BASKET BALL

Daily practice rounding Varsity squad into shape. Many good games are scheduled.

Clemson will open her second basket ball season on the 18th, when they go up against the strong Furman Five on our Campus.

A court has been laid out and baskets placed on Bowman Field, and some fifteen men are daily working out. All of last year's Varsity are back with the exception of "Dan" Hydrick at guard. "Little" and "Big Zook" Erwin and Evans are at forward, Ward at Center and Kangeter, Provost and Caughman at Guard. Others who are showing up favorably are "Alex" Lewis, Glover, Jennings, Walker, Morgan, "Doc" Ezell and McDermid.

Games scheduled to date are as follows:—

January 18—Furman on campus.
January 25—Wofford on campus.
February 1—Atlanta Athletic Club at Atlanta.
February 5—Charleston College at Charleston.
February 6—Carolina at Columbia.
February 7—Tech. at Atlanta.
February 8—Tech. on campus.
February 21—Wofford at Spartanburg.
February 22—Furman at Greenville.

CLASS FOOTBALL PRACTICE IN PROGRESS

Juniors, Sophs, and Fresh have chosen coaches, elected managers, and are down to work.

Now that everyone has his schedule for the coming term's work, all eyes are turned to preparation for the big class games that take place in February. The several classes have held meetings, and each is pulling for victory with the same spirit and enthusiasm that the corps, as a whole, shows in support of the Varsity squad. There is always great rivalry between the class teams, and hard-fought, exciting games are generally the outcome.

As a developer of Varsity material, this is one of the best systems in use. Men such as Turbeville, Gee, Logan and Pressley were the results of last year's teams; and, as a rule, all Varsity men see one or two seasons of class ball before becoming full-grown "Tigers."

At present, only three classes are represented. Hereafter, the Preps have combined with the Fresh, while the Seniors have been only "sideliners"; but here's hoping that the two extremes will both see fit to furnish elevens this year.

Juniors.

The outlook for a championship team is nearly as good as last year, when they cinched as Sophs. Several scrubs and old class-ball men are out in the persons of McDonald, Stender, Thornhill, Emerson, Brown, Gilmore and Barkdale. Besides these men, there are some twenty others trying out; and with such coaches as "Hop" Gandy and "Jimmy" James, the Juniors can be counted as championship contenders. Joe Douthit has been elected manager.

Sophomores

The Sophs are showing up well with a squad of 25 to 30 men and will also have to be reckoned with when the final clash comes. Among the best men are McGill, West,
"Peter" Dwight, "Rood" Jones, and "Doc" Arthur. With these as a nucleus, it is a certainty that the Sophs will be well represented. For coaches, "Brick" Coles and "Toots" Britt have been chosen. Her has been elected manager.

Freshman

The Freshmen are fortunate this year in having several good scrubs. Major, Walker, Littlejohn, and Durant will prove hard obstacles to the Juniors and Sophs; and, from the remaining 30 or 40 men, a creditable "Fresh" team is expected. This squad will most likely be under the immediate guidance of Coach Dobson and "Claire" Webb, which fact alone is enough to vouch for a fast team. Turbeville, J. E., will work as manager.

It is too early to predict which way the championship cup is leaning, but it is certain no one team is going to have a walkover.

CLEMSON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

The regular meetings of the Clemson Agricultural Society are scheduled for the first and third Saturday nights of each month, but owing to the fact that the members had not yet rested up from the Christmas holidays, the meeting for last Saturday night was omitted.

The Society is thoroughly alive, and the meetings are enjoyed by all who attend. The members realize the benefit to be derived from the lectures and discussions which are a large feature of each meeting.

Another work that the Society has undertaken is the publication of an agricultural journal, to be published quarterly. The Society realizes that this is a large undertaking, but it is determined to push it to success. It is the purpose of the Journal to publish articles on agricultural subjects written by students as well as members of the faculty. It is hoped that this publication will be of interest not only to the student, but will also be heartily welcomed by the practical and scientific farmer. Such a paper is published by the students of many agricultural colleges, and Clemson cannot be longer without this publication if she is to keep abreast of the other schools of the country.

PROF. GARDINER WEDS

The recent event of greatest social interest to the students and community generally, was the marriage during the Christmas holidays of Mr. M. S. Gardiner to Miss Belle Marsh of Burnettsville, Indiana. The following is a clipping from the Idaville (Indiana) "Observer."

Gardiner-Marsh.

Murray Starr Gardiner and Belle Marsh were united in marriage New Year's Day at three o'clock, at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. M. Marsh, in Burnettsville, by Rev. Boyd. There were a number of the relatives and several invited guests present, and the couple received many handsome, valuable and useful gifts. They left on the first train for South Carolina, where the groom is a teacher of Agriculture in Clemson College. The groom is well known in White County and at Purdue for his abilities as a student in the common schools, in the high school and in the University, and also for his work as an athlete, while he was in high school and college.

The bride is well known in the social circles of the county and as a teacher.

New year greetings. May many pleasant memories of a pleasant holiday linger with you to cheer you on your way. May this be a successful year for us all.

May seniors get their "dips" and rings. May sophomores lose their lordly air. The freshmen find some "Rats" to scare. The juniors get their cords and things. May seniors get their "dips" and rings.

All too soon the happy holidays have passed. How eagerly we looked forward to them! How slowly dragged the days of examination week! How joyful the going home! How pleasant the days spent there! But it is all over. We had to leave the "good things" long before we were ready to go. Now, "it's work for ours;" work for a long time too. We shall need to store away "those good times" in our minds to feed upon in the dreary days to come.

The "Tiger" staff have planned to run a cartoon in each publication. To do so, we must have more money and therefore, more subscribers. Less than half of the students are now supporting the publications. Why is this? If the publications are not worth your support, whose fault is it? It must be yours; so, get busy and help them out. If they are worthy of your support, then support them. We want to make the "Tiger" interesting, and we want your interest. In planning for the first, we have, in addition to cartoons, decided to add some other features: so, look out for Drakeford's cartoons, "Dingle's Jingles," and Prevost's "Who's Who and Why." To secure your interest, we want you to work; so, try and see if you can not contribute something that will be of interest to others.

Who am I? and why? What is the object of my appearance all unannounced? What am I good for? and what do I propose to do? How often will I do it? and will it hurt?

Patience, gentlemen and officials, optimists and pessimists, Democrats and Methodists, and I will explain my coming. I will make all due apologies; state my platform; make my promises (which like all good Republicans, I do not expect to fulfill) and then leave you to ponder upon these things, and say "Can he do it? Will he do it?"

First to, not that. That belongs to Sunday sermons, and preachers. Really, I come at the invitation of the Tiger Staff, who, feeling that an electrical senior has plenty of time on his hands, asked me to put my name at the head of the sheet so as to divert all blame to myself, and proceed to tear up things. Knowing the danger in such practices, I was at first averse to taking such a departure from my usual calm and quiet way. However, as the practice of stepping on other people's toes has developed at Clemson since the first day of this session, I decided that it was up to me to do some stepping too. So here I am! I, contrary to all precedent, am no respector of persons; so have a care how you conduct yourself. I may sometimes find a subject which needs an airing, a muck-raking, or a share of applause. When such comes my way, I will seize it and proceed, as well as I can, to do the proper and required stunts.

My duty is to fill this column once a week with an original, witty dissertation on the merits, or demerits, of any unhappy soul who comes under my notice. If sometime you should find this space empty, know that my reserve supply of spizzarinktem (see the 1913 model of Webster) has been dissipated in the tussle with steam and mechanics; or else that, failing to fold my handkerchief the required number of times, I have been compelled to drill during the time I would have been writing for you. I fully realize that I have a big undertaking before me and that my claims are rather extravagant, but I expect the corps to pardon any mistakes I make, and to overlook my short-comings-no matter how you conduct yourself. I may sometimes find a subject which needs an airing, a muck-raking, or a share of applause. When such comes my way, I will seize it and proceed, as well as I can, to do the proper and required stunts.
CLEMSON MEN CONTINUE TO ORGANIZE

Following the Atlanta Chapter, the Clemson men in Columbia have organized a Clemson Club. This club, it is believed, will include about sixty Clemson men; and, it is hoped, will be a nucleus for a state wide organization. Similar hopes are entertained for the Atlanta chapter; and we hope that, in the near future, Clemson men will be thoroughly organized throughout the country.

The Atlanta chapter is proving a great success as a source of pleasure and of benefit. Recently, we received a circular letter, issued by this chapter, which shows one phase of work. The letter is too much of a personal nature for general publication, but, in an abstract form, it stated that certain Clemson men were in Atlanta looking for work, and appealed to the members to assist these men in finding employment. It also mentioned the illness of certain members. This is only a part of the work the chapter is doing; but is enough to show that much good may be expected of such an organization.

In cooperation with this movement, the “Tiger” is preparing to put in an alumni department. Also, an employment bureau at Clemson is being planned. These ideas originated with Mr. Rosborough, ‘08, of the Atlanta chapter. By publishing a want list in the “Tiger” each week, it is hoped that many Clemson men will be benefited. The cooperation of the alumni and of the student body is solicited to further these movements. Let’s get together and make a great union of Clemson men, so that the comradeship that exists among the student body may never be lost, but that we may “stick together like Clemson men” throughout life.

STUDENT CHAPTER A. I. E. E.

On December 9th at seven o’clock, the Clemson Agricultural College branch of the A. I. E. E. was called to order by J. H. Kangeter, Chairman, in the college parlor. The minutes of the former meeting were read and adopted. The constitution, with several amendments and additions made by the executive committee, was read by the Secretary and discussed by Dr. Riggs. These were adopted by the branch.

It was decided that our regular meetings are to be on the second Monday of each month.

On Monday January 13th, the date of our next meeting, which is to be held in the college parlor at seven p.m., the following members will discuss the important articles of the current electrical journals:

- Provost, E. T., Electrical World;
- Sloan, D. M., Electrical Street Railway Journal;
- Lawton, M. S., Electrical Journal;
- McGee, H. S., General Electric Review;

Dr. Riggs has promised to give a short historical sketch of the Institute; and Professor W. C. Wagner will present an illustrated review of electrical developments now in progress on the Pacific coast. Publishing Committee.

Mr. T. G. Robertson, with his November bride, came to the college during the holidays, where he will locate, as he has bought out Winslow Sloan's interests in two stores situated near the campus. Tom is a member of the class of '08, and we are glad to have our elder brother with us again. Mrs. Robertson was, before marriage, Miss Jessie Peters of Montgomery, West Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee until they can become permanently located.

Capt. and Mrs. S. L. Duckett left during the holidays for Columbia Military Academy, Columbia, Tenn., where Capt. Duckett has accepted a position as commandant of that institution. Capt. Duckett came to Clemson at the beginning of the session of 1911 and served as Assistant Commandant up until the time when he left for his new position. Capt. and Mrs. Duckett made many warm friends during their short stay here, and it is with regret that we see them leave our community. Capt. Duckett is succeeded as Assistant Commandant by his brother T. P. Duckett, who is also a graduate of the Citadel.

Miss Mary Duncan of Salem, Virginia, has returned home, after spending some time as the guest of her sister Mrs. Shields.

Mrs. Lee is in Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. T. C. Redfern, who is studying medicine at Johns Hopkins, spent the Christmas vacation on the campus.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hook are at the home of Judge Hook.

Miss Neila Sloan spent several days last week in Anderson with Miss Lucile Sloan, and attended the Christmas Cotillion given by the Amphion Club.

Mrs. Harper entertained at cards Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Duncan.

Mrs. A. B. Gardner is in Kentucky.

Miss Frank Sloan of Atlanta, is visiting her aunt Mrs. J. P. Lewis.

Mr. O. H. Bissell "Ossie" '07 is in Atlanta on a visit, and is thinking very seriously of locating there permanently.

Mr. Stricklin has left Atlanta to go to Baltimore, Md.

Mr. J. H. Lewis "Pete" '09 has been transferred from the Atlanta office of the General Electric Company to the Birmingham office.

The Atlanta Chapter of the Alumni Association will hold its regular quarterly meeting on Saturday evening Jan. 4, 8 p.m. at the University Club. One of the questions to be taken up at this meeting will be the matter of arranging for entertaining the Clemson Basketball Team which is scheduled to play the Crack Atlanta Athletic Club Team on Saturday evening, February 1st.

On Sunday night last, the Y. M. C. A. was the happy recipient of one of the best treats of the season. Secretary Sweeney was very fortunate in securing as speaker Mr. Holloway, a layman and a business man of New York City. Mr. Holloway spoke on no particular subject, but it was an address worthy of any sacrifice one might make to hear. He spoke of what our college careers should be, and how to make them what they should be. He said it made no difference if we were of lowly birth, we had a chance in College to lay a foundation for a strong moral character and a foundation for real greatness. A number of instances were mentioned where poor boys had become really great men by doing their duty and trusting in the merits of Jesus Christ.

The eyes of those who heard him were opened to a realization of what life ought to be.

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE Y. M. C. A.
The Young Men's Christian Association of Clemson College requests the honor of your presence at a BANQUET given in honor of The Kangeter Membership Campaign Team in the College Mess Hall Saturday Evening, January 11, 1913

This invitation includes not only the members of the Y. M. C. A. but also the men who signed up for membership with members of Kangeter's team, and paid fifty cents or more on their dues.

Everything considered, this banquet Saturday night is going to be one of the biggest affairs of the kind that has ever been pulled off. Nothing further need be said in regard to the Menu. It has been posted outside the door of Room 84 all week; and it speaks for itself, as Edison said when he introduced some friends to the first phonograph. That is, they say he said something like that. And whether he did say it or not, it would not have been altogether inappropriate. But we desire just here to touch on another phase of this banquet, which has only been hinted at up to this time. Somebody suggested, or else it originated in the imaginative brain of those in charge of the arrangements, that we might have some of the ladies from around to help us enjoy the banquet. So we have asked the ladies. Up to the time of this writing, every lady who has been asked, has agreed to help. And what could we not do when we have the ladies to help us? Then there will be all those humorous addresses, which ordinarily go under the name of “Toasts.” It has not been decided yet who all the “toasters” will be, but there is no chance of our getting any but the best. Just as samples—or examples, if you prefer—we mention that Dr. Riggs and Col. Cummins have already agreed to respond. Dr. Calhoun has been mentioned for Master of Ceremonies, but he has a close second in—who may yet be selected. And as was intimated at the start—and we close here lest we tire you with our ravings—this is going to be a Banquet that will make history in the realm of Banquets.
Announcement

As successor to Winslow Sloan, I expect to keep up the old standards and make improvements in every way possible.

I shall appreciate your continued patronage.
