

NASIG Newsletter

Vol. 25, no. 2

May 2010

eISSN 1542-3417

Announcing the 2010 Sponsors for the NASIG 25th Anniversary Conference in Palm Springs, June 3-6, 2010

NASIG is pleased to announce the excellent turn-out to our organizational sponsorship drive for 2010 and for the first ever vendor exposition.

In total, there are twenty dedicated sponsors for this year's conference with twenty-four participants exhibiting during the vendor exposition. A special recognition goes to the following sponsors for their support to dedicated sponsorships:

EBSCO for supporting the 25th Anniversary Event

New England Journal of Medicine for supporting the opening reception

Taylor & Francis, an informa business, for providing notepads to all conference attendees

IOP for supporting the First Timer's Reception

Emerald for supporting a Student Grant Award

Serials Solutions for supporting the Champion Award

SWETS for supporting the Rose Robischon Scholarship

Annual Reviews for supporting one day of wireless access

The following sponsors will be participating in the vendor exposition to be held June 3 from 1-4 p.m. in the main hall of the Rancho Las Palmas conference area:

Accucoms, Annual Reviews, ARTstor, BioMed Central, Brill, Duke University Press, EBSCO, Elsevier, Emerald, IEEE, Harrassowitz, IOP, JAMA, NASIG, Oxford University Press, Project Muse, SCELIC, Serials Solutions, Springer, SWETS, Taylor and Francis, University of California Press, W.T. Cox, and YBP Library Services, a division of Baker & Taylor.

There will be light snacks and drinks served during the vendor exposition and all conference attendees are encouraged to attend this conference kick-off event prior to the conference opening.

The following sponsors will have information available about their products and services during the conference:

American Academy of Pediatrics, American Institute of Physics, ARTstor, EBSCO, JAMA, New England Journal of Medicine, NOW Publishers, Springer, Taylor & Francis, an informa business, Thomson/Reuters, and Walter De Gruyter.

The twenty-fifth annual NASIG conference will be an even greater success due to the support provided by all of our sponsors!!