Finance and Facilities Committee Report – Bill Hendrix

Action Items:

Trustee Hendrix called on Brett Dalton to present the action items.

Concept Approval – CU ICAR Advanced Powertrain Lab – Mr. Dalton presented the request for concept stage approval. The project will involve the upgrade of the electrical power supply for the Campbell Graduate Engineering Center, construction work to partition the room CGEC120 into three test cells, and installation of the infrastructure for state-of-the-art test powertrain research facilities. The upgrade will enable work on the integration of alternative powertrains, investigations of advanced internal combustion engine technologies, energy storage and vehicle electrification. It is important to note that in addition to the recent upsurge of the powertrain research led by Timken Chair Dr. Zoran Filipi, the Automotive Engineering Department has an active search for the new BMW Chair in Manufacturing. Hence, the upgrades will meet current needs and prepare CGEC for the expected further expansion of activities in the near future.

Trustee Hendrix moved to approve the request. The motion was approved unanimously.

Concept Approval – Business & Behavioral Science Building – Mr. Dalton presented the request for concept stage approval. The proposed facility totaling approximately 160,000-180,000 gross square feet will primarily house offices, instructional space, and specialized teaching and research laboratories to support disciplines within the College of Business and Behavioral Science while creating an enhanced environment to support an appropriate interface between academics and industry. Many of the programs within CBBS will move into the new facility that will create a new critical mass and an environment for collaboration. The facility will also accommodate growth, provide flexibility, and adapt readily to a changing environment. The new facility will concurrently create a building that is a recognizable academic home and destination for students.

The project will be located in the southwest sector of the main campus. The recent addition to Lee Hall is adjacent to this site and will be an important touchstone in the planning and design of this facility. The site work for the project will require the removal of a tertiary road and the on-street parking that is associated with it. Utilities will need to be run out to the site, but a new chilled water plant built three years ago adjacent to the CBBS site should minimize some of the infrastructure costs.

Trustee Hendrix moved to approve the request. The motion was approved unanimously.

Final Approval – CURI Graduate Education Center – Mr. Dalton presented the request for final approval. The proposed Graduate Education Center at the Clemson University Restoration Institute in North Charleston, SC is intended to be the iconic core of the Restoration Institute campus. The facility is programmed at up to 51,000 gross square feet on water-front property at dry dock number 3 of the old Charleston Naval Base. The building will support the undergraduate and graduate education activities for proposed programs in renewable energy and composite materials. These programs will support industry partners at CURI. The GEC will also serve as Clemson University’s continuing education facility in the low country of South Carolina. The facility will also provide space for industry partners in a variety of office type settings. Clemson students, faculty, and staff will engage in academic activities in the GEC. The CURI campus management staff will also be located in the building. The building will include offices, classrooms, conference rooms, an auditorium, café, gallery space, and a green roof. The building will seek LEED silver certification.

Trustee Hendrix moved to approve the request. The motion was approved unanimously.

Final Approval – Watt Family Innovation Center – Mr. Dalton presented the request for final approval. The Watt Family Innovation Center will be a cutting-edge facility located in the middle of the Clemson University campus, immediately south of Cooper Library. At 55,000 square feet in size and three stories tall, it will provide a significant amount of additional space for teaching and research in science, technology and engineering.

Trustee Hendrix moved to approve the request. The motion was approved unanimously.

Final Approval – Douthit Hills – Mr. Dalton presented the request for final approval. The Douthit Hills redevelopment project will respond to student demand for high-quality residential areas coupled with relevant support services and amenities. It will increase access to on-campus housing for upper division students and provide “swing space” that will minimize displacement of students when Johnstone and the Clemson House are renovated or replaced. It is the first major step in a planned transformation of student housing that will improve quality, reduce energy usage, and support the 2020 Road Map goals of enhancing student performance and engagement.

Through this project, approximately 1,750 residents will be housed in the area east of the Clemson House in LEED certified buildings. Two sections are planned. The western portion will accommodate upper division students in apartment settings, and the section to the east will be a series of residence halls to be occupied by Bridge students.

Functions in support of the student area will also be developed within this project. These include a dining hall and other food service venues, a bookstore, the Visitors Center, and the Admissions Office.

Construction of the project will include extensive infrastructure development, multiple levels of road closures and realignments, the construction of approximately 1,700 parking spaces, and the demolition of several small buildings on the site (under 5,000 square feet each). Many of the large trees will remain on site and will be significant assets to the look and feel of the project.

The infrastructure portion of the project includes a new 1,000,000 gallon water tank for the campus, a central energy facility for the entire Douthit Hills site for this phase and future phases of work, and new electrical, sewer, and water services.

Trustee Hendrix moved to approve the request. The motion was approved unanimously.
