FOOTBALL MANAGERS ELECTED

Last Wednesday evening the Athletic Association held a meeting for the purpose of electing a manager and two assistant managers of its Tigers. The candidates nominated were as follows: for manager, Jones, J. H. and Wallace, F. M.; for Assistant-Managers, Burns, T. H., Young, J. L., Bruton, B. R. and Black, J. M. After a few remarks by the president, Mr. Henry, the vote was taken. Mr. Wallace, F. M. was elected manager. Messrs. Burns, T. H. and Young, J. L. were chosen as Assistant-Managers. Mr. Henry, then made the statement that the Tiger Athletic Council found it necessary last fall to divest inter-collegiate athletics, and that in this action Mr. Way had been elected baseball manager, was forced out of his position without having had any part in the so-called "managerial ability"—the Athletic Council contends that Mr. Way be elected manager of all class athletics, in order that he may demonstrate his "managerial ability." The suggestion was adopted, and Mr. Way is our manager of class athletics. Here's to you "Jimmy."

This was apparently all the business brought up. "Leaves of Absence" was heard from all sides. Mr. Wallace was the first to speak. He said, in a simple, straightforward manner: "I believe, I consider it an honor to have been elected manager of the Tigers for the coming year. I'll do my best." Mr. Burns said he appreciated the offer the boys had given him, and would try to do his best for the Tigers.

Mr. Pressey then brought up the subject of the "Breakage Fee." Every year, each student signs over to the Athletic Association a part of his breakage with the object of the "Breakage Fee." Every year, each student signs over to the Athletic Association a part of his breakage with the object of the "Breakage Fee." Every year, each student signs over to the Athletic Association a part of his breakage with the object of the "Breakage Fee." Mr. Henry then urged the men to come out for class football. The purpose of class athletics is to develop new material and if no new men come out, the purpose is defeated. Get your courage up and give it a trial. You never know, you are going to fail them? Be a true American, fight to the last ditch.

"Johnny" Wings: (watching the extra walkers returning from a hike) "Why are these others coming from here?"

"Varsity" Blankenship: "They are coming from Central; they had three extras."

"Tommy," (thoughtfully): "Hah, if I have twenty I wouldn't go home!"

TEAM IN FINE TRIM

WOODFORD HERE FRIDAY

Our basketball team is rapidly getting into better form now. After the first game this season, we were not up to our best, but the last game against Junior, Nell, J. M., those mummies, Barstow, J. H., and Freshman, Fee. O. S. Later in the week, we are going to be doing, and every indication points towards our having an even better team this season than we had last. We have already shown P. C. that we are often the "top", and we are going to show the rest of the teams the same thing. Every one is glad to see the reformation of basketball here, as it is one more indication of a determination to put out winning teams in every phase of inter-collegiate athletics.

Professor Morrison returned to his home from the Spartanburg hospital last Monday. He wanted to resume his classwork immediately, but his doctors advised him to rest up for a while longer. We all hope that he will soon be able to "shoot" as much as his old time self.

Work on the annual program is progressing like a March wind. The staff has been working time and half overtime so that the book may be ready for delivery by mid-September. Mr. Lide, the essayist, was not prepared. The report of the critic, the society disbanded, and he deserves comment for his inability. Mr. Mays, the essayist, was not prepared. The regular program was suspended, and we were led in prayer by Mr. Scaife, the president, and was led in prayer by Mr. Scaife, the president, and was led in prayer by Mr. Scaife, the president.

The annual program was then taken up. Mr. Robinson was elected literary critic; Mr. Mackin, the regular critic,代替 the president, Mr. Williams. The regular critic being absent, Mr. McMeekin was appointed by the president to act as literary critic of the society. The regular workers were then called out to an excellent manner. Mr. Lide gave a short oration, which was enjoyed by all. Mr. Mays, the essayist, was not prepared.

The world is looking for men of large ability and is willing to pay for them. Every year of untrained, uneducated labor represents a direct financial loss. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are not in a position to earn the money necessary to pay for an education with an earning capacity perhaps even the first year after graduation will find that his increased earning capacity retains even the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a wise policy to take the money necessary to pay for an education with an earning capacity more than one-half or one-third of that of an educated man. Every year of untrained, uneducated labor is a sacrifice which the individual and the country can ill afford. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are not in a position to pay for an education should be given some means to increase his knowledge at a lower cost than at any similar institution, can a young man obtain an education that will prepare him for self-sustaining, self-respecting citizenship.
