Soph.-Fresh. Game

Last Saturday afternoon, the first football game of the season to decide the class championship for 1911-12 was played between the Sophomores and Freshmen. There was too much Sophs for the Freshies, as is shown by the final score which was—Sophs 11, Freshmen 2. It was a hard fought game from beginning to end, but the Sophomores showed more experience and head work than the Freshmen.

The Freshmen had several opportunities to score but failed to take advantage of them—twice losing the ball on the Sophs four-yard line on third down.

The Sophomores made two touchdowns, failing to kick goal once. Brown made the first touchdown after the game had been in progress about five minutes, by recovering the ball on an outside

“C’s” Awarded

On Saturday evening, in the college chapel, a public meeting was called and the “C’s” in football for the season of 1911 were awarded. Nine men received “C’s.” President Riggs in a pleasing speech stated the purpose of the meeting, and what it meant to be able to wear the college letter. Then Coach Dobson made a strong, plain, straight-from-the-shoulder speech to the cadets in the chapel. He censured all for the lack of the proper college spirit. Coach said that the man who stood on the side line and yelled “Kill him,” “Knock ’em out,” “Hit him in the snoot,” and such stuff, showed no college spirit, and the players who tried to do these things showed no college spirit; but the man on the side line who yelled with all his might to encourage the men for a fair fight, and the player who fought the hard, fair fight were the men who showed college spirit.
After Coach Dobson's speech, Dr. Riggs awarded "C's" to the following men: Hayden, C. J., center; Gandy, tackle; Webb, full back; Schillctter, guard; Perry, T., guard; Perry, W. G., end; Gray, end; Lewis, end; and James, halfback.

The following men who already wear the "C's" were on the stage: Bissell, Britt, Ezell, J. F., Bates, Coles, Kangeter, Rivers, Ezell, R. B., and Thomas. The public awarding of the "C's" will become a feature each year. Dr. Riggs said that he hoped to be able to award the baseball "C's" during some public occasion at commencement time.

ON THE CAMPUS.

The following appointments as officers in the corps of cadets have recently been made: Lieutenant Adjutant, J. W. Blackwell; Sergeants, J. F. Pearson, Co. I; J. D. Hall, Co. H; and G. M. Anderson, Co. M. Corporal, J. F. Harrison, Co. M.

Tom Redfern has quit the barracks life, and has become a day cadet. He resigned his position as Lieutenant Adjutant, and now belongs to the reckless crew of Senior privates.

Target practice has now begun again. This feature of the military life was inaugurated here last year during the winter months, and has now been started again this year. Four targets have been placed in the rear of Barracks No. 2, and the open space there is used as the firing ground. Only one battalion at a time has this practice. The practice is held during the regular drill period of the week, and, as there are three of these periods during the week, each battalion gets the practice once a week. The firing is now being done from a standing position, but practice will later be given in a kneeling position and then in the position of lying flat on the ground. The regulation rifle is used. Long range firing will be given to the members of the Senior class later in the year.

A nice big red rooster met his fate on Sunday afternoon near the dairy barn. The rooster seems to have formed a too intimate relation with some of the cadets for it to be well with him. Anyway, he had his head taken off. The details of the tragedy are not known, but it is thought that the proud rooster offended the cadets very greatly in some way, and perhaps caused his own death by causing them to act in self defense. No other motives for the deed can be assigned; for, as soon as the rooster had been deprived of his head, the cadets threw the body to the ground, and left the place as fast as possible.

DON'T.

Don't with pride become elated,
Don't with pride become inflated,
When a pretty girl has stated
That your dancing is divine.
Keep your reason firmly seated,
Let her words be calmly greeted,
What she says will be repeated
To the next young man in line.

Do not rate yourself too highly,
When a pretty maiden shyly
Leta you squeeze her fingers sily
Where the young moon's light is dim.
When you're back in town and fretting,
Some new fellow will be letting
Her beguile him while she's getting
Those same fingers squeezed by him.

PRELIMINARY DECLAIMER’S CONTEST OF THE PALMETTO SOCIETY.

The preliminary contest of the Palmetto Literary Society was held recently for the purpose of choosing two declaimers for the annual celebration of this society, which will be held on the evening of February 22nd. The contestants were:

H. C. Jennings, subject: “The Southern Negro.”
“A. C. Turbeville, subject: “The Vindication of South Carolina.”

All of the declamations were good. Messrs. Faris and Turbeville won out in the contest, and will be the declaimers in the annual celebration. Prof. D. W. Daniel, Prof. T. G. Poats, and Rev. T. V. McCaul were the judges for this preliminary contest.

The men selected for the celebration are: Declaimers, C. B. Faris and A. C. Turbeville; orators, J. M. Workman and T. C. Haddon; deputers, J. N. Stribling and E. E. Hall. H. C. Jennings has been chosen as the presiding officer for this meeting.

MEETING OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Immediately after the awarding of the “C’s,” on Saturday evening, the Athletic Association held its annual January meeting to elect officers for the year. Dr. W. M. Riggs, the president of the association since it was founded sixteen years ago, was unanimously re-elected to that position. Prof. J. W. Gantt was re-elected secretary and treasurer, and Mr. R. A. Alexander, president of the Junior class, was elected as vice president and the cadet officer of the association.

After the election of officers for the association, candidates were nominated for the positions of manager and assistant manager of the football team next season. These men are nominated by a vote of the members of the athletic association, and are to be elected by the athletic council. Messrs. M. S. Lawton, W. G. McLeod and E. T. Prevost were nominated for the position of manager, and Messrs. J. B. Douthit, J. N. McBride and J. W. Erwin were nominated for assistant managers. The athletic council will elect one of the first three as manager for 1912, and two of the nominees for assistant manager to that position.

President Riggs announced that the athletic council had elected the managers and assistant managers for the baseball and track teams for this year. The men as elected are: Manager baseball team, H. S. Kentnerly; assistant managers, R. A. Alexander and J. O. Erwin. Manager track team, J. H. Kangeter; assistant managers, E. T. Provost, and A. P. Lewis.

Senior—If you had a million dollars what would you do for Clemson College?

Rat—I’d leave it.

What if I wear my summer suit
And still cling to my V. B. D’s—
I have an overcoat that keeps
Me safe from sneeze and breeze and freeze.

Credet—Doc. I am feeling miserable. I can’t get my mind on my studies, my appetite is gone, and I can’t sleep. What would you advise me to do?

EDITORIAL.

The sentiment of the corps to the ungentlemanly few who disturb our public entertainments has got to be shown in some forcible way. These acts of the rowdies have got to be stopped, or our public entertainments will be stopped. We cannot afford to lose the pleasure and benefits of the lyceum course and of other public meetings, but we shall lose these things if we do not frown down all misbehavior. The time has come when each of us has got to be gentlemen at all times. The time has come when the ungentlemanly few must be made to act as gentlemen. It is your place to play the part of the gentleman and see that the other Clemson men do the same. It means a sad loss of pleasure and profit to you not to do this.

"Fellows, you don’t know what college spirit is." These words from Coach Dobson are all true. We do not realize what college spirit is, and, more than that, we are not trying very hard to know what it is. We all came to college expecting to learn something, and all of us have learned a few things; yet many of us are entirely ignorant of the meaning of college spirit, the thing which makes us do things for our college, because we love it. You are learning something about science; let’s also learn something about college spirit. There is no need of our being in ignorance about this any longer; but we should learn something about it, and develop a college spirit that will make everything go here at Clemson.

Often we are all hearing something of college spirit. It is one thing that we cannot get too much of, if it is the true college spirit. We all know that here at Clemson no one is at present afflicted with an excess of it. All of us know that our college has suffered a loss of the proper spirit among her men for some cause. The question is being asked, “Why this loss, or present lack, of college spirit?” This we all would like to know. The faculty would like to have an answer to this question, for they, too, have noted this and have been trying to find the reason for it. Do you know why Clemson men have let the old Clemson spirit drift away and become a lacking quantity? If you do, tell us; for we wish to do everything possible to restore her former spirit, and, more than this, to make her have the strongest college spirit of any school in the South. The Tiger will be glad to publish anything that can be given us that will tend to remove the hindrances that we now have, and will build up a true college spirit. Fellow students, think about this, and let’s have a change. Give us your ideas and let us publish them in The Tiger. Space devoted to a good article on college spirit will be space well taken up.

Though our athletic teams might all be improved and made stronger, they have done well in the past. The place that the Tigers hold in athletics is not an insignificant one, but is one that every Clemson man can well be proud of. As the greatest school in the State, our athletic teams are expected to hold the greatest place in college athletics in the State; and they do. The football championship of the State was won by the Tigers, the baseball championship of the State is Clemson’s, the Clemson’s track team is the State champions in track work, and Clemson’s man won the championship in tennis. Yes; State champions in every line of our athletics—football, baseball, track and tennis. But these four championships are not all. The Clemson track team are the S. I. A. A. champions, and the A. A. U. champions. This is no bad record. At the head in the State in everything, and at the head of the South in track work, is a record that our teams now hold. Six championships held by Clemson’s athletic teams. Of course we want to keep this record. We should keep it. Being the largest school in the State and the best in the South, these honors ought naturally to come to us. But we have got to work to hold them. In a few weeks now, the baseball team and the track team that are to win these championships again will be selected. The best men in the cadets and on these teams. If you have skill and ability to help these teams out, it is your duty to do it. Coach Dobson will give every man a fair tryout; so, if you think that you can help out one of these teams, it is your duty to do it.

The idea seems to be prevalent among some of the members of the faculty, that The Tiger is the exclusive paper of the cadets, and that any suggestions or helps from the members of the faculty would not be appreciated. The Tiger is the paper of the cadets, and also of the college. While it is published by the cadets, its purpose is to deal with every phase of the college. To make the paper its best, we need some things from the faculty. There are many members of the faculty who are interested in some work that it would interest the cadets to know about. There are things that come up in the various departments of the college that would interest us all; yet the cadets have no way of getting these, and President Riggs cannot give everything in his short article each week. We want suggestions and help from the faculty. We are glad to publish any notice or article of interest that the faculty members may give us. We need a greater cooperation between the cadets and the faculty, anyway. The Tiger would like to bring this about. It should be broadened out, and made a college publication rather than a student publication. To do this, the faculty must help it. Remember we are glad to publish anything you have of interest.
A QUESTION OF MANNERS.

It is no reflection on the student body to say that out of a total of 750 boys, there will be a very small per cent. of rowdies. The same would be true of ANY equally large body of men. It will be, however, a serious reflection if in the end this small per cent. representing only their own lawless instincts, is allowed to disgrace the college and bring undeserved approbrium upon that large majority which approves, and practices, proper standards of gentility.

The best minds of the world long sought to give an adequate definition of the term “gentleman”—not the sort of gentleman who knows little beyond how to take off his hat in salutation, but that sort of a gentleman whose actions are at all times tempered or incited by consideration for the rights and feelings of others. “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you” as a motto for a gentleman’s conduct has not yet been improved upon.

What would your feelings be if you were a singer, and at the most critical point in your performance some one by his unseemly conduct should distract the attention of the audience and center it upon himself? How would you feel if you were a public speaker, and had the decent hand-clapping of an appreciative audience marred by boos and “cat calls” and coarse laughter? How would you feel if you were a minister of the gospel, presenting a divine message, and were annoyed by unnecessary and concerted coughing and shuffling of feet, all the more unworthy because impossible of detection and punishment? Would such conduct partake of that consideration which the Golden Rule demands? I know what answer ninety-five per cent. of our students would give.

But this gentlemanly majority have too long endured the kind of conduct that a few who ought to be frowned into silence, or expelled from otherwise well-behaved audiences, are inclined to indulge themselves in.

That a proper sentiment CAN control the conduct of these few is shown by the perfect behavior of the audiences that attend the literary society celebrations. It is well known by those who would act otherwise that the student body as a whole will not tolerate towards one of their own number such conduct as is too often extended to visitors.

The test of a gentleman is his ability to do the right thing when tempted to do otherwise. It is no credit merely to imitate the politeness of others. It is no test to listen to an entertaining performance or a short and interesting sermon. The test of a gentleman is of such quality that it must be endured rather than endured.

The entertainments in the Chapel are for your pleasure and improvement. When the right thinking majority of the student body allow a few to make these entertainments a source of anxiety to those in charge, a dread to the performers, and a menace to the reputation of the college, they will be summarily discontinued. A decent and wholesome respect for the opinions of the majority must be depended upon to get proper conduct on the part of the few, and it is the duty of that right thinking majority to put a stop to practices which are too often inspired by down-right meanness as well as thoughtlessness and ignorance.

I trust that the corps of cadets will recognize in every form of improper conduct at public gatherings, an attack upon the good name of the college and the honor of the student body, and will treat the offenders accordingly. The Discipline Committee will lend a helping hand if individual responsibility can be located.

W. M. RIGGS.

THE SON OF SWAT.

They were seated in the parlor,
And the light was bursting dim,
He a diamond hero;
She a fan quite fair and trim;
And he knew not as he opened
Up the game by burning love,
That her father was the umpire
On the stairway just above

"I ll'ye your form," he led off first,
"With me you've made a hit.
You've got the speed, you've got the curve.
And you are looking fit.
Now, if with you my turtle dove,
I make a hit likewise,
Won't you improve your single state
And make a sacrifice?"

"I never play too far off base,"
He whispered in her ear
"My salary whip has got the stuff,
To put it over dear—
And when you give the signal for a steal
I'll no longer roam.
And when I slide into the plate,
Please call me safe at home."

The maiden to this softly replied,
"Show me your batting average
In Mr. Bradstreet's guide.
It takes a lot of speed these days
With cunning and intrigue
To win a battle now and then
Within the grocer's league."

Here he started warming up at once,
And with a happy sigh
He whipped a fast one round her neck
The other was waist high.
But here the umpire butted in,
Said she, "Oh, father, please don't call him out
He's showing me how they work the squeeze."

The old man gave an irate snort
And said, "I'll help the fun
By showing him another play
That's called the hit and run."
He swung like Wagner at his best
A soul inspiring clout.
The son of SWAT slid down the steps,
The umpire yelled, "You're out."

kick and then running about twenty-five yards for touchdown. In the second quarter, Pressley made a beautiful run around right end for thirty yards making the second and last touchdown. It was in this same quarter that the Freshmen scored their only two points. After the Sophomores had held the Freshmen on their one-yard line for downs, Brown attempted to punt out of danger, but it was a bad pass and MaGill threw him behind goal line making a safety.

The last two quarters were nearly evenly fought, neither side being able to score, but both goals were constantly endangered. There were several men on each side that look good for next year's varsity eleven. The Sophomores that look especially good are: Pressley, Gilmore, Brown, Bethune, and Thomas. Those that showed up for the Freshmen were: Logan, Gee, Cathcart, and Elmore.

The line-up was as follows:

ELOPEMENT UP-TO-DATE.
The coatless man puts a careless arm Around the waist of a hatless girl, While over the dustless, muddless road In a horseless carriage they whirl, Like a leadless bullet from a hammerless gun, By smokeless powder driven, They fly to taste the speechless joys By endless union given.

The only luncheon his coinless purse Affords to them the means Is a tasteless meal of boneless cod With a dish of stringless beans. He smokes his old tobaccoless pipe And laughs a mirthless laugh, When papa tries to coax them back By wireless telegraph.

He (wondering if his rival has been accepted)—"Are both of your rings heirlooms?"

She (concealing the hand)—"Oh, dear. It has been in the family since the time of Alfred; but the other is newer; (blushing) it only dates from the conquest."

Father—Yes, I admit that your lover has a good income; but he has very expensive tastes, very.

Daughter—You amaze me. What does he ever want that is so very expensive?

Father—Well, you, for one thing.
Manager Kennerly, of the baseball team, has announced the following schedule of games for the season of 1912. This schedule is not as yet entirely authentic, and is subject to some change, but it is likely to stand very much as given here. As can be seen from the schedule, there are nineteen games to be played this year. Ten of the games will be played with colleges in the State, and nine with colleges of other states. Eleven games will be played on the campus, and eight games will be played away from home. This schedule is a good one, and Manager Kennerly deserves much praise for the efforts he has put forth in getting such a good schedule of games. The eleven games on the campus will give the cadets a good chance to see their team work to win again the honors in baseball. The schedule as now announced is as follows:

March 27-28, Mercer in Macon.
March 29-30, University of Georgia in Athens.
April 5-6, Erskine on campus.
April 10, Citadel on campus.
April 12-13, Tech in Atlanta.
April 16-17, Newberry on campus.
April 19-20, Furman on campus.
April 24-25, Wofford in Spartanburg.
May 1, College of Charleston on campus.
May 6-7-8, Auburn on campus.

MAXIMS.

Hearts were made to break,
riands were made to squeeze,
Eyes were made to laugh and dance,
And make men do as you please.

Ears were made to burn,
Feet were made to show,
Girls were made to flirt with men,
But men with girls—O, no!

Eyelids were made to droop,
And cheeks were made to blush,
Hair was made to frizz and curl,
And lips were made—O, hush!

—I promised my girl a dollar to put into her pocketbook every time I kissed her. Later, when she opened her pocketbook, there were a lot of five and ten dollar bills in it. I asked her where she got them.

"Everybody is not as stingy as you," she replied.—Ex.

Mistress—How is it that I saw a policeman hugging you in the kitchen last night?

Maid—I dunno, Mum, unless you was peekin' through the keyhole.

PEN POINTERS

The Wirt is the oldest Fountain Pen manufactured in the world.
The Wirt offer the fullest possible line or variety of kinds and styles—nearly one hundred varieties.
The gold pens are of the very best that can be made to suit any hand.
The cases or reservoir holders are of the purest and most highly finished hard rubber—strong and beautifully made.
The mountings, where used, are of the best, and in designs from the hands of the most skillful artists.
The pen is durable; it is practical. It will work one time as well as another and work always.
It is made in its entirety from the rough material to the finished article at the factory of Paul E. Wirt, at Bloomburg, Pa., the only establishment in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of fountain pens. It is our exclusive specialty.
The demand of the hour requires the very best. This pen is offered as such, direct from the manufacturer.

SAFETY

ONLY those who have used a good non-leaking fountain pen can appreciate its advantages. Each year has emphasized the necessity of a fountain pen that the business man, ladies and the traveling public may carry in any position, in the hand bag and in the trunk. Made in two lengths, vest pocket, 3½-in., regular, 5½-in., and in four sizes, carrying No. 2, 3, 4 and 5 pens respectively. Our claims of superiority are simplicity, durability, no valves, no springs and no soft rubber. Every part is indestructible as the hard rubber. We have combined with safety and convenience a fountain pen by which the individuality of handwriting is maintained. Simply place the cap over the gold pen end, screw properly to place and you have sealed the ink in the barrel UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED. This means your money back when not satisfied.
