If Calbert Watkins and Bryan contributed six points to go with their ever-increasing score, Watkins and Sekenck each exhibited the ball, and Watkins followed by a quick shot that was knocked away by the Tigers. Then P. C. tightened down, and Bryan ended it with a goal. The score was 28-17.

In a scrappy game, characterized by good, tallying one. Williams added another goal and Colbert came back with added points. Bryan's goal marked the scorekeeper became lost as the parts of a well regulated machine. The latter's goal marked the scorekeeper became lost as the parts of a well regulated machine. The Society was called to order by the president. After the roll call and reading of minutes of the last meeting the regular program was taken up. The orator, Mr. Cox, read a very interesting paper on "Our Army and Navy." The declaimer, Mr. Davis, gave a humorous declamation and used the old and familiar "Dinah." Mr. Van read a very humorous piece.

The regular calendar was then taken up.

Three of the orators were absent, as the president called for volunteers. Messrs. Prindle, Pease, and Wilson volunteered.

Messrs. Prindle and Bart represented the affirmative side of the question. Messrs. Prindle and Wilson represented the negative. The judges and homes decided in favor of the negative, Mr. Trotter was taken into the society. There being no further business, the society adjourned.

Clemson Agricultural College

A young man can make no better investment than in a technical education. Viewed merely as a matter of business, even if he has to borrow the matter at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity perhaps even in the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait to earn from the same sources, which your education will make possible, earning capacity only one-half or one-third of that of an educated man. Every year of unemployment, uneducated labor represents a direct financial loss. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are unable to pay for his education shows the value of education in his note at the bank and begins preparation that will make for greater earning capacity and a fuller life. There is no time to lose. The world is looking for men of large ability and is willing to pay for them. Already there is a surplus of the one-horsepower variety.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND AGRICULTURE

One of the largest and best equipped Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges in the South. 1,344 acres of land. Value of plant over $1,300,000. Over 120 teachers, officers and assistants. Enrollment of over 1,500. Every county in South Carolina represented. 13 Degree Courses. 4 Short Courses. 2 Short Courses of Instruction. New and improved facilities, equipment and sanitation. Over $100,000 expended in public service.

VALUE OF A TECHNICAL COLLEGE EDUCATION

A college education is no longer a luxury of the rich, more a necessity of the poor boy whose parents can give him little or nothing to start on. In earning capacity, it represents at least a saving of over $25,000, investing capital of from $18,000 to $30,000, depending upon the energy, character and personality of the possessor, and the capital increases with every year of its efficient use. There was never a time in the history of the world when expert knowledge was more in demand, and where success, and so high—compensated. For the untrained away the positions of laborers, wages, long hours and poverty.

Clemson College brings within the reach of every boy in South Carolina the highest standard of a technical education. The war is provided for, whereby if he have the ambition and capacity for knowledge, he can succeed and continue to improve. Here, at a cost lower than the nearest similar institution, can a young man obtain an education that will prepare him for self-sustaining, self-respecting citizenship.

W. M. RIGGS, President.
