WHAT OTHERS THINK OF TAPS, 1911.

"Taps, the Clemson College Annual for 1911, is a striking volume from the artistic design on the dim-colored, leather back, lined with brown silk, to the last advertisement.

Following is the dedication:

"To her whose mission on earth is to foster all that is purest and noblest in woman; whose fortunes are one with the fortunes of Clemson; whose daughters, the goal of our fond aspirations, have cheered and inspired our toil and our struggles—to Winthrop, twin sister of our alma mater, this volume is affectionately dedicated."

"A fine picture of Winthrop faces the dedicatory note.

"A cupid, garbed as a postman, and carrying a volume of Taps under his arm, which volume is addressed to 'Miss Allowance,' is the frontispiece, drawn by P. L. Bissell.

"Besides the photographs of the 88 members of the Senior class and of numerous sponsors for the various companies and organizations, there are many excellent campus scenes and drawings of merit. The literary work is of a high order, and the fund of wit and humor is abundant and refreshing."—The State.

A Review of Athletics For 1910-11.

As we are ending the year's work, let us look over our athletic records for the year. In all lines Clemson has showed up well—in football, baseball and track. And for the showing made the boys are much indebted to Coach Dobson, Dr. Calhoun and the efficient managers and captains of the various teams.

Below is our football record. The team this year was managed by Wilson Arthur with Bill Hanckle as captain:

Clemson vs Gordon—26-0.

Clemson vs Mercer—0-3.

Clemson vs Howard—24-0.

Clemson vs Citadel—32-0.

Clemson vs Auburn—0-16.

Clemson vs Carolina—24-0.

Clemson vs U. of Georgia—0-0.

Clemson vs Tech—0-34.

The record shows us winning four, losing three and tying one. A good record considering the light weight of the team and the heavy teams played against.

Next we will take the track with Martin Epps manager and "Stub" Stevens, captain. The team held four meets during the season and won not only the S. I. A. A. championship, but also the A. A. U., making the Tigers champions of the South. Below are the meets and points scored:

Clemson, 66; Ga. Tech, 42.

Clemson, 98; Carolina, 19.

S. I. A. A.—Clemson, 48; Auburn, 35; Vanderbilt, 20; Tech, 18; Kentucky State, 5; U. of Alabama, 1; Howard, 0.

A. A. U.—Clemson, 38; Auburn, 37; Birmingham A. Club, 36; Birmingham Y. M. C. A., 19; Birmingham High School, 5.

In baseball we had a remarkably good season, having a percentage of .900 in the State and winning the State championship easily. The team this year was efficiently managed by Jim Keith with Bill Connelley as captain. Below are the games and scores of the season:

Univ. of Georgia 5; Clemson 3.

Univ. of Georgia 3; Clemson 0.

Erskine 1; Clemson 2.

Erskine 3; Clemson 8.

Charleston 1; Clemson 6.

Furman 0; Clemson 4.

Charleston 3; Clemson 6.

Furman 4; Clemson 6.

Newberry 1; Clemson 2.

Newberry 2; Clemson 3.

Clinton 0; Clemson 6.
 Clinton 2; Clemson 6.
 Trinity 7; Clemson 0.
 Trinity 9; Clemson 5.
 Citadel 0; Clemson 3.
 Wofford 5; Clemson 8.
 Wofford 0; Clemson 6.
 Wofford 3; Clemson 2.
 Mercer 7; Clemson 0.
 Mercer 10; Clemson 5.
 Auburn 4; Clemson 3;
 Auburn 3; Clemson 2.
 Auburn 7; Clemson 6.

Looking back over the season we see no reason for complaint and let us always hope that the team will win by playing clean and if they can't win all the time play clean anyway. Here's hoping that the teams will show even better next year, tho' they certainly will have to hustle.

As this is the last issue of the "Tiger," we wish to thank all those who have been so kind, loyal, and obliging to the editors and managers as to support the publication in any way. We first extend our thanks to those members of the staff who have so faithfully furnished the editor with news of the different departments of college life. Secondly, we wish to thank members of the student body as a whole for their contributions from time to time, and especially those who have responded to our request for aid. Thirdly, we extend our many thanks to our subscribers and advertisers who have made the weekly publication of the "Tiger" possible. Last, but not least, we thank Miss Helen Brackett who has so kindly filled the chair of society editor. We should be especially grateful to her for adding so much luster to our paper by contributing the social items from the "Hill." We feel sure that this has been one of the most appreciated improvements ever made on the "Tiger." Though our work on the paper has not been what we wished to make it, we have strived to satisfy our readers; and, considering the many complimentary comments which have reached us, we feel that we have not fallen far short of our duty in issuing such a publication. We are more than pleased with the fact that our readers have appreciated the change in publication from bi-weekly to weekly. In conclusion, let it be said that we appreciate the creation and continuance of such a paper, that we have enjoyed the privilege of being editors and contributors of it, and that we hope for the "Tiger" a prosperous future.

DR. KEY'S LECTURE.

Seldom does a Clemson audience have the pleasure of listening to so excellent an address as that delivered on Friday evening by Dr. G. W. Key, of Washington, Ga., on "The Gospel of Work." Dr. Key held the perfect attention of his audience, about two hundred in number.

Dr. Key gave the subject of his lecture when he said, "Work is a blessing—not a penalty to be escaped. Man today does not get an education to get out of work, but to become fitted for more and better work." The speaker then went on to show the place college life has to play in a life work, saying, "College is not a preparation for life, but life itself in which the future battles of life are fought out in advance." Dr. Key impressively outlined the necessity for work, the ability to work, the will to work—and the reward for work, closing with the admonition, "Go out into this world equipped with a will—a will that enables you to use every force for the advancement of the human race."

THE COBURN PLAYERS A SPLENDID ATTRACTION.

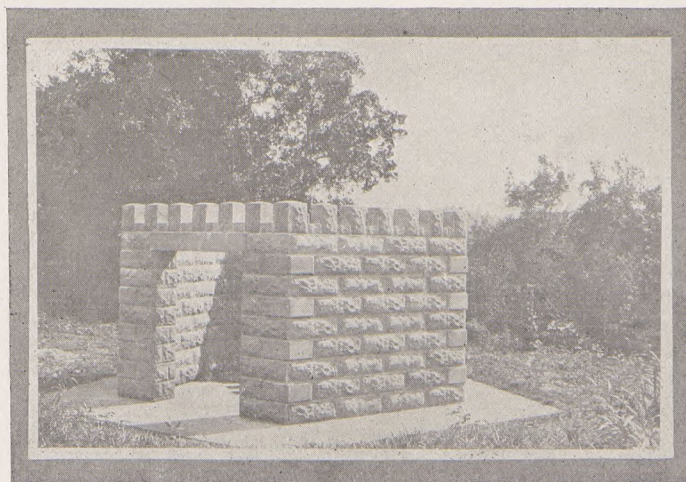

On Thursday night last, the corps of cadets and the people on the Hill enjoyed an unusual treat in the presentation, by the Coburn Players, of Shakespeare's beautiful pastoral play, "As You Like It."

This treat was due to the enterprise and zeal of Mr. R. L. Sweeney, the secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and was given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

The play was presented in the open air, and the stage was arranged so as to represent a part of the Forest of Arden in the northeast of France, the scene of the play. From beginning to end everything went smoothly, and every character was well portrayed. When all did so well, it is difficult to select any one character and say that one was best.

From the comments heard, it is safe to say that everyone who saw the play was pleased. It would be well if attractions such as "As You Like It" could be added to the lyceum course. They would be both entertaining and educating.

We hope our energetic secretary of the Y. M. C. A. can see his way clear to bring the Coburn Players to Clemson next Spring.

Monument Erected on Site of Old Fort Rutledge.

CLASSES

SENIOR.

It is with a certain degree of co-mingled joy and sorrow that we come to our last report for the old "Tiger." Were it not in the hope that it would fall to the lot of men of next year's class who are better fitted for the work than we, our regret would be much greater. However, we hope that next year's class will take up the work with zeal, stand behind the paper, as a body, and what is better, put out a paper which will merit and receive the support of every man in Clemson, every member of the faculty, and every resident of the "Hill."

As commencement day draws nearer and nearer, the Seniors are becoming concerned more and more about what they will do after finishing college. We are prone to look on the bright side of everything. However, when we come to think that, in a few days, the members of the Senior class will be scattered from the sunny land of Florida to the noisy, busy city of New York, we realize that we may be parting from friends of four years' standing never to meet them again. It has been suggested that the class should hold annual reunions, the first one to be celebrated in the city of Panama, on the completion of the Panama canal. Others suggest that the meeting take place in San Francisco, at the time of the Panama exposition, which is to be held in that city in 1915. No matter where the first reunion is held, we feel that the class of 1911 should set a precedent for all future classes to follow.

The Senior Dancing Club gave a very enjoyable informal dance on the night of May the 13th. The college orchestra furnished very enjoyable music for the occasion.

Since our last announcement, Mr. O. O. Dukes has accepted a position as professor of agriculture in the Chamberlain-Hunt Academy, of Port Gibson, Miss. Mr. Dukes will go to this position about the first of September. Knowing him as we do, we feel sure he will make good in the capacity of a teacher.

JUNIOR.

Perhaps, after a year of most successful work in all lines, it would be well just to take a glance backward and note only a few things the Juniors have done during the college year. The daily grades on the class books of the instructors show the earnest and diligent class work that has been done; so there is no use to mention this further. The declaimer's medal in the Calhoun Literary Society was carried off by a man of this class, Mr. F. L. Ross. Other men in the class have taken prominent places in the society work.

Every man in the class should feel proud of the records that have been made by the class and our classmates in all athletic lines of the college. The trophy cup for the champion class football team is ours. Two of our men, Ezell and Bates, were stars in the line-up of the "Tigers" during the football season. Two men, Rivers and Bates, were two of the good players on the championship baseball team. Three men, Ezell, Gage and Hayden, did good work on the championship track team. Ezell won the hammer throw in all the meets, and broke the college record in the meet with Ga. Tech.

Three men, Faris, Prosser and Rentz, have contributed to the beautiful annual of 1911. But while all the men mentioned have done much for the class and for the college, they are not all that have done anything. Each man in the class has contributed his part to the successful work of the year, and the Junior class would never have been a success without the efforts of all the men in it. We may well feel proud of our year's work as a class.

Why is every one at work so earnestly now? The answer must lie in the fact that it is only a few days till examinations, and then is when this earnest work will show itself in good grades.

Messrs. Hamlin and Fant spent Sunday in Anderson.

SOPHOMORE.

Commencement is fast approaching. We, Sophomores, are certainly glad that this is so. We have almost reached the half-way mark in our college careers, and we hope that every one of us shall be able to finish the last half in 1913.

The Sophomore Dancing Club gave its last delightful informal dance on the evening of Saturday, May 20. Besides the members of the club, the members of the baseball and track team were present, and the dancing was enjoyed by all.

After a splendid vacation, which I know that all of us shall enjoy, let us come back to the college resolved to do good work as Juniors, and also to make the class of '13 the best which has ever graduated from Clemson.

LITERARY : : SOCIETIES

THE CALHOUN.

On account of the absence of the president, the society was called to order by Vice-President Cooper.

Mr. E. P. Josey's oration and Mr. T. E. Bell's essay proved to be the most interesting part of the program. Both of these gentlemen have done good work in the society and are deserving members.

Although quite an old subject, yet compulsory education for South Carolina is still before the minds of the thinking people, and the subject was put before the society in all of its different phases by the debaters. Both house and judges decided that we should not have a compulsory education law. Messrs. J. L. Seal, J. G. Harris, and N. K. Rowell represented the affirmative, while the negative was championed by Messrs. A. M. Salley, J. C. Barksdale and S. W. Rabb.

On motion, it was decided to make all delinquent members pay up their fines, or else drop their names from next year's roll, and in the case of Seniors, to require the payment of all fines before granting diplomas to them.

The following named Seniors will receive diplomas from the society: Altman, L. B., Boone, L. D., Cooper, H. P., Crawford, J. T., Deason, B. H., Fant, G. C., Foster, W. W., Freeman, R. W., Knox, J. S., Lawrence, B. F., Lykes, C. S., Lykes, F. W., Riley, J. A., Salley, A. M.

THE PALMETTO.

It is indeed a happy day in the history of any organization when, after much labor and sacrifice, the members are permitted to see and enjoy the benefits which their labor has wrought. With this last meeting of active society work, we close a year, which we believe embraces four terms of the best work the Palmetto has ever known. The work throughout the year has been characterized by earnestness and enthusiasm on the part of all the members. They have attended regularly, and have always shown a ready disposition to do faithfully the work assigned them. The underclassmen have a great responsibility resting upon them because of this efficient year's work. The example of the sixteen Seniors going out from the Palmetto has no doubt instilled into their minds the right spirit of work, and therefore they need feel little concerned about the future of the Palmetto.

The following Seniors have remained faithful during their stay in college, and will each receive a diploma from the society: D. C. Beaty, A. D. Chapman, O. O. Dukes, H. C. Eagerton, G. D. Garner, W. C. Garrett, C. R. Gilliam, J. A. Goodwin, J. L. Gilmore, B. W. Gettys, W. N. Henderson, F. H. Jeter, W. W. Mickie, F. M. Rast, W. E. Stokes, T. D. Williams.

The regular exercises were up to the usual standard at this last meeting. The debate, "Resolved, That the United States should aid Mexico in restoring peace," was ably argued on both sides. Those on the affirmative, Messrs. Faris, Gillam and King, were clearly outclassed by Messrs. Workman, Stribling and Massey on the negative.

Mr. W. H. Hayes gave the society an interesting oration on "Thought."

Messrs. J. A. Goodwin and A. C. Turbeville rendered good declamations.

THE COLUMBIAN.

* * * * *

As the present session draws to a close, for a moment, the things we have done seem to be magnified in our own eyes; whereas, in truth, the things we have not done are so numerous that we seem compelled to admit that opportunities can never be regained, after they have once slipped by in the flight of time; so it is for we, then, looking forward to the future, to redouble our efforts, and seek to gain those things which are for our material happiness, our perfection, and our social destination.

There are many stepping stones we must climb before our best work can be accomplished; and, next to a college education, I know of no safer stone for a foundation than of being capable to speak up for right, to redress wrong, to have the power of quick thought; and to become influential in any community. Realizing this, it seems that the literary societies here and their good work should enlist the support of every man who intends to do the best for himself.

It produced a feeling akin to pleasure to consider the large attendance and great enthusiasm that characterized our last meeting. Every man showed the right spirit in the right place.

Mr. H. A. Adams opened the exercises with a declamation. He soon showed why he was a member of the society, and what he was getting out of it.

Mr. C. J. Hayden's oration on the "Advancement of Southern Agriculture" especially appealed to the agricultural students.

Mr. F. H. All gave a summary of current events of the past week, and also what took place 50 years ago. These were received with great interest.

Should immigrants have a property qualification? If you are in doubt ask Sam Ezell, Fred All, or "Daddy" McCrary, and they will tell you in vociferous terms, "yes." Of course, Messrs. Ezell, W. D., Jenkins, R. F., and Bethea, H., tried to stop our trio of debaters, but after a hot battle of one hour, every one cast a vote for the affirmative.

It is with pleasure that we announce that the following Seniors will receive diplomas from the Columbian Society: F. H. All, J. B. Keith, O. H. Graham, Jno. E. Jenkins, E. S. Jenkins, L. C. Harrison, F. F. Parker, J. M. Martin, R. G. Stevens, J. P. Stickley, M. W. Wall and W. M. Wiggins.

The world today is not asking of college graduates "How many term hours have you completed?" says the Drake "Delphic." It is asking, "What can you do?" Some students come to college to see how much they can get out of the college without giving anything in return. They always want the University to do things for them, but when it comes to their doing anything for the University, they kick. A student should give some of his time to other things than class work. If a man finishes college with only his class record, he will only be able to answer the question of how many term hours he has had. But if he goes into the various other activities which the college offers, he ought to be able to give a rather satisfactory answer to the question of "What can you do?" —Ex.

At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A., which was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Dr. R. N. Brackett made an excellent address on "Service," taking as his theme the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians. In his address, he spoke very forcefully upon the demand for the right kind of service, and the necessity for preparation, if we are to render this service properly. And, in this connection, he spoke of the opportunity the boys of this college, and all other Southern colleges, would have to get this preparation if they would attend the Southern student conference which will be held at Montreat, N. C., from the 16th to 26th of June. He did not attempt to persuade any one to go, but he asked this question: "How can you, as Y. M. C. A. men, afford to miss it?" He said it would be fine for all of us to attend this conference, if we could; and it was absolutely necessary for all of the Y. M. C. A. leaders to go. We heartily agree with Dr. Brackett that it is necessary for the Y. M. C. A. leaders to attend this conference, and insist that they, as well as all others who can, make it a point to attend. We were very glad to have Dr. Brackett with us.

We have been exceedingly fortunate in securing as commencement speaker for the Y. M. C. A. Ex-Governor Martin R. Ansel. This service will be held in the college memorial hall Sunday evening, June 11, at 8 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

ALMOST TROUBLE.

One of the prominent members of the faculty came very near having a bout with the conductor on the Blue Ridge train not long ago. It all came about through a simple query of the member of the faculty, and we are glad that there were no serious results. The cause of the trouble was as follows: Nearing the Cherry station, this member of the faculty, called the conductor to him and asked: "Does this train make connection with Mr. Clinkscales' hack-line at Cherrys?" This very much enraged the conductor and it was only after some time that he was pacified. The member of the faculty, after thinking for some time, was able to ask what he wanted. What he really wanted to know was if Cap met the 12:40 Cherrys train.
