Display Description

Everyone loves a good children's book!

We currently have a display of some great titles - many of which are award-winners - on our new display shelving, located just to the right of the Information Services Desk on the 4th floor of Cooper Library. Come by and check something out!

And, if you frequently browse or check out children's books from the Libraries' collection, we want your opinion!

At the moment, we have two separate collections of children's materials – one housed at Cooper Library and one in the Tillman Media Center. Do you like the collections separated, as they currently are? Should the books be combined and moved to one place? If so, which place? Let us know what you think by filling out this brief survey, either in person (paper surveys are located at both Cooper Library and the Tillman Media Center) or online.
