Tigers Win from Carolina by Score of 4 to 2.

Entire Team Gave “Rat” Farmer Good Support. All of the Scores Bunched in Second Inning.

On March 30th, in the first game of the season on the Campus, Carolina was defeated to the tune of 4 to 2. This was the first time Carolina has engaged Clemson in an athletic contest since the football squabble five years ago; so naturally, the Tigers went into the game determined to win. The game throughout was marked by a friendly but spirited rivalry which showed that the old feeling of hatred had all disappeared. The game passed off very quietly, showing that Bailey is as popular an umpire as ever.

For Clemson, Capt. Bissel played his usual pretty game behind the bat, fielding several hard fouls and cutting off in league style several runners to second.

Carolina had the hat first. The first man popped out to the third baseman, the second flew out to center, and the third man was thrown out at first. Lee came up first for Clemson, but was thrown out at first. McPadden followed, and got his base on balls, stole second, and was thrown out on third. Lykes flew out to right field.

Second inning: Perrin struck out, the next man got to first, Rembert then knocked a hot liner to LeFar Bissell on third, who stabbed it in fine style and threw it to first, catching the runner off his base. It was in the second inning that Clemson got in her good work. Tom Robinson, Barxsdale, “Ossie” Bissell and LeFar Bissell, running in four scores in rapid succession. In this inning, Carolina took her.

Our theses are coming to be nearer all-absorbing, since from this time forward they will take up the spare minutes of us all, except a few favored ones whose calling we dare not mention for fear of exciting undue envy.

Mr. Westling, representing the apprentice department of the Allis-Chalmers works was here last week. He spoke to the engineering students of the Senior class, giving a very interesting talk upon the work and works of the company he represents. He wants a half dozen of Clemson's graduating class to enter the student department of the company which he represents.

The Track Meet between Clemson and Georgia, at Athens, was as good as could be expected considering the team which the Clemson boys had to go up against. Georgia had her full team back this season, with the addition of about six or seven good men who could not go into meets last year.

On account of the bad weather the track was very slow; and this was a drawback to the Clemson runners as they found it difficult to keep on their feet, while the Georgia boys being used to the track, easily won most of the races.

Notwithstanding this, the teams broke even as to first and third prizes, each team taking away six firsts and six thirds.

The Clemson team showed up in good form and they ought to make things extremely interesting for Tech, South Carolina and North Carolina in their meets with these colleges.

For Clemson and Lipshutz for Georgia were star performers for their respective teams—Furtick scoring 19 points for Clemson and Lipshutz running up 18 for Georgia, each man having three firsts and a second, with an additional third for Furtick.

Spratt and Warren also proved “Jomahs” for Georgia, Spratt easily taking the high jump and making good time for first place in the high hurdles.

Warren proved himself to be an emergency man of the first order. Clemson was handicapped as to entries for the broad jump, and all hope of gaining points in this event were given up before the meet; however it was decided to put in.
the lucky, self-confident, all energy Warren, although he had never before practiced for this event. Besides taking first place in this he captured third in the 220 yard dash and 220 yard low hurdles.

The following men by their fast clean work also deserve mention:

For Georgia—K. Smith, Y. B. Smith, Arrendale, Raoul and McCaffrey.

For Clemson—Harris, Gardner, Wyman and Roseborough.

The Clemson team is loud in their praise of the treatment tendered them by their opponents, and each and every man longs for next spring to come when they can reciprocate at Clemson the treatment to the Georgia team. The following records were made in the meet:

100 yards dash—first, Lipshutz, Georgia; second, K. Smith, Georgia; third, B. Smith, Georgia. Time 10 1-5 seconds.

Shot put—first, Furtick, Clemson, 36.5 ft.; second, Arrendale, Georgia; third, Gardner, Clemson.

Hammer throw (16 pounds)—first, Arrendale, Georgia, 109.05 ft.; second, Furtick, Clemson, 104.05 ft.; third, Lewis, Georgia, 101.35 ft.

High Jump—first, Spratt, Clemson, 5 ft 2 in; second, K. Smith, Georgia; third, Draper and Smith, Georgia. Time 28 seconds.

Running broad jump—first, Warren, Clemson; second, Lipshutz, Georgia; third, Furtick, Clemson. Distance 20 feet.

Half mile run—first, Raoul, Georgia; second, Harris, Clemson; third, Regan, Georgia. Time 2.15.

High hurdles—first, Spratt, Clemson; second, Allen and Roseborough. Time, 19 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—first, Lewis, Georgia; second, Gober, Georgia; third, Wyman, Clemson. Time 5.12.

Pole vault—first, Furtick, Clemson; second, K. Smith, Georgia; third, Arrendale, Georgia. Height 9 ft 6 in.

440 yards dash—first, Lipshutz, Georgia; second, Raoul, Georgia; third, Hatcher, Georgia. Time 53 1-5 seconds.

THE TIGER-TECH GAMES.

Tech wins first game, the second results in a tie.

FRIDAY'S GAME.

Clemson met her first defeat this season when she crossed bats with the Yellow Jackets at Tech Flats. The weather was very inclement, and the game was interrupted at times by light showers.

For Clemson, Farmer did the twirling, and Brooks was in the box for Tech. Both pitchers were in fine form, allowing very few hits during the game.

Buchanan for Tech made the first score of the game in the fourth inning, and in the fifth Brooks, Stewart, and Davenport each added another score for Tech, making the score: Tech 4, Clemson 0.

In the eighth inning the Tigers got busy and ran in two scores.

Rat Farmer's pitching was like that of a veteran, and the field work of the Tiger was magnificent.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

After eleven innings the score was two and two.

Brunt of play fell upon pitchers. Latimer and Farmer for Clemson pitched great ball.

The weather this afternoon was much more favorable for ball playing than it was Friday, and both teams fought defiantly until close of eleventh inning, when the game was called on account of darkness.

The game was a pitchers battle from beginning to end. Latimer opened up the cannonading for Clemson, and pitched in great style. At the beginning of the fifth inning Farmer relieved Latimer and remained in the box the rest of the game. Tech's captain and veteran ball player Ed Lafitte, saved Tech from defeat by his brilliant pitching.

Clemson went to the bat first, the first two men up were downed, then Lee got first on balls, and quickly stole second. Lykes got to first on an error, and Lee went to the left hand corner. Lee scored as Knight attempted to throw Lykes out at second. Tom Robinson then landed a two bagger in left field, and Lykes came home.

In the fourth Tech secured her two runs, and this ended the run getting for the game.

Final score: Clemson 2, Tech 2.

Clemson's Band Instructor.

Sergeant Nils B. Peterson, who is here coaching our band, is a native of Sweden. He came to America in '87, going to California about four months after his arrival at New York. It was there he began his career as a musician, becoming a member of the Tenth Battalion Band of the California National Guard.

In 1902 Sergeant Peterson joined the army band at Fort Winigale, New Mexico, and remained there until the Spanish-American War, when his regiment was ordered to camp preparatory to going to the front. The regiment encamped at Mobile, Chickamauga, and other Southern camp grounds until January, 1899, when it was ordered to Cuba as a part of the Army of Occupation. It remained in Cuba three years. Sergeant Peterson joined the First Band Artillery Corps in 1903 and is still a member of that organization.

Mr. Peterson came to Clemson in April of last year to coach the Clemson Band. The efficient manner in which he performed his duties, and the marked improvement of the band under his guidance made such an impression that he was again engaged for this year; and already the improvement in the band is noticed.

The Greenwood Contest.

In this second annual report on the finance of Clemson College Athletic Association it is very apparent that the net profit this year is much smaller than that of our year just past, though the chief difference lies in the two facts that no contributions have been asked for, except breakage fees which will not revert to the treasury of the association until July; second, the loss which the Association sustained by playing several expensive football games on the campus, which were necessary for the success of the season. It is regretted also that more students have not joined the Association as the number as compared with last year is much smaller.

The names of all those who join later will be published in some subsequent number of The Tiger.

The vast majority of cadets in college should be members of the Association as it is purely a student organization, and the fee of $1.00 is not sufficiently large to financially embarrass any student in college, and those students who participate in the various branches of sport are more than compensated by the use of goods supplied by the Association. Furthermore the College can never attain its greatest success athletically until it has the support of the entire student body. It should be stated for the benefit of the large number of students who contributed their balance on breakage fees last year that this was one of the largest sources of revenue tended the careful management of Messrs.

Barksdale, Stephenson and Schillitter. The amount turned into the treasury was $820.23.

This spring we have prospects for a good financial baseball season, and should the breakage fee turn out as well it did last year the football season will be begun in September on the best financial basis the College has ever known.

The Annual Miracle.

The Spring is developing, already many flowers have unfolded themselves. Other little seeds deep down in the dark earth, which have lain there inert during the long winter months, have heard a call from above and are stretching forth their tender shoots toward the light. In the trees, which have stood gaunt and ghostly in the light. In the trees, which have stood gaunt and ghostly in the light, the little sparrow, dreaming of the flow of the life-giving sap, and buds on—the miracle of the Springtime.

And with it there is all of harmony, nothing of discord; with a rhythm and a melody which takes us so gently and yet so completely upon its wave, nature is making its wonderful transformation. Yesterday everything was dark, dead; today, nature, thro forces noiseless and restless, is working her change.

We sometimes think that in nature there is much of harshness and discord. There is the winter which seems tempestuous discord. The clouds are dark and lowering, the winds howl at the door, the bird is forced to flee before the oncoming storm. But in it all there is order, rhythm and grandeur; back of it all are mighty basic laws which must be obeyed; in it all there is obedience to the great natural law,—certain conditions existing, certain results inevitable.

Then gently comes the sunny spring time, when the air is balmy and the sun stays with us longer. Then it is that the little violet lifts its head to scent the air with its perfume; that the little bird begins his wooing; that man leaves dark, monotonous walls behind and frequents haunts near to nature's heart, that he may learn the lesson which nature would teach him.

Every one of us has sorrows and despondencies. No one of us is exempt. Neither the rich nor the poor, the learned nor the ignorant, the proud nor the humble, the old nor the young. Every one has his hours when there was taught to comfort, naught to cheer, and when we thought our suffering was more than we could endure, we were smitten deeper into the darkness of despair and were forced to drink deeper of the cup of sorrow or wretchedness. Then it was that we thought we were fighting single-handed in a hopeless struggle.

But there came a rift in the clouds, as it always will. The sun does shine again. The spring teaches us this. No matter how long or how cold the winter nights may be, no matter how cheerless the day, there is a great controlling force which will dispel the darkness and cheer the day. The flowers will bloom again and the birds will sing in the trees.

For all there is hope. From even the most miserable ones, history tells us, as nature tells us, have blossomed some of the flowers, and beauties and glories of humanity. There is hope always for him who will summon strength for him who has faith in himself and the future.

There is an old sweet hope, an humble yet inspiring faith, which has cheered many darkened lives and brought sunshine and gladness to hearts which knew what suffering, sadness, and discouragement were. Back of all, there is a Being of infinite mercy. He is the worker of infinite mercy. He is the worker of the miracle of Spring, and He is who can bring us out of the darkness of despondency, sorrow and woe; and into tranquil days and light ineffable.

All Fools Day comes each year. Custom has long since declared this a time when a fellow can with impunity and without fear of criticism give reins to his innate bent to play the joke on the other fellow. Deliberation an the part of the august body of '07 was productive of pranks numerous, some original and ingenious, all carried out in the spirit of the day.

The Athletic season is on. It is absorbing the interest of all who are athletically inclined. Clemson has two teams in the field, one on the diamond; the other on the track. Both teams have heavy schedules against strong opponents, and Clemson does not hope to win in all her contests; but she does expect to show all comers sport that is full of energy, speed and intelligence. Both teams are doing good work and Clemsonians are proud of them.

We wish to ask our friends in college or elsewhere to help us to make The Tiger a live college organ. Let us have all the news which will be of interest to Tiger readers. We court your interest and aid.

The most spectacular and amusing event of the season was the mock military exercises on April the 1st. Almost the entire body of lower classmen, dived in an inconceivable variety of tacky costumes, formed in companies under their respective class banners and marching to the music of tin horns and band boxes proceeded to the Bowman field, where an enthusiastic parade was conducted. The feature was followed by an elaborate extended order drill, after which the sportive lads completed the exhibition by marching around the boulevard.
The Military Inspection.

The second of April was taken up in an inspection of the military department of the College. Captain J. A. Penn, Captain of the Seventh Infantry and a member of the general staff, arrived here at eleven o'clock that morning. He came direct from Washington, as Clemson was the first college to be inspected by him on his tour of inspection.

Captain Penn arrived on the drill grounds at 11:30. After the regiment was formed, two hours were devoted to Escort of Color, Review, and Inspection. The afternoon was utilized in drilling. Both battalions were drilled in close and in extended order. The companies were drilled in every movement included in the School of the Company. The Hospital Corps and Detachment “1” were carried through all their evolutions.

On the evening after the inspection, a royal reception was given by Col. and Mrs. Clay to the officers of the corps, where they all met Capt. Penn. There were several young ladies present who helped to make the occasion a most pleasant one. Fruits, cream, and cake were appetizingly served.

Captain Penn expressed himself as being much pleased with the military show, and said that he would be pleased if he could find that the government money spent at other colleges was as well used as it is here.

Clemson College was given first place in the military standing of the A. M. colleges in the South last year, and it is hoped that after the reports of Capt. Penn, it will retain that high position.

Big Day on Field Day.

The exercises on Field Day this year promise to be of unusual interest. Some changes in the places have been made, which it is believed will make the contest far more interesting than ever before. If there is any rivalry which the college boy enjoys besides college rivalry, it is class rivalry. This is especially true at Clemson and it is a recognition of this fact which promises to enhance the interest of the Field Day exercises this year.

Dr. Calhoun has decided to offer a trophy cup. The class winning the greatest number of points in the various track events will be awarded the trophy, which will be held by the winning class until the contest of the following year. This prize will be preserved in the trophy case. It is a prize well worth the winning, and the class which has the honor of capturing it first will have work to do.

In addition to the trophy cup, instead of giving the winner in an event, a box of cigars, a pair of shoes or some other paltry prize, medals will be awarded to winners. A higher estimate will thus be placed upon prowess.

These changes are but in keeping with the larger estate into which track athletics have come at Clemson. This year, besides the Field Day meet between the classes, there will be four, and probably five meets. The track therefore offers excellent opportunities to the man who is ambitious to excel or to represent his college. That the track means more than ever before is evidenced by the number who have come out on the field and have made every effort to earn a place on the team.

Field Day is May the 1st. This is not far off so the classes should get right to work making plans for entries for the various events. There are many men in each class who have not been on the track thus far, but who can do much toward the winning of the trophy by their class. These men should be found out. Though the time is short, some planning will mean much toward Class success on the 1st of May.

The Encampment.

In consequence of an invitation from the City of Greenville to Clemson to hold her annual encampment there, Capt. Clay accompanied by Mr. Schilletter, went to Greenville recently to ascertain the opportunities afforded there. They were met by city officers and carried to the Fair Grounds which had been offered as a place for camp. The grounds afford ample room for a camp and drill ground.

The Waterworks Company has offered to furnish water from the reservoir, or on Paris Mountain; the Light and Power Company to light the camp; the Street Railway Company to give the reduced rate of half fare, not only to the cadets, but to those who visit the camp.

In addition to these things, one of the buildings on the Fair Grounds has been offered for a mess hall.

Greenville has always shown a friendly interest in Clemson, and this invitation and offer only again shows her interest in the college.

There is perhaps no town in the state which will receive the cadets better than will Greenville.

This encampment will be held just after the final examinations and just before the commencement exercises. Those who have work to make up will in all probability have to remain behind to make it up during this week.

Results of Carolina’s Tour.

The first game was played at Clemson with a score of 4 to 2 in favor of Carolina.

The following Monday Carolina went down in defeat before Newberry. Score 11 to 1. The feature of the game was the excellent pitching of Crouch, who forced 13 men to fan the air, while only two hits were made off his delivery. Jones struck out 8 men.

Tuesday, Carolina bettered her position by winning from Furman by a score of 3 to 2. The winning run was made on Smith’s hit after two men were out in the ninth inning.

The following Wednesday Carolina defeated Wofford in a fast, spectacular game. Jones pitched steady ball, striking out third man twice, with bases full.

The next day the trick was turned. Score 9 to 6 in Wofford’s favor.

The game between Carolina and Davidson at Davidson resulted in a walk-over for the Tarheel team, making the seventh victory for Davidson this season. The score was 12 to 0.

Carolina wound up her tour at Belmont, N. C, where she suffered defeat from St. Mary’s by a score of 6 to 5. The game was played under bad weather conditions.

Altogether Carolina’s tour has not been a very successful one. A trip of such length wears a team out and causes scores which become disastrous to team standing.
THE COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The officers for the last quarter of the session were installed Friday night, March 8th. In his brief inaugural address, Mr. Carter, the new president, reviewed the work of the Society, calling especial attention to the lack of preparation on the part of so many men, and plainly declared himself in favor of earnest work in every department from now till June. He has strong support in the other offices during his term, and the entire body promises its hearty support.

The Columbian again has the honor of representing the college at Greenwood, Mr. D. B. Perri-loy having won first place in the contest here a few days ago.

At the request of the Calhoun Society, the Columbian has gladly and unanimously agreed to help to establish the custom among the cadets of standing when “Dixie” is played on any formal occasion.

This is an appropriate token of respect due the noble sons and daughters of Dixie-land who have added undying luster to the glorious history of the South and whose deeds of valor and patriotism will ever live in the songs of Southern poets.

Our Society suggests that we also salute standing while the national anthem is being played or uncover if not in uniform.

AN INFORMAL DANCE.

On Saturday evening April 6th, the Senior class gave an informal dance. Those present were: Miss Leize Stidiling, Pendleton, with Cadet Bannister; Miss Alice Stibbling, Pendleton, with Cadet Bailey; Miss Nella Sloan, Clemson College, with Cadet Beaver; Miss Lucy Folger; Miss Esther Davis, Converse College; with Cadet L. Boggs; Miss Frances Davis, Converse College, with Cadet S. R. Perrin; Miss Perrin; Miss Alice Maxwell, Anderson, with Cadet G. D. Curtis; Miss Ella Sloan, Pendleton, with Cadet E. D. McKeleheon; Miss Eloise Sloan, Pendleton, with Cadet A. M. Klugh; Miss Annie Shanklin, Easley with Cadet J. W. Keel; Miss Arno, with Mr. Hart; Miss Sitton, Pendleton, with Mr. Sadler; Miss Bessie Hunter, Pendleton, with Dr. Cox.

LOCALS.

Mr. Dave Truxler, of Greenville, S. C., spent several days here last week.

Mr. W. G. Templeton, of class '02 was here for several days on business.

Mr. J. E. Beatty, Southern Manager for the Home Herald Co., who has been at the college on business several days returned to Atlanta on the fourth.

Miss Floride Calhoun is visiting relatives in Abbeville.

Mr. Cheatham, of Ninety-Six, S. C., a former student of Clemson and member of the baseball team, visited here last week.

Mr. Henry Tillman, of Greenwood, came up to see the ball game.

Chumcey Williams, of Greenville, was on the Campus a few days ago.

SOPHOMORE NEWS.

The members of our class who went to Athens to participate in the track meet with the University of Georgia, gave good accounts of themselves. We were unfortunate enough to be defeated by Georgia's team; but the score shows that Clemson was in the race all the time, and that the defeat was not a bad one. The representatives of our class who are members of Clemson's team are, Harris, Ballew, Pridmore, Fleming and L. Gardner.

H. K. Sanders has returned to school. Sanders' many friends sympathize with him deeply in the death of his father. This sad occurrence is what called him home; but we are glad to see him with us again.

J. C. Reid was recently visited by his father, who stayed with him a few days.

Corporal T. H. Yeargin was called home on important business which detained him, quite unavoidably, until after the first Tuesday in April. Yeargin was exceedingly sorry (?) to have missed the interesting inspection which took place on that day.

The name of L. B. Brandon has been on the sick report for some time past. Brandon's name, however, appears there no more for he has returned to his work.

A. W. Robinson, of Easley, recently paid a short visit to friends in Greenville.

Y. M. C. A. SOCIAL.

The Young Men's Christian Association will have its Spring Social Saturday, April 20. The social committee is planning to make this a leading social event of the Spring term. It is the intention to have a lawn party near the President's mansion. Our friends on the "Hill" are all invited. Let us make this a fitting occasion to complete the quartette of Association receptions during the year.

Messrs. Wilburn's and Kelley's Bible classes were entertained at Mrs. Finley's home Friday, April 5th.

Since the last issue of The Tiger... the following Bible classes have entertained: Mr. Covington's class entertained Mr. Dorrah's class at Mrs. Tucker's home. Mr. Ballaw and class with Mrs. Riggs in honor of Mr. Kelley's class. Mr. Pridmore and class were entertained at the President's mansion by Mr. Gardner's class.

Probably the most important work before any group of Clemson men just now is that confronting the Bible Study committee. In order to meet the increasing demand for Bible study, some sixty men will be needed to lead classes next year. The responsibility of selecting these men rests with this committee. The standard of the work next year will depend upon the standing of the leaders selected.

Items from Other Colleges.

Mr. McCarthy now has a large number of the University boys in a swimming class. Medals will be awarded as an incentive to the contest. The boys are taking great interest in the sport, and the river now has a new attraction for them.

Carolina has a good track team this year, and is as confident of winning over us in this line as they were of winning the baseball game. They meet us on our dinner track the last of this month.

April 1st at Winthrop was Field Day. The exercises consisted of a contest in basketball and tennis and general athletics, the prize contested for being a silver cup.

Arrangements have been made with the University of North Carolina for the annual football game in Columbia during Fair week.

Newberry defeated Erskine in a fast, exciting game last week. Score 8 to 2. Crouch pitched his usual good game, striking out 11 men and yielding only 3 hits.

Erskine defeated Clinton by score of 7 to 1.

An approaching social event of interest to many of the alumni will be the marriage of C. M. Furman, Jr., '96, to Miss Jones of Rockingham, N. C., on April 17.

Tigers Win from Carolina.

spring dose of the B. B. B. tonic, the three Bissells and Barksdale each rapping the ball for a clean hit.

Third Inning: Carolina did nothing this inning, getting no man beyond first bag. Clemson got two men on bases, but failed to score.

Fourth Inning: Gibbes was thrown out at first. Belser got a two-bagger, but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a three-bagger. The way in which Robinson handled a swift grounder in the fifth inning, was one of the features of the afternoon play.

During the seventh inning Perrin and Belser ran in the only two scores made by Carolina. It was that same old fateful seventh.

The remainder of the game was pulled off rapidly, neither team getting near the home plate.

Final score Clemson 4, Carolina 2.
