How Clemson's Money Is Spent

Below, we publish a summarized form of the report of the treasurer of the college, and respectfully ask that each cadet read it over carefully, and inform himself as to the amount of money that it takes to run the college. Considering the fact that the cadets are often asked by the people of the state how the income is spent, we would suggest that each one preserve this report and keep it for future reference.

Summarized from Report of the Treasurer of the Clemson Agricultural College of South Carolina for the Fiscal Year Ending July, 1, '09.

The above is prepared from the Treasurer's Annual report and is in agreement therewith, only the arrangement has been changed.

Prof. Henry (showing the action of H$_2$SO$_4$ on sugar)—"Now, gentlemen, you see the carbon is left as a black residue."

"Runt" Pennell: "Professor, what becomes of the sweet?"

Corp. Byars (hastily)—"Professor, the sweet will be left there if you use strong, dilute acid, won't it?"
NEITHER JUNIORS NOR SOPHOMORES ABLE TO SCORE

WORK OF BOTH TEAMS SHOWED GOOD TRAINING.

In opening the series of class football games, the Juniors and Sophomores came to the conclusion that they were anxious to participate in more than two games before their career, as class players, ended, and, as a result of this decision, neither team was able to cross the other’s goal line. Despite the fact that the game was played on a cold windy afternoon, both teams put up a right good exhibition for amateurs; and these men, especially the Juniors, should compliment themselves on the probability of their playing real football next season.

On the whole, it was generally believed that the higher class had, only by a fraction, the longer end of the string. Several times it made gains through the line, as well as on punts, that were in no way matched by the Sophs. Then, too, the Juniors, in the latter part of the last half, came near scoring; they had the ball within five yards of that much sought for spot, and would have carried it over the goal line had the last minute been one hundred and twenty seconds long, instead of sixty. John Millen, playing center for the Juniors deserves special mention; for he was largely responsible for the creditable showing made by his team. Goodman also, by his plunging, put forth qualities characteristic only of a prospective full-back.

The Sophomores, although unable to claim a victory, a fact which greatly disappointed them, stood their ground from start to finish, and resisted the heavy hits of the Juniors in such a way as to clearly show their idea of football. More than one time did they work themselves out of a close place. The most noticeable feature of the Soph’s playing were the punting of McIntire and the running of quarterback Bacot. They, too were several times within a few feet of their goal-to-gain; but, every time, were met with strong opposition, and sent back to the middle of the field. The men placed on this team should realize that the varsity stars probably came from the class teams, and let this realization be an inspiring fact for them to help make a winning team for the rest of their college days.

The coaches in charge of the two teams are veterans of the last varsity squad, and are of the “block C” caliber. Captain Robbs was chosen by the wise Sophomores to give them a few lessons in the art of gridiron battling, and has so far shown his ability as a coach to be that out of the ordinary. ‘Buss’ White, that wonderful left halfback, was elected to direct the coaching of the Juniors, assisted by Gilmer. These two are confident that there will be no tie next time—enough said. While the coaches of both teams would have been glad to see their respective teams win out, they have the satisfaction of knowing that they were not beaten.

BLOCK “C” AWARDED

MEN WHO DISTINGUISHED THEMSELVES ON THE GRIDIRON LAST SEASON ARE THE RECIPIENTS.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic council, it was decided to confer upon a few of the remaining number, who had not already been granted this honor, the degree of “Block ‘C’ wearing.” Among those who, in the eyes of the council held their positions satisfactorily, and who are the recipients of a handsome gray sweater on which is sewed a beautiful purple block “C” are: E. H. Pinckney, who made himself felt as quarter-back; Martin, who was on to the tricks as left guard; Woodward who took care of left end; Bissel, who starred at left half; Walker, and Boykin, who did the stunt at right half.

It will be recalled that most of the other players had already been awarded “C.” These men will probably be reminded of this distinguished privilege every time they read anything in after years.
REPORT OF FINANCES

In this the fourth report of the Secretary-Treasurer of the C. A. C. A. A., it is readily observed that the Association has, during the past year, lived beyond its income; the football season of 1908, however, being the first year we have not had a net profit from that branch of sport. This is accounted for to a large degree by the loss of $387.23 on football games, most of which loss was sustained from games played on our campus, and in addition, having a rainy day for the game with Davidson at the State Fair. All of these conditions caused the net profit from games to be several hundred dollars less than in former years. It has not been possible so far to get baseball and track on a self-supporting basis; and located as we are, away from any town in which to play our games, it will be difficult to make these branches self-supporting. However, both track and baseball have their legitimate places in the role of College Athletics, and it will be possible only to put them on a self-supporting basis by more generous patronage and diligent management.

By accepting breakage fees as membership dues to the Association and thus practically all cadets becoming members, we should be thrown in closer touch with the Association and its government of all Athletics, and rekindle that old spirit of pride in our athletic teams and self-sacrifice to its needs, which until the last few years has been characteristic of Clemson. We are all aware that with such a spirit of loyalty and self-sacrifice, we are capable of maintaining our place in the front ranks of Southern Intercollegiate Athletics, but without it, all the coaching we might get, can not avail us much.

The key note of success in College Athletics, is spirit, and let each cadet feel that it is his duty to rekindle the old Clemson spirit to its former pitch, and we can ask no more.

EDITORIAL

Class football has created much class spirit this year. Along with our college spirit, should go class spirit. In fact, it is impossible to have one without the other. The fellow who has no class spirit, also has no college spirit, and vice versa. If your class were not successful in football, don't be discouraged; you still have another chance to show what you can do before the end of the session.

What is the matter with basketball? It seems that there should be more interest taken in this game. Last year was the first time that basketball was played here, and much interest was shown. Certainly more interest should be shown this year, since the game has been introduced here. Just at this time of year, there is no other line of athletics that is being practiced, and this game is one that furnishes much amusement for both players and spectators. There would be several weeks for practice before baseball and track opens up. Then, basketball will put the players in good trim for these sports.

Who will be the first to take the matter up, and carry it out successfully?

The block “C’s” for football have been given to the players who won them, and have not been given one before. Every one should be proud of these signs of efficiency and good playing. They should be an inspiration to others to come out on the field, and see what they can do. No one knows but that he might be able to win a “C,” if he would only try. To wear one requires work, and a lot of it; but then the wearer is so much the prouder of it because it shows that he has skill, speed and endurance.

Boys, did you ever stop to think what you owe to your College? You should feel that there is no other place dearer to you, save home. You should think Clemson is the best place on earth. Where have you received so much good as here? Is not this the place where you have instilled into you the very principles for which you will be known through life? Then, while you are here, don’t be a habitual kicker, and when you have gone out from here, and given room to others, then don’t be a chronic knocker. But when you speak of Clemson to others, tell them what she is doing for the youth of South Carolina. Tell them what she has done for you. Endeavor to show strangers the various lines of work for which one is fitted here; for you will find many who are not acquainted with the workings of the college. Speak favorably to these; they will think more of the college; they will think, by far, more of you.

But, as students here at the college, have you done all when you merely do your own duty, and obey the rules and regulations of the College, when you know there are some who do not do this. Yet, many boys right here let their fellow students do things that they know are not right, and a few hide their guilt behind the innocence of the majority. Though it is this small number that gives tone to the whole corps, still no steps are taken to remedy such an evil. Why is it the whole student body will let the moral tone of the College be lowered for the misdeeds of only a few, is more than we can tell. Many a student thinks that because he is a college man, he can do things with impunity, that he would not dare to do away from college; for if he did such things, he would soon find himself confronted with serious difficulties. Some of his jokes and pranks would be looked upon in a different light. Now, there is only one way to rid any college of such evil practices, and that is for the student body as a whole to have such a high tone that such men will soon find that their actions will not be tolerated. At present, there is a strong sentiment growing against such misconduct; and it will be only a matter of time before it is stopped. Every one who lends his influence to this good cause has accomplished much for the future of the college. It can be said he has really helped to make the college better.

The little lamp went out.—Ex.
Calhoun Literary Society.

The exercises of the Calhoun Society for January 21 showed that its members are again applying themselves to their tasks with something like commendable vigor. Evidently the cold snap was responsible for some of the snap that was displayed during the progress of the exercises. It is now the season of the year when the very best work of the session can be—and should be—done in the literary societies. We have recovered from our holiday slump. We feel like going to work again; and there is no better time for doing effective, lasting, and beneficial society work than the winter term.

The exercises were opened by the declamation of Mr. McKeown, who presented his hearers with a brilliant passage from the immortal speech of Robert Y. Hayne. Mr. Sally followed with an oration on rural school improvement, which afforded the Society not a little mirth, thanks to its well-chosen illustrations. Mr. Townsend contributed something to the Society's welfare when called upon for his essay. Mr. Lazear read well concerning good reading.

To prove that America is following in the footsteps of fallen Rome, Mr. Warner, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Freeman made numerous drafts on history, political economy, and current events. On the negative side, Messrs. Foster, Anderson, and Mattox asserted their optimism, and braced it up with such vivid contrasts between conditions in the two nations, that even the judges became optimistic, and declared that the negative had won. Mr. Mattox, a new cadet, and a volunteer debater, proved to be a bombshell in the affirmative camp.

The extemporaneous speakers were dispensed with in order that a recording secretary and a corresponding secretary might be elected for the coming quarter. To the former position, Mr. Deason was elected. The Society was unanimous in electing Mr. Freeman corresponding secretary. These are two of the most efficient society workers in the junior class.

In the absence of the regular critic, the blue pencil was manipulated by Mr. Inman.

The Columbietto Society.

At our last meeting, the officers for the third quarter were installed.

During the regular exercises Messrs. Martin and White each delivered good declamations, and Mr. Hodge gave a good oration on the necessity of good libraries in the rural districts.

The query: Resolved, that a lawyer is not justified in defending a man whom he knows to be guilty of the crime of which he is accused," was discussed by the following: Affirmative—Harri-son, L. C., Prevost, E. T., Littlejohn, E. G., Negative—Buckner, J. M., Middleton, C. F., and Wall, M. W. The house and judges decided in favor of the negative.

Palmetto Society

After a pleasant Christmas, the members of the old Palmetto returned to their society work with a spirit which every member should be proud of. On the evening of January 14, we had our first meeting, which showed that each of the members must have made a resolution "to do his duty." The meeting was one of the best we have had this session and seemed to put new life into every member.

On the evening of Jan. 21, we did away with the debate, and after several good declamations and orations, some of which were rendered by new members, we elected the following officers and committeemen: As vice-president for the third quarter, we elected Mr. H. R. Clinkscales; as secretary, Mr. B. W. Gettys; prosecuting critic, Mr. A. D. Chapman; as reporting critics, Messrs. McDavid, Nickles, Floyd, Eagerton; as censor, Mr. R. E. Nickles; as literary critic Mr. J. M. Ridgill; as Sergt-at-arms, Mr. T. C. Gentry.

We also elected the following officers for the fourth quarter as vice-president Mr. A. McDavid; as literary critic, Mr. W. W. Nickles.

The President, Mr. W. D. Barnett, appointed the following committeemen: As presiding officer of the annual celebration, Mr. S. E. Evans. As chief marshall, Mr. A. McDavid; as marshalls, Messrs. F. H. Jeter, W. N. Henderson, T. D. Williams, and O. O. Dukes.

Mr. Barnett also appointed a medal committee which consisted of Messrs. Clinkscales, Jeter and Dukes.

He also appointed the following men to act on the decorating committee: Messrs. Floyd, Clinkscales, Ridgill, Henderson, Johnson, Turbeville, Gentry, and King.
Senior Class.

The Senior Dancing Club enjoyed a nice little dance a few nights ago. Although ladies were a little scarce, and stags unusually plentiful, everyone seemed to enjoy the night. It was just an informal dance, so it had to be closed by eleven o’clock. It was certainly a night when all hated to see that hour come. The music was furnished by the college orchestra.

Those present were Mr. Easterling with Miss Poats; Mr. Summers with Miss Fuller; Mr. Becker with Miss Doyle; Mr. Boone with Miss Furman; Mr. Crum with Miss Neila Sloan; Mr. White with Miss Janie Sloan; Mr. Roberts with Miss Crowther; and then the stags too numerous to be named. The chaperons were Mrs. Sloan and Capt. and Mrs. Stokes.

A Dramatic Club has been organized at Clemson for the benefit of the 1910 Taps. Under the leadership of Mr. Crum, it is getting in good shape to put an interesting play before us. The club expects to give its first performance here sometime in February. After the play is given here, the club expects to appear in the larger towns in this part of the state, and also at several other colleges.

Mr. H. C. Twiggs was called home some time ago on account of his mother’s getting hurt in an accident. We note, however, that his mother is better, and Mr. Twiggs is back with us.

President Harris called a meeting of the class a short time since for the purpose of electing the heads of the different departments of the 1911 Annual to assist our editor-in-chief, Mr. A. M. Salley. The following were elected at this meeting: Literary editor, R. W. Freeman; business managers, J. B. Keith; assistant business managers, E. N. Sitton and F. H. Jeter; advertising manager, G. D. Garner; and Chief artist, P. L. Bissel. It is the opinion of the class that we have selected the very best fitted men for each of the various departments. These men are already planning to get out one of the best Annuals that have ever been got out at Clemson. The elected staff will select their co-workers.

The class also elected at this meeting, Mr. J. M. Martin as manager of our football team, with Mr. M. H. Epps as assistant. This shows that our team is under good management, as both of these men have had experience along football lines.

Mr. R. W. Lowery, a member of our class from Seneca, did not return after the holidays. We always hate to lose a good man like Mr. Lowery. Our class now numbers more than ninety, and we sincerely hope that no other member will drop out. Fellows, stick to it, and let’s make the class of 1911 the largest that has ever graduated from Clemson.

Messrs. F. H. All, H. P. Cooper, and W. M. Wiggins went to Seneca, January the thirteenth, to attend the County Sunday School Convention held there. Mr. All has recently been elected secretary of the Clemson College Sunday School.

“Joe Joe” Parker says that his best lady friend wears a Prince Albert dress.

Sophomore Class.

Interest is centered in football just now, and how great our interest is, is shown by the number of our men who have gone out to practice. They are Ezell, Williford, Jeter, Stribling, Hamer, Mellett, Hartley, Lawton, Johnson, Jeffords, McIntyre, Irvin, Kennerly, Perry, Motte, Farris, Risher, Altman, Bacot, Hardin, Bell, Gray, McCown, Mappus, Tyson, Cromer, Britt, Harris, Hayden and Herbert.

On our team we have Mellett, McIntyre, Irvin, Risher, Bacot, Bell, Gray, McCown, Cromer, Britt, and Hayden, with Harris and Tyson as substitutes. These men kept the Juniors from gaining a single point in our game with them Saturday. We have yet to play the Freshmen, and Preps; but the time of the games has not yet been decided upon. Our coaches, Robbs and Hanckel, are doing all they can to help us carry off the cup.

We are very sorry to lose Mr. L. M. Kay who has secured an honorable discharge. We trust that we have not really said good-bye to him though.

Mr. B. F. Owens has returned to College, after having been detained at home after the holidays by the illness of his father. We are very glad indeed to welcome him back among us.

Mr. S. S. Abell has left College for the remainder of the session, but we hope to have him with us again next September. Mr. Abell was president of our Dancing school, and is one of the most popular men in College. We don't want to think of losing him.

At a meeting of the Dancing School, called for the purpose of choosing a president to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Abell, Mr. T. C. Redfern was elected president and Mr. B. F. Owens vice-president. We believe that we have just the men for the places, and that under their management, continued success for the dancing school is assured.

Our practice dances are being well attended, and, at our present rate of progress, we hope to have a formal dance in the near future.

Mr. J. F. Ezell has been chosen to fill the office of secretary and treasurer made vacant by Mr. Ferguson's leaving College. We flatter ourselves that we have made another splendid selection.

JUST WHAT HE NEEDED.

"Reginald, dear, you puckered up your lips just then as if you were going to kiss me," said the beautiful creature languorously, as she lay stretched on the beach surveying the frolics of Neptune.

"I intended to," replied Reginald hesitatingly, "but I seem to have got some sand in my mouth."

"For Heaven's sake swallow it," exclaimed the young lady. "You need it badly in your system."

Tiger Locals

The Misses Fuller of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, are on the campus visiting the Misses Hardin.

The Italian boys gave a most enjoyable performance in chapel last week.

"Red" Barnett made a business trip to Greenville the other week. While there he called at the G. F. C. to see a "cousin."

"Clink" still proceeds to smoke those Franklin cigars.

It is rumored around barracks that certain Seniors intend to bring civil action against The Tiger for slander.

Prof. Riggs, our acting president, recently spent a few days in the lower part of the state, looking after some college business.

It is needless to say that the period of practical horticulture on Jan. 17 was thoroughly enjoyed by Section IA, Senior. At the period previous to this, the section had canned a couple of barrels of syrup, and at this time, they were given an opportunity to see how well it was keeping. Having been seated around the table, Prof. and Mrs. Mooring began the arduous task of keeping those hungry boys supplied with delicious hot biscuits, such as they had not seen in a long time. Suffice it to say they did their duty, so did the section. Plateful after plateful of nice, warm biscuits disappeared as rapidly as snow on a summer day, until the participants could "eat no more." Each boy thanked Prof. and Mrs. Mooring for the kindness and told them how much he had enjoyed himself, but that was not necessary; for his actions had already spoken louder than his words.

PUTTING IT TACTFULLY.

Her Husband—Did you make those biscuits, my dear?

His Wife—Yes, darling.

Her Husband—Well, I'd rather you would not make any more, sweetheart.

His Wife—Why not, love?

Her Husband—Because, angel mine, you are too light for such heavy work.
At our last Sunday-evening service, those who went to the Volunteer Convention at Rochester gave a partial report of the Convention. Though they received a very cold reception from the weather, it was quite evident from their report that they received a warm welcome from the New Yorkers. We only regret that it was not possible for every one of our Y. M. C. A. members to attend the meetings at Rochester.

The Convention.

There were about 3,500 delegates and speakers present at the first meeting, representing most of the colleges of North America, and there were also representatives from nearly every part of the world. This will no doubt prove a worldwide convention in its results, instead of a national one. The ones holding tickets were the only people who were admitted to the hall, yet it was not possible to seat them all in one building. Additional meetings were, therefore, held at the various churches for the benefit of those who could not get into the Convention hall. At every meeting, a large crowd was at the door long before time for it to be opened.

Sunday School Convention.

The Clemson College Sunday school was represented at the convention held at Seneca lately by Messrs. W. M. Wiggins, H. P. Cooper and F. H. All, who spent a few days very profitably at the Convention. We hope also to have our school well represented at the State Convention in February.

THE “CROOKED” GERM.

The hookworm’s now upon the stage
Just left by Dr. Cook;
I hope it “gets the hook.”
Its “turn” is not a pleasant one;
The hookworm, far as I can learn,
Is not the bookworm’s brother.
Jawn D., I see, would fight the first,
While Andy feeds the other.
Good Bishop Candler seems to scorn
Aid from our Northern chests,
And much as says Jawn D. is one
O’ them “philanthropests.”
The hookworm makes one lazy—yes,
If some wives had their way
Their husbands could find none with which
To idly fish all day.

I guess that’s all I know about
This pesky germ that tires,
’Cept this—it’s not the sort of worm
The early bird acquires.

SOME MORE FOOLISHMENT RHYMES.

When many fiction writers try
Their thoughts to give us hot,
We get e-rot-ic novels, with
The accent on the rot. —Lippincott’s.
When some hair-dressers seek to give
Us hair to fit the hat,
We get er-rat-ic coiffures, with
The accent on the rat.—Boston Traveler.
And when the fisher leaves the pool
And gladly home does hie,
We get some li-kely stories, with
The accent on the lie—Topeka Capital.
And when some fellows go down town
At night, they make the bull
Of coming home quite beautiful,
With the accent on the full.—Denver Post.
Now here we have the daily rhyme,
Tho’ not as fierce as some,
Penned by the office bum-pkin, with
The accent on the bum.
