The First Literary Society Celebration of the Year.

Beginning at eight o'clock on the evening of Feb. 5th, the Columbia Literary Society carried out, in the college chapel, a most interesting programme in celebration of its Fifteenth Anniversary. The stage was tastefully decorated for the occasion with ferns, palms and lilies. The society secured Dr. Moll, Professor Bryan and Rev. Mr. Hubbard to act as judges. The marshalls were Messrs. A. C. Whittle, W. J. Brocken- ton, A. J. Baker, O. A. Hydrick and L. W. Summers.

The presiding officer, Mr. G. M. Barnett of Oconee county, opened the exercises with a short and appropriate address of welcome. At the end of his address Mr. Barnett announced the first declaimer, Mr. C. F. Middleton of Charleston, whose subject was “Centralization in America.” This immortal piece from the tongue of Henry Grady, was most impressively delivered by Mr. Middleton. Next came Mr. H. S. Johnson of Florence. The subject of his declamation was “Opportunities of a scholar.” Here again the audience was delighted by Mr. Johnson’s excellent delivery of this famous delineation of the part which the scholar plays in our modern regime.

After music by the college Orchestra, the orations were announced. Messrs. N. E. Byrd of Orangeburg, and O. M. Clark were the orators. Mr. Clark’s oration was entitled, “The Spirit of Civil Liberty,” while Mr. Byrd’s subject was, “Education in South Carolina.” Both these orations showed that much thought had been given to their preparation; and though each was delivered in a characteristic style, both held the closest attention of the audience until the last word.

Following more music came the debate. The query for discussion read as follows: “Resolved, that the Educational Qualifications for Suffrage will be Insufficient to Maintain White Supremacy in the South.” The affirmative was upheld by Mr. D. W. Watkins of Anderson, while the negative was defended by Mr. A. L. Harris of Spartanburg.

The Juniors Again Victorious

In the third game of the class football championship series, the Juniors defeated the Freshmen by a score of 15 to 0, Friday afternoon, Jan. 29. The wind was very high, which made it hard on the punters; and, on one occasion the ball hit the ground behind the punter. In the first half the ball remained near the center of the field most of the time. Although Tupper, for the Fresh, was punting directly against the wind, during this half, he outpunted McCown for the Juniors in almost every instance, and it looked as if with the wind in favor of the Fresh, they would have won, but the second half disproved this. Although the first half ended 0 to 0, the Fresh seemed to have a little the best of the game during that half. In the second half, the Juniors showed their superiority over the Fresh very conclusively by making three touch-downs, and the game was called before the half was over on account of darkness. After Tupper, the plucky little quarter-back, was hurt and taken out of the game during the second half, the Fresh seemed to lose heart, or the score would have very probably been closer.

For the Fresh, Tupper and Ezell played star ball, while the best work for the Juniors was done by Henderson, Byrd, and Trott.

THE JUNIORS WIN THE CHAMPIONSHIP!

On Saturday, Feb. 6, the Juniors won the honor of having 10 engraved on the trophy cup, by defeating the Sophomores by a score of 22 to 6. In every game which the Juniors played, they showed very decidedly that they were superior to their opponents by defeating each one of them by a large score. As class teams go, the Juniors put out a good one, and they are worthy successors to the famous '08 team which held the class football championship for three consecutive years, leaving the college with the trophy cup still in their possession.

Now it is up to you to come as near this record as you can by winning the cup again next year. The Junior team, as a whole, played well together; and, although a little weak on the defence, they made it up in a quick, snappy and aggressive offense.

A word as to some of the individual players. Byrd, our famous little track man, showed that he could run on the gridiron equally as well as on the cinder path. He, however, was a little weak on defence. Trott at left end, was decidedly the best defensive man on the team; and, although not quite as quick as his mate, Byrd, at right end, he surpassed Byrd in defensive work. He did his share of advancing the ball whenever called on. Gantt, as captain and quarterback, generated his team like a veteran. His goal kicking was his strong point. Henderson, at full back, was a good ground gainer, and a heavy line hitter, but he had the common failing of the whole team, a weak defense. He made one or two long spectacular runs. Thornhill, at right half, showed up as one of the two defensive men on the team, Trott being the other one. He also advanced the ball well.

THE GAME.

Schroder kicks off for the Sophs 40 yards and McCown 2 yards on fake punt. Gantt punts 30 yards and Schroder advances 5 yards. On fumble Sophs lose 2 yards. Schroder punts 25 yards. Trott makes a very pretty run of 25 yards around end, and then Juniors fail to gain and ball goes to Sophs. Henderson blocks, Schroder punts and then falls on the ball behind the goal line for a touch down. Gantt kicks out for a touchdown. Gantt kicks out to Thornhill and then kicks easy goal. Juniors 6, Sophs 0.

SECOND HALF.

Gantt kicks off 45 and Epps advances 10. Schroder punts 45 yards. Gantt receives ball and runs 65 yards for touchdown. Gantt kicks goal. Juniors 12, Sophs 0.

Schroder kicks off 40 yards and McCown advances 10. Henderson on delayed pass goes through center 85 yards for a touch down with Trott and Thornhill running a beautiful interference. Gantt fails to kick out. Juniors 17, Sophs 0.

Gantt kicks off 40 yds to Schroder, who advances 10

Schroder kicks off 50 yds, ball goes behind goal line, and Henderson falls on it for a touch back. On kick out by Gantt, Jones advances 10 yards. Sandifer 2 yards right end. Time up, game over. Juniors 22, Sophs 6.

Classes

Senior Class.

After six months of hard work both by the Literary and art staffs of the 1909 Annual, the work is at last finished, and is now in the hands of Everett Waddy & Co. The staff has, without doubt, done its part, and the work now rest in the hands of the publishers, who we feel confident will carry out the good work so that the men of 1909 will have a right to feel proud of the second volume of "Taps."

We regret very much to learn that Mr. J. R. Blair is sick in the hospital with tonsilitis.

Mr. J. H. Wilson spent last Sunday very pleasantly with friends in Pendleton.

Mr. R. P. Jeter was absent from college a few days last week on account of being called to attend the Jones trial at Union.

Mr. H. S. Rivers, while exercising in the gymnasium, received a very painful ankle sprain. We are glad to see "Henry" out of hospital and hope that he will soon be able to attend classes.

Mr. A. L. Harris paid Pendleton a very extended visit at the end of last week.

Did "Prid" visit Pendleton last week?

After four years of active service, "General D. P. Folk" has succeeded in getting the board to retire him from active military life. It is reported that the "General" will live a quiet life in room 108.

Junior Class.

The Junior team won in every game of class football, but still we are not satisfied. We must also be victorious on Field day. With the material that we have, there is no reason why we should not be successful.

The class also has some of the very best men on the track team this year. Some of them have already done good work, and are striving to do better, if possible, in the coming season.

Mr. W. D. Barnett spent some time at his home in Westminster last week. He was elected one of the delegates to the county Sunday School convention which convened at that place.

It was very encouraging to see the interest taken by the different members of the class in society work. A number have entered into the annual celebrations of their societies with a determination which is sure to win success for them.

Mr. R. E. Nickles was called home for some time last week on account of the death of his brother who was killed in a railroad wreck.

Mr. L. W. Summers is spending a few days at his home in Orangeburg, S. C. He is one of the delegates to the State Sunday School convention which meets at that place this week.

Mr. E. C. Martin was recently visiting his home. Sergeant Buckner somewhat surprised the instructor the other day when he said that the city of Bartholomew was assassinated. He is also a chemist of no mean ability, as he discovered a new but very important element—Bucknerite.

Freshman Class.

Although the Freshmen did not win the championship in the class football games, we put up a good fight and gave the Sophs and Juniors a run for the money. In the Soph-Fresh game, neither side scored in the first half, and it looked as if the game would result in a tie; but, in the latter part of the second half, Epps got the ball on a punt and crossed the goal line for the only touchdown of the game. The Juniors did us up a little more severely by a score of seventeen to zero. The playing of the team was, on the whole, very good, considering the short time we had for practicing; and Coach Petzer is to be congratulated on the way the team played.

We have received several additions to our class since the holidays. We are glad to have these men with us, as they help to swell the roll and to fill in the places of those who did not come back after Christmas.

The second term has almost gone, and, after we go through with three more months of imprisonment, we will be free until next fall, when we come back as Sophomores.

We all hope that Mr. W. J. Stevenson will come out ahead of his competitors in the examinations for Annapolis, and, if he secures the appointment, that he will succeed in passing the entrance exams.

While the association work has been going steadily on, still there is not much news of interest.

The new officers for the term of 1909-10 were elected last Sunday night at the regular mid-term business meeting. They are as follows: President, N. E. Byrd; Vice-President, W. J. Marshall; Treasurer, C. F. Inman; Secretary, L. B. Altman.

The new tennis courts are ready for use, and they seem to be as good as the old ones. There is a good deal of interest in tennis now, and we hope the courts will be used.

The leading track men are also leading Y. M. C. A. men. Athletics is an aid to the association.

Pres. and Mrs. Mell are entertaining Bible classes every Tuesday evening. They would feel well repaid, if they could hear some of the boys' expressions. Though they may not all pay their party calls, still they appreciate these visits.

The general secretary goes to Anderson quite frequently, to have printing done he says. The president also goes frequently to Pendleton; his business is so generally known it need not be mentioned.

Several men have gone to the Sunday School convention at Orangeburg. Mr. Summers and Mr. Salley and one or two more of the students, and Prof. Keitt, Martin and Morrison also have gone. The general secretary has been away for over a week, partly at the convention, and also at Newberry.

The mission study has made rapid strides in the past few weeks. There are one hundred and seventy five men signed up for study. This is the greatest number ever obtained.

time before rendering their decision. The Rev. Mr. Hubbard, who was spokesman for the judges, announced, after a short speech of congratulation to the society, that the declaimer's medal was won by Mr. Middleton, the orator's medal by Mr. Clark, and the debater's medal by Mr. Watkins.

Thus, the climax of the year was successfully met and passed by the members of the Columbian.

The Valentine Ball

The Valentine Ball was given by the German Club of Clemson College on Friday evening, the 12th of February. Coming, as this dance did in the season of the year when barracks life is unusually dull, it was a change that was highly enjoyable to all.

Hearts were trumps, and the hall was decorated to suit the occasion. Hearts in abundance draped along the walls in graceful loops, clinging in streamers from the ceiling to the posts—little hearts that blushed blood red, and full large hearts in little corners.

As there were hearts in abundance, so were cupids, each with his bow, bound to be adorning the windows. And there in the agricultural hall, surrounded by hearts, emblems of the season, and keeping time to the rhythmic waltzes played by Comstock's orchestra, the dancers enjoyed one of the pleasantest evenings spent at Clemson in a long time.

As this was a German club dance, all the members were in full dress coats, white duck trousers, and the red sash of the club. These men, dancing with the ladies in evening dresses, formed a picture that will not be forgotten soon.

Those present were: Miss Beacham, of Abbeville, with Mr. McDavid, Miss Bedell of Chicora with Mr. Bedell, Miss Mahon of Greenville with Mr. Robertson, Miss Bryan of Greenville with Mr. Allan, Miss Norris of Greenville with Prof. Henry, Miss Sumner of Chicora with Mr. Sumner, Miss McQueen of Columbia with Mr. Coles, Miss Simpson of Elberton with Mr. Watkins, Miss Cherry of Seneca with Prof. Barre, Miss Neal of Atlanta with Mr. Boliver Boykin, Miss Sloan of Clemson with Mr. Hanciel, Miss Barrow of Clemson with Mr. Lawton, Miss Ravenel of Converse with Prof. Lewis, Miss Nell Bostick of Spartanburg with Mr. Pinkney, Miss Anna Bostick of Spartanburg with Mr. McCreary, Miss Fort of Goldsboro, N. C. with Mr. Fetzer, Miss Fitzsimmons of C. F. W. with Mr. Miller Boykin, Miss Cema Sitton of Autun with Mr. Clement, Miss Harris of Pendleton with Mr. Harris, Miss Alice Stribbling of Pendleton with Mr. Littlejohn, Miss Leise Stribbling of Pendleton with Mr. Smith, Miss Waddell of Greenville with Mr. Garrett, Miss Josie Sullivan of Laurens with Mr. Yeargin, Miss Calhoun of Clemson with Mr. Walker, Miss Lipscomb of Greenville with Mr. Tobin.

EDITORIAL

Why doesn’t Clemson’s mental, moral, and physical standard stand unapproachable?

Are you living up to the hopes and expectations of that father and mother you left at home?

Have you ever seriously considered that part you are playing in real college life?

Fellows, so conduct yourselves on all occasions that after leaving a man, his opinion of Clemson will be higher than ever before.

Do you fully realize what is expected of a college man? and are you striving to prepare yourself to uphold those expectations?

There are now more branches open for athletic distinctions than ever before in the history of our college. Come out men, and try your hand.

Because every one is so bent on improving his fellow students along those lines that he forgets that he has a self to look after. It is well to help and criticize our fellow students, but don’t let us forget ourselves.

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather is somewhat inclement, Dr. Calhoun has his men out preparing for track work; although track work is a comparatively new branch of athletics here.

Should we not consider ourselves fortunate, and try, to make good the opportunities given us, when we realize that for every one young South Carolinian receiving a college education there are forty-nine that do not.

It is true we do not scour the country for baseball players and entice them to come to Clemson as is too often the case with other schools; but, with the boys that come of their own accord, we should be able to get out a “crack-a-jack team”—a team that will win the championship. We should do this to uphold Clemson’s high standard of the past, and every man that has played any ball at all should “try out.” You new men, if you think you can play ball, go out and try: we want the very best material at Clemson, and there’s no way of getting the best unless all that can play go out. Then, that is not all the requirements for a successful team. Every man must support that team by his presence and encouragement: no team can do its best work unless it is assured that the genuine spirit of the entire student body is behind it.

Clemson has, in the last few years, made a proud record, and from indications this year will be better than ever. Track work is an important branch of athletics. It is such that practically every man can take part in; and there is nothing that affords men better exercise. Since the old conception of a scholar with his pale, sickly brow, has given place to the modern idea, to the man, strong and quick of mind and robust of body, athletics are indispensable; and a few decades hence, the school that has not the accommodations for physical education, will be placed in the same category as the schools today which have no necessary apparatus for aiding intellectual education. Franklin once said, “Games lubricate the body and the mind.” Since there is nothing about track that any one could object to, and since it gives to a man that old Grecian idea of a real man, grace, beauty and harmony of body, every man that has the least spark of athletic aspiration should come out. Not only do the track men help themselves, but they also give reputation to our college.

They heard him softly hiss,

That ‘ignorance is bliss.’ ”
Dewitt Miller Lectures

Last Sunday night the people of the "Hill" and the Corps of Cadets had the pleasure of having Dewitt Miller. Generally, the boys at Clemson look upon a lecture as a bore; but as the fame of this man had been talked for a long time before he came, when the time for the lecture was on us a large crowd had assembled.

When Mr. Miller walked upon the stage a feeling of awe passed over the audience which was expressed in the hearty applause which he received.

His subject was one which should be of interest to every American citizen, but more especially to Southerners; for he told us about the future greatness of our leading factor. He also spoke of the friendly relations existing between the United States and Canada, and of the chance we have of uniting even larger fields for the American youth to prove his worth.

After an hour and a half of the most beautiful and forceful language that we have ever had the pleasure of listening to the unwelcome end came; but as he said in his address that he lived from year to year on the remembrance of the English coffee, I suppose we will have to be content and live on the hope that the committee will have him back with us next year.

With the coming of Coach Jesse T. Reynolds, interest in the approaching baseball season is already at fever heat. Mr. Reynolds arrived at Clemson on the fifteenth, and on the next afternoon had the squad out for the first practice of the season. Accompanying Coach Reynolds, is Mrs. Reynolds, and to both of them we extend a hearty welcome, and hope that their stay in our midst will be a pleasant one.

Coach Reynolds comes to Clemson well qualified to take up the duties of baseball coach. For two seasons he has been on the pitching staff of the Columbia and Charleston teams in the South Atlantic League, and, up to June of last year, played on the Charlotte team, in the Carolina League. On that date, however, owing to his fine baseball qualities, he was drafted by the Roanoke team of the Virginia League, and finished the season there with an excellent record. Coach Reynolds comes to us highly recommended by our popular erstwhile foot-ball coach, Williams, and therefore it goes without saying that Coach Reynolds is the man for the place. He will be with us until the first of May, when he is expected to report for duty with the Roanoke team.

The prospects for a winning baseball season is probably better than it has been since the days of the Sittons. With the large nucleus of last year’s team, not considering the unknown, or new material, we predict a most successful season. The one year rule does not apply to baseball, and the handicap that we experienced during the past foot-ball season will not be felt on the diamond this spring.

Of last year’s pitching staff, Waldrop, Wood, Stokes and Farmer are back; but the last mentioned is ineligible on account of having played summer ball. The other three are good men in the box, however, and possess the makeup of excellent slabmen. Rivers played such good scrub ball last year that he is counted on by many to make one of the pitcher’s positions. The pitching department is strong, and it is believed that Clemson will hold her own in the line of pitchers.

Behind the bat, Connelly is the only one known of at the present moment. When Wylie withdrew from college, in the middle of the season last year, Connelly caught the remainder of the games with credit to himself.

First base will take care of itself, for there will be seen not only the fastest man on the team but the captain, Coles. Strick is a neat fielder, fast base runner, and a fair batsman—in fact, he is a finished ball player. He has played first base for the past two years.

At the keystone sack is the old standby, Kirby. His favorite pastime is to lace out the ball for seeming three baggers, and get credit only for a single. Anyway, he never fails to scoop up all grounders in his direction. He led the team in batting last year.

At the far corner, the familiar face of Baissell will be seen no more, on account of the fact that he played with the Rock Hill team in the State League last year. There are a good many candidates for this position, and the best man will win out.

Goodman played a creditable game at short last year, and is again trying for this place on the team. With the exception of a few miscues, made probably on account of his greenness on the diamond, he played almost a perfect game.

Clemson lost a good outfielder several weeks ago in Joel Brown, who left college for the A. & M. of North Carolina. Sherard is the only regular outfielder back, but as there are always more candidates for these places than the others, it is safe to say that the outfield will be taken care of.

With this bunch of old material to select from, not taking into account the new material, with a coach whom we know to have the goods, with prospects for a winning team far brighter than it has been for the past four years, there is no earthly reason why we cannot put out a combination of baseball talent this season that will wipe the other teams off the map. What we want first of all, is the State championship. We must win it. Of course, we want to beat the teams out of the State too; but as the old saying goes, ‘Charity begins at home,’ we should show the State teams a better time, if you would call it that. Let’s all get together now, and let our motto be, ‘On for the Championship.’

The base-ball and track practice will probably start next week. Our class was very well represented on the football field; and we want every man to go out either for baseball or track, so that we shall be well represented in all athletics.

The “Grand Order of Corporals” held a meeting in the mess-hall several days ago. It seems that the most important object was to agree to get military. Probably this is to learn so as to be prepared for later, when, maybe, they will all be Majors or Captains.

The class foot ball games are over, now. We stuck out until the last game of the season with the Seniors for the championship, but we los out in the last four seconds of the play. This year, the team is composed of new material, and was beaten. However, we hope to win out next year; but, since, it is over for the present, let’s let it rest until the time comes for us to try again.
