AN APPEAL TO OUR ALUMNI.

Below is published a copy of a letter which was sent to all our alumni, and a letter printed in THE TIGER, but so far only a few have responded to it, but it is hoped that every one of our alumni will read this appeal, and then mail one.

The letter is as follows:

To a Loyal Alumnus of Clemson College:

Misses Margarette and Louise Henry, Misses Desha, and Belton on the campus Sun dav afternoon.

THE CLEMSON WINS BIG DEBATE.

On Monday night the Clemson Debating teams met the Citadel and Carolina in the annual triangular debate between the three colleges. The question debated was: Resolved, "That the United States Government should own and operate all railway lines, except street railway lines, of any local importance." The Clemson affirmative team, composed of A. W. Fortlow and J. T. Robertson, defeated the negative side and this time caused the Tiger's defeat. Clemson played by far the best game, but Gilford's hits came at opportune times and the Tiger's hits were rather scattered.

Thrower pitched the first game, Thurs day, and showed fine form. He pitched his usual steady game, and seven men fell for his curves without avail. Atkinson started the second game, but was a little wild and was replaced by Thrower in the fifth. Thrower's twirler for the first game, came to us with more reputation than goods, and the Tigers batted him for a total of seven hits against one man off Thrower. The second game was pitched by Kendall for the victors. Both games were fast and exciting from start (Continued on third page).

THE FRESHERS WIN OVER WOFFORD.

On Saturday night the Freshmen debaters, O. R. Mills and C. F. Smith, won from the Wofford Freshmen, C. F. Ness and L. Krisnam, at Greenville. The debate was intensely interesting and keenly fought. Clemson won the affirmative side of the question. Resolved, "That the Government should permanently own and operate all railway lines in the United States." The judges were Col. Evan McKissick, Dr. T. W. Sloan, and Dr. E. M. Poteat. The debate was held in the auditorium of the Greenville Women's College with Dr. Ramsey presiding.

Quite a number of Clemson freshmen attended the debate in uniforms as representatives of their class and college. While the judges were preparing their decision Dr. Ramsey allowed the boys an informal reception which was deeply appreciated by them.

This is the first freshman class at Clemson to attempt anything of this kind and the success of the venture should be an incentive to the coming classes to try even greater things.

SPECIAL ISSUE TO THE ALUMNI.

AN APPEAL TO OUR ALUMNI.

On the first Monday in April, the baseball football team last fall that she has since 1903. The team was made up almost entirely of seniors last year, and the seven men in football that will be with us next season, Mr. Deacon, who forced himself to the front of the line by his great work, will return with a green team next fall, will be with us again next season. We feel, therefore, that the work of our football team will win for Clemson that considerable credit in the fall which was earned in 1904.

The Athletic Association, realizing that the prospects were such that we were due to have a big season at present with an increasing number of practically $8,000.00, decided, after mature consideration, to discuss collegiate baseball for the fall season, and to cancel its contract with Mr. Morris, the Assistant Coach, thereby saving approximately $2,000.00. Even be these drastic measures, the Association will be forced to begin next season with an indebtedness largely to debt carried over, it was found in debt, with a coach and assistant a determined effort to reduce this debt.

The student body signed a committee of seniors to solicit the aid of our Alumni. The student body signed a committee of seniors to solicit the aid of our Alumni. It is to the Alumni that we look for the condition of The Athletic Association.

THE TIGER. Below are the names of all those men whose names were included in the alma mater's call, and the amounts contributed.

An appeal to our Athletic Association.
This issue of THE EAGLE is sent out for the purpose of calling to the attention of the alumni the fact that while old athletic outlook was never brighter than at present, we are in need of money and CASH. DATE IN A DIP OF IT. Our Athletic Association is practically $2,000 in debt, and WE WANT TO WIPE THIS, so that we can begin next fall with a clean sheet. Eye up alumni is urged to read the appeals published in this and next issue.

There are three things that are absolutely essential to a winning athletic team—a good understanding of the sport and of the money. Of these three it is an indisputable fact that we have the first two.

Legends south of the Potomac. And money. Of these three it is an indisputable fact that we have the first two. Clemson wants no money for such athletics: The State Oratorical Contest, by unanimous vote—with a former Clemson student getting second place; the debate between the Wofford freshmen and the Clemson freshmen; the big triangular debate with Carolina and the Citadel—both ends being won by unanimous vote of the judges. In short—Every literary contest of the year. Who says Clemson is not a literary college?

Robert Murray Pauling.

Note: As has been before published in these pages, R. M. Pauling, an old Clemson man, has been decorated for bravery at the front.

In behalf of the College which you once attended, we congratulate you for your brave and splendid service. We are proud to be able to honor your name.

WHAT THE CORPS HAS DONE.

1. Just before the Carolina game it bought 350 dollars worth of Liberty Bonds and gave them to the Association.
2. For block O blankets for the football team, 175 dollars.
3. Contributed for the support of a basketball team, 200 dollars.
4. Contributed in order to enable college basketball, 506 dollars.
5. Breakage fees turned over (approx. 1000 dollars.)
6. Total contributed by the Corps 1,031 dollars.

Besides all this the Corps has contributed $250 for the Red Cross, $2,200 for the Army Y. M. C. A., and of course in numerous amounts to other causes. Now, we must have help. We cannot get our Athletic Association out of the hold by our own unaided efforts. We think that we have shown what we know how to do. Will you not. Mr. Alumni, help us by doing yours?

What are YOU doing for your College?

to finish. The first ended with Gilford and 2, and Clemson, 1. Banks was easily the star of the game in this game, getting three hits out of four times up and one of them
a three-bagger that occurred Clason’s run. Jordan, in short, deserved praise for the perfect field, he gave through the game. For Gilford, Zachary played a good game, showing good headwork in the pitcher and sending the sphere to center for a double that scored one of Gilford’s tallies. Fire to two was the final for the second game. Adkinson had an off-day and was a little wild. Threw or replaced him the fifth and things tightened down, but the game was already lost, yes the Tigers scored their runs in the sixth the lead of five was too great to be overtaken. James started for Clemson, with a long three bagger by Biggs that had been a home run to a faster man. To James, McMeekin, and Banks gave the credit for the Tigers’ game of three bagger by James, single by McMeekin that scored James, and after Harris had advanced McMeekin to second with a single Banks got the needful hit and scored him. Reddock was the stick man for Gilford, getting three out of a possible four, and one of those “Koontz.”
The game by innings is as follows.

LAURENS BOY IN FIRST RAID.

LETTER FROM LIEUT. M. E. COX DISCLOSES INTERESTING FACT THAT HE WAS ONE OF TWO AMERICAN OFFICERS IN FIRST RAID.

M. E. COX.

Former Football Star.

A recent letter from Lieut. M. E. Cox, who is now with the engineering division "serving in France," discloses the fact that he and another South Carolina boy, Lieut. J. M. Clarke, of Chester, were the two officers selected of the three road bond commissioners, who played on the football team for two years. He was teaching school in Darlington when war was declared and is a graduate of Clemson College, from which he and another South Carolina boy, Mr. H. T. Morrison, of McElhenny, are being sent over with one of the two road bond commissioners. Cox's letter in which the raid is told of:

Lieut. Cox, whose picture is shown on the top of this page, is a son of Mr. O. C. Cox, one of the three road bond commissioners, and is a graduate of Clemson College, from which he played on the football team for two years. He was teaching school in Laurens when war was declared and soon after offered his services to the government, being sent over with one of the two contingents. The following is the letter in which the raid is told of:

Dear Father:

I received your letter about four days ago and have not had time to answer it, so I will do that tonight. I think that you will be far superior to any in the South, bar none.

We realize that this seems to be a bad time to ask for money, but in reality it is a better time than any year several years hence. The state is enjoying great prosperity due to the high price of cotton, and more of our money that we can use will be available than before. Each class of 1905 and 1906 have already made their contributions, and the alumnae and parents are good enough to get us started so that we can have work started. The structure will be built as fast as we can get them on the ground. All this is going to follow up a barrage. You don't need to borrow the money at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity perhaps even the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait and earn the money necessary to pay for an education. There is no time to lose. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are unable to pay for his education, should get some friend to indorse his note at the bank and begin preparation that will make for greater earning capacity and a fuller life. There is no time to lose. The world is looking for men of large ability and ambition to take the lead for them. Already there is a surplus of the one-horsepower variety.

Clemson College Agricultural College

Clemson College brings within the reach of every boy in South Carolina a college education that will prepare him for self-sustaining, self-respecting citizenship.

A young man can make no better investment than in a technical education. Viewed merely as a matter of earning power, even if he has to borrow the money at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity perhaps even the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait and earn the money necessary to pay for an education. There is no time to lose.
