Senator Strom Thurmond (D-SC) today endorsed the work of the Greenville County Safety Council in these words:

"The Greenville County Safety Council is to be highly commended for its leadership in attacking traffic problems and supporting a program to foster accident prevention. The churches and ministers will render a fine service in reaching the people and deserve to be commended for their special interest in making the initial presentation to the public. This program should be of great benefit to Greenville County and our state, and will possibly set a pattern for the nation. It is my hope that this worthy undertaking will be successful, and I feel that it deserves the support of all professional, social, fraternal, and civic organizations, as well as every public-spirited individual, in its endeavor to accomplish its worthy goal."
