TIGERS LEAVE FOR MERCER

The Tigers left this morning “en route” to Macon, Georgia, where they will play the Mercer Baptists Monday. About twenty men are taking this trip. Among these are Coaches Williams and Major, Manager Douthit, but not Reeves and Durant. These last two “hatted” a few balls out of their county during the summer holidays while on a house party and are on the waiting list, pending a decision of a tie vote as to eligibility.

The team will stop over in Atlanta Saturday and have the pleasure of witnessing the annual battle staged between Georgia and Tech.

In Macon, the Tigers expect a hard game with Coach Hardage’s fast bunch, but if the Citadel can play them to a tie, we surely expect to have the “bacon” brought back to camp.

At one time, the Citadel managed to bring the pig-skin to Clemson’s fifteen yard line. Here the Tigers showed what real defense was. Receiving the ball on downs, the Tigers proceeded to march down the field for a total of eighty yards, before they were halted. The work of the Tigers, considering the difficulties under which they played, was good; while that of the Citadel was a remarkable surprise to their supporters. The men whose work stood out prominently were Weeks, Folger and Sheppard for the Citadel, and Webb, Schilletter, Logan, Caughman and Jeter for Clemson.

Score, Citadel 3, Clemson 7.

ATLANTA ALUMNI IN ANNUAL BANQUET

The Atlanta Chapter of Clemson Alumni held its First Anniversary Dinner on the evening of October 25, at the University Club. Twenty-five graduates and former students were on hand for the occasion. Colonel Henry Tillman, of Greenwood, S. C., was the only one of our invited guests who was able to be with us. He brought us much good news from South Carolina and from that one spot in South Carolina most dear to the hearts of many of us—Clemson.

Dinner was served at 8:00 P. M.; with the first course, enthusiasm began to rise, and it continued to rise until long after the “Roquefort” and “Demi Tasse” had been disposed of.

We were favored during the evening with a Toast on “Greater Clemson” by Colonel Tillman. Several other interesting toasts were proposed by various members of the Chapter. President Roseborough acted as toast master.

At the conclusion of the dinner, officers were elected for 1914. E. A. Thornwell was elected President, R. G. Forsyth, Vice-President, and G. D. Garner, Secretary and Treasurer. An Executive Committee composed of W. H. Scott, V. Livingston and C. T. Pottinger was also elected.

After the elections, the meeting was adjourned, and the members departed with the feeling that we are each and every one of us, representatives of a great school and one that is destined to become much greater.

THE TIGERS FIND THE BULLDOGS STUBBORN

After playing a brilliant game against the University of Georgia last Thursday, the Clemson Tigers, under the directorship of Coach Major, journeyed to the “City by the Sea” for the purpose of giving battle to the Citadel Bull Dogs. Notwithstanding the bad weather conditions, a large crowd was present on Saturday, to see the game. At the start, it looked as if Clemson were going to have a big day of it. Webb receiving the kick-off, made a superb open-field dash, clearing the entire Citadel eleven and was “en route” for a touchdown, only to be halted at the first line, thereby losing a perfectly good chance to help the side of the score.

The Tigers found the Bull Dogs’ defense surprisingly strong. This, coupled with the fact that the team had not fully recovered from the effects of the Georgia game, was the chief cause of the smallness of the final score. To add to the bad luck which Webb encountered at the first part of the game, “Johnnie” Logan made a spectacular ninety-yard run for a touchdown, when Dame Fortune stepped in, and caused him to slip on the muddy field, pulling off a number of well-executed end runs Weeks and Folger starring in this department. Clemson, on the other hand, resorted to line plunges to make most of her gains, Webb, Schilletter, and Jeter standing the bad weather conditions, a large crowd was present on Saturday, to see the game. LITERARY SOCIETIES

CALHOUN

The Calhoun Literary Society held its regular meeting last Friday evening at seven-thirty. The Society was called to order by its Vice-President, Mr. J. C. Barksdale. The following program was carried out: Declarations—F. D. Stirling and C. L. Vaughan. The Orator, H. L. Smith, gave a well-prepared oration. Next in order was the debate. Query, Resolved, that immigrants should be taxed upon their entrance into the United States government to build battleships, should be used to build fortifications. The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. T. G. Harris, A. M. Trotter and W. S. McMahen. While the negative was supported by Messrs. J. S. Moore, H. E. Craig, and W. R. Quinn. Many good points were brought out on both sides. The affirmative was supported by Messrs. M. W. Hunter and S. Johnston, while the negative was well defended by Messrs. W. Sanders, G. P. Hoffman and R. H. Johnson, and E. H. Pate deciding in favor of the negative. After the debate, one of our honorary members, Mr. Robert L. Sweeney, gave a very interesting talk.

PALMIST

The society held its regular meeting on Friday night. The exercises were opened by debate—Query, Resolved, that the right of the United States government to build the telephone and railway systems of the country, was debated by the following: Mr. A. R. Boyd gave a fine declamation, Mr. W. D. Hutchens also recited a good oration on "Shakespeare", Mr. A. B. Usher delivered a good oration on "The Reign of Peace". Mr. C. Rothell read one of the best written essays that the society has listened to this year. He used as his subject, "The Individuality of the College Student".

COLUMBIAN

The President being absent, the meeting was presided over by the Vice-President, Mr. G. M. Armstrong. The oration of the evening, delivered by Mr. C. W. Baker, was very good. Mr. Armstrong gave the Society an excellent declamation, although it was short. The reader, Mr. G.

ON TO ATLANTA!
BEAT TECH OR BUST!

SOUTHERN STANDARDS BEING RAISED

As a result of the Vanderbilt-Yale and the Vandy-Harvard games of the last few years, the consensus of opinion has been that about the only place where northern teams had it on the teams of the South was in the publicity given them by the many large newspapers, in their ability to get the best coaches, paying them almost fabulous prices, which they are able to do on account of endowments and the like. But these advantages, apparently have not given even the teams of the "big eight" a decided edge on the best southern teams.

Vanderbilt no longer wins the southern Championship without much effort, and there are many bidders for it, almost every state having a strong representative. Along with the rise in athletic standards, has come a similar one in college papers. The University of Texas has the great distinction of producing the first college daily in the South. Vanderbilt and Virginia expect to get out a daily before many years have gone by.

This could be done at Clemson with the proper kind of organization, and it's quite probable that, within the next decade, we shall have one. Meanwhile, if we can add a little to our paper each succeeding year, we feel that we are doing our part, and when this goal is reached we shall feel justly proud of our pioneer efforts.

BEAT TECH, WE MUST!
ON TO ATLANTA!

R. Briggs, read a humorous selection by Mark Twain, which was enjoyed by the entire society.

The debate: Resolved, that the Government should not take over the telegraph, telephone and railway systems of the country, was debated by the following: Mr. C. W. Baker, A. L. Edwins.

Mr. A. B. Usher delivered a good oration on "Individuality of the College Student".

GLEE CLUB

Last year the Glee Club was one of the best, if not the very best that Clemson has ever had. And this year with the same director and most of the old men back it will be equally as good, and perhaps better than the one of last year. The loss of Ferguson, the attractive tenor is much felt, yet those who have replaced him are doing all that could be expected.

Heretofore, the glee club has meant much time spent for very little compensation; but it hopes this year to take several trips, and thus afford enjoyment for all those who have been selected as members of the club. Manager Hood has written to a number of colleges, and has already received favorable replies from two, with a number of others yet to be heard from.

Director Wilkerson is having a meeting every night with either the quartette, double quartette, or the whole club; and hopes to have a program ready in about one more week. The songs to be sung by the whole club have all been learned, so the bulk of the practice is being done by the quartette.

Everyone is taking a greater interest in the work this year than for a number of years, and it is reasonable to expect that this will result in a better club.

It has been thought wise by the director to limit the club to twelve men this year instead of sixteen, as has always been the custom, and this new plan is working very well indeed.

The program will consist of songs by the whole club, the double quartette, the quartette, and possibly a solo and a duet. Then the stringed quartette, and a trombone duet will help to complete the program.

Following is a list of those who are now members of the club, and their respective parts:

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Maude was home from college.

"Will you," she said to her mother, "pass me my diminutive argenteous truncated cone, convex on its summit, and semi-perforated with symmetrical indentations?"

She was asking for her thimble.

"Thomas," said mother, severely, "some one has taken a big piece of my ginger cake out of the pantry." Thomas blushed guiltily.

"Oh, Thomas, I didn't think it was in you."

"It ain't all," replied Tommy. "Part of it is in Elsie."
HIS WEAK POINT
(Youth's Companion).
A quaint story is told to exemplify the pride that every man should take in the works by which he makes a living.

Two street sweepers, seated on a curbstone, were discussing a comrade who had died the day before.

"Bill certainly was a good sweeper," said one.

"Y-e-s," conceded the other, thoughtfully. "But—don't you think he was a little weak around the lamp posts?"

ODE TO AN AUTO

Along the peaceful country ways
The speeding motor wagons raise
Dark clouds of dust and spread a pall
That thickly settles over all.

That farmer's fields of corn and hay
That grow beside the traveled way.

His chickens feeding peacefully
Are hurled into eternity,
As with a dull and sanguine shock
The auto hits a helpless flock,
And sends the feathers floating high.
Above the spot where many die.

Also it is quite frequent how
They gently strike a horse or cow,
Poor farmer, he has little time
To check this awful wave of crime;
For he speeds gaily and serene
In his six-cylinder machine.—Pulitzer's.

Turkey is nice, yes, but we will take Yellow Jacket for Thanksgiving.

Coach Donohue of Auburn, never fails to get out a contender for Championship honors.

Coach Cunningham of Georgia would probably like to add his team to the list of those that Clemson has showed her class against.

The officials of the Georgia-Clemson game declared it one of the classiest games that they had seen on a southern gridiron in years.

Nearly all of the southern college coaches are “Respecters of persons”, when they have one of “Bob” Williams’ teams next on their schedule.

There will be no sleep for the weary the night after the Tech game. We have just naturally got to celebrate whether we are here, or in Atlanta.

Everybody is playing football at Clemson these days. The Junior class men are getting in shape for the Class series after Christmas and the “has been” are practicing daily, in addition to the other activities going on out on the field.

The results of the canvass to see how many men would like to go to Atlanta have not been announced yet. We ought to have 300 go. All the alumni that can possibly get there will be on the scene, and everybody will have a corking good time.

Fellows, do you realize that we have got “the football team” that “Doc.” Calhoun spoke of, right here at Clemson this year? Well, we have, and with it we are going to do one more good job this year, and that will settle our old score with Tech on Thanksgiving.

In an article in The Atlanta Journal, just the other day, Coach Donohue of Auburn, said, “The Alabama-Clemson game gave no correct estimate of the real strength of Clemson. Going back to Clemson a down-hearted bunch of youngsters, the Tiger team was met with a revival of the old Clemson spirit—got to work in earnest, and showed their class against Auburn and Carolina.”

He goes on further to say, “that football lovers in Atlanta will see some battle “Turkey Day”.

Having read an article on the Student Roll of Tech in Technique, we decided to take a glance over our own roll to see just what animals, birds, plants, and miscellaneous species we could boast of.

We have two Byrds, and they are both rare specimens; a Baker, a Dean, a Goldsmith, two Glovers, three Hunters, a missing Link, a Camp well defended with Cannon, a Cook, Bulls and Barnes, some Hay, a Bush, a Drake, and sometimes a Howie, the result of Cain being raised.

Fain would we ask as a Boone that you let us stop here at the foot of these Hills in the roll. But above us we see yet Moore Peeples and phenomena, Kittles Lockes, Poolos, Sellers, Senns, Shields, per-Simmons, and even Stills. This last saddens us so that we hurry on to a close only stopping to have you note some Tarboxes, our Wards, the fact that we have Winters, and that Clemson boasts of another Washington.

GOOD COLLEGE SPIRIT

The following paragraph taken from “The Hustler”, the Vanderbilt University paper, gives us an idea of what the famous old “Vandy” spirit is like. The Vanderbilt team had just returned from Charlottesville, where they had been badly beaten by Virginia.

“When the battered Commodores rolled into the T. C. depot Monday, they were met by a small band of spirited rooters. The definite time of their arrival was not generally known, so only a few students were there. The small band had plenty of spirit, and they showed the team that they were all with them.”

That’s the spirit that counts, fellows. Make the team feel that every man is behind them whether they win or lose.

This from “Tech” —

“A challenge has been sent Clemson for an intercollegiate debate, but as yet, no answer has been received. Every debator is resolved to win a place on the team in case the societies should accept, and this is causing better arguments at each meeting.”

Mr. Frank Hodge of Clemson, S. C., has become one of the force in the State chemist’s office.

EFFORTS TO ORGANIZE “ANNUAL” CLUB

Editor-in-Chief Sims of the Commodore, the Vanderbilt University Annual, is trying to perfect the association of college annual editors. His plan, if carried out, will mean much to future inexperienced editors.

His plan is for each college holding membership to contribute each year, a volume of its annual, with a review of its book, showing the good and bad points, the cost of separate items, where the work was done, and other facts. This copy then becomes the property of the Association. In a few years, the Association will have a very creditable collection of books, and the foundation of a good annual library.

These books should be of immense value in aiding future editors to escape the pitfalls of annual publication.

“It’s easy enough to keep cheering When the game goes on like a song, But the man WHO’S A “BEAR”, Is the man who can cheer When everything goes dead wrong.” —“Technique”
MEET ME IN ATLANTA

The game between the Tigers and the Yellow Jackets which is to be played in Atlanta Thanksgiving is being talked by everybody who knows anything about the doings of things in the football world. The showing we made against Auburn, which is doped to have the strongest team in the South, and against Georgia in which game our team played a far better game, assured us that we shall make it hot for Tech. To put it in the words of Heisman, "You outplayed them five to one, and the game should have been your." Now with such things as these behind us, and a team that is one of the best in the South working for us, and the game that is the greatest in our football history before us; it's up to us to DO! First we will see what others are doing.

The Atlanta Chapter of the Clemson Alumni wants every Alumni and supporter of Clemson to come to Atlanta Thanksgiving, where they can talk over matters as to what will be the best possible steps or procedure in making Clemson again have the best football team in the South.

We print two letters from members of the Atlanta Chapter which follow:

The Tiger,
Clemson College, S. C.

November 11, 1913

Gentlemen:
Your suggestion for a Football Rally in Atlanta on Thanksgiving Day meets with the enthusiastic approval of the Atlanta Chapter of the Alumni Association. I do not know of anything that would stimulate more interest in athletics at the College than to have as many of the Alumni as possible get together here on Thanksgiving Day and talk over football conditions and support the team at the game.

The team has just made a wonderful showing against Georgia and will undoubtedly make an equally good showing against Tech on Thanksgiving. At any rate, there will be a real football game in Atlanta that day, and when Tech leaves the field there will be no doubt in their minds but they have been up against a real team.

We hope to have a large part of the student body here, and the Atlanta Chapter will keep open house at the University Club, 190 Peachtree St., from 10 to 12 Thanksgiving morning, and want every Clemson alumus that possibly can to be there at that time.

Let's all get together here Thanksgiving Day, for a rousing good time, and cheer the team on to victory, and boost athletics at Clemson.

Mr. J. D. Murray, 616 Rhodes Bldg., Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, or myself at the University Club, will be glad to make any hotel accommodations for any of the fellows that are coming.

OUR "MOVIES"

The tri-weekly moving show given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, under the auspices of the "C" Club and the Y. M. C. A. has become a much enjoyed feature of our college life. The hall chosen for the picture show is admirably adapted to such entertainments and the pictures given now are as regular and clear as we see in most of the dime theatres of our home towns.

The management tries to get pictures that please, and negotiations are now under way toward getting the films of the fair trip, which show both football games, races, high dives, etc. You can't miss this one as you are likely to be able to see yourself again with your best girl and this will be the next thing to reality. If you have had a "spat" with her since the fair and don't care to see her again, you can enjoy the scenery that you no doubt failed to observe when you were in her presence. It's quite likely that this picture will be shown in chapel as well as in the hall near the Y. M. C. A.

Will every man that reads this make a determined effort to be here, and let us know if we cannot expect you?
 Yours very truly,
E. A. Thornwell, '04
President, Atlanta Chapter

Atlanta, Ga.
November 12, 1913

Gentlemen:
Immediately upon receipt of your letter, I got in touch with Al Thornwell, '04, President of the Atlanta Chapter, and asked him to write to the Tiger. I feel sure that such a statement, coming from the President, would carry with it more weight than would otherwise be the case.

You may take it from me that the Rally which you suggest meets with the hearty approval of every fellow here, and that nothing which this chapter can do to promote the plan will fail to be backed up by every individual member.

You are probably aware of the fact that we have already taken up with President Riggs plans for having the Corps over for Thanksgiving Day. We believe that this will be a big drawing card and will assist materially in helping the team drive the Yellow Jackets into their hole.

We will see that the newspapers do their share.

With best wishes for the success of your scheme, I remain,
 Yours very sincerely,
W. M. Rosborough, '08.

Now who is it up to but us? Will we all be in Atlanta on November 27, 1913?

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Two fine numbers will be given on the Lyceum course in the near future. Dean Southwick of the Emerson School of Oratory will present Sheridan's immortal comedy, "The Rivals", on the evening of November 15. Dean Southwick does the same sort of work on the stage that Leland Powers does, and comes as highly recommended.

The Schuman Quintet comes on the evening of November 29. This company is composed of artists of high rank and they play high class music. It costs $180 to get the company, and the entertainment should be one of the best on the entire course.

Carl A. Lampert, organizer and first violin, was for nine years first violin in Thoman's Orchestra. He studied under Jacobson and abroad in the Prague Conservatory under Rucby. The other members of the quintet are almost as noted. Nicolai Zedeler is the cellist; Norman Weiler, the second violinst; Jeanette Phillips Lambert, pianist; and Miriam Zedeler, organist.

The unusual thing about the concert is the symphonic effect that is secured from a specially constructed reed organ which the company carries. This organ goes far towards supplying the place of many wind and reed instruments, and the effect combined with the piano and the stringed instruments is unique. Added interest is given to the concert by the setting of historic costumes.

BROKE, BROKE, BROKE!

Broke, broke, broke! Are "everyday" terms you see, but you'd better be glad that the pen won't write.

The thoughts that arise in me:
Oh, well for the millionaire's boy As he rides in his auto car, And feasts all day on the fat of the land "Mid the smoke of a cigar.

But the "poverty struck" go on To their haven under the hill And sigh from morn till eventide For the sound of the "chink" that is still, —Red and Black.

ALL GONE

(Cleveland Leader).

A veteran, talking to his great-grandson, a little lad of eight or nine years, remarked:
"Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga."

The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said:
"There isn't much grazing there now, is there, granddad?"

WHAT DOES IT LOOK LIKE?

BEAT TECH. OR BUST!

POIN TED PARAGRAPHS

The egotist thinks he has a good "I."
Great opportunities seldom employ an advance agent.
An unmarried man never realizes how many faults he has.
Why hire a trained nurse to nurse a grievance?
A little push will generally last longer than a political pull.
Few men care to say what they think about women.
Our idea of a queer woman is one who prefers comfort to style.
A girl thinks her first beau has got more than her father ever knew.
A man never knows what he can do until he tries—then he may be sorry he found out.
"Look out for paint"—before falling in love with a beautiful complexion.
When a woman runs across the street to a neighbor's house for just a minute she stays an hour.
Some men are proud of the fact they have insomnia because they imagine it indicates excessive brain work.

BEAT TECH, WE MUST! BEAT TECH OR BUST!

HAIR IN EVERYTHING.
She—I was over to dinner at your house yesterday.
He—I hope you enjoyed it I am sure.
She—Yes, but, I found hair in most everything. I found hair in the honey, hair in the ice cream, and hair in the apple sauce.
He—Well, that's funny, although I can account for some of it at that. The hair in the honey was due to the "comb." The hair in the ice cream was due to "shaving" the ice; but, I can't account for the hair in the apple sauce, because the apples were all Baldwins (bald ones.)—The Battalion.

NOTHING.
He—"Do you know much about golf?"
She—"Absolutely nothing. I wouldn't even know how to hold my caddy properly."—Boston Transcript.

ARE YOU GOING?

PLENTY OF TIME
"Papa, I want an ice cream Sundae."
"All right, dear, remind me of it again; this is only Tuesday."

TECH MUST BE BEAT!

"How shall I know if they want me to give an encore?" asked Mrs. Nuglory demurely at the amateur theatricals.
"That will be quite easy," explained Mrs. Korstic. "You will hear the cat calls."—Judge.
