Tigers Make It Two
Straight from Oglethorpe

THROWER PITCHES SUPERB BALL, STRIKING OUT ELEVEN, TIGERS TOTAL IS 16 SWATS.

Mason's attempt proved futile to stop the batting of the Tigers at Pounce Dock Park in Atlanta. Oglethorpe made two hits instead of singles, but the hitting of the Tigers cumulated in a beautiful pitch to Lawbright, and a tear for the bases was followed almost immediately by another out when Mason singled to left. The second hit was a home run, giving Oglethorpe's star hitter, got bumped several times and considerably around the bases. A stolen base and a throwing error led to the scoring of the only run of the game. The Tigers had a very tough time trying to score, but they finally managed to get one in the fourth when Warwick tried to catch him out, but the ball was dropped and the runners scored. The Tigers ended up with two runs, while Oglethorpe scored none.

The Senior Dancing Club has resolved to make the commencement hopes of "Tigers" the best in Tiger history. Extensive preparations are on foot to make dances, and all students will be invited to the event. The games will be played on Friday, May 17th and Saturday, May 18th. The Senior Dancing Club is the organizing body, and the faculty and the community have been invited to attend.

In a game full of Tiger pep, Donahue's team swamped Furman University here last Thursday. The game was won in the first inning, but the Tigers continued to score at will, until rain ended the contest in the eighth. It was a one-sided affair, Furman giving up all hopes after the Tigers fourth time at bat. The Tiger's star pitcher, Atkinson, was in fine form, and held the visitors at his mercy, allowing only five hits and the scratch variety. "Cutie" Jordan made his last appearance in Tiger uniform, and the base path will be the lot of the Kaiser this year. "Cutie" will not. Here's luck, "Cutie."

"Clinch" Banks replaced the eyes of friends and foes alike, when he raced (or flew?) from second to home, on a bunt to pitcher. The Tigers then continued to increase their lead, scoring two more runs in the second inning. "Red" Wingo and Warwick were once again at the plate, and Warwick's safe drive. Clemson did not get a chance to show any legging power, as they ended the inning with a double play. However, the Tigers continued to score, with a ripping single to centerfield, and Harris added to the tally with a sacrifice fly.

Clemson's score came as follows: Ten runs in the fourth, three runs in the fifth, and one run in the sixth. Clemson's star pitcher, McMeekin, allowed only five hits, and struck out five men in the first four innings. However, Wingo and Warwick scored in the fifth inning, with Wingo's safe drive. In closing, the Tigers would like to thank all the fans who came out to support them. Their dedication and support have been crucial to their success. The team looks forward to continuing their strong performance in the upcoming games.

The Tigers' hopes are high, and they are determined to make this season their best yet. With a solid lineup and a strong pitching rotation, the Tigers are poised for a successful campaign. They will face tough competition, but they are confident in their abilities.

Friday and Saturday of last week fa-nished an ever welcome and enjoyable diversion from routine college life and work when here guests of the Tiger Dance-ning Club arrived for the somewhat related opeating dances. That the oft postlected English of Miss Law-dance, with stated reaffirmation to every young man when he has so much of importance to occupy his time.

On Friday night the devotions of Terence Shearer assembled in the gym at 9:30 and walked, unseated, and forestalled ut-ally Bobby Webb offered the "Tiger's Mouse" at 3:30 a.m. That song may be savored melody to the main ship wrecked on a desert island but when signified the end of that dance its char-mas but on the dance enrapured soul of the Cadets who claimed they "had just begun."

Saturday afternoon a Dansant was brought from four to thirty-six and more joy reigned supreme for the dancers.

Allowing time enough to get out and dull up a bit for the evening place the participants back at the "same ol" at eight-thirty to carry-on until shortly before the sacred hours of Sunday morning rolled around, to choose the rest of a long evening's work in progress.

The features of the dances were too covenant to mention in a four shoc weekly but it would be criminal neglect gone not to cite a few. The figure led by president Keyworth with Miss Law was active and exciting. The reviving kick, the ingenious invention of "Jules" Haysworth, while sometimes a ibility the happy waiter made him forget for the time being the war, extraneous, and all unpleasantness. The charming Deb-and excellent dancers beggars description.

Unable to resist the spirit of the occasion Bobby Webb and his musicians per-duced as they never have before. Their music would have brought joy to the great soul and has been present.

Sunday marked the departure of the fair visitors. Probably there are some who will remember the incident and first trip of the year, and it is only nec-

"FITE" WEST LEAVES FOR SERVICE

Several days ago H. B. West left to give his services to the Government. Mr. West goes into the Engineering Training School, and we, who had the pleasure of knowing him, feel sure that he will make good in this work.

Here’s wishing you every success in your work, "Fite" old boy.

It is a truly democratic ideal that every young man should prepare himself to a reasonable degree of efficiency to defend his country when called upon. This ideal will gradually disappear before an ideal furnished on service to the state by citizens generally. Only through service in a common cause may we hope to unite the widely divergent elements of our democratic nation, and to instill into the young the contention that Democracy and Service are one.

If every young man knew that every other young man with whom he comes into contact has been through the same training, every service in a common cause would have greater respect for the other—would have greater respect for the young men of the country. All together would have greater respect and love for our country.

When the sons of the wealthy, the sons of the laborer, the sons of the poor and the sons of the immigrants, live together, train together and serve their country together, they will not wait and never before will we become a truly democratic people.

The establishment of obligatory military training for every American boy between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one is the system of Universal Military Training for the youth of our country. It will stimulate the people of every section, and, in time, America will become the "Greatest Mother of Liberty," to a posterity that will rejoice in her, even as we, to-day rejoice in the heroic achievements of those pioneers who gave to the World the spirit of Independance—"which please God, shall never die."

The spirit of Independance—which please God, shall never die.
