JUNIORS LOSE HARD BATTLE TO SOPHOMORES

McConnell, Le Grand, and Jackson Play Spectacular Game

By consistent fighting, and the wonderful toe work of McConnell, the Sophomores, upsetting all the dope, defeated the Juniors by the small margin of 3 to 0. The features of the game were the work of McConnell for the Sophomores, who put the pigskin between the bars for the winning points, and the ferocious tackling and speed of Le Grand for the loosers. The defensive work of both lines was hard to surpass.

SOPHS-FRESH FIGHT TO TIE

In what has been called by many the most beautiful game of football seen in years on Bowman field, the Sophs upset all dope and held the Freshmen to a 0-0 tie.

To try to name the stars of this game is to give the entire lineup of both teams. Every man acquitted himself as if he had been a veteran of many years experience. However special mention should be given the following, for the Sophs: McConnell was again the bright shining star in both tackling and end running, through which he had an able second in Jackson. The utter abandon with which these two men run has won for them the admiration of even the Varsity stars. Boyd at quarter also played a good game, Jeter’s work is picking up steadily.

In the Sophomore line, the highest honors go to Cox at center whose accurate passing and ability to get through the line have made him the mainstay of the line. On the ends Harrall and Haigler did yeoman’s service at tackling, while Harrall’s work in cutting down interference was great. “Rabbit” May, at tackle, played a strong game and gave his opponent trouble all the way through, as did Cannon whose play was especially good.

For the Freshmen, the work of Bull, Harris, Mathews deserves first mention. Bull’s line plunging puts him far ahead of any line backer we have seen during the class games, while Harris showed great class on end runs and re-

ATLANTA TEAM DEFEATS GAME CLEMSON FIVE

Erwin and Smith Star

In one of the roughest games ever seen at the Athletic club in Atlanta, the A. A. C. club five won from Clemson on the night of January 31st, by a score of 45 to 30.

The Atlanta Journal had the following to say about the game, “The last occasion on which the Carolinians were defeated by local talent was Thanksgiving day when the Jackets upset the well figured dope, and trounced them soundly on the gridiron. In that battle, the Tigers appeared to lack aggressiveness, and were not rushing matters as is their usual wont.

It may be stated with Simon pure certainty that such a statement does not apply to Saturday nights contest. They were aggressive in this battle, yes, they were in there fighting in more ways than one. The game was rough as pig iron in spots though it was not the fault of the visiting athletes any more than that of the home talent. During the battle full many a form stretched full length upon the floor and full many an elbow or other exposed bit of anatomy shed cuticle upon the walls and floor. Numerous fouls were called but the spott still raged.”

From the above quotation from the Journal; the sad story that has come to our ear about “Mutt” Gee crowding all but the hands and feet of some enterprising young athlete behind a bench, and the difference in the final score of this and of last years' game we know that it must have been some battle.

For Clemson "Sook" Erwin was easily the star, making twenty-five of the thirty points scored by his five.
Eighteen of his points were scored on goals from the field, while he hung up six successful shots from behind the fool line. Smith for the Athletic club was in great form and went "Sook"
one better by hanging up ten field goals. "Kenney" Caughman played a corking good defensive game and in fact all are to be congratulated upon putting up such a game against a team which beat Auburn 70-20, and lost to the University of Georgia by a single point.

The line up follows:
Clemson
Erwin (25) r. g. Graves (8) and Thornton (2) c. Smith (20)
Ogdon (3) c. Dupard (12)
Caughman r. g. Carter (4) and Gee and Locke
Hoffmeyer l. g. Smith J.

Old Penn. Football Coach Will Start a Football School

Andy Smith, a former Penn. football coach, who is now at Purdue University, has announced that he will start a school for coaches at that school. He will also be at the head of a course of football which Purdue proposes to introduce. The course will begin in May or June, and will last throughout the summer. He intends to turn out men who will be able to coach the high school boys of the middle west, in every department of the game.

New Athletes Association Advocated For Southwest

A movement is on foot and several articles have been written favoring the formation of a Southwestern Inter-collegiate Athletics Association. If organized, this association will probably consist of the following schools: L. S. U., Tulane, Mississippi University, Mississippi A. and M., Arkansas, Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A. and M., Texas University, and Texas A. and M. The association would consist of at least nine or ten strong schools, all of whom would be strong contenders for championship honors. This would be of great benefit to the Southwestern teams, because they would have more big games at home. Thanksgiving games could then be secured.

THE LYCEUM

The concert given on the lyceum course last Saturday evening proved to be one of the most enjoyable ever heard at Clemson. The New York Artists Concert Company proved itself to be a company of artists indeed. Every member on the program was a classic and was rendered with an enthusiasm finish, and grace that charmed. The solo work of each artist was superb while the blending of the well trained voices in the ensemble work of the company gave a melody that was almost bewitching in effect. The large audience manifested unmistakable appreciation of the fine work of the company both by close attention and generous applause, thus showing that Clemson audiences enjoy music of the highest class.

Mr. Frederick Martin, the basso, has been to Clemson several times, and he always delights his hearers. The New York Artists Concert Company will always find a warm welcome at Clemson.

The Boston Musical Club

The next number on the lyceum course will be given on the evening of Feb. 14 by the Boston Musical Club. This company comes highly recommended. Its program, consisting of concert, opera, and minstrelsy, will be varied. Reports from places where this company has entertained say that the whole performance is delightful from beginning to end, and that the most exacting will find difficulty in suggesting anything by way of improvement.

There are four ladies and four gentlemen in the company, and they are not only artists, but are also attractive in appearance and charming in manner. The committee regards this as the most pleasing attraction of the course, though it stands second in cost.

The Number That Wasn't

The failure of Booth Lowery to meet his engagement was a great disappointment. The committee will do its best to secure Mr. Lowery for a later engagement or will seek to get a number that will be even more enjoyable.

EDITORIALS

One can hardly appreciate the fact that it’s but a short four months until the close of the 1913-1914 session.

This seems to have been a banner session in almost every line. Athletics, scholarship, deportment, etc. There has been hardly anything which deserved even the least criticism unless it was that matter which came up Saturday night at the lyceum entertainment. Everybody appreciates the fact that those few who hissed at the men who wanted an encore did it unthinking ly, and feels sure that it won’t happen again.

To say the very least such actions are not encouraging to those who are singing for our pleasure—and its ungentlemanly—“nuff ced.”

You say that four months is a long time. Well, I know that there are a couple of exam weeks in that time—but, man! Just wait until you hear those bats cracking and mits popping and see Clemson men rounding those bases with the scores which beat our dearest opponents—why time will just seem to fly, and besides that there’s lots of excitement on the track, a good clean race with Clemson men showing the class that they have become noted for throughout the South. I tell you June will be here before you know it.

This year’s series of class games promises to be as hard fought as any in the past. Saturday’s game was decided by a neat drop kick.

Varsity material doesn’t seem especially plentiful, but the quality is there. We would give names, but let’s wait until the series is completed.

Tech and Georgia have started baseball practice already, and with a continuance of this beautiful weather, we will have them in a couple of weeks.

Get ready for the call.

Track Department

While the outlook for a good track team is not so bright we still have hopes of putting out a team that will make a very creditable showing.

In the sprints are Le Grand, Jackson, Barnette, and Haigler. From this no doubt will develop the nucleus for a strong relay team.

In the hurdles and jumps we have McMahon, Culclasure, Verner, and Campsen.

In the weights we are greatly handicapped by the loss of Captain Turbeville, winner of shot-put at S. I. A. A. last year, and holder of S. I. A. A. record.

For the distances we are unfortunate in that Captain Ward is ineligible, and this leaves Lewis, Odom, and Clarke the job of running the mile and the half mile.

As to the new men we have high hopes of finding such material as will give Clemson the standing which she once held in the South.

Track work seems to be on the decline in the South, and meets are very hard to arrange; however, we hope to be able to have an attractive schedule this year.

FOOTBALL EXTRA

Sophomores Win Cup

Juniors win game that gives Sophomores cup

In a game which was a fitting climax to the high grade class games that we have had this year, the Juniors broke the football hoodoo which has seemed to hang over them; scored the only touchdown of the series; and incidentally, decided that the cup should go to the Sophomores, who won in a 48 minute game Saturday.

Everyone had expected that the field would be a sea of mud after the hard rains, but the sun and wind had got in their work and the field was in fair shape. It has been hard to give the stars justice in the games this year because of the number of men who have played a really high class game. But we do not fear the least contradiction when we say that Matthews was the stellar light of the game Saturday. This big fellow's work at getting down under the ball and taking tackles which rightfully belonged to the ends smacked strongly of varsity for him next year. Harris again played great ball for his team, getting his kicks off in good style and getting fine distance. His open field running was also a feature. McFadden and Horton played good ball at the ends for the Freshmen, as did Harmon and White at their positions.

For the Juniors, the work of Richards, Arthur, Le Grand and Kennedy were features. Richards and Arthur played good games as safety men, and their work at returning punts was fine. Le Grand made some nice gains but his speed was hampered by the condition of the field. In the Junior's line, Kennedy probably played the best game and his work in cutting down interferences and getting the Freshmen backs behind the line of scrimmage was great. Wannamaker, Jennings and Carmichael played strong games for their team both on defense and offense.

This game winds up the inter-class series, and a more beautiful series has probably never been seen on Bowman field. The spirit has been fine, and the games hard fought and clean. Only one touchdown was scored in the entire series, that one being scored in the final game. It is by a process of deduction that the cup is awarded.

The Sophs beat the Juniors 3 to 0. The Fresh play the Sophs to a 0-0 tie. The Juniors beat the Fresh 7 to 3. The Sophs remain undefeated—their cup.

Of the coaches “Hop” Gandy probably deserves most credit, not because his team won the cup—but because he took the disheartened Soph squad and made it such a fighting machine. James and Schilletter as chief coaches also deserve much credit because of the work they have done in developing their men, and we expect to see their work rewarded by many of their squads making varsity positions next year.

Coach Williams has enjoyed the entire series and thinks that is one of the best if not the very best class series he has ever seen. He has been busy jotting down names in his “little book” and expects to have all these stars out next fall.

The score of the final and deciding game follows:

The score: 7 to 3.

Second Quarter

Freshman’s ball first down and ten to go. Kirven gets 2 on run around left end. Harris attempts left end, fumbles and Richard recovers. Arthur punts 35 yards to Harris who is downed in his tracks. Harris punts twenty yards to Richards, who with a beautiful 45 yard run made possible the Junior's touchdown which followed, on two gains of one and six yards by Le Grand. Arthur kicks goal. Score: Juniors 7, Fresh 0. Le Grand kicks off 25 yards to Horton who brings oval back 20 yards. Barksdale gains 7 through line. Kirven makes 20 yards around left end, but is brought back and penalized fifteen yards for holding. Harris punts 25 yards to Richards who is downed in his tracks. In an exchange of punts Freshmen lose ten yards. Le Grand and Osborne fail on attempts at ends. Arthur punts 20 yards to Dick who brings back 10. Barksdale fails to gain at line. Harris punts 35 yards to Richards who brings back five but fumbles, Mathews receiving. Harris loses 21-2, then punts 25 to Richards who is downed in his tracks. Arthur punts 30 yards to Dick, but ball is brought back. Freshmen offside. Le Grand makes six yards around right end. Arthur two through line. Ball in center of field and in possession of Juniors. Half en-l.

Third Quarter

Final score: Juniors 7, Freshmen 3.

GET A COPY OF SHAKESPEARE’S WORKS
At the request of a number of students, Prof. Bryan recently ordered copies of the three-volume Shakespeare published in the “Everyman’s Library.” A good many who did not know of the first order having asked him to send for some more, he will send a final order on Thursday, Feb. 12. The tragedies are in one volume, the comedies in one, and the historical plays and poems in another, at 35 cents per volume. The publishers offer a discount to pay carriage charges and sell three volumes for one dollar. This is an unusual opportunity to get a good, but inexpensive edition of the great dramatist’s complete works. Why not spend a dollar in that way? There are also over 600 other titles in the “Everyman’s Library” edition at the same rate.

PRELIMINARY CONTEST
The preliminary contest for the Tech debate was in every way a success. Much enthusiasm had been aroused among the boys, and a large crowd was out to encourage the speakers. This was much appreciated by all those working for this honor, of representing Clemson at Tech, and it inspired them to do their best on this occasion.

Every man present, the speakers included, wanted the two best men to represent them at Tech and nothing short of that would have met with their approval.

All the speakers did as well, and some even better than was expected of them, and not one of them would be considered anything less than a worthy representative of their society and of Clemson.

Professor Daniel acted as presiding officer while Messrs. Poats, Martin and Crum acted as judges. The speakers acted wisely in selecting such men as judges and were fortunate in having such capable men, for this very important work.

As stated before, all the speakers did unusually well, and the judges were right in saying that any two of them would be worthy to represent Clemson against Tech. After much deliberation and discussion the judges chose Messrs. H. R. Boyd and T. C. Haddon as the best men for the final test. These two men will have the cooperation of the other four speakers in preparing their debates, and if we do not beat Tech on March 6th, we must have some one to tell us the reason why.

Nineteen battery candidates have reported for the Harvard base ball team, but they haven’t a thing on us. Lp. so true just exactly that number have signed up for try-outs as pitchers at Clemson.
