A Personal Note

In Memoriam

This brochure is dedicated to the memory of a beloved classmate, Frank W. O’Neal, who joined our already departed classmates on Friday the 18th of September in the year 2005.

Frank, or Nellie as he was known to many of us, exemplified the Clemson Spirit to the nth degree. He was a loyal member of the class, active in all its undertakings, and as well a loyal alumnus of the University. Except when his military service prevented, he never missed a class reunion, and in his later years he took on the dual responsibilities of co-chairing the Reunion Committee along with his wife Julie, and contacting classmates and honorary members to spur their interest in coming to the reunions.

He was also a charter member of the Class of 1939 Golden Anniversary Reunion Committee, and its successor organization the Class of 1939 Heritage Gardens Committee. In these successive functions, Nellie worked as a true team member, always responding to requests for his personal participation, and never failing to contribute to the team’s decision-making processes. To the degree that the committees have successfully brought their plans to fruition, Nellie has earned more than his share of the credit.

Nellie was a friend - from our high school years together in Anderson, through our college years, and on into the autumn of our lives. Just as the class will miss his tireless efforts to hold and bring us together, I will miss his unqualified friendship - a treasure that is all too rare in this sometimes lonely trip through life. Though he is gone in a physical sense, he will remain a warm and ever present memory - cheering whatever time I have left. Thanks for being there, Nellie.

THE MEDITATION OF DEPARTURE

From Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar"

Sunset and evening star,
   And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
   When I put out to sea.

Twilight and evening bell,
   And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
   When I embark.

A Prayer for the Departed
By William Penn (1644 - 1718)

We give back to You, O God, those whom You gave to us.
   You did not lose them when You gave them to us,
and we do not lose them by returning them to You.
   Your dear Son has taught us that life is eternal and love cannot die. So death is only a horizon, and a horizon is only the limit of our sight.

   Open our eyes to see more clearly,
and draw us closer to You that we may know that we are nearer to our loved ones, who are with You.
   You have told us that You are preparing a place for us;
prepare us also for that happy place,
   that where You are, we may always be,
   O dear Lord of life and death.

A Trend Reverses

In the morning of April 26, 2006, our class numbered 96 living members. By nightfall that same day, we numbered 97. These pages tell how that happy event came about.

The family of Herbert D. Tibbs, Clemson University and Clemson University Foundation cordially invite you to a luncheon to be held at the Madren Center in Clemson, South Carolina on April 26, 2006 at 12 o'clock. A graduation ceremony entering Mr. Tibbs into the Class of 1939 will follow at 2 o'clock in the Office of the President, 201 Sikes Hall, on the University campus.

RSVP (864)656-0237 or lockaby@clemson.edu

An invitation to your class officers

Herbert Tibbs (center) with new classmates and friends
President Barker, with Trustee McKissick, presents to Herbert his diploma, welcoming him into the fraternity of Clemson alumni.

Class President Tee Senn presents to Herbert our class history, welcoming him into the fraternity of the Class of 1939.
Now meet our new classmate

John Herbert Tibbs ’39

Herbert hails from Great Falls, SC. In 1932 he entered Clemson College, where he majored in Mechanical Engineering. When graduation time came four years later, he lacked one lab class credit necessary for a diploma, so he took his education and convinced Duke Power Company that it was enough. It proved to be, for during the next forty plus years he had a very successful career with Duke, during which he married Frances, and had a family of two boys (John and Harry ’70) and one girl (Olivia Tibbs Wilkie). Along the way he took a summer course at Auburn, credit for which got into a wrong file at Clemson. So still no diploma. He retired in 1969 after having been manager of Duke’s hydro plant in Great Falls for the previous ten years.

Last year his family decided that Herbert needed that missing diploma, so they contacted the Alumni Association for help. A search of the records determined that by 1939 Herbert had acquired enough extra credits to entitle him to a diploma. The case was presented to the administration, approved by both the ME Department and the Board of Trustees, and the decision made that Herbert would become a member of the Class of 1939.

So on Wednesday, April 26, 2006, the family and Alumni Association hosted a luncheon for all participants, and at 2 p.m. that afternoon President Barker presented Herbert with his diploma, granting him a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering. And so he also then became one of us. Thanks to his loving family, Herbert now owns a Clemson ring showing the year 1939.

We welcome Herbert to the class, look forward to getting to know him, and hope that he will take an active interest in our class activities.
In 2005 a major element of the Heritage Gardens was essentially completed, and a dedication ceremony was held in September.
Late in 2005 a new project was begun, sponsored by the Class of 1989. The first new table of the Picnic Garden was unveiled in January before a dedicated group of '39ers. This project is scheduled for completion in 2009.

The Picnic Garden Committee of Clemson's Centennial Class of 1989 and The Heritage Gardens Committee of Clemson's Golden Anniversary Class of 1939 cordially invite you to attend the unveiling of the first of several new picnic tables in the refurbishing of the picnic grounds in the Botanical Garden by the Class of 1989.

Friday, January 6, at 3:30 p.m.

Award for Excellence

For the year 2005
Dr. Benjamin L. Sill
Award for Excellence - 2005

Benjamin L. Sill
Alumni Distinguished Professor of Civil Engineering
Department of Civil Engineering, Clemson University

1967 - BS. (Aerospace Engineering) - N.C. State University Raleigh, NC
1968 - M.S. (Aerospace Engineering) - N.C. State University Raleigh, NC
1973 - Ph.D. (Aerospace & Ocean Enng.) - VPI Blacksburg, VA
Research Engineer Naval Ordinance Station, MD 1968 - 1971
Staff Environmental Engineer Duke Power Company 1973 - 1976
Professor of Civil Engg.and Engg. Mechanics Clemson University 1983 - Date
Director, General Engineering Program Clemson University 1999 - Date

In the Civil Engineering Department, Ben specializes in fluid flow, wind storm effects, turbulent jet mixing and evaporation from open water bodies. He was one of the founders of Clemson's Wind Load Test Facility, among the top three such facilities in the U.S. When he became Director of the General Engineering Program (home for first-year engineering students at Clemson) in 1999, it had 2000 square feet of floor space, no research funding, and no publications. Under his leadership its floor space has grown to over 9000 square feet, it has received over $2,000,000 in research funds, and produces an average of over 10 publications each year. General Engineering has established Clemson’s first Living Learning Community and its first innovative SCALE UP classroom. Its new Project Lab completes over 500 engineering team projects each year.

Ben’s personal work product includes over 80 technical papers, service as principle or co-principle investigator for over $7,500,000 in research funding, and over 25 masters and Ph.D graduates. He has received the Civil Engineering Outstanding Teacher Award (twice), the McQueen Quattlebaum Faculty Achievement Award, and the University’s Alumni Research Award, the Prince Award for innovation in Teaching, and the Trustees’ Faculty Excellence Award.

If anyone can be called a whole person, it is surely Ben. He is an Elder in his church, teaches Senior High Sunday School, and lectures on a variety of subjects including ancient coins, wild flowers, bromeliads, snakes and birds, hurricanes, and even funny highway signs. He has authored three humorous books on birds and co-authored technical articles on snakes, frogs, fish, and volleyball. Somehow he finds time to collect coins and stamps and other miscellany, hybridize bromeliads, remove snakes on call, and even write poetry. Spare time?

Music will be provided
It was a wonderful evening, enjoyed by all. The Faculty Senate outdid itself again! Those hors d'oeuvres were really heavy and delicious, as Whirl and Molly will soon know. And the string quartet made the evening magical. Fellowship prevailed. Here Tee chats with Faculty Senate President Connie Lee and Jim Sweeney, Jr., while Walter entertains Ray and Fran Turner. Finally, everyone took their seats (except one inveterate table hopper); the formalities began as Connie introduced Ben Sill, 2005 Award for Excellence winner. Ben talked of his many interests, read a poem (see next page), and showed us why students flock to his classes. This wonderful evening ended with a book signing by the authors, Jerry Waldvogel and Mary Haque, their book a gift to the class by the faculty.
Here's to the graduates of nineteen thirty-nine!
You represent Clemson with class.
A brotherhood that is ever so fine.
To you we all raise our glass.

With honor you've served both your school and your nation
Here's to you! All the best! Here today!
Indeed you are the "Great Generation,"
A beacon - you've shown us the way.

You've always come through again and again.
You never have said, "It's no use!"
You've worked arm in arm, as cars on a train
From the engine back to the caboose.

So here's to your sweat and ideas every one
You've made such a difference right here
God speed to you and to those who have gone
Your legacy rings true and clear.
