10-5-1950

American Newspaperboy Day

Strom Thurmond

Follow this and additional works at: https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/strom

Materials in this collection may be protected by copyright law (Title 17, U.S. code). Use of these materials beyond the exceptions provided for in the Fair Use and Educational Use clauses of the U.S. Copyright Law may violate federal law.

For additional rights information, please contact Kirstin O'Keefe (kokeefe [at] clemson [dot] edu)

For additional information about the collections, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl [at] clemson [dot] edu

Recommended Citation
Thurmond, Strom, "American Newspaperboy Day" (1950). Strom Thurmond Collection, Mss100. 1053.
https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/strom/1053

For additional information about the collection, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl [at] clemson [dot] edu

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Manuscript Collections at TigerPrints. It has been accepted for inclusion in Strom Thurmond Collection, Mss100 by an authorized administrator of TigerPrints. For more information, please contact kokeefe@clemson.edu.
A PROCLAMATION
(American Newspaperboy Day - Oct. 6, 1950)

WHEREAS, the work of the newspaperboy is one of the finest ways in which an American boy can learn the rules of honesty, reliability, courtesy, initiative, and thrift, which are so necessary to success in life, and

WHEREAS, thousands of successful Americans have started their careers as newspaperboys, from Benjamin Franklin, America's first newspaper carrier, to modern public figures such as General Omar Bradley, military hero; Benjamin Fairless, head of U. S. Steel; A. B. Chandler, the baseball "czar," and many others, and

WHEREAS, the newspaperboy is an important link in the great effort of gathering and publishing the news, an activity which is so necessary to inform public opinion in a democracy,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, J. Strom Thurmond, Governor of the State of South Carolina, do hereby designate and proclaim the day of Friday, October 6th, 1950, as NEWSPAPERBOY DAY in this State, and I call upon our people to recognize the important contribution to our American way of life of the energetic and valiant newspaperboy.

Given under my hand and seal this 6th day of October, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Fifty.

J. Strom Thurmond, Governor