GORDON ELEVEN DEFEATED BY CLEMSON TIGERS.

FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

On a muddy field last Saturday afternoon, the Clemson Tigers defeated the team from Gordon Institute by the score of 5 to 0. Owing to the bad weather, the players were not able to stand well and the wet ball was fumbled several times by both teams.

At 2:15 the teams appeared on the field and went through with some signal practice. In this, the Gordon team showed up well, getting off with plenty of snap and ginger.

FIRST HALF

Clemson won the toss and at 2:30 “Doc” McFadden kicked 25 yards to Gordon, who returned the ball 5 yards; but, failing to make the required 10 yards, kicked 30 yards to McFadden, who returned 15 yards. Gordon here secured the ball on a fumble, but was again forced to punt. McFadden ran 15 yards, and Lee and Coles each added 10 more. McFadden then carried the pig skin to Gordon’s 15 yard line, Coles carrying it over for the first touch down, ten minutes after play began. Lee failed at goal.

Clemson 5; Gordon 0.

Smith kicked 30 yards to Lee, who advanced 20. On the next play, the ball went to Gordon on Gaston’s fumble. Failing to make 1st down, Gordon kicked 20 yards and recovered the ball, but lost it on the next play—Clarke securing it on a fumble. Turner made 3 yards over tackle. McFadden kicked 15 yards to Smith, who was

OUR NEW COMMANDANT

A SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF CAPTAIN J. C. MINUS.

CAPTAIN J. C. Minus, our new commandant, is a native born Texan, but of South Carolina parents. He was born on June 27th, 1875, and six years later his parents moved from their home in Texas to St. George’s, South Carolina, at which place he spent his boyhood days. At the age of sixteen he entered the South Carolina Military Academy and pursued a regular course of study for three years. When a Junior at the South Carolina Military Academy, he won a scholarship to the United States Military Academy at West Point, at which place he entered on June 19th, 1895. On the expiration of his regular course of four years at that institution, he was graduated on February 15th, 1899, and was assigned, as second lieutenant, to

THE OPENING OF COLLEGE.

On Wednesday, morning, September 11, Clemson Agricultural College began its fifteenth session. Most of the students came in Tuesday afternoon and night. The following morning at eight o’clock, the entire student body, about seven hundred strong, were assembled in the Memorial Hall. With the exception of some recently elected members, who had not had time to reach the College, the entire faculty were seated on the rostrum; and with them were two members of the Board of Trustees, Col. R. E. Bowen and Hon. Allan Johnstone, the new president of the Board.

Regular chapel exercises were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Mills, pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place. President Mell made a few remarks of welcome and then presented Hon. Allan Johnstone. Mr. Johnstone made a splendid talk of considerable length, full of good advice to the college students. The entire talk centered around the following words uttered by the speaker in the course of his address. “Do your duty for the resultant reward.”

In spite of the fact that the new dormitory was not completed, temporary assignments to quarters were so made that the number of students mentioned were admitted. When the new building is completed, which fact will be soon, permanent arrangements will be made and only two men will be in any room in barracks.

Considerably over a thousand applications were made for entrance this year. It is gratifying,

The happy band of 1909 met in the Memorial Hall on the night of September 16th to organize for the ensuing year. The meeting was attended by almost every member of the class that had returned to college, everyone being in good spirits and ready to give up the thoughts of the “good old times” he had had during the vacation, to thoughts of a new college year. The evident class spirit, determination and ambition of all bespoke a most prosperous year for the class of 09.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by the officers of the class that had returned to college. Mr. C. A. McLendon was unanimously re-elected president. Mr. S. O. Pegues was elected Vice-President; Mr. J. C. Pridmore, Secretary and Treasurer; Mr. S. O. Kelly, Historian; Mr. H. C. Twiggs, Poet, and Mr. K. McLaurin, Lawyer. Mr. F. H. Yeargin was elected to represent our class on “The Tiger” staff and Mr. T. S. Allen was chosen manager of the Junior Dancing Club.

Now, boys, let’s work hard, not only to make a good record as students, but to make a class history that we, as well as the college, will be proud of. To do this, we must not depend on the men that we have chosen as class leaders, but we must individually co-operate with them in their work. Therefore, let everyone feel it his personal duty to do anything that will promote the interests of the class.

We are very glad, at the beginning of the year, to find ourselves well represented in the Y. M. C. A., Literary Societies and on the football field. We boast of the honor of having the captain of the football team, Mr. J. N. McLaurin, from the Junior Class, a fact which rarely occurs in the history of college athletics. Messrs. R. F. Gaston, T. S. Allen, S. Coles and W. C. Clark have distinguished themselves on the gridiron and are back on the field not only as good foot ball players, but as representatives of the Junior Class.

With one or two exceptions, the class is the same as it was last year; and, as we pause for a moment to think of this, a feeling of sadness comes over us. All of us have looked up to the Seniors since we were in Fresh, with a mingled feeling of awe and respect, and it is hard now for us to realize that we really are the “dignified” Seniors.

On Saturday evening, September 14th, the German Club gave a delightful informal dance in the gymnasium dance hall. Though got up on the spur of the moment, it proved to be a social success in every particular. The dancers enjoyed the prevailing waltzes and two-steps immensely. Excellent music was furnished by the cadet band. Those present were: Misses Ella Sloan, Louise Sloan, Lila Stribling, Leite Stribling and Alice Stribling of Pendleton; Misses Sarah Furman, Belle Hardin, Leila Hardin, Floride Calhoun, Nelia Sloan, Jean Sloan and Bug Norris of Clemson; Miss Alice Maxwell of Spartanburg, S. C., Miss Rast of Orangeburg, and Miss Lucile Strode of Virginia.

Chaperones were: Mesdames Lee, Furman, Minus and Freeman. Others present were Captain Minus, Mr. Benjamin Freeman and Professors Henry, Gantt and Lewis.

THE REDOUTABLE FRITZ.

Every man who has ever been to Clemson College or will be here for many years to come has heard or will hear of the famous foot ball star, Fritz M. Furtick, who graduated with the class of '07. All will be glad to hear from him again. Here is an extract from a letter addressed to the Business Manager of The Tiger:

"Do be sure and send me the very first issue as I'm just dying to

Time in its onward flight incessantly displaces some and makes openings into which others must be ushered. Such an opening was made in our Literary Society when the members of '07 passed out into the real activities of life leaving in our hands a priceless heritage—the keeping of the Columbian Literary Society.

Judging from the interest and enthusiasm manifested at the first meeting, which was held on 20th inst., it is obvious that every member is entering into the work of this year with a determination and purpose of carrying forward the banner of activity and planting it higher than it has ever been before upon the bulwark of success.

The exercises of Friday evening were unusually good. The president, Mr. F. J. Crider, delivered a splendid inaugural address in which he outlined the plans of the Society for the coming session and urged every member to cooperate with him in the upbuilding of the Society.

The orations by Messrs. S. J. Ezell, G. Warren and F. L. Martin embodied the true value and need of Society training and were well rendered and impressive.

The orations were followed by a lively debate on the subject of Industrial and Literary Education. It was a question that comes home to every student of this college and was ably championed on both sides.

Quite a number of new men have joined forces with us and have started out under very favorable auspices, which bespeaks a successful year in Society work.

Ask Sam Ezell if the Civils have succeeded in getting rid of the Frenchman yet.

The first meeting of the Calhoun Literary Society was a grand success. It was one of determination. Every man seemed to have grasped the idea of the society work and this year promises to be one in which every member will do his duty, because he realizes the benefit derived from conscientious work in the Society.

As usual, there were a number of new students initiated. All the Societies welcome the new men, but especially does the Calhoun, and hopes that the hall will be filled with new men to take up the very important work of the Society.

The Calhoun Literary Society held its first meeting on Friday night, Sept. 20th. Mr. Pratt, our new president, in his inaugural address, impressed his hearers with the importance of conscientious society work. His plea to the new men was especially appropriate. With his usual eloquence he welcomed the new members, and appealed to all to strive and raise the Standard of the society during the ensuing year.

Mr. Bailes entertained the society with a splendid oration entitled, "Character in Commerce."

Messrs. Hutchins and Speer spoke a few words, admonishing the new members not to neglect their society work, and reminding them that this work is as important as any other department of the college. Mr. Shuler delivered an excellent declamation.

The society was then at ease while the old members canvassed the hall to interview the new men to ascertain who desired to connect themselves with the society. The result showed that twenty young men had decided to identify themselves with the Society, and had resolved to uphold the standard of the old Palmetto.

The initiation will take place on next Friday night. The society was then adjourned.

The prospects for the Palmetto Society are unusually bright. It has its full share of seniors to maintain the high standard already established.

EDITORIAL

With this issue, THE TIGER makes its first appearance under a new management. The Tiger is no longer an experiment, but is now an established institution of the College; and as such it should be given the support of every member of the corps of cadets.

Although the primary object of the publication is to aid the Senior Class in getting out their Annual, it has a secondary object of almost as great importance. Clemson College is a great institution, where young men from all sections of the State meet together for the purpose of securing an education. The news of the institution that these men are attending is naturally of interest to their families and friends, and there is no better medium for furnishing them with this information than a college newspaper. The cadets also should be interested in what their college mates are doing.

Some argue that they do not want THE TIGER because they know, before the paper is published, all of the news of the barracks and campus. They know that their homes take the county papers; and the situation, so far as news is concerned, in small country towns is to a great extent the same as it is here. They know most of the local news before they get the papers, but they take it because they can get the news in a concrete and readable form. Aside from all considerations of personal benefit, there is such a thing as college spirit. Every man should be willing to make a sacrifice for the good of his college. The success or failure of THE TIGER will not only affect the interests of the present Senior Class, but it will have a marked influence upon classes to come. If the paper fails through lack of support of the under classmen, the greatest source of income for the Annual of the present Senior Class and future classes will be taken away.

THE TIGER, or an advertisement

If you can get a subscription to THE TIGER, or an advertisement do not stop to consider whether or not you are a member of the staff. Grab it quick and run with it to the Business Manager—"every little bit helps."

ARE WE GOING TO THE STATE FAIR?

The newspapers of the State seemed to take great pleasure in scoring Clemson this summer. Well, base ball news couldn't cover but one page.
Mr. W. J. Latimer, of the class of '06, is visiting on the campus.

Miss Talullah Crowther, of Asheville, is visiting on the campus.

Mr. J. W. Koel, of the class of '07, is visiting his brother in barracks.

Miss Rust, of Orangeburg, S. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Tucker.

Mr. O. H. Bissel, of the class of '07, is visiting his brother, Cadet D. L. Bissel.

Mr. R. E. Dalton, of the class of '07, was seen on the campus recently.

Miss Helen Brackett has gone to Charlotte, N. C., to enter the Presbyterian College there.

Miss Maggie Morrison has gone to Rock Hill, S. C., to enter Winthrop College.

Mr. A. M. Klugh, of the class of '07, is back at college taking a post-graduate course in Chemistry;

Mr. P. N. Calhoun, of the class of '96, is visiting relatives on the campus.

Mr. W. B. All, of the class of '07, is back to the college taking a post-graduate course in Botany.

Miss Alice Stridling, of Pendleton, will spend the winter with relatives in Richmond, Va.

Miss Lucile Strode, of Alabama, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. C. Newman, on the campus.

"Gus" Keasler, Clemson's star center on the '04 and '05 varsity teams, is on the campus for a few days.

Mr. J. Klink, of the class of '06, who is employed at Pelzer, S. C., visited the campus several days ago.

Miss Alice Maxwell, formerly of Anderson, but now of Spartanburg, is visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Mell.

Mr. B. D. Carter, of the class of '07, stopped a day with friends in the barracks, while on his way from Atlanta.

Mr. F. M. Dwight, of the class of '07, is now employed as personal assistant to Prof. Riggs, the head of the Mechanical Department.

Mr. C. P. Ballenger, of the class of '05, witnessed the game of football between Clemson and Gordon Institute here last Saturday.

Mr. T. L. Goodwin, of the class of '06, is visiting his brother in Bichmond, Va.

Mr. J. W. Keel, of the class of '07, stopped a day with friends in Columbia during the State Fair.

Mr. W. C. Tucker, assistant to the Commandant last year, has been promoted to assistant bookkeeper in the treasury department. Mr. Prevost has accepted the position of assistant to the Commandant.

1907 FOOT BALL SCHEDULE

NINE GAMES—FOUR ON CAMPUS.

With the arrival of Coach F. J. Shaughnessy on September the 13th, football practice began in earnest at Clemson College, and from now until the season closes, Bowman Field will be alive with aspirants for gridiron fame.

More than seventy men reported the first afternoon and new ones are going out each day—and some of them look like pretty good football "timber".

The first week was taken up with light practice, but for the last few days the Varsity candidates have been worked hard preparatory to the opening game with Gordon Institute, which takes place Saturday the 28th.

Manager Reid has secured for Clemson one of the hardest schedules the team has had in a number of years.

The hardest games will be those with the University of North Carolina, at Columbia during the State Fair, and Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Of the nine games for the season four are to be played on the campus. This is more foot-ball than usual for the campus and will give the students an opportunity to see their team work, and also to cheer them up by good support from the sidelines.

The schedule is as follows:

Brown—"Bo, have you ever been here before?"

Rat—"No sir, this is my first offense."
The work of the Young Men's Christian Association has opened up this session in excellent condition. Several of the officers and leaders were back to college a few days before the opening for a setting-up conference, so that every detail of the work was looked after.

The college authorities have done much toward making the Association more efficient and enlarging its scope by giving room 84 in Barracks No. 1 as an office room. The Secretary will continue to room in the barracks. His room is No. 86; a door has been cut from his room into the office.

Additional shelving has been put in the Y. M. C. A. office, and a large number of books will be added to the library so that Bible and Mission class leaders will have sufficient reference books.

The Association departed from the usual reception or "blow-out" for college opening, by starting the session with an evangelistic campaign. In a series of meeting like these, there is no way of measuring the results, but some effects are evident to all. A number of students took a stand for the Christian life. Many of the Christian boys have resolutely given up some of the bad habits that had been keeping them from being the men they ought to be, and two students gave their lives to the Master's service in the foreign mission fields.

Mr. A. C. Hart conducted our evangelistic campaign with a masterful hand. His sermon on Sunday morning was one of the most appropriate and forceful sermons of any college opening. His text, "The Use of Time", was in the hands of times' conqueror, and has done more than any one thing to help us apportion our time aright.

The Clemson College Bible Study Campaign was opened Sunday, Sept. 22d, in the grandest style that this college has ever begun her Bible work. In one hours' time more than 500 students were enrolled in the study. Probably no college in our State has ever had such an opening, and those who are in a position to know, doubt whether any college or university in the South has ever had such an opening.

the 20th Infantry, U. S. A. Immediately after his assignment to this regiment, it was sent to the Philippine Islands, where it remained in active service for three years. While there, he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant and assigned to the 21st Infantry. Later he was transferred back to the 20th Infantry. He returned to the United States in 1902, and was stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. After a stay of two years at that point, his regiment was sent back to the Philippine Islands to aid in quelling the disturbance in Batangas Province, caused by the notorious General Malor.

While engaged in this duty he was under the command of General J. F. Bell, the present Chief-of-Staff of the United States Army.

After two more years of hard service, he returned to the United States two years ago. On October 6th, 1906, he was promoted to a captaincy and assigned to the 16th Infantry. Since his return to the United States, he has been stationed at Mt. Airy, California; Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; and Fort Cook, Nebraska; from the last of which he came here.

He was married on March 10th, 1906, to a Vassar College graduate who is a native of Kansas.

Captain Minus is closely related to the prominent Minus family of St. George's, South Carolina, and is a first cousin of Mr. J. P. Minus, who was graduated from Clemson with the class of '98.

While at the South Carolina Military Academy, Captain Minus was intimately acquainted with Majors Shanklin and Martin, and Professors Lee and Holmes.

His coming to Clemson is regarded as a high tribute to him, as he was selected from a large number of prominent army officers.

too, to note that the number of applications from without the State is yearly increasing. There is not much doubt but that if the college were equipped to do so, we might have a student body here twelve hundred strong.

This year's Senior Class is the largest and one of the most promising that Clemson has ever had; and large things are expected of them. No really official statement has been made as to the number of men in the various classes; because of the late arrival of some and the standing of examinations, and like irregularities, but as well as at present can be determined they are as follows: the Senior class numbers 94; the Junior, 90; the Sophomore, 150; the Freshman, 213.

Several changes were made in the faculty this year and some new men were added. Prof. D. O. Nourse, who for the last eighteen years has been connected with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in the departments of agriculture and Animal Husbandry succeeds Prof. Michels in the Animal Husbandry work here. Prof. H. W. Barre takes the place filled the past two years by Prof. H. D. House, the chair of Botany and Bacteriology. Prof. Barre is an old Clemson man. He graduated here as ranking major in the class of '05; and from here he went to the University of Nebraska, where he took the B. S. degree and except for his thesis, has done the work required for the master's degree. Dr. Powers has been promoted to Dr. Louis Klein's position as head of the Veterinary Science Department; and Dr. Enoch Barnett of the University of Pennsylvania, has been elected his assistant. The chair of Zoology and Entomology is at present vacant, but will be filled in a short while. The State entomological work has been separated from the college entomology and placed under the charge of Prof. C. E. Chambers. The two additions to the Mechanical Department are Prof. T. R. Burtiss, a graduate of the A & M. college of Mississippi, and Prof. Z. R. Lewis, a graduate of the Miller School of Virginia. Prof. Burtiss is an assistant in the Drawing department; and Prof. Lewis an assistant in Forge and Foundry work.

thrown in his tracks. Gordon failed to gain and Smith punted 30 yards to Lee, who advanced three. Lee made 15 yards around end. McFadden made 12 yards and McLaurin added 18 over tackle. McFadden made 3 yards. Gaston failed to gain. McFadden booted 20 yards. Gordon failed to gain and kicked 23 yards. Lee ran the ball back 10 yards and Gaston added 10 more. McLaurin gained 7 yards over tackle, and McFadden added 7 more around end. Turner hit the line for 6 yards. Here the Preps braced up and received the ball on downs. The half ended with the ball in Gordon's possession on her own 4-yard line.

SECOND HALF

Smith kicked off 35 yards to Lee, who advanced 10 yards. Allen kicked 25 yards to Smith, who was thrown for a loss as he caught the ball. Cochran and Moore each tried the line, but were unable to gain. Here Gaston secured the ball on a fumble. Coles made 18 yards and McFadden added 15 more.

As Clemson failed to make the required distance, Allen punted 20 yards to Smith, who returned the kick 25 yards, Hogg falling on it. Here, Caughman for Clemson, went in to relieve Gaston at left tackle. Smith booted 40 yards and Allen returned it 35. Smith advanced 5 yards, but Moore failed to gain on the next play. Smith attempted to punt, but was blocked by Wynhham. After an exchange of punts, time was called and the game was over.

Gordon failed to make 1st down, but the whole team showed up well on defense. The punting and defensive work of Smith were among the features of the game, and served to counteract the long gains of Clemson.

Clemson advanced well in the first half, gaining 235 yards in fourteen downs, but were unfortunate in recovering fumbles. McFadden, Coles, Wickman and Lee showed up well for Clemson and bid fair to make stars before the season ends.

Major McLendon regrets very much that he could not supply Rat Key with a dime's worth of countersigns.

A rat, upon receiving his uniform, remarked that the Cooch told him that his chances of making Velocity ('Varsity) are good.

Dr. Powers—"Mr. Ackerman, name the four stomachs of a cow."

"Room (rumin), curriculum (reticulum), abomen (abomasum), and omission ( omasum)," replied the embryo Veterinarian.

"Will the Commandant please countermand 'Red' Lykes' order for shoulder bars, as such decorations are positively forbidden among the rank and file of the "Bloody Corpse."

Ask Mr. Clinkscales what the lady who wished to see some souvenir post-cards, said when he began showing her "Bicycle" playing cards. (Witness—"Bear" Crawford.)
