January 12th 1863

My dear Sir, I received your letters & sent to Hyattsville for you, but you have not appeared so I fear, not finding a man, you may decide to return home before doing so, & write a few lines, in haste, to beg you in all events, (if not inconvenient,) to come here, as tired of delay, & fearing he may be sent of, before I can see him, I have determined to return with you, & try my chance there, as I have heard some have done successfully. — If then you can come I am all ready & will not detain you. I don't stop to thank you now for all your kind efforts for me but rest assured I deeply feel all I owe you

Florence joins me in much love

Yours truly

Anna C. Ellwood
