TIGERS FIND CITADEL EASY;
CLEMSON 53, CITADEL 14

In a snappy game, played before the largest audience Bowman Field has seen in several years, Clemson Tigers defeated the Citadel Bulldogs 53 to 14 last Saturday afternoon. Clemson's attack was too fierce for the military boys to withstand, and the ball was rushed from one end of the field to the other by the Tigers almost at will. Citadel showed up well on the forward pass, making almost all their gains on this play. Folger and Martin starred. For Clemson, the entire team showed up strong, with Webb and Coles doing the most brilliant work. Webb's run for 80 yards and touchdown was a feature.

WHAT DOBSON THINKS OF CLEMSON'S CHANCES

With the Carolina game close at hand, all interest is centered on the relative strength of the two teams.
As it looks now, our worthy rival is about 25 per cent better than last year, but on the other hand, the Tigers' can show a similar advance.
The line is showing the effects of coach Murphy's untiring efforts to produce a stonewall of defense, and the material is much ahead of any for the five middle positions, since my coming to Clemson.
In the backfield, the positions are far from being settled and by the time the big struggle for state honors arrives, many changes are apt to take place.
The spirit of the student body shows even a greater increase, the enthusiasm and spirit being much better than in former years, and no one man is deserving of more credit for this display than our commandant.
Let the student body respond as they have done to date, and no criticism of the team's support can be offered. Coach Dobson.

VARSITY SQUAD.

BRITT (Tackle.)

Captain of the Tiger Squad. "Toots" came from the little town of McCormick and though the place has no relation to the McCormick moving machine "Toots" is somewhat like one when with his 150 pounds of muscle he mows his way through the opposing line. It took Brit three years after coming to Clemson, to find out that he could play foot-ball. Class ball put the idea into his head and he won a place with the varsity squad in his sophomore year. Tackle has been his position ever since, and his election as captain shows how well he has played it.

He has been kept out of practice on account of a sprained knee for some time; but will be in form for the Clemson-Carolina game.

LAWTON (Manager)

To "Mac" falls the duty of looking after the business end of the Clemson Squad this year, and right well is he holding down the job. While the Tigers are busy working out daily "Mac" is looking after their interests as Manager. This is one of the highest honors that can be awarded, and the student body made no mistake when they chose him to fill this very difficult office. "Mac" comes from Allendale and is in his Senior year at college.

WEBB (Fullback)

Webb, S. C., who hails from "My Town," otherwise known as Anderson, S. C., has played on the varsity for two seasons, including the present, and has been a town of strength in the full back position. He had some experience on the high school team in his native town, and at once developed into a star player. He looks every inch an athletic, being 6 feet 5 in. tall and tipping the beam at 170. He is a member of the Freshman class and is only eighteen years old. Webb is one of the surest ground gainers on the team and is called on frequently when a crisis is impending.

JAMES. (Halfback.)

"Jimmy" discovered Clemson three years ago and at once decided it was the place for him to make his debut in foot-ball. This is his second year on the squad and he is proving one of the strong men of the squad. A fast, heady player who is in the game all the time and can always be counted on. This lad measures 5 feet 8 in. and tips the scale at 150 lbs. Tiger supporters can depend on "Jimmy" to do his share in bringing victory in the Clemson Camp.

TURBEVILLE (Guard.)

"Turbie" hails from the "City by the Sea." He is 21 years of age, is 6 feet 2½ in. tall and weighs 185 lbs. Although a senior this is his first year on varsity foot-ball. He was a star on his class team last year, and his case is one of many, where a man waits until his Sr. year to try for the team. He is developing into a consistent lineman, with an abundance of spirit, and his rapid improvement this year has been one of the team's features. He would be at his best next year, but graduation will rob him of a longer career. He will be there with the goods when we meet Carolina.

BRISTOL (Tackle)

"Big Er'stol," the promising tackle this year, came from Beaufort. He grew out of last year's "scrubs" and grew "big." He tips the scales at 195 and most of it is muscle too. He shows up well in the fight, and promises to be a famous "Tiger" before his third years are out.

GANDY. (Tackle)

"Hop" is one of the big men of the team this year, and has been responsible for many a touchdown this season. He stands 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs in at 175 lbs. This is his third year on the squad, and he is proving one of our most valuable (Continued on Page Eight)
The Tigers' Coaches Have to Say.

Owing to the fact that athletics at Clemson have been, and are most certain to be, well covered by our most competent Coach Dobson, it leaves only general remarks and comment for me.

I can only fall in line with our Director's ideas of its being a real pleasure to coach a Clemson foot-ball team. The men are men, and that explains the whole situation.

This being my first experience in the South, keeps me from drawing comparisons between teams; however, in drawing conclusions from what I hear and read, and never failing to realize the full merit of our various foes, I am caused to be quite hopeful for a successful season. At their best, however, our prospects for the present cannot be compared with those of the future, since we have so many new men on the squad.

As to the spirit of the student body, I can only say that it is most commendable. And as a suggestion for its perfection, I can only request hearty cooperation with our commandant in his exceptional enthusiasm, and can warrant, from experience, that loyalty to the officials of the College will bring much pleasure and cause much harmony between work and play.

And too, there is one more duty attached to the student body; and, may I implore you to lend hearty support and praise to the nucleus of our varsity and to never falter in words of encouragement, and in fact cheers for the untiring efforts of “Our Scrubs.” Upon them depends the success of our warriors.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the students as well as officials for their hospitality to me, Yours in sport.

Coach Murphy.

How Carolina Will Stack up Against the Tigers.

(From the Game Cock.)

“Carolina is very fortunate this year in having experienced men for almost every position, giving her probably the best team since 1902. The backfield is composed of some of the fastest backs that don the gridiron togs anywhere in the South, and it is only necessary to look over the line for a moment to see that they are made of the stuff that counts in foot-ball. The Carolina squad is especially strong on the ends position, being represented there by the fast and fierce “Little Hill” and Big Dunn. There is not a faster, heavier playing man to be found anywhere than Dan Heyward at Quarter. He is in every play and runs his team like a veteran, and too, there is one more duty attached to the student body; and, may I implore you to lend hearty support and praise to the nucleus of our varsity and to never falter in words of encouragement, and in fact cheers for the untiring efforts of “Our Scrubs.” Upon them depends the success of our warriors.

The whole squad is in great form, and our prospects are bright. “Watch Carolina.”

What the Football Team Saw on the Last Trip

“Jonnie Logan saw “monkeys” at Seneca.”

“Doc” Ezell saw “The other side of the mountain side” from the observation car.

“Turby” saw “Peaches” on Peachtree street.

All of the squad saw McDaniel draw water from the sanitary drinking fountain by pulling the nose of the Greek statue.

THE TRIP TO COLUMBIA.
As surely as the tree is judged by its fruits, is the College judged by its students. Trustees may erect imposing buildings, and equip them with costly apparatus. Capable teachers may fill the positions on the faculty, but the citizenship of South Carolina will disregard these quantities to them largely unknown, will look only at the students and note their talk and conduct, and upon this evidence base their judgment of the College. They will not question you on Algebra or inquire into your knowledge of Chemistry. They will forget that your manners were learned at home rather than at the College, and that your character is chiefly the outcome of a mother’s work and a father’s example. For the public mind deals only in rough hewn facts and is little concerned with the “buts” and “ifs” which usually preface explanations and excuses.

Kindliness and courtesy, consideration for the rights and comfort of others, a smiling countenance, are the visible evidence of a good heart, and by these rather than by your technical proficiency, will you be judged.

The Encampment is permitted because you want it, and because the President of the Board of Trustees and the President of the College believe that it will do you good and do the College credit. This belief is founded in our faith in you, for no greater misfortune could happen than for even a single cadet out of the 712 who signed the petition to do that which would bring dishonor upon the College.

It was an old English custom to deliver to a distinguished visitor upon arrival the keys of the city as a token not only of hospitality, but of trust. And so in effect will the keys to the City of Columbia be delivered over to you as the representatives of Clemson College, whose uniform you wear, and whose honor you are expected to uphold. We have faith to believe that you will not betray that trust.

I wish for every cadet who goes to the Fair a good time and a safe and happy return, unmarred by any regrets, or any misgivings as to how he has “kept the faith.” W. M. Riggs, President.

lineman. A strong, heady player who never tires and is in every play. Darlington favored Clemson with this big boy.

PRESSLEY (Halfback)

Pressley, E. H., is a Chesterite. He did not take much interest in football till this season, but he has demonstrated the fact that he has all that it takes to make a football player. He is quiet, but gritty and determined. He goes with a vim, and can take punishment without complaining. He is twenty years old, stands 5 feet 11 1-2 inches, and weighs 160. He plays in the back field either at full or half and can be relied on either to plough thru the line or skirt the ends. Once he gets going he is hard to stop. Pressley is one of the most valuable men on the team. This is his Junior year, and he will be one of the sure things on next year’s varsity.

LEWIS. (End.)

“Alex” was born at Clemson, and he has lived there all his life. He is 19 years of age; is 5 feet 9 in. tall; and weighs 135 lbs. He is the lightweight of the team. This is his 2nd year on varsity and great things are expected of him. Last season he was fast, a good tackler, and the best forward pass receiver of the year. His work in breaking up interference is brilliant, and his tackling hard and sure. He will be of great value next year since his experience makes him one of the few seasoned veterans in the squad.

SCHILLETTER. (Guard.)

“Shorty” is a Clemson product. He is 18 years old, 5 feet 11 in. tall, and weighs 200 lbs. He made his first varsity appearance in the 2nd quarter of the 1st game of last season, and he was in every down of every game for the rest of the season. For his weight “Shorty” is remarkably fast, and is always found in every line play. Clemson will be fortunate in having his services again next year, he being a third year man now. Watch the big boys work against the “Game Cocks.”

EZELL. (Center.)

“Doc” Clemson’s star pitcher also plays football. The “pigskin” is a comparatively new play-thing for him; but he has “gone wild” over it. He played on the scrub team last year, and this year he is playing center on the varsity squad. His cool head and his 170 pounds are valuable assets to the line.

CAUGHMAN (Quarter Back).

“Doc” or Kenney is playing his second year on varsity. A valuable backfield man, a hard worker and one who knows the game. “Doc” is a Sophomore and has two more years of football ahead of him. Claims the Capital City as his home. Weighs 150 lbs. and is 5 feet 9 inches in height.

KANGETER (Half-Back).

“Johnny” is another lad who hails from the “City by the Sea”. He is playing his third year on varsity and is a valuable backfield man. Knows the game from start to finish and is a tireless worker for Clemson’s interests. This will be his last year of football and his last opportunity to take a crack at Carolina. He is 5 ft. 9 inches in height and weighs 155 lbs.

GEE. (End)

Gee is another P. M. A. recruit who is showing up wonderfully well this season. Starred for the Freshman last year in class ball and is new to the varsity squad. Bids fair to develop into a wonderful end, but a bad shoulder will probably keep him out of the Carolina game. A fast man and one of the hardest tacklers on the team. Gee comes from Columbia, is 6 feet in height and weighs 165 pounds.

RANDLE. (End and Tackle)

Randle, who is a rat this year, comes from P. M. A. where he first had football instilled into his system. He is every inch a man and puts all of his 178 lbs into the game. Clemson has had but little chance to see what this big boy can do, but all indications point towards him as a comer. He hails from Sumter. Is 5 feet 10 inches in height.

COLES (Quarter Back)

"Bricks" is one the lightweights of the team, but his speed and knowledge of the game offset his lack in weight. He is one of the fastest men and surest tacklers, who is playing his third year on varsity. Received his early foot-ball training at High School, Jacksonville, Florida, and hails from the metropolis of the "Land of Flowers". Measures 5 ft. 7 1-2 inches and tips the beam at 138 lbs.

FOOTBALL AS IT APPEARS TO THE INEXPERIENCED.

The ideal foot-ball game is played on a cold, rainy day and on a muddy field by twenty-two 210 pound white hops. It is presided over by an umpire, a referee, and the police reserve. At each end of the field, the goals are situated, they consist of upright poles and a cross piece. The cross piece is used to kick the ball over after a touch down is made, and as a convenient place to hang the umpire.

When the game begins, the ball is placed in the middle of the field. The ball is made of pigskin—so called—and is filled with Bull Moose campaign thunder. It is shaped like a ten cent water-melon. The object is for the eleven brawny blackssmiths on the north end to carry it over the remains of the eleven mule drivers on the south, and to the goal, or vice-versa.

The first thing is to kick off the ball. This is about the only time the ball is kicked. After that the players kick one another and the referee. When the ball is placed, the referee blows his whistle; and the side which is to kick off the ball is lined up in battle array, and one of their number takes a flying start and kicks the ball in an abrupt and violent manner. It is caught by some long haired person on the other side, who tucks it under his arm and plunges down the field like number three, four hours late. His team mates follow and precede him, offering what they call interference. It is the same kind of interference that Jack Johnson offered to Jim Jeffreies, and consists of feeding elbows and leather headgears and nose guards to the enemy, with nothing to wash them down but gore. In spite of all this, one of them gets to the fellow with the ball; and hits him in the region of his digestive organs, as a runaway auto hits a telegraph pole. Down they go and plunge their features into the soft, cold mud and gravel, and before they can spit out the loose teeth, the remaining two and a quarter tons of leather, iron spikes, and ivory pile up on top of them, and use them for a foot mat, to the edification of the multitude.

The multitude gathers out there on the side lines in two camps. They hoot each other, and give their college yells. No other form of disturbance ever invented in this country can in any way compare with the college yell. We have attended several grand operas in our time, and have heard some famous performers, but Caruso, in his wildest moments, is a piker, when it come to competing with the college yell. When seventy-five gimlet headed caterpillars form a ring and turn loose one of their justly celebrated yells, it would make a band of Apaches on the warpath, burn up their feathers, wash off their paint and go into the hands of a receiver.

For years they have been trying to reform football, and make the game more lady like; but it has met with the same kind of reform that the tariff met with in the hands of the Republican party.

103 Meter Hill and little affairs like Waterloo will never have any terror for this country so long as we can keep up our foot-ball spirit; and there are no signs of it weakening.
