Lafaye to Be Business Manager

According to an official announcement from Tom E. Stanley, retiring editor, Vernon McTyne Shell, Jr. of Asheville, N.C. will edit the Tiger for 1938-39.

J. R. Harrison of Georgetown and J. O. Sweeney will serve as Associate Editors and W. L. Lafaye of Columbia will act as Business Manager.

Capable Men

Shell, a major in architecture, left school the end of the first semester of ’37 to accept a position in the textile business. He will get his business manager on necessary art work with Mr. Littlejohn, college foreman.

M. G. B. Rivenbark, a major in architecture, left school the end of the first semester of ’37 to accept a position in the textile business.

LAFAYETTE'S TROWEL

The cornerstone for Clemson’s new textile building yesterday at noon is the same one that was used by the Marquis de Lafayette in laying the cornerstone for the monument to Baron de Kalb at Camden.

LEADERS: Four of Clemson’s major positions will be held by W. F. Durban, V. M. Shell, R. W. Rivenbark, and J. O. Sweeney. Durban (top left) of Aiken will edit 'The Tiger'; Clemson’s official weekly publication, for 1939. Shell (top right) of Asheville will edit the 1939 Taps, Clemson’s yearbook. Rivenbark (bottom left) of Marion will head the Central Dance Association; and Sweeney (bottom right) will hold the position of Senior Class president.

Cornerstone Rites Conducted

The cornerstone for Clemson’s new textile building, the largest textile school in the United States, was laid yesterday under the direction of the South Carolina Masons, with Deputy Grand Master R. M. Martin officiating. Grand Master Walter F. Goings, of Columbia, delivered the Grand Master’s address.

The Masons assembled in the McGill Hall, and headed by the Carpenters, Dr. Sisson, Col. Weeks, the cornerstone committee, and other college officials, marched to the site of the partially completed hall, where the Grand Lodge officials, college officials, distinguished guests, the guests, the band, were seated on the first floor of the building. With the Cadet Corps, and the guests, the band, were seated on the first floor of the building.

The cornerstone is the center of attention, over the state, and many other visitors laying on the impressives were en an item, and the massive block was placed in its niche to commemorate for future generation.

SWEENEY HEADS SENIOR CLASS

By Earl Max

Climaxing an unusually hard fought political campaign, Clemson’s rising senior class yesterday elected J. O. Sweeney, of Anderson, president; over Ellicott Johnson of Newberry.

Complete Election Results

President-J. O. Sweeney, 153
Vice President-Watson Magee, 142; C. Woods, 129
Secretary-Treasurer-J. F. Brailsford, 140; R. H. Keitt, 129
Historian-J. C. Cantey, 209; N. R. Page, 62
Election campaigning began some weeks ago when the non-ROTC juniors met and decided to back Sweeney. The non-ROTC group’s leaders, "therefore our ranks are swelling, and there is no reason why we shouldn’t have some voice in the student government.”

Another from this group explained their organization: “Many of us who do not happen to be in the army are as much interested in the well-being of Clemson as any army man, yet thus far we have been kept from participating in the college’s activities because we don’t wear khaki or diamond on our shoulders. After all, many of us are here for the education, and that the military, as far as Clemson is primarily a college, we see no reason to remain subjected to the military students.”

Another said, “We’re holding no grudges, as so many rumors have it; we just want a part in the student activities of the college, and we see no way for gaining this other than banding together.”

The ROTC blue, outnumbering the Tiger blue by 22, met Tuesday night to attempt. They decided to put this resolution before all the classes, and said the candidate’s army affiliations, vote for the man who you think has the best record.”

Tom Stafford, outgoing senior president, deplored the fact that the split “should come between the army and non-army students. Position is desirable but this form is dangerous. It may bring about some disastrous results in the future,” he said.

The results show a split ticket winner. Two ROTC men and two non’s are elected.
NEW DEAL

Prior to the large enrollment of the class which entered Clemson in the Fall of '30, those boys who were members of the R. O. T. C. were generally students who did not care to make a record or enter into the activities in the College. These non-R. O. T. C. students had outgrown the need of frequent changes, changes which we believe have done more to destroy the Army life than any other cause. It was the Army life itself that was to blame for the fact that a great many of these men appointed to succeed the Army and it was due to their own inferiority that they were thrown out.

Today the conditions have changed drastically. With the enrollment increasing so rapidly each year and the allotment for men having been drastically reduced, much credit is due the army officials for the way they have handled the situation. A great deal of credit is due the army officials for their ceaseless work in attaining the Army leadership because they lack military training and far above the average.

At least there is another aspect to the situation. There seems to be a set rule, which no doubt has its advantages formerly, that only the students who rated in military were chosen as candidates for participation in other various extra-curricular activities. That rule must now be broken and the students of the non-R. O. T. C. group recognized for the boys in that group are no longer the students to be looked upon because they are wearing a uniform. There are many boys who would make good leaders but are barred from positions of leadership because they are not members of the military standing. The importance placed on this type of rating must be lessened.

Show them the same partiality shown to the army boys and they will show to the school's advantage along with the best.

The Tiger wishes to commend those students responsible for the present move to give these boys an equal representation and chance in the college activities.—T. O. L.

BLUE RIDGE

Every summer several students from Clemson interested in developing their religious thinking and learning to live so as to get the most out of life, turn to Blue Ridge in the mountains of North Carolina for a ten-day student Y conference. Schools from all over the South are represented here; it is where, once a year, representatives of southern youth assemble. Last year 500 boys and girls of various denominations gathered and the group, which has been enjoyed for ten days. Many students who have attended these conferences have said that it was the richest experience of their lives.

Blue Ridge has served to train and inspire many of Clemson's former Y. M. C. A. leaders as well as those interested in understanding and working for the aims of the "Y." The attendance, however, is not limited to "Y" council and cabinet members but anyone interested in attending the conference is asked to confer with Mr. Hoffsommer. —T. R. Y.

ON THE UP-BEAT

With "Tricky" Owens

It was rather disappointing to miss Junior-Senior and all the other events (such as inspection) which take place on the campus during last week-end, but then it would have been more disappointing to have missed the Kentucky Derby. Fortunately I didn't have very much money to lose. Just to show what luck I have—I bet on Stage hand to come in last, since he was the favorite, and he was scratched beforehand. Why don't somebody tell me these things? A combination newsman and companion would be useful. "Ay tanked—gone home," snumbled the sound Brenda. Many think black shoes, but banana skins make the best slipper. Where there's will there's a solution. Twelve make a dozen, so a very few for a million... Bring on for a nice afternoon's entertainment: so-far and no farther. Many still think that syntax is something you have to pay for housing... Of course you've heard of the ravenous midshipman who was eating pig's heads and all at once his eyes jumped out on his face before he discovered his mistake. There was the dead and dumb man who had a nightmare and broke all his knuckles on the bedstead scratching... An absent-minded burglar went to Hollywood to rob a bank and broke into the movies... There are a lot of girls who don't get any fun playing the game of love unless it's for money... In Europe they are trying to work out such other... My tale is told, another is oversees... I think I'll go home to supper.

LAST FLASH

For the benefit of all those people who think that Oscar is either Thomas Q. Stanes, Stign Senior, Vernon Shell or Russ Waters, we wish to announce that the man who has brought you the gossip of the campus in such a clever fashion during the past year has been pass, other than that name, super-smooth. D. H. Chaney's plan to head a group of men with the horsewhips and duel-prepared has brought you the latest news... Of course this is not enough; you've heard that brilliant column which is not limited to "Y" council and cabinet members but anyone interested in attending the conference is asked to confer with Mr. Hoffsommer. —T. The Clemson Y History

An Interesting One

Clemson's Young Men's Christian Association was organized in 1894 by M. F. S. Brockman, State Secretary, and Dr. T. P. Harrison, then of Clemson's English department, and a few of the cadet corps. The membership was small, though some of the most outstanding students were interested.

The meeting was held in the College Chapel on Sunday evening, attended by a small group of aspirants and some of the faculty.

These striving to build up a successful Young Men's Christian Association were rather looked down upon by the student body as a whole. Unfortunately no record was found of these early workers in the interest of this important phase of college life. We are unable even to find who were the officers during these first years. Yes, however, we have their reward in the Clemson Y.M.C.A.'s CHRISTIANITY OF TODAY.

With the increased effort on the part of the Y in recent years, the organization grew year by year. Small societies were conducted, the first one of importance being given to the freshmen class in September of 1902.

The first mention of the Y in the college annual, then known as "The Oscott," was made in the issue for the session of 1904.

The session of 1904-05 marked a great step for the Y. It is thought that the Y. M. C. A. is now concerned in having some kind of summer camp meeting for its youth. For many years the denominations neglected the training of their youth. Now in the vicinity of Blue Ridge may be found the Presbyterians at Montreat, the Baptists at Ridge Crest, the Methodists at Junaluska, the Episcopalians at Kamas and the Associate Reformed Presbyterians at Bun Clarks, Kamas and Montreat.

If a young collegian wants to attend camp meeting and not pay, no parent could make a better investment than to help him to go. No church will miss such an expenditure; no benevolence will give you a greater return for your money. This year there is no place to go, but instead the student who wants to make a trip to the camp meeting may go by special train. You do not wish to do that? Then seek the testimony of those who are students in the years gone by but have not failed to appreciate the work of the Y. M. C. A.

Evaluating Y Work

By M. F. S. Brockman

The "Y" is most valuable to the college because it provides the nucleus of the religious and social life of the student body. It is an organization which stands for the development of two great essentials for success in any profession - leadership and a good personality.

The "Y" is a college education is a training in a hundred different ways. Some of the most outstanding students have contributed its share to the training of their youth. Now, in the vicinity of Blue Ridge may be found the Presbyterians at Montreat, the Baptists at Ridge Crest, the Methodists at Junaluska, the Episcopalians at Kamas and the Associate Reformed Presbyterians at Bun Clarks, Kamas and Montreat.

The Young Men's Christian Association has made and is making an invaluable contribution to Clemson College in the building of Christian character and the quickening of the religious life of the campus.

In addition it has provided highly desirable cultural and recreational facilities. It wields a fine influence in the college community. It is the center of our campus activities and from it radiates a wholesome influence which is not felt only locally, but penetrates far distant places through the lives of the young men touched by its leaders, its program and its activities.

In the spring of 1913, Dr. R. N. Brackett made it known that he would be glad to assist with funds. Dr. Weatherford's assistant at this time was J. E. F. during the World War. In the fall of 1913, Dr. R. N. Brackett succeeded Dr. Weatherford as chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Four group meetings were held and a large fire place was provided for the building of Y. M. C. A. The new building was completed during my Sophomore year. Students coming stores that time cannot realize what an addition of this building has meant to them. It has made the Y. M. C. A. a more religious organization. The institution is now a center for both religious and social life of the college community, has added the flavor of a wholesome, spiritual and religious atmosphere.

As these years passed, some students received degrees in various fields of study and faculty groups. Almost every other week during the school year the cabin was used by a Freshman dormitory and a few similar groups.

B-1 Team Wins

Trailing The Tigers

By Watson Magee

Saidly we contemplate the gradual closing of the year of sports at Clemson College. Indeed is the thought of the graduation and subsequent loss of the fine boys and good athletes that may be playing fields of the South. The proverbial silver lining of the grey cloud, is the brightening thought of their continued representation of the school as capable citizens, upright men, and courageous leaders in whatever path fate directs their steps.

We heartily salute and praise the privilege of having such fine young men who are leaving the folds of Block "C" for a fairly cold (Wife's told) winter. The football team says good-bye to Capt. Harold Lewis, Al't. Captain A. Sanders, King-King Bryant, T. S. McConnell, Duane Wiley, Oliver Paylor, Fred and Reid Pickett. The Basketball Team wishes success to the careers of Captain Bob Cheves and Al't. Ed Kitchens. While from the baseball team goes the good wishes of Bob Haywood, Al'Polar, Reid Pickett, and "Big" Crayton. The Track Boys won't see the figures of Captain Kenneth and "Erie" Dobbs on the Clemson Track again. And our boxer's must fight without Captain Russ Dorn, Pop Murray, Rob Jones, and Bill Delice.

Walter and There

"Little Block" Calhoun came through at Clinton to draw down the State Record with a splendid 4:24.8. It just made the last 200 yds. with only one glory, having lacked off one at the turn. Clemson did not have a javelin man to qualify in the event. You hear about the man who didn't qualify in the pole vault, jumped alternately since the meet.

The Unlimited Fight

Wednesday, May 4th, the Clemson cadets wrote finis to the careers of a group of cadets but the week didn't end with the one. The Tiger Press was witness to the exciting battle for the Unlimited Championship. The event was shaped by K. O.'s, before Brady took him in the semi-finals and Pruitt in the finals to win his weight. The unlimited fight, taking on the elements of a grudge match, was won by W. P. Brady. Winner of the Unlimited Championship was a representative of Co. A-2. The event of the meet was the Unlimited Fight. The Bout between the two apprentices was the best of the night and the most exciting. The Unlimited Fight was fought in the semi-finals and Pruitt in the finals to win his weight.

The Tigers who came through were W. P. Brady, W. P. Bradford, and Lyle Boykin.

Clemson Directs Successful Tourney

The Block "C" Club crowned the intramural boxing champions in the field Tuesday night, May 19. The matches took place in the large and well-lighted gymnasium. The bouts were fast and furious with leather thimbles that combined both polish and savage slugging. As predicted, Bob Crater and his varsity men were well pleased with the ability shown by some of the fighters, and the outcome will probably see some of them in action against outside competition next season.

The winning team, representing Co. B-3, was composed of T. W. Ellison, W. P. Bradford, H. G. Bradley, and L. K. Yarld. These boys came through in fine style to total enough points to carry off the meet. In the 112 pound class B. L. Knight fought a well-pitched battle to overcome the good left hand exhibited by N. R. Page to win by knock-out. Knight beat Bredlove in the semi-finals and then K. O.'s Page to win his decision and take the 112 pound championship as a representative of Co. A-2.

The crowd whetted by this knock-out, waited expectantly for the finals to come. In the 120 pound class, only to learn that Gullick, R. L. Hare's opponent, was forced to default because of a broken thumb sustained in the previous match. Gullick then defeated Lapham and won by default to win the 120 pound championship as a representative of Co. A-2. The evening's entertainment of the spectators was rewarded in the 130 pound match when W. P. Bradford whipped the champ. Bradford won over Gullick by default to win the 130 pound title.

In the 140 and 150 pound class, two fighting brothers, W. P. and H. G. Bradley dominated their division and fought their way past plenty of tough opposition to win the titles. W. P. Brady showed a smooth form to defeat Pritchet, Webster, and Boyd, and will be the champion in the 140 pound division. H. G. Bradley showed a smooth form to defeat Pritchet, Webster, and Boyd, and will be the champion in the 150 pound division. In the 160 and 170 pound class, the winners were Eddy, W. P. Bradford. Eddy defeated Burkett, K. L. Redman by a decision to win the 160 pound division. K. L. Redman was given the decision in the 170 pound class.
