Clemson-Georgia Game.

Before a crowd of about 4,000 people, Clemson suffered defeat at the hands of the University of Georgia eleven at the Fair grounds in Augusta, by the score of 8 to 0. This is the first defeat the "Tigers" have received at the hands of Georgia since these two colleges have had athletic relations.

The Old Gold and Purple was as much in evidence in the stands and boxes as was the Red and Black, and the side lines presented a spectacular appearance as the pennants and colors of the two institutions were being gaily fluttered. A rather unique feature of the game was that both the Clemson and Georgia teams were represented by sponsors. The Clemson sponsors were: Misses Anna Plunkett, Katherine Verderoy, Rita Garrett, and Mary Walker.

The game was exciting and close, and if it was not for the trustful toe of Hodgson, Georgia's halfback, the game would have been a 0-0 affair. Clemson was seriously handicapped by the absence of Robbs, our star full-back, who received severe injuries in the Vanderbilt and Davidson games. It would be safe to say that had Robbs been in the game there would be a different tale to tell, perhaps a 6-4 victory for us.

For the most part, the game was one of the old-style football. The forward pass was attempted several times both by Georgia and Clemson, and never once did it work successfully. Clemson worked the onside kick several times, but a Georgia man fell on the ball on every occasion.

As Robbs was out, Horton was shifted to the backfield, and Boykin placed at Horton's end. Boykin played a good game, his punting being excellent. Boykin's booting averaged about 35 yards. Coles played a strong defensive game, and White was there with the goods in handling punts.

For Georgia, Hodgson was easily the star. He kicked two field goals, scoring all the points for his team. Derrick and Peacock proved Georgia's other stars.

Clemson-Davidson Game.

Clemson lost to Davidson in Columbia on Wednesday morning of Fair week by a score of 13 to 0. This score, however, in the opinion of many, does not indicate the relative strength of the two elevens, as all of Davidson's points were scored as a result of some fluke, and after Robbs and White were knocked out of the game. They were putting up a game fight up to the time of their removal, Robbs especially shining as a brilliant star. His long steady bucks were a feature, and his punting was even better than Denny's, who did punting for the Davidson eleven. Gilmer was a great one on the cross tackle plays, and made a number of good gains for Clemson. White played a good end, and McFadden and Fleming showed some good defensive work. Coles made some brilliant tackles.

Kluttz undoubtedly did the best playing for Davidson. His recovery of punts was something remarkable, and few, if any, gains were made around his end. Denny made several good gains, and was a strong one on offense. Elliot showed good headwork in running his team.

The game was scheduled to come off rain snow, shine, or otherwise, and has been the custom in the past, this one was pulled off on time. Tuesday night, the rain began falling, and all through the game, the downpour lasted. The day was a disagreeable one for a foot-ball game, there being a decided touch of winter in the air, and this, coupled with the rain made it almost unbearable. Owing to the bad weather, the stands were not packed as is usually the case, but still there was a good crowd present doing all in their power to cheer the Old Gold and Purple on to victory.

GAME IN DETAIL.

In the opening half Elliott of Davidson kicked off to McFadden, Who advanced 5 yards. McFadden gained 3 yards around right end. Gilmer made 4 yards on a tackle over tackle play. Robbs then hit center for 5 yards. Coles made 3 yards around right end. Lokey gained 3 yards around left end. Gil-
Mr. H. K. Sanders stopped at his home for a couple of days on his way from the Fair.

Messrs. Salley and Pegues remained in Columbia after the departure of the corps, for the purpose of having the tents taken down.

Mr. O. M. Clark visited his home instead of returning with the corps.

Mrs. Mell entertained the Seniors of Co. "D" last Tuesday evening.

Mr. B. E. Wolfe spent last Saturday in Anderson attending to business.

Mr. B. H. Rowl, an old Clemson man who has made a fine record at Washington in the Agricultural department, paid us a short visit a short time ago.

Mr. H. Guerry, who was appointed secretary to the president, has assumed his duties.

Capt. Minus went to Atlanta on business a few days ago.

Clemson sent twenty-two men to the Bible Study Conference, which was held this year at Furman University.

Prof. T. B. Earle spent a few days in Spartanburg and Greenville while the corps was in Columbia.

A number of Seniors, together with several of the "Hill dwellers" enjoyed a very pleasant Hallowe’en party Saturday night, at Maj. Martin’s.

Two representatives of the Everett Waddey Co. were here recently, and arrangements were made for printing the ’09 Annual.

Dr. Sears, the celebrated humorist, lectured in chapel last Saturday night. Sunday afternoon, he gave another lecture to the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. T. B. Reeves spent Saturday in Greenville, in the interest of The Tiger.

Four arc lamps have been put up on the edge of the football field so that the practice might be carried on a little later.

Mr. Winslow Sloan has started a cafe in connection with his soda fountain.

Miss Minnie Bates Wannamaker, who for a long time has been private secretary and stenographer to the President, has been granted leave of absence for a year, during which time she will study at Vanderbilt University.

Messrs. A. R. McCauley, of the ’06 Class, and T. L. Brice, an old cadet, stood an examination in Atlanta last week for an appointment in the U. S. Marine corps.

Mr. E. C. Martin left Columbia before the corps on account of illness, and stopped a few days at his home.

Some of the Agricultural Seniors are going to Pendleton Tuesday to a stock sale.

Prof. Nourse entertained one of his Senior sections Friday evening.

The Senior Dancing Club gave a very pleasant little dance last Saturday evening.

Prof. C. H. Shattock is contemplating a trip for his Seniors to Vanderbilt’s estate, at Biltmore.

Revised Version.

Mary had a little jam,
And then a little jelly;
She woke up later in the night
With a badly aching— tooth.
When the doctor came at half past two,
He sat staring like a dummy;
He laid a big hot water bag
On Mary’s little— cheek.
But all the doctor did or said
Did not make Mary well;
They laid her in the grave next day
And now she is at— rest.

Trip to the Fair.

On Monday morning, October 26, the entire corps, with the exception of perhaps twenty-five cadets, formed by battalion, and were marched by the respective company commanders to Calhoun, where we boarded the train for Columbia.

With a fierce looking tiger’s head on the front of the engine, and with decorations, beautiful to the eyes of the casual looker on, our train sped on and on till we reached Columbia, our capital city; and from the train were marched to our camp on the Fair grounds.

While at the Fair, the football game, between the fast Tiger team and Davidson, which had long been looked forward to by every cadet, drew an immense crowd of admiring both teams; and, despite the rain that fell all during the game, both teams played good ball. In the first half, the teams were so evenly matched that neither were able to score. In the second half, after about ten minutes play, two of Clemson's stars, Robbs and White, were forced to retire from the game on account of injuries; and, from that time on, the boys from Davidson made steady gains on the fierce fighters from Clemson; and, in the last three minutes and forty seconds of play, scored thirteen points on the undaunted Tigers.

On the night before the game, the entire student bodies of Carolina and Clemson met in the chapel of our sister college in Columbia, and decided that the garnet and black should cheer the purple and old gold to victory on Wednesday, and on Thursday, when Carolina and Davidson should meet on the gridiron, the boys from the Agricultural College should demonstrate loudly for our neighbor school.

We were defeated; but we fought like tigers, giving up only when the whistle blew, and time was called;
and although Davidson has one more scalp added to her football belt, we can say, and with pride, we fought a good fight, and lost when injuries counted defeat. The Carolina boys stayed by us even to the last, joining with us in our yells, singing with us our songs, loudly cheering when we seemed hopeless of victory.

I voice the sentiment of the entire corps when I say, we deeply appreciated thier support, we deeply feel our gratitude for the kind, the unselfish treatment that we received at their hands; and, today, the two colleges are bound together for the mutual good, standing arm in arm in the brotherhood of close friends.

Our Commandant joined us in our pleasures, and gave us all the privileges that one could possibly ask.
We sincerely thank him; and hope that he will again be our leader on such another occasion.

On Friday morning, after five days of true pleasure, we again boarded the train; and, soon we were speeding on our way to Clemson; and happy, thrice happy were we because we had attended the State Fair.

The Clemson-Carolina Mass Meeting.
The Tigers and the Game Cocks meet and smoke the pipe of peace.

Every cadet, who was in the crowd that assembled before the State capitol Tuesday evening of the Fair week, will long remember that occasion as one of the most pleasant and inspiring of our many pleasant occasions at the Fair. There it was that several hundred of the boys in grey assembled, before marching to the campus of the University of South Carolina.
After giving a few yells, and singing a few songs, the crowd of enthusiastic Clemsonites marched in two's to the University. As the head of the Clemson column entered the Carolina campus, yell after yell from the Carolinians went up for their Clemson brothers.
The grey line marched directly into the chapel which which was crowded to its fullest capacity with a mingled crowd of Clemson and Carolina students.

For about forty-five minutes the students of the two institutions eagerly listened to, and heartily cheered, the speakers from the two schools. There in that short but ever memorable time the last vestige of any ill feeling that might have rankled any man's bosom was buried so deeply that only God in heaven could find it.

After the never-to-be-forgotten meeting in the chapel, the two student bodies retired to the campus, and after giving a few yells, started on a parade up Main street of Columbia. Long will be the memory of that parade in the heart of every Clemson student; when the great Carolina and the mighty Clemson marched arm in arm, when the purple and gold, and the garnet and black, floating to the breeze, blended into one. There was written upon every student's glad countenance a look of close, inseparable friendship. When the parade broke before C. F. W., the two institutions were closer together than ever before in the history of either. Other memories of the Fair may fade into oblivion, but the memory of our mutual pledge of friendship, love, and support with our brother institution, never.

A Clemson Alumnus Passes Away.

Mr. E. J. Laren, of the Class of '02, died from typhoid malaria at Johnstown, Pa., October 9, 1908. He was the brother of Mr. George Laren, of the Class of '03. He leaves a wife and daughter who live at Charleston, S. C.

He was born March 26, 1882, at Cordesville, Berkley County, South Carolina. Attended public schools until thirteen years of age, then Porter's Military Academy of Charleston, for one year, then the Charle-ton High school for the two following years. Entered Clemson College September, 1898, and received the degree of B. S. in Electrical and Mechanical Engineering in June, 1902.

July, 1902, appointed Rodman by the U. S. Civil Service Commission in the Department of yards and docks, stationed at the Charleston Navy Yard.

March, 1903, accepted position as Assistant Engineer of the American Pipe Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., at which time he became assistant to the Superintendent and Engineer in charge of the construction of Water Supply System for the city of Charleston, S. C. This system comprised the con-construction of one ten million gallon sedimentation reservoir, one two million gallon clear water reservoir, one earth dam one half mile in length, giving a storage of over three billion gallons, one lock and two spillways of crib construction. Pumping station equipped with slow sand filters, pumps, boilers and accessories, with a capacity for supplying five million gallons per twenty-four hours. Before this work was completed he was put in direct charge of same.

June, 1905, after making preliminary surveys and designing a distributing reservoir of five million gallons capacity, was placed in charge as engineer during the construction of same at Parkesburg, Pa.

January to June, 1906, he designed many small reservoirs of the circular type, also, large earth and masonry dams of various design, located in the State of Pennsylvania.

June, 1906, to June, 1908, he was engineer in charge of the construction of a cyclopean masonry dam, at New Florence, Pa. This dam was 3,250 feet long and 40 feet high, costing over $175,000 and holding over 100 million gallons.

From June, 1908, to the time of his death, he built several intakes and small reservoirs. At the time of his death he was resident engineer in charge of the construction of a large dam of 130,000,000 gallons capacity, located at Johnstown, Pa.

The death of this useful gentleman and friend is deeply deplored by all Clemson’s alumni, students and friends.

Clemson-Georgia Game.

GAME IN DETAIL.

Coles won the toss-up, and chose to receive kickoff. Derrick kicked off 45 yds to Boykin, who advanced 5 yards. Horton hit the line for 5 yards. McFadden failed to gain around right end. Boykin punted 45 yards to Woodruff, who was downed in his tracks. Derrick immediately punted 35 yards, and Georgia recovered the ball. Woodruff lost 3 yards around left end. Franklin failed to gain on a tackle over tackle play. Derrick punted 30 yards to McFadden. Dellapierre failed to gain, so Derrick punted 20 yards to McFadden, who was downed in his tracks. White lost two yards around right end, Hodgson making a nice tackle. Boykin then punted 30 yards to Woodruff, who returned the ball 20 yards. Dellapierre made 5 yards on a tackle over tackle play, and later failed to gain on the same play. Newsome made it first down. On a run around left end, Lokey tackled Hatcher behind the line and got the ball when Hatcher fumbled. Coles gained two yards around left end. Boykin punted 25 yards to Woodruff, who made no advance, White making a beautiful tackle. Derrick punted 25 yards to White. McFadden hit the line for 2 yards. Lokey made 3 yards on a straight line play. Boykin punted 40 yards. Derrick immediately returned the punt 35 yards, Coles making a fair catch. Clemson failed in an attempt to work the forward pass, and received a 15 yard penalty. Boykin punted 35 yards to Peacock, who made a 5 yard advance. Hatcher made 5 yards around left end. Clemson was here penalized 5 yards for being offside. Newsome made 5 yards on a straight line play. Peacock hit center for 6 more. Franklin failed to gain on a tackle over tackle play. Ball is now in Clemson’s 13 yard line. Clemson then held Georgia for downs and got possession of the ball on her own 2 yard line. Lokey hit center for two yards. Gilmer made it 2 more. Boykin then punted 25 yards. Hatcher made 4 yards around left end. Woodruff gained 6 yards around right end. Newsome failed to gain, and Woodruff lost 3 yards around Coles’s end. With the ball on Clemson’s 15 yard line, Hodgson tried a field goal, but the ball went wide.

The ball was then brought out to the 25 yard line and kicked 30 yards by Boykin, Woodruff making a 10 yard advance. Hodgson punted 25 yards, White making a fair catch. Coles made 4 yards around left end. Gilmer gained 7 yards on a tackle over tackle play, but fumbled when he was downed, and a Georgia man fell on the ball. Newsome made 8 yards over left guard. Peacock hit the same spot for 4 more. Griffith failed to gain. On a quarter-back run around right end, Woodruff gained 2 yards. Ball now on Clemson’s 12 yard line. Hodgson tried goal from placement and sent the ball sailing between the goal posts for the first score of the game. Score: Clemson, 0; Georgia, 4.

Derrick kicked off 45 yards to McFadden, who advanced 10 yards. Gilmer made 5 yards on a tackle play. Coles circled left end for 3 yards, and Horton hit center for 5 more. Gilmer hit the line for 4 more. McFadden made an onside kick. Hodgson making a fair catch. Derrick punted 40 yards. McFadden gained 3 yards around left end. Boykin then punted 40 yards to Woodruff, who made a 5 yard advance. Griffith made 11 yards around right end. Peacock hit the line for 1 yard. Derrick punted 25 yards to White, who made a yard advance. Lokey gained 1 yard, and Boykin punted 30 yards to Woodruff, who advanced 2 yards. Hodgson punted 25 yards out of bounds to White. The ball was then brought in 15 yards and Horton hit the line for 3 yards. Boykin fumbled the pass for a punt, and and thereby lost 5 yards. Dellapierre broke through the line and blocked the punt when Boykin again attempted it, and obtained possession of the ball on Clemson’s 5 yard line. Peacock hit the line, but hit a stone wall and did not gain an inch. The inevitable Hodgson was then called on, but the best he could do was to advance it 2 yards. When Newsome failed to gain, the ball went over to Clemson on her own 2 yard line. Time was here called for the end of the first half. Score: Clemson, 0; Georgia, 4.

SECOND HALF.

Coles kicked off 45 yards to Woodruff, who brought it back 10 yards. Derrick punted 35 yards to Horton, the latter making a fair catch. McFadden gained 2 yards around right end. Coles failed in an attempt to gain around left end. Boykin fumbled the pass to punt, and the ball goes over to Georgia. Hendy lost 2 yards around left end. Georgia was here penalized 15 yards for illegal use of hands. Derrick then punted 40 yards to White, who brought it back 10 yards. Clemson was here penalized 15 yards for illegal use of hands. Boykin’s punt was blocked, Georgia obtained possession of the ball. On a delayed pass, Peacock gained 2 yards. Dellapierre made 1 yard on a tackle over tackle play. Ball now in Georgia’s possession on Clemson’s 8 yard line, Hodgson here attempted a place kick from the field, but missed.

The ball was brought out to the 25 yard line, and kicked 25 yards to Boykin. On the next play, Clemson was penalized 5 yards for being offside. Woodruff gained 5 yards right end. On a delayed pass, Peacock made 6 yards on a line buck. Ball now on Clemson’s 25 yard line. Hodgson hit center for 8 yards, and Dellapierre failed to gain. From the 17 yard line, Hodgson sent the pig-skin sailing between the goal posts for the second field goal of the game. Score: Clemson, 0; Georgia, 8.

Coles kicked off 55 yards to Hodgson, who advanced 10 yards. Derrick punted 25 yards to White. By nice dodging McFadden made 11 yards around right end. Lokey failed to gain, and Gilmer annexed 2 yards. Horton made 6 yards on a delayed pass. Ball went over to Georgia on downs. Derrick punted 30 yards to White, who was downed in his tracks by Woodruff. McFadden made 6 yards around left end. Gilmer made it 3 more on a tackle over tackle play. Davis went on the field to relieve Bostick without the referee’s permission, and as twelve men were on the field for Georgia when a scrimage was taking place, Georgia was penalized 15 yards. Clemson attempted the forward pass, Woodruff getting the ball. Derrick punted 15 yards out of bounds. The ball was brought in 15 yards. Horton made 4 yards on a delayed pass. McFadden failed to gain. Georgia here substituted Maddox for Griffith. Clemson attempted the onside kick, but Woodruff got the ball. Hodgson punted 25 yards to Coles. Lokey made 2 yards around left end. On a fumble by Horton, Georgia got the ball. Hodgson punted 40 yards to White, who advanced 5 yards. On a fake punt, Boykin made 11 yards around left end. Clemson here fumbled and Georgia got the ball. Derrick attempted the forward pass, but Woodruff got possession of the ball. Coles circled left end for 8 yards, and Horton made it 4 more on a straight line play. Clemson fumbled, but Cochran fell on the ball.

If for any reason you fail to get The Tiger, notify the Business Manager.

Not that our team is weaker, slower, or less skillful than our opponents, but we seem to play in ‘hard luck.’

Why, the very idea of any Clemson man’s not supporting The Tiger, especially a Senior! It makes our bristles rise with astonishment.

Who could fail to admire such grit as was shown by Robbs in the Clemson-Davidson game? He was scarcely able to stand, but still he fought like a real Tiger.

It was certainly gratifying to hear such words of commendation from our Commandant as was spoken just before leaving Camp Brodie. They were sincere; for he is by profession a man who speaks his mind, regardless of whether it pleases or not.

The Clemson-Carolina mass meeting was one of the most important of our many events at the State Fair. It will be a very important factor in drawing the two institutions into a closer and lasting friendship.

Every man who heard Dr. Sears’ most excellent lecture in the chapel last Saturday night can not help but be constrained to more cheerful and cast to the winds all real and imaginary troubles. Some one remarked that the burden of his discourse was “Smile, darn you, Smile.” And surely it was; for the very atmosphere around him seemed to be charged with sunshine and cheerfulness. Why can’t we follow his advice? For our melancholy countenances and puckered brows are often only a matter of habit anyway. There is no telling the sorrow-clouded brows that may be cleared by a smile of cheerful word from us. No matter what happens let us have sunshine in our souls and show it in our countenances. Let each one of us try to make his heart a perpetual fountain of cheerfulness and sunshine.

The long looked for and much talked of Fair is something of the past; and I am sure every cadet, with all of his hopes and dreams, found it even beyond his fondest expectations. The benefits and pleasures derived from the trip are almost beyond the degree of calculation. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the Fair week will long remain a memorable week in the heart of every boy now at Clemson College. As to the pleasures we got from the trip, they are so vast and numerous that it would be down-right nonsense to try to enumerate them. The outing, the getting Christmas. You can spend your spare moments pleasantly and beneficially in a well organized club. Besides, you will have everything in perfect order when the time comes for making pictures for the Annual.

Why can’t we get out a basket ball team? We have the boys who are only too willing to go into it, and we can get the grounds. The foot-ball season will soon be over; and, unless we get out something of the kind, there will be “nothingdoing” until track and baseball season comes in. It is up to some one to get busy and start the ball rolling.

No one dares deny that our team was in every respect equal to Davidson’s. Any one watching the game in detail could see that our team was as strong, fast, and skillful as the Davidson team. While, it is true, Davidson made some longer gains thanCLEMSON, the Tigers made average longer gains under greater difficulties. There is no reason under the sun why we should not be proud of our plucky little team; for there is in each man that material which goes to make up a good, clean, manly foot-ball player.

away from the monotonous strain of college duties, besides the seeing of our friends, mothers, fathers, sweethearts, etc., was worth within itself a whole year's work. If any man didn't have an enjoyable time, it was his own fault, and not because it wasn't there to be had, or that Capt. Minus didn't give us privileges enough. To most of us, the trip was very beneficial in an educational way. We found there many things that, by practical demonstration, brought to light ideas with which we have long been struggling blindly, and also brought to our minds new ideas of which we would never have otherwise thought. Not only were the men pursuing one particular course benefited, but every man found something of educational value to him. To many of us the camp life was new and beneficial. We are better acquainted with the arrangement and manipulation of a military camp. For the benefit of the lower classmen and for the classes yet to come, we hope to see the trip to the Fair made an annual occasion. We are sure that nothing else of that character would be more appreciated by the student body.

McFadden lost 3 yards on a play around left end. Robbs hit the line for 5 yards and made 3 more on a delayed pass; Gilmer took in 4 yards more on a cross tackle play. Robbs made 4 on a line play. Coles added 2 yards around left end. Ball in Clemson’s possession on Davidson’s 30 yard line.

End of the first half. Score: Clemson, 0; Davidson, 0.

SECOND HALF.

Coles kicked to Daniels, who failed to gain, the ball being fumbled, and Fleming gaining possession for the Tigers. Robbs gained 5 yards on a line play. Gilmer gained 2 yards on a cross tackle play. Robbs made 3 yards more on a straight line play. McFadden gained 2 yards on the same kind of play. The delayed pass failed to work and Coles made an onside kick for 15 yards, Elliott making a fair catch.

Denny punted 40 yards to White. Kluttz making a nice tackle. Lokey gained 5 yards around left end. McFadden clipped off 3 yards around right end. Robbs made first down for Clemson. Odom failed to gain on a cross tackle. McFadden hit the line for 2 yards. Coles made onside kick, Elliott advancing 10 yards. Denny dropped back to punt and fumbled, being tackled behind the line for a loss of 10 yards. Denny punted 35 yards and McFadden failed to gain. Robbs made 3 yards over center. Robbs clipped off another 5 yards. Coles dropped back to punt and on a bad pass was tackled behind the line, losing 10 yards. The ball went over and it was Davidson’s ball, Clemson being penalized 5 yards for offside play.

James gained 4 yards and Moore made the same gain the next play. Denny failed to gain and the ball went over to Clemson. Robbs clipped off 4 yards on a straight line play, and Gilmer made it 5 more on a cross tackle play. Lokey hit the line for 8 yards. McFadden gained 5 yards on a line play. Gilmer made a beautiful run for 10 yards on a cross tackle play. Quigg went out at this point, Irwin going in at full for Davidson. Clemson’s ball in the middle of the field. Robbs gained 5 yards on a fake punt around left end. McFadden lost 2 yards on a delayed pass around right end. Robbs went out of the game and Furtick went in, taking the left end position. Horton being shifted to fullback.

Denny punted 40 yards to Coles, who advanced 5 yards. Horton gained 2 yards. Gilmer gained 1 yard over left tackle. Moore failed to gain. Elliott made onside kick and McFadden got the ball on the two-yard line. Horton gained 2 yards on a line play.

Horton kicked to Elliott, who advanced 5 yards. Elliott passed to Denny and the latter lost 8 yards on the play around left end. Denny kicked 20 yards to White, who failed to gain. White went out of the game and Harris was substituted at right end. Wilkerson went out for Davidson and Penen went in at right end. Harris dropped back to punt and was tackled behind the line by Daniels, making a safety for Davidson. Score: Clemson, 0; Davidson, 2.

The ball was then brought out to the 25-yard line and kicked by Harris 10 yards and Davidson failed to gain. Denny lost 4 yards on a fake punt around left end. On an onside kick by Elliott, McFadden got the ball and no gain was made, but the ball was Clemson’s. Horton gained 2 yards over the line. Harris kicked 25 yards out of bounds. Denny ran 12 yards around left end on a fake punt play. The forward pass was worked well for Davidson, Elliott passing to Peden, gaining 10 yards. Denny clipped off 8 yards around left end. Dunn made 5 yards on a cross tackle play. On a fake punt Denny went 5 yards around left end for a touchdown. Score: Davidson, 7; Clemson, 0. Elliott missed an easy goal.

Coles kicked 45 yards to Denny, who advanced 10 yards. Denny punted 25 yards to Horton, who failed to gain. McFadden lost 2 yards around right end. Gilmer failed to gain. Harris punted 30 yards out of bounds. The ball was brought in 15 yards and Denny punted 35 yards, Coles fumbling on account of a wet ball. Kluttz got possession of the ball in the middle of the field, going the 55 yards for a touchdown. Score: Clemson, 0; Davidson, 13.

Coles kicked off from the middle of the field 35 yards to Elliott, who advanced 15 yards. Denny immediately punted 35 yards, Coles advancing 5 yards. Gilmer made 5 yards on a cross tackle play.
The game called, the ball being in Clemson's possession on Davidson's 35-yard line.

Palmetto Literary Society.

In consequence of the fact that we spent a few days in Columbia, where we enjoyed one week of pleasure among the congenial and hospitable citizens of that city, and where we met many of our old friends and acquaintances, we did not arrive at the college until late Friday night; therefore no regular exercises were held in the society.

At our last meeting, the first quarter of society being ended, a motion was made and carried to dispense with the regular exercises, and proceed to elect the new officers for the second quarter, as well as to attend to some other business matters. After the election of the officers, considerable discussion took place in the hall concerning the annual contest to be held by the society on the evening of George Washington’s birthday. It was ordered that each individual aspiring to represent the society in this contest, either as an orator, debater, or declaimer, hand in his name to the president not later than November 26, 1908.

At the expiration of this time, the society shall elect the orators and debaters from the volunteer list, where, the declaimers shall compete for the place by a preliminary exercise. We are anxious to see many eager and earnest boys enter into this contest with all the bounding rapture and enthusiasm of an ambitious youth; and may they show the society an upholding of their very best efforts in striving to attain the honor of representing their society on February 22, 1909. Even though you fail to deliver as credible a declamation as some of the rest, remember that it will do you an immense amount of good at any rate.

We were glad to welcome our new Y. M. C. A. Secretary as a visitor of our society last Friday night. He spoke a few words of encouragement to those contemplating entering the contest, and urged each to do his best. If these declamations, debates, and orations are made beautiful by being born in silence of your leisure, then transplanted in sunshine of expressive words, they will grow and engender thought, become a welcome guest and a stepping stone to success in the accomplishment of this purpose.

In the matter of old business, we were glad to learn that Mr. Nickles, chairman of the Society Pin committee, had succeeded in obtaining the beautiful pin which was adopted by the society some time ago. We congratulate the committee upon the pin they selected.
for we think it is a very appropriate one. The pin is diamond shaped, made of solid gold, and around the perimeter of the pin are studded twenty-four small pearls. In the center of the pin is another black, diamond shaped elevation, homologous with the external shape of the pin, upon which are the Greek letters in gold. (P. L. S.)

The following were elected officers for the second quarter:

H. K. Sanders, President; P. M. Gee, Vice-President; W. A. Barnett, Secretary; R. E. Nickles, Literary Critic; A. McDavid, Censor; G. A. Neuffer, Sergeant-at-arms; J. D. O'Bryan, Prosecuting Critic; W. E. Stokes, H. W. Cromer, S. E. Evans, Reporting Critics.

Calhoun Literary Society.
The exercise at our last meeting were short, but very good. Both the orator and declaimer did justice to their subjects and to themselves. Mr. Easterling read an essay that was very pleasing and instructive, and one that showed careful preparation.

The debate was dispensed with, and the election of officers for the second quarter took place. As usual, the society selected the men who were best suited to their respective offices, and who would exert an influence for the best interests of the society. The following officers were installed:

W. C. Pitts, President; T. B. Reeves, Vice-President; J. C. Pridmore, Critic; C. P. Roberts, Recording Secretary; G. G. Inman, Corresponding Secretary.

Columbian Literary Society.
In the last meeting of the Columbian, the debate was arranged especially for the benefit of the new men, of whom four were placed on the debate. In discussing the query, “Resolved, That country life is more preferable than city life,” these men showed more nerve and actual “gall” than any “rats” have dared expose, on their first attempt, in recent years. This, we think a very commendable quality in society work, as it is in some other kinds of work.

The men who will represent the society in the Annual Celebration have been elected. The orators are Mr. O. M. Clark, of the Senior, and Mr. N. E. Byrd, of the Junior Class. The debaters are Messrs. A. L. Harris and D. W. Watkins, both of the Senior Class. As to declaimers, the society will follow its usual custom and have several men prepare declamations. All these men will be heard before Christmas, and the best will be chosen for the celebration on the 19th of January. The men who will enter the declaimers preliminary contest are: Messrs. W. J. Brockington, F. Fleming and A. C. Whittle, of the Senior Class, and Messrs. L. W. Summers, W. M. Wiggins, P. A. Baxley, H. S. Johnson, C. F. Middleton, and J. N. Carothers of the Junior Class.

We recently had the pleasure of hearing talks from Mr. E. H. Shuler and Mr. L. O. Watson. Mr. Crider gave us a very instructive dissertation on the merits of country life. These gentlemen have a standing invitation to come to our society and speak whenever they possibly can; and we have come to look forward to a talk from at least one of them at every meeting. From their discourses we get a lot of inspiration and guidance to encourage us in our work.

After the regular program had been carried out, the society went into the business of electing officers for the second quarter of the college session. As a result the following officers were elected: President, D W. Watkins; Vice-President, A. L. Harris; Literary Critic, O. M. Clark; Recording Secretary, N. E. Byrd; Corresponding Secretary, L. W. Summers; Prosecuting Critic, C. F. Middleton; Reporting Critics, J. E. Jenkins and F. H. Aull; Sergeant-at-arms, J. F. Ezel.

We were glad to note that some repairs had been made on the lighting system of our hall.

Y. M. C. A.
At last we have a general secretary. Mr. Prevost has only been here a few days, yet he has made friends of nearly all the students. If you haven't met him, call at 84 when you have a few minutes to spare.

Mr. Summers and Mr. Byrd have returned from the Ohio conference. They had a fine time, and brought back many new ideas concerning Bible study work.

Dr. Sear's lecture Sunday afternoon on “Borrowing Trouble,” was heard by almost the entire student body and many of the people on the hill. It was one of the most humorous and yet sensible talks heard here for some time. Just whether it is due to the lecture or to the recent trip to the Fair, the boys seem much jollier and good humored than ordinarily.

The secretary is making the Bible class leaders wake up, and in fact, all workers in general. Lookout, your time is next.

Many of our boys took advantage of their membership cards by going to the Y. M. C. A. building in Columbia. All the privileges were granted us, and we thank the men there for their kindness.

The Y. M. C. A. hall was well filled last Sunday evening. This shows that the men take an interest in the work. Prof. Bryan gave a sketch of the Y. M. C. A. work while he was in school, and how it had steadily progressed. He spoke most complimentary of Mr. Legate and the work he had done. Then the new secretary, Mr. Prevost, spoke on the value of a good character.

Prayer meeting has been changed from Thursday night of each week to Wednesday night.

Some of the new men are asking about that social they were told of when they joined. What about it, Mr. President?

Classes

Senior Class.

A few days before going to the Fair, Mr. Woodson P. Waddey, representing the Everett Waddey Co., made a visit to Clemson College; for the purpose of securing the contract for the ’09 Annual. A very valuable and interesting talk was given the art staff by the head of their engraving department. After the matter was carefully considered by the staff, the contract was given to the Everett Waddey Co., which will be remembered as the company which published the attractive ’08 Annual. The staff has about decided to keep the last year name “Taps” and to have a black leather cover about 10½ x 7½ on which will be placed gilt letters. We hope to have our photographer here before Christmas and now is the time for the clubs to get together and organize. Fellows, begin now and lets have a large number of original clubs for the Annual of 1909.

A number of the Seniors, including several Professors, were highly entertained the first Saturday night after coming from the Fair, at a Hallowe’en party was given by Prof. and Mrs. Martin. The party was given in honor of the Misses Fuller, the charming daughters of one of our former Commandants, who is now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The party was a success in every way. The guests were so well masked that it was difficult to tell a cadet from a Professor, or even a girl, consequently, much fun was derived from errors made in taking Professors for ladies. After choosing partners, and unmasking, the couples were shown into the dining room where they were served three delightful courses: salad, cream and fruit. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing songs, shooting cupid’s arrows—at apples instead of hearts—and fortune telling by roasting chestnuts.

On Friday night, November 6, Prof. and Mrs. D. N. Nourse entertained very delightfully the cadets of Section One, Agricultural Seniors. A guessing contest of the “Five Senses” was the game of the evening and was enjoyed very much by all who attended. Those present were: J. C. Pridmore with Miss Rast; E. H. Wood with Miss Helen Bradford; L. B. Brandon with Miss Lena Hardin; T. B. Reeves with Miss Mary Fuller; L. C. Byars with Miss Lillian Fuller.

On Tuesday, November 3, the Seniors of “D” Company spent a very delightful evening at the home of our President. Every one enjoyed himself and it seemed far too soon for call to quarters when the 7:15 bell was heard.

On Saturday night, November 7, a very delightful informal dance was given by the Senior Dancing Club. Very near every member was present; and quite a number of ladies of the hill, including a few campus visitors, made the dance a very pleasant one.

Mr. E. H. Shuler left the college Friday morning for a visit to Augusta, Ga.

Mr. T. B. Reeves spent Saturday in Greenville.

Mr. E. Wolfe returned Saturday night from a trip to Anderson, where he has been working for the Annual.

Mr. Strict Coles spent Sunday in Spartanburg; for the purpose of having his arm treated.

We were very glad to see some of our old classmates at the Fair, among whom were: Messrs. T. H. Yeargin, L. A. Coleman, H. C. Twiggs and E. C. Haskell. It is hoped that these men will return after Christmas and, once more be among us.

Junior Class.

"Work" seems to be the watchword of every Junior since returning from the Fair. Every man has gone to work with a determination that will accomplish something. Some of us, especially the Agriculturalists, thought that when we got out of Soph, our work would be over, but such is certainly not the case.

The Junior Tigers who left here November 4, to play against the University of Georgia were: Robbs, White, and Furtick. This trio will acquit themselves creditably.

The informal dance on Saturday night was enjoyed very much by everyone present. The college band rendered some excellent music for the occasion.

Mr. W. R. Henderson spent Fair week at his home in Greenwood County.

Some of the fellows are wearing a broad smile on their faces these days—some new sergeants have been appointed.

W. Allen, assistant manager, went with the team to Augusta.

Mr. L. W. Summers took in the Fair after returning from Columbus, Ohio; but Mr. N. E. Byrd remained at barracks. Both report a very enjoyable trip.

Sophomore Class.

Well, the Fair is over. That is a very short sentence, but it sounds like a great deal to us. Because now, we have to settle back to hard study again. The Fair was welcomed and enjoyed very much by us; especially, since it came right after a week of review exams. And now since it is over, it seems almost like a dream; and a very pleasant one at that. I suppose, that every man in the corps (if he tried very hard) had a swell time, and has some new girl or girls. The postoffice is probably doing more business now, than before the Fair. We saw a great many of the old members of the Pendleton Guards at the Fair, and are glad to hear that some will return to college for the third term. We wish all would come back and stay, then this place would seem more like home to us.

We started on a new month's work on Monday, November 2. We all know that we should start a new month well; but, it certainly is hard to put our minds on our lessons without some vision of a sweet child, or of some good time at the Fair, coming before our eyes. But we will soon get over this, and buckle down to the regular routine of our work.

The dancing school is getting along smoothly now. We have had several dances, so far, and seem to be doing fine. The band gave music to all the dances. The purpose of the school is to give some little recreation and fun for those who know how to dance; and, to learn the members that do not already know how. The experienced members seem willing to teach, and the inexperienced to learn; so the school will probably keep going fine.

Freshman Class.

We have all returned from the Fair and we feel that we would like to go there with the same experience again, if our pocketbooks would permit.

Some of the Freshmen who were more fortunate than others went home for a short stay while we were in Columbia.

We must all settle down for about a month of hard work now, and then we will have Christmas in which to recuperate from the hard labors of our exams.

Mr. Barksdale has returned from home where he stayed while the corps was in Columbia.

Mr. A. H. Bentley, who visited his parents in Greenville, has returned to college.

Mr. F. A. DesPortes has been elected to fill the place of Mr. J. J. Cudd as historian, who was forced to return home on account of demerits received.

The "rats" were put on duty just before we went to the Fair, and the Freshmen had a chance to know what walking post in the rain means.

Several questionable methods of passing on reviews that were abolished last year, seem to have sprung up in our midst and, fellows, we want to do all we can to stamp out these methods of unfairness in our lessons, as it not only impairs our moral character, but it ruins the reputation of our class for straight dealing in everything.
