10-3-1947

State Employee Salaries Will Only Be Cut as a Last Resort

Strom Thurmond

Follow this and additional works at: https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/strom

Materials in this collection may be protected by copyright law (Title 17, U.S. code). Use of these materials beyond the exceptions provided for in the Fair Use and Educational Use clauses of the U.S. Copyright Law may violate federal law.

For additional rights information, please contact Kirstin O'Keefe (kokeefe [at] clemson [dot] edu)

For additional information about the collections, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl [at] clemson [dot] edu

Recommended Citation
Thurmond, Strom, "State Employee Salaries Will Only Be Cut as a Last Resort" (1947). Strom Thurmond Collection, Mss100. 115.
https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/strom/115

For additional information about the collection, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl [at] clemson [dot] edu

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Manuscript Collections at TigerPrints. It has been accepted for inclusion in Strom Thurmond Collection, Mss100 by an authorized administrator of TigerPrints. For more information, please contact kokeefe@clemson.edu.
I have been widely quoted in the press as saying that if departments run over their budgets it would be necessary to cut salaries of state employes. This statement is not quite correct. It is the duty of the state budget commission, of which I am a member, to see that the departments operate within their budgets. If it appears that departments are going to exceed their budgets, they will have to effect economies.

Every possible economy will be made before salaries are touched. It is a fact which gives me deep concern that state employes are not overpaid in these high-priced times. No salaries will be cut except as an absolutely last resort.