THE MEDITATION OF DEPARTURE

From Tennyson’s “Crossing the Bar”

Sunset and evening star,
   And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
   When I put out to sea.

Twilight and evening bell,
   And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
   When I embark.

A Prayer for the Departed
By William Penn (1644 - 1718)

We give back to You, O God, those whom You gave to us. You did not lose them when You gave them to us, and we do not lose them by returning them to You. Your dear Son has taught us that life is eternal and love cannot die. So death is only a horizon, and a horizon is only the limit of our sight.

Open our eyes to see more clearly, and draw us closer to You that we may know that we are nearer to our loved ones, who are with You. You have told us that You are preparing a place for us; prepare us also for that happy place, that where You are, we may always be, O dear Lord of life and death.

Reunion 2007

Class Members and Honoraries at the Reunion
The flagpole was given to the class by Ruth Coleman in the 1970s in honor of her husband, General William S. Coleman, Clemson '39. At that time it was located in the caboose area, but was moved to the Heritage Gardens entrance when the Cadet Life Garden was completed, and later placed in storage when the map structure was built at the entrance. With its relocation to near the new Restroom, it was formally dedicated at Reunion 2007.
A prominent feature of Reunion 2007 was the dedication of the new Restroom, given by the Class of ’39 to the University as an integral part of the Heritage Gardens. Shown above is A. Neill Cameron, VP for Advancement, accepting the Restroom on behalf of the University. Later that evening, Neill was named an honorary member of the Class of ’39.
This newest addition to the Class of '39 Heritage Gardens was funded principally by gifts from Class members, with a significant contribution by friends wishing to honor long-time Hort professor James H. Crawford, for whom a plaque is displayed. Plans for the Restroom were contributed by Ed Zeigler AIA (Clemson '77).

Construction was begun in Mid-2006, and the facility was completed (but not yet landscaped) in time for its dedication at Reunion 2007.
A YEAR TO REMEMBER

A Very Special Event

The Faculty Senate invites you and your guest to join in a celebration to honor the Clemson University Great Class of '39 on Monday, January 7, 2008 6:00 - 8:00 pm
Faculty Senate Reception

The wonderful evening began with the chance to meet and greet old and new friends. Here the McKales and Youngs chat, while the band plays on - beautifully. Attendance included 39ers, original and honorary, and Faculty senate members.

Ralph Boys and friend sample the buffet, and after all were seated, Tee Senn and Chip Egan talked of the eventual transition from original to honorary 39ers, when the last two original 39ers will toast their classmates and turn over the reins to the latter-day 39ers (see p. 51). That occasion is to be marked by their breaking open and sharing the bottle of Year '39 Chateau Neuf du Pape (left) that was donated to the class by honorary '39er William (Whirl) Miller.

A highlight of the evening was a talk by guest of honor and our newest honorary member, Dr. Alma Bennett.
Designed by Jim Sweeny, the Class of '39 flag makes its inaugural flight in October, 2007. The flag will be displayed in the Heritage Gardens during class events.

Award for Excellence - 2007

Alma Bennett
Professor of Humanities and English
Department of English, Clemson University

B.M. cum laude · honors in music  Belhaven College  Jackson, MS  1962
M.S. (English) · Radford University  Radford, VA  1974
Ph. D. (Humanities) · University of Texas  Dallas, TX  1991

Asst. Prof., Humanities & English  Clemson University, Clemson, SC  1991 - 1997
Assoc. Prof., Humanities & English  Clemson University, Clemson, SC  1997 - 2003
Professor of Humanities & English  Clemson University, Clemson, SC  2003 - Date

Dr. Bennett, who directs the M.A. in English Program, has excelled in teaching interdisciplinary humanities and literature courses at Clemson and in summer programs in Italy. Her professional life began at the Library of Congress, after which she enjoyed a twenty-year career as a pianist, performer, and teacher in the United States, Libya, and Japan.

Since joining the Clemson faculty in 1991, she has earned a reputation as a professor’s professor. She is regarded as an exemplary colleague, an inspiring teacher and mentor, and a nationally recognized scholar whose interests encompass the Italian Renaissance, mythology, contemporary literature, and Holocaust studies. Her publications include two books on American novelist and essayist Mary Gordon and a wide range of essays. She is also the editor of Jerome Reel’s Women and Clemson and the forthcoming biography of Thomas Green Clemson. As novelist Mary Gordon has commented, “Professor Bennett is an example of all that is best and most valuable in a contemporary teacher/scholar. Her work ranges across the disciplines, across historical periods, delving deeply wherever she fixes her gaze.” This expertise led to her serving as President of the National Association for Humanities Education.

Alongside such activities, her commitment to Clemson has been conspicuous in her teaching as well as in her service for the Faculty Senate, multiple committees, the Calhoun Honors College, the National Scholars Program, and the M.A. in English Program. Clearly, Dr. Bennett’s focus remains fixed on her undergraduate and graduate students and on Clemson University itself.

The Faculty Senate honors Award for Excellence winner Dr. Alma Bennett

Jim Sweeny presents the bell replica and Champ Jones presents the Class History while Tee studies his speech. Tee spoke of the tradition of the award, and alerted Dr. Bennett to the certainty that she would be invited to become an honorary member of The Great Class.

Dr. Bennett graciously accepts the plaudits of the Class & Senate. Her name is forever inscribed on the Award for Excellence Roll of Honor beneath the old Tillman Hall Bell.

June 11, 12, & 13, 2009

This will be the 70th Anniversary of our graduation from Clemson in 1939. As of our 2008 reunion, there were only 62 living members out of a class that includes 383 members total. Soon we will all be gone to that great campus in the sky, but we leave with the sure knowledge that we have left our mark on our beloved school, in a way that few other classes ever have.

This will be the last reunion that we ourselves will manage. In the future, our honorary members will assume responsibility for the Class of '39 reunions (see Resolution, page 53), and although they will no doubt be well done, they won't be the same. Let's make every effort to attend this 2009 reunion, and make it a very special event.

Our initial planning includes our paying a last tribute to those 28 members of our class that gave their lives in the service of our country. At the same time, we plan to seal a time capsule in the Class of '39 Bell Tower, not to be opened until 2059, that will include a message from this great class to the University and the Class of 2059. Several more surprises are planned for inclusion in the time capsule, and you will be hearing about these as we approach our reunion next year.

We also expect that by reunion time next year, there will be significant progress toward the completion of the Class of '39 Heritage Gardens that you will want to see and hear about.

Finally, we have a surprise planned for our Friday night banquet next year that you will surely want to attend and participate in. So whether you can get around on your own or have to pushed in a wheel chair or carried in a litter, plan to come and enjoy this last of our annual reunions. Put it on your calendar, make reservations as soon as you can at the Ramada Inn, and let us know that you will be there.
