DO YOU ASK "WILL THE TIGERS COME BACK?"

Emphatically, YES! The idea that the Tigers will "come back strong" is rapidly ceasing to be a theory, and in its stead we have a fact. This fact is supported by strong proof, composed of eighty stalwart youths eagerly striving to give Clemson a team—a team, that all the wearers of the Purple and Orange will delight to support. As yet nothing is certain as to who will compose Varsity, and for that matter it will not be a surety until the end of the season.

Each evening's practice has marked a higher step in the development of this team, and at each practice we see this machine gradually assuming a more finished appearance. An attempt to pick Varsity would result in failure, and besides, Coach Williams with the able assistance of "Big Rip" will do that in due time. We are very fortunate in having many of last season's players back, all of whom seem to have gained strength during the Summer vacation. In the backfield "Tanny" Webb, "Johnny" Logan, "Buck" Pressley and "Jimmy" James look as if they were going to stir up "some" trouble in the enemy's camp. We are also very fortunate in having a line of the "brick wall" variety. The bricks are composed of "Hop" Gancly, "Shorty" Schilletter, "Jule" Carson, Parker, Bristol, Littlejohn, Randle, Hanvey, Suggs, Brandon, and Kendricks. Nothing soft in that, well, I guess not. For ends we have such men as Gee, Caughman, Stribling, "Brock" Lewis, "Skeet" Brown and Lemmon. "Little Rip," Rurant, Reeves, Emerson and Jones, will play their heads off, and have good prospects of landing a berth.

It is too soon to find anything definite about the Freshmen, but they are putting every effort forward to learn the game and give Coach the best that is in them.

With all that is being done to get us out a winning team, can there be a man among us that will not give Coach and these men our utmost support, and when Davidson opens our season we will show them that, besides, fight on the team, we have the old "side-line-pepper."

CONSTITUTION OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Constitution of the Athletic Association is printed in the first number of the Tiger in the hopes that all cadets will read it carefully. The Constitution was revised last winter and in its new form was adopted by the Association at its annual meeting.

Membership in the Association is secured by agreeing to turn over to the Treasurer all that remains at the close of the session of the breakage fee. In a short time a canvas will be made and, on promise to refund the money, a membership certificate in the Association will be given.

The Athletic Association is essentially a student organization. The officers are elected by the student body and the representatives have much to say in its management. It is necessary that this Constitution be thoroughly understood in order that each cadet will understand his rights and privileges in the Association.

The first three Articles of the Constitution of the Clemson College Athletic Association are as follows:

ARTICLE I.—NAME.
The name of this organization shall be the Clemson College Athletic Association. Its official colors shall be Royal Purple and Orange.

ARTICLE II.—OBJECT.
The object of the Association shall be the promotion and regulation of athletics at Clemson College.

ARTICLE III.—SUB-ORGANIZATIONS.
Section 1. For the present there shall be five organized departments of sport, viz: Baseball, Football, Basket Ball, Track and Tennis. Each of these organizations, hereafter called sub-organizations, must be complete with constitution and duly elected officers, with whom the Athletic Council hereinafter provided, shall be able to transact business.

Sec. 2. Each sub-organization shall have a Captain and Manager, and in case of Football, Baseball, Track and (Continued from page 1, column 2.)

RATe: ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Back at the old stand, about 720 strong, and with all the one year agriculturals to be heard from. Yet everything is moving on as smoothly as if we had been here two or three months.

Foot-ball prospects are brighter than they have been in the last few years. We shall surely give the “Game Cocks” and the “Yellow Jackets” a battle this year. There’s only one thing needed now, and that is the old “Side line fight.” Let’s hold up our side of it fellows and come in chapel when mass meetings are called and learn the songs and yells.

With a little practice on the yells, and the right spirit in our hearts, we can rank with the big universities in good “College Spirit,” and that’s where we should be.

Preparations are already being made at Columbia for the Clemson-Carolina game on October 29. Bleachers are being erected on the camp side of the field. They are to be 400 feet long and have a seating capacity of about 2,000. The gridiron has been moved nearer the old grand stand, and box seats built in front of the stand.

THE Y. M. C. A. HANDBOOK.
The fellows who got out the hand-book this year are to be congratulated, both on its neat appearance and the manner in which the different college activities are dealt with. It contains much interesting and needful information, and covers almost everything that the new student should know.

These books are not only of value at the first of the season, but come in handy all the year round. They are usually kept as souvenirs of college days, and the hand-book of ’13-’14, will be especially appropriate as such.

Basket Ball organizations, two Assistant Managers, who shall belong to a class not higher than the Junior. The Manager shall be a Senior. Election of Football officers shall be held the first week in December, and the election of officers of the other branches of sport shall be held the last week of May. Terms of office shall be for one year. The Captains shall be elected by the players and substitutes of the preceding season, immediately after the close of the season. In case of a vacancy in office of Manager between regular elections, the Executive Committee of the General Association may fill the position.

Sec. 3. Duties of Officers. The Captain shall have control of the players, subject to the direction of the Coach.

The Manager shall conduct all correspondence in his sub-organization, arrange all games sanctioned by the Executive Committee, make purchases authorized by the Executive Committee, and assist the Secretary-Treasurer of the General Association in collecting funds from students. He shall be custodian of the property of the Association during the season of play, giving his receipt for all goods received from the Secretary-Treasurer, and at the end of the season turning in or accounting for same to the Secretary-Treasurer, and taking his receipt. He shall, as hereinafter provided, be subject to the Athletic Council. He shall keep a record of all correspondence relating to games and affairs of the Association, and his records shall be open at all times to inspection by members of the Executive Committee. He shall keep an itemized account of receipts and expenditures of each game, and within five days after each trip shall turn over same, together with any cash balance, to the Secretary-Treasurer. No orders for material shall be made and no financial risk of any kind incurred, without the consent of the Executive Committee. The Manager may, however, incur the routine expenses incidental to arranging games, expenses that come out of the gate receipts. He shall allow no person to participate either in a practice or in an inter-collegiate game, or use the property of the Association, unless he is assured that the applicant’s annual dues to the General Association have been paid, and he shall allow no one to participate in an inter-collegiate contest whose eligibility has not been passed upon by the Executive Committee. He shall make no contract that does not contain a clause requiring that the game be played under the rules of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Assistant Managers shall in general assist their respective Managers as the latter may direct.

Adopted May 24, 1913 by the General Athletic Association. Articles 4 to 23 inclusive will appear later.
Mr. Lowery is a Clemson graduate of the class of 1908. After his graduation he has had extensive experience in teaching Agriculture in the Agricultural School of North Carolina.

11. D. B. Rosenkrans, "Instructor in Bontany and Bacteriology" to succeed Prof. A. B. Massey, resigned.

Mr. Rosenkrans is a graduate of the Upper Iowa University where he received his A. B. degree in 1911. Since that date he has done graduate work in the North Carolina A. & M. College where at the same time he was Instructor in Botany and at the time of his appointment he was holding the position of Assistant Bacteriologist to the North Carolina Experiment Station.

Mr. Barnette graduated from Clemson College in the class of 1910. While a student here he made quite a reputation in Track Athletics. Leaving Clemson he went to the University of Ohio where in three years he completed the Veterinary course and received his Doctor's degree.

13. W. A. Thomas, "Assistant Professor of Entomology & Zoology"—to succeed Prof. M. P. Sommes, resigned.

Mr. Thomas graduated from Clemson College in 1908 and since that time has been almost continuously in the employ of the College as a Field Entomologist. He has carried on very notable work, particularly in connection with the study of the life history of the Cotton Root Louse.

Judge John N. Hook, the Secretary and Librarian of the Experiment Station, and connected with the College since its opening, died on August 26th.

At present his work is being carried on by his daughter, Miss Julia Hook, who has been his assistant in the office for many years.

IN MEMORIAM

John Nathan Hook, 1844-1913

By Wm. S. Morrison

John N. Hook, son of Dr. John H. J. Hook and Harriet N. (Culclasure) Hook, was born August 23, 1844 in Orangeburg District, S. C. He spent three years in the Fall Branch Academy, of Orangeburg, under the tuition of T. J. P. Walsh, a graduate of the University of Dublin, Ireland. Here the subject of this sketch was prepared for the Sophomore class of the South Carolina College; but his plans for an education, like those of many another boy of that time, were broken up by the call to arms. Although not subject to military duty, on account of his age, Mr. Hook enlisted in the Second Regiment of South Carolina volunteer artillery. He was one of the two hundred men that for two hours held the Confederate works at Secessionville against an overwhelming force of Federals, keeping the enemy in check until re-inforcements arrived, thus defeating a formidable attempt of the Yankies to capture Charleston. His services were in the neighborhood of that city until it was abandoned by Hardee in the Spring of 1865. He was wounded at Averysboro, fought at Bentonville, and was among those surrendered by Joseph E. Johnston, April 26, 1865, at Greensboro, N. C.

After the war, Mr. Hook devoted himself to farming; and also found time to indulge a taste, kindled in his youth, for study along literary and historical lines.

He took an active part in the memorable Red Shirt political campaign of 1876, was assigned to duty by the executive committee and won an enviable reputation in his native county as a speaker of force and eloquence. He was given a commission in the volunteer militia by Governor Wade Hampton.

In 1893 the Board of Trustees of Clemson College appointed Mr. Hook Secretary of the South Carolina Experiment Station, which office he filled with marked ability for twenty years, until his last illness. He was also at the time of his death the judicial officer of the Clemson College corporation, being clothed by special act of the General Assembly with all the powers of a city recorder.

Judge Hook was twice married. His first wife was Miss Susan M. Pou, of Lexington County, who died in 1891. His second wife was Miss R. E. Miller, of Pendleton, who survives him.

Five children, all by his first marriage, are still living—John H., William N., Mrs. L. A. Berchmyer, Misses Sue M. and Julia A.

Judge Hook after a long and wasting illness fell asleep about 6:00 a.m. Tuesday morning, August 26, 1913. His funeral services—the first funeral service in the new Methodist Church at Clemson, of which he was a member and a Trustee—were held next day, conducted by Rev. P. A. Murray, pastor; after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery of the old Stone Church, near the graves of four Clemson men—Cadets Rembert and Martin and Messrs. J. S. Goodman, and J. S. Newman. Thus grows the Clemson encampment in that sacred enclosure.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING.
On Tuesday night, September 16th, the Junior class met in chapel for the purpose of electing officers for 1913-1914. The election of officers of classes is always an exciting event, therefore a good crowd was out.
It is to be noticed that the Junior class is much smaller than the last year's Sophomore class. Last year, the Sophomore class numbered about 150 men. This year the Junior class numbers about 100 men. It is to be hoped that next year's Senior class will number fully one hundred.
The officers elected for 1913-'14 are:
Hutto, S. W.—President.
Iler, C. B.—Vice President.
Hunter, W. J.—Secretary and Treasurer.
Legrand, L.—Poet.
Swinehart, D. E.—Historian.
Co-operating Committee—Trescott, J. H.; Cannon, J. C.; Caughman K. G.; Randel, E. L.; Bigby, W. A.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING.
The Senior class held its first meeting of the year in chapel Tuesday afternoon. The election of Officers for the ensuing year was held, with the following results:
J. L. Carson—President.
J. W. Erwin—Vice President.
E. H. Pressley—Secretary and Treasurer.
H. L. Parker—Historian.
J. N. McBride—Poet.
B. M. James, Chaplain.
Messrs. Stender, Brawley, Douthit and Ezell were chosen.

COLLEGE NIGHT.

Always one of the most pleasing features of the year, "College Night" this year was bigger and better than ever before. An especially good program was offered, consisting of the best speakers of both faculty and student body. The songs and yells went off with lots of vim. The new men learned the yells and songs rapidly and before the evening was half over we were giving our visitors a sample of how we intend backing Clemson in all her different activities.

The following is the list of speakers and their subjects:
- Dr. W. M. Riggs—The College.
- Prof. D. W. Daniel—College Success.
- J. C. Barksdale—Publications.
- T. C. Haddon—Literary Societies.
- Coach Major—Athletics.
- Robert L. Sweeney—Y. M. C. A.

After the exercises, refreshments were served, thus rounding out a very pleasant evening, and all came back to barracks appreciative of the Y. M. C. A's, making this social gathering possible.

OUR COUNTY PAPERS.

Only those who have been away from home for months can know or realize what the sight and reading of one's county paper is. One glance into our reading room will show the cadets eagerly drinking in the home news, sometimes as many as three reading one paper. It is impossible for the Library to subscribe to the forty-odd county papers of the State. We are therefore more than obliged to those papers whose editors have given to our cadets the pleasure of their own home paper, and especially are we indebted to the "Anderson Daily Mail" and the "Greenville Daily News" who have been our kind faithful friends for many years, giving daily pleasure to the corps.

Our sincere appreciations and thanks, to each and all of our State papers with the hope that we may greet them often throughout the coming year.
