CHAMPIONS OF THE SOUTH IN TENNIS

Clemson Men Win Out in Both Singles and Doubles

In the Southern Intercollegiate College Meet held at Columbia this season, the Erwin brothers won for Clemson the championship of the South. J. O. Erwin and J. W. Erwin playing in the doubles and J. O. Erwin in the singles. "Big Sook", J. O. Erwin, was far the fastest man in the tournament; and well deserves the honors that he has won. He now holds the record of having won the championship of the two Carolinas in doubles, twice winner of the championship of South Carolina in singles, second in the South Atlantic States Tournament doubles and singles, and now holding the championship in both singles and doubles in the Southern Intercollegiate.

"Little Sook", J. W. Erwin, is a close second to his brother. His able assistance made it possible to win out in the doubles.

In the drawing, Clemson was lucky enough to draw byes in both doubles and singles. In the singles, J. O. Erwin met and defeated Chambers (U. of N. C.) 6-3, 6-2. In the semi-finals, "Big Sook" won from Goodwin (U. of Ga.) 6-1, 6-2. Oates (U. of N. C.) was Erwin's opponent in the final round. This match was one of the prettiest ever seen in Columbia. Scores were 6-4, 7-5, 6-3.

In the doubles, the Erwins won from Brand and Goodwin (U. of Ga.) 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, then met Oates and Chambers (U. of N. C.) in the final round and won in an excellent match; the scores were 7-5, 6-4, 6-4.

J. W. Erwin also entered in the singles—met and won from Elmer Waring (U. of S. C.): scores, 6-4, 0-6, 6-3, but lost to Oates (U. of N. C.) 6-1, 6-2.

Both men are prominent in basket-ball, and have won a record for Clemson, in both tennis and basket-ball, of which we may well be proud.

TIGERS WIN STATE CHAMPIONSHIP IN BASEBALL

After four straight victories on the road, Coach Dobson's athletes returned home last Monday, and finished their state schedule by defeating Newberry in a slow and uninteresting game, 6 to 5. Heavy batting of the entire squad while away from home, coupled with the pitching of Ezell, Anderson and Seal, enabled the locals to swamp Wofford in two games and to cop one apiece from Newberry and Clinton.

The Tigers did not display their usual form in the last game, but at that, they played well enough to win out 6 to 5. With the exception of the seventh, Ezell had the visitors at his mercy. The game by innings was as follows:

First Inning
Mayes fans; Floyd takes first on Cureton's error at short; but gets caught off first a minute later when Keitt strikes out.

Cureton walks, steals second and third. Hiers follows suit, and steals second. Both score on Tarrant's single through second. Tarrant moves up a peg. Webb and Walker retire after three healthy swings each. Hiers grounds out to first.

Runs: Newberry, 0; Clemson, 2.

Second Inning

Coles is presented with a pass, and steals second. Brown sacrifices him to third, and Ezell scores him with a single between first and second. Cureton raps one of Epting's benders for a home run, scoring Ezell in front of him. Hiers goes out, catcher to first. Tarrant walks, starts for second and goes on around to third on Mayes' wild peg. Webb hits to deep left, scoring Tarrant, but goes out trying to stretch a double to three bags.

Runs: Newberry, 1; Clemson, 4.

Third Inning
Mayes strikes out. Floyd grounds out, Ezell to Webb.
Keitt singles over short, and steals second; but remains there while Wise fans out.

Walker goes out, short to first. Iler places a neat single over short, and steals second. Coles gets a pass. Brown lays a bunt down third base line, and Iler is caught at plate. Ezell grounds out to pitcher.

Runs: Newberry, 0. Clemson, 0.

Fourth Inning

Brooks goes out, Hiers to Webb. Epting skies to Coles; Baker fans.

Cureton singles, and steals second. Hiers walks, Mayes lets ball get by him, but catches Cureton at plate when he attempts to come home from second. Hiers moves up to second on the throw in. Tarrant bunts in front of the plate, goes out at first; and Hiers is caught coming home.

Runs: Newberry, 0. Clemson, 0.

Fifth Inning

Boland grounds out to Ezell. Crooks and Mayes strike out.

Webb beats out a high bounder to second, and steals a moment later. Walker bunts out to pitcher, and Webb gets caught at plate. Iler goes out, short to first.

Runs: Newberry, 0. Clemson, 0.

Sixth Inning

Floyd walks, steals second and goes to third on Keitt's sacrifice to first. Wise fails to connect, and Brooks ends the inning, Ezell to Webb.

Coles grounds out to Epting. Brown hits to short, and is safe on error, starts for second, and goes to third on Mayes' throw to center. Ezell bunts to pitcher, and Brown is caught at the plate. Mayes again pegs wild to center, and Ezell goes to third. Cureton flies out to right.

Runs: Newberry, 0. Clemson, 0.

Seventh Inning

Epting opens with a single between short and third, and goes to second on Ezell's wild throw. Baker flies out to Iler, and Epting moves up to third on another wild throw. Boland hits short to Coles, who fumbles, allowing Epting to score. Coles hits to short, and forces Boland at second. Ezell weakens, hits Mayes, and gives up a pretty single to Floyd, Crooks scoring. Mayes goes to third, and scores on wild throw by Ezell. Keitt singles to center, scoring Floyd. Wise bunts to pitcher and is safe on bad throw to first. Brooks ends the scoring by grounding out to Coles.

Hiers flies to right. Tarrant takes first on a hot grounder to short, and steals second. Webb fans. Walker flies out to left.

Runs: Clemson, 0. Newberry, 0.

Eighth Inning

Epting fans. Baker flies out to second, and Boland fails to connect.

Dean, who takes Iler's place, fans, but gets to first on wild third strike; he gets caught going to second. Coles buzzes, and Brown goes out second to first.

Runs: Newberry, 0; Clemson, 0.

Ninth Inning

Crooks and Mayes fail to find Ezell's benders, and Floyd ends game with weak roller to pitcher's box.

SOCIAL

Miss Julia Drake and Miss Helen Breeden of Bennettsville have been the guests of Mrs. F. H. H. Calhoun.
Dr. and Mrs. Calhoun entertained at cards on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Drake and Miss Breeden. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ramsur of Central, Miss Harn of Chicago, Miss Robin of New York, Misses Sara and Katherine Furman, Margaret and Etta Sadler, Elizabeth Townes, Rickenbaker, Drake and Breeden; and Messrs. Lipscomb, Henry, Meadows, Brandon, Pearce, Watson and Clark.

The guests of honor were presented with attractive souvenirs of Clemson, and Miss Margaret Sadler won the high prize.

A delightful salad course was served.
Miss Helen Bradford and Miss Nena Martin were hostesses Saturday evening at a delightful bridge party. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, Miss Trescot, Mrs. Rudd, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gardner, Mr. W. B. Aull and Mr. T. E. Keitt.

A refreshing ice course was very much enjoyed.

Speed on, Spring days, pass swiftly by.
Yet four times more, you each shall fly
Before our eager watchful eye.

Then comes from "Rats" a joyful cry;
From seniors sad, a parting sigh!
Oh, my!

"Yet a little while", and our work as editors of the "Tiger" will be finished. The next two issues will be "up to" the men of the junior staff; then, we are to relieve them again by taking over the last issue.

It is also time to balance accounts, and unless we can collect for every subscription in the barracks, we are likely to have an unbalanced sheet in more ways than one. If the "Tiger" has been worth the price to you, please pay up at once; and if it has not, pay up anyway to encourage the new staff to better work than we have done. They must have money to make the paper go. Also, they will have enough to worry about without the "financial troubles".

The report of the Athletic Association is interesting. Considering the expenditure, we believe that few colleges put out successful teams in so many branches of athletics as does Clemson. We need more money, however; and it is up to us to follow the suggestion offered by Professor Gantt to increase the returns from the breakage fee by reducing the amount of breakage. We could easily increase this return fully 50%; for it is safe to say that over one-half of the college property that is broken is done through carelessness. Without considering the loss to the Athletic Association, such breakage is a needless waste; and when we consider what it means to athletics at Clemson, we should be doubly careful.

THE AUBURN TRIP

After having made its presence felt in the State to the tune of not having lost a single game, the varsity baseball team left Wednesday for Alabama to cross bats with the fast Auburn team. This team was a strong bidder for S. A. A. honors and we all realized that our team would have to go some to take the series. But it seems that they did go some as the result of the three games was Clemson 2, Auburn 1.

In the first game Auburn pitched her star man, Davis, and he pitched in grand style, not allowing a single earned run. But Clemson, aided by errors and her usual fast base running, succeeded in piling up three runs in the first inning; and with "Doc" Ezell pitching a one-hit game through the sixth inning, it looked as if we would win. In the seventh, Auburn got busy and after two were down and the bases full as a result of errors and one hit, they took a sudden liking to Ezell's benders, and scored five runs before the final man could be put out. They scored four more in the eighth, while Davis held the Tigers safe the remainder of the game, the final score being Auburn 9, Clemson 3.

With Anderson in the box, and pitching air-tight ball, the Clemson team started with a rush in the second game to get revenge, making six runs in the first inning on pitcher Locke's wildness, and timely hitting. Driver was substituted for Locke, but the Tigers were out for blood and finally forced him to retire after having collected about 14 hits off his delivery. The recruit who replaced Driver pitched fair ball, but Clemson had all the runs she needed, and treated him kindly, making only about four runs off him.

Ten hits were gotten off Anderson but they were well scattered and netted Auburn only four runs; Clemson winning by the overwhelming score of 18 to 4.

And now came the deciding game of the series, and after a night of restlessness, for some of the Tiger team, on account of thoughts of the game, and pleasant dreams for others, who had dreamed that we won, we were out on the field and ready for the game. Ezell and Davis were matched again, and the game was on.

Cureton, first up for the Tigers, hit the first ball pitched in the first inning for a home run and gave them a lead which Clemson never allowed Auburn to overcome. In the fifth inning with the score 5 to 3, Auburn threatened when Major, first up, hit for two bases, was sacrificed to third, and Harris, the man who had sewed up the first game, come to bat. This gentleman was kind enough to knock one at "Doc" Ezell so hard that he couldn't dodge it, and had to catch it; a double play resulting from pitcher to third. The game ended, Clemson 5, Auburn 3, a proper close to one of the most pleasant trips of a most pleasant season, and on which we saw more true college spirit and gentlemanly opponents than we had for many a day.

It is customary to publish a financial statement once each year, and to submit to the Athletic Executive Committee at the end of the baseball and football season a statement of the receipts and disbursements. This report, while covering a period of one year, is divided into three parts to make it more comprehensive, representing in a general way the baseball, track, football, and basketball seasons.
In some cases, bills are received after the report for that season has been submitted to the Athletic Committee, in which cases the bill is charged to the account of the next ensuing season.

The 1912 baseball season is the best financially that Clemson has ever had, and from present indications the 1913 season will show a much smaller net gain. This, however, is not due to any fault of the present manager,
as all of the State games are scheduled by the Schedule Committee of the S. C. I. A. A., the chief trouble being that the schedule was made out on a basis of one game per college instead of two as was formerly done.
The football season shows a net gain of more than $2,000.00. This is especially satisfactory in consideration of the decided falling off in the receipts from our Thanksgiving game, which shows the following figures net since 1904:

The direct cause for the debt which now confronts us is the increase in salary for coaching, which has risen steadily with all other necessities, and the drop in receipts from our Thanksgiving game. The additional expense of employing an assistant football coach and the difference in breakage fee constitutes the chief difference in this and last year's statement. The class football receipts were unusually small and the basketball did not follow the precedent set last year and shows a loss.

From present indications, we will be $800.00 in debt at the end of the baseball season. This is the first time since 1904 that the Association has been burdened with debt; however, the expenditures have exceeded the receipts since 1908, and it was only a matter of time until we would be overtaken by debt. This is a serious condition by which we are confronted. However, we have an opportunity to meet this debt, and enter the football season with practically no obligations. Will we grasp this opportunity?

Manager Lawton has taken a great deal of time in getting almost a complete assignment of the breakage fees, and if each member of the corps will assume his share of responsibility and see that nothing is broken carelessly or maliciously, we will meet the most of our indebtedness. The past 5 years have been broken during the last part of the session, so this is the time for all of us to protect our interests. Since 1905 the Athletic Association has not asked for contributions from the students, alumni, or faculty, except the breakage fees, and they are given in lieu of membership to the Athletic Association, which entitles its members to participate in any or all branches of sport. It would be appropriate here to make mention of the commendable spirit of so many students who give their breakage fees without the hope of getting value received in anything material.

Clemson is handicapped in not having a good gymnasium, few preparatory schools from which to get material, the lack of an athletic fee, and no wealthy alumni to fall back on. These are, unquestionably, great disadvantages, but it is only fair to look on the other side of the question. No one will deny that we have the most perfect training conditions, an unusually large proportion of husky fellows who are physically perfect, and who are capable of unlimited development, and ideal conditions for developing college spirit. Other institutions are making great strides, athletically and otherwise. Is Clemson going to forfeit her athletic prestige, won by former teams, and become a spectator? With a singleness of purpose, hearty co-operation among the entire corps, and developing our natural resour-here last week, the locals were easy winners, taking nine firsts, six seconds and seven thirds, against five firsts, seven seconds, and six thirds by Tech. The Tigers have due cause to rejoice over the fine showing made by the team, and the squad looks able to compete with any in the South. In Odom, LeGrand, Stribling and Verner we are due some stars in the seasons to come,—all these men sowing up excellently in their first big meet. Ward, Lewis, Turbeville, and Provost were in old time form, and formed the winning nucleus.
