

1980 CLEMSON FOOTBALL

Press, Radio and TV

If you're assigned to cover a game in Clemson's Memorial Stadium this fall, the following hints will be helpful:

ENTRANCE TO STADIUM/PRESS BOX

Enter through Gate 14 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the southeast corner. Should you have need to pick up tickets at our press will call gate, they will be at Gate 14. Come through Gate 14, turn right, and go straight to the elevator which will take you to the press box.

PRESS BOX

There are two levels to Clemson's new press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio, networks and athletic directors for Clemson and the visiting team. The second level will be for the print media, with seating accommodations for 100 members of the working press. This level will also house Clemson's famous buffet, and the telecopier room. There is a dark room on the photo level.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

We'll appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to BOB BRADLEY. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

PARKING PASSES AND COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS

There are a limited number of these available for use by the members of the working press, and the sooner we know of your need, the closer we will come to filling your request. Your request should be made directly to BOB BRADLEY.

TELECOPIER AND WESTERN UNION SERVICES

Our press box is equipped with eight (8) outside lines and outlets for your telecopiers, and at no charge to your paper. We will have three telecopiers at the game which can be used on a first-come, first-serve basis, and we also have press box assistants who are available to send your copy as necessary. THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR ANY OF THESE SERVICES. It is the responsibility of each writer to make prior arrangements with any other electronic transmission. Electrical and telephone outlets are at each seat for other equipment.

We furnish a typed play-by-play, individual and team stats, and coaches' quotes. Also, our communications center staff furnishes a packet of first half action shots — six 8 x 10 black and white prints.

LOCKER ROOM INTERVIEWS

Bob Bradley will escort those writers wishing to go to the Clemson dressing room, whereas the visiting SID will make the trip to the opponent's dressing area. This usually takes place with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The dressing rooms are located beneath the West end zone stands to your left from the press box.

Between these covers you should find just about everything you need to know about the Tigers. Please don't hesitate, however, to call on us at any time.

TIGER OUTLOOK

TIGERS CHASE FOURTH STRAIGHT BOWL BID

It won't be easy for Head Coach Danny Ford to duplicate last year's accomplishments. When Steve Fuller, Jerry Butler and a host of other pro draft choices graduated in 1978, few expected the rookie head coach to lead the Tigers to many victories in 1979. But the former Alabama star guided the Tigers to an 8-4 ledger that included four ACC wins, non-conference triumphs over Georgia and Notre Dame, and a Peach Bowl Invitation.

Ford will have to develop some more young talent (like he did in 1979) if Clemson is to challenge for the Atlantic Coast Conference title and appear in a fourth straight bowl game. The Tigers lose seven starters on offense and four others on defense that were key reasons for Clemson's success in the late seventies.

"We didn't have a lot of experience in 1979, but we will be even more limited in experience this year," said Ford. "Last year we had a lot of people come on for us that many had not heard of before. But many of those players were seniors who had played behind some pretty good people on our '77 and '78 teams.

"This year we are going to have to count on a lot of youth. Right now we have limited experience on our offensive unit, and there aren't that many on the defense. But I'm confident in our players because we have a fine group of men. As long as they continue to work hard they will be successful. We just have to keep from beating ourselves, something we did a lot of last year."

Steve Durham is a preseason All-American who is a major reason Clemson was third in the nation in scoring defense in 1979.

Wide receiver Perry Tuttle reminds Tiger fans of former Clemson All-American Jerry Butler.

THE OFFENSE

"Last season we were young going into the season, but we did have experience up the middle with players like Mark Thornton, Jeff Bostic, Billy Lott, Marvin Sims and Lester Brown," said Ford. "But that corps has been wiped out by graduation. So, right now I am worried about our weakness up the middle. We will be young again, just look at the roster. We don't have one offensive letterman in his senior year.

"I am not planning on major changes in the offense, but we will diversify a little more this season. We will stay with the I-formation, but change a few things around more often. We did that in the spring game and were fairly successful in some of the things we tried. I feel we do have some talented players returning who have the capability to excite people."

Many of those talented players are in a young, but swift backfield. In the top three backfields, six of the nine players are sophomores and there is a good chance the Tigers will go with an all-sophomore group to carry the ball.

Clemson liked to keep the ball on the ground last year (the Tigers carried the ball 79.6 percent of the time last year) and it appears the Tigers will utilize the land route often in the new decade. Chuck McSwain is the leading returning ground gainer from the 1979 squad as he churned out 443 yards in 94 carries, the third best rushing total on the squad. The ACC Rookie-of-the-Year started three contests when Lester Brown was injured and the Caroleen, NC native responded with some excellent showings. The sophomore tailback averaged 4.7 yards per carry, the best average on the club, and tied for the team lead in touchdowns.

Cliff Austin should be an often used tailback this season. Austin sat out last season with a knee injury, but he had a fine spring practice without injury problems. Tiger fans hope he will return to 1978 form when he averaged 4.8 yards per carry and scored the winning touchdown in the Gator Bowl.

The successor to Marvin Sims' old fullback slot should be Jeff McCall. The sophomore lettered last year as a backup behind Sims and Tracy Perry and picked up 50 yards in 15 carries. But he was the number-one fullback all spring and most say he will have no trouble holding the top slot this fall.

The most widely watched position this spring was the quarterback slot. Six players began the chase for Billy Lott's starting job on March 7 (the first day of spring drills) and the battle continued through the spring game. Andy Headen, Mike Gasque and Homer Jordan were the prime candidates through spring drills. Headen won the job with a consistent spring, and barring unforeseen circumstances in the fall drills, the rugged sophomore will be the starter against Rice on September 13, but the other candidates will push him all year and undoubtedly see some action.

"All three are outstanding in their own way," said Ford. "Gasque is a good thrower, but he is limited in his ability as an option quarterback, a basic set of our offense.

"Headen is an exciting quarterback who played defensive back for us last year. He is a great all-around athlete who will help us if we can channel his talent into the right areas. It is tough to make a kid a quarterback in seven weeks, but Andy showed great improvement this spring. He made the farthest strides, but then he had the farthest to come because he did not play the position last season.

"Jordan is the smoothest of all the candidates and might be the best all-around player we have. He runs very well, and is one of the quickest you will find. He started the spring with the number-one unit, but had a hip-pointer in the middle of spring drills that put him behind. We may move him to the defense because he can help us in the backfield.

Headen hit 10-18 passes for 178 yards in the spring contest and looked like a leader as he guided the White team to three, fourth-quarter touchdowns in a come-from-behind 22-21 victory that was decided on the last play of the game. Gasque, who was red-shirted last year, hit 6-11 for 158 yards and two long touchdowns in the spring game.

Jordan is the only one of the threesome who played last year and his action was very limited. The sophomore from Athens, GA threw only 11 passes all season. He had a fine Orange & White game as he led all rushers with 54 yards in nine carries.

This quarterback contingent will have an excellent group of receivers. Perry Tuttle is the best, perhaps the top pass-catcher in, the league. The junior from Winston-Salem caught 36 passes for a 15.1 average and four touchdowns last year.

Jerry Gaillard, the other starting receiver off last year's club, also returns. He speared 21 for 244 yards last season, and four passes for a game-high 128 yards in the Orange & White game. Frank Magwood, who played sparingly last year, caught two long bombs in the Orange & White game and will be relied on as a deep threat next season. Bubba Diggs, a solid blocker, was the tight end on the first unit at the conclusion of the spring drills.

For the second year in a row, Ford will have some rebuilding to do in the offensive line. Gary Brown and Lee Nanney are the only two returning starters from the five pure lineman positions. The pair of tackles started every game last season and should hold the spots for the next two years. Nanney, a junior from Spartanburg, was a pre-season all-conference choice by the ACC coaches. Lettermen Brad Fisher and Brian Clark appear to be the leading candidates for the two guard slots, while Tony Berryhill had much experience at center last year.

Charlie Bauman is in his fourth season at middle guard for the Tiger defense.

THE DEFENSE

"On paper our defensive situation looks pretty good, but we do lack some depth. We have seven solid starters returning, but after that we are counting on more young talent. Unlike the offense, we should be pretty strong up the middle on defense with three experienced linemen in Charlie Bauman, Jeff Bryant and Steve Durham. Jeff Davis is a quality linebacker who was second on the team in tackles a year ago. But you don't lose players like Jim Stuckey, Bubba Brown and Rex Varn without feeling the affects."

Durham is an All-America candidate at defensive tackle. The resident from nearby Greer, SC played in Stuckey's shadow last season, but he turned in just as many big plays. In fact he out-graded Stuckey on many occasions last season and for the season their coaches film grade was only a few points apart. The quick lineman was a pre-season All-American according to many publications.

Jeff Bryant is a two-year letterman who saw much action as Stuckey's and Durham's replacement last season. He had 37 tackles in his reserve role. Bauman started every game at middle guard last season and showed everyone why he is well known for reasons other than "the guy Woody Hayes hit." Bauman had 60 tackles, including eight for minus yardage. He had the best game of his career against Outland Trophy winner Jim Ritcher when he made 13 tackles.

A threesome of talented sophomores will challenge for starting spots in the defensive front. Ray Brown started the last two games of the year at defensive end. He made 25 tackles in the reserve role last season, nine in the Peach Bowl vs. Baylor. James Robinson and Dan Benish are a pair of 250-pound plus tackles who give Tiger fans optimism about the future.

Leading tackler Bubba Brown, the feisty leader of the linebacking corps the last three years, has departed, but Jeff Davis should take up where Brown left off. The junior all-conference candidate had 123 stops last season and broke up five passes to finish second on the squad in both categories. "Woodrow Lowe, who was at Alabama when I was there in the early seventies, is the only linebacker I've ever seen at this stage in his career with more ability than Jeff Davis," says Ford.

Five lettermen return to fight for Brown's open starting assignment. Chuck Rose, who saw action in all 12 games last year, and Danny Triplett, a reserve as a freshman a year ago, should be the top candidates.

Clemson's secondary was one of the major reasons the Tigers were third in the country in scoring defense and seventh in the nation in total defense. Ford's pass defenders should be stingy again as three starters and eight lettermen return in the defensive backfield.

Eddie Geathers, a pre-season All-ACC selection, and Willie Underwood are defenders in their third seasons as starters. Both are all-conference candidates and were prime reasons the Tigers gave up only four TD passes last season. Geathers, an aggressive cornerback, led the team in passes broken up and interceptions a year ago. He also had 73 tackles, the most by a secondary player on the Clemson team. Underwood had 60 tackles, four pass deflections and a blocked kick last season as a starting safety.

Terry Kinard, the starting free safety, is the third returning frontliner in the secondary. He fought off some injuries to collect three interceptions, one that clinched the victory at Notre Dame. Jack Cain, a starter who split time with Kinard last year, Hollis Hall and Anthony Rose are three more returning lettermen that will see action this season.

KICKING GAME

Clemson might have the best kicking combination in the country in punter David Sims and placekicker Obed Ariri. Both are legitimate All-American candidates. Sims set a Clemson record last season when he averaged 43.9 per boot, the fourth best average in the nation. He had incredible consistency as he had only two games in which he failed to average over 40 yards per punt. He had 19 punts over 50 yards and is already the school record holder in punting yards and attempts heading into his final season. He was the prime reason Clemson finished fourth in the nation in net punting last season.

Ariri, who played football and soccer at the same time last season, but will play only on the gridiron this year, is Clemson's all-time leading scorer in football with 201 points, 62 of which came last year. He has hit his last 11 field goal attempts heading into the 1980 season.

Coaches and Administration

DANNY FORD, Head Football Coach

Nearly 40 years ago Clemson University selected an enthusiastic 31-year-old to lead its football program. At the time, bushy-haired Frank Howard was one of the youngest head coaches in the nation. Now, 40 years later, the Tiger administrators have again selected a youthful mentor to guide the football team.

Danny Ford, who turned 32 last April 2, is one of the youngest Division I head coaches in the NCAA. Despite his youth, he is more qualified to accept his present duties, for he has been associated with some of the best football programs in the nation.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Alabama, Ford played for three consecutive Bowl teams under the legendary Bear Bryant. The All-Southeastern Conference tackle played in the 1968 Cotton Bowl, the 1968 Gator Bowl and the 1969 Liberty Bowl. An All-SEC Academic selection, he served as team captain of the Crimson Tide in 1969.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. After earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, Ford was made a full time assistant for the next two seasons. And the Tide went to four more post-season games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's mentor then accepted a position of assistant coach on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-75-76), before he was beckoned by Charlie Pell, who had just been named the Tigers' head coach. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

When Pell resigned as head football coach at Clemson for a similar position at Florida, the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Pell's successor — Danny Ford. Ford not only had the backing of Pell, but also from members of the Clemson football team. He was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach of the Tigers.

After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

At a press conference on December 10, 1978 Pell relinquished the head coaching duties of the Gator Bowl to Ford. And Clemson's bright new coach responded like a 20-year veteran.

The handsome coach conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial national powerhouse Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. Last year he guided a young Tiger team to an 8-4 record, wins over Georgia and Notre Dame, and another bowl appearance. Few coaches in NCAA history have made a more celebrated or successful beginning.

Danny Ford's first Clemson victory as a head coach came on Dec. 29, 1978 when he led the Tigers to a thrilling 17-15 Gator Bowl win over Ohio State.

Now Ford faces his second season as a head coach. His 1980 club needs to fill many holes, especially on offense. But solving offensive problems is not new to Ford. He has been given much credit for molding Clemson's offensive scheme, which in the past 3 seasons, has scored 801 points and set countless offensive records.

The native of Gadsden, AL is married to the former Deborah Anderson of Attalla, AL, and they are the parents of two daughters, Jennifer, 7, and Ashleigh.

YEARS AT CLEMSON: 4th. Joined staff on January 3, 1977 from Virginia Tech.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Directing and supervising entire football program.

BILL McLELLAN, Athletic Director

During 1979-80 Clemson enjoyed its greatest all-around athletic year ever. Four Tiger teams won ACC titles and 18 of the 19 sports sent an individual or the entire team to post-season action. Eight of the Clemson teams finished in the top 15 in the nation last year, the most nationally ranked teams in Tiger annals and, 18 players in 9 sports were selected first or second team All-American, more than any season in Tiger history.

Athletic Director Bill McLellan has been the guiding force behind Clemson's meteoric rise on the national collegiate sports scene.

Only the third man to own the title of Athletic Director at Clemson over the past 47 years, McLellan was elevated to his present position February 4, 1971, following what had been more than a decade of service to the University's athletic organization.

A native of Hamer, S. C., the 48-year old McLellan graduated from Dillon High School and entered Clemson where he earned a pair of football letters, and was a member of the Tigers' 1952 Gator Bowl team.

He joined the athletic staff May 1, 1958 from Clemson's Department of Agricultural Economics and Seed Certification where he had spent one year as assistant agronomist and two years as assistant economist.

Although carrying the title of Assistant Business Manager, McLellan has been credited with handling the majority of the department's athletic business and operation long before his appointment into his present role.

In 1966, McLellan was named Assistant Athletic Director and two years later was appointed Associate Athletic Director.

During his reign as Athletic Director, Clemson's athletic program has experienced a major upheaval.

The Tigers can boast of the finest athletic facilities in not only the Atlantic Coast Conference, but in the South as well.

The modern and spacious Jervay Athletic Center is one of the most complete facilities in America, and this complex serves as the home for Clemson's 19 sports — 12 men's and seven women's.

The basketball Tigers play before packed crowds in attractive Littlejohn Coliseum, and many of the Clemson games are telecast on either regional or national networks.

And the football Tigers, after averaging better than 58,000 at home last fall, play in a remodeled Memorial Stadium this year that will hold some 63,000 people.

McLellan earned a BS degree from Clemson in agronomy in '54 and a master's in agricultural economics in '56. He is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, S. C. They have four children — Suzy, a graduate of Winthrop College, Cliff and Bill, both students at Clemson, and Arch Anna, a freshman at Winthrop.

BOBBY ROBINSON, Assistant Athletic Director

Bobby Robinson was placed in charge of the financial aspects of the Clemson Athletic Department in 1973. Without a doubt, the friendly and personable Robinson has done an outstanding job, as any coach or administrator at Clemson will say. It is not an accident that Clemson's financial success has occurred under his guidance.

In addition to his duties as Assistant Athletic Director, Robinson is also the head golf coach at Clemson. He led the team to its first NCAA tournament bid ever and a number-12 national ranking in 1980.

Robinson came to Clemson two years after he graduated from Furman University in 1968 with a B.S. degree in Business Administration and Political Science. While at Furman, he played varsity golf for the Paladins. He was also President of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

In the two years prior to his coming to Clemson, Robinson worked in his family's business in Columbia, SC. In 1970, he was hired to work in the Student Affairs Office at Clemson. After working in that office for three years, he moved to the Athletic Department and was named Assistant to the Athletic Director in charge of business operations. Then, in 1979, he was named Assistant Athletic Director.

Robinson's responsibilities include budgeting the 19 Clemson sports, making travel arrangements for various teams, administering the grant-in-aid program, hiring athletic department personnel, arranging contracts for the department, and handling all purchases.

Robinson was born in Columbia, SC and attended A. C. Flora High School. While at that school, Robinson played basketball, football, baseball, and golf.

EARLE AMBROSE, Assistant to the Athletic Director

Earle Ambrose came to Clemson in 1973 to take over the direction of the ticket office. After serving in that capacity for six years, during which time ticket sales skyrocketed by 48%, he was promoted to the position of Assistant to the Athletic Director in 1979. In his six years of service to Clemson athletics, Ambrose has been an outstanding addition to the department and has aided the smooth distribution of tickets to Clemson sporting events.

As Assistant to the Athletic Director, his duties include overseeing the ticket operations for all Clemson sports, handling various contracts for the department, and assisting the Athletic Director in administrative functions. He also serves as the pilot for the athletic department. He has flown many teams to athletic events and has also flown coaches on recruiting missions.

Prior to his job at Clemson, Ambrose spent 30 years in the Air Force beginning in 1943 at the age of 18. He rose to the rank of Colonel. He traveled extensively overseas and saw combat duty.

Ambrose graduated from Greenville High School in his native Greenville in 1942. The 55-year old Ambrose is married to the former Betty Bradley of Greenville who is the sister of Clemson Sports Information Director, Bob Bradley. The Ambroses have two daughters and a son, Jane, Ann, and Robert.

JOE TURNER, Executive Secretary of IPTAY

When the Clemson Athletic Department began searching for a new Director of the multi-million dollar IPTAY Scholarship Club, it quickly selected Joe Turner, a man who has been a constant servant of Clemson University since he first stepped foot on the Clemson campus as an undergraduate in 1967. The Athletic Department's choice has proved to be a wise one, as IPTAY received a record 2.9 million dollars in 1979-80, Turner's first year at the helm. IPTAY is by far one of the most successful athletic scholarship fund-raising organizations in the country.

Turner's professional service to Clemson began upon the completion of his undergraduate studies in Industrial Management in 1971 when he took the position of Associate Director of Alumni Relations for Clemson. He held that position until 1978. During his service to the Alumni Association, he also completed work on his Master's degree in Management in 1977.

While in his undergraduate career, Turner was a Dean's list student. He was a member of the Blue Key and Tiger Brotherhood Honorary fraternities. He also was named to the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Turner was the President of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity in 1970-71, and after his graduation was named to the National Executive Board of that fraternity.

The 31-year-old Turner is a native of Williston, SC where he graduated from Williston-Elko High School in 1967. He is married to the former Cathy Anne Campbell of Gadsden, AL. The Turners have two children, Joseph Jackson, Jr. (7) and Anne (1).

BOB BRADLEY, Sports Information Director

In his 25 years as the Director of the Clemson Sports Information Office, Bob Bradley has become one of the most respected men in the Sports Information field. He has received every conceivable award and is recognized as a leader in his profession.

Bradley was elected to serve as the President of CoSIDA, the national organization of Sports Information Directors for 1974-75. In 1976 he was elected by his peers to the organization's Hall of Fame and received the Arch Ward award as the CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year.

Last year, under his direction, the Clemson Sports Information Department won nine awards for their brochures and press guides, the second highest total among Division I schools in the country.

Bradley graduated from Clemson University with a BS degree in textile manufacturing in 1951. During his college days, he was the editor of The Tiger, the student newspaper. As well as being the editor and sports editor of that weekly publication, Bradley also worked for the Greenville News-Piedmont on both a full-time and part-time basis. He served in the United States Air Force for four years.

The 55-year old Bradley was born in Randleman, NC. He was a graduate of Greenville Senior High School before entering Clemson. Bradley is married to the former Louise Madewell of Dallas, TX. The Bradleys have two children, Dorma, who is married and has one child, Amanda, and Robert, a sports writer for the Anderson Independent.

The 50-year old Jacksonville, FL product was trainer at Florida State, his alma mater, in '52 and '53 and again in '57 and '58. He came to Tigertown in '59, and now coordinates the medical needs for Clemson's 12 mens' and seven womens' sports programs. Hoover was trainer for the U. S. Team in the '63 Pan Am Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and was tabbed to serve on the U. S. staff at the '68 Mexico and '72 Munich Olympics. "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president. He received a BS from FSU in physical education in '53. He became a grad assistant in March of '76; was named a full time assistant in July of '76; and was appointed to his present position just one month later. His father, Samuel, is a Clemson graduate, and his two brothers — Sammy and Jim — served as student managers at Tigertown. Gough received his BTT degree in December of '74 from CU in textile technology. He is single.

VAN HILDERBRAND, Ticket Manager

Van Hilderbrand has been the ticket manager at Clemson University for only one year. Yet, in that time he has distributed a record number of season tickets for football and basketball. More people saw Clemson play at home last season than ever before and much of the credit has to be given to the ticket office for their prompt and efficient allocation of tickets under the direction of Hilderbrand.

Hilderbrand is another Clemson Athletic Department official who started out as a student assistant in the office he now heads. He came to Clemson as an undergraduate in 1970 from his native Clover, SC. He graduated from Clemson in 1974 with a B.S. degree in Recreation and Park Administration.

For two years he worked as Athletic Supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department. In 1976, he was named as assistant Ticket Manager at Clemson. Three years later, in 1979, he became the head of the ticket department.

Hilderbrand attended Clover Senior High School. He was a four year letterman in basketball and a three-year letterman in baseball. The 28-year old Hilderbrand is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover. The Hilderbrands have one son, Van, Jr. who was born December 31, 1979 the same day Clemson played in the Peach Bowl.

CLEMSON MEMORIAL STADIUM

For the past several years, the old problem of supply and demand has been causing headaches for the Clemson ticket office. With ticket demands going through the roof and only a limited amount of seats, something had to be done. The answer was the new upper deck for Clemson's Memorial Stadium.

After two years of work, and eight million dollars of capital investment, the new addition was finished. The upper deck, which makes "Death Valley" look even more ominous to visiting opponents, seats an additional 9,855 Tiger faithful. The new structure brings the total permanent seating capacity of Memorial Stadium to 53,306.

The new seats were first used in Clemson's 1978 season finale against arch-rival South Carolina when the Tigers downed the Gamecocks 41-23. Almost every possible seat was jammed with fans as the addition helped set a new Clemson attendance record of 63,050.

Last year the Tigers averaged 58,929 fans per game to establish a new school and ACC record. Three times (Georgia, Virginia and N. C. State) the crowds exceeded 61,000.

Also completed was a new section for handicapped fans. This facility is located between the South stands and the West endzone stands.

The final new structure in "Death Valley" is the press box. The new press facility is located between the upper deck and the old stands on the south side of the stadium. It is glass enclosed and fully carpeted with a special area for photographers and filming crews. There are seats for 104 writers, giving Clemson one of the most spacious press areas in the South.

School Colors and Nickname

The late William J. Latimer, a 1906 graduate of Clemson College, did some extensive research on the football program at his alma mater, and offered the following in regard to the school's nickname and colors:

Professor Walter Merritt Riggs, who coached Clemson's first varsity football team in 1896, and who also served as head coach again in 1899, is said to have "planted the seed" for the school's grid program.

In referring to the players from that first team, Latimer said, "Due to the lack of helmets and head protection they (the players) wore long hair. These long manes might have gained them the name of Lions had it not been for the orange and purple striped jerseys and stockings that resembled tigers. The latter nickname seemed to stick."

Latimer then observed about John Heisman's 1900 Clemson team: "They had been called Tigers early in their career. And Clemson used the insignia of a Tigers' head with bared fangs, with the motto 'Eat Em Up Clemson' before Heisman's day."

Latimer's findings are substantiated by the fact that Riggs had played football at Auburn (nicknamed Tigers) and that its colors were orange and blue.

The official colors of the school are Northwest Purple and Burnt Orange, with the predominant colors on today's athletic uniforms being orange and white.

Joe Sherman '34, former Clemson sports publicist, news bureau director, and director of Clemson's alumni relations, offered the following in his book, The Clemson Tigers, which was published in 1976:

"It is extremely doubtful that anyone can tell you with certainty how the Clemson colors swung from purple (and a rather pale purple, at that) and gold to what for several years was described as 'Northwestern purple and burnt orange.'

"But that the colors have changed, unofficially if not officially, is a fact and there is a story about it that is probably as good as any other explanation.

"It says that in the early years of Jess Neely's tenure, he found it almost impossible to get uniforms in purple and gold that would be 'color fast.' In other words, between constant exposure to both the weather and the washing machines, the purple and gold faded markedly and became difficult, if not impossible, to recognize for what they were supposed to be.

"So, working with professional color people in the school of textiles and with sporting goods manufacturers, Neely finally arrived at deeper colors (a slightly deeper purple and a gold that became orange) that were more color fast in that they held up better under the rays of the sun, the agitations of the washing machine and the carry-over from season to season."

Still, most people believe that the purple and orange are the true colors.

The Clemson Tiger was modified somewhat in the summer of 1970, and to separate him from the other tigers at other schools, the University adopted the Tiger Paw. The Paw did not replace the Tiger, but the two go hand-in-hand. or should we say hand-in-foot.

1980 OUTLOOK

Beginning his third year as head coach at Rice, Ray Alborn is excited about the upcoming season. For the first time in his tenure, he has some experience coming back. There are 22 seniors expected to suit up for the Owls, which is the most veterans the Houston school has had in many years. When Alborn took over in 1978, he was faced with a major rebuilding task, as well as an awesome schedule; so 2-9 and 1-10 records were not surprising. 1980, however, may well be the Owls' year, if the returning veterans and the promising newcomers are able to gel into the team Alborn thinks they can.

Alborn has installed the Veer offense for the new season, which is a change from past years when the emphasis was on the passing game. Three-year quarterback Randy Hertel may be pressured this fall for the starting nod by frosh redshirt Scott Clements, who had a good spring, and veteran Robert Hoffman.

The tight end position is held down by a potential All-American candidate. Junior Robert Huddle was one of the bright spots for the Owls in 1979, as he led the team in pass receptions. The 6-8, 280-pounder will no doubt still be a major part of the offense.

On defense, the Owls are led by senior defensive back Rickey Thomas. He has all the tools needed to be an outstanding football player. He is joined in the defensive backfield by another senior, Mike Downs. The four-year starter has the ability to become one of the stars of the SWC.

The Bulldogs dipped to a relatively disappointing 6-5 record in 1979, and are looking to improve on this mark in 1980. Nineteen starters from last year's squad are back, so things are looking a little brighter for the 1980 edition; which is Vince Dooley's 17th at the Athens school.

Missing from the Bulldog attack is quarterback Jeff Pyburn who was the starting QB for most of the season last year. In his place will be Buck Belue, a 6-1, 184-pound junior. Last season, he completed 59 passes for 719 yards. One of his favorite pass receivers will be flanker Amp Arnold who pulled in 19 passes for 300 yards. The fleet-footed senior also rushed 25 times for 165 yards for an average of 10.6 yards every time he touched the ball.

Defensively, the Bulldogs bring back nine starters from last year's squad with sophomore Nate Taylor anchoring the Junkyard Dog line. The 5-11, 198-pounder led the team in tackles in 1979 with 120 to his credit. He is joined by defensive end Pat McShea who made 87 tackles himself. Also, cornerback Scott Woerner is back for his senior season. A starter for three years, the Jonesboro native was named to various all-star teams, including third-team All-American.

The placekicking duties are handled by Rex Robinson, who already holds two SEC kicking records: most consecutive points after touchdown (65); and most career field goals (40). He is looking to extend both of these streaks in 1980.

1980 OUTLOOK

In past years, the Catamounts have been known to put the football in the air, and the 1980 season looks to be no different. Head coach Bob Waters has always been noted for liking the passing game, but he does have one problem — finding a replacement for record-setting Mike Pusey.

Pusey led the Catamounts to three consecutive winning seasons with career totals of 6,160 passing yards and 43 scoring passes. In addition he established seven Southern Conference passing and total offense records.

Sophomore Ronnie Mixon emerged from spring drills as the number-one signal caller. The 6-0, 185-pounder will be backed up by David Mashburn and Noal Templeton. "We've been delighted with the progress of Ronnie this spring," said Waters. "All he needs is some experience to become a solid player."

The wide receivers are one solid area for the WCU team. Senior Gerald Harp pulled in 57 passes for 1009 yards in 1979 to be one of the national leaders in this category. In addition to Harp, juniors Jeff Dean and Dwayne Norman will be two pass-catchers counted on heavily. Harp was named All-Southern Conference and has established five new SC marks in receiving and scoring. Dean pulled in 31 catches for 456 yards.

In 1979, the Catamounts led the nation in pass defense, yielding only 77.5 yards per game. Nine starters give the defensive unit a strong start; but a lack of depth worries Waters some. Defensive end George Alston and linebacker Ricky Smith lead the defensive attack for the Western Carolina team.

With three explosive offensive stars among the starters returning, Virginia Tech hopes to make big strides in the third season of Bill Dooley's rebuilding program.

Leading the charge for the 1980 edition of the Gobblers will be quarterback Steve Casey, wingback Sidney Snell and tailback Cyrus Lawrence, all of whom had brilliant seasons in 1979. Casey passed for 1419 yards last year and connected for 10 touchdowns. The leading receiver of his aerials was Snell, who pulled in 43 passes for 706 yards. Tailback Lawrence rushed for 791 yards to lead the ground attack for the Gobblers. If the young offensive line matures, Virginia Tech may be able to improve their slate to the winning side.

But Tech may still have some problem spots, many of them on the defensive side where three of 1979's best players graduated. On the brighter side, however, six defensive starters do return to anchor the forces, including back Jerome Pannell and linemen Lewis Stuart and Chris Cosh.

One of the strong points for Tech could be the kicking game with the return of punter Dave Smigelsky, who averaged 42.3 in 1979, and place-kicker Dennis Laury.

"I think our program is headed in the right direction," Dooley says. "We've had two good recruiting seasons in a row and we're making big strides toward establishing a winning tradition here in Blacksburg."

1980 OUTLOOK

It took Virginia coach Dick Bestwick only four seasons to make the Cavaliers a winner, and things look bright for a repeat performance in 1980. Returning to the Charlottesville campus are 39 lettermen from the 1979 squad which notched six victories, the most the Cavs have enjoyed in many years. Sixteen starters are among the returning lettermen so Bestwick can find experience at almost every position.

"V" at Virginia not only stands for victory but it also stands for Vigorito; Tommy Vigorito that is. The All-ACC performer in 1979 is expected to be a key member of the 1980 team. The 5-10, 195-pound speedster is the fourth-leading rusher in Cavalier history with 2170 yards to his credit. Running from the veer last fall, Vigorito picked up 1,044 yards to become only the third back in UVA history to go over the 1000-yard mark in a single season. Vigorito's runningmate, Greg Taylor, was also a back that made opponents wary of playing the Cavs. He picked up 933 yards himself.

Todd Kirtley returns at quarterback but is expected to have strong competition from Rich Riccardi, Bob Leone and Gordie Whitehead. Kirtley started every game last fall and racked up 1,159 yards passing and threw for six touchdowns.

Six starters return on defense, but All-ACC strong safety Tony Blount must be replaced. The linebacking corps looks to be intact with Bryan Holoman, Ken Newsome, and Jim Hyson again splitting time at the two inside linebacker positions.

Boasting a talented group of receivers, Red Wilson's Duke Blue Devils will depend on a newly-installed pro passing attack to produce more points and more victories in 1980.

Returning are last season's leading receivers — Ron Frederick and Cedric Jones — along with spring sensation Marvin Brown. The enviable task of throwing to this exceptional trio will belong to the quarterback duo of Craig Browning and Brent Clinkscale. Sophomore fullback Greg Boone adds punch to the backfield with a 4.6 yards per carry average. The offensive line, led by sophs Tim Bumgarner and Tee Moorman, will be young and untested.

Cedric Jones

Defensively, Duke will rely on an experienced front-five anchored by junior noseguard Dan Yellott and tackles F. A. Martin and Paul Heinsohn. The defensive backfield, which performed well last year, should again be a strength with the return of co-captains Dennis Tabron and Eddie Brown. Veteran punter Ricky Brummitt and placekicker Scott McKinney will give the team a consistent kicking game. For the Blue Devils, 1980 should be a year of steady improvement.

1980 OUTLOOK

Mike Quick

New Wolfpack head coach Monte Kiffin is taking a "middle of the road" approach to the upcoming season. "We've got some good athletes," says Kiffin, who succeeded the late Bo Rein at the N. C. State helm last December, "but we are a relatively young team. Our success for the 1980 season will depend a great deal on how well our young people mature."

The Wolfpack, which captured the Atlantic Coast Conference championship last fall with a 5-1 league mark and a 7-4 overall record, lost a number of key players including All-American Jim Ritcher and quarterback Scott Smith. Only nine starters and 34 lettermen are back for the 1980 edition of the Wolfpack.

On the offensive side of the field, tight end Lin Dawson and flanker Mike Quick will be keys to the offensive hopes. Quick, who is recognized as one of the top receivers in the nation, made 30 grabs for 524 yards and four touchdowns last season. Dawson netted 201 yards on 15 receptions a year ago, but his strong suit may be his blocking. Also returning on offense are tackles Chris Koehne and Chris Carr and runningback Dwight Sullivan, three proven performers who will be counted on heavily this fall. Sullivan, State's leading rusher last fall with 665 yards, will be joined in the backfield by seniors Wayne McLean and Eddie Jackson.

Defensively, the Wolfpack will have to come up with seven new starters. The strong point may be the secondary with veterans Eric Williams and Jeff Culler. Along the line junior Dennis Owens and Bubba Green will lead the defensive attack.

Jay Venuto

Head Coach John Mackovic returns a solid core of talent from last year's Tangerine Bowl squad, including All-ACC quarterback Jay Venuto and All-ACC split end Wayne Baumgardner. The Deacons, who had their first winning season in quite a few years in 1980, hope to start a winning tradition in Winston-Salem, and with the help of the incoming freshmen, should continue their success.

Offensively, in addition to Venuto and Baumgardner, key returnees include offensive guard Bill Ard, center Steve Truitt, offensive tackle Richard Baldinger. Venuto passed for 2597 yards in 1979 setting a new school record and will probably come out throwing in 1980. His favorite receiver, Baumgardner also returns for the Demon Deacons.

The big job ahead will be to find replacements for the top two running backs from last year, as career rushing leader James McDougald and full-back Albert Kirby closed their careers. The Deacs will be exceptionally young at runningback with sophomores Henderson Threatt and Carlos Cunningham as the apparent heirs at the open spots. Mackovic hopes incoming freshmen will give him added depth in the offensive backfield.

Defensively, linebacker Carlos Bradley heads up the Demon Deacons charge. He is joined by defensive ends Mike Wisher and Eddie Yarnell and defensive backs Derek Crocker, Lewis Owens, and Landon King.

1980 OUTLOOK

Lawrence Taylor

With 15 starters back from last year's Gator Bowl championship team, North Carolina could be an even stronger football team in 1980.

Coach Dick Crum's Tar Heels posted an 8-3-1 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference, and a 17-15 win over Michigan in the Gator Bowl.

The Tar Heels are led by Amos Lawrence. The senior tailback, who was hampered by groin injuries last season, may be a key to Tar Heel hopes for 1980. When he is healthy, Lawrence may well be the best running back in college football. Going into his senior season, Lawrence has more career rushing yardage (3,273) than any other active player in the nation. Despite being hampered by injuries, he still has rushed for three straight 1,000-yard seasons.

Leading the way for Lawrence is an offensive line that features Ron Wooten, a potential all-star candidate himself. The 6-4, 260-pounder was a second-team All-America last year and should be a strong candidate for post-season honors again. In addition to Wooten, center Rick Donnalley, guard Mark Sugg and tackle Mike Marr also return for Carolina.

Eight starters are back for the defense including outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor, tackle Donnell Thompson, linebacker Darrell Nicholson, and free safety Steve Streater. All have the ability to be among the best in the country at their position. The other two returning starters up front are outside linebacker Calvin Daniels and tackle John Brugos.

Clemson simplified its offense and ran straight up the middle of the Bulldog defense for a 12-7 victory. Marvin Sims had his best day ever in a Tiger uniform as he ran for 146 yards off 25 carries. The Tiger defense was awesome, keeping Georgia off the scoreboard until the last nine seconds of the game.

Oct. 6 Virginia at Clemson

Weather Sunny, 65°

Clemson continued its overland assault between the tackles with a 17-7 win over Virginia. Lester Brown ran for two touchdowns, while the defense held Virginia's "Century Twins" (Tommy Vigorito and Greg Taylor) to 153 yards. The Cavaliers only had one sustained drive, and that led to their fourth quarter touchdown.
