CLEMSON 0—GEORGIA 0.

All the dope in the South was spoiled Thursday when the Tigers played the University of Georgia a tie game, neither side being able to score. Coach Dobson is well pleased with the work of the boys, and the University hasn’t recovered from the surprise yet. Bates, Bissell and Connelly starred for the Tigers.

Watch the “Tiger” for details next week.

The battle between the Tigers and the Gamecocks in Columbia last Thursday was one of the most interesting yet fought. All the Tigers played a great game, all of them starring, especially our quarterback, Connelly. One of the finest things about the game was the magnificent rooting done by the corps of cadets under the leadership of Keith and Jeter. Below is a detailed account of the game as it was played.

First quarter: Carolina kicks off with the wind. Connelly receives but fumbles and Carolina gains the ball. On the first down they gain nothing. Next gain 12 yards on a forward pass but on a fumble the Tigers gain the ball. Bissell takes the ball on the 1st down but fumbles so we gain nothing. Bates gets 10 yards. Bissell fails to gain. Carolina penalized 5 yards for off side. Connelly gets 10 more. Bates through center for 25 yards. Woodward 15 yards fumbles but regains ball. Clemson penalized 5 yards for off side. Bates gets 9 yards around end and Tigers work a forward pass for 8 more, but on a fumble Carolina regains ball. Crawford punts out 25 yards and Bissell receives, gained a couple of yards. We now get 8 yards over right tackle, 4 yards through center. Bates gets 4 more on an end play, then Hanckel takes it for 8 yards around left end. On a fumble Carolina gains the ball. Crawford punts out of bounds. Tigers’ ball with 46 yards to go. Woodward gets 2 yards in a line play then Carolina gains ball on an attempted forward pass. Crawford attempts to gain but leaves the ball without a fumble. Carolina regains the ball. We now gain 1 yard on a left end run and Connelly takes it for 8 more. Bates makes 20 yards on a run around right end and Hanckel gains 10 more but fumbles, and Carolina gains the ball. Crawford punts. Connelly receives and attempts to pass to Bissell but is downed. We gain 20 yards on a forward pass. Fail to gain on an end run. Tigers now gain 13 yards on a forward pass but the ball is brought back and we are penalized 5 yards. Gain two yards through center, then on a fumble, Carolina gains the ball. They fail to gain on the first down and think it safe to punt. Tigers’ ball with 90 yards to go. Bates punts. Carolina receives but are downed in their tracks. End of first quarter.

Second quarter: Carolina’s ball. Crawford kicks. Connelly receives and advances 5 yards. Bissell goes 70 yards on an end run with splendid interference. Carolina’s ball on a fumble. Carolina fails to gain. Carolina attempts to punt the ball out of bounds but it is blocked and Gilmer gains the ball making the first touchdown. Bissell kicks goal.

Carolina kicks off. Connelly receives and gains 10 yards. Lachicotte, 14 yards around end. Lachicotte, 4 yards through the line. Connelly, 14 yards through the line. One of the Gamecock’s men laid out. Tigers gain seven yards on a forward pass to Hanckel. Connelly gains 9 yards on an end run. Two of Carolina’s men laid out. Time out. Mace is hurt and Woodrow goes in. Epps goes in for Woodward. Carolina’s ball. They fail to gain and Crawford punts. Carolina regaining the ball. Lose 5 yards on attempted forward pass. End of second quarter.

Carolina kicks off, Connelly receiving. Lose the ball on a fumble. Carolina gains half a yard in line play. Lose 14 yards on attempted forward pass, then four more on the next play. Carolina punts and Tigers’ ball. Gain 4 yards through center. Carolina’s ball on attempted forward pass. They fumble and regain the ball. Gain 4 yards on line play then Hanckel throws them for a 4 yard loss. Carolina punts, Connelly receiving. Bates gains 15 yards on end run. Bates 10 yards through the line, center and Connelly, 4 more. Connelly goes the 3 yards over the

THE CALHOUN.

At the last meeting of the Calhoun Literary Society, our energetic president, Mr. J. T. Crawford, was excused from the society in order that he could assist in making the car decorations for the Fair trip. In the absence of the vice-president, Mr. Boone, the critic, presided over the meeting. Mr. R. W. Freeman was appointed to act as critic.

The regular exercises were opened up by Mr. J. A. Riley, with an excellent declamation. The orator, essayist, and reader were absent.

The query: “Resolved, that labor unions in the United States are detrimental to the industrial interests of the country,” was discussed at length by both sides. Those supporting the affirmative were Messrs. Rowell, N. K., Small, A. G., and Thompson, T. C.; those supporting the negative, were Messrs. Davis, T. F., McGee, H. S., and Oatzell, J. G. Both sides presented quite a number of good points, and were loath to give up. Mr. W. W. Foster, under the head of irregular debate, brought out some good points that might have been brought out on either side. Both the house and judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative.

Mr. Bell, the first extemporaneous speaker, spoke some good words of advice along the line of the corps’ conduct at the Fair. The second speaker, Mr. F. W. Lykes, also gave a very valuable talk concerning the Fair trip, but his words were mostly with relation to the mental advantages to be derived from such a trip.

THE PALMETTO.

The meeting last Friday night, was the first genuine long-winded meeting the Palmetto has had since the term 1909–1910. Following an already lengthy program, was a business meeting of almost equal length. This, and the long exercises, caused the delay in time of adjournment. Mr. B. W. Gettys, acting Literary Critic, in rendering his report, spoke very commendably of the exercises. A visitor from another society expressed his delight at finding such a splendid attendance in our Hall.

Mr. J. M. Workman’s oration was, beyond a doubt, the best we have heard in the Palmetto this year. Both his composition and his delivery were such that the Literary Critic could speak of it only with words of praise. His well chosen remarks were centered upon: “The Value of Time.” Mr. D. C. Beatty pleaded “not ready,” and was excused from producing his oration until next meeting. The society hopes him a speedy recovery from ill health which prevents him doing society work.

The first Declaimer, Mr. L. F. Yates, was absent. Mr. C. W. Ward, one of our formerly mentioned new men, gave us a Declamation upon the Debate, Resolved, That Trusts Do More Good Than Harm, hung many long discussions, and rambling replies. Messrs. G. H. Zerbst, D. M. Evans, and C. B. Faris, on the affirmative, were defeated by Messrs. J. S. Gilmore, D. T. Latimer, and J. A. Goodwin, on the negative. The judges were influenced in their decision chiefly by the part played by the negative’s star, Goodwin. Mr. F. H. Jeter laid very plainly before us our responsibility in maintaining our college publications.

Who next? Georgia Tech.

What happened at the Fair? Clemson made a white wash.

The “Gamecock” predicted that the fur would fly, but instead the feathers flew.

The “Gamecock” said both teams were in good trim, but “The State” said Carolina was in bad condition. Which knew. Be consistent, “State.”

A trip to the State Fair is one of the greatest factors that could help to develop true loyalty to his college and comradeship among the students. The recent trip has doubtless been derivative of much and lasting good in this way, as well as from an educational standpoint.

The true old college spirit has been renewed at Clemson. This was demonstrated by the corps at the Fair during and subsequent to the Clemson-Carolina game. Words of praise for the enthusiastic rooters have come from thousands of loyal friends of the orange and purple. Boys, keep the true spirit alive.

Enquire how the other forty lived while the corps was at the fair. Suffice it to say that a maintenance ration was fed and that the result is an example of the survival of the fittest.

Now is the time to do the most efficient work in a college year. The weather is favorable for hard study—not too hot. Now is also the proper time to begin systematic study. Just as all successful business enterprises have systems to go by, the student should have a system about his study. Many college students could doubtless trace their failure to the fact that their studying is without system. Begin systematic study earnestly, and it will soon be an easy matter to practice it. Have a schedule to go by, and devote a certain amount of time to each subject. The great danger lies in the fact that the student spends very nearly all the time on one subject and scarcely any on others. Special hours should be set aside for each thing that is to be done in the routine of a day, and by no means should this time be sacrificed to other things. The student who learns to study systematically now, will be able to accomplish more in less time than the student who studies a subject only when he feels like it or has nothing else to occupy his time. Try systematic studying, and see if there is not an advantage in it.

The members of the Senior class seem much elated over the grades received from last month's work. T. D. Williams, the president of the class, is welcomed back after a vacation of several weeks, on account of sickness.

Maj. E. S. Jenkins is seen attending classes this week, after a stay of several days at the bedside of a sick father.

Capt. Jas. B. Keith, a loyal member of our class, had the pleasure of representing Clemson with his company in the competition drill, in which he came out second. The Citadel being first. Keith made a good showing for Clemson.

The photograph for the '11 annual will arrive here Saturday for the purpose of taking pictures. Of course the Seniors will try to be at their best, to undergo the mental strain of posing for all those pictures which they are counting on.

The first month's work of this term is over, and most of the members of our class have made good averages. As the second month begins, each man should strive harder to make his average just a little higher than it was the month before.

Mr. J. A. Simpson visited his home at Honea Path, Saturday and Sunday before Fair week. It seems as if there are other than home ties that bind Simpson to Honea Path.

Mr. J. C. Caldwell stopped over in Spartanburg as he returned from the fair, spending Saturday and Sunday with relatives there.

Messrs. J. F. Ezell and J. A. Bates were the members of our class who aided in the defeat of the Gamecocks on Thursday of Fair week.

The members of the Sophomore class went to the Fair, expecting to have a good time; and a good time we had. Our class was represented on the football field, in the great game, and also in the competition drill.

After this week of pleasure, we should begin our studies anew. The Sophomores seem to realize this, and we have begun this new month, determined to make good marks.

Just before the approach of dawn, Monday morning, Oct. 31, the bell rang for reveille, calling the glad-hearted cadets to arise and roll up their blankets, to take leave on a trip that had been talked and dreamed about for several weeks previously.

Shortly after reveille, a light breakfast was served. About 7:20 o'clock in the morning, the bell was sounded for regimental formation. Promptly, every cadet buckled on his belt, shoulder-ed his rifle and blanket roll, and took his position in ranks. After the regiment was formed, the first battalion and half of the second battalion was marched over to Calhoun and boarded the first section of the special train chartered to take the corps of cadets down to the Fair. Each company was assigned to a coach, which was decorated very beautifully with Clemson colors. When every thing was ready on the first section, it pulled out, taking the cheerful lads on their way rejoicing. About fifteen minutes after the first section had taken leave, the third battalion and the remainder of the second battalion, the band, and the staff boarded the second section, and it departed with its load of college youths singing college songs and giving yells. All the way down, as the sections neared the stations, songs were sung and yells given.

After a long and tiresome ride, the sections arrived at the Fair grounds about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the battalions were marched over to the camp ground. On reaching the camp ground, each company was assigned to a row of tents. The cadets now stacked arms and took their mattress covers and went about making their lowly beds of straw.

After everything was made ready around the camp, for a week's encampment, retreat was held and the gray-clad youths were turned loose until 11 o'clock, Monday night. As soon as the words "you may go" were given, some cadets strolled down midway, taking in the various shows, such as the Limit and the Queen of the Orient; while others boarded street cars, and went over to the city to meet pretty gals of old acquaintance and to meet new ones, and to join the merry throng up and down Main Street.

Among the most interesting features of Fair week were the Clemson-Carolina football game, a dress parade given every afternoon by the Clemson Cadets, and the competition drill be-between a Citadel company, and a Clemson company, and a company of Sumter High School cadets.

Thursday morning about 10:30 o'clock, almost the entire Clemson corps of cadets assembled on the lower end of the grandstand. As the signal was given to play ball, the whole crops began to root with such college spirit as had not been heard for many years in the student body. Throughout the game, each man, with his songs and yells, showed his appreciation toward his fellow comrades who won a victory of twenty-four to zero over the Gamecocks.

Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock, the Citadel company, Capt. Keith's company of Clemson, and the Sumter High School company assembled in front of the grandstand for a competitive drill. After a short while of snappy military display, the Citadel won first prize and Capt. Keith's company of Clemson won second prize. No one expected the Clemson company to win out against the State military school; especially, as the Citadel company was composed almost entirely of well drilled officers, drilling as privates, while the Clemson company was a company composed of nearly half recruits.

Saturday morning, immediately after breakfast, the corps began to roll up their blanket rolls and to take down tents. About 11 o'clock the battalions boarded the sections of the train assigned them, and started on their return to college, somewhat tired, but leaving behind many friends, and bringing with them feathers plucked from the Gamecock's tail.
