Company “A” to go to Columbia

Clemson is to be represented at the unveiling of the monument to The Women of the Confederacy, which is to take place in Columbia on April 11th. President Riggs has authorized that one company be sent to Columbia to represent the corps, and Captain Stokes has issued an order conferring this honor on Company “A”; and the men in this company will have the honor and pleasure of representing the college at these exercises in the capital city in April.

The Chicora Glee Club

The Chicora Glee Club is composed of eighteen pretty Chicora College girls. This entertainment was a rare treat to an audience such as one at Clemson always is, composed mostly of boys, and was enjoyed to the fullest extent by all present. The audience gave very appreciative attention to the many good numbers sung by this company of girls, and the immensity of the applause spoke only for a part of this appreciation. The Glee Club was accompanied to the college by Dr. Byrd, President of the College, and Mrs. Bellemann, Director of the Vocal department. The young ladies who compose this Glee Club which so delightfully entertained their audience are: Misses Miller, Edmunds, Thompson, Morrison, Langford, Owens, McQueen, Engles, Simpson, James, Missrah, Ashe, Johnson, Taber, Parsons, Purcell, and Higginbotham.

These girls came to the college on the noon train Friday, and spent Friday afternoon in a short rehearsal and in seeing the Clemson-Erskine game. Saturday morning was spent in seeing the college until Saturday afternoon, and they will see the second Clemson-Erskine game at 1:30. Coming from a great girls’ college and bringing much of its life and vivacity with them, these girls have been the charm of our campus for the short time that they have spent with us. All of us hope that they have enjoyed themselves enough so that when they want to take another glee club trip next year, they will first consider Clemson.

After the entertainment, a reception was given the members of this club by the members of the Greater-Clemson Association. The accounts of the entertainment and of the reception given below show why we all had such a grand time. The coming to Clemson was a philanthropic act on the part of the members of this club, as the entertainment was given free of charge to all the members of the corps of cadets.

The Exercises

Beginning promptly at 8:30, Prof. Daniel made a few opening remarks, relating to the high ambitions of the association in whose name the Chicora Glee Club was invited.

We cannot speak too highly of the splendid program. The fact that the young ladies had not been accustomed to sing in so large an auditorium was in no way apparent. Every song was rendered with remarkable distinction, as well as with unusual sweetness and mellowness. Although most of the pieces were distinctly classic, yet the audience was delighted occasionally by the rendering of dialect, and other humorous songs. It is not fair perhaps to make special mention of any particular quartette or duet, but certainly some deserve special mention and applause.

“The Lost Lamb” by the Glee Club, was a joke on us sure I The exercises were by far more beautiful than any we have had during this college year. Mrs. Bellamann, Director of Voice at Chicora, deserves special praise for the smoothness with which every feature of the program was rendered.

The program was as follows:

1. The Toast.
2. When Jack Proposed.
3. The Chicora Girl.—(Glee Club)

The Reception
Immediately following the entertainment by the Chicora Glee Club in the Memorial Hall, the club and the members of the association retired to the college parlors where a reception was given by the Association in honor of the Glee Club, the Erskine baseball team, and the Clemson baseball team. Introductions were then in order, which required no small part and made up one of the most pleasant features of the evening.

A delightful course of cream and cake was then served by the ladies of the campus.

Those present at the reception were: the Chicora Glee Club, the Erskine Baseball Team, the Clemson Baseball Team, and the members of the Greater-Clemson Association; making a total of about one hundred.

That the evening was a most enjoyable one, there can be no doubt. Every one pronounced it exceedingly good, and voted that if this were a fair sample, the association is indeed for a greater and better Clemson.

FRESHMEN WIN FROM ANDERSON HIGH SCHOOL
The Freshmen team played the Anderson high school team here Saturday. This was the first game of the season on the campus, and, while rather slow at times, it was marked by numerous features. The finish was highly exciting—Clemson coming from behind and tying the score with three runs in the ninth and winning out in the eleventh on a three-base hit by Tarrant and a timely single by Justus. The final score was 10-9 in favor of the Freshmen.

The heavy hitting of the Anderson bunch featured the game. Beasly pitched well for the visitors. For Clemson, Justus led with the stick, getting a home run, with one on, and a single. Hutto fielded nicely at second having a number of chances—two of those took nasty hops.

The men who spend four years in college, and who, during those years, work and make good in their classes, show that they have something in them that will help to make them men. They are not weaklings. They have stood the test, and they stand as a good example of the "survival of the fittest" among those men who enter college. Four years of work, of obedience to rules, of responsibility, and of loyalty to a class and to a college to give to men experiences which can be gained in no other way except through the medium of the college. The hard facts of life give men experiences and teach them the importance of standing up to responsibilities, but experiences gained through a college course are different. College life, with the responsibilities that it throws upon a man throughout his course, helps him to stand up under life's responsibilities in a finer, better way. The man who has had responsibilities and trusts in college life, and who has been faithful to his trusts, can be expected to do something when his college days are over. He has an advantage over the man who without any test as to his faithfulness, must step out into life and take up the smallest work of trust, and make good at it first.

There are many years of work before him which he must faithfully do before he can reach the plane of the man who has accepted and made good with responsibilities during college life. The opportunities that are to come to a college man entering life are greater than those which come to the masses. He has stood one test, and the indications are that he will stand others as they come to him.

Every man in college should make up his mind to see the Coburn players present "The Merchant of Venice," when they come to him. Those of us who were here last year, remember this company and their pleasing presentation of "As You Like It." The fact that the plays are presented under an open canopy of the heavens, with the natural grass as a stage and the trees and shrubs as a background to them, lends an added charm and attraction to all of these plays. Each man in college with any appreciation of the literary value of the Shakespearean plays and with a love for the beautiful and pleasing, should determine now to see the play that these Coburn Players are to present on our campus. This play is one of the greatest things that we shall get a chance to see this year, and should be appreciated by us as such.

TO CLEMSON

The parting hour draws near apace,
Our goal at last we sight
Once there our paths divide and we
Must struggle alone in the strife.
But never may the flying years
The bonds of friendship sever,
And may we strive to raise on high
The purple and gold forever.

THE RECENT TRUSTEE MEETING

The Board of Trustees is to a College what a Board of Directors is to a bank or a Cotton Mill. It determines the general policy of the Institution, directs the expenditure of its money, and makes its laws, leaving their enforcement to the President of the College.

The Clemson Board of Trustees has two regular meetings a year, one early in March and the other about the middle of July. At the March meeting the President makes his annual report on the progress and condition of the College, proposes new lines of policy, and makes recommendations regarding any and all phases of the College work. At the July meeting, the principal business is the making of the Budget for the ensuing year; that is, dividing up the prospective income between the various Departments and Divisions of the College.

This year, the March meeting was held on the 12th and 13th inst. I presume that the students have an interest in what was done, and hence I am furnishing the following information as to the Board's action.

1. The following Associate Professors were made full Professors: A. F. Conrad, Prof. of Entomology and Bacteriology; Archibald Smith, Prof. of Animal Husbandry and Dairying; M. R. Powers, Professor of Veterinary Science; T. G. Poats, Professor of Physics; and R. E. Lee, Professor of Drawing. (The law incorporating Clemson College limited the number of full Professors to ten. At the last session of the General Assembly, this restriction was removed.)

2. Mr. H. A. Sloan was given the title of "Quartermaster of Cadets" with rank of Captain.

3. Prof. W. C. Wagner, now Acting Director of the Electrical Engineering Department of the University of Washington, was elected Assistant Professor of Electrical & Mechanical Engineering, to take effect September 1, 1912.

4. The organization of the "General Faculty" was changed to include all Associate and Assistant Professors, thereby increasing its size from twelve to forty-six. This faculty will consider only questions connected with instructional work of the College, and the progress of students in their classes.

5. The Discipline Committee, which is unchanged, will constitute the "Senior Faculty," and may deal with any question of interest to the College. This faculty has the right to review the action of the General Faculty.

6. A new course entitled "Architectural Engineering" will be introduced next session, and also an intensive course of "Chemistry," to take the place of the present course of "Chemistry and Geology." This course will not altogether omit the Geology, but will put more time on Chemistry.

7. The new "Regulations" prepared by the Commandant and the Discipline Committee was adopted and will go into effect as soon as published. These Regulations will be briefer and simpler and give more latitude to the Discipline Committee in awarding punishment for serious offenses.

8. The anti-hazing pledge which has heretofore been required as a condition to matriculation, by the Board, was upon the request of the President, abolished after this session. This does not indicate a change in the attitude of the Board or the administration in regard to hazing, but is a simple recognition that the pledge as a method of preventing hazing is a failure, because perhaps signed under compulsion. It is hoped that more effective means can be found to prevent all brutal or indecent hazing.

9. The selection of a Commandant to succeed Capt. Stokes, whose detail expires with this session, was left to the President of the College and the President of the Board. The Board passed a resolution expressing appreciation of the work of Capt. Stokes during the past three years of his detail here.

10. The table board was increased $1.50 per month to take effect with the beginning of next session. An investigation of eighteen southern colleges showed that for board, laundry, rooms, heat, light and water, the average charge was over $13.50 per month. Our charge for the same items is $8.50. The increase will make possible a great improvement both in fare and service. (For the remainder of the session, I hope to be able to add the $1.50 per month from available funds now to the credit of the mess-hall.)

11. A very important action was the re-combining of the Agricultural Department and the South Carolina Experiment Station, and the election of Prof. J. N. Harper, Director of the Station, as Director of the combined interests. The combination brings together the experimental work, the teaching and the public state work in a harmonious, efficient and economical relation, and to the benefit of every officer and every interest involved. The College will always be judged largely by the success of its Agricultural Department, and the step just taken is the first essential to efficient and symmetrical development of this great interest.

W. M. RIGGS, President.

“A VOW TO VIOLET EYES”

The moon comes up a silver light
And glistens in the sky,
While far and near the crickets’ cheer
Sounds in a lusty cry.
The air is still, and not a thrill,
Responsive as before,
Can e’er awake the silent stake
That binds affection o’er.

A fickle love that left me by
In starry solitude,
Ah, now has come amidst the hum
Of wearied voices rude,
To mock at me and memory—
The scene of no return—
A lonely star, as seen afar,
And then to deeply yearn.

O, fair Enchantment of the woods!
Release thy charming spell,
And let me walk, and listen they talk,
As once e’er fate befell;
And then will I, in triumph try
To gladden as before,
And in no wise let violet eyes
Deceive me any more.

COBURN PLAYERS

On Tuesday night May 7 the well-known Coburn Players will present “The Merchant of Venice.” These players are pleasantly remembered from last year and it is hoped that many will make preparations to see this well known play.
COMPANY "A" TO GO TO COLUMBIA
captain of this company is Cadet J. M. Workman, Cadet A. J. Brown is second lieutenant, and Cadet S. W. Rabb is the first sergeant.

The sergeants are: cadets C. K. Dunlap, W. B. Britt, M. D. Berry, and F. M. Mellette. There will be about sixty men who will go in this company as representatives of the college. These men will leave the college on Wednesday morning, April 10th, and will return to college on Friday evening April 12th. While in Columbia, the company will go into camp, space having been given on the state house grounds on Sumter street for this purpose.

Winthrop college and the colleges in the city of Columbia will be represented by their entire student bodies. It was impossible for the whole Clemson corps to go, and this company will represent the college well.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET

On Saturday night the association held in honor of its members and others a Y. M. C. A. "feed." To Mr. Schilletter who, acting as chef, tastefully prepared the banquet, all praise is due.

After-dinner Speeches on Toast - Hot Air a Plenty

Professor Houston acting the part of toastmaster in a superb manner introduced the following men:

Professor Brackett—The Board and the Banquet.
Dr. Riggs—The Value of Bible Study.
Professor Taylor—How I got the Y. M. C. A. to let me take a Bible Class.
Mr. Mills—Barracks Life at Clemson.
Mr. Sweeney—?

The first meeting of the spring term opened with a crowded hall. This meeting was notable because of the fact Mrs. J. W. Willis volunteered to come up to the new hall and sing two solos. In behalf of the Y. M. C. A. I tender my thanks to this kind lady who broke the ice and introduced this new feature in the "barracks meetings."

Prof. B. J. Wells of the Preparatory Department was the speaker of the occasion. His subject, an interesting one, was on the subject of missions and this he dealt with in a forceful manner. Immediately after the service, a canvass was made of barracks for mission study students. In this department two courses of study are offered (1) China, (2) South America.

Many men have expressed a desire to study and it is believed that this branch of the Y. M. C. A. work will meet with great success.

MONTREAT CONFERENCE

As summer approaches we feel it our duty to speak of the great student conference to be held at Montreat, N. C, immediately after school closes in June. An ideal ten days outing in the heart of the mountains is offered at a minimum price. Clemson should have a delegation of 20 men. If you are interested, think over this and speak to Secretary Sweeney about it. Members of the faculty are welcome as delegates also.
FARM DEMONSTRATION AGENTS MET HERE

On March 26 to 29, we opened the doors of our hospitality to what was perhaps the most representative body of men that has ever visited the college. The county demonstration agents, and the county superintendents of education from every county in the State were here. The meeting was a very unique, as well as perhaps the most important one that has ever been in session at Clemson. It was important in as much as it marked the formal beginning of the huge combination made recently by combining the college extension, and the demonstration work with that of the Knapp demonstration forces, which for the past few years have done so much for the State at large. The meeting was unique in that its purpose was to inaugurate the first combination of this sort in existence.

As director of this combined force, Prof. W. L. English, formerly of the Tennessee Experiment Station has been selected. As director of this combined force, Prof. W. L. English, formerly of the Tennessee Experiment Station has been selected. Prof. English was present throughout the week and from the energetic way in which he conducted the meeting, we judge that the Board of Trustees have acted wisely in selecting him. What such a combination means to our college was fittingly expressed by Mr. Knapp when he said that the campus of Clemson College was no longer confined to her several hundred acres here, but that it was extended to every nook and corner of the State. The meeting was unique in that its purpose was to inaugurate the first combination of this sort in existence.

The Fire
On Friday afternoon, while the Clemson-Erskine game was in progress, the stables of Mr. Clinkscales just below the store caught fire and were burned. The origin of the fire is not known. It was first seen by one of the stable boys, who immediately notified Mr. Clinkscales, who was on the ball field. The corps of cadets with the fire hose quickly made their way to the scene of the fire, but the buildings were so dry and the fire had gained so much headway that it was impossible to extinguish it. The hose was brought into action though, and streams of water played on the nearby buildings to prevent their burning. The stables were completely destroyed, but almost everything in them was saved. The horses, buggies, and most of the feed was gotten out. It looked once as if the other nearby buildings would burn; so, as to prevent as much loss as possible, all of the stock of the drug store was carried to a place of safety. The quick action of the men near and of the corps of cadets in responding to the fire call saved the college buildings, and the drug store still stands. In recognition of the work of the corps in fighting this fire, Capt. Stokes has remitted all confinements and extras for today.
Tigers Play Hard but are Defeated

The baseball team played the University of Georgia in Athens on Friday and Saturday, for the first two days of the season. The Tigers played a good game, but the Georgia aggregation was too strong for them. The team returned to College Sunday.

For a short account of the game, take these clippings from The State:

Friday's Game

In a good game, the first of the college season for Georgia, the Red and Black defeated the Clemson Tigers by a score of 8 to 0. Ezell and Yeargin composed the battery for Clemson, Wilder, a new man, pitched for Georgia. Hiers at second and Schroder in the field did good work for the visitors. The Tigers were disconcerted in the first inning when two home runs were scored by Georgia.

Saturday's Game

In the second game of baseball between the University of Georgia and Clemson college, the Red and Black floated triumphantly again, the score being 5 to 1, for the local team.

Clemson's one run was made by Rivers, who got a three-base hit and took advantage of the errors of the fielders of Georgia. The game was lacking in special features except the pitching of Carl Thompson, the star of last year at Georgia. Homer Thompson caught for his brother. The battery for Clemson was Martin and Yeargin. Thompson struck out ten and Martin three. Riley the midget short stop for Georgia d'd some work today as sensation as that of yesterday.

Tigers Play Hard

The first baseball game of the season, on the campus, was pulled off late Wednesday afternoon between Clemson and Charleston College. Clemson took the lead in the early part of the game, and gradually increased it as the game progressed. The Charleston boys reached third only once during the game and on this occasion there were two outs. Ezell for Clemson pitched a splendid game, striking out twelve batters and allowing only three hits. Only thirty-two batters faced Ezell during the nine innings. In five innings there were only three men up in each. The team as a whole played a good game. The shining stars for Clemson: Ezell, Rivers, Curoten, Martin, and Yeargin; for Charleston College: Gaffney, Levi and Pregnall.

"Oh, George dear," she whispered when he slipped the engagement ring on her tapering finger, "how sweet of you to remember just the sort of a stone I preferred. None of the others were ever so thoughtful."

George was staggered but for a moment. Then he came back with, "Not at all, dear. You overrate me. This is the one I have always used."

Then she was inconsistent enough to cry about it.

CALHOUN SOCIETY CELEBRATION APRIL 5th

On Friday night, April the 5th, the annual celebration of the Calhoun Literary Society will be held in the Chapel. The men that have been picked to represent the society in this celebration, we think, are among the best that we have in the society. The Calhoun Society's celebration always comes after the other two, therefore we should have the best celebration, which we always strive to do. The speakers, especially the orators and the debaters, have been somewhat handicapped in preparing their speeches on account of examinations, but we still hope to have the best celebration in the history of the Calhoun Society.

There seems to be a lack of interest shown in these celebrations on the part of the cadets at large. Fellows, if you knew how it discourages a speaker to try to speak to an empty house, you would come out, and try to appear interested in these speeches, whether you are or not. So come out, everybody that can, and show these fellows that you appreciate their work in getting up these speeches.

The program is as follows:

Presiding officer, F. L. Ross.

DECLAIMERS

J. B. Douthet—Subject: "The Convict's Soliloquy."
E. P. Josey—Subject: "The Stricken South."

ORATORS

J. T. Lazar—Subject: "South Carolina and Her Resources."
D. B. Hill—Subject: "The Needs of a Nation."

DEBATE

Query: Resolved, That All Corporations carrying on Interstate Commerce should be required to take out a Federal Charter—Affirmative, G. J. Hearsey; Negative, H. A. Freeman.

Baldhead Johnson (seeing two flags on the flagpole)—"Oh yes, Dr. Calhoun is putting up weather signals now."

Rat Cook (seeing the state flag on the flagpole)—"Look, they've got a Confederate flag up too."

The Freshman, who was a lanky youth, sat in the rear seat. His attitude was sprawling, and he was either asleep or seemed about to go to sleep.

"Mr. Frasier," said the physicist sharply, "you may recite."

Frasier opened his eyes but did not change his somnolent pose.

"Mr. Frasier, what is work?"

"Everything is work."

"What! Everything is work?"

"Yes sir."

"Then I take it you would like the class to believe this desk is work."

"Yes sir," wearily, "woodwork." —Youth's Companion.

Soph. Ezell (in class-room which was full of smoke)—"Professor, I can't stand this smoke."

Prof. Hall—"Mr. Ezell you might as well learn to stand it now, for you will have to stand it later."
STATE RECORD FOR 1911

Our baseball team of last year, as most of us remember, was a remarkably good one, as is shown by the number of games won. Only one college in the state can claim a game won from Clemson. The state championship was easily won, the percentage in the state being 900. The schedule of games played in the state last season with the results of the games is given below:

- March 31—At Due West: Clemson 2, Erskine 1.
- April 1—At Due West: Clemson 6, Erskine 3.
- April 3—On Campus: Clemson 6, Charleston College 1.
- April 7—At Greenville: Clemson 4, Furman 0.
- April 8—At Greenville: Clemson 6, Furman 4.
- April 14—On Campus: Clemson 2, Newberry 0.
- April 15—On Campus: Clemson 6, Newberry 2.
- April 21—On Campus: Clemson 6, Clinton 0.
- April 22—On Campus: Clemson 6, Clinton 2.
- April 27—At Spartanburg: Clemson 8, Wofford 5.
- April 28—At Charleston: Clemson 6, Charleston College 1.
- April 29—At Charleston: Clemson 3, Citadel 0.
- May 5—On Campus: Clemson 6, Wofford 0.
- May 6—On Campus: Clemson 2, Wofford 1.

This is the record of the last year's team in this state. Wofford won the only game which marred our state record any, yet it was impossible for any others to get a lead and obtain the championship. When the time comes to write up a record of games won and lost by this year's team, we hope that thirteen of them may be written down as won to every one that is lost.
