Note: Please report citations for publications by the membership—to include scholarship, reviews, criticism, essays, and any other published works which would benefit the membership to read. You may submit citations on behalf of yourself or other members to Kurt Blythe at [kcblythe@email.unc.edu. Contributions on behalf of fellow members will be cleared with the author(s) before they are printed. Include contact information with submissions.]

Readers! We have scholarship and recognized excellence in the evaluation thereof!

Diane Jacobson, serials librarian at Marshall B. Ketchum University, along with her coworker, Michelle Schonken, lead the Whitelist Working Group and Whitelist Reviewers of the Association of Vision Science Librarians (AVSL). In July, the group was awarded the 2020 Medical Library Association Louise Darling Medal for Distinguished Achievement in Collection Development in the Health Sciences. The AVSL Whitelist of Vision Science Journals includes journals in the fields of vision science, optometry, and ophthalmology that have been evaluated and identified as non-predatory. The Whitelist is updated monthly and is available on the AVSL website here.

Regina Reynolds from the Library of Congress and Diane Boehr, head, cataloging and metadata management section, National Library of Medicine, just had an article published in Cataloging & Classification Quarterly: “CONSER: The Very Model of a Modern Cooperative Program”
