

STATEMENT BY SENATOR STROM THURMOND RE LITTLE ROCK, MAY 8, 1958

It appears that the end of the school term in Little Rock has given the President an excuse to abide by the Constitution for at least the summer vacation period.

Calling out the troops to Little Rock was the greatest blunder of this Administration, and surely it will not be led into the same trap again by the prodding of the NAACP and other integrationists who were willing to override the Constitution to attain their goal.
