

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

By Governor J. Strom Thurmond

1. Obedience to the laws of the community, the state, and the nation.
2. Honesty in all matters of whatever importance.
3. Energy in the discharge of responsibilities.
4. Courage to stand by principles.
5. Courtesy in considering the rights of others.
6. Patriotism in all matters affecting one's country.
7. Training in the history of democratic principles, in the application of those principles today, and in the meaning of the United States Constitution.
8. Love for youth, and respect for the role of young people in public affairs.
9. Leadership in matters affecting the welfare of citizens.
10. Fear of God as the final court of judgment.