Kaiser Traveler
...World's first 2-cars-in-one

You call the signals! Your Kaiser Traveler puts two cars at your disposal. In 10 seconds, you can convert this big, beautiful 6-passenger luxury sedan to a husky cargo cruiser... ready to help pay its own way.

Look at that big, burly back! A 10-foot long, steel-shod hold, with 130 cubic feet of room to haul football gear or oak veneer... boats, boxes or bales of hay.

America’s smartest line play! The sweeping lines of a big, big car add to your pride, pleasure and riding ease. Big 123⅝” wheelbase ends ‘short car fatigue’.

Driving power to spare! Velvet-smooth Thunderhead engine keeps you ahead of the field on long runs... slips you through traffic smoothly. 7.3-to-1 high compression ratio slashes gas costs.

Plenty of extra points! The Kaiser Traveler gives you an ‘extra car’ for your money... two kinds of cars for the price of only one. So why sit on the sideline when you can drive a Kaiser Traveler!

Just A Passing Thought or Hope
By CHARLES J. HARVEY, Director of Publicity (Boston College)

Just as a passing thought, but one worthy of note, is the sensational rise to national acclaim of Boston College's Ed "Butch" Songin. A senior, Songin was not recognized as the passing wizard he is until midway through the 1948 season and at that, midway through the lost affair with Ole Miss.

Songin and his right arm were issued into that dying fray to throw the ball. That he did. Songin connected 19 times in 33 attempts for 225 yards and both Boston College touchdowns. But The Rebels had established a winning tally in the first half and were capable of withstanding further threats. The Eagles were beaten, 32-13, but Songin had won an opportunity to truly display his talent.

The following week, Songin and the Eagles amazed the City of Boston when they defied the power and brilliance of a great Clemson eleven. Bobby Gage led the undefeated Tigers by pitching T.D. passes to Bob Hudson and John Poulos in the second period while in the third frame he connected with Ray Mathews on a 51 yard scoring toss. Fred Cone plunged eight yards for the fourth Tiger touchdown.

But Songin propelled the Eagles in that game as he completed 21 of 42 passes and totaled 298 yards through the air. His passing accounted for the three B.C. scores.

Against William and Mary the Eagles had to come from behind to gain a 14-14 tie, even though they had trounced the Indians statistically. But a 41 yard pass interception by Henry Blanc and an 82 yard run by Jack Bruce provided the Indians with the satisfying scores. But B.C. had compiled 22 first downs to 3, gained 246 yards by rushing and 220 yards by passing while William and Mary netted a combined total of 198 yards. Songin again was the factor in the B.C. scoring. A 45 yard pass to Art Spinney was oddly batted from his hands and into the arms of Al Cannava who stepped into pay-dirt. In the final period, the Eagles staged a 53 yard march, featuring two sensational pass receptions by Albie Gould. Mike Poissant climaxed the push by going over from the three yard line.

Against St. Mary's of California, Songin continued to be the bright light in the eyes of B.C. followers. "Butch" tossed three touchdown aerials to gain a 19-7 decision over the Gaels on a very muddy Braves Field.

Against rival Holy Cross Songin showed that he could quarterback a running team as well as taking them through the air. He connected with Art Spinney, who lateraled to Cannava for the first score and then settled back to see Mike Poissant gather two third period scores and Ernie Stautner kick three extra points for the Eagles first win over Holy Cross in seven years, 21-20.

Great expectations were slept on during the winter and summer months as Songin had been and seemed assured of leading the Eagles in 1949. But such a team as Oklahoma; it shouldn't happen to anyone on their opening night. B.C. suffered its worst defeat in many moons, 46-0. Still, Songin proved immense. He passed 46 times in that opener against the Sooners and hit the mark 22 times. Despite his team's lop-sided defeat, Songin was rated as the nation's fourth best passer statistically.

The Eagles rebounded against Wake Forest and won their first and only game to date, 13-7. Songin threw two scoring aerials to Joe Dimnick. For the night, Songin completed 14 of the 24 passes thrown, and for his efforts reached second place in the nation with a record of 36 completions out of 70 attempts.

Songin had his poorest day ever against Penn State at State College, Pa. The entire squad seemed to have suffered a let-down while Songin was able to complete but seven aerials while throwing 23. Songin threw a 27 yard pass to Albie Gould for one of the B.C. scores as the Eagles went down 32-14.

Songin's passing dropped below .500 as a result of the trip to Penn State and he slipped to third position nationally. But 20,000 Boston fans witnessed an inspired B. C. eleven hold on to the University of Mississippi for a 25-25 deadlock and they also saw the "Butcher-boy" complete 11 of 19 passes, for a net yardage gained of 225 yards.

Inspiration was the keynote of success in the Eagles' struggle with Georgetown. The Hoyas were giving their all to gain a victory for the youthful and native son, coach Bob Margarita. They did win the game for him, with a 13 yard field goal, 10-7. Songin again was outstanding as he pitted his passes against the Hoyas' great sophomore passer Mattingly. Songin completed 10 out of 18 while Mattingly hit his mark 12 times in 22 tries.

Following the Georgetown contest, Songin still was listed third on the national statistic sheets with 64 completions out of 130 passes thrown.

Last week, another B.C. rival eleven stomped into Boston and then pranced out with a victory. The Eagles were again beaten, this time by a great Villanova team. Yet still the Eagles portrayed the part of a threatening unit all the way. Songin again stood out with his passing efforts, completing 15 out of 30, with one going for a score and another pay-dirt toss being called back due to a slight offensive felony. While the Eagles were beaten 28-14, Songin again was pitted against another great passer, Steve Romanik of Villanova. Romanik completed 11 out of 23 gaining 160 yards while Songin netted 204 yards with his passes.

So there he is, number 22, one of the nation's leading passers, along with a squad of Eagles that will certainly provide you with a fine brand of football this afternoon.

ALL ABOUT COLLEGE AND ME

by BOB HOPE

WELL, HERE I am writing about college. College! . . . that's sleeping sickness with cokes.

Now, don't get me wrong. I really love college. And I went there, too. I can vividly remember my college days . . . all three of them.

And I would have been a fraternity man, too, but some cad started the rumor that I wore garters.

But if I had it to do over I'd go to college again. In fact, I'd take a special business course with plenty of hours in accounting and statistics. Then I could get a job in Crosby's bank and maybe even get inside that big, green-lined vault.

I've been seeing pretty much of college the last couple of years. You see, I'm on the air every Tuesday night over NBC (Advertisement) and we play several colleges around the country every season.

And the colleges have been awfully nice to me, too. Usually I work on a guarantee. Like when I played at the University of Southern California the week before the big game with Notre Dame. "If you do well, Mister Hope," the president told me, "I'll guarantee you your choice of tickets for the football game." I thanked him heartily . . . then he added, "at either end of the field."

Of course, I wouldn't say that football is important at college. But one morning last fall I saw a tackle going to class . . . and the president of the college was carrying him piggy-back.

And they're really doing a lot of building on the college campuses these days. And they're going up in a hurry, too. On one campus I visited they had built a dormitory so fast that when it was all finished the termites were still in their pajamas. And I saw another place they put up so quickly even Kilroy hadn't been there. And then I found out why . . . Richard wouldn't let him in.

I was really a tiger on the gridiron . . . so the first thing I did when I went back for a visit was to look up my old coach. I walked right into his office, stuck out my hand and said, "Hi, Coach! Well, here I am . . . the greatest athlete you ever coached."

That stumped him. He didn't say a thing, so I went on:

"I had the body of an athlete."

He took one good look, smiled and said, "Well, Hope, you still got the feet."

This made me mad. "What are you talking about?" I asked indignantly. "I used to pose for Atlas pictures, holding the world on my shoulders."

"The globe slipped down a bit didn't it, old boy," he said as he took another look.

But I went right on. "Just picture me as Tarzan, swinging through the trees," I pointed out.

"Please, Hope," he asked, "let's leave your ancestors out of this. So you think you were a football player, huh?"

"Yes sir," I said. And to refresh his memory I asked, "How about the day I made all those long runs???

He smiled. "Yes, Hope," he said, "that was surely great. You never spilled a drop out of the bucket."
