HONORARY DEGREE
JERRY EDWARD DEMPSEY
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Jerry Edward Dempsey, a native of Landrum, has always had a head for business. As a youth, he demonstrated his keen business sense when he started a small poultry business selling broilers to his neighbors.

With that spirit and initiative, Dempsey enrolled in Clemson University to pursue a Mechanical Engineering Degree, which he received in 1954. He later obtained an MBA from Georgia State University and attended the executive seminar at the Aspen Institute of Humanistic Studies.

Dempsey once said, "As early as I can remember, my dream was to run a major U.S. corporation." His career has been a testament to that dream. Dempsey began at Borg-Warner Corporation, where he spent 26 years progressing from student engineer to president and chief operating officer.

In 1984, he joined Waste Management (previously WMX Technologies) as vice chairman and was named senior vice president of the company a year later. In 1986, Dempsey was named president and CEO of Chemical Waste Management, a subsidiary of Waste Management.

He joined PPG Industries Inc. in 1993 as board chairman and chief executive officer, retiring in 1997.

Dempsey has served on the board of several corporations. He is currently a member of the board of directors of Eastman Chemical Company, Birmingham Steel Corporation and Navistar International Corporation. He is a former board chairman of Chicago's Adler Planetarium. He was a director of Business Roundtable; National Association of Manufacturers; Allegheny Conference on Community Development; United Way of Southwestern Pennsylvania; The Carnegie, where he was also chairman of the Carnegie Science Center; Pittsburgh Symphony Society; and the Duquesne Club. Dempsey is a director of the Greenville Country Club and the Greenville Symphony. He is an elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dempsey's ties to Clemson have remained strong. He is currently a member of the Dean's Advisory Board of the Clemson School of Engineering and the President's Advisory Council. He was inducted into the Academy of Distinguished Clemson Engineers in 1995, and he received Clemson's President's and Alumni Distinguished Service awards. He was co-chair of the Commission on the Future of Clemson University and is currently co-chair of the corporate committee for Clemson's capital campaign.

His many honors and awards included the Horatio Alger Award, the Anti-Defamation League American Heritage Award and Financial World magazine's service-business-CEO-of-the-year Bronze Award. Dempsey received recognition as business leader of the year in Oak Brook, Illinois, during his tenure at Waste Management-Chemical Waste Management. He was named to the Business Hall of Fame for Southwestern Pennsylvania in 1997 and is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in the World.

In recognition of his dedication to his profession and his service to Clemson University, it is with great honor and pleasure that we present the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, to Jerry Edward Dempsey.
The Academic Procession

The Academic procession is composed of the faculty, staff, officers, trustees, and honored guests of the University. Faculty enter by college and each college is preceded by its marshal, a senior faculty member, with the college baton, described under University Regalia.

The college banners are placed on the stage. Each banner is a combination of colors that declare the disciplines taught in that college. These colors, which were established by the American Council on Education, are as follows:

Collegiate faculty follow their marshal in order of academic rank wearing academic costumes of medieval origin. Those who have received their degrees from institutions outside the United States wear costumes specified by the awarding institutions.

The academic costumes of faculty whose degrees are from United States’ institutions are specified by a uniform code maintained by the American Council on Education. Caps are black and are usually mortar boards with tassels. Doctors of Philosophy wear gold tassels usually of metallic thread; other degrees wear black or discipline colors.

The bachelor’s gown is simple and black with long, pointed sleeves. Masters’ gowns, also black, are longer than bachelors. Older gowns have sleeves that terminate at the elbow while those since 1960 have sleeves extended to the wrist. Doctors’ gowns are full, with bell-like sleeves. The front is marked by velvet panels and the sleeves are marked by three velvet bars. While most gowns are black with black velvet, one variation is to replace black velvet with velvet in the discipline color. A second variation is a colored gown usually of the university’s colors.

All hoods specify the level of degree, the type of discipline studied and the awarding institution. First, degree level is signified by the size of the hood with bachelors’ smallest, masters’ larger, and doctors’ quite large and of a different shape. Clemson does not award hoods to bachelors. The width of the velvet trim also conveys the degree. Secondly, the degree is indicated by the color of the trim edging the hood to form the throat over the gown. The most frequently seen is dark blue, which designates the doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.) degree. Finally, the color of the hood’s lining specifies the awarding institution. The colors are displayed in combinations that are drawn from heraldry. Notice that the Clemson University hood is lined with purple through which is an orange chevron (a “V”). Although many combinations are duplicated by dozens of institutions, Clemson is presently the only institution with that registered combination.

The officers, trustees, and honored guests wear academic, ecclesiastical, or military regalia as set forth by their professions. They are preceded by the University Marshal. Clad in a gown of office in gold and purple, the marshal wears no hood and bears the University mace. At the ceremony’s close, the faculty do not exit as a part of the recessional but are dismissed, along with students and guests, when the marshal leaves the coliseum.
The University Regalia

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic clublike shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's prehistory. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of carnelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and carnelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by the late Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

Magna cum laude: A grade point ratio of 3.70 to 3.89

Summa cum laude: A grade point ratio of 3.90 to 4.00

+Departmental Honors: The graduates so designated have completed an enriched program of study designed by their departments with the approval of the Calhoun College Honors Program. To earn Departmental Honors students must complete an honors thesis and/or other upper division honors courses, while maintaining an overall grade-point ratio of 3.40 or higher. Departmental Honors graduates appear in the line of march wearing the Calhoun College Honors Medallion on an orange and purple ribbon. This medallion is made possible by an endowment established by Mrs. Katherine Inabinet Vickery of Columbia, South Carolina, to honor the memory of her husband and Clemson graduate, the late B.C. Inabinet.

Students wearing the white stoles over their gowns are members of honorary societies that require a minimum 3.00 grade point ratio for membership. The stoles have the University seal embroidered on one side, and on the other side are the emblem(s) of honorary societies in which the student is a member.
Awards

NORRIS MEDAL

First awarded at Clemson University in 1908, the Norris Medal was established under the terms of the will of the Honorable D. K. Norris, a life trustee of this institution. The medal is given each year to the graduating student who, on the basis of exceptional scholastic achievement and leadership ability, is judged by the University Scholarships and Awards Committee to be the best all-around student.

All recipients of the Norris Medal have their names affixed to a bronze plaque mounted at the front entrance of Sikes Hall.

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; however, circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affaires to Belgium, 1844-1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has six major academic units. These are the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences, the College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities, the College of Business and Public Affairs, the College of Engineering and Science, the College of Health, Education, and Human Development, and the Graduate School.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.
CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness, Where the Tigers play;

Here the sons of dear old Clemson Reign supreme alway.

Chorus
Dear old Clemson, we will triumph And with all our might,

That the Tiger's roar may echo O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests, For our past is grand,

And her sons have fought and conquered Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur O'er the hill and dale.

Here the Tiger lair is nestling Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood, For we work and strive;

And our alma mater reigneth Ever in our lives.
Note: Candidates appearing in this program are not certified graduates. Likewise, academic honors designations are based upon performance prior to final grades. Both certification of graduation and honors designations must come from the Registrar of the University.
