticket office, video department, training room, and equipment room. In her first year, she guided the renovation of Littlejohn Coliseum, Doug Kingsmore Stadium, and the construction of the new indoor track.

Overall, Hill worked for 14 years in Arkansas. During her decade with the athletic department, she worked primarily with the department's financial matters as well as handling special projects and other administrative duties. She was well-known for her expertise in business operations and financial issues.

Hill first joined the University of Arkansas in 1988 when the Razorback Scholarship Fund moved off campus to become the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Hill performed an important start-up role in the foundation, serving as its corporate treasurer and operation's manager. In 1992 she moved to the athletic department to become assistant athletic director for business.

In her nine years as senior associate director, Hill oversaw business operations, budgeting and accounting, contracts, travel and purchasing, and the economic issues related to the expansion of Reynolds Razorback Stadium.

She also oversaw the financing and development of Bud Walton Arena, the Baum Stadium (baseball), and the expansion of the Randal-Tyson Indoor Track Facility. The projects combined totaled over $175 million. She also was responsible for the administration of the ticket office and athletic training room.

Hill has an undergraduate degree from the University of Central Arkansas and a MBA from the University of Arkansas.

Dr. Cecil Huey

NCAA Faculty Representative

Dr. Cecil Huey was named the Clemson NCAA Faculty Athletics Representative in 1992. As such, he is the University representative to the ACC and NCAA. He has also served as the ACC Representative of Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet of the NCAA and is currently on the NCAA Student Athlete Reinstatement Committee. He serves on ACC committees and is vice-president of the conference.

The professor of Mechanical Engineering on Clemson's campus is a member of the university's Athletic Council and was its chair at one time, was a faculty senator, and was a member of Clemson's self-study committee on intercollegiate athletics for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. He is involved in the selection of coaches, certifications of athletic eligibility, other on campus athletic affairs, and continues his full-time faculty position.

He won the Class of '39 award for excellence, one of the top faculty awards offered at Clemson. It recognizes distinguished faculty representing the highest achievement of service to students, the university, and the community.

Huey's association with Clemson is not solely in an academic light, although he earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in mechanical engineering from the university. Huey was an athlete during his undergraduate years with the Tigers. He was a member of the ACC champion mile relay team that posted a time of 3:14.2 and finished sixth in the country in 1964 and once held the Tiger record in the 440-yard dash.

Tim Match

Associate AD

Tim Match, a native of Arlington, OH, is responsible for implementing the athletic department's sports marketing, sponsorship, and licensing. A 1985 graduate of Bowling Green State University, Match received his master's degree in parks, recreation, and tourism management with an emphasis in microcomputer management from Clemson in 1987. He worked in the sports information office under Bob Bradley for two years. Match became assistant sports information director at the University of Virginia, where he worked with many sports, including Terry Holland's NCAA Tournament men's basketball program that reached the Final Eight of the 1989 NCAA Tournament.

Match returned to Clemson in 1989 as an associate sports information director working directly with the Tiger men's basketball program and the football program. He held that position for three years before moving into an assistant athletic director position under former Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Danny Poole

Director of Sports Medicine

Danny Poole is in his sixth season as Clemson's Director of Sports Medicine, but he is a veteran of more than 20 years working in the Tiger athletic training facility. He supervises the training needs of all student-athletes, but his primary area of emphasis is with the football program.

Poole, 47, has 26 years of full-time experience in the athletic training field. He served as head trainer for the Carolina Chargers of the American Football Association in 1979. In 1980, he became an assistant trainer at the University of Memphis. During his career as a full-time assistant at Memphis, he earned his master's degree in Health Education. In 1984, Poole came to Clemson when Bert Henderson moved from the athletic training staff into fund-raising.

A 1979 graduate of Western Carolina University, Poole earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education. He was student trainer for the Cata-mounts for four years. He was published in the NATA Journal in 1979, "The D.P. Method for Blisters" as a student at Western Carolina.

Poole was honored in 2001 by his peers with the Athletic Trainers Service Award. The award is presented by the National Athletic Trainers Association to role models who are future leaders of the training profession.

Poole, a native of Charlotte, NC, is married to the former Beth Morgan and the couple has two children, Jacqui Elaine (17) and Abby Blair (15).

Dwight Rainey

Dwight Rainey is an example of success gained from a wide variety of experiences. He is in his 30th year with the Clemson University athletic department, more than any other active administrator. Rainey oversees the activities of the following Olympic sports: baseball, golf, soccer (men's & women's), swimming & diving (men's & women's), and tennis (men's & women's). For 17 years, he oversaw the entire Olympic Sports program. Clemson's tennis programs had their best combined year in 2004, as the women reached the Final Four and the men advanced to the Elite Eight.

While football and basketball may be the two highest profile sports at Clemson, the 17 Olympic sports have also enjoyed enormous success during the last 21 years. In 2003, Rainey was a part of a third national championship, as the Clemson golf team won the title at Oklahoma State. In 1984 and 1987, the men's soccer programs he oversaw captured the NCAA championship.

Prior to moving into administration, he served as Bill Foster's top basketball assistant for 13 years, including eight at Clemson. One highlight was the 1979-80 team that finished with a 23-9 mark. That squad advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tourney, the furthest a Tiger hardwood team has advanced.

Rainey has also had experience outside of college athletics. Between 1967 and August of 1970, he worked with a division of the Chrysler Corporation in Atlanta, GA. Rainey earned a B.A. in business administration from Shorter College in 1967 and a Master's degree from Charlotte in 1972.

Robert Ricketts

Associate AD • Facilities & Grounds

Associate Athletic Director Robert Ricketts is in his 19th year with the athletic department and his 28th with the university. Ricketts was the athletic department's chief financial officer from 1985-03. Although still involved in many aspects of athletic department finances, his primary focus has shifted to athletic facilities. He deals with new construction, renovations, and maintenance of the facilities and grounds. He also supervises event management and event promotions.

Ricketts is an Anderson, SC native who spent nine years working for Clemson in auditing and accounting departments. During these nine years, one of his main duties was the audit for the athletic department. He worked in the University's financial management division in accounting control and payroll benefits between 1976 and 1977, then worked in the internal auditing division and as an auditor between 1977 and 1980. In 1980, Ricketts was named an audit supervisor, a position he held until February of 1985.

Ricketts earned an associate arts degree from Anderson College in 1969, and a business administration degree from Erskine College in 1971. After his graduation from Erskine, he entered merchandise management with the J.C. Penney Company of Greenville and Anderson. He worked for that company from 1972-76, until he began his career with the University on May 28, 1976.

Ricketts has also completed the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky. He is a member of the College Athletic Business Managers' Association and the Institute of Internal Auditors.

Ricketts and his wife, Kathey, have a son, Chesley, and a daughter, Lindsey. His wife is employed in the Payroll/Benefits Office at Clemson.

John Seketa

Assistant AD • Promotions

John Seketa and his staff of student workers are responsible for the atmosphere at Clemson sporting events. This involves the coordination of some 120 events during the course of a year, including, on occasion, five events a day.

Now is his 19th year, Seketa is also involved in the promotion and management of all home NCAA and ACC Tournaments at Clemson. He has worked 37 NCAA Championships, 10 ACC Championships, three National Invitation Tournaments, and three South Carolina High School Football title games. In 2004, he was the recipient of the ACC Basketball Officials Association Fred Barakat Award for outstanding service and dedication to the ACC and its basketball officials.

Prior to arriving in Clemson, Seketa was the promotions director at Eastern Illinois University where he promoted all sports. In 1985, he staged a Make-Believe TV Football Game between Eastern Illinois and Western Illinois with ESPN, which was cited in the New York Times.

Seketa is a 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. After receiving his Bachelor's degree in business administration, his work in athletics began at Western Illinois, where he attended graduate school followed by an internship at the University of Illinois.

Bobby Skelton

Ticket Manager

Bobby Skelton is in his first season as Clemson's ticket manager - his eighth year in the Clemson ticket office and his 18th year as a Clemson University employee. He is no stranger to Clemson or the athletic department. A native of Clemson, he graduated from Daniel High School in 1976. Skelton claimed MVP honors in track twice and in cross country once. He earned Daniel's Sportsmanship Award in basketball and also competed in football. Following his high school graduation, Skelton played soccer at Southern Wesleyan for two years, then transferred to Clemson in 1978, where he earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1980.

From 1983-86, Skelton served as head basketball coach at his high school alma mater, leading the Lions to two consecutive conference titles. He was also named conference coach-of-the-year in his first season. During his three-year coaching stint with the Lions, Skelton posted a 50-24 record.

Skelton returned to Clemson as a graduate assistant basketball coach in 1986 to pursue a master's degree, then was named an assistant to the athletic director for basketball operations in 1990. He remained in that position until 1996, thereafter he was named the assistant ticket manager.

Skelton is married to the former Joy Davis of Orangeburg, SC. They have two daughters, Ashley (19) and Sarah Jo (11). Ashley is a sophomore at Clemson and Sarah Jo is a sixth-grader at Edwards Middle School.

Alphonso Smith

Equipment Manager

Alphonso Smith is in his 10th year as head equipment manager for football, and in his sixth year overseeing all equipment operations. Smith served as a basketball manager during his undergraduate and graduate years at Clemson (1985-92). He was a member of the staff of Clemson's only ACC regular season championship team in history (1990). He also served as a graduate assistant in 1992. Smith worked as assistant equipment supervisor at the University of Memphis for three years. His responsibilities were assisting with football and he was in charge of men's and women's basketball, women's golf, men's and women's track.

Smith is a 1991 graduate of Clemson University and he earned his degree in social science secondary education. He is a member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association. Smith is married to the former Kim Teel of Omaha, NE. They have a son, Andrué Christopher.

Lynn Sparks

Director of Sales

Lynn Sparks is in her fifth year as Clemson's Director of Athletic Ticket Sales. She began her employment in this area of the athletic department in April, 2000, but has worked for the department for 12 years. She is involved in developing advertising and marketing plans to increase sales on a season and single-event basis for football and basketball. She also coordinates marketing and promotion of group sales for football and basketball, and oversees the gameday and pregame operations of the executive suites. She also sells advertisements for the gameday football programs.

Sparks began her career in Clemson athletics in the football office as an administrative assistant from 1992-99, working for three different head coaches.

The native of Greenwood, SC attended Clemson from 1974-76 and graduated from Winthrop in 1977 with a degree in psychology. Sparks and her husband Ron reside in Seneca.

Gary Wade

Assistant AD • Facilities

Gary Wade is in his eighth year as the Assistant AD for Facilities, but is in his 20th year with the Clemson Athletic Department. Wade began his career in college athletics as the assistant strength coach at the University of Nebraska from 1976 to 1979 while working on his undergraduate degree in education and his graduate degree in exercise physiology. Working with Boyd Epley, Director of Nebraska's Husker Power Program, and the Nebraska Strength Training Staff, Wade became one of the founding members of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

In 1980, at age 24, he became the Detroit Lions' first strength and conditioning coach. During his five seasons in the NFL, the Lions went to the playoffs twice and won the NFC Central in 1983. He received much credit for the Lions' immediate improvement as Head Coach Monte Clark took pride in Wade's work and results on the field.

In his 12 years in strength training at Clemson, 11 of his assistants became head strength and conditioning coaches at the collegiate or NFL level.

Wade, who was born in Nebraska City, NE, earned 10 varsity letters at Weeping Water High. He was all-conference in football for three years and was second-team all-state as a senior. He is married to the former Andrée Langlais.

Linda White

Associate AD • Senior Women's Administrator

In 1993, Linda White was promoted to associate athletic director and retained her title as Senior Women's Administrator. White represents Clemson at all university, conference and NCAA functions in the role of Senior Women's Administrator. She serves as chair of the ACC committee for track & field, a position she has held for 10 years, and is a member of the ACC women's basketball committee, ACC Senior Women Administrators and the Clemson Area Sports Council.

White represents the athletic department at NCAA events, submits bids to host NCAA events, and coordinates the events if Clemson is awarded a bid. She has managed 24 NCAA events and 10 ACC Championships. She also structured and implemented the department's new athletic team travel policy.

White directly supervises women's basketball, volleyball, and track & field. She also monitors the athletic department's special events and textbook programs, coordinates the courtesy car program, and assists in the hiring of Olympic sports coaches.

White came to Clemson in 1986 as the head volleyball coach. She had a record of 138-81 in eight years, including six straight 20-win years. She coached at least one All-ACC player five of her six years, while two of her former players were named Academic All-Americans. She also coached Denise Murphy-Stadelmeir, who was named to the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1999.

Prior to her stint as volleyball coach at Clemson, White was a successful basketball and volleyball coach at Wando High School in Mount Pleasant, SC for 14 years. In 1982, she was named National Volleyball Coach-of-the-Year by the National High School Coaches Association.

In 2003, she was named as South Carolina's Pathfinder Award winner for contributions in athletics. In the media's 30-year review of Title IX, she was recognized as one of the 10 women who made an impact in South Carolina.

White earned her undergraduate degree from Winthrop. She earned an M.E. in administration and supervision from Clemson in May, 1988. She is married to Roger White. They have one child, Slater Martin White (6). Their daughter, Lucia, lost her life in an auto accident in 1995.

Bert Henderson

IPTAY Executive Director

Bert Henderson's Clemson career began in 1978 as a trainer. Throughout his time at Clemson, he has become comfortable in any situation, whether it is wrapping ankles or raising money for IPTAY. Before officially beginning his administrative career, Henderson served as a trainer on the 1981 National Championship team.

His administrative tenure at Clemson began when he served as business manager and trainer for Bill Foster's basketball teams (1982-84). Henderson's duties included the team's travel arrangements and special needs. In 1984, he moved to Clemson's Alumni Center as a field agent. While there, he set up visiting team headquarters, and managed Clemson Alumni and Clemson Club meetings. In addition, he initiated the umbrella structure for which all alumni and athletic activities take place.

In 1985, Henderson became IPTAY's first associate executive secretary. He headed the athletic department's first-ever capital campaign and continues his fundraising activities with the WestZone project. While at IPTAY, he has also negotiated some of the largest cash donations in Clemson University history and the first million-dollar gift to IPTAY.

He has enhanced and helped develop the bar code data system for IPTAY as well as the technical communication of the new database. In addition, Henderson has expanded the Life Membership program, and secured numerous endowments and naming opportunities for Clemson University. Dean and Ann Coleman honored Henderson in 2001 when they endowed a trainer's position in his name.

Henderson's duties at IPTAY currently include overseeing day-to-day activities, and the execution and implementation of strategic plans set forth by IPTAY's Board of Directors and the Clemson University athletic department. He provides leadership in life memberships, planned giving, real estate, and trust funds.

He coordinates the Orange & White, IPTAY's official publication, and advises IPTAY's Collegiate Club for students, the Tiger Cub, and CATS programs. He has overseen the Collegiate Club, which now has over 5,000 student members, since its inception. Henderson is a member of the university's development staff, and coordinates athletics and university fundraising efforts together. Henderson's service to Clemson includes 12 years as an instructor in the education department. He also served as co-host of the Tiger Tailgate Show for four years.

Henderson graduated from Mars Hill in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in physical education and health. He earned a master's of education in administration and supervision from Clemson in 1980. Henderson is professionally associated with the National Society for Fundraising Executives, Tiger Brotherhood, and is a South Carolina State Constable. He is married to Lee Ann Hudson, and they have two daughters, Amy Lee and Kimberly.

Bob Mahony

IPTAY Associate Executive Director

Bob Mahony has been with IPTAY as an associate executive director since 1989. A 1976 Clemson graduate with a degree in building construction, he began his business career in Columbia with Bagnal Builders. Mahony walked-on to the Tiger baseball team as a righthanded pitcher in 1974, but was later awarded a scholarship from Bill Wilhelm. In 1976, he was co-captain of a team that won the ACC regular-season and tourney titles, and later went on to the College World Series. He spent a short time in the Baltimore Orioles' organization and has continued his close contact with baseball, providing color commentary for baseball on the Tigers' radio network since 1989.

Mahony's duties with IPTAY include working with current and prospective donors at all levels. He is involved in the sale of club seats and the capital campaign for the WestZone project. He coordinates the efforts of more than 700 IPTAY representatives located throughout the country who assist the IPTAY staff in servicing donors at the local level. He also coordinates Clemson Club meetings throughout the country for coaches and staff. He is responsible for coordinating the meetings of the IPTAY Board of Directors and many of the day-to-day operations of IPTAY.

Mahony is the staff advisor for the Clemson FCA Huddle and active in Tiger Brotherhood, The Clemson Rotary Club, and Clemson Presbyterian Church. He was honored in 2000 when Bill and Elaine Howler endowed the pitching position in his name.

He and his wife, Robin, a 1976 Clemson graduate, have two daughters, Allison, a 2004 Clemson graduate, and Marion, who will be a sophomore at Clemson this fall. His two brothers and father have Clemson degrees as well. He has two nephews who will be attending Clemson in the fall, one a junior and the other a freshman. His mother was the 1981 Tiger Brotherhood Mother-of-the Year, the year the Clemson football program won its first and only national championship.

Rob Stephenson

IPTAY Assistant Executive Director

Rob Stephenson is a new face in the IPTAY office, however many Clemson fans recognize him from his four years on the sidelines at football games as a Tiger cheerleader. He is following in the footsteps of recently retired IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett, who was also a head cheerleader at Clemson during his undergraduate days during the early 1950s.

The Rock Hill, SC native earned his degree in PRTM from Clemson in 1998, with an emphasis in sports management. Following graduation, he spent two years with the Greenville Grrrowl of the East Coast Hockey League and later went on to work with the Atlanta Thrashers of the NHL. While in Atlanta, Stephenson also spent time with the Atlanta Beat of the Women's United Soccer Association and the Atlanta Braves in ticket sales, promotions, and guest relations.

His current duties include directing the IPTAY Collegiate Club, the IPTAY Student Advisory Board, and the IPTAY Young Alumni program. He is also assisting with the IPTAY Representative program, the WestZone project, and other IPTAY marketing efforts.

Charlie Bussey

Tiger Lettermen's Association Coordinator

Charlie Bussey started his career at Clemson in 1953 under the legendary Frank Howard. He quarterbacked the 1957 Orange Bowl team and was Clemson's first Academic All-American. While at Clemson, he was a member of Tiger Brotherhood and Blue Key.

After graduation, he served in the Air Force as a pilot instructor. His business career included positions with Laurens Glass, Louis Batson Company, and Palmetto Chemicals. Bussey was also the athletic director at Louisiana Tech.

Bussey has served Clemson in many varied areas, including president of IPTAY, president of the Tiger Lettermen's Association, and committee member of the Commission for the Future of Clemson. He is a member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and serves on the board of directors of the Clemson Corps, a group whose mission is to preserve the military heritage of Clemson University.

Bussey was a recipient of the 2003 Alumni Distinguished Award. As coordinator of Tiger Lettermen's Association activities, he conducts reunions, including the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame. Charlie and his wife, Joyce, have three daughters, Pam, Laurie, and Jennie, all Clemson graduates. Their grandchildren are all sustaining Tiger Cubs (Lauren, Ben, Jill, Meg, Blake, Hope, Davis).

IPTAY is widely regarded as the father of athletic fundraising. The IPTAY Scholarship Fund traces its roots to the 1930s. Dr. Rupert Fike is credited with being the originator of IPTAY, but the seed that Dr. Fike needed for his now much-envied group was planted there by then Head Coach Jess Neely.

On October 16, 1931, Clemson suffered a surprising 6-0 loss against The Citadel in a game played in Florence, SC. After the game, Captain Frank J. Jervey, Head Coach Jess Neely, assistant coach Joe Davis and Captain Pete Heffner of the university military staff met in a car outside the stadium to discuss ways Clemson could help its football program get back on track. The meeting started the ball rolling towards the establishment of the IPTAY Foundation. Clemson would score just three touchdowns and win just one game during the 1931 season.

Soon Fike came into the picture through correspondence with Jervey. Jervey wanted to form the "50 ($50) Club" but Fike wanted a smaller amount, which he thought, would mean more members and more money. Neely believed that if he could get $10,000 a year, he could give the Clemson fans a winning football team.

Then in 1934, Dr. Fike wrote his now famous letter to Neely, stating "Last night we had a little meeting at our house and organized the IPTAY club." So began Clemson's athletic support group, which in those days, stood for "I Pay Ten A Year." At that time, the purpose of IPTAY was "to provide annual financial support to the athletic department at Clemson, and to assist in every way possible to regain for Clemson the high athletic standing which rightfully belongs to her."

The organization was first established as a secret organization and initial membership dues were set at $10 a year (I Pay Ten A Year). A little more than $1,600 came into the coffers the first year of IPTAY, even in the heart of the Great Depression. Some payments were made in the form of barter. Milk, sweet potatoes, turnip greens and the like were accepted in the initial efforts to build membership.

The excitement about the organization carried over into the 1934 season and the Tigers ran to their first winning season since 1930. Clemson had gone

0-5-1 against Furman and South Carolina in those years, then defeated both teams in 1934. The fruits of the labor really began to pay off in 1938, said former Clemson publicist Joe Sherman. In 1938, Clemson went 8-1-1 and the following season, Neely coached Clemson to its first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, where the Tigers capped a 9-1 season by beating Boston College and Hall of Fame Coach Frank Leahy 6-3. Clemson ended the season ranked #12 in the final Associated Press poll, its first top-20 season in history. Boston College was ranked #11 going into the contest and it was Clemson's first win over a top-20 team in school history.

With over 22,000 members in the 2004 fiscal year, the organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 19 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA. IPTAY donors have contributed over $175 million since the inception of IPTAY.

While the basic principles of IPTAY outlined in 1934 remain the same, the scope of IPTAY has grown tremendously over the years. Not only does this unique organization provide for athletic scholarships, but it is a key toward building and maintaining the outstanding facilities that are essential for Clemson University to remain as one of the top intercollegiate athletic programs in the United States.

The 1983 construction of the upper deck on Memorial Stadium's north side and recent renovations were made possible by IPTAY.

In recent years, IPTAY has broadened its scope by building and renovating facilities that can be used by the entire Clemson University family - students, faculty, and administrators. In 1991, IPTAY funded the construction of a 27,000-square-foot facility to accommodate student-athletes' extended schedules and needs. When this facility, Vickery Hall, opened in 1991, it was the first support facility in the nation built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. Even today, Vickery Hall and its programs are completely supported by funds from IPTAY.

The organization is also responsible for the installation of lights for the intramural athletic fields on campus, band uniforms and travel costs and a variety of other amenities enjoyed by students not on athletic scholarship. IPTAY provided funds for the hangar at the airport used for the university's planes.

Under the leadership of George Bennett, IPTAY kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program in April, 1994 at the 85th birthday celebration for former Frank Howard. The first endowment honored Howard, who coached at Clemson for 39 years, including 30 as head coach.

The mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked by IPTAY either. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, helping more than 45 students.

IPTAY, under the guidance of its Board of Directors, is continuously making improvements and adding programs to enhance the organization and university. In recent years, some of the most impressive changes have been the addition of the Tiger Cub Club, IPTAY CATS (Clemson Active Teen Support), IPTAY Collegiate Club, and the Tiger Pride Campaign. It is now focused on the WestZone Club, the fundraising effort to greatly enhance Memorial Stadium's West Endzone, and the construction of a "One Clemson" museum, which will document the history of the university and its athletic program.

IPTAY is expecting even more growth in the coming years and its members track record of loyalty and generosity is well documented. The growth of the organization owes a large gratitude to Bennett, who retired from the executive director position in 2004. His over 25 years of service to IPTAY in two different eras was recognized in June, when he was honored with a Lifetime Service Award by NACDA.

Baseball

Head Coach Jack Leggett recorded his 500th win at Clemson when the Tigers defeated N.C. State 9-6 on April 25. Clemson reached the NCAA Tournament for the 18th consecutive year, the third-longest active streak in the nation. The team narrowly missed a trip to the Super Regional when it lost to host Georgia by one run in 10 innings in the final game. Clemson had overcome a seven-run deficit in the first game against the Bulldogs, the greatest comeback by a Tiger baseball team in an NCAA Tournament game since 1958. Sophomore Kris Harvey was a First-Team All-ACC selection. The versatile player hit .335 for the season and was undefeated as a pitcher with a 6-0 record. All-American Brad McCann finished with a team-leading .379 batting average, 16 homers, and 65 RBIs, and was named a third-team All-American. Patrick Hogan became the third pitcher in Clemson history to record at least 10 saves in one year. A record nine Tigers were selected in the 2004 Major League draft, led by junior left-hander Tyler Lumsden, the 34th overall pick.

Basketball (Men's)

First-year Head Coach Oliver Purnell led the men's basketball team to victories over two teams ranked in the top 15 during the 2003-04 season. Clemson defeated #12 North Carolina at home on January 31 thanks to an 11-13 shooting performance from behind the three-point line. The feat set a school record for three-point, field-goal percentage and is sixth best in NCAA history. The mark was also the best performance by any team in the nation for 2003-04. The Tigers played their most difficult schedule in school history, but managed to post wins over four teams (Boston College, East Tennessee State, North Carolina, N.C. State) that received bids to the 2004 NCAA Tournament. Clemson's strength of schedule was ranked second hardest in the country by the Sagarin ratings and the RPI listed it as sixth-toughest. The Tigers were led in both scoring and rebounding by junior Sharrod Ford. He ranked second in the ACC in blocked shots and sixth in rebounding, and was an Honorable Mention All-ACC Defensive team selection.

Basketball (Women's)

The Clemson women's basketball team had four landmark victories during the 2003-04 season. Clemson opened with a thrilling overtime victory over South Carolina, then defeated #15 Rutgers the following week. The Lady Tigers won the program's 550th overall game with an 87-75 victory over Western Kentucky on December 13, and defeated Coastal Carolina 84-65 on December 29 to record their 300th victory in Littlejohn Coliseum. Head Coach Jim Davis guided the Lady Tigers to their 16th postseason appearance in the last 17 years with a berth in the 2004 Women's National Invitational Tournament. Senior Lakeia Stokes led the team with First-Team All-ACC and Region II WBCA/Kodak All-America honors. Kanetra Queen received a 2004 Weaver-James-Corrigan Postgraduate Scholarship, given to student-athletes who show outstanding achievements in their respective sports as well as in the classroom and in the community.

Football

The Clemson football team finished the 2003 season ranked #22 in the final Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches' polls after posting victories in its final four games, including two over top-10 teams. The Tigers, who finished 9-4, defeated #3 Florida State 26-10 on November 8, the highest-ranked team Clemson has ever beaten in football. The team's second top-10 win came over #6 Tennessee on January 2 in the Peach Bowl by a score of 27-14. That was the highest-ranked team Clemson has beaten in a bowl game since 1981. Clemson had three top-25 wins overall, including an overtime win against Virginia. It was the first time since 1989 that Clemson had three top-25 wins in the same year. Head Coach Tommy Bowden collected many honors, as he was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year for the second time in his five-year tenure at Clemson. He was also a finalist for the Bear Bryant Award.

Rowing (Women's)

The Clemson rowing team finished sixth in the South Region to end its 2004 campaign. The Varsity 8+, coached by Susie Lueck, earned a third-place finish at the ACC Championships at Lake Hartwell. Juniors Mary Nell Green and Robin Mescher were named to the All-ACC team. Green was also named to the All-Region team by the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association, the 12th Clemson rower selected in the program's six years. Novice coach Kelly Lynch earned her second consecutive South Region Assistant Coach of the Year award after guiding the Novice 8+ to the South Region title. Rowers Ashlee Brown, Sarah Canterbury, Green, Lizzie Noll and Jaclyn Rath were named National Scholar Athletes by the CRCA.

Golf (Men's)

The Clemson golf team won the ACC Championship and the NCAA East Regional Championship for the second consecutive year. Clemson shot an ACC Tournament school record 27-under-par in winning the league tournament, then shot a tournament best 277 on the final day to win the East Regional. Matt Hendrix won the Puerto Rico Classic and the Augusta State Invitational, and finished with a top 15-final ranking. Jack Ferguson finished second at the ACC Tournament and had a team best 10 top-20 finishes. Both golfers were named second-team All-Americans. The Tigers were ranked second as a team in the final Sagarin Computer ranking and finished 18th at the NCAA Championships, the 19th top-25 finish for Larry Penley's program. That tied a Clemson coaching record for top-25 finishes in a career. Penley, the ACC Coach-of-the-Year, was inducted into the College Golf Hall of Fame in January, the first coach in Tiger history to be inducted into a Hall of Fame while still an active coach.

Soccer (Men's)

Head Coach Trevor Adair recorded his 150th career victory when the team defeated Richmond 1-0 to open the 2003 season on August 29. He enters the 2004 season with 158 total wins, including a victory over #6 North Carolina in Chapel Hill last season. The Tigers upset the Tar Heels 1-0 on a first-half goal by All-ACC player Charlie Roberts. Senior Kenneth Cutler had three goals and three assists in 2003 and was named First-Team All-ACC. He was also a National Soccer Coaches Athletic Association Third-Team All-South selection along with senior defender Chase Hilgenbrinck. The NSCAA also rewarded Clemson's efforts in the classroom with a Team Academic Award. The men's soccer program posted a 3.11 GPA for the semester and had 15 student-athletes on the Academic Honor Roll in the spring.

Soccer (Women's)

Todd Bramble's women's soccer team received four All-ACC selections in the 2003 season. Allison Graham earned first-team honors and was also a National Soccer Coaches Athletic Association All-Southeast Region selection. Courtney Foster earned Second-Team All-ACC and Second-Team NSCAA All-Southeast Region honors. Her 13 goals ranked third in the ACC, as she earned Soccer America Freshman All-America honors. Paige Ledford was also named Second-Team All-ACC and was a third-team all-region selection after scoring two goals and assisting five others. Allison Mitchell earned the Lady Tigers' fourth All-ACC honor with a second-team selection. The ACC also awarded her with a 2004 Weaver-James-Corrigan Postgraduate Scholarship for her performance in the classroom and on the playing field, as well as her involvement in the community. As a team, Clemson had notable wins over #5 Virginia on November 1 and #9 Duke on October 24. The program received an NCAA Tournament bid for the 10th-straight year and had a #17 final ranking by Soccer America, the 10th-straight year at least one poll has ranked the Lady Tigers in the final top 25.

Swimming & Diving (Men's)

The men's swimming & diving team established a school record for victories in a season with its 13-2-1 record. That included a school record 9-0-1 mark away from home. Mark Henly's 15th place finish in the 200m backstroke earned him an All-America Honorable Mention and helped earned the Tigers a tie for 35th place in the country. He was also an All-ACC selection after winning the 200m backstroke in a school-record time. Eric Shulick won the one-meter diving competition at the ACC Championships, and he set a Clemson record in the event at the NCAA Zone B Diving Regional. The team was also named an Academic All-America team by the College Swimming Coaches Association of America, led by Tommy Rappold's selection to the 2004 Academic All-America Men's At-Large Second-Team for his 4.0 GPA in computer information systems.

Swimming & Diving (Women's)

The 10 victories recorded by the women's swimming & diving team were the most by the program since the 1988 season. The team was represented by two swimmers at the 2004 NCAA Championships and finished in a tie for 39th place in the country. Senior Kim Cober finished 37th overall in the 1500m free and Kim Routh placed 15th in the same event for Honorable Mention All-America honors. Diver Jessica Watcke also set a Clemson record in the one-meter diving competition on October 13 against South Carolina. Second-year Head Coach Chris Ip's team was named an Academic All-America team for 2004 by the College Swimming Coaches Association of America.

Women's tennis standout Julie Coin was the ACC Player-of-the-Year and reached the Final Four of the NCAA Singles Tournament.

Tennis (Men's)

The men's tennis team finished the 2004 season with a 26-12 overall record, the most wins in a season since 1986. Clemson was the runner-up in the ACC Tournament and the team received its 21st invitation to the NCAA Tournament under Head Coach Chuck Kries. The team reached the quarterfinals for the first time since 1986. The key victory during the NCAA run was a second-round win at #6 Duke by a 4-3 score. Clemson also defeated a top-10 Texas Christian team at the NCAA Tournament in Tulsa, OK. The doubles team of Jarmaine Jenkins and Nathan Thompson defeated three top-25 teams, including the #1 team in the country from Rice, en route to the semifinals of the NCAA Doubles Tournament. The duo earned All-America honors for its performance in the NCAA Tournament and was also named to the All-ACC team.

Tennis (Women's)

The 2004 Clemson women's tennis season could be considered the best ever by a Clemson women's team, as they were the first in school history to reach the Final Four in any NCAA Tournament in any sport. The team's #5 final national ranking was also the highest in the history of the program. The team won the ACC regular-season and tournament titles after going undefeated in conference matches (8-0). Daniela Alvarez, Maria Brito, and Julie Coin earned All-ACC honors and Coin was the Player-of-the-Year. In the NCAA Singles Tournament, Coin advanced to the semifinals before falling to the eventual champion from Stanford. Coin posted upsets over the #2 and #8-seeded players en route to her All-America performance. The native of France completed the season with a 32-9 overall record and her 35 victories in doubles play set a Clemson record for doubles wins in a season. Teamed with Brito, Coin reached the Round of 16 in the 2004 NCAA Doubles Tournament and won the 2003-04 ITA Southeast Region Doubles Championship. The pair is the first doubles team in Clemson history to claim the title.

Track & Field (Men's)

The highlight of the 2004 Tiger track & field team was capturing the ACC Outdoor Championships with a conference-record 224-point scoring total. It was the Tigers' 11th outdoor crown and ninth under 16th-year Head Coach Bob Pollock.

Sixteen Tigers earned All-ACC honors and Clemson scored in every event in which it was entered. Clemson was also runner-up at the ACC Indoor Championships held at Clemson's new indoor track facility. Junior George Kitchens earned All-America honors in the long jump and sophomore Roy Cheney was an All-American in the 60m hurdles. Outdoor, Kitchens once again earned the All-America accolade, placing eighth in the long jump to become Clemson's first two-time outdoor All-American in that event.

Track & Field (Women's)

The Lady Tigers brought home All-America honors in the 4x400m relay indoor and the triple jump outdoor during the 2004 season. Junior Gisele Oliveira continued to set the standard for the conference and Clemson in the triple jump, re-setting her own conference and school-record mark in the event under the guidance of fourth-year Head Coach Marcia Noad. She placed third in the triple jump outdoor for the second consecutive year and also excelled in the classroom, earning first-team Academic All-America honors. The Lady Tigers' 4x400m relay team placed eighth at the NCAA Indoor Championships, earning Randi Hinton, Shakirah Rutherford, Christina Smith, and Silja Ulfarsdottir All-America honors. Clemson also placed third at the ACC Indoor Championships, its highest finish since 2001.

Volleyball (Women's)

The 2003 Clemson volleyball team had two players named to All-ACC teams and advanced to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament. Leslie Finn was named First-Team All-ACC and First-Team AVCA All-East Region after recording 568 kills and leading the conference with a 4.39 kills-per-game average. The junior's 31 kills against Maryland on October 31 are third most in Clemson history for kills in a match. Junior Lori Ashton also earned an all-region honors with an honorable mention and Liz Beckham was named to the conference's All-Freshman team.

Clemson Tiger Sports Network

The Clemson Tiger Sports Network supplies Tiger fans with a full day of broadcast each football Saturday. Each broadcast day has three programs, "Tiger Tailgate Show," "Game Day Broadcast," and the "Fifth Quarter Show."

A tradition since the 1970s, the "Tiger Tailgate Show" is a two-hour entertainment and interactive program produced from the stadium. It is produced on the lawn (at the corner) closest to Death Valley.

The program begins three hours prior to kickoff. Bubba Britton, Duane Evans, Don Munson, and Whitney Walters play host to the show. It is the gathering place on gameday. Interviews with former Clemson players, games, display items, and pregame excitement are all part of the program.

The game broadcast is anchored by Pete Yanity. The sports director at WSPA-TV in Spartanburg, SC took over in September, 2003 after the passing of Jim Phillips on September 9, who had been the longtime voice of the Tigers since 1968. Yanity has been a part of the broadcast team since 2001 as the host of the pregame, halftime, and postgame shows, and as the sideline reporter during games.

Yanity has been the sports director at WSPA-TV in Spartanburg the last 14 years. He has also been a sideline analyst for eight years on Carolina Panther preseason football games and has considerable play-by-play experience for Comcast Sports Southeast, covering various college events, including Clemson football and baseball. Yanity is also the voice of Clemson basketball and the host of the Tommy Bowden and Oliver Purnell coaches shows.

Joining Yanity in the broadcast booth is former Clemson offensive lineman Will Merritt, who played for the Tigers from 1998-01. He was a starter in 2000 and 2001 when he was named Second-Team All-ACC.

Merritt worked on the Clemson radio network pregame and postgame shows in 2002. He also provided color commentary on the television tape-delay broadcasts of selected 2002 games. In 2003, he became the color analyst of the gameday broadcasts. The native of Easley, SC is the host of "The Morning Drive," a sports talk show that airs from 6:00 AM to 9:00 AM each morning on WCCP (104.9 FM) in Clemson.

Former Clemson Academic All-American linebacker Chad Carson completes the broadcast team as the sideline commentator. Carson served in that capacity for the final two games of 2003. Carson is fifth in Clemson history in career tackles and was a starter on Tommy Bowden's first three Tiger teams.

As has been the case in the past, the gameday broadcast begins with the Tommy Bowden Pregame Show. Bowden meets with Clemson Sports Information Director Tim Bourret to provide Clemson fans with the latest lineup and strategy information. Yanity and Merritt also provide a last-minute scene-setter that will include the latest lineup and weather information.

After the game, fans can tune into the "Fifth Quarter Show," hosted by Ralph Patterson and Munson, or attend the show live from the Wild Wing Cafe in downtown Greenville, SC. Interviews with Coach Bowden and Assistant Coaches Brad Scott and John Lovett are also included. An added feature includes lockerroom interviews with Clemson's top players that day. A rundown of the game stats and audio highlights are provided.

Fans can follow the Tigers by listening to "Tiger Calls," hosted live on location by Mike Hudson ('84) of Roper Ford in Seneca and Herb Tyler ('82) of the Chick-fil-A of Seneca. This one-hour program with Bowden and Don Munson airs live each Thursday evening from 7:00 PM to 8:00 PM.

Broadcast Team

Pete Yanity Play-By-Play Announcer

- Named the play-by-play announcer after the sudden passing of Jim Phillips on September 9, 2003. Phillips was the Voice of the Tigers for 36 years.
- In his third year with the network. He served as sideline commentator during 2002.

- Other duties include being sports director at WSPA-TV (Spartanburg/Greenville) since 1990, sideline work on the Panthers' preseason television network, and play-by-play and color analysis on selected games on Comcast/Charter Sports Southeast.
- 1985 graduate of Ohio University.
- Married to wife Kelly. The couple has two children, Paige and Trey.

Will Merritt Color Commentator

- In his third year and second as color commentator.
- Worked the pregame and postgame shows in 2002, his first fall out of school.
- Provided color commentary on tape-delay broadcasts of selected Clemson games in 2002.

- Host of "The Morning Drive," a sports talk show that airs from 6:00 AM to 9:00 AM each morning on WCCP (104.9 FM) in Clemson.
- All-ACC offensive guard at Clemson (1998-01).
- Member of All-ACC Academic team for three seasons.
- 2000 graduate of Clemson University.
- Married to wife Melissa. The couple has a new-born daughter, Reagan.

Chad Carson Sideline Commentator

- In his first full year with the network as sideline commentator. Provided that role in 2003 for the South Carolina game that ended the regular season and the Tennessee game in the Peach Bowl.
- Three-time academic All-American under Tommy Bowden as a starting linebacker from 1999-01. Earned Second-team All-ACC honors in 1999 and First-Team All-ACC honors in 2001. He joins Kyle Young as the only three-time Academic All-Americans in Clemson football history.

- Finalist for a Rhodes Scholarship in 2001, the only Division I scholarship football player who made the final top 100. He was also the recipient of a 2001 Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholarship from the ACC.
- He was Clemson's top tackler in 2000,01, as he finished his career fifth in school history in tackles (448). He started every game (36) his final three seasons.
- Works in the real estate field.

National Rankings

While Clemson fans are proud of the 21 seasons their football teams have been ranked in the final top 25 in the country, Clemson University also has many other impressive national rankings in a variety of academic disciplines in recent years. Below is a list of some noteworthy rankings.

Clemson University Rankings

- #1 Public College-of-the-Year by Time Magazine, 2001
- #1 (tie) in proportion of African-American students who graduate in engineering among non-historically black colleges (Black Issues in Higher Education, 2003)
- #1 (tie) for number of students who earned a Goldwater Scholarship in 2004
- #2 in the South and #20 in the nation for the Clemson University School of Architecture in a poll of leading architecture firms and the editors of Design Intelligence, a monthly newsletter published by the Design Futures Council
- #6 in Writing Programs That Work (U.S. News & World Report Best Colleges, 2002)
- #17 among NCAA schools that play Division I football in terms of difficulty of acceptance (52 percent) (U.S. News & World Report, 2004)
- #19 environmental engineering & science program (U.S. News & World Report Best Graduate Programs, 2005)
- #23 among the top-25 most wired college and university campuses, and "one of the top public schools in the country" (The Princeton Review, 2003)
- #25 among NCAA schools that play Division I football in graduation rate for all students (72 percent) (U.S. News & World Report, 2004)
- #28 among national public universities that play Division I football (U.S. News & World Report, 2004)
- #30 industrial engineering program (U.S. News & World Report Best Graduate Programs, 2005)
- #33 in number of National Merit Scholarships (public universities) according to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation in its 2000-01 report.
- 35th among national public universities (U.S. News & World Report, 2004)
- #37 biomedical/bioengineering program (U.S. News & World Report Best Graduate Programs, 2005)

2004 TIGERS

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955, Clemson became a civilian co-educational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1,400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U.S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson, and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

The Clemson Education

- U.S. News & World Report ranked Clemson the leading national university in South Carolina (by 20 positions) and #35 among the nation's top public universities. The university's goal is to be one of the top-20 public universities in the nation.
- Clemson features a diverse curriculum; there are 80 undergraduate degree programs and 100 graduate degrees.
- Average class size is 31 students.
- Clemson's five different colleges include: Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences; Architecture, Arts, and Humanities; Business and Behavioral Science;

- The Calhoun Honors College strives to enrich the educational experience of highly-motivated, academically-talented students by providing opportunities for scholarship and research not ordinarily available to undergraduates. Established in 1962, Calhoun College is the oldest honors program in South Carolina.
- Clemson University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the bachelor's, master's, specialist, and doctoral degrees.
- Kiplinger's Magazine ranks Clemson #20 among public institutions in its roundup of institutions providing a top-quality education at reasonable prices. The editor also picked Clemson as one of the top public institutions providing the best education dollar for dollar.
- Five programs within the College of Engineering and Science are among the nation's top 50 according to the 2005 edition of U.S. News & World Report guide to graduate programs.
- Clemson's six-year graduation rate is 72 percent, 20 points higher than the national average for public universities.
- The Program for Educational Enrichment and Retention (PEER) helped bring Clemson's graduation rate of African-American engineering students to the highest in the nation among predominantly non-historically black schools.

- Clemson's College of Engineering and Science grants more than two-thirds of all engineering degrees in South Carolina and enrolls nearly 75 percent of the state's engineering students.

The Clemson Experience

- Whether its walking to the Hendrix Center to have a milkshake, or taking a stroll through the State's Botanical Gardens, or even taking part in a pickup basketball game at Fike Recreation Center, there are plenty of activities for Clemson students when they are not in the classroom.
- Clemson has more than 230 student organizations active on campus, including 23 social fraternities and 14 social sororities. There are organizations related to every course of study, groups such as the Accounting Club and the American Institute of Architects. For students who enjoy writing or photography, The Tiger, the campus newspaper, TAPS, the university yearbook, and the Chronicle, the student variety magazine, are available.
- Located in the University Union are the offices of the student government. Student government gives students the opportunity to influence campus policy.
- Fike Recreation Center, which just completed a renovation and expansion project, has a host of opportunities for students to let off steam through physical activity. Inside Fike is an eight-lane swimming pool, a diving tank, two gyms used for basketball and other activities, various weight-lifting facilities, and room for aerobics. Outside Fike are several spacious fields used for the extensive intramural program and for student enjoyment. There are indoor and lighted outdoor tennis courts across the street at the Hoke Sloan Tennis Center.

The Clemson Facilities

- Opened in January 2000, the Hendrix Student Center is a 108,000 square-foot facility in the heart of Clemson's campus that contains a convenience store, food court, movie theater, hair salon, coffee shop, copy shop, and telecommunications center. The center has 15,000 square feet of meeting rooms and a 2,600 square-foot student lounge. The student center also is the home of the Office of Career Services and Placement, the multicultural affairs department, the student bookstore, the student media, and the University Union.
- The main University library, Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, is situated in the center of campus. The library has become one of the national leaders in automated information retrieval. Its bibliographic records are accessible from anywhere in the world, easing the task of finding information in its collections, which total more than 1.7 million items. Numerous periodical indexes are housed online and available for automated searching. The collections are particularly strong in agriculture, natural and physical sciences, economics, and technology. Of special interest are the James F. Brynes and Edgar A. Brown Rooms, which have the collections of papers of these statesmen.
- A cornerstone of the University is its computer facilities. Clemson's computer center, which supports student course work and research in all disciplines, is also used by government and industry. The center provides general computing services on a network. Remote sites housing more than 1,600 terminals and 600 microcomputers are conveniently located in many different areas of campus. International and national telephone-modem access is also available. Clemson is ranked #31 nationally for wireless computer access for students having the freedom to access the internet on notebook personal computers without a traditional connection (Intel's "Most Wired Campuses" in 2004).

All students are assigned a user identification code when they enroll, which allows them to use the various mainframe applications, such as electronic mail, job placement service, library card catalog and information databases, and housing and course registration.

The $12.5-million Robert Howell Brooks Center for the Performing Arts opened in 1994. The facility brings an exciting array of fine arts productions to the University, while working to make the arts accessible to a new and larger audience.

The Office of Career Services and Placement can help with planning and finding summer and full-time employment. The office assists in career counseling and planning, searching for a job, preparing resumés, and developing job interview strategies. Resources include staff expertise, books, videotapes, and literature provided by companies and agencies. Clemson has developed one of the best automated placement systems in the country, allowing students to research employers and sign up for interviews from any mainframe computer terminal on campus.

The Clemson Faculty

Clemson's student-to-faculty ratio of 15-to-1 gives the faculty the opportunity to interact with many of the students on a one-to-one basis. Critical thinking, problem solving, creative learning, and self-development are just a few of the characteristics emphasized in the classroom.

- The Clemson faculty includes 33 Fulbright Scholars, and 59 endowed chairs, named professorships, and alumni professorships.
- Faculty members at Clemson come from a wide range of backgrounds. Over 500 institutions of higher learning that promote excellence in teaching, research, and scholarship are represented among the Clemson faculty.
- Over 85 percent hold earned doctoral degrees, the highest degree in their field, and many have achieved special academic recognition. Many have been honored by colleagues and students as master teachers for their excellence in the classroom and by Outstanding Educators of America.

- Sixteen faculty members currently hold National Science Foundation career awards.

The Clemson Student

- In 2000, Time Magazine ranked Clemson its "Public College-of-the-Year."
- Clemson features a competitive student body, and thus a degree that has meaning. Clemson's 2003-04 entering freshman class achieved an average SAT score of 1203. This score is one of the highest ever attained by Clemson's entering students and once again leads the state's public colleges and universities.
- Since 1993, honors students have accounted for more than 10 percent of the freshman class, and 43 percent of 2003-04 incoming freshmen graduated in the top-10 percent of their high school class.
- Clemson has a mentoring program to help students prepare and compete for Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, and Fulbright Scholarships.
- Clemson's total enrollment of 15,873 represents 50 states and 95 foreign countries.
- More than 450 employers interview Clemson students on campus each year through the University's Michelin Career Center.
- The Clemson family includes a mentoring and support network of over 80,000 alumni worldwide.
- Four Clemson students received the prestigious Barry Goldwater Scholarship for Excellence in Science, Math, and Engineering in 2004. Clemson joined Harvard, Princeton, Stanford, and Virginia as the only schools in the nation with four Goldwater Scholars in 2004.

Strom Thurmond Institute

Vickery Hall

Since its inception in 1991, the five-faceted Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has provided its student-athletes a continued commitment to excellence. Our approach is to address the total student-athlete, and we are committed to coaching our student-athletes to success (C.A.T.S.) not only in the athletic arena, but in the academic, personal growth, career, and service arenas as well. As an original member of the NCAA Life Skills/CHAMPS Program, we provide opportunities and services to address the changing needs and skills of student-athletes in the years during college and after graduation.

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the "New Littlejohn Coliseum," to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's intercollegiate varsity sports have the very best in facilities for both training and competition.

Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3-million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first facility in the country constructed solely for the all-around academic support of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open all day and into the evening hours to accommodate the student-athletes' extended schedules.

The mission of Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long-term goals, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on five primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Current running back Yusef Kelly already has his undergraduate degree.

Vickery Hall

Academic Commitment

Clemson student-athletes earned a record 2.90 overall GPA, and a record 44 student-athletes were named to the President's List (4.0 GPA) for the spring semester of 2004. A record 116 student-athletes were named to the Dean's List, the sixth-straight semester at least 100 student-athletes were named to the Dean's List (3.5 GPA or better).

The 2.90 GPA broke the record of 2.85 set by the student-athletes in the 2002 spring semester. Seven athletic programs eclipsed the 3.0 mark, tied for the second-highest semester on record.

"I am thrilled to no end about this record-setting report," said Phil Grayson, Clemson's associate athletic director for student-athlete enrichment. "Being able to sustain the effort necessary to perform so well, while continuing their practice and competition schedules, is a feat that cannot be overstated. It energizes those of us who work in Vickery Hall to know that our student-athletes make academic achievement a priority."

Clemson's football program posted a 2.52 GPA for the semester, the third-highest on record. All three of the program's 2.5-or-better semesters on record have come under Head Coach Tommy Bowden. Twenty-three Tiger football players earned a 3.0 or better, including starters Cole Chason, Tony Elliott, William Henry, Justin Miller, Eric Sampson, and Charlie Whitehurst. Elliott was an Academic All-District selection this past year and was the recipient of a Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholarship from the ACC. Henry joined Miller and Elliott on the ACC's Academic All-Conference team. Henry also earned his master's degree in December of 2003, giving him two degrees in just four and a half years.

The outstanding statistics have been a habit in recent years. The cumulative GPA of the athletic teams has improved 20 of the last 26 semesters, making a steady rise from a 2.33 in 1991 to the record 2.90 in the spring of 2004.

Athletic Commitment

Clemson had another outstanding all-around sports program for the 2003-04 academic year. Ten of the 11 teams that compete in dual-meet formats had a winning record, including eight teams that had a winning percentage of 60 percent or better. Three programs (golf, men's track, women's tennis) won ACC Championships, and five programs (golf, women's soccer, football, men's tennis, and women's tennis) had top-25 final rankings.

Clemson was very successful against rival South Carolina. Clemson had a 12-3 record in head-to-head matches, meets, or games, including a 6-0 mark in women's sports. Two of the losses were in baseball, but Clemson also had two victories in that sport against the Gamecocks. Nine of the 11 sports that play head-to-head with South Carolina had a winning victory margin during the season.

One can make a case that the April 16-18, 2004 weekend was the most successful in school history. Between those dates, Clemson won Atlantic Coast Conference Championships in men's outdoor track, men's golf, and women's tennis. Additionally, the men's tennis team reached the finals of the ACC Tournament by upsetting top-seeded North Carolina, and the baseball team took two of three games on the road at a top-10 North Carolina team.

Clemson's teams competed at a high level, as nine of the 11 sports that compete in a dual-meet format had at least one win over a top-25 team. That list was led by the baseball team, who had nine top-25 wins. That program also had five wins over teams that reached the Final Four of the College World Series. The women's tennis team had a school-record seven top-25 victories during the season. The overall program had 34 top-25 victories in 2003-04.

The performance of the Clemson tennis programs was certainly a highlight in 2003-04. Both programs reached at least the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament, and both teams posted 26 vicories. It was the high victory total for each program since the spring of 1986. The Lady Tigers reached the Final Four of the NCAA Tournament, the first women's sports program in the school's history to reach a Final Four.

There were many noteworthy individual accomplishments in 2003-04. Seventeen Clemson student-athletes were named first, second, or third team All-American in 11 different sports. That list was led by first-team, All-America women's tennis player Julie Coin, who reached the Final Four of the NCAA Tournament and was named ACC Player-of-the-Year. Gisele Oliveira was an All-American on the track and in the classroom. She became the 15th student-athlete in school history in any sport to perform the athletic-academic double in the same year.

Career Development Commitment

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the Vickery Hall staff. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job-searching skills and strategies, internships, practical experience, and summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities and acquire information about the student-athletes for each year.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center, and the Athletic Department, the staff is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with the Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athletes with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

The SAEP Career Assistance Program has a full-time counselor housed in Vickery Hall. Unique to our program, the career counselor is a member of the Michelin Career Center staff as well as the Student-Athlete Enrichment staff. This link between athletics and the Michelin Career Center provides student-athletes the most up-to-date information and resources in career development and preparation for entrance into the job market upon graduation.

Personal Development Commitment

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

One of the key components of this program is the first-semester freshman transition class designed to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life.

All first-semester freshmen attend a semester-long series of workshops targeting the transitional issues of time management, organizational strategies, health and wellness issues, athletic issues, diversity issues, career orientation, and service training. Throughout the academic year, all student-athletes are required to attend four large-group programs, which focus on pertinent social, health, and athletic issues.

Service Commitment

Providing community and outreach service to student-athletes and the surrounding community by engaging the student-athletes in hands-on interactive programs is an important aspect of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. The staff of SAEP coordinates various activities each year to engage student-athletes in community outreach projects along with academic programs.

Another aspect of the service commitment is that of community service. The purpose of community service is to allow the student-athletes to become involved with the happenings of the community while giving back at the same time. Each year, every team is required to perform at least two community outreach projects. Recently implemented was a new community service program entitled "Success Away From the Game."

The purpose of this program is to combine athletes of different sports in community outreach programs. By doing this, each outreach program participates, thus creating a diverse group of athletes with new and different ideas. At the end of each year, six student-athletes who have demonstrated outstanding commitment and contributions to the community are recognized as the Top Six by the ACC.

To assist our student-athletes in becoming effective service leaders and communicators, we provide service and speaking training, which anticipates the demands placed on a student-athlete when he/she might be speaking with a group of young people with members of the media.

The signs on the side of the highway as you enter Clemson say "Clemson: In Season Every Season." From the point of view of most Clemson graduates, the seasons this slogan speaks of are football, basketball, baseball, etc. But a drive through town in the middle of spring, when the azaleas and dogwoods are in full bloom, or a walk through campus in October, when the trees are blazing in the brilliant colors of autumn, will leave little doubt that Clemson is indeed in season, every season.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson is located in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, two hours northeast of Atlanta, GA and two hours southwest of Charlotte, NC. The town may not be one of the state's largest most days, but on many autumn Saturdays, it becomes one of the largest cities, as over 81,000 fans come from all directions to watch the Tigers play football; but the friendly residents of Clemson and the surrounding towns welcome the visitors home each year with a true dose of southern hospitality.

Clemson is steeped in history. The University campus is located on what was Fort Hill Plantation, home of John C. Calhoun, one of the great statesmen of the 19th century, and his son-in-law, Thomas Green Clemson. The house, which was built in 1806, stands in the center of campus and is open to the public. Also on the Clemson campus is a 1716 Lowcountry French Huguenot home (Hanover House), which was transported to Clemson in 1941. Just a mile or so down the road, is the Pendleton Historic District, where several other antebellum homes are open to the public. The entire village of Pendleton is on the National Register of Historic Places.

The area boasts a great variety of restaurants, ranging from the downtown barbecue and hamburger spots, to the historic Liberty Hall Inn and Calhoun Corners. Any palate or budget can find something to his or her liking, as more than 50 eating establishments are located in the Clemson/Pendleton/Central area. The area adopts "Clemson Fever," as Tiger Paws are omnipresent on local billboards and entrances.

The mild climate of the foothills lends itself to many outdoor activities throughout the year. Clemson has excellent and ample facilities for tennis, golf, fishing, swimming, hiking, white-water rafting, and various other pursuits.

And when one wants to leave the area, they do not have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Pro sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte. Clemson was the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers for eight regular-season and two exhibition games in 1995.

For sun and fun, it is an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away.

Entertainment

With a famous and spacious stadium, more than just football games come to Death Valley. Concerts featuring the likes of George Strait, The Eagles, U2, and the Rolling Stones have been held at Clemson in recent years.

Homecoming

Homecoming weekend is a special time at Clemson. It is a weekend filled with color and pageantry that makes college football in the South a special event.

Atlantic Coast Conference

Clemson plays in the ACC, one of the top conferences in the nation.

Lake Hartwell

With an average temperature of 75 degrees, including 68 degrees during the football season, the Clemson campus scene is enhanced by Lake Hartwell, which borders the campus. The lake provides an opportunity for the Clemson community to enjoy water sports or simply a quiet place to relax.

Spirit

Clemson is fortunate to have some of the most loyal fans in collegiate athletics. The gameday atmosphere at Clemson is made special by the fans.

Tradition

The Clemson campus dates to 1889, and many of the buildings, like Tillman Hall, are steeped in tradition. A statue of the University's founder, Thomas Green Clemson, greets visitors in front of Tillman Hall.

Clemson Football Traditions

Homecoming & Tigerama

Tigerama is one of the largest pep rallies around, and it takes place on the Friday evening prior to Homecoming. It will be held on October 15 this year in Littlejohn Coliseum the night prior to the game against Utah State. This combination pep rally, beauty pageant, fireworks display, and skit presentation attracts thousands of Tiger fans to the annual event. In conjunction with the event, floats are constructed on campus and displayed on Bowman Field, a tradition that dates to the 1920s.

Fan Appreciation Day

Tiger supporters get their first chance to meet the football team in the preseason during Fan Appreciation Day. Players and coaches are available for autographs and pictures on one of the program's most popular gatherings. This year's Fan Appreciation Day will be Sunday, August 8.

Pep Rallies

Clemson holds pep rallies throughout the year. The initial rally takes place at the amphitheatre in the middle of campus at the conclusion of the First Friday Parade. It is an event you do not want to miss, as optimistic Tiger fans assemble to prepare for the opening game of the season. This year's first pep rally will be held on September 3.

First Friday Parade

The Clemson football season kicks off each year with the First Friday Parade. The once-a-year event takes place on the Friday afternoon prior to the first home game (September 3 this year). Floats from various fraternities, sororities, and other campus organizations are represented in the parade that rolls down highway 93 in front of the President's Home in Clemson.

Tiger Paws Everywhere

The Tiger Paw is Clemson's distinctive logo. The Paw is on all highways leading to the Clemson campus. A popular activity on gameday is to paint the Paw on the cheeks of all Clemson fans. Members of Central Spirit provide that service at the stadium on gameday.

Howard's Rock

Clemson players board a bus outside their locker room just minutes before kickoff. The team rides the buses to the east end of the stadium and gathers at the top of the Hill. At an appointed time that is signalled by a cannon fire, the team rubs Howard's Rock and runs down the 100' hill. It is perhaps the most exciting and celebrated stadium entrance in sports.

Tiger Mascot

Since 1954, a Clemson student has adorned the mascot suit to entertain the Tiger faithful. The Tiger gets into all kinds of mischief during the game, but is most famous for its pushups. The Tiger does pushups that equal Clemson's point total after every score.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden's teams have set numerous scoring records, keeping the mascot near a state of exhaustion.

Running Down The Hill

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season, less than a year after Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was drawn into World War II.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a short walk down Williamson Road from Fike Fieldhouse's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the Hill, which is located behind the east endzone. There were no dressing facilities in the west endzone - there was only a big clock where the hands turned and a scoreboard, which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the Hill for its warm-up exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no Tiger Paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side-straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA and picked up this white flint rock. He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in Howard's office in Fike Fieldhouse for years. One day, he was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was executive secretary of IPTAY, to "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office!"

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3,000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut-outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948, McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in Death Valley.

An occasional reference to Memorial stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it "Death Valley" in the 1950s, the name took off like wildfire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the "Valley" in 1991.

Running Down The Hill

But getting back to Howard's Rock.

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the Hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the Hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the Hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show and the story became legend.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west endzone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four games of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the Hill, their combined record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the Hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above - 301 times heading into the 2004 season.

After final warmups, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west endzone stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff, the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east endzone, and debarks to the top of the Hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying Tiger Paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up "Tiger Rag"...the frenzy starts in all sincerity and usually lasts for three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

"When Clemson players rub that rock and run down the Hill, it's the most exciting 25 seconds in college football."

2004 TIGERS

Memorial Stadium

"Death Valley really lives up to its image. I was impressed with this stadium. When you put 80,000 people in there, it really feels like they are on top of you. I would hate to be Georgia Tech or whoever else comes in here."

San Francisco 49er Quarterback Steve Young

"I came here knowing it would be loud and that Clemson would hit hard, but to me, the noise was the biggest factor. I know I didn't concentrate as well because of it."

Herschel Walker after Clemson's 13-3 victory in 1981, his only regular season loss at Georgia.

"I remember being nervous before the game because there were 80,000 people dressed in orange. It's intimidating. I even threw up before the game. It's the only time I've ever done that."

Former Duke Quarterback Dave Brown

"When you get to the bottom of the Hill, it's like you're in a hole and all around you are nothing but Clemson fans. It's like the crowd is one big voice. You feel like little kings."

Former Clemson Running Back Rodney Blunt

"Clemson's record at home is not a coincidence. Running down the Hill is a part of that record. You get so inspired, and so much of college football is about emotion. You get out of that bus and you hear the roar of the crowd and it gives you chills up and down your spine."

Former Clemson All-America Kicker David Treadwell

"There is no place louder or more picturesque than Death Valley. There, where Clemson folks see magic in a hill and a rock, orange gets more respect than anywhere this side of Gainesville, Florida."

Terence Moore, Atlanta Journal-Constitution

"Running down the Hill is still talked about everywhere I go. Players who played against Clemson when I was in college remember us running the Hill and thinking we would gain some type of spirit. The adrenalin rush was unbelievable for a Clemson player and quite a shock for the opponent."

Former Clemson All-American Jerry Butler

"When Clemson players rub that Rock and run down the Hill, its the most exciting 25 seconds in college football."

Brent Musburger, ABC Sports

"The Rock has strange powers. When you rub it, and run down the Hill, the adrenaline flows. It's the most emotional experience I've ever had."

Six-time All-Pro and former Clemson All-American Michael Dean Perry

"It has always been a dream to run down that Hill. You get to the top and it's emotional because you think of all the players that have done the exact same thing. When you get to the bottom you look up and see 80,000 people hollering and you realize you have a tradition to live up to."

Former Clemson Center Kyle Young

"Florida was loud in the swamp. But, the loudest, not only the stadium, but the loudest place I have ever been around in my life was definitely Death Valley. I was yelling at the top of my lungs in that first series and I couldn't even hear what I was saying. My voice was gone after the second series, so we had to signal everything. That place was unreal in how loud it was. I don't think I will ever be in a louder place than Clemson."

Florida State Quarterback Chris Rix, 2001

Memorial Stadium History

Clemson Memorial Stadium has been held in high esteem for many years. Whether it be players from the 1940s and 1950s, opposing players from the 1970s and 1980s, or even professional players in the 1990s, the ambiance of this special setting is what college football is all about.

The storied edifice added to its legend when the first meeting of father and son head coaches (Bowden Bowl I) took place before a sellout crowd of more than 86,000 fans in 1999. Clemson has ranked in the top 20 in the nation in average attendance 21 consecutive seasons. That includes 2001 when Clemson set an ACC record for total attendance. Last year, the streak continued when Clemson averaged over 76,000 fans per game.

In the 70s, 80s, and 90s, various publications named top-10 stadiums in college football and Memorial Stadium, affectionately known as "Death Valley," has been a common denominator on those lists.

The facility's mystique is derived from its many traditions, which date to its opening in 1942, the legendary games and players, and Clemson's corresponding rate of success. Clemson has won 222 games in 62 years there and has won over 71 percent of the contests (222-87-7). Thirty-nine times since 1983, a crowd has exceeded 80,000.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the YMCA. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work, clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally on September 19, 1942, Memorial Stadium opened with Clemson thrashing Presbyterian, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium, including one that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner as the concrete poured.

Howard said that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he said. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through."

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard said that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 and we played at 2:00." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and in 1960, 5,658 west endzone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large endzone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of as crowds swelled - the first in 1978 and the second in '83. This increased capacity to over 80,000, which makes it one of the largest on-campus stadiums.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

In 1974, the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Clemson has had 39 crowds of over 80,000 since the north upper deck was added in 1983.

2004 TIGERS

Strength Training

One of the most important facilities on the Clemson athletic landscape is the strength training facility. Located in the Jervy Athletic Center, it has continued to keep up with one of the most progressive areas in college sports. Head Strength Training Coach Joey Batson, who is in his eighth year as Clemson's director, makes sure Clemson student-athletes in all sports are ready for competition physically.

This past summer, he oversaw a third major facility enhancement. When he came to Clemson, the facility covered 11,000 square feet. It has continued to grow and now covers nearly 15,000 square feet. It is one of the most modern all-around facilities in the country.

In the summer of 2004, the following improvements were made (the facility was to be completed by August 1, and thus new photos will not be available until the publication of the Clemson game programs this fall):

- State-of-the-art sound system
- Seven flat-screen plasma televisions
- State-of-the-art ventilation system
- New lighting system
- 10 new multi-functional Clemson power racks
- Mondo-rubber flooring throughout entire weight room
- New orange upholstery on all equipment
- New paint on surrounding walls and columns
- Carpeting in entrances and offices
- Front entrance drop ceiling
- Metal overlay for awards displays
- Reconstruction of entryway walls

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place within the facility. When a Tiger student-athlete enters the etched-glass doors, he or she is greeted by nearly $700,000 worth of equipment that is state-of-the-art.

The seven plasma televisions are positioned throughout the facility and are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film athletes and work with them on their form to make the athlete as strong as possible.

Clemson has a staff of four full-time coaches, four graduate assistant coaches, and numerous student assistant coaches who ensure a Tiger football player receives as much individual attention as possible. Training programs are position specific, and are designed to meet the specific needs of each student-athlete.

Batson is one of the most highly-regarded strength coaches in the country. In his seven years directing the Tiger program, he has coached 10 strength All-Americans. He is a major reason Clemson has been to a bowl in six of his seven years leading the program. His assistants have gone on to successful opportunities within the profession, as seven of his assistants at Clemson are now strength training directors at NFL or college programs.

Strength Training

Eric Sampson's hard work in the weight room should translate to an outstanding senior season in 2004.

Joey Batson is one of the top strength coaches in the country. He has had 10 strength All-Americans in his seven seasons overseeing the Tiger strength training program.

Pro Timing Day

When Rod Gardner was chosen as the #15 selection of the 2001 NFL draft it was the culmination of five years of hard work at the collegiate level for the All-America wide receiver. We won't say Gardner is a self made man, but his work ethic, especially in the strength training facility, had a lot to do with his high ranking among NFL scouts.

Gardner came to Clemson as a 220-pound quarterback with a body fat percentage of 13 percent. He ran the 40 in 4.61 and bench pressed 300 pounds. By his final season he was 215 pounds of muscle with a 405-pound bench press who ran a 4.37 for the NFL scouts on pro timing day. He also had more than doubled his reps of 225 pounds and increased his vertical jump by seven inches.

Working with Clemson strength coach Joey Batson and his assistants made all the difference in the world for Gardner. Five years after playing quarterback and defensive back at Clemson as a freshman, he became a vital part of the Washington Redskin offense and looks to continue in that role for years to come.

Among the NFL personnel who came to see Gardner was former Tiger Dwight Clark.

Rod Gardner's hard work in the strength training facility paid off on draft day.

Clemson's pro timing day is now held at the new indoor track facility adjacent to the Rock Norman Track Facility.

Athletic Training Room

Clemson student-athletes in all sports now have the luxury of one of the top athletic training facilities in the nation. In the fall of 2000, the facility completed a $500,000 renovation and was renamed the Hoover Training Facility. It is named in honor of Fred Hoover, who served as Clemson's head trainer for 40 years. He has been inducted into the Clemson Hall of the Fame and the National Training Hall of Fame.

The spacious facility features the latest in athletic training needs. There are offices for the employees and new taping tables, the latest in rehabilitation facilities, including bikes, stair climbers and an underwater treadmill, and a large hydro-therapy area.

This Hoover Training Facility is state-of-the-art in every aspect. Doctors have offices there and it includes an orthopedic examining room, a conference room, and library. Most of all, there is plenty of room.

Danny Poole, director of sports medicine at Clemson, was in need of more room before this new training/rehabilitation room was built. "This facility was in the planning stage for a while as we continued to grow as an athletic department," Poole said. "We were allowed to design a facility to fit what was best for us."

Because of the training room's size, trainers can now work on more athletes than ever before. The facility handles athletes from all 19 Clemson's sports, male and female. Trainers are present at 7:00 AM and stay until they aren't needed any longer in the evening.

Poole has a staff of four full-timers, 13 students, and nine graduate assistants that are kept busy year round. One of its biggest advantages is the number of people who can be treated at the same time.

The Hoover Training Room is a state-of-the-art facility that was constructed in 2000.

Video Department

Deep inside the Jervy Athletic Center hides the Clemson Athletics Video Department. The video staff is responsible for helping the Football Tigers prepare for each game as well as assisting with all 18 of the other sports within the department. However, helping prepare the Football Team is a full time job within itself. Practice video, opponent scouting video, self scout video, high school recruiting video, and highlight tapes are all necessary to help the Tigers win on Saturdays.

To handle such large and varied tasks, the video department initiated a major upgrade of its equipment last year. Phase One of this ongoing task started with the purchase of new digital cameras and VCRs. This first step helped to replace aging cameras and started the move into a digital age.

The second phase, completed in July of 1999, saw the overhaul of all video equipment in the McFadden meeting rooms plus the addition of a state-of-the-art, digital-editing system for football game-tape analysis. This digital editing system provides the football coaches with instant access to any available game tape of the Tigers' opponents. This allows the coaches to create game-type situations in their weekly game planning meetings and instantly watch how the opponent will react.

Once the video department has prepared the football team to take the field in Death Valley, it immediately goes to work in the stadium taking care of video needs there. All 100 luxury suites contain a television and radio system that is maintained by the video staff. Plus all technical and in-house video needs for the PawVision video system are duties of the department.

Yet, the end of football season does not mean an end to the duties of the video department. Basketball season presents the video department with a whole new set of responsibilities. Gameday coach's video of the men's basketball team plus coach's video and highlights of the women's basketball team home games keep the staff busy during the winter months. And the arrival of springtime means highlight banquet tapes for both teams, plus the onset of spring football practice along with the baseball season.

Working closely with the Tiger football, men's and women's basketball, and baseball staffs, plus the remaining 15 sports, campus, local television stations, the Atlantic Coast Conference office, regional and national cable networks, and network television, all the while trying to keep the Tigers video inventory of close to one million dollars up to date with the changing times, proves to be a time demanding task. Yet, it is just another resource needed to help the Tigers win everyday.

Clemson has one of the most elaborate video departments and staffs in the nation.

Athletic Facilities

Clemson's athletic facilities have been undergoing major renovation in the last few years and that process will continue in 2004-05. The athletic department is in the process of raising over $80 million to finance major facility renovations to bring Clemson's athletic facilities to among the finest in the nation.

Clemson Memorial stadium is in the middle of a multi-year project that includes a new brick facade at Death Valley. The renovations will continue after the 2004 football season when the WestZone construction begins.

Over the last year, Littlejohn Coliseum, Doug Kingsmore Stadium, and McHugh Natatorium have all had major renovations. All three facilities were completely finished in 2003. A new indoor track also opened in December of 2003 and has greatly enhanced Clemson's track program.

Clemson's National Championship golf program will have a new practice area adjacent to the Robinson Practice Facility in 2005. A new boathouse has been built at Lake Hartwell for the rowing program, while a new floor and seating area have changed the configuration of the Jervy Gym, the home of Clemson's volleyball program. The Hoke Sloan Tennis facility and Riggs Field are also in the process of significant improvements.

Clemson Memorial Stadium, known to Tiger fans as "Death Valley," was built in 1942 and is one of the top-15 largest on-campus stadiums in the nation.

Littlejohn Coliseum just completed a $40-million renovation in 2003. It has been the home of Clemson men's and women's basketball since the 1968-69 season.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium completed a $4-million renovation before the 2003 season. The stadium, which has a capacity of 5,000, is ranked among the best in the nation.

Jervy Gym has been the home of Clemson volleyball since 1978. The 1,500-seat facility features seating close to the floor and a great homecourt advantage for the Tigers.

Lake Hartwell might be the most convenient rowing facility in the nation. The picturesque lake and boathouse are less than a mile from the center of campus.

Athletic Facilities

Hoke Sloan Tennis Center includes four indoor courts, allowing for year-round competition. The Lady Tigers advanced to the Final Four and the men to the Elite Eight in the 2004 NCAA Tournament.

Riggs Field was the scene of the 1987 Final Four of college soccer, an event won by Clemson. It is the home of Clemson's nationally ranked men's and women's soccer programs.

Rock Norman Outdoor Track added 1,500 seats in 2000 and has been the site of three ACC Track Championships.

Clemson's new indoor track facility opened in 2003. It was the site of the 2004 ACC Men's and Women's track championships.

The Walker Course is the home of Clemson's National Championship Golf program. The course opened in 1992 and features the signature 17th hole, whose green and bunkers form a Tiger Paw.

McHugh Natatorium is the home of Clemson's men's and women's swimming programs. It had a significant renovation and re-opened in 2003-04 as part of the Fike Fieldhouse complex.

New Locker Rooms & Player Lounge In Jervey

When Clemson's football players returned to campus for the second session of summer school in 2004, they reported to a new football locker room and player lounge area within the Jervey Athletic Center. The 4200-square-foot facility has all the modern conveniences, including a player lounge that includes seven plasma televisions and four computer work stations. The lounge also features murals that document Clemson's greatest players, greatest victories, and prominent former players who have gone on to the NFL.

The following is a rundown of the some of the features of Clemson's new lounge and locker room:

- The locker room area is divided into eight sections, with the lockers corresponding to each player's uniform number. There are 115 lockers in all. Each section of the locker room is highlighted by a logo and picture of historical significance from a bowl game Clemson has played in. Each section also features large interchangeable action photos of recent Clemson players.
- Each player has a new mahogany locker that features a helmet storage area and a storage compartment below a padded seat. There is also a private lock box for personal items.
- Each locker features a large Tiger Paw that introduces the helmet storage area and a personalized name plate.
- The lounge area features seven plasma televisions, complete with split-screen capabilities. All are tied to a central video hub. The television area also contains an Academic Hall of Fame, complete with photographs and accomplishments of Clemson's academic All-Americans and award winners.
- The lounge also features four computer work stations to enhance communications capabilities with professors or advisors at Vickery Hall.
- One wall of the lounge contains a complete list (by team) of every former Tiger who has played in an NFL game. Another wall is a mural of Clemson's All-Century team (chosen in 1996 in conjunction with the 100th year of Clemson football).
- The entrance is dominated by a 30'x9' picture of Death Valley taken at night from Howard's Rock.
- The locker room and lounge areas also feature pictures from Clemson's 13 ACC Championship teams and the 1981 National Championship team.
- The back of the locker room, which has a new exit to the practice field, features a picture of Clemson players running down the Hill and rubbing Howard's Rock. It is the last image seen by each Clemson player as he heads to the practice field.

National Championship Season

September 5: Clemson 45, Wofford 10

Wofford, an NAIA school at the time, was a late addition to the schedule when Villanova dropped football in March, 1981. At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 3-3. Think of the odds you could have gotten against Clemson winning the national championship at the end of that first period. Homer Jordan hit Perry Tuttle with an 80-yard touchdown pass for Clemson's first touchdown of the season and Jordan added a 14-yard run by halftime to give Clemson a 17-3 lead at intermission. Clemson won the second half 28-7, but the Terriers wingbone offense gained 165 yards rushing. Only Nebraska had more yards rushing against Clemson in 1981.

September 12: Clemson 13, Tulane 5

Clemson played its first ever game indoors, defeating Tulane in a defensive struggle. All five Clemson defensive backs had at least one interception and the Clemson defense forced seven turnovers overall. Tulane scored on a field goal and a safety to take a 5-0 lead at the end of the first quarter. But, Clemson's defense allowed just 40 yards rushing in the game and just 177 yards of total offense altogether. Jeff Davis had 20 tackles, while Terry Kinard had 12 tackles and an interception.

September 19: Clemson 13, Georgia 3

Clemson forced the defending national champion Georgia Bulldogs into nine turnovers, still the most in history by a Clemson opponent, in defeating the fourth-ranked Vince Dooley coached team. The win is the highest ranked triumph in the history of the Death Valley. The 13-3 victory was the only regular season defeat for Georgia during the Herschel Walker era (1980-82). Clemson held a 10-0 lead at intermission in front of a frenzied Death Valley crowd on an eight-yard touchdown pass from Homer Jordan to Perry Tuttle and a 39-yard Donald Igwebuike field goal. The two teams traded field goals in the second half. Walker rushed for 111 yards in 28 attempts, but never crossed the Clemson goalline. Jordan, a native of Athens, GA, had 59 yards rushing and hit 11-18 passes for 135 yards. Clemson wore orange pants for the first time in 1981.

October 3: Clemson 21, Kentucky 3

For the fourth straight game, Clemson did not lead at the end of the first period. In fact, the Wildcats had a 3-0 lead at intermission. But, Clemson took the second-half kickoff and drove 83 yards in 13 plays, as Kevin Mack went 11 yards for the touchdown. Clemson scored on its next possession after a Kentucky fumble. The Tigers drove 94 yards for a touchdown on its final scoring drive in the fourth period to win going away. Chuck McSwain, who had 107 yards rushing on 20 attempts, scored on a three-yard run to culminate the drive. Clemson outgained Kentucky 213-97 in the second half and moved to number-9 in the nation after the victory.

October 10: Clemson 27, Virginia 0

Clemson opened its ACC schedule with a 27-point thrashing of Virginia, its 21st straight victory over the Cavaliers. Clemson finally took a lead at the end of the first period on a field goal by Igwebuike. Cliff Austin scored two touchdowns and Jeff McCall scored once as the Tigers gained 265 yards on the ground. Jordan connected on 9-16 passes for 161 yards.

October 17: Clemson 38, Duke 10

Clemson's offense continued its improvement, especially from a balanced standpoint, and the Tiger defense held its incredible dominance in a 28-point win at Duke. Clemson gained 323 yards rushing and 240 passing. Jordan was 13-19 for 198 yards passing and added 47 on the ground. Cliff Austin had the top rushing game of the season by a Tiger with 178 yards in 19 attempts, including a non-scoring 77-yard run. Duke had 23 first downs in the game, but scored just one touchdown. The Blue Devils ran six plays from the one during one drive, yet failed to score a touchdown on the possession.

October 24: Clemson 17, N.C. State 7

N.C. State scored the first rushing touchdown of the season against the Clemson defense on a 13-yard run by Laramount Lawson on the Pack's second drive of the game. But, Jeff Davis and company took control in the second half and allowed the Pack just 87 yards rushing for the entire game. Homer Jordan had just 43 yards passing, but gained 104 yards rushing in 21 attempts. Jeff McCall locked up the game with a 15-yard touchdown run with 8:30 left. Clemson moved up to number-three in the AP poll after the game, the highest ranking in Clemson history.

October 31: Clemson 82, Wake Forest 24

The Clemson offense exploded on this Halloween day game. The Tigers set 21 school, stadium and conference records, including 536 yards rushing and 756 yards of total offense. Eleven different Clemson players had rushing yardage and nine different players scored. When Craig Crawford scored on a 72-yard run, no one in the press box, nor the stadium knew who he was because he was not even on the pregame roster. Clemson was a perfect 12-12 on third-down conversions. Jordan passed for 180 yards, including 7-161 to Perry Tuttle, whose 75-yard touchdown reception on the first play of the third period gave Clemson a 55-14 lead.

November 7: Clemson 10, North Carolina 8

The showdown for ACC supremacy took place in Chapel Hill. It was ninth-ranked North Carolina against second-ranked Clemson, the first meeting of top 10 ACC teams in league history. Clemson led 7-5 at halftime thanks to an 81-yard drive that ended with a seven-yard run by Jeff McCall. The two teams traded field goals in the third period, making the score 10-8 heading into the fourth period. Dale Hatcher hit a 47-yard punt out of bounds at the Tar Heel two. But, North Carolina drove to their 40. With 57 seconds left, Jeff Bryant recovered an errant lateral to preserve the win. Bryant seemed to be the only player on either team who thought it was a backwards pass and his hustle play allowed Clemson to keep its perfect record.

November 14: Clemson 21, Maryland 7

Clemson clinched its seventh ACC title in history with a 21-7 victory over Maryland, Clemson's most bitter rival of the era. Homer Jordan was masterful, completing 20-29 passes (including 15-18 in the first half) for 270 yards and three touchdowns as he picked apart Maryland's wide-tackle six defense. Perry Tuttle caught 10 passes for 151 yards to become Clemson's all-time reception leader. Classmate Jerry Gaillard had his first touchdown reception of his four year career in his final home game. Clemson outgained Maryland 469-236 and had 28 first downs on offense. Boomer Esiason was the sophomore quarterback for Maryland and he had just 15-38 for 167 passing on the day.

November 21: Clemson 29, South Carolina 13

The Tigers concluded their first perfect season since 1948 with a 29-13 win in Columbia. South Carolina had a 7-6 lead after the first period behind a Johnnie Wright one-yard run. But, Clemson turned the game on a blocked punt by Rod McSwain. The ball was recovered in the endzone by Johnny Rembert. Both players would go on to be teammates with the New England Patriots. A Jordan touchdown run of 11 yards and a Bob Paulling field goal gave Clemson a 15-7 lead at intermission. While Rod Jeff McCall scored the only touchdown in the Tigers' key win over #8 North Carolina in 1981.

McSwain provided the big play of the first half, Chuck McSwain took over in the second and ended the game with 151 yards rushing.

January 1: Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

Clemson claimed its first National Championship by defeating Nebraska 22-15 in the Orange Bowl. It was Clemson's first Orange Bowl appearance in 25 years. Homer Jordan completed 11-22 passes and had 180 yards total offense in leading the Clemson offense. Jeff Davis had 14 tackles, while Bill Smith, now on the Clemson Board of Trustees, had a career-high 10 tackles. Clemson allowed just one pass completion in the second half. Cliff Austin, who had scored the deciding touchdown in the Gator Bowl win over Ohio State in 1978, had a key touchdown in the third period in this victory.

Notes of Interest on the 1981 Team

- Clemson won its first national championship in any sport and the first national title for the ACC in football in 28 years.
- Clemson had five different players earn All-America honors, more than any other Tiger team in history.
- There was no controversy concerning the voting of the National Champion in 1981. Clemson ended the season as the only undefeated, untied team in Division I after the bowl games and was the only team with three wins over top-10 teams.
- Coach Danny Ford, at age 33 at the time, remains the youngest coach in history of college football to win the National Championship.
- Clemson forced 41 turnovers in the 12 games, still a Clemson record for turnovers forced in a season.
- During one stretch in the season the Clemson defense held the opposition without a touchdown for 18 straight quarters and no team had a rushing touchdown against Clemson the first seven games of the season.
- Clemson won the national championship in 1981 after going 6-5 the previous season. The Tigers were unranked in every preseason poll for 1981.
- Clemson's improvement of 5.5 games from 1980 to 1981 was the largest improvement in the nation.
- Only one team had more time of possession than Clemson all season, Wofford.
- Clemson had the lead at the end of the first period in just four of the 12 games.
- When Clemson defeated Wake Forest 82-24, Tiger mascot (Ricky Capps) did 465 pushups during of the game. He lost 10 pounds by game's end. The Demon Deacon mascot did the pushups after Clemson scored a touchdown to give it 76 points.
- Clemson scored 316 points in the regular season of 1981, the exact same total Georgia scored in its 11-game regular season of 1980, the year the Bulldogs won the national championship.
- Good health was a big reason for Clemson's success in 1981. Only five different starters missed any games all season and no one missed more than two games. A collective total of only eight games were missed by five starters all season.
- The headline in The Greenville News the Sunday after Clemson defeated North Carolina 10-8 in Chapel Hill was "Tigers are 10-8cious."
- No opponent had a run longer than 26 yards and no opponent had a play over 30 yards all season. The longest touchdown play against Clemson was 25 yards, on a halfback option pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels of Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Perry Tuttle and the Tigers celebrate the national championship win over Nebraska.

- During pre-game practice for the Tulane game in the Superdome, freshman punter Dale Hatcher hit the giant television screen that hangs over the center of the field. The screen is 155 feet above the playing surface.
- During offseason conditioning in the summer of 1981 strength coach George Dostal constructed a simple sign for his strength training facility: 1982 Orange Bowl, Clemson vs. Nebraska.
- Over the course 1981, counting game-week practices, pep rallies, pregame practice and games, the Clemson marching band played Tiger Rag 455 times in the 1981 season. That included 202 times during games and 55 times during pep rallies.
- The Clemson senior student who was in charge of pep rallies for the 1981 season was former CBS This Morning Anchor Jane Robelot.
- The day after Clemson defeated North Carolina in Chapel Hill, placekicker Donald Igwebuike flew to Maryland where Clemson's third-ranked soccer team defeated Maryland 4-0 to clinch the ACC. Igwebuike played on two ACC championship teams that fall that finished in the top 10 in the nation.
- Three Clemson players - Cary Massaro, Dan Benish, and Steve Berlin - attended the Pittsburgh-Penn State game at Pittsburgh on November 28th. The game, the Saturday after Thanksgiving, resulted in a 48-14 Penn State win and elevated Clemson to #1 in the polls for the first time ever.

Records Set in 1981 That Stand Today

- Most wins in a season, 12
- Highest ranked win - vs. #4 Georgia, 9-19 and #4 Nebraska on 1-1
- Most turnovers forced in a season, 41
- Most turnovers forced in a game, 9 vs. Georgia, 9-19

- Most yards total offense in game, 756 vs. Wake Forest, 10-31
- Most points scored vs. ACC opponent, 82, 10-31
- Most yards rushing, modern era, 536, vs. Wake Forest, 10-31
- Highest third-down conversion percentage in a game - 1.000 (12-12) vs. Wake Forest, 10-31

In Retrospect

- Three members of the 1981 Clemson staff went on to become Head Coaches. The list includes Curley Hallman (Louisiana State), Chuck Reedy (Baylor) and Nelson Stokely (Southwestern Louisiana).
- Eleven of the 24 starters on the 1981 team went on to play professional football.
- Eleven different players on the 1981 team became All-Americans (first, second, or third team) over their career. That includes Terry Kinard, who was a first-team All-American by Associated Press in 1981 and 1982, the only two-time first-team AP All-American in Clemson history.
- Twenty-three different players on the 1981 Clemson team earned first-team All-ACC honors at one time or another during their careers.
- Six of the 24 players on Clemson's two-platoon Centennial team were on the 1981 National Championship team.
- Four different players (Perry Tuttle, Jeff Bryant, Terry Kinard, and William Perry) went on to become first-round draft picks in the NFL.
- Thirty-one different players on the 1981 Clemson roster, including four first-round, were drafted into the NFL. As the chart on page 75 shows, 22 different players from the 1981 team made it to the NFL, including 12 players who were in the NFL for at least five years. Six different players went on to be Super Bowl Champions.
- Six players on this team have already been inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame: Homer Jordan, Jeff Bryant, Perry Tuttle, Jeff Davis, William Perry, and Terry Kinard. Coach Danny Ford was inducted in 1999.
- Three players on the 1981 team (Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard, and William Perry) were named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

They Said It in 1981

"If we play like we did against South Carolina in the last game of 1980, we will be okay this year."
Tony Berryhill, Orange & White, August 31, 1981

"Things are going to be different when he (Herschel Walker) comes to Death Valley this year. He will find he won't be able to do well against this senior. There is an awful lot at stake in this Georgia game. We had those national champs beat last year in Athens and we let them slip by. That is not going to happen this year. We aim to get some recognition out of this game."

Jeff Davis, Clemson vs. Georgia program

"The difference in Homer Jordan is like night and day. He is so much more at ease this year and the players have confidence in him. Last year when the season began, his teammates didn't know what to expect."

Danny Ford, August 14, 1981

"Even when I was little I was big,"
William Perry, Sports Illustrated, November, 1981

"I have a brother, Michael (age 16), who is a 220 pound defensive tackle back home at South Aiken High. He might be pretty good some day,"
William Perry, Greensboro Record, Nov. 3, 1981

"We are preparing for Kelvin Bryant, we are preparing for Rod Elkins and we are preparing for Lawrence Taylor in case he comes back from the pros for a day."

Clemson Head Coach Danny Ford on the physical condition of North Carolina prior to the game in Chapel Hill

"Andy Headen is a key to our defense. He is a defensive end who can drop in coverage. But he is also a strong safety when we go with a four-man front. He has the size for an outside linebacker and the range and knowledge to be a defensive back."

Clemson defensive coordinator Tom Harper, Sports Illustrated, 11-16-81

"I just hope being #1 ain't a vacation. I hope we can make a home there."

Danny Ford after Clemson reached #1 ranking for first time November 28, 1981

"Not too many people in the world have a chance to be on a national championship team. Down the road in the business world it will be something to be remembered and valued."

Bill Smith, 1981 starting defensive end and current member of the Clemson Board of Trustees in Dec. 2, 1981, Spartanburg Herald

Receiver Tradition

By the Numbers

1

Number of tight ends named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team. The only selection was former Tiger Bennie Cunningham, an All-American at that position in 1974 and 1975.

2

Number of positions Derrick Hamilton was named All-ACC in 2003. He became Clemson's career leader in all-purpose yardage, and was named Second-Team All-ACC at wide receiver and as a return specialist.

7

Number of ACC reception-yardage champions Clemson has had. Only Duke has had more.

167

Number of receptions by Derrick Hamilton between 2001-03. He broke Rod Gardner's reception record by one with his final catch against #6 Tennessee in the 2004 Peach Bowl.

1,000

Number of receiving yards Rod Gardner had in consecutive seasons at Clemson (1999,00). He went on to be a first-round draft selection of the Washington Redskins.

2,000

Number of yards four different Tiger receivers have had in a career. Jerry Butler, Perry Tuttle, Terry Smith, and Rod Gardner each had over 2,000 yards receiving in their careers. No other ACC school has had more.

Derrick Hamilton set the Tiger career record for receptions in just three seasons.

Perry Tuttle was an All-America wide receiver on Clemson's National Championship team in 1981.

Bennie Cunningham was the only tight end from any ACC school named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

2004 TIGERS

Quarterback Tradition

2

Number of quarterbacks in NCAA Division I history who have passed for 2,000 yards and rushed for 1,000 yards in a single season. Clemson's Woodrow Dantzler, who accomplished the feat in 2001, became the first. He was a Davey O'Brien semi-finalist in 2000 and 2001. Also the number of times Steve Fuller was named ACC Player-of-the-Year. Only one other ACC quarterback has accomplished that feat in the last 36 years.

6

Number of Tiger quarterbacks who have been either academic All-American or won an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

32

Number of victories Rodney Williams directed Clemson to as the Tigers' starting quarterback between the 1985 and 1988 seasons. That mark is second most in ACC history.

3,561

Number of yards Charlie Whitehurst passed for in 2003, more than any other Tiger in history.

Woodrow Dantzler became the first player in NCAA Division I history to pass for 2,000 yards and rush for 1,000 yards in a single season when he accomplished the feat in 2001.

Steve Fuller was an All-American on and off the field in the 1970s. He was named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

Rodney Williams won 32 games as a starting quarterback at Clemson between 1985-88.

Charlie Whitehurst set 33 Tiger records as a sophomore in 2003.

Leroy Hill ranked second in the nation in tackles for loss in 2003, and is a Lombardi and Nagurski Award candidate in 2004.

Defensive Back Tradition

1

Number of the round cornerback Antwan Edwards was drafted in by the Green Bay Packers in 1998, the 25th selection of the entire NFL Draft.

3

4

Number of former Tiger defensive backs on NFL rosters in 2003, including Brian Dawkins, Antwan Edwards, Dexter McCleon, and James Trapp.

6

Number of Thorpe Award nominees that Clemson has had since 1988.

8

Number of interceptions by true freshman Justin Miller in 2002. He led the ACC and tied for fifth in the nation in that category.

19

Number of takeaways former All-American and 1982 National Defensive Player-of-the-Year Terry Kinard had in his career as a Tiger, still a school record. Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001 as well as the Clemson Ring of Honor.

Terry Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001.

Charlie Waters went on to a Pro Bowl career with the Dallas Cowboys.

Brian Dawkins has been to three Pro Bowls (1999,01,02) and is considered by many to be the top safety in the NFL.

Dexter McCleon is among the NFL leaders in interceptions over the last five years. He is currently a starter for Kansas City.

National Exposure

- Clemson appeared on ESPN or ABC six times during the 2003 season, giving Clemson's 2003 senior class 30 exposures on those networks during their four years.
- Clemson won each of its last four games of 2003, and three of the four games were shown nationally on ESPN's family of networks.
- Clemson appeared on ESPN networks eight times during the 2002 season, meaning Clemson football was shown more on ESPN than Notre Dame was shown on NBC.
- Clemson has been shown on national television at least three times each of the last eight seasons.
- Tommy Bowden coached teams have been shown on live television an even 50 games in his five years as Clemson head coach.
- Clemson's exposure records will increase in 2004. Each of the first five games will be shown on live television, with three on ABC, one on ESPN, and one on TBS. Three of the five games will be shown in primetime.
- Clemson has had 104 televised games in the last 13 years.
- The Clemson-Florida State game has become one of the top spectacles in college football. Ten of the last 13 games in the series have been broadcast by ABC, CBS, or ESPN. The 1999 game was the first ever Division I meeting between father and son coaches, as Bobby Bowden faced son Tommy Bowden.
- In 2003, the meeting between Clemson and Florida State was the highest-rated, regular-season college football game in the history of ESPN2.

Charlie Whitehurst has been on the cover of many preseason publications in 2004.

- Over 700 members of the media cover the Clemson-Florida State game each year. The 1999 meeting attracted media from Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, and Washington D.C.
- Clemson benefits from the considerable contracts the ACC negotiates with ABC, ESPN, and ESPN2.

The regular-season package is among the best in the nation, as it insures at least 72 ACC team exposures each season. Clemson has been shown in at least seven games every year since 1993.

- Clemson has an all-time record of 124-86-5 in televised games over the years, including a 63-31-3 record in games shown from Death Valley.

Media interest reaches a high point each season at the Bowden Bowl.

Chason Fact: Had a 36.5 net punting average in 2003 as a freshman, best for any Tiger since 1995.

Years Lettered: 2003

Bowl Participation: Starting punter in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: First-team punter

Overview: Sophomore punter who was a major reason for Clemson's special teams' improvement in 2003...started each of the 13 games at punter, becoming the first freshman to punt for the Tigers since Chris Gardocki in 1988...his net punting figure of 36.5 was not far from Gardocki's 38.1 figure in 1988...showed enormous ability under pressure...was selected as Clemson's Special Teams Player-of-the-Game against #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl...had a 42.0 gross average in that game, much better than the 38.5 average by All-American Dustin Colquitt in that game...Chason may take on additional duties this season, as he is competing with several others for the starting placekicking duties...could take over for departed senior Aaron Hunt on field-goal attempts...an all-state selection in Georgia as a senior in high school in both punting and kicking...a fine student, he was selected as a scholar-athlete by the Peach Bowl...named to the Clemson Academic Honor Roll for the 2004 spring semester.

2003: A big reason Clemson improved in terms of net punting...did not have many "booming" punts, but was consistent from a net standpoint...had just two punts of 50 yards or more, but had 19 inside the 20 versus just nine touchbacks...had a 36.5 net figure for the year, up from Clemson's 28-yard average in 2002, and best by a Tiger since 1995 (Chris McNally - 38.5)...Clemson improved over 50 spots in the national stats in terms of net punting in 2003...had three punts each inside the 20 in the wins over #3 Florida State and South Carolina...had two punts inside the 20 against #6 Tennessee in a fine performance...had a gross average of 42.0 yards over five punts in the Peach Bowl...named Clemson's Special Teams Player-of-the-Game in the Peach Bowl after out-punting Volunteer All-American Dustin Colquitt...had 10 punts inside the 20 during the last four games...had a 43.8 average to go with three punts inside the 20 at South Carolina...had five games in which he had a punting average over 40 yards, including a season-high 44.3 average at Georgia Tech...had a season-long 50-yard boot at Georgia Tech and at Wake Forest...averaged 41.3 against #9 Georgia in the first game of the season...served as the holder from the Virginia game (October 11) through the end of the season; he took over those duties in an emergency situation, as regular holder Gene Pate broke his leg while running down the Hill prior to the Virginia game...Chason averaged 39.2 yards per punt in that game in addition to his holding duties; he was named Special Teams Player-of-the-Game by the Tiger coaches for that contest; also received that award for the Georgia Tech game, so he was three-time recipient...only Charlie Whitehurst also won three player-of-the-game awards

Overview: Ranked as the 18th-best receiver in the nation by Phil Steele, who also lists Currie as a preseason first-team All-ACC receiver...Biletnikoff Award candidate by Street & Smith...Street & Smith also lists Currie among its honorable mention All-Americans...speedy senior receiver who should provide Charlie Whitehurst with a reliable go-to target...despite some nagging injuries, he had a solid junior season, and was a big reason Clemson set the team season record for pass receptions and passing yards...had 34 catches in his first two years combined, then surpassed that with 43 in 2003; he now has 77 for his career to rank 18th in school history...already over 1,000 career yards in receiving; he has 1,162 to rank 17th in school history...will be approaching the top 10 in touchdown receptions soon; he has eight and needs three more to reach top 10...would have had even better stats in 2003 had he not missed three games due to an ankle and hamstring injury...consistent performer in the weight room...has a 35-inch vertical...had a good spring, though he missed some scrimmages due to track meets...a leader of the Tiger track team; he has been on the team's media guide cover the last three years...won the NCAA East Regional title in the 100m (10.29) in 2003; he has run a 10.22...qualified in the 100m and the 200m for the NCAAs each of the last two years...All-ACC in track each of the last three years...earned All-America honors in 2002 (spring) as a member of the 4x100 meter relay team that finished second in the nation at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in Baton Rouge, LA...All-ACC outdoors in 2002 and 2003, and All-ACC indoors in 2003 and 2004...has had three receptions of 70 yards or more in each of his first three years.

2003: Set a Clemson single-game standard for catches in a game with 12 against Middle Tennessee; had 133 yards receiving and a touchdown in that contest; that ranked in a tie for the 25th-best receiving game in the nation...the 133 yards also tied for the third-best game by an ACC player; that was his only 100-yard game of the season and a career high in reception yards...had 43 catches for 560 yards, third-best on the team in both categories, quite an accomplishment considering he missed three games and played sparingly in two others...had four touchdowns; he caught a touchdown pass against Furman, Middle Tennessee, and Georgia Tech, Clemson's three-game win streak in September...had a 72-yard touchdown reception against Furman, Clemson's longest offensive play of the season...had four catches for 54 yards and a touchdown at South Carolina; that was the second time he caught a touchdown pass in his hometown; he also had one as a freshman from Woodrow Dantzler in 2001...had a strong start to the year with seven receptions for 56 yards against #9 Georgia; he also had six catches for 78 yards at Georgia Tech...Clemson's Offensive Player-of-the-Game against #9 Georgia as voted on by the coaching staff...CollegeFootballNews.com Player-of-the-Game for the Tigers against Middle Tennessee...had 26 catches in the first three games to rank among the ACC and national leaders...suffered an injury at Maryland, and missed the Virginia and N.C. State games...came back to total four catches for 87 yards against

North Carolina...had five catches for 50 yards in the Peach Bowl; his 13.0 yards per reception mark ranked second on the team...despite missing three games, he was still in the top 10 in the ACC in catches per game (4.3).

2002: Played 37 snaps as a starter in the Tangerine Bowl against Texas Tech and had one reception...had one rush for 11 yards to end the season with three carries for 20 yards in terms of rushing...made some big plays for the Tigers, but none bigger than the 47-yard touchdown catch from Charlie Whitehurst at Duke on November 2...Clemson was facing a fourth-and-10 play at the Duke 47, trailing by 14 points in the fourth quarter...Tigers went on to a 34-31 victory, but that play jumpstarted Clemson's comeback...also had an 83-yard scoring catch from Whitehurst at North Carolina on November 9...had a career-high five catches against North Carolina in 2001 and a career-high 90 receiving yards against the Tar Heels in 2002...had a touchdown catch at Florida State on a 28-yard pass from Willie Simmons...his 16 catches ranked sixth on the team, but his yardage total was fourth...had at least one catch in each of the last six games...had just two catches for 18 yards over the first four games of the season...had two catches for 29 yards against South Carolina; he had three catches for 65 yards as a freshman.

2001: Had 320 receiving yards on 18 catches to break the previous Tiger freshman mark for yards per reception (17.8)...led the team in yards per catch with that 17.8 figure...had 54-yard touchdown reception at South Carolina for his first career touchdown...that meant a lot to the native of Columbia...did not waste time before scoring his second, he scored on an 18-yard run on a fumble-rooskie play against Louisiana Tech in the Humanitarian Bowl...had a season-long 79-yard reception from Woodrow Dantzler at N.C. State, longest play of the year for the Tigers and longest pass completion for the Tigers in five years...also had a big 36-yard catch at Wake Forest...started three of the 12 games and was fifth on team in total catches...played at least 20 snaps in every game as a first-year freshman...had his season high in receptions against North Carolina with five for 59 yards...had four catches for 35 yards against Florida State...changed his jersey number from #9 as a freshman to #1 (Woodrow Dantzler's old number)...voted most improved wide receiver of spring practice of 2002...had solid spring that culminated with a 3-99 receiving performance in the Spring Game...his 99 yards receiving led all pass catchers in the game.

Track (2003-04): Outdoor - Member of Clemson's 2004 ACC Championship outdoor team...NCAA Championships qualifier in the 100m, 200m, and 4x100m relay...ran a 10.27 in the preliminaries of the 100m at the national meet...ran a season-best 10.22 in the 100m at the Orange & Purple Classic...member of the ACC Championship 4x100m relay team...Indoor - Had a season-best time of 21.75 in the 200m at the Carle/Health Alliance Classic.

Dean Fact: A big reason Clemson led the ACC in kick-off coverage in 2003.

Years Lettered: 2003

Bowl Participation: Handled kickoffs in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: First-team placekicker

Overview: Made a strong contribution as a first-year placekicker in 2003; he handled the kickoffs all year...did not attempt a field goal, but will be among the frontrunners to replace Clemson's all-time leading scorer Aaron Hunt...the major reason Clemson improved its average starting field position on kickoffs (defense) when compared to 2002 by six yards per kickoff...competed through the spring for the starting placekicking job with Cole Chason and Stephen Furr.

2003: Had 27 touchbacks on his 74 kickoffs...opponents averaged just 20.1 yards per return; Clemson led the ACC in kickoff return coverage...opponents started at their own 20 or worse 42 of his 74 kickoffs (56.8 percent); in 2002, opponents started at their own 20 or worse just 21 of 67 opportunities (31.3 percent); Clemson kickers had just nine touchbacks the year before Dean arrived...the 27 touchbacks were the most for a Tiger since Tommy Bowden arrived at Clemson...named Clemson's Special Teams Player-of-the-Week by the Tiger coaches for the South Carolina game when he had four touchbacks...played an important role in the Peach Bowl win; Tennessee's average starting field position was its own 25.

Before Clemson: Rated the top kicker in the state by Rivals.com and SuperPrep...#21 prospect in South Carolina and All-Mid Atlantic team member by SuperPrep...#23 prospect in the state by BorderWars.com...PrepStar All-Atlantic Region member...one of the Charlotte Observer's Top 25 prospects in the state...2002 Shrine Bowl participant...All-Lakelands, all-region, and special teams MVP his sophomore, junior, and senior seasons...all-state AAAA in 2001 and all class, all-state in 2002...converted 42-43 extra point attempts and 9-12 field goals, with a long of 45 yards, his senior year...had a 39.8-yard punting average and 59 of his 66 kickoffs were not returned in 2002...won the MVP kicking award at summer camps at Georgia and Louisiana State with over 200 kickers...on the Ray Guy National Talent Search list...member of the National Honor Society, Beta Club, and FCA at Greenwood High...played for Shell Dula...chose Clemson over Florida State, Georgia, and Louisiana State...born October 21, 1984.

Years Lettered: 2003

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Second-team offensive tackle

Overview: Young reserve offensive tackle who will be a factor this year...Clemson lost both starting offensive tackles from the 2003 team, so there will be openings...will battle Marion Dukes and Cole Downer for playing time at right tackle...strong student.

2003: Played 13 snaps in four games as a red-shirt freshman...played a season-high six snaps at Wake Forest...also saw action against Middle Tennessee, Georgia Tech, and South Carolina...enjoyed the victory over Georgia Tech, as he is a native of Atlanta...one of two offensive linemen from Atlanta on the Clemson team (Chip Myrick)...traveled to the Peach Bowl, but did not play.

2002: Red-shirted.

Before Clemson: All-DeKalb County as a senior...two-year starter on the offensive line and a great run blocker with Marist running the wishbone offense...led his team to a 9-2 record and the second round of the state AAAA playoffs...has a great work ethic in the weight room, which led to much improved footwork over the last two years on the field...two-star prospect by Rivals100.com and ranked as the 89th-best offensive tackle in the nation...his team went 12-1 his junior year...a three-year letterman at Marist High...excellent student, as he made the honor roll his junior season...had a 3.3 GPA...played under Alan Chadwick...chose Clemson over Duke, East Carolina, Southern Methodist, and Vanderbilt...born March 3, 1984...majoring in construction science and management.

68 Cole Downer

OT • 6-3 • 250 • *Jr. • RS
Chantilly High School
Chantilly, VA

Downer Fact: Caught six touchdown passes as a tight end at Hampden-Sydney College in 2002.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Reserve offensive tackle

Overview: In the middle of a battle for the backup right offensive tackle position...co-second team choice along with Tim DeBeer at the end of spring practice...will challenge Marion Dukes for the starting role...not the biggest tackle at 250 pounds, but has good quickness...has significant college experience as a right end at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia, where he played two seasons...will also be eligible for the 2005 season.

2003: Red-shirted due to transfer rules...practiced on the offensive line.

Before Clemson: Played at Hampden-Sydney College in 2001,02...caught 10 passes, including six for touchdowns, as a sophomore...named to the all-conference team...two-year starter at tight end...played for Marty Favret...named all-district in 2000 at Chantilly High School...a member of the all-region academic team...nominated all-conference in 2001...two year letterman in football...four-year letterman in lacrosse...played for Bob Herb...born James Cole Downer on February 2, 1983...majoring in sports management.

Dunham Fact: Selected by the Tiger coaching staff as Clemson Special Teams Player-of-the-Year in 2003.

Bowl Participation: Saw action as reserve linebacker in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Second-team linebacker

Overview: Hard-hitting linebacker who is listed as second team behind Leroy Hill, just as he was for much of 2003...selected by the Tiger coaching staff as the Defensive Special Teams Player-of-the-Year at the end of 2003...one of the key contributors on kick coverage teams that limited opponents' average starting field position to the 23 yard line; Clemson led the ACC in that category...has bounced around between defense and fullback, but has found his place on the depth chart as an inside linebacker...durable player who has played in 26 straight games over two years...one of five current juniors who have played 13 games a year each of the last two years...has improved his bench press by nearly 100 pounds since enrolling...had a good spring behind Hill, an All-America candidate...had five tackles in the 2004 Spring Game.

2003: Began the season as a fullback, but made the switch to linebacker just weeks into the season; moved into the #2 spot on the depth chart behind Clemson's top big-play performer (Hill)...turned in some of his own big plays, including a recovered fumble in the endzone against North Carolina that clinched the eight-point win; that recovery came with just 42 seconds left in the game...had a 10-yard sack that caused a lost fumble against Florida State's Chris Rix on November 8...had a season-high four first hits in the 40-7 win over Duke...had one special teams tackle in the Peach Bowl win over #6 Tennessee...added three tackles, including a tackle for loss, at South Carolina...named Special Teams Player-of-the-Game against Middle Tennessee when he had three special teams tackles...had 11 special teams tackles overall to rank second on the team...had 14 tackles in his 92 snaps from scrimmage at linebacker, giving him 25 total tackles for the season...played in every game on special teams and the last nine at linebacker...moved to second-team linebacker at Maryland.

2002: Earned a letter as a special teams player and linebacker...had three tackles on special teams...played on defense against Georgia and Louisiana Tech, but just on special teams the rest of the year.

2001: Red-shirted.

Before Clemson: Accumulated 126 tackles, 11 sacks, and three interceptions, two of which he returned for touchdown, in his career at Columbia High School...a three-star player according to Rivals100.com...#33 player in Florida according to SuperPrep...an All-Southeast selection according to Tom Lemming...a Grade-7 player by Max Emfinger, the highest rating that he gives...as a senior at Columbia High in Lake City, FL, he ranked as the #2 linebacker in the state of Florida by the Orlando Sentinel...played his high school football for Danny Green...had three interceptions, including two he returned for scores as a senior...had 15 catches and four touchdown receptions on offense...named his team's defensive MVP as a sophomore, junior, and senior...Florida Prep All-American...SuperPrep All-Region...CBS.Sportsline.com All-American...named to the Super 11 and Super 24 team in Florida and ranked among the top 75 players in Florida by the Florida Times Union...ranked among the top 100 players in the South by Atlanta Constitution...ranked as 40th-best safety in the nation by Rivals.com...chose Clemson over Miami (FL) and Notre Dame...born David A. D. Fry Fact: Strongest Tiger in terms of the bench press (500 pounds) among players tested in winter, 2004

Bowl Participation: Saw action as a reserve center in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Second-team center

Overview: Red-shirt sophomore center who will see plenty of action challenging Tommy Sharpe...one of the reasons Clemson will have depth in the offensive line...has the size to be an outstanding center...one of the strongest players on the team; he was a highlight of winter strength and conditioning drills...bench presses 500 pounds, best on the team...did 42 reps of 225 pounds, also best on the team and a new Clemson record...third on the team with a 620 squat...voted as most improved interior lineman in the weight room in 2004.

2003: Backup center for much of the season; he actually took over the starting role from Sharpe in the North Carolina game; he played 41 snaps in that game and had two knockdown blocks; he earned the start thanks to a 90-percent grade in 21 snaps as reserve the game before at N.C. State...came off the bench the rest of the regular season, but played 22 plays per game over those four games, making Clemson fresh at center...logged five snaps in the Peach Bowl victory against #6 Tennessee...played 168 snaps in 11 games overall; he did not play against Furman or Maryland...the North Carolina game was his only start...averaged 26 snaps per game over the last five regular-season games...graded 80 percent in 25 plays at South Carolina...had a season-high five knockdowns at Wake Forest when he played 32 plays...had 12 knockdown blocks overall...became the first Tiger freshman to start a game at center since 1980.

2002: Red-shirted.

Before Clemson: Great pass blocker who had 80 knockdown blocks and graded out at better than 80 percent his senior season...very athletic lineman playing both guard and tackle...named All-American by SuperPrep,

R. Fry Fact: Played 300 snaps in 2003, more than any other freshman on the team.

Years Lettered: 2003

Bowl Participation: Saw action as reserve offensive tackle in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: First-team offensive tackle

Overview: Another outstanding red-shirt sophomore who saw considerable playing time as a freshman...the favorite to win the starting job at left tackle, where he will take over the void left by graduate William Henry...the top performer in the weight room over the winter...had a team-best 655-pound squat and a 380 in the hang clean...most improved offensive tackle in the weight room during winter workouts...has gained more than 30 pounds since enrolling at Clemson in August of 2002...enters the 2004 season with 13 career games played and two career starts...only Tiger scholarship player from Ohio.

2003: Played 300 snaps, more than any other Tiger freshman regardless of position...played 21 snaps in the Peach Bowl; his improvement was a reason Clemson improved on offense because it gave the team depth...averaged 23 snaps per game and made two starts (N.C. State, Wake Forest)...battled for the starting spot all year; he and Henry switched off and on as starters for four straight weeks at one point...came off the bench the last three games, but played 71 snaps in those three wins...finished the season with 17 knockdowns, including four intimidation blocks...had a season-high four knockdowns at South Carolina; he led the team and graded 81 percent in 31 snaps against...had his best game at N.C. State when he graded 88 percent in 24 plays...played a season-high 57 snaps at Wake Forest and graded 84 percent...had an 84-percent grade against #24 Virginia in 34 snaps; that performance earned him the start at N.C. State...played at least 20 snaps in nine different games, including seven of the last eight...joined Chip Myrick as only reserve offensive lineman to play in every game.

2002: Red-shirted.

Before Clemson: First-team All-Southeastern Ohio and runner-up for Division IV District Offensive Player-of-the-Year...played guard and defensive end...started several games at tight end...had 15 sacks and 84 tackles as a senior...First-Team Ohio Football Register Division IV as a junior and senior...third-team All-Ohio All-Divisions by Ohio Football Register...ranked as the #23 prospect in Ohio according to Midwest Football Recruiting News and as the #47 offensive guard nationally by Rivals100.com...led his team to a 31-7 record during his three years as a starter, which included 10 playoff games...team captain...played for Bob Lutz...chose Clemson over Ohio State, Purdue, and West Virginia...majoring in communication studies.

Bowl Participation: Starting tight end in the 2001 Humanitarian Bowl against Louisiana Tech and the 2002 Tangerine Bowl against Texas Tech; reserve tight end in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Overview: Veteran tight end won the starting job over junior Bobby Williamson after an intense spring battle...the two will continue to fight for playing time this fall, but it gives Clemson outstanding depth at the position...has five career touchdown receptions, including at least one in every season he has played...has 23 career receptions in his 37 games...has had a touchdown catch in two bowl games and at least one catch in each of the three bowl games he has played...has improved his strength every year he has been with the Tiger program...has a 36" vertical, an incredible mark for someone of his size...the Tiger coaching staff raved about his improved blocking in the spring...had two catches for 30 yards during the April 3 scrimmage...had two catches in the Spring Game...cited by the football coaches and strength coaches as the most improved player at his position this year...ranked as the sixth-best tight end in the nation by Phil Steele entering the 2004 season.

2003: Had just three receptions, but one was a 39-yard touchdown catch at South Carolina; he outran the Gamecock secondary, showing his tremendous athleticism and ability to run after the catch...had a key fourth-down grab at N.C. State...had a catch in the Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee...played in 12 of the 13 games; he missed the Duke game due to injury...played 184 total snaps at tight end; he played double figures in all but one game.

2002: Clemson's starting tight end; he started seven of the 13 games and had 12 catches for 160 yards...had two catches for 15 yards in the Tangerine Bowl against Texas Tech, including a 10-yard touchdown catch; started and played 23 snaps in that game...played 356 snaps; he missed parts of games due to injury, but never missed a game completely...had four more catches than he had as a first-year freshman when he made some freshman All-America teams...had his top game of the season at Florida State when he had three catches for 69 yards...that included a 41-yard pass from Willie Simmons that set up a score; that is still the longest reception of his Clemson career...had two catches in the win over Georgia Tech and the win at Duke.

2001: Caught three scoring passes to set a Clemson record for a freshman tight end; one of those was a five-yard scoring catch against Louisiana Tech in the Humanitarian Bowl...had scoring receptions against N.C. State and Wake Forest; both scores were important in a pair of close Clemson road wins...had three catches for 39 yards at N.C. State for his most productive game...solid blocker; he had pair of 80-percent grades against N.C. State and North Carolina...had an 18-yard catch in his first game as a Tiger against Central Florida...averaged 20 plays per game for the year with a high of 30 snaps against Wofford and Virginia; received a 100-percent effort grade from the coaches in those games against the Terriers and Cavaliers.

Hunter Fact: Only biochemistry major on the team who has earned a letter.

Years Lettered: 2003

Bowl Participation: Played on special teams in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Reserve tight end

Overview: Reliable special teams performer who is a tight end by trade...in his third season on the team; one of the few linemen who have never red-shirted at Clemson...has provided most of his contributions as a special teams player.

2003: Played in 10 of the 13 games...was on the field for just two offensive snaps; both came at Georgia Tech...made contributions on special teams in each of the last 10 games...strong blocker on field goal and extra-point teams...one of the reasons Aaron Hunt did not have a field goal blocked all season.

2002: Joined the team in the fall as a first-year freshman invited walk-on...did not appear in any games, but worked hard in practice during the season.

Before Clemson: Named team MVP during the 2001 season...all-conference selection as a senior...caught 61 passes for 960 yards in the 2001 season...two-time letterman in football...named all conference in both basketball and golf as a senior...three-time basketball letterman...five-time golf letterman...played for Lon Spivey...born Jones Thomas Hunter IV on August 15, 1984...majoring in biochemistry.

Y. Kelly Fact: Clemson's leading rusher in 2002.

Years Lettered: 2000,02,03

Bowl Participation: Reserve running back in the 2001 Gator Bowl against #5 Virginia Tech and the 2002 Tangerine Bowl against Texas Tech.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: Second-team tailback

Overview: Most experienced running back on the Clemson roster...looks to contribute this year after an injury-plagued junior season...made a big contribution in the win over #24 Virginia last season...earned his undergraduate degree on December 18, 2003...has more career rushing yards (888) and career rushing touchdowns (11) than any other active Tiger...tightened the gap between returning starter Duane Coleman at tailback during spring practices...had 57 rushing yards in the April 3 scrimmage, then 35 yards on nine carries in the Spring Game.

2003: Played just three snaps over the first five games due to an ankle injury, hamstring injury, and back problem, but came on strong against #24 Virginia; he had 25 carries for 88 yards and a touchdown in that important 30-27 overtime victory; that was the most carries in a game by a Tiger all season and the most carries of his career; cited by the coaching staff as the Offensive Player-of-the-Game for his efforts...had six carries for 33 yards to start the N.C. State game before he injured the ankle again...did not carry the ball again until the Duke game when he had three carries for six yards...did not play in the bowl game...came into the season as Clemson's returning starter and top returning rusher from 2002, but the injuries set him back.

2002: Saw significant action early in the season when he started against Louisiana Tech, Georgia Tech, and Ball State, all Tiger wins...did not have a 100-yard game in any of those three contests, but did average 95 yards a game in those contests...had a career-high 99 rushing yards against Ball State in 21 carries...also had 97 yards against Louisiana Tech...was Clemson's Player-of-the-Game in the win over Louisiana Tech by CollegeFootballNews.com; had three touchdowns in that game, the only Tiger to score three touchdowns in a game all season...led Clemson in touchdowns (8); he ranked sixth in the ACC...led Tiger running backs in receptions with 18 for 79 yards...had a solid game at Virginia with 72 yards rushing and 26 receiving...only start over the second half of the season was at Duke...missed the North Carolina game with an ankle injury...played just seven snaps against Maryland, then finished the season strong with 64 yards in 10 carries against South Carolina...Clemson fans will always remember his performance on the last Tiger drive, a 6:32 drive that ran out the clock; had seven rushes for 48 yards on that drive; the sophomore was fresh and punished the Gamecock defense to ice the game...had 71 of his 120 rushing attempts over the first four games of the season.

2001: Red-shirted...had a strong spring, as he had 103 yards on 13 carries in the March 9 scrimmage that got the coaches' attention.

2000: Played in just seven games, none as a starter, but still was third on the team in rushing with 243 yards...productive back who averaged 5.0 yards a carry...ranked in the top 10 in the ACC in rushing through the first three weeks of the season...ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for his performance at Duke when he had 12 carries for 84 yards...had a season-high 16 carries for 93 yards in the win over Wake Forest...had just six carries after October 1...had 49 carries for his 106

Rigsby Fact: One of 10 active players who have played in all 26 games over the last two seasons.

Years Lettered: 2002,03

Bowl Participation: Handled all long snaps in the 2002 Tangerine Bowl against Texas Tech and punt snaps in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: First-team long snapper

Overview: Reliable snapper each of the last two years who was an original walk-on; has since earned a scholarship...played in all 26 games as a long snapper the last two seasons, one of only 10 active Tigers who can make that claim.

2003: Handled all the snaps on punts and the snaps on placements for the first half of the season...a key to the success of the special teams the last two seasons, especially on the punting team...had seven tackles on punt coverage, more than any other player...a big reason the Tigers had a 36.3 net punting average, a much-improved figure over the previous season...Clemson had just one blocked punt the entire season and that was just a deflection that still gained 22 yards.

2002: Handled all the long snap duties the entire season, playing in all 13 contests...a model of consistency; he did not botch any snaps...contributed on punt coverage with three tackles, all of which were first hits.

2001: A member of the practice squad.

2000: Red-shirted as a practice squad member as a first-year walk-on.

Before Clemson: Had 124 tackles, including 18 for loss and seven sacks, as a senior...caused four fumbles, recovered six more, and blocked a punt as a senior...a two-time Defensive Player-of-the-Week by the Greer Citizen...lettered twice in both baseball and football...earned numerous honors during his baseball career...led team to the state title in 1999 and conference title in 1999,00...All-Greenville County in baseball...invited to the Greenville County Senior Classic in 2000...a Wendy's High School Heisman nominee...played for Mike Hawkins on the gridiron...majoring in general business...born Geoffrey E. Bowl Participation: Reserve linebacker in the 2001 Humanitarian Bowl against Louisiana Tech and starting WHIP linebacker in the 2004 Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.

Fall 2004 Depth Chart Position: First-team WHIP linebacker

Overview: Listed as the starter at WHIP linebacker for the third consecutive season...has the versatility to assist in stopping the run along with covering backs and tight ends...started eight games last season; he missed a few games due to injury...has 20 starts for his career, also a high among active Tiger defenders...played less plays in 2003 as compared to 2002, due to the injuries...named most improved at his position in the weight room this past winter...had a solid spring practice, but was pushed hard by second-team performer Lionel Richardson...has 164 tackles, two sacks, and an interception during his career...his career tackle total is second among active Tigers behind Leroy Hill...looks to return to the big-play performer he was in 2002...one of the most improved on the team in terms of academics; he was on the Dean's List in the second semester of the 2003-04 academic year.

2003: Had 50 tackles, a sack, and two pass breakups...did not start, but played 44 snaps and notched eight tackles in the season-opener against #9 Georgia; started the following four games...had eight tackles against Middle Tennessee...had his only sack in the win at Georgia Tech...suffered an injury at Maryland; it caused him to miss the Virginia game...came back to play at N.C. State, but was out for the North Carolina game as well...had four tackles in a start at Wake Forest...big reason Clemson defeated #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl; he played 64 snaps, and recorded seven tackles and a fumble recovery; he blitzed a good portion of the time against the Volunteers; had a quarterback pressure in that game as well.

2002: Had at least two tackles in every game he played; he played all 12 regular-season games...had a career-high 15 tackles at Duke in Clemson's come-from-behind win...had seven first hits, his career high, at Duke; played a career-high 83 snaps in that game...averaged 8.8 tackles per game over his last five games...had nine tackles in the opener against Georgia, which included his only sack of the season...had seven stops in playing all 83 snaps in the win over Wake Forest...had a 35-yard interception return against Georgia Tech that iced the Tigers' five-point win; it was his first career interception...had nine tackles each against N.C. State and Maryland.

2001: Second on the team among freshmen in tackles (31); only Donnell Washington had more...named the Defensive Rookie-of-the-Year by the Clemson coaching staff...a big reason

Clemson was able to defeat Wake Forest in Winston-Salem; he had 14 tackles in 69 snaps...that was the most tackles by a Tiger first-year freshman since Anthony Simmons (1995)...came on early in the first quarter for an injured John Leake and responded with six first hits and eight assists...played 36 snaps at South Carolina and had five tackles, his second-highest total of the season...had at least one tackle in nine of the last 10 games, including four in 26 plays against Duke...also a fine special-teams performer for the Tigers...had 35 tackles in 10 games; he averaged 20 plays per game as a reserve...played 18 snaps in the opener against Central Florida, then did not play against Wofford...had five special-teams tackles among his 31 stops...voted the most improved secondary player of spring practice in 2002.

#38 Eric Sampson

Before Clemson: A SuperPrep All-American...ranked as the #53 player in Florida by SuperPrep...a Tom Lemming All-Southeast selection...had 109 tackles, four interceptions, and 12 sacks at Ed White High School in Jacksonville, FL...played for Coach Dan Disch...ranked among the top 100 players in the South by Journal Constitution...ranked as the 33rd-best safety in the nation by Rivals100.com; he was a three-star player...named a Tom Lemming All-American...named to the Florida Super 11 and Super 24 teams and was among the top 75 players in Florida by the Florida Times Union...an all-state player at the AAAAA level in Florida as a junior and senior...all-area, all-conference, and all-district as a junior and senior...from the same high school as current teammate Jamaal Fudge...chose Clemson over Auburn, Florida, and Miami (FL)...born Eric L. Clemson Ring Of Honor

The Clemson Ring of Honor is in its 10th season of existence in Clemson Memorial Stadium. On September 3, 1994, during ceremonies prior to the Clemson-Furman football game, Frank Howard, Steve Fuller, and Banks McFadden were inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor. On September 2, 1995, Jeff Davis was added to the Clemson Ring of Honor, the first member of Clemson's National Championship team of 1981.

On September 6, 1997, Fred Cone was named along with former three-time All-America baseball player Rusty Adkins, the first non-football player to be named to the prestigious list. The class of 1999 included former All-America receiver Jerry Butler, and former basketball greats Dale Davis and Barbara Kennedy. Terry Kinard, who also was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001, joined the Ring of Honor during the 2001 Florida State game. Tina Krebs became the second female inductee in 2003.

The Ring of Honor is the highest honor a Clemson athlete can receive. A recipient must first be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, earn at least an undergraduate degree, and make a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson athletics. Honorees will have their jersey retired. Each Clemson athletic facility will have an appropriate display that will honor the recipient. The facade on the North side upper deck of Memorial Stadium is the Ring of Honor display for football.

Here are some other facts about Clemson's Ring of Honor:

Committee

The Committee is composed of 11 members:

- Sports Information Director, Chair
- Athletic Director
- Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment
- Senior Associate Athletic Director
- Executive Secretary of IPTAY
- A member of the Board of Trustees
- A member of the Tiger Lettermen's Association
- A member of the Athletic Council
- NCAA Faculty Representative
- University President or designee
- Head Coach of a sport that has a nomination (i.e., Head Football Coach votes on football candidates, basketball coach votes on basketball candidates, etc.)

Conferring

In the sport of football, the honoree will have his name, number, years participated, and helmet enshrined in the Ring of Honor at Clemson Memorial Stadium. In the sport of basketball, the honoree's jersey will be hung from the rafters of Littlejohn Coliseum. In the sport of baseball, a jersey replica will be hung from the fence of Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Other sports will establish appropriate sites at the home facility.

When a student-athlete is selected, the person's jersey is honored, but the jersey number may be worn in the future.

The nature and organization of the ceremony will be determined from a meeting between the honoree, the athletic director, the committee chair, and the head coach of the sport involved.

Jerry Butler was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1986. Thirteen years later, he was inducted into the Ring of Honor.

Eligibility

This committee will recognize individuals who have demonstrated consistent and unique national excellence in their sport during their Clemson career. Their accomplishments must be significant on an individual and team basis. Their statistical accomplishments must be noteworthy, but they should also have an outstanding record in terms of leadership. In general, they must have made a noteworthy contribution to the history of Clemson athletics.

Athletic accomplishments after their Clemson career are not a primary consideration in the nomination, but they must retain a commendable record of citizenship after they leave Clemson.

A candidate must be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited four-year University or college.

Financial contributions to the University will not be a consideration when evaluating the candidates.

For a coach to be nominated, they must be retired from coaching that sport at the college level.

Nominations

Nominations are made by any member of IPTAY, faculty or staff personnel, or relative of a worthy candidate, and are accepted 30 days prior to the committee meeting. The committee will meet once every two years in the spring to vote on the nominations. Nominations will be made in the form of a letter with a complete list of accomplishments, and submitted to the chair of the committee (Sports Information Director), who will retain an active file of nominations. Letters of support may also be submitted. All nominations will remain on file for a period of three voting committee meetings (five years). The chair of the committee will screen all nominations to make sure they meet eligibility requirements.

Purpose

The charge of the Ring of Honor Committee is to bestow the highest athletic award presented by the Clemson Athletic Department on deserving candidates. The committee will examine the careers of candidates in all Clemson sports.

Ring of Honor Members

Rusty Adkins is the only three-time All-American in Tiger baseball history. He was selected in 1965, 1966, and 1967. A three-time first-team All-ACC player, Adkins hit a remarkable .444 in 1965, an average that remained a Clemson record for a season given a minimum of 100 at bats for 37 seasons. Adkins had a 41-game hitting streak that started in 1965 and ended in 1966, a mark that remains in the top 10 in the college baseball recordbook. He is also a member of the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame and was named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

Jerry Butler was a first-team AP All-American in 1978 when he joined Steve Fuller in leading the Tigers to a #6 ranking and 11-1 record. He caught at least one pass in 36 straight games, a record that stands today. In 1979, he was the #5 overall pick of the Bills, where he played at a Pro Bowl level for eight years. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team.

Fred Cone was the first player in Tiger history to rush for at least 2,000 yards in a career. Cone played for the Tigers from 1948 to 1950. He still ranks fourth on the Tiger career list for touchdowns with 31. Cone was a starter on two undefeated

Clemson teams, one of two players in Clemson history to do that. He went on to a lengthy professional career and is a member of the Green Bay Packers Hall of Fame.

Dale Davis was a three-time All-ACC player for the Tigers from 1987-91. He was a first-team selection in 1990 when he joined Elden Campbell in leading Clemson to its first ACC regular-season championship. He still ranks among the

Clemson Ring Of Honor

ACC's top 10 in career field goal percentage. He was named an honorable mention All-American that year. A first-round draft choice of the Indiana Pacers, Davis is still active in the NBA with the Portland Trailblazers.

Jeff Davis, captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team, was a first-team All-American that year when he led the Tigers in tackles with 175, the second-highest total in Clemson history. Davis was also named the Most Valuable Player of the ACC and was the Defensive MVP of the Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska, the game that clinched the national championship for the Tigers, the first in Clemson history. He was named a first-team All-American and went on to an NFL career with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team.

Steve Fuller is one of three football players in Clemson history to be chosen an All-American on the field and in the classroom. Fuller was a first-team Academic All-American in 1977 and 1978 and was a third-team AP All-American in 1978.

Fuller, who was ACC MVP on two occasions, was an NCAA Top-Five Award winner in 1979, the only Clemson athlete to win the award. He was also the recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award in 1978. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team.

Frank Howard was Clemson's head football coach and athletic director from 1940-69. He led the Tigers to eight conference titles, six bowl games, and six top-25 seasons. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989 and is the second-winningest coach in ACC history. He had 165 wins when he retired, the most in ACC history.

The Ring of Honor in Memorial Stadium permanently displays former Clemson grid greats. Banks McFadden was in the inaugural Ring of Honor in the fall of 1994.

Barbara Kennedy is the greatest female athlete in Clemson athletic history. She was an All-American for the Lady Tigers in 1980-81 and 1981-82. Kennedy led the nation in scoring with a 29-point average and is still the ACC's all-time leader in scoring and rebounding. Kennedy scored over 3,000 points in her four seasons at Clemson and averaged 24 points per game for her career. Kennedy has also been inducted into the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame and is currently the Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Basketball Operations at Clemson. In 2002, she was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team and was named one of the top-50 greatest female athletes in ACC history.

Terry Kinard was a two-time first-team AP All-American (1981-82). He was a unanimous All-American in 1982, the only unanimous All-American in Tiger history. The long-time member of the New York Giants still holds the Tiger record for career interceptions. As the years have gone on, he has continued to reap awards. In 1990, he was named to USA Today's All-Decade team for the 1980s. In 2000, he was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Century team of college football. In 2001, he became the first Tiger in 42 years to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame in 2002. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team and was ranked among the top-50 male athletes in ACC sports history.

Fuller, who was ACC MVP on two occasions, was an NCAA Top-Five Award winner in 1979, the only Clemson athlete to win the award. He was also the recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award in 1978. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team.

Tina Krebs became the first track athlete and the second female to be inducted into the Ring of Honor in 2003. Earlier that year, she was named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary teams in cross country, indoor track, and outdoor track, and was recognized as one of the top 50 athletes in all women's sports for the first 50 years of the conference. Krebs was a three-time NCAA Champion, the most individual national championships for any Clemson track athlete. She was an eight-time All-American in the three sports combined and was an academic All-American in 1986. She was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1993.

Krebs was a three-time NCAA Champion, the most individual national championships for any Clemson track athlete. She was an eight-time All-American in the three sports combined and was an academic All-American in 1986. She was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1993.

Banks McFadden was named the nation's Most Versatile Athlete in 1939. He was an All-American in both football and basketball, the only Tiger in history to accomplish that feat. McFadden led the Tigers to their first bowl bid ever, a 6-3 win over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. McFadden was the #4 overall pick of the 1940 NFL draft, the highest draft pick in Tiger football history.

Selection Process

Each committee member will cast one vote per sport. An honoree must obtain at least seven votes to be selected. There will be just one ballot. The committee does not have to select any honorees at its meeting. There shall be no more than one honoree in a sport for every two years. The committee then submits its recommendation to the President who makes the final decision.

2004 TIGERS

Football/Track All-Time Greats

Jerry Butler

Known for "The Catch" that defeated South Carolina in 1977, wide receiver Jerry Butler was a first-round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills in 1979 and was named the AFC's Rookie-of-the-Year. He played with the Bills until 1987. Butler was a First-Team AP All-American in 1978. On the track, he was the 1978 ACC indoor champion in the 60-yard dash with a time of 6.2.

Delton Hall

Delton Hall started at cornerback for the Tigers in 1985 and 1986 before being drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second round of the 1987 draft. In his first season in the league, he was named to the 1988 NFL All-Rookie team. He also played for the San Diego Chargers in 1992. Hall lettered for the Tigers in track from 1984-87. He was a vital member of the Tiger relay squads and ran with the 4x400m and 4x800m relay teams.

Charlie James

Charlie James was a tailback for the Tigers in 1989. He was the most efficient runner on a per-play basis. He had the highest average (7.4) on yards-per-carry among players with 10 or more carries. After suffering a stable neck fracture in an October football game, he returned to the outdoor track, where, with three other football players (Larry Ryans, Doug Thomas, James Trapp), he won the 400m relay at the ACC meet. James was also a member of the 1991 4x100m relay ACC Championship team that set a meet record with a time of 39.14, one of the world's fastest times that year.

Banks McFadden, who played football and basketball along with running track, is widely regarded as the best athlete in Clemson sports history.

James Trapp was one of the top sprinters in ACC history. He was also a member of the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Ravens in 2001 and is a veteran of 11 NFL seasons.

Banks McFadden

Banks McFadden was named the Nation's Most Versatile Athlete during the 1939-40 academic year after earning All-America honors in both football and basketball. He was a first-round draft pick of the Brooklyn Dodgers' football team in 1939. "Bonnie Banks" was also a three-time letterman for the track squad, as he competed from 1938-40.

Rod McSwain

Rod McSwain lettered at cornerback for the Tigers from 1980-83 and played on the 1981 National Championship team. He was a third-round draft pick of the Atlanta Falcons in 1984 before being picked up by the New England Patriots, where he played until 1990. McSwain ran with the sprint-medley-relay team that clocked in at 3:18.56 in 1983, setting a then-Clemson record. He was also a member of the 4x100m relay team that won the ACC outdoor title in 1982.

Larry Ryans

Larry Ryans started at wide receiver for the Clemson football team during the 1991 and 1992 seasons, and was also one of the team's top kickoff returners. He was a member of seven ACC Championship teams at Clemson, including six with the track squad and one with the football team. He played in the NFL for the Detroit Lions in 1993 and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1996. He also played in the XFL with the Los Angeles Xtreme in 2001. In track, Ryans was a four-time All-American and holds the Clemson indoor record in the 55m high hurdles with a time of 7.12.

Doug Thomas

Doug Thomas was drafted in the second round of the 1991 NFL Draft the day after he garnered All-ACC honors in the 100m at the 1991 ACC Outdoor Championships. Thomas led off the 4x100m relay team that won the conference title at that meet with a record time of 39.14. He was also the 1991 ACC Indoor Champion in the 55m. Although he started at wide receiver for the Tigers in 1990, he made his mark as a kickoff returner. He became the first Tiger to record two kickoff returns for touchdowns in a career. Thomas played three years in the NFL with the Seattle Seahawks.

James Trapp

James Trapp, a 10-time track & field All-American, was a starting cornerback for the Tigers in 1992. He was the 1992 NCAA indoor national champion in the 200m, and set a Clemson record time of 20.66 in that event. Trapp also competed as a member of the 1992 United States Olympic team. In 1993, Trapp won the U.S. Indoor Championship in the 200m, won the world championship in the 200m, and was selected in the NFL draft by the Los Angeles Raiders. He was a member of the 2000 Baltimore Raven Super Bowl Championship team and was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame. Most recently, he was named to the ACC 50th Anniversary Track & Field team.

Larry Ryans was a four-time All-American on the track and one of the top kick returners in Tiger history in the early 1990s.

Current Football/Track Standouts

Airese Currie

Airese Currie is a starting wide receiver on the football team. He was voted most improved wide receiver honors in the spring of 2002 after leading the Tigers in yards per catch with a 17.8 figure and 320 receiving yards to set a freshman receiving record. In 2003, Currie was the third-leading receiver with 43 catches for 560 yards and four touchdowns. He set a single-game record for receptions (12) against Middle Tennessee. Currie is Clemson's top returning receiver in 2004. In track, he earned All-America honors as a member of the Tigers' 4x100m relay team that finished second at the 2002 NCAA Championships in Baton Rouge, LA. The relay team's time of 38.86 set a school and ACC record. In 2003, Currie was the East Region Champion in the 100m, and qualified for the NCAA Championships in the 100m and 200m. He was also a 100m and 200m national qualifier outdoors in 2004.

Tye Hill

Tye Hill is a starting defensive back on the football team. A red-shirt freshman in 2002, Hill was the Tigers' third-leading rusher with 209 yards on 37 carries, including 105 yards on 19 carries at North Carolina. He made the transition from running back to cornerback in 2003, starting 11 of 13 games for the #22 Tigers. Hill was named Clemson's Defensive Player-of-the-Game against #3 Florida State with an interception, caused fumble, and pass deflection along with four tackles. He finished the season with 37 tackles, including 34 first hits. On the track, Hill was a member of the 2003 ACC Outdoor Champion 4x100m relay team, and competed at the East Region Championships in the 100m and 4x100m relay. In 2004, he was the ACC champion in the 60m indoors and 100m outdoors, becoming the sixth Clemson track athlete since 1965 to win both in the same year.

Quoting Coaches Tommy Bowden & Bob Pollock

"Track and football go hand-in-hand in many ways. When our football players participate with Coach Pollock's track program, it helps keep them in shape in football and certainly helps them when it comes to improving their speed. Currie set the Clemson record for receptions in a game early in the season and will be one of the most feared receivers in the ACC in 2004 because of his break-away ability. Hill made a big difference in the secondary as a starter last year, especially the Florida State game when his interception changed the momentum of the game. His speed in breaking on the ball is going to make him one of the top cornerbacks in the ACC. The other positive is the winning attitude that exists within the Clemson track & field program. Coach Pollock's teams are used to winning ACC titles and finishing in the top 10 in the nation. The athletes that participate for both sports bring that winning attitude to our program."

Head Football Coach Tommy Bowden

"Clemson University is a unique school that provides our student-athletes an opportunity to receive a quality education complete with a commitment to excellence in athletics. Our track & field and football programs are rich in tradition and nationally recognized. Coach Bowden and our staff work together to encourage the success of our dual-sport athletes both academically and athletically. Airese Currie and Tye Hill are proven athletes in our program. Currie qualified in the 100m, 200m, and 4x100m relay for the NCAA Championships the last two years. He was the fastest football track athlete at the national championships according to the NFL scouts. Hill was the ACC indoor champion in the 60m and the outdoor champion in the 100m, a big reason we won the outdoor ACC title. I am very excited and enthusiastic about our dual-sport athletes and the recognition they bring to Clemson University."

Clemson Memorial Stadium, known to Tiger faithful as "Death Valley," seats more than 81,000 loyal fans. It is located on the west side of the Clemson University campus, while the campus is just a two-hour drive from Atlanta, Charlotte, and Columbia. The beaches of coastal South Carolina are only four hours away, while the awe-inspiring sights of the Blue Ridge Mountains can be viewed just a few miles northwest of Clemson.

2004 Spring Game

Wide receiver Michael Collins caught two touchdown passes to lead the offense, and defensive end Charles Bennett had two sacks and three pass deflections at the line of scrimmage to highlight Clemson's Orange and White Game at Memorial Stadium on April 10, 2004. The two-and-half hour event ended Clemson's spring practice season.

The offense against defense scrimmage featured many outstanding plays by Tiger defenders. The offense scored just two touchdowns and kicked a pair of field goals. The pass defense allowed just 22 completions in 58 attempts for 371 yards, just 6.4 yards per attempt. The defense had three interceptions and forced four turnovers overall on the afternoon.

"We had a lot of passes deflected at the line of scrimmage," said Head Coach Tommy Bowden. "I'm not sure if that had to do with a lack of pass rush. Our offensive linemen might have been reacting based on knowing what was coming. That can happen in a spring game. It had not been a problem in the previous 14 practices, nor last year. I don't think it will be a problem."

Quarterback Charlie Whitehurst in effect had to go "both ways" throughout the day. He never got a break after the first quarter, as backup signal-caller Will Proctor suffered an eye injury in the first quarter. When that happened, Whitehurst played quarterback with the first team and the second team. At one point, he took 51 consecutive snaps without a rest.

There were two other injuries in the scrimmage. Wide receiver Chris Jefferson suffered a concussion when he was hit trying to catch a pass over the middle. He walked off with help. Tim DeBeer, who had just moved into a first-team offensive tackle slot, suffered a sprained ankle and a sprained knee on a field-goal attempt. He was held out of the rest of the scrimmage and was on crutches after the contest. Neither Jefferson's nor DeBeer's injury was serious.

Whitehurst completed 19-47 passes for 290 yards and two touchdowns. He completed three apiece to Chansi Stuckey, Airese Currie, and Gerald McCloud for 24 yards per completion. Currie had the longest play of the day when he caught a 51-yarder from Whitehurst. Proctor completed a 29-yard pass to McCloud before he left with the eye injury.

Collins scored both touchdowns, the first on an eight-yard reception from Whitehurst in the second quarter and the second on a nine-yard catch from Whitehurst in the third quarter. Those were the only touchdowns on the afternoon for the offensive unit.

Clemson's running backs were solid, with Duane Coleman (12-45), Reggie Merriweather (9-47), and Yusef Kelly (9-35) providing the bulk of the yards. "I don't think we have a #1 running back," said Bowden after the scrimmage. "Yusef Kelly showed great improvement this spring and he ran hard. Coleman and Merriweather also had very good springs."

Brandon Nolen also had a good day, as the rising red-shirt freshman had 29 yards rushing on seven carries.

Tavaghn Monts was the top tackler with eight, including seven first hits. Bennett had the most big plays with six tackles, including two sacks and three pass deflections at the line of scrimmage. Gaines Adams, another defensive end, had a pair of sacks. Reserve linebacker Steven Jackson, who was moved to linebacker for spring practice, had five tackles, including an interception of a batted pass. Roy Walker and Jamaal Fudge also had interceptions and Travis Pugh had a fumble recovery to key the defense.

Stephen Furr, who lettered in 2002 but did not appear in a game last year, booted two field goals, including one of 46 yards. Cole Chason had a 41.7-yard average on 10 punts that were performed without a rush or a return.

Georgia scored on its first offensive possession of the 2003 season and never looked back, defeating Clemson 30-0 in front of 82,034 fans at Memorial Stadium. Georgia held Clemson to 199 yards of total offense and was responsible for the first shutout of the Tigers in Tommy Bowden's five-year tenure at Clemson.

Clemson won the coin toss and moved into Bulldog territory, but stalled at the Georgia 41-yard line and punted into the endzone. On Georgia's fourth play from scrimmage, reigning SEC Offensive-Player-of-the-Year David Greene hit Fred Gibson in stride for a 56-yard touchdown.

The Bulldogs got the ball back minutes after a center-quarterback exchange problem between Tommy Sharpe and Charlie Whitehurst. The Bulldogs capitalized on the turnover and a 15-yard facemask penalty before Billy Bennett drilled a 34-yard field goal, giving Georgia a 10-0 advantage.

The Bulldogs threatened in the early stages of the second quarter. Bennett came on for a 32-yard field goal, but a bad snap forced him to run for the first-down marker. He was stopped short by linebacker Lionel Richardson. Clemson took over at its own 14, but receiver Derrick Hamilton fumbled on the second play of the ensuing drive. The Bulldogs took advantage with a 30-yard field goal by Bennett.

Clemson responded on the ensuing drive after Justin Miller returned the ball 31 yards to the 38-yard line. A personal foul by the Bulldogs put the Tigers in Georgia territory to start the drive. On fourth-down-and-two at the four-yard line, Clemson opted to go for a halfback pass. Duane Coleman took a pitch to the weak side, and then threw back across the field to Whitehurst. The play was broken up by defensive end Robert Geathers, a South Carolina native.

Georgia took a 13-0 lead into halftime. Whitehurst was 15-21 for 123 yards in the first half. However, the Tigers had just seven rushing yards at halftime.

The Bulldogs drove the ball down the field to start the second half, but stalled inside the 10-yard line. Georgia decided to go for a fourth-and-two on Clemson's three-yard line, but was stopped just short after Richardson and safety Tavaghn Monts teamed up to stuff Bulldog tight end Robert Brannon for no gain.

Clemson was unable to move the ball and punted to Georgia, who ended up in great field position at the Tiger 32-yard line. Bennett came on again, and extended the Bulldogs' lead to 16-0 with a 42-yard effort.

Clemson began to put together its first scoring opportunity of the second half late in the third quarter. Whitehurst orchestrated a 15-play drive and led the Tigers to the Georgia three-yard line. However, Clemson was penalized for illegal procedure and Whitehurst was sacked on the next play. On third-and-goal from the 10, Whitehurst threw a quick screen pass that was intercepted and returned 24 yards by 2002 SEC Player-of-the-Year David Pollack.

The Bulldogs tacked on two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Greene scored on a three-yard keeper, then backup signal-caller D.J. Shockley scored on a 29-yard run. The Bulldogs featured a balanced offense, with 214 passing yards and 197 yards on the ground. The Tigers, meanwhile, struggled to gain just 35 rushing yards on 24 carries.

Whitehurst ended the game with 19 completions on 33 attempts for 151 yards, while Airese Currie led the Tiger receiving corps with Leroy Hill had a career-high 16 tackles and three tackles for loss against #9 Georgia in the season-opener at Death Valley.

 Clemson	28	Furman: Bobby Lamb Clemson: Tommy Bowden
September 6, 2003		Records & AP Ranking Entering Game
Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC		Furman: 1-0 NR Clemson: 0-1 NR

Clemson and Furman hooked up for the first time since 1998, when Tommy West guided the Tigers to a 33-0 victory at Memorial Stadium. Both teams entered the contest under different circumstances. Furman had defeated Elon 24-7 the week before, while Clemson was still reeling from a week one shutout at the hands of Georgia.

The Tigers came out strong early in the contest. On its first possession, Clemson marched down the field on a drive directed by Charlie Whitehurst. With a mix of short passes to Kevin Youngblood and runs off tackle by Duane Coleman, the Tigers put together a 14-play, 85-yard scoring drive that took nearly six minutes. The score came when Chad Jasmin ran in from five yards out on a toss sweep around left end.

On the ensuing offensive possession for Clemson, it did not take nearly as much time to get on the scoreboard again. Whitehurst dropped back and threw a deep ball that hit Airese Currie perfectly in stride for a 72-yard touchdown. After just two possessions, Clemson had already built a 14-0 lead.

Furman got in on the act in the second quarter. Quarterback Bo Moore successfully faked both a run and end around before tossing a 20-yard touchdown pass to a wide-open Brian Bratton.

On the Paladins' next possession, Moore was not so successful. He led an option to the right side of the field, but his pitch was a little behind the tailback. After a flurry of Tiger defenders jumped on and missed the football, defensive end J.J. Howard picked it up and ran it in from 17 yards out. Howard's fumble return was the first for Clemson since Bryant McNeal raced 55 yards for a score in the 2002 game at Georgia.

The Tigers added a touchdown to its 14-point lead just before the end of the first half on the most peculiar of plays. After three pass completions, Clemson had the ball at the Furman 14 on first down.

Whitehurst's pass was tipped at the line of scrimmage by Furman defender Travis Jones. However, the ball landed right in the hands of left tackle William Henry, who began to rumble toward the goal line. He then fumbled it straight to Coleman, who ran the remaining nine yards for the score. Coleman was credited with a nine reception yards and a touchdown on the bizarre play and Clemson had a commanding 28-7 halftime advantage.

Whitehurst was extremely efficient in the first half, as he completed 16 of his 18 pass attempts for 219 yards and the two touchdowns. The Paladins had just 89 yards of total offense at halftime.

The second half proved to be a different story for both squads. Neither Clemson nor Furman scored in the third quarter. Tiger senior placekicker Aaron Hunt was wide left on a 38-yard field goal attempt on the opening possession of the second half. The Tigers drove into Furman territory on their next possession, but Whitehurst was intercepted by Mike Killian.

Furman put together a 12-play, 66-yard scoring drive in the early fourth quarter. Bratton, who led the Paladins with 41 yards rushing, scored on a three-yard touchdown run for the Paladins, his second of the afternoon. The crucial play of that drive was a third-and-13 pass that was broken up by cornerback Justin Miller. But, free safety Travis Pugh was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct on the play and the drive continued.

Furman added a field goal on its next possession, bringing the final score to 28-17 in favor of Clemson. The Tigers were shut out in the second half and were plagued by a plethora of ill-timed mistakes. Clemson was penalized 11 times for 111 yards, with four of the penalties coming on punt returns alone.

The Tigers' signal caller finished with 301 yards passing, while Youngblood tied a career-high with 10 catches for 100 yards. Leroy Hill paced the defense for the second straight game. He had 13 tackles, including three for loss and a sack.

Defensive tackle DeJuan Polk had two tackles for loss in the Tigers' 28-17 victory over the Paladins.

Clemson: 1-1 NR

Clemson played its third straight home game to start the 2003 season when it faced Middle Tennessee for the first time ever, defeating the visitors 37-14. The Blue Raiders entered the game with an 0-2 record, but had played Georgia tough the week before. There was an unusual atmosphere at Death Valley, as longtime play-by-play broadcaster Jim Phillips had died the previous Tuesday morning. He had worked at Clemson since the 1968 season.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden went back to a no-huddle offense to combat the movements of the Blue Raider defense. The result was 481 yards of total offense and the Tigers' best performance of the young season.

Clemson scored on its opening possession after Charlie Whitehurst found Derrick Hamilton wide open for a 29-yard touchdown pass. The Tigers went 80 yards in just six plays, with Whitehurst going 5-5 on the drive. Aaron Hunt's extra point attempt was blocked by Pierre Ingram of the Blue Raiders.

The Tigers began to put together another scoring drive in the late first quarter. Clemson converted three third downs on an 11-play, 88-yard drive. The Tigers got into the endzone when Duane plays for 81 yards and a touchdown. Eugene Gross punched it in from four yards out to cut the deficit to 13-7 in favor of Clemson. However, Whitehurst and the Tiger offense would respond.

Whitehurst rushed for 22 yards on two carries to put the Tigers in scoring position late in the second quarter. Chad Jasmin took a toss sweep to the left and scored on a three-yard touchdown run, giving the Tigers a 20-7 lead.

After forcing Middle Tennessee to punt, the Tigers got the ball back with just under four minutes remaining in the half. Whitehurst completed two passes to both Airese Currie and Derrick Hamilton, the last of which was a 19-yard touchdown to Hamilton. The score came in the last minute of the half and gave Clemson a 27-7 lead.

Clemson scored the lone points of the third quarter when Whitehurst found Currie for a four-yard touchdown pass. While it appeared the pass was intended for tight end Ben Hall, the ball floated over his hands and straight into the hands of Currie. For Whitehurst, it was his fourth touchdown pass and tied a single-game record.

The Blue Raiders cut the lead to 34-14 when Kevin Davis scored from one yard out. Clemson responded with the game's final points on the next drive. Whitehurst hooked up with Currie two times for 39 yards to put Clemson into position for a 42-yard field goal from Aaron Hunt, his first made field goal of the season.

Whitehurst was 23-28 for 298 yards and four touchdowns. He also rushed for 41 yards on nine carries, giving the sophomore 339 yards of total offense. Currie had a record-setting day for the Tigers after hauling in 12 passes for 133 yards and a score. The 12 catches eclipsed the single-game record of 11, which was shared by Phil Rogers and Rod Gardner. After just three games, Currie had more catches (20) than he did the entire 2002 season (16). Hamilton added four catches for 78 yards and two touchdowns.

The Tiger running game had its most productive showing of the season. Clemson rushed for 183 yards on 44 carries, which was 24 yards more than the Tigers had rushed in the two previous games. Kyle Browning got his first start at tailback and responded with 11 carries for 53 yards.

Jamaal Fudge paced the defense with 17 tackles, while John Leake added 12. Leroy Hill had two tackles for loss, upping his season total to eight after just three games. Travis Pugh intercepted a pass for the Tigers, the first interception for Clemson all season.

Airese Currie hauled in a Tiger-record 12 receptions for 133 yards in the Tigers' 37-14 victory over Middle Tennessee.

Head Coaching Matchup

Clemson: Tommy Bowden
Georgia Tech: Chan Gailey

Records & AP Ranking Entering Game

Georgia Tech: 1-2 NR

Clemson ended a series of close games with Georgia Tech by defeating the Yellow Jackets 39-3 in Atlanta. The seven previous games between the two schools had been decided by just 23 points, including six consecutive three-point decisions from 1996-01. The Tigers' 36-point margin of victory was the most against Georgia Tech by Clemson since John Heisman was roaming the Clemson sidelines in 1903. The 36-point win was the best for Clemson in an ACC road game since a 55-0 win at Virginia in 1984.

Clemson got on the board in the late portion of the first quarter after Aaron Hunt connected on a 23-yard field goal. The score was set up by a holding penalty by Georgia Tech on a punt, thus giving the ball back to the Tigers.

Clemson tacked on to its lead in the second after John Leake intercepted his first career pass. His effort set up Tony Elliott from nine yards out on a touchdown reception from Charlie Whitehurst. It was Elliott's second touchdown in as many years against the Yellow Jackets.

The Tigers struck again on the ensuing possession. Kevin Youngblood grabbed a jump-ball pass from Whitehurst for a 44-yard gain to get into Tech territory. Youngblood was rewarded moments later when he caught a pass, then spun away and dove for the endzone on a 12-yard touchdown play.

Georgia Tech got on the board late in the second quarter with a Dan Burnett field goal, but the Tigers responded quickly. Derrick Hamilton returned the ensuing kickoff 39 yards to Clemson's 45-yard line. From there, Youngblood caught a 22-yard pass, then Whitehurst hooked up with Airese Currie for a 33-yard touchdown strike just before halftime. Whitehurst's third touchdown pass gave the Tigers a 23-3 lead at the break.

Clemson's defense was the story of the second half. On the Yellow Jackets' second possession, quarterback Reggie Ball was pressured inside his own 10-yard line. He ran back to avoid the rush but could not get away from Maurice Fountain and Vontrell Jamison, who threw the freshman down for a safety and a 25-3 lead.

The running game stepped up in the fourth quarter for Clemson. On its second possession of the quarter, the Tigers took to the ground. Kyle Browning rushed three times for 33 yards before Duane Coleman took a handoff straight up the middle for a 25-yard touchdown. It was the longest run from scrimmage for the Tigers in the young season.

Clemson added a touchdown to its final margin when Whitehurst scored on a quarterback sneak. The Tigers got the ball back after fullback Steven Jackson recovered a fumble on the kickoff. The Tiger defense kept Tech out of the endzone in the waning moments of the game, preserving the 36-point victory.

Whitehurst led the Tigers again offensively. He was 23-38 for 298 yards and accounted for four scores. Currie led a trio of Tiger receivers, with six catches for 78 yards and a touchdown. Youngblood caught five balls for 101 yards and a touchdown. Hamilton had five catches for 79 yards to go along with 59 return yards and 14 rushing yards.

Clemson rushed for 138 yards on 30 carries in the game, more rushing yards gained than both Auburn and Florida State had against the Georgia Tech defense in the previous two weeks. Georgia Tech entered the game having upset a top-15 Auburn team the previous week.

Defensively, the Tigers totaled 11 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, and harassed Ball and the Tech offense the entire night. Leading the way was Leake, who had 14 tackles and three for loss. Leroy Hill continued his fine play with 11 tackles, including two for loss and his fourth sack of the year. Additional sacks were recorded by Fountain, Tye Hill, Eric Sampson, and Donnell Washington.

Touré Francis led the defensive backs with four pass breakups. Justin Miller and Travis Pugh each added a pair of deflections for the Tiger secondary.

Records & AP Ranking Entering Game

Clemson: 3-1 NR
 Maryland: 3-2 NR

For the third consecutive year under Head Coach Ralph Friedgen, Maryland defeated Clemson, this time by a score of 21-7. It marked the first time the Terrapins have won three in a row over the Tigers since 1975-77.

Scott McBrien threw for 204 yards and three touchdowns to lead a balanced Maryland attack. The Terrapins rushed for 159 yards, compared to just 10 for the Tigers.

Maryland opened the scoring mid-way through the first quarter. Following a missed field goal attempt by Tiger kicker Aaron Hunt, Maryland marched 68 yards on 12 plays before Steve Suter was the recipient of a 25-yard touchdown pass from McBrien.

The Terrapins extended the lead to 14-0 on the fourth play of the second quarter. This time, McBrien found Rich Parson on a 10-yard touchdown pass.

Following a series of punts between the two teams, Clemson found itself on the scoreboard. Derrick Hamilton caught a pass on the sideline from Charlie Whitehurst, then weaved his way for a 70-yard touchdown. The reception was the longest of Hamilton's career.

The half ended as Terrapin kicker Nick Novak missed a 48-yard field goal. Maryland led 14-7 at halftime. Clemson had -14 rushing yards in the half.

Clemson threatened on its opening possession of the second half. Duane Coleman had a 15-yard tacked on the final touchdown in the late portion of the third quarter. Following a punt by Clemson's Cole Chason, McBrien struck one more time through the air. He found Derrick Fenner for a 69-yard touchdown down the sideline.

Each of McBrien's touchdown passes occurred in third-and-long situations.

Clemson put together another scoring threat late in the third and into the fourth quarter. Whitehurst hooked up with Tony Elliott on a 21-yard completion, but his fourth down incompleteness to Cliff Harrell halted the drive.

Whitehurst continued to move the football in the fourth quarter, but he threw two interceptions to preserve the victory for Maryland.

Whitehurst finished 22-45 for 320 yards, the second-highest yardage total in his young career. However, he was sacked six times by the Terrapin defense.

Hamilton caught seven passes for 175 yards, the second-highest receiving yardage total in Tiger history. Rod Gardner's 182-yard performance against North Carolina in 2000 is the record.

The defense was led by Leroy Hill, who totaled 12 tackles and two for loss. Vontrell Jamison had a 15-yard sack for the Tigers, while J.J. Howard forced a McBrien fumble and had a sack.

Jamaal Fudge had seven tackles and two tackles for loss, while Travis Pugh had eight stops and a pass deflection.

Virginia:	4-1 #25
Clemson:	3-2 NR

Clemson won a 30-27 overtime thriller against #24 (USA Today) Virginia when Kevin Youngblood snagged a four-yard fade pattern for the game-winning touchdown. The play was eerily similar (same endzone) to the game-winner two years prior in Death Valley, when Cavalier receiver Billy McMullen was the hero.

The Tigers' upset was the first against a ranked opponent since a 47-44 overtime win at #9 Georgia Tech in 2001. The win also upped Clemson's overtime record to 3-0 all-time.

Clemson opened the scoring on its first offensive possession. The Tigers came out with some trickery, as Derrick Hamilton took a reverse 52 yards to move into Virginia territory. Aaron Hunt came on to connect on a 26-yard field goal and give the Tigers the early lead.

Clemson struck again in the second quarter, as it put together a 13-play drive that ended with Whitehurst finding Hamilton for a 19-yard touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson had its way with Virginia in the first half. Clemson outgained Virginia 272-89, yet only led 10-0 at the break. The Tigers were unable to capitalize on two other red-zone chances.

Virginia came out with a head of steam in the second half, led by 2002 ACC Player-of-the-Year Matt Schaub. He led the Cavaliers on a 12-play, 60-yard scoring drive to cut the lead to 10-7. He completed 10 of the 12 passes on the drive.

The Cavaliers got the ball back moments later in great field position, thanks to a 15-yard kick catching interference on the Tigers. Schaub found Patrick Estes wide open in the endzone for a five-yard touchdown four plays later, giving Virginia its first lead at 14-10.

Schaub avoided trouble on the next Cavalier possession after the Tigers were penalized for a costly face mask on third down. Clemson appeared to have Schaub stopped near the goal line. Instead, the drive continued and Schaub marched the Cavaliers down the field.

However, Jamaal Fudge made one of the biggest plays of the game when he jarred a ball loose from Heath Miller in the endzone, breaking up a touchdown catch. Virginia settled for a field goal.

Following a series of punts, Clemson got the ball in good field position. Whitehurst was pressured on the first play of the possession and fumbled, but the ball was picked up alertly by Duane Coleman and he ran for a 13-yard net gain. On the very next play, the Tigers returned to the same trick play they used to open the game. But this time, Hamilton threw his first pass of the season. He found Youngblood down the left sideline, and he made it all the way to the one-yard line. Whitehurst ran it in from the one to tie the score for Clemson.

Clemson took a 24-17 lead late in the game after Yusef Kelly pounded the ball into the endzone from 12 yards out. Virginia responded on the ensuing possession, as Alvin Pearman scored with 57 seconds left to send the game to overtime.

In overtime, the Tigers forced the Cavaliers to settle for a field goal after Leroy Hill stuffed Pearman for no gain on third-and-one. That left the door open for Whitehurst, who led Clemson to victory. Coleman made his second big play of the afternoon when he caught a pass from Whitehurst and scampered 12 yards for a key first down. Two plays later, Whitehurst lofted a ball into the endzone and Youngblood used his height advantage to deliver the game-winning score.

Whitehurst, who entered the game with a foot injury, performed well. He was 27-44 for 265 yards and two scores. Youngblood led the receiving corps with nine catches for 87 yards.

Clemson rushed for 194 yards, its season-high through the first six games. A primary reason was the return of Kelly to the starting lineup. He had 88 yards rushing.

Defensively, Hill had a monster game for the Tigers. He had 11 tackles, including four behind the line of scrimmage and a sack. Fudge paced the defense with 20 tackles, to go along with his key pass breakup of Miller.

Kevin Youngblood's walk-off touchdown reception gave Clemson a 30-27 victory over the Cavaliers and improved the Tigers to 3-0 all-time in overtime contests.

Clemson: 4-2 NR
N.C. State: 4-3 NR

Clemson and N.C. State met for the second consecutive year before an ESPN national television audience, and the Wolfpack prevailed again, winning 17-15 in Raleigh.

Philip Rivers was 20-34 for 213 yards and threw two touchdowns in leading the Wolfpack to victory. It was the fewest passing yards for Rivers all season, but it evened his career mark against Clemson at 2-2.

N.C. State opened the scoring midway through the first quarter. Following a failed fourth-down attempt by the Tigers, the Wolfpack took over at its own 32-yard line and put together a 13-play, 67-yard scoring drive. T.A. McLendon, who struggled through injury the entire game, caught a four-yard touchdown pass from Rivers to give N.C. State a 7-0 lead.

Clemson responded on its next possession. The Tigers were flagged for offensive pass interference twice and brought out the punt team. However, the Wolfpack rushed Cole Chason and were called for roughing the kicker, giving Clemson an automatic first down.

The Tigers would take advantage of N.C. State's mistake. Ben Hall made a spectacular catch on fourth-and-one to keep the drive alive. Then, the Tiger running game took off and got Clemson to a third-and-one at N.C. State's 11. Chad Jasmin was dropped for a loss, and the Tigers settled for an Aaron Hunt field goal.

Clemson struck again in the second quarter. Rivers looked to pass on third down, but was sacked and a fumble was forced by defensive tackle Trey Tate. Linebacker John Leake came up with the football.

Clemson drove the ball down the field, using Duane Coleman out of the backfield as a receiver on a 21-yard catch and 10-yard rush. Charlie Whitehurst found Coleman again on third down, but was short, and another field goal by Hunt cut the deficit to 7-6.

N.C. State came out strong in the third quarter. Rivers found Jericho Cotchery for a 24-yard gain to move into Clemson territory. Then, he found Richard Washington behind the coverage for a perfect 37-yard touchdown strike.

The Wolfpack tacked a field goal onto their lead, making it 17-6 early in the fourth. Adam Kiker was good from 27 yards.

Kevin Youngblood came alive on the ensuing possession for Clemson. He caught passes for four first-downs on a drive that ended in yet another Hunt field goal. His 21-yard effort made it 17-9 in favor of the Wolfpack.

Williamson caught a 23-yard pass to set up a touchdown. Jasmin rushed in from five yards out, setting up a two-point conversion attempt to tie the game. However, Whitehurst's pass was too low for Tony Elliott and fell incomplete. The score remained 17-15.

The Tiger defense held again, giving Whitehurst and the offense one more try with 4:49 left. But, he was sacked and then threw an interception to end the chance for Clemson.

Clemson held N.C. State to a season-low 281 total yards, but still lost the game. N.C. State's pass defense, which came into the game giving up an average of 325 yards per game, yielded just 196 to Whitehurst and the Clemson passing attack.

N.C. State rushed for just 68 yards, while Clemson ran 29 times for 127 yards. The difference in the game proved to be costly penalties and dropped passes. Clemson was just 1-12 on third-downs, while N.C. State was 11-17.

Youngblood and Williamson led the Tigers with five catches each. Williamson's reception total was the most by a Tiger tight end since 1975. Coleman rushed for a team-high 51 yards and also caught three balls for 42 yards. Yusef Kelly, who played well against Virginia, was injured during the game (after 33 yards on six carries) and did not return.

North Carolina: 1-6 NR
 Clemson: 4-3 NR

Clemson totaled 528 yards in a 36-28 shootout victory over North Carolina in Death Valley. The Tigers featured a balanced attack, passing for 309 yards and rushing for 219 more.

North Carolina also fared well offensively, as the Tar Heels had 495 yards in the game.

Clemson jumped out to a quick lead. On its second offensive possession, Derrick Hamilton took a swing pass and raced 69 yards for the opening touchdown. It was the junior wideout's fifth touchdown catch of the season.

On the next possession, Clemson again struck quickly. Duane Coleman burst through the line for 50 yards on the first play. His 50-yard scamper was the longest by a running back this season. Chad Jasmin capped the short drive off with a one-yard touchdown run.

The Tar Heels responded with two touchdowns in the second quarter and took a 14-13 lead. Darian Durant hooked up with Adarius Bowman for a 21-yard score, and Jacque Lewis had a three-yard touchdown run.

Clemson got the ball back with just over a minute left before halftime. Charlie Whitehurst drove the Tigers the length of the field, finding Coleman on a pair of passes to get into field goal position. Aaron Hunt came on and drilled a 41-yard attempt to give Clemson a 16-14 lead at the half.

The two teams scored on a combined four consecutive possessions to open the second half. Ronnie McGill ran the ball in from seven yards out on North Carolina's opening possession. Then, Whitehurst scored on a one-yard sneak to put the Tigers up, 23-21. His run was set up by a 30-yard completion to Hamilton on fourth-and-seven.

Durant came back strong for the Heels, as he scored on a 63-yard run in which he outran the Tiger defense. North Carolina led 28-23 at that point. However, Hamilton responded with the turning point in the game.

Hamilton took the ensuing kickoff at his own goal line, made one cut to the left and took off. Aided by a great block on the edge by Tony Elliott, he raced past the Tar Heel coverage team and beat the kicker to score on a Justin Miller intercepted his first pass of the season and returned it 30 yards on the Tar Heels' next possession. Hunt came in to tack on two field goals in the final quarter and gave Clemson a 36-28 lead. However, Durant got the ball back with under three minutes to play and carried the Tar Heels into Tiger territory. He completed five passes, while scrambling twice for big yardage. On second-and-six from Clemson's 14, he took off around left end and appeared to have a touchdown in his sights.

However, he was hit hard by Travis Pugh and then Jamaal Fudge swatted the ball out of Durant's hands as he attempted to stretch it across the goal line. David Dunham jumped on the loose ball in the endzone with 42 seconds left for the touchback. The Tiger defense preserved the 36-28 win.

Whitehurst was 18-34 for 309 yards and two touchdowns (one passing, one rushing). Airese Currie returned to the lineup for Clemson, and caught four balls for 87 yards. Hamilton totaled 212 all-purpose yards for the Tigers.

Coleman had 111 rushing yards on 13 carries. He became the first 100-yard rusher of the season for the Tigers. In fact, it marked the second straight year that North Carolina was the victim of Clemson's first individual 100-yard rushing performance.

Defensively, John Leake and Leroy Hill combined for 24 tackles. Each had two for loss. For Hill, it gave him 20 through just eight games. Pugh chipped in with a career-high 11 tackles as well.

The Tiger defense created four turnovers, a season high. Fudge, Hill, and Miller all had interceptions. For Fudge and Hill, it was the first career interception for each.

100-yard kickoff return. Hamilton's touchdown was the second 100-yard kickoff return in his career at Clemson.

The Tiger defense stiffened after that.

Wake Forest: 4-4 NR

Wake Forest scored 28 points in the second quarter alone and cruised to a 45-17 win over Clemson in Groves Stadium. It marked the first time since 1992 the Demon Deacons defeated the Tigers at home.

Chris Barclay rushed for 163 yards, most against Clemson in 2003, and led a Wake Forest rushing attack that churned out 321 yards on the ground. The Demon Deacons scored two defensive touchdowns in the contest.

Wake Forest won the coin toss and elected to receive the ball on the opening kickoff. From there, the Demon Deacons marched down the field on a 13-play, 80-yard drive that was capped off by Barclay's five-yard touchdown run.

After Clemson failed to capitalize on a fourth down in Wake Forest territory, the Demon Deacon offense again went to work. This time, Barclay scored on a run from two yards out to end a nine-play drive. His second touchdown gave Wake Forest a 14-0 advantage early in the second quarter.

Clemson again moved into Wake Forest territory on the ensuing drive. However, the drive was halted after Kelvin Grant slipped on the turf and batted a Charlie Whitehurst pass into the air. Wake Forest cornerback Eric King ran under it for the interception and returned it 85 yards for the touchdown.

Cole Chason pinned the Demon Deacons on their own two-yard line the next drive for the Tigers. However, the Demon Deacons took the ball 98 yards in 13 plays and extended the lead to 28-0 on a one-yard quarterback draw by Cory Randolph.

The unthinkable occurred on the Tigers' next offensive play. Whitehurst dropped back to pass, but the ball was stripped out of his hands by Jyles Tucker, who returned the ball 12 yards for the score and 35-0 halftime lead.

Whitehurst had three turnovers in the first half. He had very little help from the running game, as Clemson could muster only 27 yards on 16 carries in the first half of play.

Matt Wisnosky extended the Wake Forest lead to 38-0 on its first offensive possession of the second half. He connected on a 37-yard field goal after the Demon Deacon offense moved 60 yards in 10 plays.

Wake Forest took a 45-0 lead thanks to a one-yard run by Cornelius Birgs. Clemson responded with its first points of the game moments later. Aaron Hunt made a 21-yard field goal, making him 7-7 on field goal attempts over the last three games.

Clemson got the ball back quickly after freshman Sergio Gilliam forced a fumble that was recovered by Jamaal Fudge. Backup quarterback Chansi Stuckey came in and was effective in a short time. He threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Derrick Hamilton and a five-yard touchdown pass to Kelvin Grant.

Stuckey threw for 71 yards on 9-15 passing in the fourth quarter. He also ran for 35 yards, giving him 106 yards of total offense in the final quarter. He came on to spell Whitehurst, who passed for 272 yards in three quarters.

However, the offense did not score a touchdown under Whitehurst's guidance.

Kevin Youngblood led the Tiger receiving corps with seven grabs for 101 yards, while Curtis Baham and Hamilton had six catches each. Grant had a career-high five receptions, including the late touchdown.

Defensively, DeJuan Polk had two tackles for loss, while fellow defensive tackles Eric Coleman and Donnell Washington both contributed one tackle for loss in the game.

Clemson ended 14 years of frustration by defeating #3 Florida State 26-10 in front of 79,826 fans in Death Valley. The win over the third-ranked Seminoles was the highest-ranked victory in Clemson history. It also marked the first time since 1989 that Clemson defeated Florida State.

Several landmarks occurred in the 16-point victory for Clemson. For coach Tommy Bowden, it was his first win in five tries against father Bobby. He was doused with Gatorade by Kevin Youngblood and Khaleed Vaughn in the final moments of the win.

Aaron Hunt became Clemson's all-time scoring leader with 302 points, breaking Nelson Welch's previous record of 301. Derrick Hamilton became the school's all-time all-purpose yardage leader with 4,412, breaking Travis Zachery's record. Charlie Whitehurst broke Woodrow Dantzler's single-season record for passing yards (2,682) with two regular season games remaining.

Clemson set the tone in the game's opening moments. On its first offensive possession, the Tigers moved 65 yards in 11 plays before Aaron Hunt connected on a 23-yard field goal.

On Florida State's ensuing possession, Tye Hill notched his second interception of the season when he stepped in front of a long Chris Rix pass. The Tigers tacked on Hunt's second field goal minutes later, giving Clemson a 6-0 lead.

Clemson got the ball back with less than three minutes to go in the first half. Whitehurst drove the Tigers from their own 35-yard line. The big play was a 51-yard hookup with Youngblood on third-and-10. Three plays later, Whitehurst rolled to the right and then scrambled back to the left for a one-yard touchdown run. His effort gave Clemson a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Florida State missed a field goal on its opening possession of the second half. Clemson took advantage by marching 63 yards in 11 plays. Hunt kicked his third field goal of the game from 32 yards away, giving Clemson a 16-0 cushion. The drive was set up by Whitehurst, who zipped a pass between three defenders as he was getting hit and found Curtis Baham for a 23-yard gain on third down.

The Seminoles responded with three points, as Xavier Beitia made a 46-yard field goal. However, Clemson put the game away on the next two drives. First, Whitehurst executed a beautiful pump-fake to the right before throwing left to a streaking Hamilton. His 58-yard touchdown catch gave Clemson a commanding 23-3 lead. Clemson kept the intensity up, as Leroy Hill intercepted a Rix pass four plays later. The ball was tipped by Khaleed Vaughn. On the next Seminole drive, David Dunham sacked Rix 10 yards behind the line of scrimmage and forced a fumble. It was recovered by DeJuan Polk of Clemson. Hunt came on to nail his fourth field goal of the night, giving Clemson the 26-3 lead.

Florida State finally scored a touchdown in the final three minutes of the contest. Chauncey Stovall was able to get behind the Tiger secondary for a 71-yard touchdown, but it mattered little at that point of the game.

Whitehurst was outstanding in his first career start against Florida State. He finished 17-27 for 272 yards and the touchdown pass. He also rushed for 39 yards and a touchdown. His favorite target was Hamilton, who grabbed six balls for 123 yards and a touchdown.

Hunt came into the game needing 14 points to set the school scoring record, and he did just that. He was 4-4 on field goals and 2-2 on extra points.

Defensively, the Tigers held Florida State to 11 rushing yards the entire game, the fewest total by Florida State in the Bobby Bowden era. Leroy Hill had 10 tackles and was named ACC Lineman-of-the-Week. Clemson also blitzed more than normal, and the result was 15 quarterback hurries in the contest. Five Tigers recorded tackles for loss, including two by freshman Gaines Adams. John Leake and David Dunham each recorded their first sacks of the year as well.

Tye Hill played well for Clemson, as he grabbed his second career interception and also had another pass breakup in earning ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week honors. Travis Pugh tied for the team lead in tackles with 10 from his free safety position.

untouched for a 25-yard touchdown. His touchdowns were just 14 seconds apart, the fastest back-to-back touchdowns by the same Tiger in history.

On Clemson's

second possession of the second quarter, Aaron Hunt came on to drill a 44-yard field goal. Hunt had missed a 27-yarder earlier to end his streak of 11 consecutive field goals made.

The Tigers got the ball back quickly, and struck again. This time, Whitehurst again hooked up with favorite target Hamilton for a 40-yard gain. Hamilton cradled the ball in a miraculous catch down the left sideline. That set up Whitehurst on a four-yard touchdown strike to Curtis Baham in the back of the endzone. For Baham, it was his first career touchdown and it gave Clemson a 24-0 lead at halftime.

Clemson received the ball to start the second half, and the offense continued to shine. Whitehurst directed a 13-play, 77-yard drive that ended with Hunt's second field goal. His 20-yarder put Clemson ahead 27-0.

Following a Duke punt, the Tigers put the game away. Justin Miller took the punt at his own 37, made one slight move to the left and raced 63 yards for his first career punt return for touchdown. It was his second returned touchdown in just two years as a Tiger. He joined Bobby Gage as the only Tigers with a kickoff return and punt return for a score. It was Clemson's first punt return for a touchdown since Brian Mance had an 88-yarder against Georgia Tech in 2000.

Duke got on the board in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter after Kelvin Grant fumbled in Tiger territory, giving the ball back to the Blue Devils. Chris Dargan ran up the middle for a 25-yard touchdown, cutting the score to 34-7.

Clemson tacked on a final touchdown with Chansi Stuckey playing quarterback. Stuckey had caught two passes at wide receiver earlier in the contest. He directed a 60-yard scoring drive that ended in his four-yard draw for a touchdown.

Whitehurst became the first Clemson quarterback to throw for 3,000 yards in a season after his 331-yard performance in this game. It marked the fourth time this season the sophomore threw for over 300 yards in a game.

Hamilton set the single-season record for touchdown receptions after he caught two against Duke. That gave him nine for the year, eclipsing the previous mark shared by Perry Tuttle (1981), Terrance Roulhac (1984), and Tony Horne (1997).

Defensively, several Tigers contributed to the cause. Donnell Washington had a team-high eight tackles, including two for loss and a sack. Jamaal Fudge was all over the field, as he had a tackle for loss, two pass breakups, and an interception. Miller also had his second interception of the season, as well as a pass deflection.

Clemson followed up one of the most emotional wins in school history with a 40-7 victory over Duke in Memorial Stadium. The win moved Clemson's ACC record to 5-3, an improvement from the 2002 campaign. Duke was coached by Ted Roof, who had taken over for Carl Franks in October.

The Tigers outgained the Blue Devils 486-174 in total yardage. Clemson's secondary allowed just 57 passing yards the entire game. Duke averaged just 3.2 yards per play as well.

Clemson scored 14 points in the opening quarter and never looked back. Eric Coleman got a quarterback sack to end an early Duke threat. From there, Charlie Whitehurst and the Clemson offense took over. After spreading the ball around the field, Whitehurst found Hamilton across the middle. He made just one move, and was in the endzone for a 31-yard touchdown catch.

On the ensuing kickoff, fullback Steven Jackson stripped Blue Devil receiver Senterrio Landrum of the ball. Buddy Williams pounced on the loose football and gave Clemson possession at the Blue Devil 25-yard line. On the very next play, Whitehurst again hooked up with Hamilton.

After faking a handoff up the middle, Whitehurst ran to his left in an option look. Hamilton, who lined up in the slot, simply stepped back and waited on Whitehurst. He pitched the ball to Hamilton, who was behind the line of scrimmage, and he ran Justin Miller's 63-yard punt return for a touchdown in the third quarter against the Blue Devils put the game out of reach.

Clemson ended the regular season on a three-game winning streak in decisive fashion, as the Tigers took care of the Gamecocks 63-17 in Columbia. The 63 points were the most in the history of the series by either team. It also marked the most points scored since Clemson defeated Wake Forest 82-24 in the 1981 National Championship season. The 46-point victory margin was the highest in the series since Clemson won 51-0 in 1900.

Clemson came out firing in the first quarter and never looked back. On the first play of the game, Leroy Hill and Khaleed Vaughn sacked Dondrial Pinkins. The play set the tone for a physical evening for the defense.

Clemson got the ball after a three-and-out to open the game, and responded with the first touchdown. Derrick Hamilton caught a 36-yard touchdown pass from Charlie Whitehurst. For Hamilton, it marked the fifth consecutive game in which he caught at least one touchdown, setting a school record.

Following another three-and-out, Clemson again went to the air. This time, Whitehurst connected with Columbia native Airese Currie for a 28-yard touchdown. It was Currie's first touchdown catch since the Georgia Tech game on September 20 and second of his career in his hometown.

The Tigers extended their lead to 21-0 on their third offensive possession after Whitehurst again threw a touchdown pass. After an audible at the line, he found Ben Hall wide open over the middle for a 39-yard score, his first of the season. In the first quarter alone, Whitehurst was 7-7 for 149 yards and three touchdowns.

The Gamecocks responded with 10 points in the second quarter, but Clemson put the game out of reach in the final five minutes of the quarter. Chad Jasmin scored on a one-yard run to extend the lead to 28-10. He then added his second touchdown minutes later from the same distance. The Tigers' 35 points at halftime were the most scored by Clemson against South Carolina in one half.

On South Carolina's first possession of the second half, Pinkins had a pass tipped and then intercepted by Leroy Hill. It was his third interception of the season. Jasmin scored again from one yard out to put the Tigers ahead, 42-10.

South Carolina pulled to within 42-17 after a muffed punt by Hamilton at the Clemson six. Brian Brownlee caught his second touchdown for the Gamecocks. Clemson came back quickly and Whitehurst hooked up with Duane Coleman on a throw to the left sideline. Coleman scored easily from 27 yards out to give Clemson a 49-17 lead.

in 1918 to score four touchdowns against the Gamecocks. The play was set up by Jamaal Fudge's second interception of the game. Fudge appeared to be well on his way to score before tripping inside the five-yard line.

The Tigers added a touchdown when Chansi Stuckey gave everyone a glimpse of his potential. He scored on a 33-yard quarterback draw in which he drug defenders into the endzone.

Whitehurst ended the game 18-26 for 302 yards and four touchdowns. He also rushed for 43 yards. He tied the Clemson single-season record with 21 touchdowns, first established in 2001 by Woodrow Dantzler.

Offensively, the Tigers gained 542 total yards, a season high for 2003. Clemson had 240 rushing yards, also a season high. The Tigers averaged 8.1 yards per play over the course of the game.

Defensively, the Gamecocks were held below their season average with only 153 rushing yards. Part of the reason was the play of several Tiger defenders. Hill had four tackles for loss, the second time he had four in a game.

Fudge had two interceptions for Clemson on the night. It was the first time all season a Tiger defender had multiple thefts in a game. Travis Pugh, the other starting safety for Clemson, had six tackles, a pass breakup, and a blocked field goal.

Sophomore Charlie Whitehurst threw for 302 yards and four touchdowns in his second win over South Carolina in as many tries.

Tennessee: 10-2 #6

Clemson's impressive finish to the regular season carried over into the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl, as the Tigers upset #6 Tennessee by a score of 27-14. The win gave Clemson two victories over top-10 teams for the first time since the 1981 National Championship season, and propelled the Tigers to a #22 ranking in both final polls.

Clemson received the ball to start the game, and the offense responded with a quick start. Charlie Whitehurst found Derrick Hamilton for 26 yards and Kevin Youngblood for 35 more to move into scoring position. On first-and-goal, Whitehurst led an option to the short side of the field. Duane Coleman took the pitch and leaped over a would-be tackler. He got in for an eight-yard score, putting the Tigers up 7-0.

Tennessee was forced to punt on its second possession, as Clausen was sacked by Justin Miller (first of his career) and then had a pass tipped at the line by Eric Coleman. All-America punter Dustin Colquitt booted a 41-yard punt, but Clemson's Hamilton provided some fireworks. He started to the right side of the field, cut back left, and then was off to the races thanks to some timely blocks. His 58-yard punt return put Clemson on the Volunteers' 17-yard line to begin the next drive. It was the longest punt return by a Tiger in bowl history.

The Tigers appeared to have a score when Whitehurst found Youngblood in the back of the endzone. It was ruled incomplete, and the Tigers settled for a 23-yard field goal by Aaron Hunt.

Tennessee got on the scoreboard in the late stages of the first quarter. Clausen drove the Volunteers the length of the field and threw a 19-yard touchdown pass on a screen to Chris Hannon, cutting the Clemson lead to 10-7.

The Tigers did not hesitate to respond. Chad Jasmin rushed for 46 yards on the drive, including a 15-yard touchdown run straight up the middle to put the Tigers ahead 17-7.

The Volunteers closed to within three after Mark Jones got behind Clemson coverage for a 30-yard touchdown catch. His play was set up by an interception from safety Gibril Wilson.

Clemson again responded with points on the ensuing possession. Jasmin ignited the drive with a 31-yard run up the middle. Whitehurst then found Hamilton for a 23-yard gain into the redzone. Faced with third-and-goal from the eight, the Tiger coaching staff reached into its bag of tricks and pulled out a familiar play.

Whitehurst took the shotgun snap and handed the ball to Kyle Browning between his legs.

had been used twice before in the Bowden era, and both resulted in touchdowns. Browning's run put the Tigers ahead 24-14 at halftime.

The second half was highlighted by great efforts from both defenses. Tennessee's most legitimate shot at scoring was thwarted in the third quarter. After a pass from Clausen to Jones was ruled incomplete in the endzone, the quarterback argued the call and was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct. The penalty pushed the Volunteers back, and James Wilhoit missed a 35-yard field goal.

Clemson added a field goal to the final margin late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers put together a 14-play, 70-yard drive that resulted in a 28-yard field goal by Hunt. Curtis Baham had a 16-yard catch and Jasmin had a 15-yard run on the drive.

Clemson rushed for 153 yards in the contest, while Tennessee struggled to just 38 the entire game. Jasmin, voted the game's most valuable offensive player, had 130 yards on the ground and a touchdown.

Clausen threw for 384 yards, but was sacked seven times in the game by the Tiger defense. Whitehurst was 22-40 for 246 yards in the contest.

The Tiger defense pitched a shutout in the second half. Recording sacks for Clemson were Charles Bennett, Touré Francis, Leroy Hill, John Leake, DeJuan Polk, and Miller. With two sacks, Hill was voted the defensive most valuable player.

Jasmin, Miller Named to All-Bowl Teams

Running back Chad Jasmin was named to ESPN.com's inaugural All-Bowl team. Jasmin helped the Tigers to a 27-14 victory over #6 Tennessee in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl on January 2. Cornerback Justin Miller was named to the All-Bowl team published by Sports Illustrated.

A graduate student from Vacherie, LA, Jasmin had 15 rushes for 130 yards and a touchdown in leading the Tiger offense in the victory. He was named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game by the media covering the game. It was the first 100-yard rushing game of his career.

Jasmin finished the season with 523 yards rushing in 112 carries, a 4.7 average. He led the team in rushing touchdowns (9) and was second in rushes of over 10 yards (15). He was Clemson's second-leading rusher on a yardage basis behind Duane Coleman, who had 615.

Jasmin's outstanding performance at the end of the season paralleled the Clemson team performance of the last four games of the season. In the last four games of the season, all Clemson victories, Jasmin had 58 carries for 307 yards and five touchdowns.

Miller had eight tackles and three pass breakups from his starting cornerback position in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. One of the tackles was a seven-yard sack, the first sack of his career. One of the pass deflections took place in the endzone, preventing a Tennessee score.

Miller ended the season with 54 tackles, sixth-most on the team. Forty-five of the tackles were first hits. He led the Tigers in passes defended (15), including 13 pass deflections and two interceptions. Miller also ranked among the national leaders in kickoff return average (24.5) and averaged 9.1 on punt returns, including a 63-yard return for a score against Duke.

Whitehurst Surpasses 5,000-Yards Mark

Clemson quarterback Charlie Whitehurst became just the second sophomore in ACC history to reach 5,000 yards passing in the Peach Bowl win over Tennessee. His 246-yard performance against the Volunteers gave him 3,561 yards for his sophomore campaign. The only other ACC quarterback to reach 5,000 yards passing by the end of his sophomore year was N.C. State's Philip Rivers.

Whitehurst's 5,115 passing yards in his first two seasons is second-most in ACC history.

Whitehurst has started just 18 games at Clemson and is 12-6 as a starter. He has thrown for at least 200 yards in 15 of his 18 career starts and averaged 274 yards per game through the air in those 18 games.

It is interesting to note that Clemson Quarterback Coach Mike O'Cain has had a hand in the careers of four of the top six quarterbacks on the list. He recruited Rivers and Jamie Barnette to N.C. State while he was the head coach of the Wolfpack. Then, he recruited Darian Durant to North Carolina when he was an assistant with the Tar Heels in 2000.

Below is a list of the most productive ACC quarterbacks by the end of their sophomore year:

Whitehurst Wins McFadden Award

Quarterback Charlie Whitehurst was the recipient of the 2003 Banks McFadden Award. The honor is given to the top college football player in South Carolina by the Greenville Touchdown Club.

It was the sixth time a Clemson player won the award, which dates to the 1993 season. The award is named after former Clemson All-American Banks McFadden, who led Clemson to a 9-1 record and a Cotton Bowl victory over Boston College in 1939. Also an All-American in basketball at Clemson, McFadden is considered Clemson's finest athlete of the 20th century.

Whitehurst led Clemson to a 9-4 record on the gridiron in 2003. He completed 288-465 passes for 3,561 yards and 21 touchdowns. He established 33 school records during the season, including most yards passing and most completions in a season.

He was especially effective at the end of the season when he led Clemson to consecutive victories over Florida State, Duke, South Carolina and Tennessee. Florida State and Tennessee were both ranked in the top six in the nation at the time of those Clemson victories. He threw for 302 yards and four touchdowns in three quarters in Clemson's 63-17 win over South Carolina.

Whitehurst Wins State Award

Quarterback Charlie Whitehurst was honored in May of 2004 as the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame's Male Amateur Athlete-of-the-Year at its annual banquet and induction ceremony.

Whitehurst was honored along with professional athletes-of-the-year, Stephen Davis and Kevin Garnett, and the class of 2004 at the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame annual awards ceremony and induction on May 20 at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Columbia, SC.

The Hall of Fame Class included Dick Sheridan, who coached Furman to Southern Conference football domination; two-time American League home run champion Gorman Thomas; former Presbyterian tennis star Allen Morris; and five former football stars - Willie Scott and Tom Addison of South Carolina, Jeff Bryant and Dreher "Goon" Gaskin of Clemson, and Charlie Brown of S.C. State.

Whitehurst started as quarterback for Clemson for every game in 2003 and led Clemson to a 9-4 record, including a Peach Bowl victory over #6 Tennessee. The classic drop-back passer completed 288 of 465 passes for 3,561 yards and 21 touchdowns. He already owns 33 school records and was recently awarded the 2003 Banks McFadden Award. In addition to his football feats, he is an outstanding student who has been named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll each of the last two years.

Hill Named First-Team All-ACC

Linebacker Leroy Hill was named to the first team, while Derrick Hamilton, Gregory Walker, and Donnell Washington were second-team selections according to the Associated Press, ACSMA All-ACC team. Hamilton was named second-team at wide receiver and as a specialist.

Hill led the Tigers in tackles (145) and in tackles for loss (27) last season. His tackle for loss total led the ACC and ranked second in the nation. He finished the regular season with 15 tackles and four tackles for loss in the Tigers' 63-17 win at South Carolina. He followed that up with a 12-tackle, two-sack performance and defensive MVP honors in the Peach Bowl win.

Hamilton was named second-team wide receiver and return specialist. The native of Dillon, SC had 10 touchdown receptions last year, an all-time Clemson single-season record. He also led the team in receiving yards (1,026) and had 62 receptions, giving him a school-record 167 grabs for his career. He ranked eighth in the ACC in receptions per game and fourth in reception yards per game. As a return specialist, Hamilton had a 35-yard average on kickoff returns and ranked seventh in punt return average.

Walker, a graduate student in 2003, was a second-team selection at offensive guard. A starter in every game the last two years, he was a big reason Clemson ranked second in the ACC in total offense with a 420-yard average, second-highest per-game average in Clemson history. He had an 85-percent average grade for the year and was Clemson's highest-graded lineman in four games in 2003.

Washington led Clemson's defensive linemen with 56 tackles. He had eight in the win over Duke, the first time since 1997 that a defensive linemen led the Tigers in tackles in a game. He also had 10 tackles for loss and 25 quarterback pressures in 2003 to lead defensive line in both categories.

Jamaal Fudge (ROV), Cedric Johnson (OT), John Leake (LB), Justin Miller (CB), Charlie Whitehurst (QB), and Kevin Youngblood (WR) were all Honorable Mention All-ACC selections.

Hill Named to Lombardi Award Watch List

Linebacker Leroy Hill was named to the 2004 Rotary Lombardi Preliminary Watch list. The award is presented at the conclusion of the college football season to the top lineman in college football. Offensive linemen, defensive linemen, tight ends, and inside linebackers are eligible for the award. It is the 35th year of the award, which is presented by the Rotary Club of Houston, TX.

Hill was one of 54 players named to the preseason watch list, including one of six players from the ACC. The other ACC players were Alex Barron of Florida State, C.J. Brooks of Maryland, Eric Henderson of Georgia Tech, Heath Miller of Virginia, and Eric Winston of Miami (FL).

Hill, who is a senior in 2004, was a First-Team All-ACC selection last year when he ranked second in the nation in tackles for loss (27). He also ranked fifth in the nation in solo tackles (110) and had 145 tackles overall in 13 games as a starter. He had 43 tackles during Clemson's four-game winning streak to end the season, including double-figure tackle games in Clemson's wins over top-10 Florida State and Tennessee teams. Hill was named the Defensive Player-of-the-Game in the 2004 Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl when he had 12 tackles, including a pair of sacks.

A Clemson player has never won the Lombardi Award. William Perry was a finalist in 1984.

Hamilton, Washington Turn Pro

Clemson juniors Derrick Hamilton and Donnell Washington passed up their final year of eligibility and entered the NFL draft. Both were Second-Team All-ACC players for the 9-4 and #22 Tigers this past season. It was the first time since the 2000 season that Clemson had a player leave early for the NFL.

First-Team All-America linebacker Keith Adams was the last to leave after his junior year in 2000. When Adams left, he was drafted by Tennessee in the sixth round, but did not make a club in 2001. He just completed his third year in the NFL, currently with the Philadelphia Eagles.

It was the first time since 1998 that Clemson lost two players with eligibility to the NFL draft. That year, Rahim Abdullah and Corey Hulseby both left with one season of eligibility remaining. The only other year Clemson lost two players was in 1990, when Dexter Davis and Chris Gardocki turned professional with a year remaining. Gardocki is still playing in the NFL. He recently signed a new contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Prior to this year, Clemson had nine players leave for the NFL with eligibility remaining. Eight of the nine eventually made it to the NFL. Ronald Williams was the only one who did not, but he played nine years in the Canadian Football League.

Leroy Hill was second in the nation in tackles for loss and fifth in solo tackles in 2003.

Hamilton concluded the 2003 season with 62 receptions for 1,026 yards and 10 scores. He finished his career as the school's all-time leader in receptions, kickoff return yards, and all-purpose running. He had 167 catches, breaking Rod Gardner's record by one. He joined Gardner as the only players in Clemson history to gain over 1,000 yards receiving on one season. His 10 receiving touchdowns established a Clemson single-season record as well. He averaged 34.5 yards per kickoff return in 2003, including a 100-yard return against North Carolina.

Washington led Clemson's defensive front in tackles (56) during the 2003 season. He had 10 tackles for loss, including four sacks, and led the team in quarterback pressures (25). He had a season-high nine tackles at Wake Forest and had eight in the win over Duke. Washington started all 13 games each of the last two seasons.

Three Tigers Named to ACC Academic Team

Tony Elliott, William Henry, and Justin Miller were all named to the 2003 Academic All-ACC football team, as announced by ACC Commissioner John Swofford. It was the second year in a row that Henry made the team, and the first selection for Miller and Elliott. Student-athletes must have at least a 3.0 GPA for the fall semester or have a career GPA of at least 3.0 to be eligible for the team.

Success on the field and in the classroom is considered as the major criteria for making the team. The three selections in 2003 give Clemson 17 selections over the five years Tommy Bowden has been at Clemson. It is the most selections in any five-year period for Clemson since the 1985-89 era, when Clemson had 18 selections.

Elliott, one of the co-captains of the team, was an Academic All-District III selection by CoSIDA in addition to his Academic All-ACC selection. On the field, he had 23 receptions for 286 yards and one touchdown in 2003 and was the recipient of the team's Academic Award that season. He also was a recipient of a postgraduate scholarship from the ACC, as he was awarded a Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholarship.

Henry started 11 of the 13 games at offensive tackle in 2003. The native of Greenville, SC and Greenville High School had a 3.67 career GPA in graduate school, and earned his undergraduate degree and graduate degrees from Clemson in four-and-a-half years, the fastest a Clemson football player has earned two degrees. He was a major reason Clemson established a school record for total offense in a season (5,467) in 2003.

Miller, a sports management major, ranked sixth on the team in tackles (54) last year. He also led the team in passes defended (15) and has 32 for his career, more than halfway to Donnell Woolford's career record of 56. Miller also had 17 kickoff returns for 417 yards, a 24.5 average, and had 73 yards on eight punt returns, including a 63-yard return for a score against Duke.

Players-of-the-Game

In 2003, the coaching staff selected a player of the game on offense, defense, and special teams. Each week, a poster was produced to honor those players and all the posters for the season were displayed in the McFadden Building. Cole Chason, Derrick Hamilton, Aaron Hunt, and Charlie Whitehurst had the most selections (3). Chad Jasmin ended his career by being named player-of-the-game on offense in each of the last two games, wins over South Carolina and #6 Tennessee.

Ticket Prices Announced

Season tickets for the 2004 season are $199 apiece for the six-game home schedule. The price is a $21 reduction in the season ticket price from last year when the Tigers played seven home games.

Season ticket holders will receive a $10 discount from the total ticket price of the six home games individual cost. All home-game tickets are priced at $32 apiece, with the exception of the season-ending rivalry game against South Carolina, which has a $49 ticket price.

As per South Carolina state law, $4 from each ticket sold on all home games goes to the retirement of the Clemson Athletic Department Bond Fee. The South Carolina game will be the One Clemson Solid Orange event for the 2004 football season. The ticket price for that game includes the $4 Bond Fee, as well as a $2 distribution to the One Clemson Fund.

The proceeds from the One Clemson event will be used for specific One Clemson academic efforts. One Clemson recognizes the strength of unity in everything Clemson does as a university. The One Clemson Fund supports the university's academic goals that will further enhance the ability of Clemson University to make a stronger South Carolina.

As in the past, there is a special season Kickoff Package. This year, fans can purchase a ticket to the South Carolina, Wake Forest, and N.C. State games for $113. Other than purchasing a season ticket, this will be the only way to purchase a Clemson-South Carolina game ticket.

Last year, Clemson sold 54,708 season tickets, the fifth-straight year it exceeded the 50,000 mark. Clemson was 15th in the nation in total attendance for home games in 2003 with a 532,551 figure.

Clemson also announced the ticket prices for road games. Clemson's first road game of the year (September 18) will be at Texas A&M, and that game will cost $60 per ticket. Clemson's game at Florida State has a $38 price tag, while the Thursday night game at Virginia on October 7 is $35 apiece.

Clemson's first game in the Orange Bowl since 1982 will be $40 a ticket. Clemson will face Miami for the first time in that facility since 1956. Clemson's road game at Duke carries a $24 ticket price. All ticket prices for road games are set by the opponent.

Cedric Johnson is regarded as one of the best offensive guards in the nation in 2004.

Georgia Tech Game Notes

The game against Georgia Tech will be televised by ABC and will have an 8:00 PM kickoff; it will be the first time ABC has ever televised a game from Clemson in prime time...a win would give Clemson four straight wins over Georgia Tech, which would tie for the longest Clemson win streak in series history; Clemson also won four in a row between 1993-96...it will be Clemson's second consecutive ACC game to open the season, the first time since 1965 that Clemson has played two ACC games to open a season...it is the first time since 1958 that Clemson will open its schedule with a pair of home games against ACC teams...Clemson defeated Georgia Tech last year 39-3, Clemson's largest margin of victory over the Yellow Jackets since 1903, when John Heisman was Clemson's head coach...each of the last four meetings between the two schools at Clemson have been decided by five points or less...seven of the last eight meetings have been decided by five points or less; including six in a row decided by exactly three points from 1996-01...Clemson has won three in a row; a 47-44 overtime win in 2001, a 24-19 win at Clemson in 2002, and the 39-3 victory in Atlanta in 2003...the two have played 11 games since 1990 that have been decided by five points or less...Georgia Tech holds a 43-23-12 lead in the series, but Clemson is 8-4 in games played in Death Valley...every game in the series from 1907-73 was played in Atlanta; Clemson's only wins in those 36 games came in 1907, 36, 45, 69...the win in 1969 came in Frank Howard's final year as head coach...Clemson has a 12-9 lead in the series since Georgia Tech joined the ACC in 1979-80...John Heisman coached at both schools and was 2-0 for Clemson against Georgia Tech (wins in 1902, 03)...this game will feature the top two ACC players in 2003 in terms of tackles for loss; Clemson's Leroy Hill (27) led the league and Georgia Tech's Eric Henderson had 20.5...the game will be Parents' weekend...Clemson is 2-2 all-time on September 11.

Texas A&M Game Notes

Clemson and Texas A&M will meet on the gridiron for the first time since 1974; that year, both teams opened their seasons at College Station and the Aggies won 24-0; that Texas A&M team was ranked #20 in the AP poll entering the game and finished the year ranked #16 after an 8-3 season that did not include a bowl bid; Clemson was 7-4 and also did not go to a bowl...Bubba Bean led the Aggies with 182 yards rushing on 18 attempts in the 1974 game, a big reason Texas A&M had 434 yards rushing, the sixth-highest opponent figure in Clemson history and the seventh-highest in Texas A&M history; Clemson Offensive Coordinator Mike O'Cain started at quarterback in that game for the Tigers...the 1973 game at Clemson was the only other meeting between the two; Texas A&M won 30-15 behind Bean's 204 yards rushing on 22 carries...his 204 yards in 1973 is still the second-highest rushing figure against Clemson in Death Valley; his day included a 78-yard touch-down run, the seventh-longest opponent run in Tiger history...in the 1973 game, Clemson's Mitch Tyner had an 81-yard punt, the longest punt in Clemson history...Bennie Cunningham played in both games against Texas A&M and caught a touch-down pass in the 1973 game; he had five catches for 63 yards in the two games combined...this game will be televised by TBS and will be Clemson's first appearance on TBS since 1982, when Clemson won at Virginia 48-0...while Clemson has never faced Texas A&M Head Coach Dennis Franchione, Clemson has faced Aggie defensive coordinator Carl Torbush, who was the head coach at North Carolina from 1998-00; Clemson was 2-1 against Torbush when he was the head coach of the Tar Heels...Texas A&M Assistants Les Koenning (Duke - 1998) and Melvin Smith (Mississippi State - 1999) have also coached against Clemson during their careers...Bowden (ninth) and Franchione (tenth) are both ranked in the top 10 among winningest active coaches the two teams are slated to open the 2005 season at Clemson on September 3...Clemson has a 2-2 all-time record on September 18.

Florida State Game Notes

This will be the sixth battle of father against son Bowden Bowls, and father has a 4-1 lead...son gained his first Bowden Bowl victory in 2003, a 26-10 triumph in which the Clemson defense held Florida State to 11 yards rushing, fewest by a Bobby Bowden-coached Florida State team...Clemson had lost 11 in a row to Florida State prior to that Clemson victory last year...Clemson's last win in Tallahassee took place in 1989, Danny Ford's final season as Clemson head coach...Tye Hill was named ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week for his performance against Florida State in 2003 after he had an interception that set the tone for the game, and also caused a fumble and had a pass deflection that saved a touchdown...Clemson Offensive Coordinator Brad Scott served as Florida State's offensive coordinator in 1993, the year Florida State won its first national title; Scott worked for Bobby Bowden from 1985-93...Clemson Defensive Coach Jack Hines is the son-in-law of Bobby Bowden...Florida State Offensive Coordinator Jeff Bowden is Tommy Bowden's brother...Florida State Defensive Coordinator Mickey Andrews served in the same capacity at Clemson from 1978-80 under Charley Pell and Danny Ford...in four straight meetings between the two teams from 1988-93, both teams were ranked in the top 25 of the AP poll...in 2000, both teams were ranked in the top 10 entering the game, just the second time in ACC history two top 10 ACC teams faced each other...this year's game will feature the only two returning ACC quarterbacks who exceeded 3,000 yards in total offense in 2003...Charlie Whitehurst had 3,561 last year and Chris Rix had 3,237...Whitehurst threw for 272 yards and rushed for 39 more in Clemson's victory in 2003...Whitehurst is 1-0 as a starter against the Seminole; he did not play in the 2002 game at Tallahassee...Florida native Duane Coleman was a key to the Tiger win in 2003, as he had 50 yards rushing and five catches for 38 yards...Clemson has a 5-5-2 all-time record on September 25.

Utah State Game Notes

The matchup will be the first meeting between Clemson and Utah State on the gridiron...it will be the second straight season Clemson has faced a team from the Sun Belt Conference; Clemson defeated Middle Tennessee, also of the Sun Belt, last year at Death Valley by a score of 37-14...Utah State defeated Middle Tennessee last year by a score of 41-20...this will be Utah State's second and final year in the Sun Belt, as they will move to the WAC for the 2005 season...Utah State's trip to Clemson will be one of seven road contests for the Aggies, who will travel 23,338 round-trip miles in the 2004 season...it will be the first time Clemson has faced two schools with the nickname Aggies, as Texas A&M also has that nickname; Clemson is an agricultural institution itself...the two schools have met once on the hardwood, as Clemson came away with a 76-64 victory in the first round of the 1980 NCAA Tournament in

Ogden, UT...Utah State will attempt to become just the second school since 1977 to win its first ever game in Death Valley...Marshall (1999) is the only first-time winner at Memorial Stadium since 1977...Utah State will be the 45th different team to play at Clemson Memorial Stadium; the previous 44 teams have a combined record of 11-32-1 in their first game in Death Valley...this year's game on October 16 will be Homecoming at Clemson...Clemson has a 28-3-2 record on Homecoming over the last 33 years...last season, Clemson defeated Virginia in overtime on Homecoming by a score of 30-27 thanks to Kevin Youngblood's walk-off touchdown reception...this will truly be a homecoming for Clemson fans, as it will be Clemson's first home game since September 11, a stretch of 35 days; the game will conclude the longest in-season stretch without a home game since the 1984 season...Clemson has an all-time record of 4-4-1 on October 16.

N.C. State Game Notes

This game features the top two teams in the ACC in 2003 in terms of moving the chains...N.C. State led the league in first downs per game (23.9) in 2003, while Clemson was second (23.4)...the top two returning tacklers in the ACC from 2003 will be in this game, as Clemson's Leroy Hill and N.C. State's Andre Maddock both had 145 tackles in 13 games...the two will play on October 30, 2004; Clemson has a 9-2 record on this date, tied for the third-best winning percentage for any day in history...the Tigers have won six in a row on this date and have not lost an October 30 game since 1943...Charlie Whitehurst is 29-54 for 260 yards in two games against the Wolfpack...this will be the 24th-annual Textile Bowl, and Clemson has a 15-8 advantage in Textile Bowl games...the Tigers hold the overall series lead 44-27-1...N.C. State Defensive Coordinator Reggie Herring was an assistant at Clemson from 1994-01...N.C. State running back T.A. McLendon had 28 carries for 178 yards against the Tigers in 2002, the high figure against the Clemson defense all season...Justin Miller provided Clemson with a highlight in 2002 when he went 80 yards on a kickoff return for a touchdown against N.C. State, Clemson's only score of the game against the Wolfpack's ACC-leading 2002 defense; that was the first kickoff return of Miller's career...both Clemson Head Coach Tommy Bowden and N.C. State's Chuck Amato have ties to Florida State; Bowden served as an assistant coach at Florida State in 1978, 79, 81, 82...Amato was an assistant at Florida State for 17 years under Bobby Bowden and is in his fourth year as N.C. State's head coach; he has taken the Wolfpack to a bowl game each of his first four years with the program; Bowden has taken Clemson to a bowl game each of his first five years...Clemson graduate and Quarterback Coach Mike O'Cain served as N.C. State's head coach from 1993-98...O'Cain once had 140 yards rushing in a game against N.C. State in 1976...the N.C. State game will be Youth Day at Clemson.

Miami (FL) Game Notes

This will be the first meeting between Clemson and Miami (FL) since the 1956 season, a regular-season game that the Hurricanes won 21-0; that was a matchup of top-20 teams, as Clemson was #13 and Miami was #8 in the AP poll entering that game at the Orange Bowl...Miami has a 4-1 lead in the series, with Clemson's only victory coming in the 1951 Orange Bowl (at the end of 1950 season); Frank Howard's Tigers won that game 15-14 on a late safety; Sterling Smith tackled Miami running back Frank Smith in the endzone...the teams also met the next year in the Gator Bowl, and the Hurricanes won that game by a 14-0 score; that was also a battle of top-20 teams...Clemson has met Miami five times previously, and all five have been in the state of Florida; that will change in 2005 when Miami plays at Clemson...in five games against the Hurricanes between 1945-56, Clemson scored just 28 points...Frank Howard coached each of the first five games against Miami...this will be Clemson's first trip to the Orange Bowl since it won the 1981 National Championship with a 22-15 victory over Nebraska...overall, Clemson has a 2-4 record in the Orange Bowl, including 1-3 against Miami and 1-1 against other schools (Colorado and Nebraska)...Clemson was the fifth-winningest program in college football in the 1980s with a 86-25-4 record, a 76.5 winning percentage, while Miami was second with a 98-20 record, an 83.1 winning percentage...Clemson and Miami both won their last four games of 2003, one of 14 Division I schools that could make that claim...Miami and Clemson combined to give Florida State all three of its losses in 2003...the only other common opponent between the two teams was Tennessee, who defeated Miami 10-6 in the Orange Bowl and lost to Clemson 27-14 in the Peach Bowl...Clemson has 11 returning players from 2003 and six signees from Florida who will have the opportunity to return to their home state when Clemson travels to Miami for its November 6 contest...Clemson is 5-9 all-time on November 6.

Injured All-American O.K. Pressley came off the bench in the second half to record a tackle for loss on four straight plays to thwart a drive deep in Tiger territory. It is still the only time in history a Tiger has made a tackle for loss on four straight plays. Clemson went on to a 32-0 win in Columbia.

1948

With just 4:30 left in the game and South Carolina on its own 28, Phil Prince broke through the line to block a punt. The ball rolled to the 11, where Oscar Thompson scooped it up and ran for a touchdown, giving Clemson a 13-7 lead, the eventual final score. Clemson went on to an undefeated year.

1959

Harvey White made the last Big Thursday game a success story for the Tigers. The gifted Clemson quarterback connected on 9-10 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns, leading Clemson to a 27-0 victory. White's passing efficiency of 282 for that game is still the second best in Clemson history (given a minimum of 10 attempts).

1966

All-America offensive guard Harry Olszewski ran 12 yards for a touchdown with a fumbled snap from center to lead Clemson to a 35-10 win that clinched the ACC title for the Tigers. No Clemson offensive lineman has scored a touchdown since.

1967

Clemson clinched a third-straight ACC title behind ACC Player-of-the-Year Buddy Gore. The Tiger running back gained 189 yards on 31 carries, still the second-most rushing yards by a Tiger against the Gamecocks. The performance allowed Gore to go over the 1,000-yard rushing mark, a first in Tiger history, and to win the ACC rushing title.

1974

Two Tigers, one on each side of the ball, had a memorable performance in this Clemson victory. Running back Ken Callicutt rushed for 197 yards on 27 carries and added another 55 in pass receiving, leading Clemson to a 39-21 win over the Gamecocks. The 197 yards rushing and 252 all-purpose yards are still high-water marks for a Clemson player in the series. Willie Anderson dominated the defense, recording 21 tackles, still a Tiger record for a lineman. He was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Week by Sports Illustrated.

1977

Jerry Butler made a diving backwards reception of a 20-yard pass from Steve Fuller with 49 seconds remaining, giving the Tigers a 31-27 victory in Columbia. The play might be regarded as the most famous in Clemson history. The victory gave the Tigers an 8-2-1 record and a bid to the Gator Bowl, Clemson's first bowl bid in 18 years.

Defensive back Willie Underwood played 47 games for the Tigers, but never had an interception until his final contest. He made up for it in his last game as a Tiger when he had two thefts for a combined 101 yards in returns. His 37-yard interception return for a touchdown iced Clemson's 27-6 victory. It is still the most interception return yards in a single game by a Tiger. Underwood also had 17 tackles in the game and was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Week by Sports Illustrated.

For the second time in history a blocked punt proved pivotal in the Tigers securing a perfect season. The key play in Clemson's 29-13 victory over South Carolina in Columbia was a blocked punt by Rod McSwain. The ball was recovered in the endzone by Johnny Rembert for a touchdown, giving Clemson a 7-6 lead. The play began at the 28-yard-line, just as the play in 1948 had. McSwain and Rembert went on to be NFL teammates for many years with the New England Patriots. McSwain's brother, Chuck had 151 yards rushing to lead the Clemson offense.

1988

Rodney Williams, playing in his final home game, led the Tigers to a 29-10 win in Death Valley, avenging a 20-7 Clemson defeat the year before in which Williams, a native of Columbia, was taunted by the Gamecock faithful. Williams completed 13-26 passes for 192 yards and ran for 38 more and a touchdown, outplaying rival Todd Ellis, who completed 11 passes in 30 attempts. It was Williams 31st victory as Clemson's starting signal-caller.

1991

DeChane Cameron had the top all-around performance of his career in a 41-24 win at South Carolina. The senior, playing in his final regular-season game, rushed for 116 yards and passed for 206. The 322 yards of total offense is a Tiger series record.

1995

Emory Smith gained 101 yards rushing in just 12 carries from his fullback slot, leading Clemson to a 38-17 victory and a berth in the Gator Bowl. Smith will be remembered for one particular run in the fourth quarter when he dragged a South Carolina tackler for nearly 20 yards at the end of a 54-yard romp. Smith scored two touchdowns on the day.

Antwan Edwards had two interceptions in the third quarter alone, one a return of 42 yards for a touchdown, leading Clemson to a 47-21 win and a berth in the Peach Bowl. Edwards' thefts led to a 27-point third quarter, Clemson's highest-scoring quarter in history against the Gamecocks. He was named ACC Player-of-the-week for his performance.

1998

Howard Bartley will always be remembered for a 48-yard interception return for a touchdown in his final game as a Tiger. It was a key second-half play in Clemson's 28-19 victory, but especially rewarding for Bartley, who had overcome two torn ACL injuries in his five-year career.

1999 & 2000

Rod Gardner will be held in high esteem by Clemson fans for years to come for his accomplishments against South Carolina. In 1999 he had six catches for 138 yards and two scores, including a game-clinching 29-yard catch from Woodrow Dantzler on a fourth-down play with just 6:41 remaining in the game. The following year at Clemson, he had four catches for 107 yards, including a 50-yard grab from Dantzler that set up Aaron Hunt's game-winning field goal with three seconds remaining.

2002 & 2003

In his first two games against South Carolina, Charlie Whitehurst established himself in the hearts of Tiger fans with two record-setting performances in victories. Whitehurst completed 27-38 passes for 287 yards in leading Clemson to a 27-20 win in 2002. The completion total was the most ever by a Tiger against South Carolina. In 2003, he completed 18-26 passes for 302 yards and four touchdowns to go with 43 yards rushing. He established a record for passing yards, touchdown passes, and total offensive yards by a Tiger against the Gamecocks. He became the first Tiger quarterback to beat South Carolina as a freshman and sophomore.

Rod Gardner's 50-yard reception from Woodrow Dantzler with under 15 seconds remaining in the game propelled Clemson to a 16-14 victory over the Gamecocks in 2000.

Streak Records

Consecutive Games Played (50)

by Gregory Walker, 2000-03

Notes: Walker (OT) became the first Tiger to play 50 games. In one of the games (against Virginia in 2001), he played just one snap.

Consecutive Games Started (47)

by Jim Bundren, 1994-97; Glenn Rountree, 1994-97

Notes: Bundren (OT) and Rountree (OG) started 47 straight games together on Clemson's offensive line.

Consecutive Starts by a Quarterback (32)

by Tommy Kendrick, 1969-71

Consecutive 100-Yard Rushing Games (5)

by Kenny Flowers, 1985; Raymond Priester, 1996,97

Notes: Streak covered the last five games of the 1985 season and included a career-high 148 yards against Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. However, that bowl game was Flowers' last 100-yard game, as he never reached the 100-yard mark as a senior.

Consecutive 100-Yard Receiving Games (3)

by Charlie Waters, 1969; Tony Horne, 1997; Rod Gardner, 2000

Notes: Streak covered first three games of Waters' senior year. Horne's streak covered the first three games of his senior year.

Consecutive 200-Yard Passing Games (6)

by Charlie Whitehurst, 2003

Notes: Whitehurst's streak is still active, as he had at least 246 yards passing in each of the last six games of 2003.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Point (36)

by Aaron Hunt, 2000-02

Notes: Hunt scored in every game he played in his first three years. He did not play against N.C. State in 2002 when Clemson did not attempt a field goal or extra point. Ironically, the record he broke was a 35-game streak by David Treadwell from 1985-87. Treadwell missed playing in one game in that streak, when the Tigers did not attempt a field goal or extra point against N.C. State.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Touchdown (13)

by Travis Zachery, 2000,01

Notes: Zachery's streak covered the last nine games of 2000 and first four games of 2001. He scored 18 touchdowns during the 13-game streak.

Consecutive Plays Rushing the Ball (12)

by Raymond Priester, 1997

Notes: Priester ran 12 straight plays at Maryland in 1997.

Consecutive Games Catching a Touchdown Pass (5)

by Derrick Hamilton, 2003

Notes: Hamilton's streak covered the last five regular-season games. It was stopped by Tennessee in the Peach Bowl. Hamilton had 25 receptions for 471 yards and six touchdowns during the five-game streak.

Consecutive Games Throwing a Touchdown Pass (6)

by Mike Eppley, 1984; Woodrow Dantzler, 2000

Notes: Eppley's touchdown pass streak was during his senior season, when he was also 25th nationally in passing efficiency. Dantzler's streak took place over the first six games of 2000.

In 2003, Gregory Walker became the first Tiger in history to play 50 games in a career.

Consecutive Completions (17)

by Nealon Greene, 1997

Notes: Greene completed his last 13 passes against Virginia and the first four versus Maryland.

Consecutive Games Completing a Pass (46)

by Rodney Williams, 1985-88

Consecutive Passes Without an Interception (122)

by Rodney Williams, 1988

Notes: Current Tiger sophomore Charlie Whitehurst had a streak of 108 consecutive attempts without an interception in 2002. He also had 52 attempts without an interception at Duke in his first collegiate start.

Consecutive Passes W/O an Interception to Start a Career (92)

by Nealon Greene, 1994

Notes: Greene did not throw an interception until the South Carolina game that year. In fact, that was the only turnover Clemson had with Greene under center all year.

Consecutive Games With 200 Total Offense Yards (7)

by Woodrow Dantzler, 2000; 2000,01

Notes: Shattered this record. The previous mark had been just three games. Dantzler had at least 236 yards of total offense over each of the first seven games of 2000. He then had another seven-game streak that covered the last two games of 2000 and the first five games of 2001.

Consecutive Games Catching a Pass (36)

by Jerry Butler, 1976-78

Notes: Streak covered every game over his last three years and the only game he played as a freshman.

Consecutive Extra Points Made (72)

by Chris Gardocki, 1988-90

Notes: Gardocki was a perfect 72-72 on extra points in his three-year Tiger career.

Consecutive Field Goals Made (14)

by Obed Ariri, 1980

Notes: This was a national record at the time. Aaron Hunt had a streak of 12 consecutive made field goals during the 2002 season.

Consecutive Games Making a Field Goal (15)

by Obed Ariri, 1979-80; Chris Gardocki, 1988-89

Consecutive Games With a 40-Yard Punt Average (12)

by Dale Hatcher, 1983,84

Notes: Hatcher had a streak of 12 games in a row broken with a 39.6 average in his last game.

Consecutive Games With a Sack (5)

by Chester McGlockton, 1989,90; Keith Adams, 1999

Consecutive Games Intercepting a Pass (4)

by Bobby Gage, 1948; Terry Kinard, 1980,81; Dexter Davis, 1990

Consecutive Double-Figure Tackle Games (19)

by Jeff Davis, 1980,81

Consecutive Games With a Tackle (48)

by Levon Kirkland, 1988-91; Ed McDaniel, 1988-91

Notes: Kirkland and McDaniel, both All-Americans in 1991, never missed making at least one tackle in a game. Ironically, each player had a career-low one tackle in one game over their careers.

Consecutive Games With a Tackle for Loss (20)

by Keith Adams, 1999,00

Notes: Adams had at least one tackle for loss in every game in 1999 and the first eight games of 2000. Georgia Tech, ironically, the Division I school closest to his home of College Park, GA, ended his streak.

Banks McFadden

Clemson's Greatest Athlete of the 20th Century

- ❖ First Team All-American in football and basketball in 1939, the only athlete in Tiger history to be recognized by both sports.
- ❖ Named the nation's Most Versatile Athlete in 1939.
- ❖ Uniform numbers in both football (#66) and basketball (#23) have been retired at Clemson.
- ❖ Led the Tiger football team to its first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, and its first conference basketball championship, the 1939 Southern Conference.
- ❖ First-round draft choice of the Brooklyn Dodgers of the NFL, the #4 selection of the draft, still the highest draft pick in Clemson football history.
- ❖ Inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1959.
- ❖ Charter member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and Ring of Honor.

Tiger Timeline

September 30, 1896 - A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization, known as the Clemson College Football Association, was perfected and the following officers elected: President Frank Tompkins, Secretary & Treasurer Charlie Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult Prof. Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

October 5, 1896 - Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50' x 200' field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896 - Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman 14-6, at Greenville, SC. It was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full-sized football gridiron.

November 21, 1896 - Clemson defeated Wofford 16-0. When the team arrived back on campus that night, the cadet corp along with faculty members led the team around in a buggy led by a torchlight procession and proceeded to go all over the campus. With this win, Clemson claimed the state title.

November 10, 1897 - Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship. A total of 2,000 spectators witnessed the 18-6 triumph. Clemson took an early 4-0 lead when South Carolina's Lee Hagood fumbled on the Gamecock's 31-yard line and Clemson's W.T. Brock caught the fumbled ball in the air and raced 30 yards for a touchdown.

November 10, 1899 - The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. W.M. Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

December 8, 1899 - John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900 - The Tigers defeated Wofford 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pregame agreement between the two stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count. No one could keep an accurate count after Clemson scored its first 21 points after just six minutes elapsed. All touchdowns Clemson made were called back and the ball given to Wofford deep in Clemson territory on such penalties as running over a Wofford tackler.

November 29, 1900 - Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. It was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901 - Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford, the most points scored in Tiger history. They averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the team scored a touchdown in the game.

October 30, 1902 - Col. Charles S. Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman, was the only referee for the Clemson-South Carolina game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire, but was in a railroad wreck on the way to Clemson and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was called in the game. A riot between Tiger and Gamecock fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and South Carolina did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902 - Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 10, 1903 - Clemson defeated Georgia 29-0. In the first 10 minutes of the game, Clemson fumbled the ball three times. After the game, the Georgia team made a deal with the Clemson team. They would give the Clemson team a bushel of apples for every point Clemson would defeat Georgia Tech above the score Clemson made against Georgia. The score turned out to be Clemson 73, Georgia Tech 0. Apples were plentiful around Clemson that winter - 44 bushels.

October 17, 1903 - Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, still a school record, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

October 28, 1903 - The Tigers defeated N.C. State 24-0 in Columbia, SC at the fairgrounds. One incident that delayed the game's start was the fact that the sideline spectators in their eagerness to see each play crowded in front of the grandstand and on the field. Twenty-minute halves were played owing to the fact that the field had to be given to the racing association at 12:45 PM. Even these short halves could not be played out and the time limit was up when 16 minutes of the second half had been played. Heisman married Evelyn Barksdale in Columbia after the game.

November 26, 1903 - One day after Georgia Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

September 30, 1904 - Clemson began practice under new Head Coach Shack Shealy, who was at one time a great football player. He played varsity ball six years, four at Clemson and two at Iowa State. He is still the only Clemson graduate to serve as head coach of the Tiger football team.

November 11, 1905 - The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness. Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906 - Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

September 28, 1907 - The cadets of Clemson College braved wind and rain at Bowman Field to witness the Tigers in their earliest season opener to date. Clemson met Gordon Military Academy from Clemson played its home games on Bowman Field between 1898 and 1914.

Georgia on a muddy field. Clemson was playing under new Coach Frank Shaughnessy, a former Notre Dame star who to this day holds the Notre Dame record for the longest run.

November 4-9, 1907 - Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908 - Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day, not by what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, and bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future stars, were among those who were expelled.

October 2, 1915 - Clemson dedicated Riggs Field prior to a 6-6 tie with Davidson. Clemson would play its football games at the facility through 1941. It is now the home of Clemson's soccer stadium.

October 9, 1915 - The Tigers traveled to Knoxville, where they won fame by defeating the defending conference champion Tennessee, 3-0. Bill Harris drop-kicked a 20-yard field goal for the only score of the game in the fourth quarter. Tennessee was the defending champion of the S.I.A.A.

October 13, 1917 - Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns, a record that still stands today.

November 16, 1918 - The University of South Carolina athletic authorities provided the use of their stadium to Clemson and The Citadel for their annual game. South Carolina was playing at Furman that day and the field was not going to be used by the Gamecocks. The reason the game was played at Columbia instead of Charleston or Clemson was that the military officials from both Clemson and The Citadel would not allow players to be absent from any military duties due to athletic events. Since the game was played in Columbia both the Clemson and Citadel cadets and football teams would be able to make the trip to Columbia and return to duty on time. Clemson's John O'Dell scored for the game's only tally as the Tigers won, 7-0. Both teams made it back to their campuses before their passes expired.

December 27, 1926 - Josh Cody was named head football coach at Clemson.

September 19, 1928 - Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth stripes on the front with purple numbers.

December, 1928 - O.K. Pressley, a center, was named third-team All-American by the Newspaper Enterprise Association. He was Clemson's first All-American in any sport.

Clemson dedicated Riggs Field on October 2, 1915, the day of its home opener with Davidson.

May 6, 1929 - Josh Cody, Clemson head coach, was presented with a new automobile that afternoon as a gift from alumni, faculty, students, and friends of the college. A special collection was taken up to purchase the new Buick. The presentation ceremony was staged in front of Tillman Hall.

October 17, 1930 - Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry. Welch and Stumpy Banks are the co-holders of that Clemson touchdown scoring record.

March 13, 1930 - Josh Cody signed a new contract to stay at Clemson through the 1932 season.

November 26, 1930 - Josh Cody announced that the Furman game the next day will be his final as head coach of the Tigers.

November 27, 1930 - Clemson defeated Furman 12-7 at Furman to conclude the Tigers third straight eight-win season, the only eight-win seasons in Clemson history between 1896-1930. The 1930 Tigers concluded the season with an 8-2 record and posted four shutouts. In fact, only Tennessee and Florida scored over a touchdown against the Tigers in this season.

November 29, 1930 - The Tiger student newspaper published an extra edition about Coach Cody, hoping to convince him to remain as coach. Cody had become a popular mentor because of his 29-11-1 record, including a perfect 4-0 record against South Carolina, the only coach in Clemson history to have a perfect ledger against the Gamecocks.

January 2, 1931 - After reconsidering his decision for over a month, Cody made his resignation final.

January 17, 1931 - Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson. He was the second consecutive Vanderbilt graduate to coach the Tigers. Cody was a 1917 graduate of Vandy and Neely graduated in 1923. In fact, eight of the nine Clemson head football coaches between 1931-98 were graduates of current SEC schools.

October 16, 1931 - Clemson suffered a surprising 6-0 loss against The Citadel in a game played in Florence. After the game, Neely, Captain Frank Jervy and others met in a car outside the stadium to discuss ways Clemson could help its football program get back on track. The meeting started the ball rolling towards the establishment of the IPTAY Foundation. Clemson would score just three touchdowns and win just one game during the 1931 season.

October 14, 1933 - Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans followed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The line-ups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934 - IPTAY, the nation's first scholarship fundraising organization, was founded. Dr. Rupert Fike, a cancer specialist from Atlanta and Clemson class of 1908, wrote Jess Neely a letter documenting the formation of the organization.

"Last night we had a little meeting out at my house and organized the IPTAY Club," Fike wrote. "The purpose (of IPTAY) shall be to provide financial support to the athletic department at Clemson and to assist in every other way possible to regain for Clemson the high athletic standing which rightfully belongs to her."

The organization was first established as a secret organization and initial membership dues were set at $10 a year. Many had suggested that $50 be the minimum donation, but Fike's foresight thought it would be best to get as many Clemson supporters involved as possible, so he established the $10 minimum.

The excitement about the organization carried over into the 1934 season and the Tigers ran to their first winning season since 1930. Clemson had gone 0-5-1 against Furman and South Carolina in those years, then defeated both teams in 1934.

November 19, 1935 - Clemson held its first night football practice. Two powerful floodlights were installed at the practice fields. The Clemson coaches wanted more practice time with the players and that was the reason the lights were brought in. The extra practice did not pay off however, as Clemson lost its final game that year to Furman, 8-6.

November 17, 1937 - Clemson defeated Florida in Gainesville by a 10-9 score. Don Willis scored Clemson's only TD of the game on a one-yard run that culminated a 65-yard drive on Clemson's opening possession. Later Clemson gave up a safety and a touchdown, so Florida led 9-7 heading into the fourth period. But, the Tigers drove 60 yards late in the game and Ben Pearson booted a 27-yard field goal to win the game.

At the time, it gave Clemson a 4-4 record in 1937, but it proved to be a program builder, much as Clemson's win over South Carolina in 1980 did. The Tigers posted to a 22-2-2 record over a 26-game period that started with that win at Florida. Clemson's only losses in that 26-game period were to Tennessee in 1938 and Tulane in 1939. Tennessee ended the 1938 season with a 10-0 record and ranked second in the nation, while Tulane ended the 1939 season with an 8-0-1 mark and fifth in the country.

November 5, 1938 - Clemson scored with big plays in a win over George Washington, 27-0. The Tigers scored three touchdowns on plays of at least 65 yards, the only time in history Clemson has had scoring plays of that distance in the same game. Banks McFadden ran 70 yards for a score on the first Clemson play from scrimmage. Later, Shad Bryant scored on a 65-yard punt return and on a 65-yard run off a lateral. George Washington actually had more first downs, 15-13, yet lost by 27 points.

September 23, 1939 - Banks McFadden ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian. It is still the longest run in Clemson history. McFadden had a career high 173 yards in 15 attempts on this day.

September 30, 1939 - Clemson suffered its only loss of the season to a revenge minded Tulane eleven. The Tigers had beaten the Green Wave the previous year by a 13-10 score. This season, however, Tulane defeated Clemson 7-6. Despite the loss, it was a game that brought acclaim to Clemson for its ability to play so close with the team that would end the year ranked fifth in the nation. McFadden was all over the field on this day, throwing for Clemson's only touchdown and defending enemy passes from the secondary. His punting kept Tulane bottled up in their own territory. He had 12 punts for 504 yards, including a record six punts of at least 50 yards. Unfortunately he was involved in what proved to be the game's deciding, as his extra point attempt after Clemson's only touchdown was blocked.

October 19, 1939 - Clemson outgained South Carolina 402-90 in a 27-0 thrashing of the Gamecocks. Banks McFadden threw for 85 yards and rushed for 76 in just 14 attempts.

October 26, 1939 - Clemson showed it was a deep enough team to win without All-American Banks McFadden, who missed the Navy game with an injury. Shad Bryant had a 40-yard run for a score in Clemson's 15-7 win at Annapolis.

November 3, 1939 - Clemson won in the Washington, D.C. area for the second straight week, defeating George Washington, 13-6. Bryant had 127 yards rushing and scored Clemson's only touchdown. The game was played on a Friday evening.

November 11, 1939 - McFadden completed just four passes against Wake Forest, but three were to Joe Blalock for 105 yards, the first 100-yard receiving game in Tiger history. It was the final home game for McFadden and the rest of the Tiger seniors.

November 13, 1939 - Clemson was ranked in the AP poll for the first time. The Tigers beat Wake Forest 20-7 to improve to 6-1. Clemson had 33 poll points on that November 13 ranking and one first-place vote out of the 85 votes in the poll that week. Clemson remained ranked in the top 20 over the next three weeks, and each week Clemson had exactly one first-place vote. However, in the final poll that year, even though Clemson had run the table to finish 8-1 in the regular season, that individual failed to vote Clemson #1, as the Tigers did not have a first-place vote in the December 11 poll, which was the final poll.

November 18, 1939 - Clemson won away from home for the fourth straight time, a 21-6 win over Southwestern. Banks McFadden and George Floyd combined for 126 yards rushing.

November 25, 1939 - Clemson concluded its 8-1 regular season with a 14-3 victory over Furman. Shad Bryant ran for 94 yards and gained 75 more in punt returns. McFadden scored two touchdowns and had 10 punts for a 42-yard average, intercepted a pass and completed a pass.

December 8, 1939 - Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl. It was Clemson's first postseason bowl game appearance. Clemson did meet Cumberland in a postseason "Championship of the South" game in 1903, but it was not considered an established bowl.

December 11, 1939 - Clemson ranked 12th in the final poll by the Associated Press, Clemson's first appearance in a final season AP poll. The Tigers had 112 poll points, just behind Boston College, who had 120.5 poll points for 11th place. Clemson would defeat Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, but the AP did not have a poll after the bowls. In fact, for whatever the reason, the AP did not have a final poll after the bowls until after the 1968 season. Thus, Clemson actually would have had a much higher ranking by today's standards if there would have been a poll in January of 1940.

December 15, 1939 - Banks McFadden was named a first-team All-American by Associated Press and a third-team selection by United Press International. He was the first Clemson player honored by the AP. Later that year he was named the Nation's Most Versatile Athlete for 1939. Earlier in the year he had led Clemson to the 1939 Southern Conference Championship in basketball, still the only postseason championship in Clemson history.

January 1, 1940 - In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out and rushed for 115 yards. Banks McFadden keyed the defense with four pass deflections of Boston College passes and he also averaged 43 yards per punt. Boston College drove to the Clemson eight with three minutes left, but Shad Bryant and McFadden knocked away third and fourth-down passes to save the day for the Tigers.

"Clemson is every bit as good as they were cracked up to be," said Boston College Coach Frank Leahy, still the second winningest coach in college football history on a percentage basis. "We lost to a great team, one of the best I have ever seen. I have the satisfaction of knowing that while we were beaten, the game wasn't lost on a fluke."

January 10, 1940 - Jess Neely resigned as athletic director and football coach to accept the head football coaching job at Rice. Neely had inherited a $47,000 deficit when he arrived in 1931 and earned Clemson $100,000 during his tenure, and left with $57,000 in the treasury. His overall record at Clemson was 43-35-7. He would be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

January 11, 1940 - Frank Howard was named head coach. At the Athletic Council meeting that day, Howard was nominated for the position by Professor Sam Rhodes, a council member. When a call for a second was asked, Howard, standing in the back of the room, said: "I second the nomination." It is perhaps the only recorded time in history a coach has seconded his own nomination for head coach.

July 25, 1940 - Banks McFadden accepted a bid to play in the College All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers on August 29. He scored one of the two touchdowns for the College All-Stars.

September 1, 1940 - Banks McFadden signed a one-year contract to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team. He led the NFL in yards per carry in 1940, but did not like the bright lights of New York and returned to Clemson.

September 21, 1940 - In Frank Howard's first game as head coach, Clemson scored on the first offensive play as George Floyd reversed around left end and raced 18 yards untouched for a touchdown. The Tigers went on to a 38-0 win over Presbyterian.

October 12, 1940 - Clemson shutout Wake Forest 39-0 in Clemson's second game of the season at Riggs Field. It was Clemson's third shutout in the first four games of the Howard era. It was the last home game of the season for the Tigers, who would go on to win the Southern Conference title even though seven of the nine games were on the road.

October 24, 1940 - Frank Howard won his first game as head coach in the rivalry with South Carolina. The Tigers were victorious 21-13 thanks to five interceptions by the Tiger defense. Howard coached in 30 Clemson-South Carolina games. Incredible as it may seem, both Clemson and South Carolina scored exactly 411 total points in those 30 games.

October 28, 1940 - It didn't take Howard long to get the Tigers into the nation's top 10. With the 5-0 start the Tigers earned 136 poll points and ranked #10 in the nation, Clemson's first top-10 ranking in the AP poll. Two writers ranked Clemson #1.

November 23, 1940 - Clemson won the Southern Conference football title with a 13-7 victory over Furman. Ed Maness led the way for the Tigers with 136 yards rushing in 18 attempts. It was the first of eight conference championships for the Tigers under Frank Howard.

October 6, 1941 - Work began on Memorial Stadium. The chore of cleaning, digging and leveling the site as well as cutting large trees and clearing underbrush was supervised by Frank Howard. A pipe was also installed for drainage under the field.

October 11, 1941 - Clemson defeated Boston College at Fenway Park, 26-13. Joe Blalock scored two touchdowns as Clemson overcame a 6-0 deficit after the first period. BC outgained Clemson 363-281, but Clemson came away with the victory.

October 23, 1941 - Booty Payne became the first Clemson player to pass for over 200 yards in an 18-14 loss to South Carolina. He completed 9-16 passes for 202 yards in the contest. It was one of just three 200-yard passing games by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s.

November 15, 1941 - Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 29-0, in the last game at Riggs Field.

November 22, 1941 - The Tigers put on the greatest rushing defense exhibition in the first 100 years of Clemson history, holding Furman to -21 yards rushing in a 34-6 win in Greenville. Charlie Timmons scored three touchdowns and added four extra points in his final game as a Tiger. The 22 points scored rank sixth best in Clemson history for a single game by an individual. But Timmons was not the leading rusher in the game, as teammate Sid Tinsley picked up 127 yards on just seven carries.

September 19, 1942 - Clemson Memorial Stadium opened, and the Tigers ran down the hill for the first time. Butch Butler gained 192 yards, as the Tigers opened the new stadium in front of 5,500 with a 32-13 win over Presbyterian. It was the most yards rushing by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s. High school students were admitted for 25 cents, while servicemen were allowed in for 50 cents.

September 25, 1943 - World War II took virtually all of Clemson's veteran players and the Tigers started nine first-year freshmen at the 11 positions in a 13-12 loss to Presbyterian. Clemson had just a 2-6 record this season with no one older than a sophomore playing in a game as the armed services took Clemson's entire junior and senior classes.

October 19, 1944 - First rain at a Clemson-South Carolina game since 1896. Despite the conditions, Sid Tinsley rushed for 146 yards in 22 carries to lead the Tigers to a 20-13 victory.

September 22, 1945 - Fourteen Clemson backs netted 516 yards in a 76-0 win over Presbyterian. Freshman Bobby Gage led the Tigers with 144 yards, including 88 on a touchdown run, the longest run from scrimmage by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s. The Tigers had 11 rushing touchdowns in the game, still a Clemson record.

October 24, 1946 - The Clemson vs. South Carolina game was played under unusual circumstances. Counterfeit tickets had been printed and 10,000 more people than the capacity showed up for the game. Fans stormed the gates and stood on the sidelines, even on the field at the opposite end of the field when the game action was taking place. Coach Howard recalled fans standing next to him on the sideline telling him what plays to run. South Carolina won on this bizarre day, 26-14.

September 24, 1947 - Clemson flew to Boston College on an Eastern Airline DC-4. It marked the first time that a state football team had flown to a football game. The quicker traveling did not help, however as Boston College defeated the Tigers, 32-22.

November 8, 1947 - Clemson began a 15-game winning streak, the longest in school history, with a win over Furman, 35-7.

November 22, 1947 - Bobby Gage ran for 141 yards and passed for 233 as he led Clemson to a 34-18 win over Auburn. Gage threw four touchdown passes and had 374 yards total offense, records that stood almost 50 years. Hank Walker was Gage's favorite receiver as he pulled in 10 passes for 148 yards. It is still the second most receptions in a single game in Clemson history and the yardage total is the sixth best. It was the first time in Clemson history that the Tigers had a 100-yard rusher, a 100-yard receiver and a 200-yard passer in the same game. The Clemson defense was also outstanding, holding Auburn to -9 yards rushing.

June 1, 1948 - Frank Gillespie was named the Southern Conference athlete of the year. Gillespie played football, basketball and baseball during the academic year and was the first Clemson athlete to be named a conference athlete of the year.

September 25, 1948 - Clemson defeated Presbyterian 53-0 in the first night game at Clemson. Clemson also defeated N.C. State, 6-0, in a home night game the following week.

October 2, 1948 - Gage continued his All-America triple-threat season by returning a punt 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 6-0 win over N.C. State at Death Valley. To this day, it is the longest punt return in the history of the stadium by a Tiger.

October 21, 1948 - A 14th-ranked Clemson team defeated South Carolina 13-7 in Columbia. Captain Phil Prince was the hero for the Tigers as he blocked a South Carolina punt with just 4:15 left in the contest. Oscar Thompson recovered it at the 11 and ran it in for a touchdown, giving Clemson the 13-7 lead.

November 6, 1948 - Bobby Gage put on the most efficient passing exhibition in Clemson history in a 41-0 win over Furman. He completed 9-11 passes for 245 yards and two touchdowns. His efficiency rating of 310.7 is still a Clemson record for a minimum of 10 attempts. He averaged 22 yards per attempt, a record by far in Clemson history. The defense was just as effective, holding the Paladins to -12 yards in total offense, still the best total defense effort in Clemson history for a single game.

November 22, 1948 - The Tigers were ranked #9 in the AP poll, their highest ranking in history. Eight voters ranked Clemson #1 in the nation.

November 27, 1948 - Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl after it beat Auburn 7-6 in a hard fought game played in Mobile, AL. It was Clemson's first bowl bid since the 1939 season. Ray Mathews scored on a one-yard run with just 6:35 left to give Clemson its only lead of the game.

November 29, 1948 - Clemson ranked 11th in the final AP poll. Again Clemson suffered from not having a poll after the bowl games. Clemson won another regular season game, then defeated Missouri in the Gator Bowl to close a perfect season. But, these wins were not reflected in the final ranking. The AP did not have a post-bowl poll until 1968.

December 4, 1948 - Clemson closed out its perfect regular season with a 20-0 win over The Citadel in a game played in Charleston. The December 4 date is the second latest regular season game in Clemson history. The 10th ranked Tigers did not allow The Citadel to make a first down in the game, the only recorded time in Clemson history that the Tigers did not allow a first down. The Bulldogs also failed to complete a pass in the contest.

The victory was Clemson's sixth road win of the year, a record that still stands for road wins in a season. Only two Clemson teams have had a perfect road record since 1948 and that was the 1981 National Championship team and the 1995 Tigers.

December 6, 1948 - Frank Howard was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year, his first of three Coach of the Year selections in his career.

January 1, 1949 - The Tigers won the Gator Bowl by a 24-23 score over Missouri. Fred Cone scored two first-quarter touchdowns as Clemson raced to a 14-0 lead. After Missouri tied the game, Gage threw a nine-yard scoring pass to John Poulos, a play that completed a 80-yard drive. Jack Miller's 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the winning margin. Missouri would score a late touchdown to come within 24-23. But that was the final score. You could not go for two points in those days, so Missouri did not have the opportunity to tie the score after their touchdown that took place with less than five minutes left. Both teams had exactly 298 yards of total offense in the game.

Clemson closed the season with a perfect 11-0 record, the only team in college football with 11 wins that year and one of just three with a perfect record. Notre Dame and Michigan were both 9-0-0 that season, but did not play in a bowl game.

November 26, 1949 - Clemson closed out the decade of the 1940s with a 20-20 tie against Auburn in Mobile, AL. Clemson had just a 4-4-2 record but closed 2-0-1 over the last three games, giving the program momentum heading into the 1950 season.

September 30, 1950 - Clemson defeated Missouri 34-0 in the second game of the season. The Tigers of Columbia, MO had been ranked in the preseason top 20. Three Clemson backs rushed for at least 100 yards, the second straight game Frank Howard had three 100-yard rushers in the same game. It has happened just four total times in Tiger history.

October 7, 1950 - Clemson recorded its third-straight shutout to open the season with a 27-0 win over N.C. State in a home night game. Wyndie Windham again led the Clemson defense in tackles and according to legend knocked out N.C. State players on three consecutive plays in this game.

October 28, 1950 - Clemson defeated Wake Forest in Winston-Salem in a battle of top 20 teams, 13-12. Clemson lineman Bob Patton blocked the extra point in the final minute to preserve the victory for Clemson. It is the only time in Clemson history that a Tiger has blocked a kick on the last play of the game to give Clemson a victory.

November 28, 1950 - Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl.

January 1, 1951 - Clemson appeared in the Orange Bowl for the first time and squeaked out a 15-14 win over Miami (FL) to complete an undefeated season. Sterling Smith's tackle of Frank Smith in the endzone gave Clemson a safety with under six minutes left in the game and gave the Tigers the victory. Don Wade also had two interceptions in the game. It was Clemson's second undefeated season in the last three years for Howard's Tigers.

Sterling Smith made the winning play when he tackled Miami (FL) back Frank Smith for a safety in the 1951 Orange Bowl. Above, Smith holds the Orange Bowl Trophy while Head Coach Frank Howard looks on.

November 27, 1951 - Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl. This was done against the wishes of the Southern Conference, who had made a rule its members could not go to a bowl game. Clemson and Maryland, which both accepted bowl bids were given sanctions. The two teams were told they will not be allowed to play any other conference teams in 1952. This resulted in teams leaving the Southern Conference and forming the ACC.

November 8, 1952 - Don King, making his first and only career start at tailback, rushed for 234 yards on 33 carries in Clemson's 12-12 tie at Fordham. The performance is still a record for a Clemson freshman and still stands as the third-highest single-game total in Clemson history. King was substituting for an injured tailback and returned to quarterback the next week. He never played tailback again.

May 8, 1953 - Clemson joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

October 31, 1953 - Clemson won its first ACC game in history, 18-0 over Wake Forest in a contest played at Clemson.

September 18, 1954 - Clemson Head Cheerleader George Bennett fired a cannon after each Tiger score. The cannon was purchased by Bennett's father and the tradition is still carried out today.

October 9, 1954 - Clemson upset 14th ranked Florida in Jacksonville, 14-7.

November 16, 1956 - Vice President Richard Nixon was in attendance at the Clemson-Miami football game on this date. Surrounded by security from various agencies, a loud explosion sounded and alarmed the body guard along with the Vice President. To everyone's relief, it was discovered that it was just the cannon fired off by a Clemson cheerleader when Clemson kicked off. The eighth-ranked Hurricanes defeated the Tigers 21-0 in the game played at Miami, FL.

November 24, 1956 - Clemson defeated Virginia 7-0 at Clemson to clinch the Tigers first ever ACC Championship.

December 1, 1956 - Clemson clinched an Orange Bowl berth with a 28-7 win over Furman at Clemson.

January 1, 1957 - Colorado defeated Clemson 27-21 in an exciting Orange Bowl in Miami. Clemson had trailed 20-0 at the half and Frank Howard threatened to resign at halftime. But, the Tigers came back to take a 21-20 lead in fourth period, only to see the Buffalos score late to win the game.

March 25, 1957 - It was announced that Clemson and South Carolina would play at Clemson on November 12, 1960 ending the 61-year-old state classic, Big Thursday.

September 20, 1958 - Clemson ran down the hill on a rug for the first time. The rug was officially given to Clemson on this date before the Clemson-

Tiger Timeline

Virginia game by W.W. Pate, Sr., president of Wunda Weave Company. It measured 104 feet long and was 13 feet wide. Also at this game, Clemson's first expansion of Memorial Stadium was used for the first time. Memorial Stadium was expanded from 20,000 to 38,000 seats.

September 27, 1958 - Clemson defeated North Carolina, 26-21, as Frank Howard picked up his 100th collegiate coaching win. Doug Cline scored on a two-yard run with 2:52 left to give Clemson the victory. It was one of four times in 1958 that Clemson scored a touchdown in the last quarter to win the game. Also the scoreboard at the east of the stadium was used for the first time. The scoreboard had an added feature, as the Tiger above the scoreboard still wags his tail after each Clemson touchdown.

October 6, 1958 - Clemson was ranked eighth in the country, the highest ranking in Clemson history, at that time.

October 11, 1958 - Clemson kept its top 10 ranking alive with a 12-7 win at Vanderbilt. Harvey White scored the game winner on a three-yard run with three seconds left to win the game. It is the latest game-winning touchdown in Clemson history.

November 19, 1958 - Clemson defeated N.C. State 13-6 and won its second ACC championship in three years.

November 29, 1958 - Clemson accepted a Sugar Bowl bid to face top-ranked Louisiana State.

December 24, 1958 - It was announced that Clemson would take the rug the Tigers used to run down the hill with them to the Sugar Bowl. The rug weighed 527 pounds.

December 27, 1958 - Clemson announced it would wear navy blue jerseys with wide numerals front and back. Orange helmets with a white stripe from back to front in the center would also be worn to give a contrasting color for the nationwide television coverage of the game.

January 1, 1959 - Top-ranked Louisiana State and Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon defeated Clemson 7-0 in the Sugar Bowl. Cannon, a half-back, threw a touchdown pass to give Louisiana and Paul Dietzel the national championship clinching victory. It was the first time Clemson had ever played the #1 team.

September 19, 1959 - Clemson defeated North Carolina in Chapel Hill, 20-18 in a battle of top 20 teams. The Tar Heels were ranked 12th in the pre-season poll.

October 22, 1959 - Clemson won the last Big Thursday game by defeating South Carolina, 27-0. Harvey White was on target all day, hitting 9-10 passes for 162 yards and two scores. Clemson fans tore down the steel goal posts, which were set in concrete, following the game.

Clemson's 1966 team traveled to Los Angeles to face Southern California in the Los Angeles Coliseum. During the west-coast trip, the team took a tour of Universal Studios and had a picture made with the cast from the television show "Lost in Space."

November 21, 1959 - Clemson defeated Wake Forest 33-31 for Clemson's second ACC title in a row. George Usry scored on a one-yard run with 4:24 to go to give Clemson the triumph.

December 19, 1959 - Clemson defeated TCU in the Bluebonnet Bowl, 23-7. The Horned Frogs, led by All-American and future Dallas Cowboy Bob Lilly, were ranked seventh in the nation entering the game. The victory is also the 300th in Clemson history.

October 1, 1960 - The west stands were used for the first time, as Clemson beat Virginia Tech, 13-7.

October 8, 1960 - Clemson defeated Virginia 21-7 and used special pants for rain protection in this game. After the contest Clemson sent the pants to Greenville and allowed Furman to use the pants for a game that night against William and Mary. Furman Head Coach Bob King said, "after those big Clemson boys got out of them some of our guys had a hard time making them stay up and we had to tape the legs of the pants for several players." The pants beat two teams from Virginia on the same day.

November 12, 1960 - Clemson defeated South Carolina by the score of 12-2 in the first ever appearance for South Carolina at Clemson.

November 11, 1961 - A team resembling Clemson entered the field prior to the meeting with South Carolina. They did a few serious calisthenics and then started dancing to band music. The team was actually members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity of South Carolina. Clemson students entered the field and worked some of the imposters over. Finally state police brought order to the field.

October 13, 1962 - Hal Davis raced 98 yards with a kickoff return for a touchdown against Georgia, the last time a Tiger would return a kickoff for a score for 25 years.

November 17, 1962 - Clemson upset Maryland as Rodney Rogers kicked a 23-yard field goal with 84 seconds left in the game.

November 24, 1962 - Clemson defeated South Carolina, as Rogers kicked a 24-yard field goal with 1:31 left. The Tigers wore blue jerseys in this game, the ones that were used in the Sugar Bowl. Clemson claimed the 20-17 victory when South Carolina quarterback Dan Reeves was sacked deep in South Carolina territory on the last play of the game.

October 12, 1963 - Clemson and Georgia tied 7-7, but the main item of interest was the strange weather. A hail storm hit at 2:50 PM and caused temperatures to plummet from 84 degrees to 57 degrees in 45 minutes. Almost an inch of hail poured in a 20-minute period and the game was delayed. Clemson blocked two field goal attempts to preserve the tie.

November 23, 1963 - The South Carolina-Clemson game was postponed due to the death of President John F. Kennedy.

November 28, 1963 - Clemson defeated South Carolina on Thanksgiving Day, 24-20. It was the fifth win in a row for the Tigers to close the season.

November 6, 1965 - Two Clemson single-game records were established in a 17-13 loss at North Carolina. Thomas Ray became the first Tiger to throw for 300 yards in a game when he completed 21-43 passes for 323 yards. His star receiver, Phil Rogers, caught 11 passes for 129 yards to set the single-game reception record.

September 24, 1966 - First game in which Howard's Rock was present at Death Valley. Clemson downed Virginia, 40-35 in one of the most exciting games in the history of the facility and adding to the legend of Howard's Rock. Clemson trailed 35-17 with just over a quarter remaining in the game, but rode the passing of Jimmy Addison to keep its perfect record alive against Virginia. Addison was 12-19 for 283 yards and three touchdowns, including a 74-yarder to Jackie Jackson with 3:49 remaining that proved to be the game-winner.

October 22, 1966 - Clemson traveled to Los Angeles to play Southern Cal for the first time. This was the longest trip for a Clemson football team at the time. The Trojans won the Pac-Eight that year, won the Rose Bowl and defeated Clemson 30-0. Clemson visited Universal Studios prior to the game and had their photos taken with many of the television stars of the era.

November 12, 1966 - Frank Howard won his 150th game and clinched at least a tie for the ACC championship with a 14-10 victory over Maryland. Clemson won the ACC outright the next week with a 6-1 record. Clemson was 0-3 outside the league in 1966, and all three of the games were against top 10 teams (Georgia Tech, Alabama, and Southern California).

November 26, 1966 - Clemson downed South Carolina to win the ACC, 35-10. A key touchdown in the game was scored by Tiger offensive lineman Harry Olszewski, who picked up a mid-air fumble and ran 12 yards for a touchdown. No Clemson offensive lineman has scored since.

September 23, 1967 - Clemson started the tradition of rubbing Howard's Rock when running down the hill. Clemson responded with a 23-6 win over Wake Forest.

October 28, 1967 - Alabama and Bear Bryant came to Clemson to face Frank Howard's Tigers before a sellout crowd at Clemson. Bryant's team won the close game, 13-10.

November 18, 1967 - Clemson painted its shoes orange for the N.C. State game and the Tigers upset the 10th-ranked Wolfpack, 14-6. Clemson clinched a tie for the ACC championship with the victory, the sixth and final ACC title of Frank Howard's celebrated career. The Tigers had to get the orange paint from eight stores in the area. N.C. State's defense had worn white shoes all season and that was the reason for the ploy.

November 25, 1967 - Clemson beat South Carolina 23-12 to claim the ACC Championship. Buddy Gore broke the ACC single-season rushing record with 1,045 yards and finished the season eighth in the nation in rushing.

Bear Bryant's team defeated Clemson, 38-13. Clemson lost by a sizeable margin, but moved the ball consistently. In fact, Clemson had a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher, and 100-yard receiver for just the fourth time.

November 1, 1969 - Frank Howard won his last game as a Clemson coach in Death Valley with a 40-0 win over Maryland. It is still Clemson's largest margin of victory against the Terrapins.

December 10, 1969 - Frank Howard resigned from football coaching duties, but remained in the capacity of athletic director. Howard had first come to Clemson in 1931 as an assistant under Jess Neely.

December 17, 1969 - Hootie Ingram was named head football coach.

July 21, 1970 - Clemson announced the use of a new logo...the Tiger Paw. With the aid of Henderson Advertising Agency, the Tiger paw became the new trademark of Clemson athletics.

October 31, 1970 - Don Kelley had the greatest return game in ACC history when he gained 223 yards on interception and punt returns in a 24-11 win over Maryland. He had a record 167 yards in punt returns, including an 85-yarder for a touchdown, and also had a 56-yard interception return.

October 9, 1971 - Hootie Ingram gained his only win over a ranked team as Clemson coach when the Tigers defeat Duke 3-0 in a defensive struggle at the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk, VA. Duke was ranked 14th in the nation entering the contest.

November 27, 1971 - Eddie Seigler became the first Clemson kicker in history to boot a field goal of at least 50 yards. His 52-yarder was important in the 17-7 Clemson win over South Carolina.

December 5, 1972 - Hootie Ingram resigned as Clemson football coach, and Red Parker was named as his replacement.

September 28, 1974 - Georgia Tech made its first appearance in history at Clemson. For years Clemson had always gone to Atlanta for the series. Clemson won the contest, 21-17.

October 5, 1974 - Clemson defeated Georgia in Death Valley, 28-24, giving Clemson wins over Georgia and Georgia Tech in the same season for the first time since 1914.

November 16, 1974 - The playing surface of Memorial Stadium was named Frank Howard Field. This day also featured the longest play in Clemson history, a 97-yard touchdown pass from Mark Fellers to Craig Brantley. Clemson defeated Virginia, 28-9.

November 23, 1974 - Clemson defeated South Carolina, 39-21 to close a perfect 6-0 season in Death Valley. Ken Callicutt had 197 yards rushing and 55 more receiving to key the Clemson attack. It was a Clemson record for all-purpose rushing at the time. South Carolina players wore two different color helmets in the game as the Gamecock seniors wore black helmets and the rest of the team wore white. Willie Anderson had 21 tackles from his middle guard position, still a Clemson record for an interior lineman. He was named Sports Illustrated National Player-of-the-Week.

November 21, 1976 - Clemson scrimmaged at an adjacent field and warmed up there until game time before a 28-9 upset of South Carolina.

December 1, 1976 - Charley Pell was named head football coach.

September 17, 1977 - Clemson defeated Georgia 7-6 and this marked the first time that Clemson had won in Athens since 1914.

November 12, 1977 - Fifth-ranked Notre Dame, led by quarterback Joe Montana and 25 other players who would eventually play in the NFL, defeated Clemson in Death Valley, 21-17. It was the closest game for the Irish in the last nine games of the season. Notre Dame won the national championship that year. A total of 38 players who participated in this game went on to play in the NFL. The list included both quarterbacks, Montana and Steve Fuller, who both won Super Bowl Championships.

November 19, 1977 - A 20-yard pass from Steve Fuller to Jerry Butler with just 49 seconds left enabled Clemson to beat South Carolina 31-27. The Tigers had led 24-0, then South Carolina came back to take a 27-24 lead prior to the final Clemson drive. The win earned the Tigers a trip to the Gator Bowl.

September 16, 1978 - Clemson won its 100th game in Death Valley with a 58-3 win over the Citadel. Steve Fuller was a perfect 9-9 passing in the contest, an all-time Clemson record for consecutive completions at the time. Clemson was a record 15-17 passing in the contest and set a school record for team passing efficiency.

November 18, 1978 - Clemson clinched the ACC championship with a thrilling victory over Maryland in College Park. Steve Fuller hit touchdown passes of 87 yards to Jerry Butler and 62 yards to Dwight Clark. The game also included a 98-yard run by Maryland's Steve Atkins, the longest run in history against the Tigers.

November 25, 1978 - Clemson fans used the south upper deck for the first time in Clemson's 41-23 win over South Carolina. At the time it was the largest crowd ever to see a game from Philadelphia to Birmingham. Clemson had three backs gain over 100 yards rushing in the game for the first time since 1950. The victory also clinched Clemson's first 10-win season since 1948.

December 10, 1978 - It was announced that Danny Ford would be the Tigers' coach in the Gator Bowl.

December 29, 1978 - Clemson defeated Ohio State 17-15 at the Gator Bowl in Danny Ford's first game as head coach, and Woody Hayes' final game at Ohio State. The winning touchdown was scored by freshman Cliff Austin. He would score another important touchdown three years later against Nebraska. Charlie Bauman made the key play with an interception of an Art Schlichter pass with just two minutes left. He ran the return out of bounds on the Ohio State sideline and was punched by Hayes.

May 3, 1979 - All-American Jerry Butler became the fifth pick of the 1979 NFL draft when he was chosen by the Buffalo Bills. This was the highest selection of a Clemson player since the 1939 season when Banks McFadden was the #4 selection of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

September 22, 1979 - Clemson won its 400th game in history with a 12-7 victory over Georgia.

November 16, 1979 - Clemson won at Notre Dame 16-10 behind Obed Ariri's three field goals. The Irish had taken a 10-0 lead in the first half, but Ariri's field goals and a 26-yard touchdown run by quarterback Billy Lott proved to be the difference. It was just the third time in the last 40 years that Notre Dame's seniors lost their final home game. The next day Ariri kicked the only goal for the Clemson soccer team in an NCAA tournament victory over South Carolina.

October 11, 1980 - Obed Ariri booted a 52-yard field goal with six seconds left to give Clemson a 27-24 victory at Virginia. Clemson had trailed by two touchdowns entering the fourth quarter and this was the greatest fourth-quarter comeback in Clemson history. Ariri's boot is also the longest field goal to win a game in Clemson history.

November 8, 1980 - Jeff Davis had a then school record 24 tackles vs. North Carolina in a head-to-head battle with Lawrence Taylor. The Tigers had the ball inside the North Carolina five with a chance to win, but Taylor sacked quarterback Homer Jordan on third down. Obed Ariri, who led the nation in field goals in 1980 with 23, booted a 27-yarder in the first half to become the NCAA's career field goal leader. The Tar Heels were victorious 24-19, Clemson's last home loss for four seasons.

November 22, 1980 - Clemson defeated #14 South Carolina 27-6 in a contest that gave the Tigers momentum heading into 1981. Willie Underwood played the game of his life with two interceptions for 101 yards, including one for a 37-yard touchdown. Underwood entered the game, the 47th of his career, without an interception. He was named Sports Illustrated National Defensive Player-of-the-Week. Clemson kept South Carolina Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers out of the endzone.

September 19, 1981 - Clemson forced nine Georgia turnovers, most ever by a Clemson opponent, in handing Herschel Walker his only regular season loss as a Bulldog, 13-3. The Bulldogs were the defending national champions and ranked fourth in the nation entering the contest. It is the highest ranked win for the Tigers in the history of Death Valley.

October 31, 1981 - Clemson had 756 total offensive yards against Wake Forest in an 82-24 win. The Tigers set 21 school, stadium, and conference records in the game that remains the highest scoring game in ACC history. The Tigers scored 49 points in the first half, then scored on the first possession of the second half. Clemson's final touchdown was scored on a 72-yard run by Craig Crawford, his first carry as a Tiger and the longest touchdown play in Clemson history for a player on his first play. Clemson was 12-12 on third-downs and scored 12 touchdowns on the day. The Tigers had a record 536 yards rushing and averaged 8.7 yards per play.

November 7, 1981 - Clemson stopped North Carolina, 10-8, in Chapel Hill in the first battle of top 10 teams in ACC football history. Jeff Bryant recovered a fumble in the last two minutes of the game on a North Carolina lateral. Bryant was the only player who realized the play was a lateral.

On the field, Mike Eppley was outstanding with three touchdown passes, and Kevin Mack rushed for 186 yards in his final game in Death Valley. He scored his final touchdown with just one shoe on, as he had lost it during his 56-yard run for a score. Clemson downed the Top 20 Maryland team and Boomer Esiason, 52-27.

November 19, 1983 - Clemson closed the 1983 season with a 22-13 win at South Carolina. The game gave the Tigers a 30-2-2 record for over the last three years, the top record in college football.

September 8, 1984 - Clemson defeated Virginia in Charlottesville, 55-0. Virginia ended the year 8-4 and went to a bowl game. It is the largest margin of victory in Clemson history over a team that went to a bowl game. Mike Eppley led the way, hitting 8-14 passes for 172 yards and a pair of scores. The Tigers advanced to #2 in the nation with the win.

September 22, 1984 - Georgia defeated Clemson in Athens, 26-23 on a 60-yard field goal by Kevin

When Danny Ford won the national championship in 1981, he was just 33 years old. He broke Bud Wilkinson's record as the youngest coach to win the national title. Ford still holds that record today.

Tiger Timeline

Butler with 11 seconds left. Clemson, who had a 20-6 lead at halftime, ran the ensuing kickoff back to Georgia territory and a personal foul was thrown against the Bulldogs after the tackle. But, after a long debate, officials ruled the game had ended when the foul was committed and Donald Igwebuike, who led the nation in field goal percentage in 1984 (17-18) was denied an opportunity to tie the game from 42 yards away.

November 10, 1984 - Clemson defeated Virginia Tech 17-10 in the greatest matchup of defensive linemen in Death Valley history. Clemson featured All-American William Perry and Virginia Tech featured Outland Trophy winner and future All-Pro Bruce Smith. Clemson also had freshman Michael Dean Perry, who went on to earn six Pro Bowl selections.

September 14, 1985 - David Treadwell showed a forshadowing of things to come with a 36-yard field goal on the last play of the game to give Clemson a 20-17 victory at Virginia Tech in the season opener. Perry Williams had a Clemson record five pass deflections in this game.

September 21, 1985 - Clemson and Georgia met in the first nationally-televised (CBS) football game from Clemson. Georgia won the game 20-13 thanks to a fourth-quarter fumble recovery by offensive lineman Peter Anderson. No opposing offensive lineman has scored a touchdown in a game since.

November 23, 1985 - Clemson defeated South Carolina 24-17, and accepted a bid to the Independence Bowl.

September 20, 1986 - Clemson defeated Georgia 31-28, as David Treadwell kicked a 46-yard field goal with no time left on the clock. Athens, GA native Norman Haynes led Clemson in tackles with 14, while Terrance Flagler led the offense with nearly 200 all-purpose running yards.

November 1, 1986 - Terrance Flagler scored four touchdowns, two receiving and two rushing, and gained 274 all-purpose yards in Clemson's 28-20 win at Wake Forest. He had an 88-yard run in the contest, the longest of his career. The all-purpose yard total is still a Clemson record for an individual.

November 15, 1986 - Clemson tied Maryland 17-17 to win the ACC championship, as Treadwell kicked a 20-yard field goal with two seconds left. Both Clemson coach Danny Ford and Maryland coach Bobby Ross, coached the game from the press box due to suspensions imposed by the ACC.

Clemson also had a 100-yard receiver in the game, giving Clemson a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver (Terry Smith) in the same game for just the fifth time in Clemson history.

November 30, 1991 - Clemson ran its overseas record to 2-0 with a 33-21 win over Duke in the Coca Cola Bowl in Tokyo, Japan. Clemson had to score 26 points in the fourth period to register the victory. It was Ken Hatfield's 100th win as a college coach.

September 12, 1992 - Florida State defeated Clemson 24-20 in the first night game at Clemson since 1956. The contest was televised by ESPN. Clemson had taken a 20-17 lead in the fourth period on a touchdown pass to Terry Smith. The Seminoles led by quarterback Charlie Ward, scored the winning TD in the two final minutes.

October 10, 1992 - Clemson overcame a 28-0 deficit to defeat Virginia in Charlottesville 29-28. Nelson Welch kicked a 32-yard field goal with 52 seconds left to cap the comeback. Quarterback Louis Solomon came off the bench with the score 28-0 and led the comeback. His 64-yard scoring run just before the half changed the course of the game. The win over the #10 Cavaliers was just the third in Clemson history over a top-10 team on the road.

November 7, 1992 - Clemson soundly defeated #18 North Carolina 40-7 at Death Valley, the largest margin of victory for the Tigers over a top 20 team in history. Freshman Patrick Sapp hit 13-23 passes for 205 yards, while Rodney Blunt scored three TDs in leading the Clemson offense. The Tigers controlled the clock for a record 42:58.

November 24, 1993 - Ken Hatfield and Clemson University announced a separation, ending Hatfield's four-year career as head coach. Hatfield was 32-13-1 at Clemson and his .707 winning percentage was third in ACC history when he departed.

November 29, 1993 - Tommy West was named Clemson's 23rd head coach and took over the team heading for the Peach Bowl. West, who spent the 1993 regular season as head coach at UT Chattanooga, became the sixth coach in Division I history to make his head coaching debut for a school in a bowl game and the second coach to ever become head coach for a bowl game after not serving as an assistant at that school during the regular season.

December 31, 1993 - Clemson scored the latest touchdown to gain victory in a game since 1958, as Patrick Sapp connected with Terry Smith with 0:20 left to defeat Kentucky, 14-13, in the Peach Bowl. West experienced his fifth consecutive bowl victory with Clemson, as the Tigers won four straight bowl games during his years as an assistant (1986-89).

September 3, 1994 - For the first time ever, Clemson faced a team coached by a Clemson graduate. Bobby Johnson, an academic All-ACC defensive back for the Tigers and a 1973 graduate, brought his Furman Paladins to Memorial Stadium. Clemson came away with a 27-6 win. Clemson inducted Frank Howard, Steve Fuller, and Banks McFadden into the Ring of Honor prior to the game.

September 17, 1994 - Clemson and Virginia met in the 1,000th ACC football game in history. Virginia won 9-6. Clemson's Andre Carter had three takeaways in the game, just the fourth Tiger in history to do that.

October 15, 1994 - Nelson Welch became the ACC's career field goal leader with a 47-yarder in the third quarter at Duke. It gave Welch 61 career field goals, breaking the record of 60 held by Jess Atkinson, Scott Sisson, and Obed Ariri.

November 5, 1994 - Nelson Welch became Clemson's career scoring leader with five field goals and a PAT in Clemson's 28-17 upset of 12th-ranked North Carolina in Chapel Hill. Clemson's defense held the Tar Heels to 11 yards rushing. Clemson started an all first-year freshman backfield.

May 15, 1995 - The Banks McFadden building was dedicated. The facility is the home of Clemson football administration and with all the top of the line in facilities for players and coaches.

August 12, 1995 - The Carolina Panthers and the Denver Broncos played the first professional game in the history of Memorial Stadium. The Panthers won the exhibition game over the John Elway-led Broncos.

September 17, 1995 - The Carolina Panthers met the Saint Louis Rams in the first regular season NFL game in Death Valley. It was the first of eight regular season games for the expansion Panthers at Clemson Memorial Stadium.

October 7, 1995 - Clemson wore "turn back the clock" uniforms for the Clemson-Georgia game at Death Valley. The uniforms were replicas of those worn by the 1939 Clemson team that went to the Cotton Bowl, the first bowl appearance in Clemson history. Georgia won the thrilling game, 19-17, but that would be Clemson's final regular season loss of 1995. Leomont Evans had 18 tackles in the contest, most ever by a Clemson defensive back.

November 11, 1995 - Two all-time Clemson records were set on the same day in Clemson's 34-17 win over Duke. Raymond Priester gained 263 yards rushing to break Cliff Austin's Clemson single-game mark. All-American Brian Dawkins had three interceptions in the first quarter to set a quarter record and tie the single-game mark for interceptions. The game was played in a driving rainstorm in the first half and brilliant sunshine in the second.

November 18, 1995 - Clemson outscored South Carolina 21-0 in the fourth period to defeat South Carolina in Columbia, 38-17. It was Clemson's fourth straight win in Columbia. The victory clinched a bid to the Gator Bowl for the Tigers.

December 10, 1995 - The defending Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers defeated the Carolina Panthers at Death Valley. Jerry Rice caught one touchdown pass from Steve Young in the contest that attracted over 75,000 fans.

December 15, 1995 - Linebacker Anthony Simmons was named UPI National Freshman-of-the-Year, the first defensive player in the history of the award. Simmons led Clemson in tackles (150), 46 more than any other freshman in school history.

January 28, 1996 - Clemson legend Frank Howard, the school's head coach from 1940-69, passed away at his home in Clemson. Howard, who still had come to his office a month prior to his death, died on the same day as his former teammate and Alabama legend Bear Bryant, 14 years later.

September 7, 1996 - Clemson's Centennial team was honored at halftime of the Clemson vs. Furman game. The Tigers wore their "Turn back the Clock" uniforms for this game, a 19-3 Clemson victory. Clemson had a school record 12 sacks in the win.

November 2, 1996 - Clemson held Maryland without a touchdown for the fourth straight year in a 35-3 Tiger victory. Anthony Simmons keyed the Clemson defense that had eight sacks with 15 tackles for loss. Maryland has not scored a touchdown against Clemson since 1992.

November 9, 1996 - The Tigers upset 15th ranked Virginia 24-16 in Charlottesville. Clemson had two players rush for over 120 yards in the contest as Kelton Dunnican had a career high 123 yards and Raymond Priester had 122. It was the second time in four years that Clemson had defeated a ranked Virginia team on the road.

December 28, 1996 - Raymond Priester became Clemson's career and single-season rushing leader in a 10-7 loss to Louisiana State in the Peach Bowl. Priester gained 151 yards rushing in 25 attempts, giving him 1,345 yards for the season and 3,010 for his career. He broke his own single-season record and broke Kenny Flowers' career record in the game.

September 13, 1997 - Matt Padgett kicked a 20-yard field goal with 19 seconds left to give Clemson a 19-17 win at N.C. State. Nealon Greene became the first quarterback in school history to have consecutive 250-yard passing games. The senior also had 76 yards rushing and the 336 yards total offense were the second most in Clemson history.

September 20, 1997 - Tony Horne and Florida State's Peter Warrick put on the greatest individual all-purpose running show in the history of Death Valley. Horne had 10 receptions for 131 yards and had 267 yards of all-purpose running, while Warrick had a 90-yard punt return and an 80-yard touchdown reception in gaining 372 yards of all-purpose running as Florida State defeated Clemson 35-28.

October 4, 1997 - Nealon Greene tied a Clemson record for touchdown passes with four in a 39-7 rout of UTEP. He completed three of the scores to Tony Horne, and that also tied a Tiger single-game record.

November 8, 1997 - Rahim Abdullah returned an interception 63 yards for a touchdown, clinching a 29-20 Clemson victory in overtime over Duke. It was the first overtime game in Clemson history, the first in ACC history involving two league teams.

November 22, 1997 - Clemson earned its third straight bowl bid with a 47-21 victory over South Carolina in Columbia. It was Clemson's fifth straight victory in Columbia over the Gamecocks. Antwan Edwards was the star for Clemson with two interceptions, including one that he returned for a touchdown. The 47 points were the most by the Tigers against South Carolina since 1900.

December 8, 1997 - Anthony Simmons was named first-team AP All-American, his third straight year on one of the top three teams. He became Clemson's second three-time All-American in history.

September 19, 1998 - Antwan Edwards became the first Clemson player in history to have two runs of at least 80 yards in the same game. The All-America defensive back had a 93-yard fumble return for a touchdown, longest in Clemson history, and an 85-yard kickoff return in a 20-18 loss at Virginia. It was Clemson's first ever loss on September 19th after eight straight wins.

October 31, 1998 - In a 46-39 loss to N.C. State, quarterback Brandon Streeter set the Clemson single-game passing yardage (329) and completion (27) record. He threw three touchdown passes in the fourth quarter. For the first time ever, Clemson had two 100-yard receivers in the same game. Brian Wofford had 9-128 and a touchdown, while classmate Mal Lawyer had 8-100 and two touchdown receptions. Clemson could not overcome the performance of Tory Holt, who had 11-225 and four touchdown catches.

November 12, 1998 - Clemson played host to its first ever ESPN home Thursday night game, a 24-21 loss to a top-25 Georgia Tech team. Georgia Tech scored the winning touchdown with just one minute remaining.

November 18, 1998 - It was announced that the South Carolina game of November 21 would be Tommy West's final game as Clemson Head Coach.

November 21, 1998 - Clemson defeated South Carolina 28-19 in Tommy West's final game as Clemson coach. The victory, played before a crowd of 84,423, ended a seven game winning streak for the road team in the series, tied for the longest streak of its kind in NCAA history. A highlight of the contest was a 48-yard interception return for a touchdown by Clemson outside linebacker Howard Bartley, who came back to letter as a senior after two torn ACL operations. Clemson fans tore down the goalpost after the game, just the second time in the history of Death Valley that the goalposts came down after a Tiger victory. Coach West, his wife Lindsey, and son Turner were carried off the field at the conclusion of the game.

December 2, 1998 - Tommy Bowden was named Clemson Head Football Coach.

December 5, 1999 - Former South Carolina Head Coach Brad Scott was hired as Clemson's assistant head coach under Tommy Bowden. Scott was also hired to coach the tight ends.

September 11, 1999 - Tommy Bowden recorded his first win as Clemson head coach, a 33-14 victory over 19th ranked Virginia. Quarterback Brandon Streeter threw for a school record 343 yards and was named National Player-of-the-Week by USA Today.

October 16, 1999 - Woodrow Dantzler broke a 52-year old Clemson standard for total offense in Clemson's 42-30 victory at Maryland. Dantzler gained 435 yards of total offense, including 183 yards on the ground, a Clemson record for yards rushing by a Tiger signal-caller. Travis Zachery rushed for three touchdowns as well.

October 23, 1999 - In the first meeting of father and son head coaches in Division I college football history, Bobby Bowden and Florida State defeated Tommy Bowden and Clemson, 17-14. The game was played before a record crowd of 86,092 and was televised nationally by ESPN. Clemson had a chance to tie the eventual national champs, but Tony Lazzara's 41-yard field goal attempt with 1:57 left, was tipped by Tay Cody.

November 6, 1999 - Keith Adams set a school record with four sacks and six total tackles for loss, leading Clemson to a 58-7 win over Duke in the final home game of the season. He was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Week by the Bronko Nagurski Committee. Brandon Streeter completed 22-30 for 279 yards in his final home game as well.

November 20, 1999 - Clemson defeated South Carolina 31-21 in Columbia to clinch a bid to play Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl in Tommy Bowden's first season. Keith Adams had a school record 27 tackles in the contest. Rod Gardner's 29-yard touchdown reception from Woodrow Dantzler on a fourth-down play iced the game for the Tigers.

December 1, 1999 - Tommy Bowden was named ACC Coach of the Year, Clemson's first selection for that honor since 1981.

September 9, 2000 - Clemson defeated Missouri 62-9 at Death Valley, the school's highest point total since the 1981 season. Sophomore Brian Mance had three takeaways in just 16 scrimmage plays on defense.

September 23, 2000 - Woodrow Dantzler rushed for 220 yards, an ACC record for a quarterback, in Clemson's 31-10 win over Virginia. Dantzler also passed for 154 yards, bringing Clemson to a 4-0 record and a #7 AP ranking.

September 30, 2000 - Bob Bradley worked his 500th consecutive Clemson football game on this day, a 52-22 win at Duke. Bradley served as Clemson SID or SID emeritus for 45 years.

October 21, 2000 - Clemson improved to 8-0 with a 38-24 victory at North Carolina. Reserve quarterback Willie Simmons threw four touchdown passes, three to Rod Gardner, in the win. Clemson overcame a 17-point deficit, the third largest deficit overcome to gain victory in Clemson history.

October 22, 2000 - Clemson was ranked third in the nation in the USA Today poll, Clemson's highest ranking in any poll since the 1984 season.

October 30, 2000 - Legendary Clemson sports figure Bob Bradley passed away at the age of 74. He had been presented the Order of the Palmetto by the Governor's office two days prior to his passing.

November 18, 2000 - Rod Gardner made a spectacular 50-yard catch with 10 seconds remaining to set up Aaron Hunt's 25-yard game winning field goal with just three seconds remaining in Clemson's 16-14 win over South Carolina in Death Valley.

December 5, 2000 - Kyle Young and Chad Carson were both named first-team Academic All-Americans, the only year in history Clemson has had two first-team Academic All-Americans.

January 5, 2001 - Clemson was ranked 16th in the final AP poll and 14th in the final USA Today poll. It was Clemson's first final top 25 ranking since 1993, its highest final ranking since 1991.

April 24, 2001 - Rod Gardner was selected in the first round, the 15th pick overall, by the Redskins.

September 15, 2001 - The Clemson vs. Duke football game scheduled this day was postponed until December 1 due to the terrorist attacks in New York City on September 11, 2001.

September 29, 2001 - Clemson defeated Georgia Tech in Atlanta by the score of 47-44 in overtime. Woodrow Dantzler scored on an 11-yard run in the extra period to give Clemson the win. Dantzler rushed for 164 yards and passed for 254 in the all-around performance that brought him National Player-of-the-Week honors by USAToday.com. Georgia Tech was ranked #9 entering the game. It was the highest ranked road win for the Tiger program since 1981.

October 13, 2001 - Two weeks and one game after gaining 418 yards of total offense at Georgia Tech, Woodrow Dantzler trumped that performance with a 517-yard day at N.C. State. Dantzler broke numerous Clemson records in completing 23-27 passes for 333 yards and four scores. He also rushed 23 times for 184 yards and two scores. The six touchdowns and 517 yards were Clemson single-game marks. Dantzler went over 4000 yards passing and 2000 yards rushing in the game, the first player in ACC history to do both.

Woodrow Dantzler became the first 2,000/1,000 quarterback in NCAA history against Duke on December 1, 2001.

December 1, 2001 - Woodrow Dantzler became the first player in NCAA Division I history to pass for 2000 yards and rush for 1000 yards in the same season. Dantzler reached the plateau with an 18-yard run for a touchdown against Duke in Death Valley. Dantzler completed the regular season with 2360 yards passing and 1004 yards rushing.

December 11, 2001 - Clemson was the only school in the nation with a Hall of Fame inductee and a National Football Foundation scholar at enshrinement ceremonies in New York City. Terry Kinard became just the second Clemson player inducted into the college football Hall of Fame, joining the legendary Banks McFadden. Kyle Young was named a National Football Foundation Scholar Athlete. Earlier in the week, Young became just the second offensive lineman in college football history to be named a first-team Academic All-American three times.

December 31, 2001 - Clemson gained its first bowl win since 1993 with a 49-24 victory over Louisiana Tech in the Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, ID. Clemson scored 28 points in the third period to blow the game open. Woodrow Dantzler, playing in his final game at Clemson, captured game MVP honors by completing 15-23 passes for 218 yards and four touchdowns. Bernard Rambert rushed for 101 yards and had 77 yards receiving to support a Clemson offense that gained 548 yards of total offense. Four different freshmen, Derrick Hamilton, Airese Currie, Roscoe Crosby and Ben Hall, scored touchdowns for the Tigers.

September 14, 2002 - Derrick Hamilton gained 256 all-purpose rushing yards in Clemson's 24-19 win over Georgia Tech in Death Valley. Hamilton gained 97 yards rushing, 97 in punt returns, 41 in kickoff returns and 22 receiving in accumulating the fifth highest all-purpose running total in a single game in Clemson history. He had a 77 yard scoring run and a 79 yard punt return.

November 2, 2002 - Clemson scored 24 points in the fourth quarter and overcame a 14-point fourth-quarter deficit for just the second time in Clemson history in a 34-31 win at Duke. Aaron Hunt kicked a 21-yard field goal with eight seconds left to give the Tigers the victory. Freshman Charlie Whitehurst completed a Clemson single-game record 34 passes and threw for a school record 420 yards in the victory in his first college start. He also tied the Clemson record for touchdown passes in a game with four.

November 9, 2002 - For the second straight game, Charlie Whitehurst tied the Clemson single-game touchdown pass record with four at North Carolina in a 42-12 Clemson win in Chapel Hill. His passing efficiency rating of 241 for the game was a Clemson single-game record given a minimum of 20 attempts.

November 23, 2002 - Clemson outscored South Carolina 14-0 in the final quarter to defeat its state rival 27-20 at Death Valley in the 100th meeting between the two schools. Charlie Whitehurst completed 27-38 passes for 287 yards in the contest.

September 9, 2003 - Jim Phillips, the "Voice of the Tigers" for 36 years, died suddenly in the early morning hours after suffering an aneurysm of the aorta. Phillips had served as Clemson's play-by-play announcer for football and men's basketball since 1968, and he had also done baseball and women's basketball for many years. He worked 401 Clemson football games in his career, as the season opener in 2003 against Georgia was his 400th. His final game was the Clemson-Furman game on September 6, 2003. The following Saturday when the Tigers faced Middle Tennessee, a tribute for Phillips' career was played over the video scoreboard at Death Valley. The band concluded its halftime performance by forming "JIM" as it marched off the field. Sports Information Director Tim Bourret handled the play-by-play duties for the Middle Tennessee game, a 37-14 Tiger victory. The following week, Pete Yanity was named as Phillips' interim replacement, a title that was changed to permanent the following spring.

September 20, 2003 - Charlie Whitehurst threw for 298 yards and three touchdowns, and the Clemson defense held Georgia Tech to just three points and 45 yards rushing in a 39-3 victory in Atlanta. It was Clemson's largest margin of victory over Georgia Tech since 1903, when John Heisman was the Clemson coach. It was also the largest margin of victory in any ACC road game for the Tigers since 1984.

October 11, 2003 - Clemson extended its all-time record in overtime games to 3-0 with a 30-27 victory over Virginia in Death Valley. Kevin Youngblood scored the winning, "walk-off" touchdown on a four-yard touchdown pass from Charlie Whitehurst. Yusef Kelly, in his only healthy game of the 2003 season, rushed for 88 yards to lead the Tiger ground game.

November 8, 2003 - Clemson shocked the college football world with a 26-10 victory over #3 Florida State in Death Valley. It was the highest-ranked team

Clemson had beaten in its history. The Tigers were coming off a 45-17 loss at Wake Forest the previous week and Florida State was coming off a 37-0 victory at Notre Dame. It was Clemson's first win over Florida State in 14 years. Aaron Hunt kicked four field goals and became Clemson's career scoring leader that night. Charlie Whitehurst threw for 272 yards, including 123 to wide receiver Derrick Hamilton. Clemson allowed Florida State just 11 yards rushing, the fewest in the Bobby Bowden coaching era at Florida State. Tye Hill led the secondary with an early interception and was named ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Week.

November 22, 2003 - Charlie Whitehurst completed his first 10 passes and threw for three touchdowns passes on Clemson's first three possessions in Clemson's 63-17 victory at South Carolina. It was the most points scored by Clemson against South Carolina in history and the largest margin of victory for Clemson in the series since 1900. It was also the most points scored by Clemson in any game since an 82-24 win over Wake Forest in 1981. Chad Jasmin rushed for four touchdowns, becoming the first Tiger to score four touchdowns against the Gamecocks since 1918. Jamaal Fudge had two interceptions to lead the Clemson secondary.

December 1, 2003 - Tommy Bowden was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year, the second time in five years that he won the award.

December 2, 2003 - Tommy Bowden and Clemson University agreed to a three-year contract extension.

December 8, 2003 - Clemson announced it had received 33,000 applications for tickets to the 2004 Peach Bowl, 13,000 more tickets than its supply. It was the greatest ticket demand for a Clemson bowl game since the 1982 Orange Bowl.

January 2, 2004 - Clemson defeated #6 Tennessee 27-14 in front of a record crowd of 75,125 fans at the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta. It was the highest-ranked team Clemson had defeated in a bowl game since a win over #4 Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl. Chad Jasmin was named the offensive MVP after rushing for a career-high 130 yards in his final game as a Clemson Tiger. Charlie Whitehurst added 246 yards passing and Kyle Browning scored on an eight-yard run on a "Panther" play in the second period to help spur the offense. Leroy Hill led the defense with 12 tackles, including two for losses. Combined with the victory over #3 Florida State the previous November, Clemson defeated two top-10 teams in the same season for the first time since 1981. It also gave Tommy Bowden three victories over coaches who had won the National Championship over the last four games of the season.

January 5, 2004 - Clemson was ranked #22 in the nation in the final AP and USA Today polls and #16 in the final Sagarin computer ranking.

January 9, 2004 - Tommy Bowden was named a finalist for the 2003 Bear Bryant Award.

College Football Hall of Fame Member

A name synonymous with not only the early years of Clemson football but the collegiate game is John Heisman.

A stern disciplinarian, he expected his players to be of high character and performance both on the football field and in the classroom.

Heisman coached the Tigers in 1900-1903 and was responsible for putting the Clemson name among the annals of the great early collegiate teams.

Heisman was brought to Clemson by a professor and later University President, Walter Riggs. In the spring of 1894, Riggs was a graduate manager for the Auburn football team, and he was responsible for finding a coach for the 1895 season. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams of Pennsylvania, captain of the 1894 football team, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin a few years earlier.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love of football and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year. Riggs later was hired as a professor at Clemson and he hired Heisman at Clemson in 1900. (Riggs started the Clemson football program in 1896 and was head coach in 1896 and 1899).

Heisman began his coaching career at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years in the profession. His career included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

He invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, and originated the center snap and the word "hike" (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons. His .833 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach between 1901-1904.

Clemson was a powerhouse during his tenure and was a most feared opponent. His secret was that he depended on smart, quick players rather than large size and brawn.

William Heisman, a nephew of John Heisman, often told a story on how his famous uncle stressed academics.

"I remember a story Coach Heisman used to tell me about this famous football player he confronted in the locker room before a big game. My uncle came busting through the door and went over to this guy and said, 'You can't play today because you haven't got your grades up to par.' The player looked up at my uncle and said, 'Coach, don't you know that the sportswriters call this toe on my right foot the million-dollar toe?' My uncle snapped back right quick and said, 'What good is it if you only have a fifteen-cent head?'"

Another favorite Heisman story was the speech he used to make before a season began. Heisman would face his recruits holding a football. "What is it?" he would sharply ask. Then he would tell his players, "a football is a prolate spheroid, an elongated sphere - in which the outer leather casing is drawn up tightly over a somewhat smaller rubber tubing." After a long pause he would say, "better to have died as a small boy than to fumble this football."

Heisman broke down football into these percentages: talent 25 percent; mentality 20 percent; aggressiveness 20 percent; speed 20 percent; and weight 15 percent. He considered coaching as being a master-commanding, even dictatorial. "He has no time to say 'please' or 'mister', and he must be occasionally severe, arbitrary, and something of a czar."

On November 29, 1900, Clemson defeated Alabama 35-0, which allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of its games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0. The Tigers only allowed two touchdowns the entire 1900 season.

Clemson opened the 1901 season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes, while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

In his third season, on November 27, 1902, Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown. (This early conference had several southern colleges and universities as members).

In his final season in 1903, Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0 on October 17. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, while the Yellow Jackets ran the ball 35 times and collected just 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

On November 24, 1903 Clemson participated in its "First Bowl Game." Clemson and Cumberland met on this date for the Championship of the South. The contract for the game was drawn up two weeks before the game was to be played. Cumberland who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. Clemson was considered to be the best team in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, AL. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. John Maxwell scored as a result of a 100-yard kickoff return. After the news came back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

John Heisman's 19-3-2 record is still the best in Clemson history on a percentage basis. The man who is honored each year with the awarding of the Heisman Trophy holds the distinction of building the early foundation of Clemson's football tradition.

A play documenting his career at Clemson was performed on the Clemson campus in the fall of 2003.

Heisman coached Clemson to its first perfect season in 1900. The Hall of Famer coached the Tigers from 1900-03.

Perhaps one of Clemson's most beloved coaches was Jess Neely.

Neely's influence and inspiration is still present today as the IPTAY Scholarship Club was founded during his coaching tenure. IPTAY is the lifeblood of the Clemson Athletic Department. It provides funds for athletic scholarships and capital improvements.

Thousands of athletes have benefited through the IPTAY Scholarship fund since its inception in 1934. That first year of IPTAY, Neely and his staff convinced 160 people to pay $10.00 a year to Clemson, for a grand total of $1,600 (not bad during the middle of the great depression).

Neely was head coach at Clemson from 1931 through 1939 and spent the next 26 years at Rice University in Houston.

Neely coached Clemson to its first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, where the Tigers capped a 9-1-0 season by beating Boston College, 6-3.

Clemson ended the season ranked 12th in the final Associated Press poll, its first top 20 season in history. Boston College was ranked #11 going into the game and it was Clemson's first win over a top-20 team in its history. The team featured the play of Banks McFadden Clemson's first Associated Press All-American. Clemson had a 43-35-7 record during Neely's tenure.

Neely coached Rice to four Southwest Conference Championships and six bowl appearances, the last being a trip to the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1961.

During 40 years of college coaching he compiled a record of 207-99-14. Neely is still 12th in college football history in victories by a Division I-A coach heading into the 2003 season. For his accomplishments, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

Neely graduated from Vanderbilt in 1924, after lettering three years in football and serving as captain of the 1922 football team. He coached a year of high school football before returning to his alma mater to obtain a law degree. But he never practiced law.

He coached four years at Southwestern College in Clarksville, TN and then went to the University of Alabama in 1928. It was there that he met Frank Howard Neely brought Howard to Clemson as line coach in 1931. Howard replaced him in 1940 and remained as head coach for 30 years. In 1967, Neely returned to his alma mater as athletic director. He officially retired in 1971, but continued to coach golf at Vanderbilt until 1981, when he moved back to Texas.

"If I didn't look in the mirror every day, I wouldn't know how old I am," Neely once said. "Working with the boys makes you feel young, I feel that in athletics the boys learn a sense of loyalty and sacrifice and values they don't learn anywhere else."

"They learn to compete and that is what life is all about—it's competition."

"If they make good in football, chances are they'll be successful elsewhere. I like to see that those boys make something of themselves. That is my reward."

"The boys go to college to study and get that degree. Playing football is a side activity. When fellows go to a school first to play football they get an entirely wrong sense of values."

"And when you start them off with the wrong sense, it isn't difficult for them to go astray."

"He was a cool, southern gentlemen, but he worked us like dogs. The workouts were always twice as hard as the games," said Dick Maegle. "There were no superstars, no victory that was better than all the other victories. To him football was a team game and we were all team players." Maegle was the player tackled in a famous episode in the 1954 Cotton Bowl, when frustrated Tommy Lewis of Alabama came off the bench to stop a certain touchdown. Rice won that game, 28-6.

Neely died at the age of 85 in 1983, but his landmark accomplishments in the 1930s at Clemson contributed significantly to Clemson's outstanding football tradition.

Above, Jess Neely talks with 1939 players Don Willis (#54), Red Pearson (#39), Bob Bailey (#42), and Dan Coleman (#65). That team was Clemson's first ever bowl team, defeating Boston College 6-3 in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, and the school's first top-20 team. Neely is still 12th in college football history in total victories among division I head coaches.

College Football Hall of Fame & Clemson Ring of Honor

Usually when someone leaves the spotlight, his accomplishments soon fade and gather dust in some far-off corner in the basement or attic. But not Banks McFadden.

Now in his 80s and living in retirement, Banks looks back with many fond memories and Clemson fans remember him as probably the greatest natural athlete ever to play for the Tigers.

Although he brought great pride to Clemson with his athletic ability, and later with his coaching, McFadden says, "working with the athletes and working for the people whom we had here at Clemson...it's been a tremendous life. It's something I'll never regret and I couldn't have asked for things to be better."

For some of you in the 'Pepsi Generation' who might not have read your Clemson athletic history too well, let us do a little refreshing on the one called "Bonnie Banks."

- Earned All-America honors in both basketball (1938-39) and football (1939) the same calendar year.
- Was voted the nation's most versatile athlete (1938-39).
- Led Clemson to its first conference basketball championship (1939).
- Led Clemson to its first bowl game and victory (1940 Cotton).
- Won three events in the State Track Meet in one afternoon, setting records in all three of them. Earlier in the same year placed first in five events in a dual meet, scoring 25 points while the opposing team's total score was 28 points.
- Was Clemson's first 1st round draft choice (1939 Brooklyn Dodgers).
- Tied for the longest rushing play in Clemson history (90 yards vs. Presbyterian, 1939).
- Has the most punts for over 50 yards in a game (six vs. Tulane, 1939) and in a season (22 on 65 punts in 1939).
- Held Clemson punting record (43.5) for 40 years (1939 to 1979).
- First Clemson player invited to participate in the College All-Star game in Chicago.
- Charter member in the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and Clemson Ring of Honor.
- Charter member in the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame.
- First Clemson player ever chosen for the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.
- Highest NFL draft pick in Clemson history (#4 in entire 1940 draft).

That's 14 of his more noteworthy accomplishments, and it would not take too long to dig out twice that many more. But those listed should be more than enough for the average sports enthusiast to be impressed.

Banks played one year (1940) of pro football with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and led the NFL in yards per carry, but he didn't care at all for the big city life. Grass felt better under his feet than pavement so he returned 'home' and joined the coaching staff of Coach Frank Howard.

Banks coached the defensive backs for one year (1941) before joining the Army Air Corps and spending four years in North Africa and Italy. He was discharged as a colonel. He recalls that "after the war, everything began to blossom out" as far as college football was concerned.

One thing that 'blossomed out' was his marriage to "Aggie" Rigsby of Manning. As it appears sometimes with former athletes, former backs produce girls and he and "Aggie" had four of them - Patsy, Lil, Marcia, and Jan. And the grand kids - there are nine of them - five boys and four girls. The McFaddens were married more than 50 years before she passed away in 2001.

McFadden came back to Clemson after his service and was again the secondary coach, this time for four seasons (1946-49), and then took over as head freshman football coach for five years before returning to coach defensive backs in 1955, a spot he held until Howard retired following the '69 season.

Besides his football coaching years, McFadden also put in a stint as varsity track coach, freshman basketball coach and was for 10 years the varsity basketball coach. Then after Howard resigned as football coach in 1969, McFadden took over the university's intramural department, which he directed for 15 years.

Asked if he had any favorites, McFadden said: "Fred Cone was a very steady player. But I'm not so sure that Joel Wells wasn't the best all around football player that I had the opportunity to work with as a varsity coach. He was one of the best defensive players we had and a mighty fine offensive player. For somebody who could go both ways, Wells stood out.

"When I was in high school, colleges could do almost anything they wanted to as far as recruiting went," McFadden remembers. "Schools didn't have much (scholarship) money to give away, but they did go out and look at people and try to talk them into coming (to Clemson), paying their own way (or what is called a walk-on today.) But there wasn't very much recruiting until '35 or '36. But I believe there were 25 or 30 on my freshman team (1936) who were getting aid." (Note: The Clemson IPTAY Club was founded in 1934).

The Great Falls, SC native came to Clemson in a 6-3 frame and a skinny 165 pounds. Howard, an assistant coach at the time, said that if McFadden drank a can of tomato juice, they could have used him as a thermometer.

"I can remember the first time I saw him on the practice field," Howard recalled. "He looked like one of those whooping cranes. I thought sure as the devil that Coach Neely had made a mistake by giving this boy a scholarship. But he proved me wrong."

Clemson had required military when McFadden was playing, but he believes that was a plus. "We were so much a team then, and that is still there. But now the rules allow two different teams (offense and defense) and it causes so much more work. Our people were so close, as are the alumni of Clemson. Our team was just like the student body was then - a very close-knit bunch of people."

McFadden believes he, "came to Clemson at the right time. I was blessed to have some athletic ability," he recalled. "We had great coaches, had great individuals playing (with me), but we were all playing as a team."

Of all of the honors he received as an athlete, being voted the most valuable player of the 1939 football team was his highest. "To me, when your teammates vote you something," he beams, "then you feel pretty good. That award meant more than anything else (to me)."

This is one athlete where a one-page story in a football guide does not do that person justice...just about enough room for the tip of the iceberg. But if one could use just one word to describe 'Great' (as Howard called him), it would have to be 'competitor,' for he was just that.

McFadden is the only Clemson athlete to have both his football jersey and basketball jersey numbers retired. In 1995, the Banks McFadden Building at Jervy Athletic Center was dedicated in his honor.

There hasn't been another like him down the pike.

Banks McFadden was an All-American in both football and basketball at Clemson.

College Football Hall of Fame & Clemson Ring of Honor

An era at Clemson University ended June 30, 1974, when Frank Howard officially retired from the payroll.

Another era ended January 28, 1996, when Howard died at the age of 86 and forever silenced a voice that had been synonymous with Clemson for nearly 65 years. He was the school's best known ambassador.

Although he retired from all official duties in 1974, he never quit coming to the office and he never stopped representing Clemson in a manner which continued to win friends for the place that was so dear to his heart.

Howard retired from coaching December 10, 1969, after 39 years on the Clemson coaching staff, 30 of which were as head coach. He was also athletic director during this time and he kept this position until February 4, 1971, when he was named assistant to the vice president at the university, the post he held when the mandatory retirement age of 65 rolled around.

Shortly after his retirement the Clemson Board of Trustees named the playing surface of Memorial Stadium as "Frank Howard Field" in honor of his long service to the university. It was only the third time that a building or installation had been named by the trustees for a living person. Over the years, Howard was inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and the Clemson Hall of Fame (charter member in both), as well as the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame and the State of Alabama Hall of Fame. On December 5, 1989 he joined an elite group in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. The ceremonies took place in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He joined former Clemson mentors John Heisman and Jess Neely in the membership.

Howard was also honored in December, 1981, when he was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor, along with former Alabama coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, and Tommy McDonald, a former Oklahoma star. In the summer of 1990 he was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame.

Howard stepped onto the rolling hills of Clemson in 1931 fresh from the varsity football ranks at the University of Alabama where he was a first stringer on Wallace Wade's 1930 team that drubbed Washington State, 24-0, in the 1931 Rose Bowl. Howard was known as the "Little Giant" of the Tide's "Herd of Red Elephants."

The bald veteran came to his first coaching post under Jess Neely as a line tutor. "At least that was my title," Howard recalls. "Actually, I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts and operated the canteen while the regular man was out to lunch." Howard was not only track coach from 1931-39, but served as baseball coach in 1943 and his 12-

3 record that year is still among the best percentages for a season in Clemson history.

Howard held the line coaching post until Neely went to Rice University as head coach in 1940. When the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a successor to Neely, Professor Sam Rhodes, a council member, nominated Howard to be the new head coach. Howard, standing in the back of the room listening to the discussion, said: "I second the nomination." He got the job and never left. When he retired as head coach following the 1969 season, he was the nation's dean of coaches, having been a head football coach at a major institution longer than anyone else in the United States. When he retired, he was one of five active coaches with 150 or more victories.

While line coach in 1939, the Tigers' record (8-1) was good enough to merit a trip to Dallas where Clemson met undefeated Boston College under the late Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The 1948 mark of 10-0 carried Clemson to the 1949 Gator Bowl and two years later, a 9-0-1 record sent the Tigers to Miami's Orange Bowl (1950). The Country Gentlemen were champions on their first three bowl ventures. Boston College fell, 6-3, Missouri was nipped in the Gator, 24-23 (Howard said this is the best football game he ever witnessed), and Miami felt the Tiger claws, 15-14. The total point spread in these three bowl wins was five points.

The Gator Bowl beckoned the Tigers again in January, 1952, and by being conference champions in 1956, Clemson played in the '57 Orange Bowl classic again. Miami downed Clemson, 14-0 in the second Gator Bowl trip and Colorado led Clemson, 20-0, then trailed 21-20, before finally defeating the Tigers, 27-21, in the second Orange Bowl. The Tigers then played in the 1959 Sugar Bowl and held top-ranked Louisiana State to a standstill before losing, 7-0.

The invitation to play in the first Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, TX in December, 1959 was the eighth bowl that Howard had been a part of either as a player, assistant, or head coach. It was the seventh bowl trip for a Tiger team and the sixth in a span of 12 years. Howard said that Clemson's 23-7

Frank Howard, who won 165 games at Clemson, brought one of the greatest traditions in college football to Tigertown. Tiger players touch Howard's Rock and run down the Hill before every home game at Death Valley.

Frank Howard

triumph over #7 Texas Christian in the Bluebonnet Bowl was the best performance he had ever witnessed by a Clemson team. Clemson was the first school to play in two bowls in the same calendar year.

The Tigers' victory over Texas Christian was their fourth success in seven post-season appearances. In all seven Clemson was the established underdog.

Howard served on the coaching staff of the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL, in 1941, 1952, 1959, and 1966; was on the East staff of the annual East-West Game in San Francisco, CA, in December, 1960, and again in December, 1962; and was named coach of the South squad in Miami's 1961 and 1969 North-South game. He coached in the 1970 Hula Bowl, which was his ninth postseason all-star game. While still in active coaching Howard served as one of the rules committee members for a period of three years.

A single wing expert for 22 seasons (including nine as a line coach), Howard changed to the T-formation and its many variations in 1953. Still another major change in the offense was installed in 1965 with the "I" and pro-type set. In his 13 seasons as head coach using the single wing, Clemson won 69, lost 47 and tied 7. In 12 years of "T" teams, the Tigers won 71, lost 47 and tied 4. While using the "I" in his last five years of coaching, Clemson recorded a 25-24-1 record.

In his 30 years of coaching, Howard won 165 games, lost 118 games and tied 12. That victory total is still among the top 40 coaches in the history of the game.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program, Howard also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program, and at the same time raising all the required scholarship funds. The Clemson athletic department was always on a sound financial footing under the guidance of Howard.

The year 1958 was a red-letter one for Howard. During halftime of the Spring Game, Howard, his staff, and secretaries were given an appreciation day. Howard received a 1958 car while other staff members were presented gifts. That summer, Howard and three members of his staff were given a trip to Europe by the United State Department of Defense to conduct clinics for the Armed Forces in Germany.

Then came the football season and the Tigers presented Howard with an 8-2 season, which led to the Sugar Bowl invitation. One of these 1958 wins was the 100th of Howard's head coaching career. That came against the late Jim Tatum of North Carolina, a coach Howard had never beaten. And, the Tigers had to come from behind three times to win, 26-21.

Howard was named Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1948. In 1959 he was named Atlantic Coast Conference Coach-of-the-Year and was accorded the honor again in 1966. His teams won ACC championships six times (1956-58-59-65-66-67) in the first 15 years of the conference. The Tigers were co-champions in 1965. He guided Clemson to the Southern Conference crown in 1940 and 1948.

Howard was born at Barlow Bend, AL (three wagon greasin's from Mobile), March 25, 1909. He spent his early days on the farm playing mostly cow pasture baseball because there were not enough boys around the community for a football team. Howard says he left Barlow Bend walking barefoot on a barbed wire fence with a wildcat under each arm.

He graduated from Murphy High School in Mobile where he played football, baseball and basketball and served as president of both the junior and senior classes.

After finishing at Murphy, Howard entered the University of Alabama on an academic scholarship provided by the Birmingham News in the fall of 1927, and the 185 pounder played reserve guard his sophomore year. During his junior year he started every game but two, as an ankle injury sidelined him for the two games he missed. Again his senior year he was a regular.

Howard was president of the freshman class at Alabama, was member of Blue Key and president of the "A" Club.

After coming to Clemson, Howard married the former Anna Tribble of Anderson, SC, (who died May 15, 1996) on August 23, 1933. They were the parents of a daughter, Alice (Mrs. Robert McClure of Gastonia, NC) and a son, Jimmy, of Pendleton. The Howards had three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Jimmy followed in his dad's footsteps as a football player, only at a different position. The son was regular fullback on the local high school (Daniel High) team for three years and was a halfback-fullback for three years on the Clemson varsity squad. Jimmy gained over 1,400 yards his senior season in high school and scored over 100 points. He graduated from Clemson in June, 1964 with honors, and earned his masters degree in horticulture from Clemson in 1967. He retired as district entomologist with the Plant Pest Regulatory Service at Clemson.

For over three decades Howard was in great demand both as a banquet speaker and a clinic lecturer. Few states have escaped his homespun oratory, which brought the house down on many occasions.

After his retirement, Howard was active in other endeavors. He served as state chairman of the South Carolina Heart Fund drive, was roasted several times on behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and was active in selling the Kickoff Publication out of Knoxville, TN.

Howard kept his hands in football as he served as the chief recruiter for the Gray squad in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL. The Blue squad recruiter was Don Faurot, who opposed Howard in the 1949 Gator Bowl.

Howard has also been inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame in San Francisco, CA, is an honorary member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and is a member of the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. Clemson University also honored Howard once more with the presentation of the Clemson Medallion, which is the highest public honor bestowed by the Clemson University to a living person who exemplifies the dedication and foresight of its founders. Howard was a charter member of Clemson's Ring of Honor at Memorial Stadium in 1994 as well.

Clemson Ring of Honor Member

Fred Cone is living proof that recruiting services and all their accompanying hype aren't what they are cracked up to be. Cone was inducted into Clemson's Football Ring of Honor in the Fall of 1997, just the fourth Clemson football player in history to receive the honor.

But, he came to Clemson without having played a down of high school football. It is perhaps the most unusual story concerning an athlete's journey to Clemson. Cone was visiting his sister at Biloxi, MS, far from the haunts of his hometown, an obscure place called Pineapple, AL.

Unbeknown to Clemson Head Coach Frank Howard, Cone's sister lived next door to Howard's sister, Hazel, in Biloxi. On years when Clemson would play Tulane in New Orleans, Howard would send Hazel a pair of tickets. "One year she sent the two tickets back," Howard remembered, "and said she'd like to have four tickets because she wanted to take the next-door neighbor to the game."

That was in 1946, Cone's senior year in high school. After Cone graduated, Hazel wrote him a letter. "Brother, I have you a good football player, but he's never played football."

Howard recalled that he had told the Clemson registrar to save him 40 beds in the barracks and that Howard would turn in that many names on September 1.

"When Hazel wrote me about Fred Cone, I had 39 names on that list. So I just wrote 'Fred Cone' in as the 40th name. And that's how I got probably the best, if not the best, football player I ever had."

Cone graduated from Moore Academy in Pineapple and came to Clemson in 1947 as a freshman, but first-year players were not eligible to play then. It was probably best for Cone because he had not played high school football. He needed a year to get acclimated. When Cone became eligible for the varsity in '48, the football program took on a different air.

In the second game of his career, against N.C. State, Cone had the first of his eight 100-yard career rushing games, leading Clemson to an important victory. He was Clemson's top rusher (635 yards and seven TDs) that season, a regular season that saw Clemson compile a perfect 10-0 record and an invitation to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, FL against the Missouri Tigers.

Clemson ended up on the long end of a 24-23 game. Cone rushed for 72 yards and scored twice in the first quarter, but it was his effort on a fourth-down play that was the difference in the game.

Clemson held a one-point lead and faced a fourth-and-three at the Mizzou 45. It was either gamble for a first down, or punt and give Missouri another chance to score. As Howard would say later: "We hadn't stopped them all day so I took my chance with a running play."

Cone hit a stone wall at left tackle, but kept digging and slid off a little more to the outside, found a little wiggling room and mustered six yards and a first down at the Missouri 35. Clemson retained possession those few remaining minutes and ran out the clock. Years later Howard said it was the most memorable play of his 30-year career.

Despite a down year in '49, Cone gained more yards (703) rushing and scored more touchdowns (9) than his sophomore year. But, 1950 was to bring about another, undefeated season.

After the expected win over Presbyterian to start the season, Clemson faced preseason No. 17 Missouri on the road. Cone gained 111 yards in 21 attempts, one of three Tigers over the 100-yard mark that day.

Fred Cone sparked Clemson to a pair of undefeated seasons (1948,50).

Cone's Accomplishments

- Inducted into Clemson Ring of Honor, 1997
- First Clemson player to rush for at least 2,000 yards in a career
- Third ranked touchdown scorer in Clemson history
- The 27th overall selection of the 1951 NFL draft by the Green Bay Packers
- Member of Green Bay Packers Hall of Fame
- Member of Clemson Hall of Fame
- Named to Clemson Centennial Team, 1996
- Led NFL in field goals (16), 1955
- Recipient of Teague Award as the top Amateur Athlete of the Carolinas, 1950
- Starter on two Clemson Undefeated teams, one of two players in Clemson history to do that
- First-Team All-Southern, 1950

In '50, Clemson scored 50 points in three games, but Cone saved his best until his last regular season game against Auburn.

Rumor had it that if Clemson scored over a certain number of points on Auburn that the Orange Bowl bid was in its pocket. The South Carolina Tigers took the Alabama Tigers, 41-0. Cone gained 163 yards, two shy of a five-yard average, and scored three touchdowns on the ground, and one on a 28-yard reception.

Icing on the cake this time came against Miami in the Orange Bowl. Although Sterling Smith's tackle of Frank Smith in the end zone for a safety brought a 15-14 victory Clemson's way, Cone gained 81 yards on the ground, scored once, punted four times and returned one kickoff. It put a great climax on Cone's career.

The 1948-50 era is the only time in Clemson history that has seen the Tiger football program record two undefeated seasons in a three-year period. Cone and Ray Mathews were the only common denominators in the starting lineup on those two teams.

Cone's senior season numbers, 845 yards rushing and 15 touchdowns, were school records at the time. He also set career records for rushing yards (2,183) and touchdowns (31).

A seven-year hitch with the Packers was so impressive that he was inducted into their Hall of Fame in 1974. One year he led the NFL in field goals. He was also a member of the Dallas Cowboys in their first year of existence in 1960. Later he returned to Clemson as its chief recruiter for 10 years beginning in 1961.

After Cone completed his Clemson career, Howard was still stumped as to how his sister could predict that her neighbor's brother would be such an outstanding football player. "He just looked so athletic jumping off of that diving board," Hazel said without skipping a beat.

Clemson Ring of Honor Member

Every once in awhile a truly well-rounded individual comes along.

Steve Fuller was a scholar, an athlete, and a fine representative of his community. That combination made him one of the most decorated athletes in Clemson history and the reason he was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994. He was also the first Clemson football player in history to have his jersey number (#4) retired.

Fuller, a native of nearby Spartanburg, South Carolina, graduated high school with a perfect 4.0 grade point average in a class of more than 800, crowning him class valedictorian. He had offers to play professional baseball out of high school and had basketball scholarship offers from Division I schools as well.

Right away Fuller produced a preview of what Clemson fans should expect from him over the course of the next four seasons. He was named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week in his first collegiate game, gaining 194 yards of total offense against the Tulane Green Wave. During his sophomore season, Fuller gained further recognition by being named ACC Back-of-the-Week after the Tennessee game. He was also named to the All-ACC Academic Team in 1976.

Fuller demonstrated exceptional leadership during his junior and senior years, both on and off the field. Highlights on the field include leading the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for both years and being selected twice as the ACC Player-of-the-Year, the only two-time selection in Clemson history.

Equally impressive were the team accomplishments, as Fuller quarterbacked Clemson to two consecutive Gator Bowls, Clemson's first bowl appearances in 18 seasons. In 1978 Clemson posted an 11-1 record and ranked sixth in the final AP poll, then the highest final national ranking in Clemson history.

Fuller earned the Gator Bowl Most Valuable Player Award during his senior season (1978). He was the South Carolina Amateur Athlete-of-the-Year during his junior season. The Atlanta Touchdown Club named Fuller the Back-of-the-Year in the South in 1978, and he was also named the South Carolina Player-of-the-Year during his junior and senior seasons.

At the conclusion of his senior season he was also an AP third-team All-American. Another great athletic feat for Steve Fuller included finishing sixth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, the highest finish for a Clemson athlete in history. Likewise, he set several Clemson records. It's no wonder he was a first round draft pick (23rd selection) by the Kansas City Chiefs.

He played 10 years in the National Football League and won a Super Bowl Championship ring with the Chicago Bears in 1985.

Off the field, Fuller illustrated his joint dedication to academics and community service. He was named to the All-ACC Academic Team for three years and twice named an Academic All-American, including a first-team selection during his senior season.

Fuller is one of just three football players in Clemson history to be named an on-field All-American

Fuller's Accomplishments

- Clemson Ring of Honor
- State of South Carolina Hall of Fame
- Clemson Hall of Fame
- ACC's Jim Weaver Award
- NCAA Top-Five Award
- ACC Player-of-the-Year, 1977-78
- All-ACC, 1977-78
- Atlanta Touchdown Club Back-of-the-Year, 1977
- Frank Howard Award, 1977-78
- Clemson Athlete of the Year, 1978-79
- NCAA Post Graduate Scholar, 1979
- National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete, 1979
- Clemson Team MVP, 1977-78
- Academic All-ACC, 1976-77-78
- AP All-American (Third-team), 1978
- Academic All-American (Second-team), 1977
- Academic All-American (First-team), 1978
- NFL First Round Draft Choice, 1978
- Super Bowl Champion with Chicago in 1985
- Ranked #5 Greatest Clemson Player of 20th Century
- Named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002

and Academic All-American in the same season. He majored in history (pre-law), which was not an easy route to take, and maintained a 3.93 grade point average. Fuller's constant push for excellence earned him an NCAA postgraduate scholarship, the Jim Weaver Award from the ACC, and one of the NCAA's Top Five Awards. Fuller delivered the acceptance response for himself and the four other winners.

Fuller was also presented with the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Award, a double that only Kyle Young has accomplished since. His extracurricular activities included being a member of the Blue Key, Mortor Board, Tiger Brotherhood, Block "C" Club, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Steve Fuller's honors may have collected dust once he left Clemson, but his fame did not. In 1979, he became the first football player and the second athlete in Clemson history to have his jersey (#4) retired. He also became a member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame. In September, 1994, Fuller was inducted into Clemson's Ring of Honor along with legendary coach Frank Howard and all-purpose back Banks McFadden.

Now, Clemson has bestowed another honor upon the former Tiger quarterback great. On April 6, 1996, the Clemson Centennial Team was announced and Fuller was the starting quarterback for this team. In 2002 he was named one of the 50 greatest players of the ACC's first 50 years.

He left behind a legacy that few can dare to touch. No doubt, Steve Fuller remains one of the greatest student-athletes in Clemson history, regardless of sport.

Steve Fuller became the first football player in Clemson history to have his jersey retired. He was also inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994.

Clemson Ring of Honor Member

Even though Clemson's football heritage is over 100 years old, it does not take long to determine the most significant accomplishment in the program's history - the 1981 National Championship. And, along the same lines, it does not take long to single out the most significant team leader of that great accomplishment - Jeff Davis.

When examining Davis' contributions to Clemson athletics in terms of leadership, citizenship, and athletic records and awards, it is no surprise that he became just the fourth member of Clemson's prestigious Ring of Honor prior to the opener of the 1995 season.

The native of Greensboro, NC registered a then Clemson record 175 tackles in leading the Tigers' 1981 defense that set a school record for turnovers forced (41) in a single season. He still holds the Clemson career record for caused fumbles (10) and recovered fumbles (8), and his 24 tackles against North Carolina in 1980 rank second in school history.

He played 40 games for Clemson between 1978-81 and had 469 career tackles, 16 passes broken up, 18 tackles for loss, four sacks and four interceptions. He started all 35 games for the Tigers between 1979-81. He was a model of consistency, having registered at least double figures in tackles in 22 of his last 23 games. Overall, he had 30 double figure tackle games in his 40-game career and led the Clemson team in tackles 25 times. In 2004, he was on the national ballot for induction into the College Football Hall of Fame.

"It is hard to express my feelings on being inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor," said Davis. "This honor should be spread among my coaches and teammates and all of Clemson who had an impact on my life during my career. No one receives an honor like this without help. I want to thank the good Lord for giving me the ability and the opportunity to come to Clemson."

For his accomplishments in 1981, Davis was named the MVP of the ACC, just the third defensive player in league history to win the award. He concluded the season in grand style with a 14-tackle performance in the 22-15 Orange Bowl win over Nebraska that clinched the National Championship for the Tigers, Clemson's first national championship in any sport. Davis was named the Defensive MVP of the contest.

At the conclusion of the season, Davis was named a first-team All-American by United Press, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football News. He was named the Lineman-of-the-Year by the Atlanta Touchdown Club.

"We had purpose. We took everything one game at a time and did not get caught up in the chase for the National Championship. When we started the season, the championship was not a (realistic) goal. We were coming off a 6-5 season in 1980 in which we all thought we could have done much better."

After clinching the ACC title with a win over Maryland and the state championship with a convincing victory against South Carolina in Columbia, Davis and his Tiger teammates prepared to meet #4 Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl, a game that would determine the National Championship.

"We just knew we were going to win that night," reflects Davis, who was nicknamed "The Judge" by then Assistant Sports Information Director Kim Kelly. "I think the first possession of the game was the key because they fumbled and William Devane recovered the ball. That led to a score and that was something we had been doing all year, forcing turnovers and taking over the game. That just told us that this game was not going to be any different than any of the others."

Perry Tuttle, Davis' roommate for four seasons and also an All-American on Clemson's 1981 National Championship team, recalls that season and Davis' passion for the game. "When we were in the room at night he would talk about the defense and what it was going to do until I fell asleep," remembers Tuttle. "As the season went on we just started dreaming about what could happen with this team and as we went along everything started to come true."

Jeff Davis became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the game against Western Carolina in 1995. He was known as "The Judge" during his All-America senior season (1981).

Davis' Accomplishments

- First-Team All-American by UPI, Football Coaches, Football Writers, Football News, Walter Camp, 1981
- First linebacker in Clemson history to be named consensus first-team All-American
- Atlantic Coast Conference Player-of-the-Year, 1981
- Captain of Clemson National Championship team, 1981
- First-team All-ACC, 1981
- Inducted into South Carolina Hall of Fame in 2001
- Played in East-West Shrine Bowl and Japan Bowl, 1981
- Had 30 career double-figure tackle games
- Led Clemson in tackles in 25 different games between 1979-81
- Set Clemson single game tackle record with 24 against North Carolina, 1980
- #3 in Clemson history in career tackles (469)
- Named to Clemson's Centennial Team in 1996
- Named one of Clemson's Top-Five players of the 20th century
- Named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002
- Received "Use Your Life Award" from Oprah Winfrey's Angel Network in 2001

Davis was a fifth-round draft pick of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1982, but proved the NFL scouts wrong by posting impressive numbers during his six-year NFL career. The inside linebacker played in 83 games, 72 as a starter between 1982-87. He led the Buccaneers in tackles in three of the six years, including a career-high 165 stops in 1984. Davis served as the team captain for four seasons as well.

Davis has been just as successful in life after football. In the Spring of 1999 he returned to Clemson as field director of the Call Me Mister Program within the Department of Education, Health and Human Development. In April of 2001, he received the "Use Your Life Award" from Oprah Winfrey's Angel Network for his work in the Call Me Mister Program. He and his wife Joni graduated from Clemson on the same day in 1984 and they are the parents of four daughters and twin boys, who were born in June of 1995.

Today, Davis works at Clemson in a dual role. He still represents the Call Me Mister program as a spokesman, and also works in the athletic department as an assistant athletic director in fundraising. He will have a key role in raising the funds for the West Endzone Project.

"One of my main goals in life is to touch the lives of other people and touch them in a positive way. Any time you receive an award like this it means you've been surrounded by great people. I want to thank all the people at Clemson, because no one receives an honor like this without help. I am proud to say I am a Clemson graduate and that I represented the University. Hopefully, I have had as positive an impact on them as they have had on me."

Jerry Butler

Clemson Ring of Honor Member

Coaches from all over the ACC area gathered for the North-South All-Star game in Columbia, SC in late July of 1975. The game, which is now played at Myrtle Beach in December, was the final high school event of the year and a final showcase for soon-to-be first-year freshmen.

Ninety percent of the participants were highly recruited signees from the previous February who were ready to join Division I schools from all over the Southeast. But, at one juncture of the game a wide receiver who had not signed a football scholarship with any school took over the game.

Jimmy Kiser, a future ACC assistant football coach, threw a pass over the middle to a wide receiver named Jerry Butler of Ware Shoals High School. Butler turned on the speed and raced untouched 70 yards for a score. The college coaches, who were not familiar with the track star, took notice and collectively asked, "Who is that guy?"

That included the Clemson coaches. Much to their glee, they discovered by the end of the evening, that Jerry Odel Butler was in fact coming to Clemson....on a track scholarship.

Butler went on to star at Clemson, earning first-team AP All-America honors, and leading Clemson to uncharted team accomplishments. In 1999, Butler became the sixth member of the Clemson Football Ring of Honor, the highest honor accorded a Tiger gridder. He was named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in the fall of 2002.

Whatever the means of his sojourn to Clemson, the school has certainly been a better place because of Butler's attendance. A diligent student who earned his degree in 1980, Butler is a standard for wide receivers and Clemson players regardless of position.

Statistically, Butler's accomplishments are countless. He was a model of consistency, as shown by his 36-game streak of making at least one reception, a streak he set between 1976-78, a record that is still in tact today. He concluded his career with 139 receptions for 2,223 yards and 11 touchdowns, a 16-yards per catch rate. All those figures are still in the top five in Clemson history. Butler set the Clemson single game reception yardage record with 163 against Georgia Tech in 1977. His 58 catches in 1978 stood as a record until 1997.

The honors certainly followed, especially after his senior year. Butler appeared on the Bob Hope Christmas Special in 1978 thanks to his selection to the Associated Press All-America team, the only first-team AP All-America receiver in Clemson history.

While Clemson fans will always remember his considerable statistics and honors, one play stands out. At South Carolina in 1977, Clemson trailed the Gamecocks 27-24 in the final minutes. The Tigers needed a victory to clinch a Gator Bowl berth, a selection that would be Clemson's first bowl invitation since 1959.

Steve Fuller, also a member of Clemson's Football Ring of Honor, quarterbacked Clemson to the South Carolina 20 yard-line. With just 49 seconds left, Fuller lofted a ball to the right corner of the endzone toward Butler. Using every ounce of his exceptional athletic ability, Butler made a leaping backwards diving reception, giving Clemson a 31-27 victory.

That season, that game, that catch, launched the Clemson program on a 20-year run that saw Clemson return to the national rankings, bowl selections, ACC Championships and a National Championship. Many Tiger supporters wonder how fate would have dealt the Clemson program had Butler not made that catch.

Given these heroics at Clemson, Butler was taken as the #5 selection of the entire 1979 NFL draft by the Buffalo Bills franchise. That is still the second highest draft choice by a Clemson football player in history, only a #4 selection of former Tiger great Banks McFadden in 1939 is higher.

Unlike his first season at Clemson, Butler did not sneak up on anyone. He had dreamed of playing in the NFL and wasted little time, signing a pro contract just six days after the draft, the first first-round draft pick to sign that year.

Butler made Buffalo's front office look smart, as he set NFL rookie records for touchdown receptions (4) and reception yardage (255) in a 1979 contest against the New York Jets. "That was the best single game performance I've ever seen from a wide receiver," said NBC broadcaster and former NFL quarterback John Brodie. "I played the game for 16 years, but I've never seen anything like that."

Butler ended his rookie year with 48 receptions for 834 yards and four scores and was named the AFC Rookie of the Year by the The Sporting News. The following year he increased his reception total to 57 for 832 yards and was named

Butler's Accomplishments

- Clemson Ring of Honor, 1999
- State of South Carolina Hall of Fame
- First-team All-ACC, 1977,78
- Set Clemson record for consecutive games catching a pass (36)
- First-team AP All-American, 1978
- Was 10th in the nation in receptions in 1978
- Co-recipient of 1979 Frank Howard Award
- Drafted #5 in 1979 NFL draft, highest selection by a Tiger since 1939
- Set Tiger record for reception yards in a game (163)
- Still ranks in the top five in Clemson history in career receptions and reception yardage
- Inducted into Clemson Hall of Fame in 1986
- Ranked as the fourth-greatest Clemson Football Player-of-the-20th-Century by panel of experts
- Named to Clemson's Centennial Team in 1996
- Named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002

to the Pro Bowl. By the end of his nine-year career with Buffalo, Butler had 278 catches for 4,301 yards and 29 touchdowns. He missed two seasons due to knee injuries, 32 games that certainly could have enhanced his career numbers.

After his years at Clemson, Butler took community service to another level at the professional level. In 1981 and 1982 he was named the Bills NFL Man of the Year. He was one of five finalists for the award nationally in 1981. In 1983 he was honored with the "Jackie Robinson Award" for community service by the YMCA of Greater Buffalo. In 1986 he was a finalist for the Byron "Whizzer" White Award for outstanding community service from the NFL Players Association.

In 1987 he received the "Salute to Young Leaders Award" from the YMCA of Greater Buffalo Area. Two years after he retired, he was honored with the Ralph C. Wilson Distinguished Service Award.

Upon completion of his football career in 1987, Butler became Director of Player/Alumni Relations for the Buffalo Bills' organization, a position he held until 1999 when he became assistant coach with the Cleveland Browns. He is currently working in the front office for the Browns.

Jerry Butler's catch to beat South Carolina in 1977 is one of the legendary plays in Clemson football history.

College Football Hall of Fame & Clemson Ring of Honor

Terry Kinard is the most decorated football player in Clemson history. Those honors grew in 2001 when he is inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame and the Clemson Ring of Honor.

Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December of 2001 at the annual National Football Foundation ceremonies in New York City. He was also honored at the College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, IN in August of 2002.

Kinard, who played for the Tigers from 1978-82 and was named National Defensive Player-of-the-Year by CBS Sports as a senior, was just the second Clemson player in history to be honored by the College Football Hall of Fame, the first since Banks McFadden in 1959.

Ironically, Kinard burst on the national scene in South Bend against Notre Dame in 1979. Starting as a freshman, Kinard had two fourth-quarter interceptions and seven tackles overall to lead Clemson to a 16-10 victory over the Irish. Twenty-two years later, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, which is located just two miles from Notre Dame Stadium.

"This is a dream come true," stated Kinard. "It is something you don't expect, but when it does happen you are thrilled. It is a great honor when you consider that only one other Clemson player has been named to the Hall of Fame. To be alongside a legend like Banks McFadden means a great deal to me."

"Clemson gave me the opportunity. I was very fortunate, I could not have picked a better place to go to school. I played with a lot of great players at Clemson, especially guys on our defense like Jeff Davis, Jeff Bryant and many others. I certainly could not have made it to the Hall of Fame without the great players we had at Clemson at that time."

"I also have to thank Coach (Danny) Ford and the other coaches. I especially have to thank Coach Willie Anderson, who recruited me. Years later he gave me the opportunity to go to Oklahoma and serve on his (high school) coaching staff. He impressed upon me the importance of finishing my degree, which I did (from Langston University in Oklahoma). It has made a world of difference. I am sure it made a difference in me getting into the Hall of Fame. He cared about me many years after I left Clemson and it says a lot about him and the people at Clemson."

A native of Sumter, SC, Kinard was a first-team Associated Press All-American in 1981 and 1982, the only two-time first-team AP All-American in school history. He was in fact a unanimous selection in 1982, the only unanimous first-team All-American in Clemson history.

Kinard recorded 17 interceptions during his Clemson career, still the high mark in school history and second in ACC history. He ranked in the top 15 in the nation in interceptions in 1981 and 1982 and was a major reason Clemson had a combined record of 21-1-1 over those two years. Clemson's defense ranked in the top 10 in the nation in scoring defense each year. He was Clemson's second leading tackler on the 1981 National Championship team

Kinard's Accomplishments

- Inducted into College Football Hall of Fame in December, 2001
- Still only unanimous first-team All-American in Clemson history (1982)
- Named National Defensive Player of the Year by CBS Sports in 1982
- Starting defensive back on USA Today's College Football team of the 1980s
- Named to All-Century team of college football by Sports Illustrated
- Two-time First-Team Associated Press All-American (1981 and 1982)
- Inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1992
- Named to Clemson Centennial Team in 1996
- Set Clemson record for tackles by a defensive back (294)
- Still holds Clemson record and ranks second in ACC history in interceptions (17)
- First-round Draft choice of the New York Giants, 10th overall selection
- Played 8 years in the NFL and was named to Pro Bowl in 1988
- Named to NFL All-Rookie team in 1983
- Starter for the 1986 World Champion New York Giants
- Inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 2001
- Named one of the 50 greatest male athletes in ACC history in 2003.
- Named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002

and led the 1982 squad that finished eighth in the final Associated Press poll.

At the conclusion of his Clemson career in 1982, Kinard was chosen in the first round of the NFL draft by the New York Giants, and was the 10th overall pick of the draft. He played seven years for the Giants, including in the team's 1986 Super Bowl Championship season. Kinard was named to the NFL All-Rookie team in 1983 and the Pro Bowl in 1988.

Since his retirement from football, Kinard was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Century team of college football. In 2000, he was named Clemson's top player of the 20th Century by CNNSI.com. He was also chosen to the USA Today All-Decade team for the 1980s. In 1996, he was named to Clemson's Centennial Team and received more votes than any other defensive player. In 2003, he was named one of the 50 greatest male athletes in ACC history and was named to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team.

"Terry Kinard was a dominating player because he was a great tackler who also could break on the ball and make the interception," said Danny Ford, who was Kinard's Head Coach his entire career at Clemson. "I haven't seen a player who could dominate a game from the secondary like he could. He covered a lot of ground, he made a coach feel secure about the secondary."

"He had the ability to be a dominant player from the time he was a freshman. You don't see a lot of freshmen safeties take over a game in Notre Dame Stadium, but he did that when we defeated Notre Dame in 1979."

"When you look at what Terry accomplished individually at Clemson and what Clemson did as a team during his career, you can see that he is most qualified to be in the College Football Hall of Fame."

Terry Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December, 2001, and the Clemson Ring of Honor in November, 2002.

Former Head Coaches

Walter Riggs 1896,99

Walter Riggs could easily be called the father of Clemson Football. He coached the football program at Clemson, not only because he had football experience, but he was also one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have ever seen a football game when the sport started in 1896. (The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on Clemson's first team in 1896).

On September 30, 1896, a small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and the group discussed the feasibility of organizing a football association. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

When the Tigers traveled to Furman for their first game on October 31, 1896, it was the first time that many of the players had ever seen a full-sized regulation football field.

Riggs stepped down as football coach after the first season because the players wanted him to devote all of his time to being a professor in the engineering department.

Riggs could easily be called a loyal man, as he answered the need of the Clemson football team again in 1899. The Clemson Athletic Association was low on money and could not afford to hire a coach. So Riggs once again answered the call of the school and became the coach in 1899 for free.

Riggs originally came to Clemson from Auburn. He graduated with top honors in 1892 with a B.S. degree in electrical and mechanical engineering. At Auburn, he was captain and catcher of the baseball team as well as the manager and left end of the football team. He also served as class president and was the director of the Glee Club.

Upon his graduation at Auburn, he was assistant to the president of the college until 1896, then he made his trek to Clemson.

Riggs later became president of Clemson on March 7, 1911 and in 1915, a new football stadium with other athletic facilities was named in his honor as Riggs Field. It is currently the home of the Tiger soccer team. In two years of coaching, Riggs guided the Tigers to a career record of 6-3.

W.M. Williams 1897

Clemson's second coach, W.M. Williams, was a native of West Point, GA. He played at Auburn on the teams of '94, '95, and '96, under the coaching of John Heisman. He was considered the best blocking halfback in the south.

Williams led Clemson to the state championship and to a 2-2 season. During his time as coach, Clemson played two games in three days. Clemson was victorious over the Charlotte Y on October 23, but lost to North Carolina 28-0, on October 25.

John Penton 1898

The Tigers' third coach, J.A. Penton of Alabama, was captain and starting guard on the University of Virginia teams of '93, '94, and '95. Penton also played fullback at Auburn in '97 under John Heisman's coaching. Under Penton, Clemson won 55-0 over Bingham in its first home game, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). In his only season at Clemson, Penton guided Clemson to a 3-1 record and the state championship.

John Heisman 1900-03

Probably one of the most famous football coaches in America, John Heisman, coached at Clemson from 1900 to 1903. Heisman turned Clemson from virtually an unknown college to a southern powerhouse at the turn of the century.

Heisman attended Brown University, taking the two-year law course offered at that time, and was a center on the football team. In the fall of 1889, he transferred to the University of Pennsylvania. He lettered in football at both schools and graduated from Pennsylvania in 1893.

In the spring of 1894, Walter Riggs was a graduate manager for the football team at Auburn. It fell on his shoulders to find a coach for the season of 1895. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams, the Pennsylvania captain of 1894, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to return to his old love. He readily went to coach at Auburn for $500 a year.

His coaching career began at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years. It included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington & Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

John Heisman invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, arguing that it would scatter the mob. Heisman also originated the center snap and the word hike (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman guided Clemson to its first "bowl game" in 1903, when Clemson and Cumberland met on November 26 for the championship of the South. Cumberland, who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, AL. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. After the news got back to Clemson that the game was a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

Overall, Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons. His .833 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach in 1901-1904.

Shack Shealy 1904

Shack Shealy holds the distinction of being the only Clemson player to have coached his alma mater. Shealy lettered at Clemson from 1896-99, and later played two years at Iowa State. Shealy was a four-year starter playing right guard, end, and in his senior year, he played in the backfield. Shealy only coached Clemson one year in 1904, and guided the Tigers to a 3-3-1 record overall, which included wins over Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee.

Eddie Cochems 1905

Ed Cochems lettered at the University of Wisconsin in 1899, 1900, and 1901. Cochems was described as a great halfback or end on the strong Wisconsin teams at the turn of the century, including the undefeated team of 1901. During his playing career, he had a 100-yard kickoff return in a 35-0 win over Chicago in 1901, and had four touchdowns in a game against Notre Dame in 1900. After his playing days, he immediately went into coaching. He was the head coach of North Dakota in 1902 and 1903 and served briefly as an assistant with former teammate, Art Curtis at Wisconsin in 1904.

Cochems led Clemson to a 3-2-1 record overall, including wins over Georgia and Auburn. After his Clemson career, he was head coach and athletic director at Saint Louis University in 1906. After the forward pass was legalized in 1906, Cochems did something with the pass at once in his first year at Saint Louis, while other coaches stuck with the running game. He taught his players not to throw the ball end-over-end, but instead like a projectile - a spiral. He called this new weapon a projectile pass.

In 1906, Saint Louis went undefeated rolling up 407 points while allowing its opponents only 11.

Historians credit Cochems as being the first coach to use and perfect the first legal pass in a game. The first studied refinements in throwing the ball, which led to the spiral, occurred in 1906 under Cochems. Brad Robinson of Saint Louis University threw the first forward pass to Jack Schneider in a game played September 5, 1906 in Waukensha against Carroll College.

Former Head Coaches

Bob Williams
1906,09,13-15

Bob Williams is probably the only coach in the country to have coached football at two schools that are involved in rivalry. Williams coached football at both Clemson and South Carolina. Before coming to Clemson, he coached at Davidson in 1905. He coached at South Carolina for two years and guided the Gamecocks to a 6-1 record in 1902 and an 8-2 slate in 1903.

During his career at South Carolina, he administered the most unexpected defeat of Clemson, as he beat a heavily favored Heisman team, 12-6 in 1902.

Williams served the Tigers as head coach a total of three terms (1906, 1909, and 1913-15). Between the years of 1915 and 1926, Williams practiced law in Roanoke, VA, and was the city's mayor.

One of the highlights of his career included leading the 1906 team to an unbeaten season (4-0-3), which included wins over Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee, and a Heisman-coached Georgia Tech squad.

Frank Shaughnessy
1907

Head Coach Frank Shaughnessy was known for his ability as an administrator in sports, as he served many positions, from a pro hockey coach to the commissioner of the International Baseball (Triple A)

League.

A graduate in law at Notre Dame, he was captain of the baseball and football teams his junior and senior seasons. After his graduation in 1905, he coached baseball at Notre Dame. The summer before coming to Clemson, he played for Ottawa of the Eastern League. That summer, he played left field and ended the season with a .352 batting average. He also played with Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics.

At Clemson he coached the baseball teams in 1907 and 1908, and was head football mentor in 1907, posting a 4-4 record.

During his lifetime, Shaughnessy made his name in baseball, but he took part in many other sports. Besides being a sports legend at Notre Dame, he managed the Ottawa Senators of a professional hockey league and coached football teams at Clemson, Washington and Lee and McGill University. He retired as the president of the International Baseball league.

During his playing days, in a game against Kansas, Shaughnessy ran 107 yards for the only Irish score, as Kansas won the game by a score of 24-5. Football fields were 110 yards back then and touchdowns were five points. This is still a Notre Dame record.

John Stone

John Stone is one of three coaches to have graduated from Vanderbilt and later become the head football coach at Clemson. While at Vanderbilt, he was a member of the All-Southern Football team for four years. He was a big man for his time, standing 6'2". Clemson was 1-6 in 1908, but the Tigers lost many of their star players and substitutes from 1907 due to a college prank that saw 306 students expelled from school.

Frank Dobson
1910-12

Frank Dobson was a professional baseball player before coming to Clemson as he was the property of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Walter Riggs, President of the Clemson Athletic Association, thought it was unfair to keep shuffling coaches year after year. Riggs offered Dobson a three-year contract, which was the first contract offered and signed by a Clemson coach.

At Clemson, he coached football, basketball and baseball. He was Clemson's first basketball coach, leading Clemson to its only undefeated season (4-0) in history in the inaugural season (1911-12). In 1912-13, Clemson finished the basketball season with a 9-5 record. He was head baseball coach in 1911-1913.

Wayne Hart

Wayne Hart coached Clemson in 1916 and led Clemson to a 3-6 finish. Under Hart, the Tigers defeated state rivals Furman and South Carolina.

Hart played three years at tackle for Georgetown. He also played one year at George Washington. He was a member of the All-South Atlantic team for four years. He was also an assistant coach at Georgetown. In 1913, he coached the Washington Vigilants, a professional football team, and did not lose a game. The last two seasons before arriving at Clemson, he coached various sports at Technical High School in Washington, D. C.

Edward Donahue

Edward Donahue had to be one of the most organized men in the country. During the 1918-19 school year, Donahue was head coach of four Clemson sports: football, basketball, baseball, and track.

During his four-year career at Clemson, he was basketball and baseball coach for two seasons, and head track coach for one season.

Donahue was an outstanding athlete at Washington & Lee, as he played in the backfield on the football team and played catcher on the diamond. Upon graduation, he was an assistant in football and was the head baseball and basketball coach.

E.J. Stewart
1921,22

E.J. Stewart was head football coach for two years at Clemson, 1921-22. However, he coached more than one sport during his stay at Tigertown. In the spring of 1921, Stewart coached the baseball and track teams while conducting spring football practice. In the fall, Stewart's football team went 1-6-2, but he improved to a 5-4 slate in 1922. He went on to coach the track teams in 1922 and 1923.

Stewart played football, baseball, basketball and ran track at Western Reserve University in Ohio. Upon his graduation, he played, organized and served as head coach in Ohio of the Massillon, Ohio Professional football team.

He also coached at Nebraska and the University of Texas. At Nebraska, he led the Cornhuskers to a combined record of 11-4 in 1916-1917. They also won the Missouri Valley Conference title both seasons. After leaving the University of Nebraska, he entered the automobile business as President and Treasurer of the Stewart Motor Co. Because of the economic conditions at the time, he decided to go back into coaching.

Bud Saunders
1923-26

Bud Saunders graduated from Missouri in 1911, with a bachelors degree in Law. At Missouri, he played football and basketball. He wanted to play two other sports, but a conference rule forb bid an athlete from participating in more than two sports.

Former Head Coaches

Saunders was football coach at Knox College before coming to Clemson. In football, Saunders coached for four seasons, 1923-1926. He also coached the basketball teams in 1924 and 1925. His best season in football came in 1923, as he led the Tigers to a 5-2-1 slate.

Josh Cody
1927-30

Josh Cody, fondly known as "big man," will always be a favorite to Clemson fans. Cody, a big man in stature at 6-2, 220 pounds, led Clemson to victories over South Carolina for four straight years. He is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than two years who never lost a football game to South Carolina. He also defeated Furman three straight years. Cody had a 13-0-1 record in home games and had a 72 percent winning mark overall, fourth best in Clemson history.

After a 5-3-1 start in 1927, Cody guided Clemson to back-to-back 8-3 seasons in 1928 and 1929. On May 6, 1929, to show appreciation, he was presented with a new Buick by the alumni, student body and faculty. This presentation took place in front of Tillman Hall.

In his final season (1930), the Tigers finished with a final record of 8-2. Cody also coached basketball at Clemson for five years and guided Clemson to a 16-9 slate in 1930. During the 1928-30 seasons, he guided Clemson to a 22-4 mark at home.

Jess Neely
1931-39

Clemson played in its first bowl game under Jess Neely in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The Tigers, unknown at the time, became a household word after beating heavily-favored Boston College 6-3 in the Cotton Bowl Classic. It was the Tigers' first win over a top-20 team in school history. Clemson had a 43-35-7 record during Neely's tenure.

Neely came to Clemson in 1931 and his recruitment of Banks McFadden brought Clemson to another level of competition. In 1938, Neely had Clemson at second place in the Southern Conference with a 7-1-1 record.

In 1939, Banks McFadden became Clemson's second All-American, and the team concluded the season with a trip to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. Neely left Clemson that spring and moved on to Rice, where he took that school to new heights. Neely is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Neely's landmark accomplishments in the 1930s at Clemson contributed significantly to Clemson's outstanding football tradition.

Frank Howard
1940-69

Frank Howard succeeded Jess Neely in 1940 when Neely moved on to Rice. He got the job when he seconded his own nomination during a meeting of the president and athletic council. Howard signed a one-year contract, then lost the document, and never had another in his 30 years as head coach.

Howard graduated from Alabama in 1931, where he was a star lineman. He played in the 1930 Rose Bowl, then started his coaching career under Neely at Clemson in 1931, and was a part of a rebirth of Clemson football in the late 1930s. He was an assistant coach on Clemson's 1939 team that posted a 9-1 mark and beat Boston College 6-3 in the Tigers' first bowl game.

In 1940, he began his head coaching career with a bang as he won the Southern Conference championship, the first of eight conference titles Howard won in his coaching career.

Howard had his most successful season in 1948 when he took Clemson to an 11-0 record, the Tigers' first perfect season since 1900. The campaign included a Southern Conference championship, a Gator Bowl win over Missouri, and a number-11 final ranking. He nearly duplicated the feat in 1950 when he guided Clemson to a number-10 AP final ranking, a 9-0-1 finish and a 15-14 win over Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl.

When he retired in 1969, Howard was the fifth winningest coach in the nation with 165 victories. He had 96 wins as an ACC coach, now second in conference history, and he captured six (five outright and one co-championship) ACC titles, a record Bobby Bowden broke in 1998. Howard's teams appeared in six bowl games, 63 of his players were drafted by the NFL, and 37 played in the league.

Howard, a native of Barlow Bend, AL, had six Top 20 seasons, won eight conference titles (two Southern and six ACC), won an even 100 conference games and was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He coached 25 academic All-ACC selections and five Academic All-Americans. Eleven of his players were chosen on-the-field All-Americans. Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

Hootie Ingram

Hootie Ingram will be best remembered as the coach who made the Tiger Paw famous. Before his first year as head coach in the summer of 1970, Clemson introduced the Tiger Paw as the official logo of Clemson University's Athletic teams.

Ingram graduated from the University of Alabama in 1955. He also received his master's in school administration from Alabama and later became Crimson Tide athletic director.

The native of Tuscaloosa, AL was an All-Southeastern Conference defensive back for the Crimson Tide his senior year.

Ingram had his best year at Clemson during the 1971 season, with a 5-6 overall record. He also finished second in the ACC with a 4-2 league mark in 1971.

Red Parker
1973-76

Red Parker coached at Clemson for four years. His 1974 team lived up to the theme "Excitement Galore, Clemson Football '74." It finished the season with a 7-4 record (6-0 at home), with wins over Georgia, Georgia Tech and South Carolina.

Before arriving at Clemson, Parker spent seven years at The Citadel from 1966-72. During that time, he guided the Bulldogs to a fine 8-3 finish in the 1971 season.

Parker earned a BA degree in Physical Education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. Prior to his graduation, he earned three letters each in football, basketball and track, as a running back-defensive back, second baseman-shortstop, and sprinter.

Charley Pell
1977,78

Charley Pell authored college football's Cinderella story in 1977.

The Albertville, AL product took a Clemson team that was 3-6-2 in 1976, and led the '77 Tigers to an 8-2-1 regular-season mark and a berth in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's first final top-20 season since 1959. He coached Clemson to a 10-1 regular season in the 1978 season before he left to become head coach at Florida. Clemson's 1978 team beat Ohio State in the Gator Bowl and finished ranked #6 in the Associated Press poll in his second year as Clemson's head coach.

He was a near unanimous choice as ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1977 and 1978, the first coach, regardless of sport, to win ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors in each of his first two years. A two-way starter and three-year letterwinner at Alabama, Pell was a member of the Crimson Tide's 1961 National Championship team.

He came to Clemson in 1976 and served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. Pell passed away in June of 2001 after battling cancer.

Former Head Coaches

Danny Ford
1978-89

Danny Ford had an auspicious beginning to his head coaching career. He gained a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl in a game shown on national television. The 30-year-old coach, youngest in Division I at the time, also defeated a college football legend in a contest that truly put Clemson football on the map as he beat Woody Hayes in the latter's last game. Ford had taken over the coaching reigns on December 10, 1978 when Charley Pell resigned to become head coach at Florida.

Ford kept things going in 1979 with wins over Georgia and Notre Dame and another trip to a bowl, this time the Peach Bowl. In 1981, he helped Clemson reach the summit of college football by winning the National Championship. His Tigers downed three top 10 teams during the course of the 12-0 season that concluded with a 22-15 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl. Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year.

The wins continued in 1982 and 1983, as Clemson had consecutive 9-1-1 years. Clemson finished in the top 12 in both years, and had a 30-2-2 record over a three-year period, best in the nation.

Clemson won three straight ACC championships under his guidance between 1986-88. In 1989, Clemson registered a 10-2 season and top 12 national ranking, the fourth straight season Clemson finished in the final AP top 20. He closed his career with a 27-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, his sixth bowl win in eight tries and his fourth in succession.

Ford was the third winningest active coach in the nation on a percentage basis at the end of the 1989 season. He finished with a 96-29-4 career ledger at Clemson and remains one of only two coaches in ACC history with over a 75 percent winning mark (min. four years). He finished with a 76 percent winning percentage and five ACC titles, second only to Frank Howard's six crowns.

The 1969 Alabama graduate is still the youngest coach to win the national title, as he was just 33-years-old when the Tigers shocked the college football world in 1981. He coached 71 first-team All ACC selections and 26 All-Americans. Forty-two of his former Tigers were drafted by the NFL, and he earned 18 wins over Associated Press top 20 teams during his career, more than any other ACC coach. Additionally, 11 of his former players won Super Bowl Championship rings. At one stretch his teams were ranked in the AP top 20 for 41 consecutive polls, a Clemson record.

Ford was an All-SEC selection and was also an All-SEC Academic choice at Alabama. He attended Alabama initially on a basketball/football scholarship but played only football after his freshman year. He played in three bowl games for Alabama. He served as head coach at Arkansas from 1994-97. He is now retired and living in Pendleton, SC.

Ken Hatfield

Ken Hatfield led the Tigers to a 32-13-1 record over his four year tenure, led the squad to three bowl appearances and an ACC Championship. With a victory over Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl, Hatfield became the first Clemson coach to win 10 games in his first year and his .833 winning percentage was the best for a first-year Clemson coach since 1900, when John Heisman was 6-0. That season included six wins over teams with winning records, more than any other team that year with the exception of National Champion Georgia Tech.

Hatfield was also just the eighth coach in the previous 13 years to take a team to a top-10 AP final ranking in his first year with the program, as the Tigers finished the season ranked ninth in the AP poll. The Helena, AR, native would also lead the 1991 and 1993 teams to top 25-rankings. Clemson became the third school that Hatfield had coached to a top-20 ranking, as his 1983 Air Force team ranked #15 and he led four Arkansas teams to top-20 rankings. Only six coaches in NCAA history have accomplished that feat.

Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and was a starter on the 1964 National Championship team. The defensive back earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He still ranks as the only college football player ever to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight years, as he finished second in 1962. He is now the head coach at Rice, where he took the Owls to an eight-win season in 2001.

Tommy West
1993-98

Tommy West's five-year resumé as Clemson head coach included four bowl appearances, 12 road wins, 86 school records, and unparalleled academic excellence. West took Clemson to three straight bowl games between 1995-97, just the second Clemson coach in history to take the Tigers to bowl games in three straight seasons.

Academically, 61 Clemson football players made the ACC academic honor roll in his last four years, twice as many as the best previous four-year total in Clemson history. Each of the three highest single year totals took place under West's watch and the team had a 20-year team best cumulative GPA entering the 1998 season.

West took over the Clemson program on November 29, 1993 and less than a month later had a bowl victory on his ledger. The former Tennessee tight end, succeeded Ken Hatfield, who left the school four days after a victory over South Carolina to end the 1993 season.

It was West's second tour of duty with Clemson. He had been a linebackers coach under Danny Ford between 1982-89. Clemson was 69-20-4 and had six AP top 20 finishes in that eight-year era.

West coached the Tigers in the 1993 Peach Bowl, a thrilling 14-13 victory over Kentucky. He became the first coach in college history to gain victory in a bowl game in his first game without having coached the team in any capacity earlier in the year.

West's best season was 1995, as Clemson finished the regular season with five straight wins by 17 points or more, and was invited to the Gator Bowl. Clemson was ranked in the top 25 of every poll at the end of the 1995 regular season. That Clemson team was fourth in the nation in rushing.

West recruited some of the top players in Clemson history. The school ranked in the top 10 in the nation in NFL draftees in the 1998 and 1999 selection process and all 11 players were recruited by West. The list included three first-round defensive picks (Trevor Pryce, Anthony Simmons and Antwan Edwards). Clemson was the only school in the nation to have six defensive players drafted in 1999 and the only school to have a first-round defensive choice in 1997, 1998 and 1999.

The native of Gainesville, GA finished his career with a 31-28 record, and had four wins over top-25 teams. He is now the head coach at Memphis, where he led the Tigers to a nine-win season and the program's first bowl appearance in 32 years in the 2003 season.

Ken Hatfield led Clemson to a 32-13-1 record in four seasons (1990-93). He coached Clemson's last ACC Championship team during the 1991 season.

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season with just one loss to a Tulane team that would finish the season with an 8-1-1 record and #5 ranking by the Associated Press. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first, First-Team Associated Press All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to Boston College's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up, 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned a punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11 yard line, but Bryant and McFadden each broke up two passes and Clemson took over possession on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 44-yard average on 11 kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

in three carries, but Shad Bryant missed the extra point.

Later in the quarter, a 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shutout of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a #11 ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave Clemson the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched an 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shutouts. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back," to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami drove 95 yards in just five plays for its second score of the game. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time, 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions along with one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitch-out from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. Don Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, his second of the game, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40, and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game - a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led, 7-0. Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. His interception total is still an NCAA record for an individual in a bowl game. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going, and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricanes did not gain another first down. Miami finished the game with just five first downs and 174 yards of total offense, yet won the game. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in history.

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Clemson came out of the lockerroom and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells's three-yard run. After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly series for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball in from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led, 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

Frank Howard's threatened resignation during halftime inspired the comeback in the second half. "I told them I was going to resign if they didn't play better in the second half. I told them I didn't want to be associated with any team that played like that."

When Howard met Colorado Head Coach Dal Ward at midfield, Ward asked him what was the matter with his team. Howard said "I just don't know."

Later, Howard explained that the Tigers just refused to block in the first half, but in the second half they got down to business. He had words of praise for John Bayuk, Colorado's big fullback, and said he was as good as any fullback that Clemson had faced all year.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered. Spooner, who had

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take a 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

Louisiana State drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its first six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the Louisiana State 27 yard line on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, Louisiana State got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for Louisiana State at the Clemson 11.

Louisiana State picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the Louisiana State 28, but Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was incomplete. Louisiana State took over on downs and ran out the clock.

In his usual relaxed way, Coach Frank Howard of Clemson said he was pleased with his team.

"Hell! I think we'd have beat them if that boy had held onto that little screen pass," Howard said. "I was going for those two points and beat them. I didn't think we would hold them to one touchdown, but I didn't think they would shut us out, either."

"Louisiana State has a good team, they rate the #1 spot in the nation. Cannon is quite a boy. Deserves his All-American rating."

"It was a wonderful victory. They're just as fine when you win 'em, 7-0 as 30-0. I'm very happy that we won," said Louisiana State Coach Paul Dietzel, who won the national championship at age 34.

"Clemson proved tougher than most people figured. But we knew we would have to play at our top peak to beat them. They were a good team."

hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the endzone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and Louisiana State led 7-0.

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team.

After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Texas Christian five yard line, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started, to put Clemson up, 3-0.

Not to be outdone, Texas Christian second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard halfback pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the Texas Christian 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and Texas Christian took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns for a comfortable lead. With a third-and-18 situation at its own 32, White threw to Gary Barnes, who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for a score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide, and Clemson led, 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the Texas Christian one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for six. Armstrong's kick put the game out of Texas Christian's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

The victory over the #7 Horned Frogs was the highest-ranked bowl win in Clemson history at the time and is still third-best on the all-time list, trailing only the win over #4 Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl and the win over #6 Tennessee in the 2004 Peach Bowl.

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making its first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and came within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history with a 34-3 score.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. Pitt set a Gator Bowl team record for passing yards and first downs, while Cavanaugh set the individual mark for passing yardage. If that was not enough, the Pittsburgh defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers' offense did get on track.

Pittsburgh was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pittsburgh 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Fuller led Clemson on offense with 192 yards. He had been named ACC Player-of-the-Year as a junior. Randy Scott (13), Mark Heniford (13), and Bubba Brown led the Tiger defense with double-figure tackle totals.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by the Panthers, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football pride for Clemson.

The 1978 Clemson team was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson head coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth-down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try.

Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson led 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive. Faced with third-and-five at the Clemson 24, an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was forced out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

Bubba Brown led the Clemson defense with 22 tackles, still a school record for tackles in a bowl game. Jim Stuckey added 10 tackles.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' lead to 24-10.

Mike Singletary (future All-Pro with the Chicago Bears), led the Baylor defense with 20 tackles. He was a major reason Clemson gained a season low 67 yards rushing in 51 attempts.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining seconds for the win.

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 24 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 yard line to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-American receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. It was Tuttle's eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis's 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Johnny Rembert, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive, then the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

Jeff Davis led the Tiger defense with 14 tackles in his final game. He also recovered a fumble, giving him a school-record eight for his career. Bill Smith added a career-high 10 tackles from his defensive end position.

Clemson met a Big Ten school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoyed moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Minnesota was coached by John Gutekunst, who had taken over for Lou Holtz at the end of the regular season. Holtz had resigned in December to become head coach at Notre Dame.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Ricky Foggie, a native of South Carolina, led the Golden Gophers with 183 yards of total offense.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh 100-yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests.

Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from running back Stacey Driver in the third period.

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second-half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th-ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8-11 passes in the first half, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14-yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year (46) on Clemson's next possession, putting the down and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career-high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goal-line situation in the first half.

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team by the score of 35-10. It is still the largest margin of defeat for a Joe Paterno-coached football team. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most Valuable Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams' second bowl victory in his three-year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 14 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings, who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Wideout Gary Cooper also added four receptions for 56 yards 200 yards passing and 200 yards rushing. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards on the ground and another touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles.

Linebacker Dorian Marable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford defeated the top-three winningest active coaches the decade, with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne (Nebraska), and Joe Paterno (Penn State).

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 yards, and no touchdowns on the ground.

The game was a defensive struggle, as the two teams failed to combine for 500 yards of total offense. The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Jamelle Holieway at the 19.

first score, a 20-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Tiger defense held and R.D. Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown, as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most Valuable Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners' next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score. After a punt, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tiger secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tiger victory.

Terry Allen was named MVP. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes for 47 yards to lead all Tiger receivers.

After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle for a field goal.

Doug Brewster intercepted a pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers'

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

West Virginia quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Chris Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on the ground on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in good field position, as he had a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63.

Defensively, linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger

After a separation of 22 years, two coaches found themselves once again on the same football field. This time, however, they were on opposite sidelines. Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic, who had been graduate assistants together at Army in the 1960's, were reunited in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl.

The Clemson defense dominated the line by holding Illinois to 247 yards, 150 yards under their season average. The Clemson offense surprised the Illini defense with an unexpected aerial assault. Tiger quarterback and game MVP DeChane Cameron, who was less than a 50 percent passer in the regular season, completed 14 of 19 passes for a Hall of Fame Bowl record 73 percent.

Cameron's passing yardage totalled 141 yards and he completed TD passes to Doug Thomas and Howard Hall. It was the first TD reception for both players in their respective careers. Thomas caught five passes on the day for 57 yards, career highs for both categories for the senior in his last game.

Clemson took its opening possession 71 yards to the Illinois two where Chris Gardocki tapped in any easy three. After Illinois fumbled on its first offensive its four previous bowl victories.

In the second quarter, the Tigers would score two more touchdowns. The first was the result of a 17-yard Cameron pass to fullback Howard Hall. It was just the third TD pass to a Clemson fullback in the last 18 years. Clemson then put the contest out of reach just three plays later when Arlington Nunn scored on a 34-yard interception return. It was the senior's third interception returned for a TD in 1990, a Clemson record.

The Tiger defense continued to hold Illinois throughout the remainder of the game. John Johnson led the Tiger pass defense, as he had two sacks to lead a point-prevention unit that had six sacks on the day. Illinois reached the Clemson eight-yard line in the fourth quarter, but the Tiger defense forced a fumble and Ed McDaniel picked up the ball. Illinois had the ball in Tiger territory just three times.

The Tiger defense earned its third shutout of the year. It was the first shutout at a Hall of Fame Bowl and Clemson's first bowl shutout in 17 bowls. The 30-0 triumph was a Tiger record for victory margin in a bowl game.

Clemson's bowl game victory streak ended at five as the Tigers left the state of Florida with their first bowl loss since 1985, and their worst defeat since 1986, when #14th California defeated #13 Clemson 37-13 in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

For the first time since the 1988 season, the Clemson defense, which led the nation in rushing defense in 1991, allowed an opposing running back to rush for over 100 yards, as California's Russell White crossed the century mark with 103 yards.

The Golden Bears scored early and often in the first half, taking the opening kickoff 76 yards for a touchdown and adding a 31-yard field goal on their third possession. Clemson was unable to gain a first down after the ensuing kickoff and was forced to punt. Although Chuck Lynch punted 49 yards, Brian Treggs eluded the Tiger special forces unit and went the distance for a 72-yard touchdown.

Treggs had 124 punt return yards, most ever against Clemson in a bowl game and one of the top opponent performances in any game.

Clemson got on the board for the first time with time running out in the first quarter as Nelson Welch connected on a 32-yard field goal on a drive highlighted by a 43-yard run by fullback Rudy Harris.

The highlight of the game for the Tigers came with just under five minutes remaining in the first half, as DeChane Cameron broke loose for a 62-yard touchodwn. That play marked the longest run from scrimmage for a Tiger quarterback in 13 years, but also marked the only touchdown that Clemson scored that afternoon.

The only score for Clemson in the second half was a 36-yard field goal by Welch in the third period, while the Golden Bears would add a field goal and a touchdown on a 23-yard pass hookup.

The Tiger defense managed to hold California scoreless in the fourth quarter, but Clemson could not put up any points, as it turned the ball over three times on interceptions and once more on downs.

Two Tigers who were playing in their last game in a Clemson uniform were named team Most Valuable Players in the loss. Defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, who had six tackles for the game, including three tackles for loss and one-and-a-half sacks, was named the Tigers' defensive MVP, while quarterback DeChane Cameron was named Clemson's Most Valuable Offensive Performer, after he scored Clemson's only touchdown and had 189 yards in total offense.

Heading into the Peach Bowl with Kentucky, Clemson owned the seventh-best bowl winning percentage in college football history with a .611 mark. The Tigers upped that percentage in an exciting way, with a 14-13 win over Kentucky. Tommy West also became the first coach in NCAA history to win his first game for a school in a bowl game without serving as a coach in that program during the regular season.

A tandem of running backs who hailed from Pensacola, FL led the Clemson rushing attack, as starting tailback Rodney Blunt rushed for a season-high 58 yards on 15 carries to lead the team. But, it was red-shirt freshman Emory Smith who was named the Tigers' Offensive MVP, as he rambled for 45 yards from his fullback position, including a two-yard touchdown run.

After taking over at its own two, quarterback Dexter McCleon engineered a 98-yard scoring drive that culminated in a one-yard run by Emory Smith.

The Wildcats drove back down the field on their next possession, this time reaching the Clemson one again, where they decided to go for it on fourth down. The Clemson defense held once again, as tackles for loss. Buckner became just the fourth Tiger defensive lineman in the last eight years to record at least a dozen tackles in a game.

The Tigers were forced to punt after taking over at the one and Kentucky got on the scoreboard with a 17-yard field goal by Nicky Nickles. The score heading into the half stood at 7-3.

Neither squad scored in the third quarter, and barely into the fourth period, Kentucky took the lead with a 46-yard touchdown drive. After an interception, the Wildcats upped their lead to 13-7 on a 43 yard scoring drive, culminating in another field goal.

With time running down in the fourth quarter, quarterback Patrick Sapp came off the bench. The two teams exchanged punts before the Tigers got the ball at their own 18 with 3:50 left. On the first play of the drive, Sapp threw a screen to Emory Smith for 57 yards. With under a minute left, Kentucky linebacker Marty Moore intercepted Sapp's pass. But, on the return, Stacy Seegars jarred the ball loose and Brent LeJeune recovered. With 20 seconds left, Sapp connected with Terry Smith on a 21-yard score and Nelson Welch kicked the PAT for the win.

defensive tackle Brentson Buckner stopped the ball carrier for no gain. Buckner was named Defensive MVP after tallying a dozen tackles, including three Clemson entered the 1996 Gator Bowl fresh off of five consecutive victories, including an emotional 38-17 win over arch-rival South Carolina. The Tigers had won six consecutive games away from Death Valley, but the streak ended there at the hands of Syracuse. The Orangemen handed Clemson its worst bowl defeat in its 20-game bowl history, 41-0.

In front of a rain-soaked crowd of mostly Tiger fans, freshman quarterback and future NFL star Donovan McNabb ran, passed and beat the Tiger defense. McNabb, the MVP of the Gator Bowl, was unstoppable, as he threw three touchdown passes and ran for another. He completed 13 of 23 passes for 309 yards. Wide receiver Marvin Harrison was on the other end of many McNabb passes as he grabbed seven for 173 yards.

Malcolm Thomas scored less than two minutes into the contest on a one-yard run. On Syracuse's next possession, McNabb led a 12-play, 62-yard drive that culminated in a McNabb five-yard keeper for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, the Orangemen defense thwarted Clemson's best scoring chance of the called a play-action pass that was incomplete, ending the drive on downs.

The homecoming for Jacksonville natives and childhood teammates Brian Dawkins and Patrick Sapp was bitter-sweet, although Sapp did register a sack for a nine-yard loss. The Tigers, who entered the game with the nation's fourth best rushing attack could only manage 90 yards on 34 attempts. The Orangemen held Raymond Priester, the ACC's leading rusher, to just 36 yards on 15 carries.

Syracuse added two more touchdowns in the third quarter to put the game well out of reach. After a 57-yard pass to Sir Mawn Wilson, Thomas ran two yards to the right for his second touchdown of the afternoon. Thomas, a Jacksonville native, rushed for 71 yards on 14 carries. Each team traded prodigious third period punts, including a 73-yard effort by Sean Reali. The two bright spots for Clemson were punter Chris McNally, who averaged 49.3 yards on six punts, and Brian Dawkins, who had a team-high 10 tackles. The Orangemen had their second one-play drive when McNabb connected with Harrison for a 56-yard touchdown play.

afternoon. After the Tigers had gone 53 yards down the field on 11 plays to Syracuse's six-yard-line, Clemson faced a crucial fourth-and-two situation. Clemson Raymond Priester set a Clemson Bowl record for rushing yardage with 151 yards gained during the 1996 Peach Bowl. On the defensive side of the ball, defensive lineman Trevor Pryce had three tackles for loss and one sack in addition to a caused fumble. Even with these fine accomplishments, Clemson still fell to the Louisiana State Tigers by a three-point margin, 10-7 at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, GA.

Nealon Greene opened the scoring for Clemson on a three-yard run for a touchdown.

In addition to Priester's outstanding game, contributions to the running attack were also made by Emory Smith, who had nine carries for 40 yards. Smith, brother of NFL star Emmitt Smith, was playing in his second Peach Bowl, as he was vital in Clemson's victory over Kentucky in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

Clemson's sole touchdown drive was 1:29 minutes long and consisted of only three runs. The outstanding field position was achieved on a fumble recovery by Harold Means following a sack and caused fumble by Trevor Pryce.

Defensively, Clemson had five players contribute to a combined nine tackles for losses. These Louisiana State scored again during this quarter, with a 22-yard field goal by Richey to take the lead for good. Neither team scored in the second half, as both defenses dominated.

Clemson got the ball back with 2:29 remaining, but a 52-yard field goal attempt by Matt Padgett with 1:02 remaining in the game was blocked by Adam Roman and Louisiana State hung on for its second bowl victory over Clemson. The SEC Tigers also defeated Clemson 7-0 in the 1959 Sugar Bowl.

Time of possession was fairly even throughout the game, as Louisiana State led with 30:15 minutes versus Clemson's 29:45 minutes. Not only was time of possession even in this game, but also the total net yards gained (Clemson 258 - Louisiana State 287) and the average gain per play (4.2-4.5) were close as well.

Behind the strength of the Auburn defense, Dameyune Craig was able to rally his offense in the fourth quarter enroute to a come from behind 21-17 victory over the Clemson Tigers at the Georgia Dome. Auburn's offense managed to score 15 points on three consecutive scoring drives to overcome an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter.

Clemson got on the board midway through the second quarter with the help of the first of many great special teams plays. Jaret Holmes' punt was blocked by Rod Gardner and returned 18 yards by Chad Speck for a touchdown.

Auburn would answer the Clemson scoring strike on its very next drive. Offensive MVP Dameyune Craig led Auburn on a seven-play, 67-yard drive, that ended when Jaret Holmes converted on his second field goal.

With 5:18 left in the third quarter, Clemson's special teams stepped up big again when Rahim Abdullah blocked Holmes' punt and Mal Lawyer recovered the ball on the two. From there, Clemson's Terry Witherspoon ran the ball in from two yards out on first and goal to give the Tigers a 14-6 lead.

great field position. However, the Clemson offense failed to gain a first down. David Richardson connected on a 48-yard field goal, which gave Clemson a 17-6 advantage with 2:10 left in the third quarter.

Down 11 points, Craig rallied his team. He led the Tigers on a nine-play, 72-yard drive. The Auburn drive was capped off with a miraculous 22-yard touchdown run by Craig on a fourth-down play. Despite failing to convert the two-point conversion, Craig's run was a turning point for the Auburn offense and reduced Clemson's lead to 17-12.

Clemson was forced to punt on its next possession, giving the ball back to an Auburn offense that was finally clicking. Craig and his Tigers drove 49 yards in two minutes and 22 seconds, resulting in a Rusty Williams 7-yard touchdown run. Once again, Auburn missed the two-point conversion attempt but held on to the narrow lead at 18-17.

Following an interception, Auburn drove down to the Clemson five and Holmes converted on a 22-yard field goal, giving the Auburn Tigers a 21-17 lead. After Clemson lost the ball on downs, Auburn ran the remaining 2:30 off the clock.

Auburn was forced to punt from inside its own 10-yard line the following possession. Tony Horne returned the punt 20 yards to the Auburn 26-yard line, giving the Tigers

Wayne Madkin ran for a touchdown and threw for another in the fourth quarter to lead #15 Mississippi State to a 17-7 win in the Peach Bowl and a record crowd of 73,315. Clemson outgained the Bulldogs 391-265, but many Tiger drives stalled in Bulldog territory, as Mississippi State's defense, tops in the nation in yards allowed per game, thwarted the Tigers and forced six turnovers.

Despite the loss, Clemson's defense played one of its best games of the year, holding the Bulldogs (10-2) to just 3.7 yards per play. The defense also began many drives after Tiger turnovers in Clemson's own territory.

Individually, Clemson was led on offense by Brian Wofford, who had six catches for a team-season-high 147 yards, including four of 20 yards or more. Brandon Streeter threw for 301 yards on 24-50 passing. Freshman Bernard Rambert, who played most of the game after starting tailback Travis Zachery left the game early in the first quarter with a dislocated elbow, had 70 yards rushing on 18 carries.

Clemson looked to be in business when Streeter connected with Rod Gardner, who had seven catches for 75 yards, for 37 yards on the game's first play. But Fred Smoot intercepted Streeter's fourth-down pass. Clemson had another golden opportunity later in the opening quarter. Thanks in part to Wofford's 32-yard catch and run, Clemson drove 64 yards in 15 plays before Tony Lazzara's 25-yard field goal was blocked and returned into Tiger territory. The Clemson defense continually came up with stands. The teams went into halftime 0-0, the first scoreless tie at halftime for Clemson since the 1988 Virginia game.

Scott Westerfield put the Bulldogs ahead 3-0 on the opening drive of the second half. After two screen passes that netted a total of 30 yards, Westerfield split the uprights from 39 yards.

The Bulldogs reached the endzone for the first time on their first possession of the fourth quarter. Madkin out-ran Keith Adams for a two-yard score. Their drive was twice extended on third-down plays in the red-zone by pass interference calls.

Clemson responded with an eight-play, 70-yard drive capped by Streeter's one-yard plunge to make the score 10-7. But Mississippi State came right back with a clinching touchdown-scoring drive, capped by Dontae Walker's 15-yard catch on a screen pass. Madkin's 21-yard completion to Matt Butler on third down was the critical play of the drive.

Michael Vick rebounded from an ankle-injury to lead Virginia Tech to a victory in his final college game, a 41-20 win. The quarterback finished with two touchdowns while completing 10 of 18 passes for 205 yards. The contest was a battle of mobile quarterbacks, as Clemson's Woodrow Dantzler gained 261 yards of total offense for the afternoon.

The Hokies capitalized on early costly Tiger mistakes. The uncharacteristic play began on the first drive when snapper Henry Owen bounced his delivery to punter Jaime Somaini, who was tackled for an eight-yard loss by Lee Suggs. Tech scored on its first offensive play of the game when Vick threw to Jarrett Ferguson on a 23-yard touchdown play.

Later in the quarter, Terry Jolly jumped off-side to preserve an 11-play, 59-yard drive that ended in a six-yard touchdown run for Vick.

Clemson got back into the game, but at a heavy cost. Dantzler found Travis Zachery for a 23-yard touchdown early in the second quarter. However, Zachery's missed the rest of the game due to a broken foot that occurred as the tailback leaped into the endzone. On the play, Zachery also snapped that Terry Bryant recovered on the Hokie 13. Clemson had to settle for an Aaron Hunt field goal, bringing the Tigers to within 14-10. But, that was as close as Clemson could get. Suggs scored his first touchdown of the day on a three-yard rush on the next possession to give the Hokies a 21-10 lead.

Hopes of a second-half rally were shattered when Vick found Andre Davis for a 55-yard touchdown on the first drive of the second half. Willie Simmons relieved Dantzler in the final quarter. On his first possession, Simmons led the offense on an 11-play, 71-yard drive that ended in a 23-yard touchdown pass to Rod Gardner. With seven catches, Gardner surpassed Terry Smith's Clemson record for career receptions, finishing his career with 166.

Both quarterbacks shined in the much-anticipated match-up between Vick and Dantzler, although the Hokie quarterback left with both a Gator Bowl and a MVP trophy. Vick had the advantage in the passing game, his numbers slightly besting Dantzler's 15-32 for 180 yards. Dantzler did the most damage on the ground, amassing 81 of Clemson's 88 rushing yards. Vick rushed for 19 yards.

Lester Brown's single-season Clemson record of 17 touchdowns in a season.

Two possessions later, Keith Adams sacked Vick for 18 yards, forcing a fumble

Clemson concluded its 2001 season with a 49-24 win over Louisiana Tech in the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, ID. The Tigers managed to win despite snowy conditions and freezing temperatures that set records for a Tiger football game.

Clemson won by putting together one of its best all-around performances of the season. The offense racked up 548 yards of total offense and set a school record for most touchdown passes in a game with five. The Tigers scored four touchdowns in the third quarter, setting a new team record for most points scored in one quarter in a bowl game. Four touchdowns were scored by freshmen, marking the first time in school history that happened. The defense held the Bulldogs to just 49 total yards rushing while intercepting three passes and totaling six sacks.

After falling behind 10-7, Clemson took the lead 14-10 with 6:54 remaining before halftime when quarterback Woodrow Dantzler connected with Roscoe Crosby on a 53-yard touchdown reception. Dantzler helped extend the lead on the first drive of the second half by finding Ben Hall in the end zone and igniting the record-setting third quarter scoring effort. Dantzler recorded his third touchdown pass of the game two minutes later when he hooked up with Bernard Rambert for a 62-yard score.

Following an interception by Brian Mance, the offense capitalized seven plays later when Rambert scampered down the left sideline for 21 yards and a score. Charles Hafley intercepted Luke McCown's pass on the Bulldogs' first play of the ensuing drive, and Airese Currie's 19-yard fumble-rookie play less than two minutes later marked the fourth touchdown of the quarter and gave Clemson a 42-10 lead.

Backup quarterback Willie Simmons entered the game in the final period and helped contribute to Clemson's final score of the game, completing his only pass of the contest to Derrick Hamilton for a 57-yard touchdown with just over nine minutes remaining. Despite two late scores by Louisiana Tech, the Tigers' impressive team effort left fans excited about the potential of the 2002 campaign.

Dantzler ended his career with a fitting performance. He completed 15-23 passes for 218 yards, and his four touchdown passes tied his own team record. Rambert posted 101 rushing yards and a touchdown on 16 carries. Center Kyle Young was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl team, as he had 18 knockdown blocks in the contest.

Texas Tech defeated Clemson 55-15 in the 2003 Mazda Tangerine Bowl at Florida Citrus Bowl Stadium in Orlando, FL. Making their fourth consecutive bowl appearance, the Tigers were unable to contain Kliff Kingsbury, who threw for 375 yards and three touchdowns. Earning game MVP honors, he completed 32-43 passes and finished the season with 5,017 passing yards. Although Kingsbury left the game in the third quarter with a leg injury, he returned to play in the final quarter and became just the third player in Division I-A history to eclipse the 5,000-yard passing mark in a season.

Charlie Whitehurst, who completed 20 of his 48 passes for 263 yards, led Clemson. His favorite target was Kevin Youngblood, who had a game-high 134 yards receiving on seven catches. However, Clemson's running game managed just 41 yards.

Kingsbury established the tone for the Red Raider offense by completing six of his first eight passes and leading the Red Raiders to a 29-yard field goal. Less than six minutes later, Kingsbury's 46-yard touchdown pass to Nehemiah Glover gave the Red Raiders a 10-0 lead. The onslaught continued in the first quarter when Kingsbury connected with Mickey Peters on a 19-yard touchdown pass that gave Texas Tech a 17-0 lead entering the second quarter.

Taurean Henderson's 10-yard run gave the Red Raiders a 24-0 lead with 12:09 remaining in the first half. Midway through the second quarter, Clemson finally mustered some points when Tye Hill blocked a punt that resulted in a safety when the ball went through the end zone.

Vincent Meeks intercepted Whitehurst at the goal-line. Three quick completions moved the Texas Tech offense into field-goal range, and Robert Treece's successful 40-yard attempt as time expired gave Texas Tech a 34-2 advantage at halftime.

Clemson's opening drive of the second half resulted in the team's first offensive score, when Whitehurst connected with tight end Ben Hall on a 10-yard touchdown pass. Kingsbury left the game on the next possession after Khaleed Vaughn rolled over his leg; B.J. Symons replaced Kingsbury and guided the Red Raiders to a score on his opening drive. Symons' two-yard touchdown pass to Carlos Francis made the score 41-9 Texas Tech. Chad Jasmin's two-yard scamper with 12:29 remaining in regulation signaled the Tigers' final score of the contest.

Clemson's 1966 team is one of the most underrated in school history. The Tigers were 6-4 that year, but the non-conference schedule included losses to #9 Georgia Tech, #4 Alabama, and #5 Southern California, all on the road. The staff included (top, L-R) Bob Patton, Banks McFadden, Frank Howard, Bob Smith, Bob Jones, (bottom) Bill McLellan, Fred Cone, Art Baker, Don Wade, and Whitey Jordan.

Note: In 1945, Clemson played Pensacola Naval Air Station and won by a score of 7-6. However, the coach of that team is unknown; bold denotes coach that will play at Memorial Stadium in 2004.

Current Clemson Assistant Head Coach Brad Scott is one of seven opposing coaches with a winning record against the Tigers at Memorial Stadium (minimum of three games).

The approximately $52 million WestZone initiative is underway, and soon the west end of Clemson Memorial Stadium will be transformed into a unique campus landmark. As the new "front door" to Death Valley, the WestZone will welcome fans, student-athletes, coaches and friends of Clemson University in an unprecedented fashion.

The WestZone Club, featuring excellent premium seating, will eventually cater to 2,000 Clemson fans starting with the 2006 season. Boasting stylish amenities, comfortable seats and upscale cuisine, the WestZone Club combines indoor elegance and outdoor excitement. Private elevators and escalators will take patrons to the exclusive club, which includes a buffet dining area, along with lounge areas overlooking the Clemson campus and Lake Hartwell.

The Westzone initiative also will include great benefits to future Clemson Tiger gridgers, including new locker rooms, team lounge areas, media interview rooms, training room, weight room, team and position meeting rooms and coaches offices. The overall project also includes the One Clemson Center, which will feature the history and traditions of Clemson University and its athletic program.
