I can speak only as a member of the Democratic Party of South Carolina.

Our State Convention adopted a platform and declared the party's principles. Along with the overwhelming majority of the people of South Carolina, I stood for, fought for, and voted for those principles.

I do not know what kind of a meeting is being talked about, but I do not believe that any individual or group can compromise or surrender that platform and those principles, especially some one or more individuals who stood for something else.

I would be glad for the National Democratic Party leadership to return to the Democratic Party's traditional principles.
