1-6-1955

Statement on Eisenhower's State of the Union address, 1955

Strom Thurmond

Follow this and additional works at: https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/strom

Materials in this collection may be protected by copyright law (Title 17, U.S. code). Use of these materials beyond the exceptions provided for in the Fair Use and Educational Use clauses of the U.S. Copyright Law may violate federal law.

For additional rights information, please contact Kirstin O'Keefe (kokeefe[at]clemson[dot]edu)

For additional information about the collections, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl[at]clemson[dot]edu

Recommended Citation

For additional information about the collection, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl[at]clemson[dot]edu

This Radio Messages is brought to you for free and open access by the Manuscript Collections at TigerPrints. It has been accepted for inclusion in Strom Thurmond Collection, Mss100 by an authorized administrator of TigerPrints. For more information, please contact kokeefe@clemson.edu.
Statement by Senator Thurmond on State of Union Message of the President, Jan. 6, 1955

I believe that most Americans will agree generally with the President in his statements that the United States must remain strong and in a state of preparedness. Of course, his statement that "we must be willing to use the processes of negotiation" is correct. In this way we can strive to maintain the peace so long as other nations are willing to negotiate in good faith.

I cannot agree with the President's request for a more flexible parity program. I favor full 90 per cent parity.

While the President called for no tax reductions at this time, I feel that some larger exemptions, such as proposed last year, should be given to taxpayers in the lower income brackets. However, I believe at the same time we should seek to move nearer toward a balanced budget by the process of carefully examining all requests for appropriations and cutting out waste where it can be detected and eliminating unnecessary expenditures as they are discovered.

As the various proposals are made in detail, I shall consider them individually and cast my votes according to what I consider the best interests of South Carolina and the nation.