4-3-1918

The Tiger Vol. XIII No. 21 - 1918-04-03

Clemson University

Follow this and additional works at: https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/tiger_newspaper

Materials in this collection may be protected by copyright law (Title 17, U.S. code). Use of these materials beyond the exceptions provided for in the Fair Use and Educational Use clauses of the U.S. Copyright Law may violate federal law.

For additional rights information, please contact Kirstin O'Keefe (kokeefe [at] clemson [dot] edu)

For additional information about the collections, please contact the Special Collections and Archives by phone at 864.656.3031 or via email at cuscl [at] clemson [dot] edu

Recommended Citation

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Publications at TigerPrints. It has been accepted for inclusion in Tiger Newspapers by an authorized administrator of TigerPrints. For more information, please contact kokeefe@clemson.edu.
VOL. XIII.
CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., APRIL 3, 1918.

“Every man is the son of his own works.”
“Renounce self to attain self.”

CLEMSON MAN WINS DECORATION

WANTS SNAPPY SALUTE

WAR DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS AT VICE DIVISION COMMANDERS OF CRITICISM VOICED BY EXPERTS

CLEMSON CANDIDATES HONOR MAJOR JONES

BASEBALL

CONTRIBUTIONS OF CORPS RENDER POSSIBLE.

“Sulphate of Ammonia?”
“Waste is sin. Every man ought to save that he may give freely.”

CLEMSON’S ANSWER TO THE CALL

The records in the Register’s Office show that 416 Clemson graduates and ex-students are in the service of the United States, of whom half or 318 of these men are graduates.

We believe there are many others, but it has been impossible to secure their names.

Some of the men in the service think that the number of 416 is mighty small, and they are bringing in over 800 men wearing the Army or Navy uniform today. The approximate total of ex-students included in the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school been delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.

250 MEN ENROLL TO BUILD SHIPS.

On last Tuesday evening Prof. Frank E. McKibben, of Lehigh University, gave an illustrated lecture in Chapel on the subject, “Can America Finish Those Ships in Time?”. As he was the leader of the lecture, which was very interesting and instructive, 250 men enrolled to build ships during the summer months.

NEW ITEM FROM THE BETHEL NEWS—“COME” JANUARY 1918.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Professors Frank P. McKibben of the Civil Engineering Department of Lehigh University, an expert in lecture and recruiting service of the Industrial Service Department of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which is under the United States Shipping Board. The Government seeks 200,000 additional workmen for building ships to meet war conditions and Professor McKibben has been called upon to take charge, in particular, of propaganda to make college and technical school students of the country acquainted with the opportunity for patriotic service presented in this line of work. He has prepared lectures, both for the general public, and for distribution at colleges throughout the United States by himself and other speakers.

Dr. James A. Wallace, President of Throop Coll-
gege, Passadena, Cal., has been named to give the illustrated lectures on the Pacific Coast.

Continuing his connection with Lehigh University and with Bethlehem as his headquarters, Professor McKibben will speak at many Eastern colleges and technical schools during the winter and spring months. His itinerary for the first part of the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school being delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.

250 MEN ENROLL TO BUILD SHIPS.

On last Tuesday evening Prof. Frank E. McKibben, of Lehigh University, gave an illustrated lecture in Chapel on the subject, “Can America Finish Those Ships in Time?”. As he was the leader of the lecture, which was very interesting and instructive, 250 men enrolled to build ships during the summer months.

NEW ITEM FROM THE BETHEL NEWS—“COME” JANUARY 1918.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Professors Frank P. McKibben of the Civil Engineering Department of Lehigh University, an expert in lecture and recruiting service of the Industrial Service Department of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which is under the United States Shipping Board. The Government seeks 200,000 additional workmen for building ships to meet war conditions and Professor McKibben has been called upon to take charge, in particular, of propaganda to make college and technical school students of the country acquainted with the opportunity for patriotic service presented in this line of work. He has prepared lectures, both for the general public, and for distribution at colleges throughout the United States by himself and other speakers.

Dr. James A. Wallace, President of Throop Coll-
gege, Passadena, Cal., has been named to give the illustrated lectures on the Pacific Coast.

Continuing his connection with Lehigh University and with Bethlehem as his headquarters, Professor McKibben will speak at many Eastern colleges and technical schools during the winter and spring months. His itinerary for the first part of the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school being delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.

250 MEN ENROLL TO BUILD SHIPS.

On last Tuesday evening Prof. Frank E. McKibben, of Lehigh University, gave an illustrated lecture in Chapel on the subject, “Can America Finish Those Ships in Time?”. As he was the leader of the lecture, which was very interesting and instructive, 250 men enrolled to build ships during the summer months.

NEW ITEM FROM THE BETHEL NEWS—“COME” JANUARY 1918.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Professors Frank P. McKibben of the Civil Engineering Department of Lehigh University, an expert in lecture and recruiting service of the Industrial Service Department of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which is under the United States Shipping Board. The Government seeks 200,000 additional workmen for building ships to meet war conditions and Professor McKibben has been called upon to take charge, in particular, of propaganda to make college and technical school students of the country acquainted with the opportunity for patriotic service presented in this line of work. He has prepared lectures, both for the general public, and for distribution at colleges throughout the United States by himself and other speakers.

Dr. James A. Wallace, President of Throop Coll-
gege, Passadena, Cal., has been named to give the illustrated lectures on the Pacific Coast.

Continuing his connection with Lehigh University and with Bethlehem as his headquarters, Professor McKibben will speak at many Eastern colleges and technical schools during the winter and spring months. His itinerary for the first part of the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school being delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.

250 MEN ENROLL TO BUILD SHIPS.

On last Tuesday evening Prof. Frank E. McKibben, of Lehigh University, gave an illustrated lecture in Chapel on the subject, “Can America Finish Those Ships in Time?”. As he was the leader of the lecture, which was very interesting and instructive, 250 men enrolled to build ships during the summer months.

NEW ITEM FROM THE BETHEL NEWS—“COME” JANUARY 1918.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Professors Frank P. McKibben of the Civil Engineering Department of Lehigh University, an expert in lecture and recruiting service of the Industrial Service Department of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which is under the United States Shipping Board. The Government seeks 200,000 additional workmen for building ships to meet war conditions and Professor McKibben has been called upon to take charge, in particular, of propaganda to make college and technical school students of the country acquainted with the opportunity for patriotic service presented in this line of work. He has prepared lectures, both for the general public, and for distribution at colleges throughout the United States by himself and other speakers.

Dr. James A. Wallace, President of Throop Coll-
gege, Passadena, Cal., has been named to give the illustrated lectures on the Pacific Coast.

Continuing his connection with Lehigh University and with Bethlehem as his headquarters, Professor McKibben will speak at many Eastern colleges and technical schools during the winter and spring months. His itinerary for the first part of the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school being delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.

250 MEN ENROLL TO BUILD SHIPS.

On last Tuesday evening Prof. Frank E. McKibben, of Lehigh University, gave an illustrated lecture in Chapel on the subject, “Can America Finish Those Ships in Time?”. As he was the leader of the lecture, which was very interesting and instructive, 250 men enrolled to build ships during the summer months.

NEW ITEM FROM THE BETHEL NEWS—“COME” JANUARY 1918.

Announcement has just been made of the appointment of Professors Frank P. McKibben of the Civil Engineering Department of Lehigh University, an expert in lecture and recruiting service of the Industrial Service Department of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which is under the United States Shipping Board. The Government seeks 200,000 additional workmen for building ships to meet war conditions and Professor McKibben has been called upon to take charge, in particular, of propaganda to make college and technical school students of the country acquainted with the opportunity for patriotic service presented in this line of work. He has prepared lectures, both for the general public, and for distribution at colleges throughout the United States by himself and other speakers.

Dr. James A. Wallace, President of Throop Coll-
gege, Passadena, Cal., has been named to give the illustrated lectures on the Pacific Coast.

Continuing his connection with Lehigh University and with Bethlehem as his headquarters, Professor McKibben will speak at many Eastern colleges and technical schools during the winter and spring months. His itinerary for the first part of the present session has been 655 men ex-servicemen of those attending the Summer technical and normal school being delivered at all the men to Clemson have answered the call to fight for democracy.

A very large number of ex-students have volunteered.

This session 53 students are known to have entered the service. There were others to leave with intention of entering but no word has been received from them.

It is with just pride that the College records the names of so many noble sons.

When the great struggle for right is over and the victory won, the story of their services will be one of how they drop and of how high they ideal that the College will ever be proud.
The Tiger

Founded by the Class of 1886. Published weekly by the Class of Cadets of Clemson College.

Official Organ of Clemson Athletic Association and Alumni Association.

J. B. FAUST, Editor-in-Chief
H. W. MCWILL, Assistant Editor

REPORTERS

H. W. MCWILL, J. J. MEHART...Athletic
J. J. OXENDAIR...Library
W. M. SCAFF...Literary Society
E. B. MONTGOMERY...F.M.A.C. & Lectures
H. W. MCWILL...Local

Erroneously Entitled at the Post Office at Clemson Station, South Carolina, as Second Class Matter.

Advertising Rates on Application to Ed. One Dollar For One Year, 5 Cts. Per Copy.

EDITORIAL.

The following is taken from the "Orange and White," the weekly of the University of Vermont, and we believe it should give us all careful attention.

A PLEA FOR BROADER COLLEGE LIFE.

For the sake of cleanliness, let us imagine the entrance of two students, A and B, into a classroom one fall afternoon. How different is the fall of nineteen seventeen. A and B came out for dances. A always received the first for the rushing season of freshman year, and why they wore "ten-second" men, why good goal shooters, men with a three hundred per cent batting average, and why they wore button holes of their lapels. But here the change began. A, becoming attracted to one of the fraternities represented at the university, had a chance at them. As they turned towards the one turned towards the college students equal or surpass its on the field, and give the team that the ocean is so vast that the seagull soaring over it is but a speck in the sky, it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.

The issue is so vast that the angels do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steam ships of America, passing at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but not from another to the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.
The following letter has been received from D. E. Swinehart, who finished in 15th place and won second in class—editor-in-chief of "Taps," and winner of several medals for oratory and debate.

Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed $1 for which please send me a "Maroon" which is the remainder of the year. I would appreciate it greatly if you could send me some back numbers, for this is the only touch I have on the alumni of the College, as I spent the last 18 months in the interior of the Congo, without communication with the outside world. Upon hearing that was declared I came to offer my services and have been in the service last since August.

The Tiger, Chronicle, or Columbus Library Society is in need of finances, and should let me know, and I will be glad to help them.

Sincerely,

D. E. Swinehart,
1st Lieut. 337 Infantry, Camp Custer, Mich.

WEIMER QUARTETTE RENDERS INTERESTING PROGRAM.

The Weber Male Quartette rendered one of the best musical programs given here this session last Saturday evening. The quartette are as well received, as this one was by the cadets. The selection given by the quartette as a whole, and these rendered by the individual members were very appropriate.

The devil rose from his little bed, He washed his face, he combed his hair. Now I'll ask you a question I don't expect Where in — did he get the water? —Orange and Blue.

The Weber Male Quartette rendered one of the best musical programs given here this session last Saturday evening. The quartette are as well received as this one was by the cadets. The selection given by the quartette as a whole, and these rendered by the individual members were very appropriate.

The devil rose from his little bed, He washed his face, he combed his hair. Now I'll ask you a question I don't expect Where in — did he get the water? —Orange and Blue.

WIN THE WAR DAY IN THE COLLEGES.

FROM the Patriotic News Service of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies, Washington, D. C.

As an object of April 6th, the first anniversary of America's entry into the war, at "National Win the War Day," has been selected a patriotic theme for the observance of the occasion by the Cabinet members and other governmental officials, and to college presidents, says: "At the beginning of our second year in the great war it is fitting that we have a National consecration to the task remaining before us. Because ofnumeral. It will bring renewed courage and a new spirit to the flag should stand up and be counted. As pretty as she.

To your imagination

The Weber Male Quartette rendered one of the best musical programs given here this session last Saturday evening. The quartette are as well received as this one was by the cadets. The selection given by the quartette as a whole, and these rendered by the individual members were very appropriate.

The devil rose from his little bed, He washed his face, he combed his hair. Now I'll ask you a question I don't expect Where in — did he get the water? —Orange and Blue.

WIN THE WAR DAY IN THE COLLEGES.

FROM the Patriotic News Service of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies, Washington, D. C.

As an object of April 6th, the first anniversary of America's entry into the war, at "National Win the War Day," has been selected a patriotic theme for the observance of the occasion by the Cabinet members and other governmental officials, and to college presidents, says: "At the beginning of our second year in the great war it is fitting that we have a National consecration to the task remaining before us. Because ofnumeral. It will bring renewed courage and a new spirit to the flag should stand up and be counted. As pretty as she.