Tech Defeats Tigers

Clemson and Tech fought out the annual Thanksgiving game of football in Atlanta on Thursday before a crowd of some 2000 people. It was a hard game and the light bunch of Tigers played well against the husky Tech aggregation. The following were the officials of the game:

Referee, Icenhour, of Auburn; umpire, Innins Brown, of Vanderbilt; field judge, Graham, of Washington and Lee; head linesman, "Red" Hill, of Tech.

The line-up was as follows.

Clemson

W. Perry
Gandy, and Mellette

Tech

L. E. Thomason and Alexander

There certainly is something in a man when he will go on the football field and work for a whole season, as none but football players know how to work, and with no hope of any direct returns for his work. Pride in his college and pride in clean, manly sport, and we might say strong determined manhood, are the things which cause these men to do this. Football is not always encouraging but sometimes very discouraging. Victories cannot always be won, some defeats must be suffered, and a defeat is certain to lend some degree of discouragement, or rather strong disappointment.

During this season of 1911, Clemson has had a bunch of men who, having the essentials of manhood, pride in their college and in clean sports, have worked hard to retain the name of the Tigers on the football field. The men have almost all been light and inexperienced; and, as a result, some of the heavy more experienced teams have wrenched a victory from them. The corps has at times been disappointed when these men would be defeated, and again they have been agreeably and pleasantly surprised when the same team showed so much of the strong fighting spirit and won one of the most important games by an overwhelming score.

To Coach Dobson, the enthusiastic, hard-working coach of the Tigers, must go much credit for his work in developing his crowd of men. On the field every afternoon, working, training, coaching, encouraging and reprimanding his men, he has developed from a bunch of lightweights a team that is grounded in all the ways of football, and which has held out well against odds of weight, luck and experience.

To the manager of the football team should go much credit. Henry Rivers has made an efficient manager of our 1911 bunch of Tigers.

On the Tiger squad this year eighteen men have fought at various times. For the personnel of the team see what follows below. These have come from various sources; so you may attribute the difference in them to the difference in the style of the men who wrote them. The first man to be considered is the man who has generalized the team this year:

BISSELL, CAPTAIN.

Bissell has made the team an excellent captain and field general. His method of running the team is on a par with the best of them. As a ground gainer he has been one of the best on the team and is the best broken field runner. His drop kicking this season has been above the average. Bissell first gained prominence in the football world by making a drop kick for goal against Tech in 1909.

BRITT, TACKLE.

Britt, the old reliable tackle, has been one of the most valuable men on the team this year. He has been in every down in every game this season and has always done his part. This is Britt's second year on the team and he has shown great improvement over his first season's work, although it was mighty good. Britt has been one of the most consistent ground gainers of the season, it being almost impossible to stop him with less than ten yards on his tackle over tackle play.

KANGETER, HALF-BACK.

Kangeter has starred at half-back this season. When it comes to running interference he has no equal on the team. Johnny is a good man to carry the ball when you need three or four yards added to make first down. He is also one of the best defensive men on the team. He will play one of the half-backs next year.

COLES, HALF-BACK.

Coles is probably the lightest and fastest man on the team. He is second only to Bissell as a broken field runner and is probably the surest tackler that we have. He has another year to play and we expect great things of him.

GRAY, END.

Gray is one of the men that made the team this year. He has starred in class football for the past two years and was captain of the Junior class team of last year which won the class championship. He has played a star end throughout the season, making more pretty tackles than anyone on the team.

HAYDEN, CENTER.

"Varsity" has developed into one of Clemson's strongest players. For several years he has been a fighter on the scrubs; and, on the championship Junior of 1911, Hayden was at center. On varsity this year he has played in every game, always playing football of the highest order and fighting till the last minute. The work of this boy at center has done much to strengthen the Tigers. Track work also has claimed Hayden's attention. He is a Senior.

W. PERRY, END.

"Bill" was first seen in football circles at Clemson when he starred at full-back on the champion Junior team. This season he won a place on varsity at end, where he has played with true Tiger ferocity. He can send the ball where he pleases from kick-off—it frequently goes behind the goal line. If a touchdown is made the score had as well be counted six more, for "Bill" will kick the goal. When necessary he can punt. With all these accomplishments, no wonder he is considered such a valuable asset to the team. "Bill" is a Senior and doesn't count for next year's team.

T. PERRY, GUARD.

"Foots" has the record of being the only man on the team who has blocked a kick, which stunt he pulled off in the Carolina game. He played tackle on the champion Junior team last winter but has shifted to guard since making varsity. He has played in more downs this year than any man on the team, and this his first year on varsity, too. He will surely do great things next year. His opponents will have more to do to get by him than they have this year; and, by the way, none got by him this year.

WEBB, FULL-BACK.

Webb is a Freshman, a "rat," yet he is one of our best varsity men. When Bates was ruled out, Webb was the man who went into full-back and worked to help the Tigers. Webb has been a good ground gainer, and when given the ball enough was allowed only to South Carolina students. Books and other necessary articles are given in Agriculture and Textile Industry. (For details, see College Catalogue.) Second term begins Jan. 3rd, 1912.

Tuition students pay $10.00 per quarter additional. Free tuition is allowed only to South Carolina students. Books and other necessary articles will be furnished by the College at an approximate cost of $20. Each student must provide himself with four sheets, two blankets, one comfort, six towels, two pillow cases, one pillow and two single mattress covers. For catalogue and other information, address W. M. RIGGS, President.

Thanksgiving's past and football's over. There is nothing to do now but to study. Every man will have to study now in self defense.

How many men are there in college that have not yet counted up the number of days till Christmas? All of you are guilty, even the Seniors.

Man has been endowed with a peculiar power of exercising his mind in thought. College men have this power, but they often let it lie dormant. Better awake it now and let it help you in your work; for examination time is soon going to be around again. Exercise this power to the fullest extent and see if the terror of these examinations will not be lost.

There are many varying moods in man's life. At times, it seems as if all the world were good to him and interested in his welfare and happiness, and he can't help but whistle or show his happy mood in some way. Again, he may be more indifferent; and, at times, he becomes really gloomy. This ought not to be. It is within man's power to make his life and the lives of the men that he comes in daily contact with bright and happy. This happy, cheerful, whistling mood is the one we should woo. The gloomy, discontented, blue mood—ah, away with it! We should be as bright and happy as we can; so take that melancholy sour look off of your face; and whistle, smile, and be cheerful.

The hard work is over and no doubt but that the men on the football team will be glad of a rest. To some of them it is sad, for they have played in their last games of football. This year will end their work at Clemson, and some of them will never go to another school where they might help to win victories on the football field. Yes the football days for some of the Tigers are over. For others of the Tigers, their football days are just started. Several month's rest is now before them, and then the football field will again hold out its lure to them. Back to football and to hard work, they will go next September, because it has its attractions for them, because they love it, and because they have the proper college spirit.

Many of the men, as they look back on the past season's work, doubtless see some things that they wish could have been different. Perhaps some can see the time when a spirit of lassitude seemed to dominate them, and they did not play the game for all it was worth. These things only make them resolve to fight harder the next time they have a chance of fighting a football game. As these men look back, some of them too can see star plays, long runs, hard tackles, and general good work to more than balance the work that they did when their slothful spirit was upon them. Success always gives a happy feeling, and the men who have made a success in their football career this year no doubt experience that feeling now. These men will remember the fall of 1911 by what they did on their team.

To all those men who have fought with the Tigers this past season, "The Tiger," the publication of the corps, comes with a true sense of gratitude to you. You have been at work for Clemson, and Clemson spirit has caused you to put up battles against heavy odds. Though disappointed in the work of the team at times, and at other times elated over the work of that same team, the corps of cadets does appreciate the work of the men on the 1911 team which has now passed into history.

CLEMSON SCRUBS VS. RIVERSIDE—SCRUBS PLAYED A GOOD GAME, BUT LOST

While the varsity eleven was playing the big game with the Tech bunch on Thanksgiving day, the scrub team was battling against the Riverside eleven at Gainesville. The team did not leave the college till Thursday morning and then played the game in Gainesville on Thursday afternoon. As a whole the game was a poor exhibition of football, though at times the teams played hard. The whole game was marred by dirty playing and much wrangling. Three of the Riverside men were put out of the game for slugging.

The scoring started for Riverside in the first quarter, when the ball was carried over for a touchdown; but they failed to kick goal. Then again in the second and third quarters, Riverside scored touchdowns, but neither time were her men able to kick goal. The period for the scrubs to score never came, and when the game ended their only point was a 0. The playing of the scrub team as a whole was good, and the individual playing of several of the men was excellent. The final score was: Riverside 3--Clemson 0.

The scrub team returned to the college Friday at noon.

The meeting of November 17th was a business meeting. The following officers were elected:

Second Quarter—President, Ross, F. L.; Vice President, Small, A. J.; Critic, Hearsey, G. J.; Recording Secretary, Anderson, G. M.

Third Quarter—President, Hill, D. B.; Vice President, Bell, T. E.

Fourth Quarter—President, Josey, E. P.; Vice President, Rowell, N. K.

On November 24th the officers for the second quarter were installed. Mr. Ross the president, gave us a short inaugural address and asked the society to co-operate with him in making this quarter a success. The regular exercises were then taken up. The declaimer, orator and essayist gave us good selections and all showed that they had spent much time in preparing.

The debate was very good. The query was: Resolved, That the laws prohibiting secular employment on Sundays should be enforced. The negative won.

The regular meeting of the Columbian Literary Society was held on Saturday night, the 25th. After the president had called the meeting to order, devotional exercises were conducted by the chaplain. In the absence of the secretary, E. M. Byrd, corresponding secretary, read the minutes of our previous meeting. Messrs. Youmans, Adams and Jenkins acted as declaimers. The regular debate was not up to its usual standard. Messrs. Miley and McIlhany were absent. R. F. Jenkins took Mr. McIlhany’s place while Mr. Parker was chosen to fill Mr. Miley’s place.

The query was: Resolved, That the high ideals of manhood are as necessary for a boy as they are for a man. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative, while the house decided in favor of the negative.

At our next meeting the officers for the second term will be installed. Let every member be present.

A very interesting debate was had on last Saturday evening. It was “Resolved, That the demoralizing effect of the fair trip on college work is not compensated by the pleasure enjoyed.” Messrs. W. E. Bowers, R. B. Stewart and M. C. Smith represented the affirmative; while Messrs. J. W. Perrin, D. K. Banks and A. S. Smoak vigorously opposed them. Many points were brought out on both sides; and, when the judges finished weighing them, Mr. Stribling announced that the affirmative had outweighed the negative by a few points only.

Mr. C. H. Stanton delivered an oration that appeals to every Clemson cadet. “What sort of friends are you making here?” Following this, and ending the exercises, Messrs. T. C. Gentry and T. C. Haddon both delivered fine declamations, while A. W. Ferritt read a good essay.

It was decided to elect the representatives for the annual celebration at the next meeting.

Miss May Bradfield has gone to Brooklyn to spend the winter.

Mrs. Lee is in Atlanta on a visit.

Mrs. P. H. H. Calhoun entertained very delightfully on Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. McIntire.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Bramlett was hostess at a beautiful tea in honor of her mother, Mrs. McIntire. The house was very attractively decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. Those who assisted in receiving the guests were Misses Sadler, Calhoun, Stokes, Harper, Bryan, Brackett, Morrison and Daniel. Mrs. Newman poured the tea and Mrs. Hall, the Misses Sadler, and Miss Sara Furman served. During the afternoon about eighty guests enjoyed Mrs. Bramlett's hospitality.

Mrs. McIntire was the honoree again Wednesday afternoon at a charming party given by Mrs. Bryan. After a most enjoyable afternoon, a delightful sweet course was served.

Miss Helen Brackett was hostess Wednesday evening at a very novel and entertaining party. Miss Florida Calhoun and Mr. Allison were the lucky contestants in the game of progressive peanut harpooning. Miss Brackett's guests were Misses Hardin, Woodside, Bradford, Martin, Doggett, Hughes, Margaret and Elta Sadler, Sara and Katherine Furman, Calhoun, Porcher and Mrs. Shiver; Messrs. Allison, Lipscomb, Keitt, Sweeney, Henry, Lykes, Inman, Boone, Brandon, Napier Gee, Shuler and Watson. Mrs. Shiver added very much to the entertainment of the evening by delightful music. After an unusually merry time, a delicious salad course was served.

Mrs. Redfern entertained the club on Thursday afternoon. There were several visitors present as well as most of the members, and the meeting was an unusually enjoyable one. The refreshments were salad and coffee.

Mrs. J. G. Hall gave a euchre party on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Helen Woodside.

HOUNCHELL COMING TO CLEMSON

Mr. C. G. Hounchell, of the International Student Volunteer Movement, will address the students of Clemson next Sunday evening. Mr. Hounchell has been visiting among the colleges of the South this fall, and everywhere he has been, he has had an enthusiastic reception by the Southern students. Though at present on furlough from his work in the foreign field he was at one time a student of Vanderbilt University; and this fact gives added interest to his work in Southern colleges. The representatives of our Y. M. C. A., who heard Mr. Hounchell at the Newberry Institute, speak in highest terms of his forceful message and of his individual manner of presenting it. It is hoped that every man in college will come out to hear him on Sunday evening, and that many will take advantage of the opportunity that will be given for personal talks with him.

Life is short—only four letters in it. Three quarters of it is a lie and half of it is an if.
OUR FOOTBALL TEAM. (Continued from Page 3) doped as a 1911 varsity man. The dope was true and James has made one of the hardest, most determined players on this year's varsity. When given the ball, he always carried it for long gains.
His being only a Sophomore make the prospect for a star on some of Clemson's future teams bright.

MARTIN, SUB, BACK.

Martin was only seen on the football field for a little while. While on the scrubs he crushed through varsity's line so hard in every scrimmage, that coach soon got a blue sweater for him. Great work is expected of this big boy next year.

PARIS, SUB, TACKLE.

Faris is a hard working tackle who has developed immensely in the last few games. He is in the Junior class and promises much for next year. He is 20 years old and weighs 160.

CAUGHMAN, SUB, HALF-BACK.

Caughman is a Freshman who is playing his first year on varsity. He is an 18 year old lad weighing 140 pounds. He plays a half-back, and is a swift, hard tackler. With three more years before him, he should gain weight and develop into a star player.

CARSON, SUB, CENTER.

"Jule" fought some with the 1910 Tiger aggregation. This year he has had hard luck, and has not got to play much, but he has always been on hand with the true Tiger spirit. Carson is one of the hardest workers on the team. He is only a Sophomore and has yet two more years to show the star football material that he has in him.

MELLETT, SUB, TACKLE.

Mellett has been on the sub team for the past few years.
This year he has had his first chance to show what he can do in a varsity game. He has played a short time in nearly every game
He has the fighting spirit characteristic of a Tiger and will in all probability be one of the star players next season.

BELL, SUB, GUARD.

Bell is another of the men from the championship class team of 1911. He played guard on that team; he has not been allowed to play in all the games nor to make all the trips. But when he was given a trial he shows that fighting spirit and grit which characterizes all men who came from the champion Junior team of last season. Bell, too, is a Senior.

ON THE CAMPUS.

Improvements are still going on about the college and on the campus. The porch to barracks number 2 is now almost completed. The grass plots in front of the main building and the barracks have been plowed down, leveled off, and sown with lawn grass. The grove in front of the president's mansion has been plowed up and sown with grass, and a new road has been graded and built through by the president's mansion.
The flag pole will soon be erected, and a new flag will be unfurled to the breezes. This will be a great addition to the campus. For several years now, the flag pole has been down; and no flag of our nation has waved over our campus. The flag of the Palmetto State has been hoisted over the textile building, but the United States flag has been lacking.
The Clemson College chaper of the U. D. C. are now raising money to erect a monument on the campus in memory of the Confedercacy. This monument will be in the form of a sanitary drinking fountain, and will cost between fifteen and eighteen hundred dollars. This money is being partly raised by means of concerts, one of which was given in the chapel about a week ago.
The next lyceum course will appear on Saturday December

On these cold days, with no football to attract the boys, the lure of the barracks is much greater than that of the campus. Class football (when it starts after Christmas) will tend to draw them back to the campus between 5 and 6 o'clock.

Not always does our committee on religious meetings have to go far in order to secure a speaker for our regular weekly service. Even upon our campus we find able and willing men who take pleasure in saying a word to the boys.

On Sunday night, Mr. J. E. England, one time pastor of a Christian church in Richmond, and now of Clemson, lectured on "The Making of a Man." Much emphasis did he lay on those essentials that make up a man and those who heard his address were much impressed.

Bible study for every man; every man for Bible study.

We often appreciate a thing much more if we know something of its history, however scant that history may be. The Young Men's Christian Association of Clemson certainly has a history behind it. Previous to the year 1900 there had been many attempts, and as many failures, to organize an association at the college. Such an organization was frowned upon at that time by the students of the college. However, under the efficient leadership of Mr. E. B. Boykin, class '02, a very strong but unpopular man, the association in 1900 began a start. Mr. Boykin was followed by Mr. T. B. Young, a very consecrated man, and these two men with a small delegation to Asheville in 1902 gave the association its real start in the work of helping the men at Clemson. Mr. Arthur Speer, now secretary of the mill Y. M. C. A. at Hartsville, succeeded Mr. Young in February, 1903, and to him much credit is due for his efficient service while serving as president.

Mr. Speer, in speaking of the founding of the Clemson association, said: "I really believe that the association was born at the Southern Students' Conference and grew in spite of some rough and stormy incidents in its history—inspired by ... vision of the men sent as delegates to the "Land of the Sky."

That in brief is our history.

Ask Mellette how to call the elevator boy.

John may be a bad student, but at least he is consistent."

"In what way?"

"I caught him swearing over his profane history."

Senior Jennings (in botany class)—"Professor, how can you tell the edible mushrooms from the poisonous varieties?"

Prof. Hall—"Eat them, and if they kill you they are poisonous, and if they do not, they are edible."

Double the Fertility of Your Farm
BY BREAKING UP THE RICH SUBSOIL WITH
DYNAMITE

Ordinary plowing turns over the same shallow top-soil year after year, forming a hard and nearly impervious "plow sole" that limits the waterholding capacity of the land and shuts out tons per acre of natural plant food.

Dynamiting the subsoil makes this plant food available, aerates the soil, protects the vegetation against both drouth and excessive rainfall, and soon repays its cost in saving of fertilizer expense and largely increased yields.

To learn how progressive farmers are using dynamite for removing stumps and boulders, planting and cultivating fruit trees, regenerating barren soil, ditching, draining, excavating, and road-making. Write now for Free Booklet—"Farming with Dynamite," No. 294.
