BETTING ON COLLEGE SPORTS

The most discreditable thing that attends college athletics is the practice of a class of students of betting on the contests. Much of the frenzied feeling and clashes marring the games is caused by those who have wagers on its outcome. An incident to illustrate the shamelessness with which the betting can be carried on occurred at Saturday's game, when some of the visiting students crossed to the Baylor side, paraded before the grand stands, openly calling for bets and flaunting their money in true Reno style. Students of such calibre give shivers of disgust and pity to persons who have a sense of propriety and decency. Their habits would become a Nevada prize fight, but when those supposed to have education and culture exhibit them, they make a sorry spectacle of themselves and their institution. No specific reflection is intended to be cast at the school in question—other than rightfully belongs—by thus referring to an isolated incident. No school's moral should be judged by the conduct of a few discreditable students. Betting is a low calling wherever practised, and betrays the same spirit in a Baylor as in a Texas student.—The Lariat, Baylor University.

A LETTER OF SYMPATHY.

The letter published below was sent to the "Tiger" immediately after the Thanksgiving defeat by Georgia Tech. The margin of the envelope was interlaced with black ribbon, evidently indicating mourning.

"To the Boys of C. A. C.—Tigers,

You certainly have my deepest sympathy during your sad hour caused by the defeat, but don't get too doleful on the subject. Cheer up over the thoughts of what you have done for other teams, the Gamecocks for instance; and just remember that there is a little girl at 1— St., Columbia, S. C., who watches the record each time that the Tigers play a game.

TECH DOWNS TIGER TEAM

From the Atlanta Journal.

Tech "came back" strong in the game against Clemson, defeating the South Carolina team 34 to 0.

The game was full of spectacular plays by different members of the Tech team, Patterson proving the star. Clemson played well considering their weight.

The line-up:

TECH.

Elmer, l. g. Martin, l. t.
Black, l. g. S. L. Britt, l. g.
Loeb, c. Gilmer, c.
Sinclair, r. g. Ezell, r. g.
Patterson, r. t. W. B. Britt, r. t.
Jenkins, r. e. Hanckel, r. e.
Johnson, q. Connelly, q.
Lewis, l. h. Kangeter, l. h.
Luck, r. h. Bissell, r. h.
Thomason, f. b. Bates, f. b.

The officials: Referee, Robotham, of Tufts; umpire, Dunbar, of V. M. I.; field judge, Brown, of Vanderbilt. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

The game in detail:

FIRST QUARTER.

Patterson kicked off thirty yards to Connelly who brought the ball forward 5 yards. Kangeter gained 2 around left end. Bissell lost 2 yards. Clemson punted out of bounds in center of field. Luck gained 9 yards over right tackle. Lewis gained 4 through center. Tech fumbled, and no gain. Lewis made 7 around right end. Patterson made 10 over left tackle. Johnson gained 6 yards right, and added 2 more through center. Cochran took Ezell's place for Clemson at right guard. Patterson made 4 through left tackle. Jenkins made a beauty run of 20 yards around left end. Thomason went through center for first touch-down, and Patterson kicked goal. Score: Tech 6; Clemson 0.

Clemson kicked 50 yards to Luck, who brought the ball 30 yards, and then a fumble followed, the ball bouncing out of bounds into a Clemson man's hands on Tech's 40 yard line. Clemson then worked a forward pass for 1 yard gain. Clemson lost 5 yards on a fake kick. Clemson punted 20 yards to Johnson, who was downed in his tracks. Tech fumbled, and failed to gain. Thomason made 3 through center. Patterson punted 50 yards out of bounds to Clemson's 30 yard line. Bissell made 5 through center. Clemson fumbled and no gain. Tech punted and Clemson was penalized. Tech's ball in center of field. Patterson made 3 yards over right guard. Jenkins went around right end for 25 yards. Lewis gained 4 more through center. Thomason made 5 yards. Thomason gained 4 through center, and added 3 more in the same manner. Luck got 2 more through center. Lewis made 3 around right end. Lewis made 2 over right tackle. Patterson took the ball over right tackle for the second touchdown for the Yellowjackets, and later kicked goal. Score, Tech 12; Clemson 0.

Bissell kicked 50 yards to Thomason, who brought the ball forward 20 yards. Jenkins made 15 around left end. Elmer lost 2 yards. Patterson added 3 over left tackle. Patterson punted 40 yards to Bissell, who brought the ball forward 10 yards. Woodward gained 5 around right end. Bissell made 1 yard. Clemson punted 15 yards. Patterson made 15 over left tackle. Jenkins added 5 more. Luck made 4 over left tackle. Thomason added 1 through center. Luck gained 3 around right end. On a delayed buck, Thomason made 1 yard through center. Patterson punted 30 yards. Clemson man hurt and time taken out. On a fake kick, Bissell gained 5 around right end. Clemson penalized 5 yards for off-side. Clemson punted 30 yards to Johnson, who came back 5 yards. First quarter over, ball in Tech's possession on Clemson's 30-yard line.

Score, Tech 12; Clemson 0.

SECOND QUARTER.

Jenkins gained 8 around right end. Forward pass amounted to no gain. Tech off-side and penalized 5 yards. Hill gained 5 around right end, and Clemson's ball on downs. Bissell failed to gain. Beginning of this quarter Tech's line-up was changed inasmuch as Hill took Cook's place at left end and Cook went to quarter in place of Johnson. Clemson punted 50 yards. Tech player hurt, and time taken out. Clemson's line-up was changed, Boles taking Kangeter's place at left half. Jenkins made 5 around left end. Tech fumbled and no gain. Tech punted 25 yards to Connelly, who advanced the ball 5 yards. Tech man hurt and time taken out. Boles lost 3 around left end. On forward pass, Bates to Bissell, Clemson gained 20 yards. Hanckel gained 5 over left tackle. Bates added 2 through center. Clemson failed to gain on forward pass. Ball given Tech on downs. Hill went around right end for 3 yards. Luck added 4 through center. THE CALHOUN.
* * * * *

The exercises of The Calhoun, on the night of November 26, were not up to the standard set by our society, on account of so many of our members being off on permit.

Mr. Altman's essay on "Organization" was well written, and was enjoyed by all. Mr. LeMasters read an interesting article entitled "The Election of the Future." The orator and the declaimer were absent.

Messrs. Salley and Hill were appointed by the president to fill vacancies on the affirmative and negative respectively. As proof that the question was well argued, the judges decided in favor of the affirmative, while the house decided in favor of the negative.

Messrs. Salley, Deason and Altman were appointed by the president to solicit orders for society pins, and to make the order as early as possible.

* * * * *
THE PALMETTO.
* * * * *

How true of the steady advance of the Old Palmetto is the hackneyed, yet significant expression: "Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever!" Especially impressive was its meaning to us last meeting, when we saw all the details of the exercises carried out by the new president, with the same dignity which has always been characteristic of us. Every man in the Palmetto is proud to share the duty of maintaining her present good record.

The query, "Resolved, That manufacture has done more for modern civilization than commerce has," appeared at first sight to be one which would be, when debated, far from interesting. Strange to say, however, it was one of the liveliest debates we have heard in quite a while. This was due to vigor put into it by the debaters on either side.

Those on the affirmative, Messrs. Eggerton, Jeter and Stokes, were appointed by the president to fill the vacancies of the absentees. Messrs. Stribling, Sanders, and Beaty represented the negatives. The judges, Messrs. Dukes, Heriot, and Gillam, rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative.

Mr. Hall, E. E., gave us a splendidly delivered declamation. Mr. Hall is one of the best workers in the Junior class. Mr. Wamamaker, L. B., read a good essay. He is another of those new men on whom the future of the Palmetto is depending. Mr. T. C. Hadden was elected a member of our body.

* * * * *
THE COLUMBIAN.
* * * * *

Mr. J. P. Stickley opened the exercises with a splendid declamation on "Evils of Liquor."

Mr. R. F. Jenkins, a new man, most creditably delivered "North American Indians."

Mr. Wall, the orator discussed the "Servant Girl" question, and brought out many good points.

The debate "Resolved, That the initiative and referendum are the best methods of directing legislation," was discussed as follows: Affirmative, Risher, Caughman, Jenkins, E. S.; Negative, Graham, Green, and McBride. The house and the judges decided in favor of the negative.

Mr. J. B. Keith made a good extemporaneous speech on the Progressive Age of Agriculture. The preliminary contest for declaimer comes off Dec. 3. There are four contestants—Messrs. Keith, Wall, Jenkins and McCrary. From these the judges will select two men to represent the society in chapel. These are four good men, and the contest will be a warm one.

The religious meeting of the Y. M. C. A., which was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday evening, November 27, was a success. At this meeting Acting President W. M. Riggs made an address on "The Negro Problem In the South." He discussed this problem very thoroughly from many standpoints; and, after hearing this discussion, I don't see how any one could keep from being in sympathy with this inferior race. The greater part of Acting Pres. Riggs' discussion was based on the education of the negro. He said that he believed in giving the negro an industrial education, so that the negro would be qualified to fill his place efficiently as a laborer.

We were very glad to have a goodly number of the folks on the hill to attend this meeting of the Y. M. C. A.; and we, also, give a cordial welcome to all of our Sunday evening meetings.

The football season has ended—no more athletic attractions for a season.

Thanksgiving is a receding station en route from September to June. Next stop Xmas.

The mass meeting in chapel the evening before the Tigers left for Atlanta, was a creditable send-off to give a team.

Meeting the team at Calhoun when they returned from the defeat by Georgia Tech was a noble act of appreciation on the part of the corps, even though the team did not win. Defeat never stamps out true college spirit.

Some are inclined to despair at our recent defeat by Tech., but considering the weights of the two teams, we could hardly expect anything other than defeat. Our football players have been for the past few years necessarily very light; but, nevertheless, the Tigers put up some strong playing, and we must hand it to them that under the circumstances they did some hard fighting for Clemson.

Has the past football season been a success? Without first considering what successful athletics mean, one would feel inclined to say that it has been a failure. Our record, it is true, has not been a championship record; but we are not exactly at the bottom, for we have won four games, lost three, and made the other a zero-zero game. We cannot claim otherwise than that we have had a successful season; for Coach Dobson has developed a fast team from light material, the Tigers have made a strong fight and we have played clean ball from start to finish, thereby developing character as well as physique.

The need of well organized technical clubs and societies at such an institution as ours is here amply expressed:

"This is an industrial age; and, as yet, all branches pertaining to the development of industrial lines are in their infancy. Many are the varied suggestions that are offered for the carrying out of this work. There is a growing demand for more enlightenment and a sincere co-operation of young people who are entering this field. Such help and feeling may be secured by the young men of a college by forming a club and uniting their efforts in working out problems for present day needs and securing helpful hints from those who have had considerable experience."

Examinations are but a short way ahead of us, now; and at no time can better results be derived from properly applied and diligent study than during the next few days preceding and during the final examinations of the first term. Examinations are tests of what we have done; and if we haven't done much during the past months of this term, there still lies within the most of us the possibility of redeeming ourselves.

EXCHANGES

The "Red and Black," the University of Georgia's weekly, is by far the most attractive as well as the most newsy periodical noted among our exchanges for the week. The great Clemson and Tech game has quite an elaborate sketch in this issue which shows quite a good deal of thought in its composition. The front page is adorned with the foot-ball team, which adds quite materially to the appearance of the paper and should be a stimulus to encourage new men to go and help lead their college on to victory in every phase of college athletics. The social department is not wanting in this issue. We wish to congratulate the editor on his ability to keep in touch with the news of the campus. We think it a good plan to publish all the local and social news connected with the college as it adds much to the news of the publications. From the sketch we have here we are impressed at the progress made in the literary societies. No student should be excused from this important work. If one is really interested in society work, the work done in the society will become the most beneficial as well as the most pleasurable work done in college.

The spirit and contents of this paper are good in all of its departments and we will gladly look forward to the coming of this periodical to our desk each week.

The "Orange and White," The University of Tennessee's weekly, though very small is quite a newsy little paper. The first page is well taken up with the foot-ball notes, which are well written in every respect. The editorial on the behavior of college boys at public meetings such as theatres is a very timely one and one upon which every student of an institution should spend some serious thought. No one can imagine how much a little rudeness or rowdiness at such times can lower the moral side of the college life. People, if they are wanting something with which to slur an institution, will always jump with both feet on such as that and the damage done can't be estimated. It is therefore important that each student should act as though the reputation of the college were judged by his own acts. The Y. M. C. A., Societies, and Fraternities all seem to be actively engaged in their several pursuits, and all have good sketches in this periodical, which means that this issue of the "Orange and White" is quite a newsy budget.

The following is an exact copy of a permit submitted to the commandant, a few days ago: Cadet, L. C. Altman, Private, Company G., Class Fresh, applies for permission to be considered as an applicant for a corporal next year.

CLASSES

SENIOR.

Thanksgiving Day, the day we have all been looking forward to for some time, has come and gone; and with it, came the crushing defeat sustained by our noble "Varsity" squad at the hands of the plucky eleven of Georgia Tech. Our memories go back to our "rathood" days when Clemson defeated her rival by a narrow score, on this day. Then it was that the bonfires leaped skyward and over six hundred voices rang out sharp and shrill on the evening air welcoming the returning victors. Although our team did not return victorious this year, still they received a hearty welcome at the hands of their comrades. On Friday evening, November 25th, led by the indomitable Jeter and Keith, the corps of cadets met the returning "Leven" at Calhoun; and, with shouts and songs, returned with them to the college. Those who took part in the last game of the season—and in all probability the last game they will take part in while students at Clemson—were Martin, Gilmer, Connelly, Woodward, Hanckel, Britt, Epps, and Bissell. The last named gentleman will, in all probability, be a star on next year's varsity, as he is now pursuing two courses, metallurgy and civil engineering, and will not be able to finish this year.

Those accompanying the team to Atlanta were Messrs. Sitton, McCord, G. L., Ginn, Henderson, Garner, Goodman, Boone, Rogers, Davis, Tobin, and Haynesworth.

Mr. "Graveyard" Harrison spent several days of last week at his home in Walhalla.

Messrs. Jenkins, E. S., Dew, J. A., Beaty, H. C., and Goodwin, J. A., spent Thursday in Greenville.

Messrs. Chapman, Altman and Deason spent the holiday very pleasantly at the home of the first named in Liberty.

Harris, B. B., visited his home in Pendleton to pay his respects to the fowls.

Fant's merry face was seen in Anderson. Garrett found himself at his father's table. Stokes wandered as far as Seneca.

At a recent meeting of the football squad, Mr. P. L. Bissell was elected captain for next season. Paul is a "Crackerjack" with the pigskin and we hope that, under his leadership, next year's varsity will be even more successful than this year's team has been.

JUNIOR.

The Christmas holidays are fast approaching, and with them examinations, and the end of the first term's work. The work of the members of our class has been good so far this term; and, now as the term draws to a close, each man should strive a little harder to raise his term's average.

Our success as a class depends in part upon our daily class work, and each man adds to the success of his class as he betters his class work. Knowing this, let us work hard to bring this term to a brilliant finish, and let us excel all preceding classes in our class work for the first term anyway.

The football season of this year ended with bad results for our men on the varsity eleven. "Big Sam" Ezell, the plucky right guard, and one of the best men on the team, was put of the Tech game with a broken collar bone. The bone was set all right and "Sam" is only grieving because he could not help to finish up the biggest game of the season. Joe Bates, our full-back, had his ankle hurt in a practice game, about a week before the Tech game. Though crippled, he went into the Tech game and played the great game he is noted for.

Our class was well represented at the Tech game in Atlanta on Thanksgiving.

Messrs. J. R. Crawford and G. W. Byars spent Thanksgiving with J. N. Stribling at his home in Walhalla.

Mr. H. S. Kennerly spent Thanksgiving with friends in Anderson.

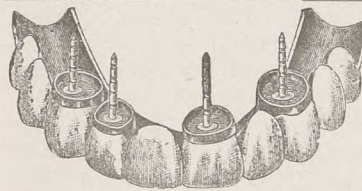

Messrs. W. H. Hayes and W. D. Ezell ate their Thanksgiving turkey with friends, lady friends, in Tokeena.

SOPHOMORE.

The Sophomores had one of the biggest times of their lives on Thanksgiving and the Saturday and Sunday following. Large crowds of them left the college on Thanksgiving morning bound for home or for some friend's home. Those who stayed in the barracks enjoyed the dinner which was furnished by the college very much. Among those who went home are F. H. Lathrop, J. D. Hall, P. M. Carpenter, and R. Robison.

They had their share in the welcome which was given the football team on Friday night. Several members of our class played in the great game against Tech.

On account of the tragic death of a younger brother, Mr. Rogers was called home last Friday. Our deepest sympathy goes out to him and his family in their sore bereavement.

THE GROWTH OF A PLANT.

Department of Agriculture Makes Trick Moving Pictures.

(We publish the following clipping for the benefit of those interested.)

The department of agriculture manufactures trick moving pictures which are as surprising as any to be seen in the theatres. The pictures made by the department show the growth of a flower from the moment it emerges from the earth to its full development. All the stages of growth passed through in one of the pictures in five or ten minutes have been recorded by the camera. If the plant is a fast "grower," a film is exposed each day until it has matured. When the plant develops slowly, the exposure may be made possible once a week. When the plant has attained its full development, the various strips of film are pasted together and then run through the machine at such a speed that it seems to sprout, grow up and put forth its fruit before the eyes of the spectator in very few minutes.

The department of agriculture has a film thus made, which is now being shown to Western farmers. It shows two stalks of wheat growing from the moment they break through the ground till they reach full height. One of the stalks is from a good seed and the other from a bad one, and the comparative rate of growth and fruitfulness of the two is vividly pictured. This picture, which took the department months to perfect, can be shown to a spectator within five or ten minutes.—Von Pilot.
